Ada Man Returns from Arctic

Terror of North Portrayed

BY FRAN SMITH

Four West Michigan men, including Lyman Wenger of Ada, today were recounting experiences of a four-week trip into the sub-Arctic regions of Northern Ontario.

The men failed, for the second year in a row, to reach their goal of Churchill, Manitoba. But Wenger notes that the group accomplished just about everything else it set out to do.

Wenger accompanied former Coast Guard Commander Jack Bursey of Montague, Pat Dillinger of Grand Haven and Bill Maki of Rothbury in their attempt to reach the Canadian outpost of Churchill via snowmobile.

Sporting a full growth of beard, Wenger arrived back in Ada last Thursday.

"We might have made it all the way," he says, "but severe weather conditions and terrain really raised havoc with our equipment."

The expedition got as far as Cape Henrietta, located in Hudson Bay, before turning back.

"We were informed by the Canadian government that our group had gone farther north than any previous snowmobile expedition over the same route," says Wenger.

In all, the four men covered more than 891 miles on the round trip, which started at Mosanee... located about 300 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

In addition to studying the effects of weather on men and machines, one purpose of the expedition was to take films of life in the far north, which Commander Bursey will use in a series of lectures.

One of the first disappointments of the trip, says Wenger, came when special radio equipment broke down and became useless.

"We had planned to maintain radio communication throughout the trip," he states. "But when the equipment failed to function properly, many of our plans had to be changed."

Large tobaggans, each of which carried more than 400 pounds of other equipment... plus precious gasoline, also broke up about halfway through the trip, causing a long delay for repairs.

"We had to watch our gasoline with extreme care," recalls Wenger. "I remember that, on one leg, we figured to have more than enough. But when we finally arrived at our next destination, there were exactly eight gallons of gasoline, combined, in the four snowmobiles."

This, says Wenger, could have been disastrous had the expedition overshot its mark... or gotten lost in one of the Arctic's most challenging dangers, a "white-out."

Wenger explained that a white-out occurs when high winds and extremely cold temperatures cause visibility to be limited to just a few feet.

"We got caught in one and had to stand within inches of one another so as not to get lost," he says.

Despite the fact that the expedition was equipped with the latest in lightweight cold-weather clothing, all four men suffered minor cases of frostbite about the nose, mouth, ears and feet.

The wind-chill factor was most often about 82 degrees below zero, figured on an actual temperature of -30 with winds at about 20 m.p.h.

The group stopped at four main outposts... Fort Albany, Attawapaskit, Lake River and Cape Henrietta.

"The natives were extremely hospitable," says Wenger, "and the same is true for the missionaries, who welcomed us at each stop and assisted us with repairs."

Most of the natives are Cree Indians, none of whom was willing to accompany the group on the northern trek.

"Lights On" Chairmen Designated

A. Stephen Haarman, residential chairman for the 1968 crusade of the Kent County Cancer Society, has appointed area chairmen who will lead the "Lights On" campaign April 23, 24 and 25, throughout the county.

Chairman for Ada Township is Richard V. Draigh, 455 Ada Drive; for Cascade Township, Joseph T. Weber, 6901 Cascade Rd. S.E.; and for Paris Township, John Wardrop, 7619 Fost St., Ada.

Throughout the years the "Lights On" campaign has been of the most successful residential campaigns in Kent County.

Unusual Hobby Becomes Business

Although from dining room to family room does not sound like a large step, it soon will be for Alice (Mrs. Robert) Rooker for she will be moving from hobby to profession.

Ever since she was a small girl, Mrs. Rooker recalls, she has been making artificial flowers. Today, after years of trial and error, this hobby is paying returns.

When Mrs. Rooker first started, she made flowers of crepe paper, struggling to discover the best methods. Then one day a neighbor showed her how to form a rose. From then on she studied books and progressed through other materials.

Over the past several years Mrs. Rooker has worked in her dining room on many hobbies such as ceramics,

Glupker Fund Reaches $1,000, Report Shows

Through the efforts of neighbors, who set up a fund for the Robert Glupker family, a total of $1,000 has been raised.

The neighbors set up canisters in various retail establishments throughout the area.

Area residents stood solidly behind a family struck by tragedy with the death in an auto accident of mother and the hospitalization of Elaine and Bobby Glupker.

Elaine is now in a brace and walking, but extensive dental work has not been started yet. Next week she goes into the hospital for further x-rays on her leg.

Sizzling Pace Set by Ada Firemen

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

A sandwich half eaten, a cup of coffee gone cold... this is the unappetizing repast a volunteer fireman may return to after battling a blaze for hours.

And there is no guarantee that he will not be called out immediately to attend another fire.

For almost three weeks, the Ada Fire Department answered at least one call a day, sometimes as many as five. Only rains and unexpected snows halted the calls for help. This was typical of all of the fire fighting teams in each rural area.

Where burning of trash, paper, and leaves is taking place, a danger of uncontrolled fire persists. Dry weather and carelessness are a combination to be avoided.

When viewing scenes of the huge halocausts in the west as a forest fire demolishes miles of timber, it may be difficult to relate that waste of wood and land to our own lives.

But here there are old buildings and wooded areas that could be in dire trouble if aid was not forthcoming quickly. It is possible that the firemen would be trying to quell the flames somewhere else.

The tossed cigarette, the open burners, the unspent campfires have long been shown as dangers, but another peril could be exhausted men.

It would be logical and wise to give credit to these hard working neighbors and to take precautions that will save our firemen.

When dealing with hazards, a little alarm in one's thoughts may save a louder one at the fire station.

Wave of Break-Ins Hits Ada, Cascade

Detectives of the Kent County Sheriff's Department today are checking out clues which they hope will lead to the identity of thieves who pulled off four breaking and entering jobs the past few days in the Cascade and Ada areas.

Hardest hit by the burglars was the Ada IGS Food Market, located near Ada Drive and M-21, where a safe was broken into and an estimated $1,050 stolen.

The thieves, however, left behind many checks, money orders, and blank checks, officers said.

The break-in was discovered at 5 a. m. Tuesday as the result of a routine check by sheriff's deputies.

The officers noticed heavy crowbar marks at a rear door, and discovered that it was unlocked.

Upon entering the store the officers located the store safe, which had been smashed open by a heavy iron bar.

The deputies attempted to reach the IGA store manager, Ray Szudick, but was told by Christine Bacon, a step-daughter, that he was in Florida. Szudick, however, was reached by phone and told the officers he was returning to Ada to check on the exact amount of money that was stolen.

In other policing action the deputies are checking into a breaking and entering of the Grand Rapids Racquet Club, 115 Graham Rd. N.E. where thieves took off with racquets and other equipment valued at about $278.

However, in this job, the thieves caused damage to the clubhouse amounting to an estimated $600.

Deputies are holding two suspects following a breaking and entering of the Baker Book Co., 6030 E. Fulton, where about $100 was stolen.

THIEVES RANSACK OFFICE, TAKE $110

The offices of Dr. Ronald Deem, 4700 Cascade Road, were broken into early Saturday morning. Thieves ransacked the office and stole about $110 in cash and checks.

The thieves, who forced a rear door sometime between 2 and 5 a. m., also rifled the narcotics cabinet, but apparently took nothing, according to Kent County Sheriff's Deputies.

"Carnival" Set

Mrs. Kay Hoskins, special education teacher; Mrs. Myrna Karkalik, general chairman, have been busy coordinating their efforts toward the success of the annual Cascade School Carnival.

On Friday (April 5) from 4 to 10 p. m., parents of the school children will roll up their sleeves in an attempt to earn funds which will be spent on books for the permanent school library.

Complete supper, baby sitting services, games for all ages, spoons, clowns, concessions, refreshments and numerous door prizes are all a part of this big event.

'Valley' Lions Hold Charcoal Sale

The Thornapple Valley Lions Club will be canvassing the Ada, Cascade area on their annual charcoal sale this Saturday (April 6).

Proceeds from the charcoal sales have enabled the Lions to erect two Little League baseball diamonds and one Pony League diamond.

They have also planted shrubs, trees, maintained the picnic area and have just completed their new service building at the Lions Park on Thornapple River Drive. Present plans call for toilet facilities in the new service building.

Long-range plans call for developing more recreational facilities in the park.

Repeat Brigadoon Saturday

One of the most popular expressions in advertising today is "repeat of a sell-out."

And that is the situation at Lowell High School, where the smash-hit "Brigadoon" will be repeated this Saturday evening (April 6) in the auditorium at 8:00 p. m. following artistic and box office successes last weekend.

Seats for the repeat performance will be sold on an unreserved basis at $1.25 each and are available at Art's TV or at the school.

If Lowell-area citizens need evidence that not all teenagers are irresponsible rebels, they saw a superior example in the All-School 'Players' presentation of Lerner & Loewe's impressive musical.

Playing to a capacity crowd Friday and Saturday, the students gave a delightfully fresh rendition of the popular Broadway hit.

It was a truly united effort, and much of its success was due to the combined support of people from all areas of the school and community.

Special laurels should go to Mr. Ivan Haney, Miss Kay De Vries, and Mrs. Byrnie McMahon for their handling of the lighting and set construction, choreography, and costuming, respectively. Students in these areas did exceptionally outstanding jobs.

Miss Brenda Dietiker and her student director, Pat Fletcher, were rewarded for their hard work by some brilliant acting on the part of the cast. The elusive Scottish accent was mastered quite well by a few perceptive students. This is an art not generally expected of high school players.

Some lad and lasses deserve special mention for their performances, Mike Potter's Tommy Albright songs and the duets between Mike and Judy Norton had some especially bright moments; Marlene Fletcher played a nearly-professional Meg Brockie; Jackie Shade's solo dance in Act I was a brilliant performance; Pat Hobbs' Mr. Lundie at the wedding scene and his relating of the Brigadoon story were professionally executed; and Bill Wright, who has established himself as a very promising character actor, brought down the house in his New York drinking scene.

Solos and supporting choral groups were outstanding in some of the numbers. Exceptional numbers were "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean," "Heather on the Hill," "The Love of My Life," and "There But For You Go I."

Under Miss Dietiker's direction, the students and others who sacrificed their time to participate, can rest assured that they have done their jobs well.

Home Owners Protest Street Interceptor

Last week's balmy weather brought on a strange phenomena, reports one of our correspondents. Seems a few of the local "nimrods" tried a rare type of hunting... using long aluminum pipes as blow guns in an attempt to bag some sparrows with tiny darts. No report if the safari was a success!

Speaking of nimrods, that word was used here last week to describe fishermen. We stand corrected by our Outdoor Editor, who says that nimrods are hunters while anglers are those who pursue the denizens of the deep.

It was mentioned here about five weeks ago that, as Ed Sullivan puts it, "a really big show" is scheduled for Lowell later this summer... other than the Showboat, that is. The backers are ready to reveal final plans, but promise that it will be a dandy.

Final approval has been received from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for transfer of licenses for the Village Inn from Urb Kysler to Erma Bartlette, wife of Chuck Bartlette of Saranac. The new owners plan to continue extensive renovations of the interior. Urb will remain as manager.

Our Man at City Hall predicted last week that voter turnout in Monday's council election would be 400. Today he is somewhat red-faced. Only 332 cast ballots!

Here's a puzzle! How come a boxcar out of Vermont finds its way to a siding of the C&O tracks here in Lowell? In very bright colors no less and taken from the fact that it is from the Green Mountain State.

Mrs. Ito Dalstra, recently retired owner of the Lowell Rest Home, reports that her large Christmas Cactus, which bloomed all through November and December, is now budded cut and will be blooming again in time for Easter.

Jack Smith and his wife, Sandy, returned Sunday from a four day all expense paid trip to Bermuda. Jack recently was the winner in a regional sales contest through the Dodge Delta Sales Club and Jackson Motor Sales.

Last year, in this same contest, Jack won a trip for himself and his wife to Las Vegas, Nevada.

Property owners in the area now under consideration for a traffic interceptor that would link Hudson Street and Lincoln Lake today were on record as vigorously protesting the proposed highway improvement in the north end of Lowell.

A petition, signed by 32 residents, was presented to City Council at Monday night's meeting. It declared the proposed road "a public nuisance" and requested that planning be terminated.

Ernie Kauffman of 1149 Flat River Drive and John Vos of 403 Hunt Street appeared on behalf of the petitioners.

Though not a resident of the city, Kauffman complained that he, for one, was "not going to give property away."

"I live just outside the city limits," Kauffman told council members, "but I know that as far as people in the city are concerned, they are not happy with the way things are shaping up."

Vos noted that his primary concern was the degree of benefit that could be derived for the money that property owners would have to spend to help provide construction of a thoroughfare that "I'm quite sure they do not want."

The highway project, which is being handled jointly by the city and county, is designed to facilitate the north-south traffic movement through the city.

City Manager Bernard C. Olson pointed out to the spokesmen that Hudson would be the logical through-street since it now connects directly with M-91 from the south, but that much traffic is now channeled into Lincoln Lake, which provides the most adequate service from the north.

Vos said he was also interested in the safety of school children in the area in the event the interceptor is built.

"I would like to know if there is a plan for sidewalks," he declared. "There have been too many cases of near-miss accidents with youngsters walking on the streets in the area on their way to school."

Councilman Herb Reynolds told the petitioners that every effort should be made to get the project in motion at an

Outbreak of Fires Hit Area

Lowell firemen today had broken an all-time record for grass fire runs.

In the past few days the local fire fighters answered 14 alarms, five of them on Saturday alone.

Starting at about noon Saturday, Chief Frank Baker and his volunteers were called to the home of Richard Tichelaar, 9771 Foreman Rd., to snuff out a grass fire there which had started from some sparks from a rubbish fire.

This was followed by an alarm turned in for a fire at the Glen Converse home, on White Bridge Rd. Returning to the city, the firemen were immediately sent to quell a fire at the city dump out on Oberley Dr.

Another alarm from Foreman Dr. sent the firemen to put out a wood fire at the property owned by William Roth, while still another alarm came from the home of Marvin Batterbee at 944 Grindle Dr.

In other grass fire runs, the fire fighters answered alarms to the home of Charles Benjamin, 2667 Lincoln Lake Rd., Lloyd Fowler, Fulton Road; Dick HineLine, 10324 Peck Lake Rd.; Joe Neath, 9729 Conservation; Mrs. Betty Baker, 813 Avery; and a fire Monday at Bailey near the railroad tracks.

Borgeson Elected to Head Rotary

Election of Norm Borgeson to presidency of the Lowell Rotary Club was announced today by out-going president Wally Hook.

Other officers named for the coming year are Richard Brush, vice president; Earl McKinney, secretary; and C. A. Bradshaw, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors include Roger Roberts, Carl Hagen, Jack Kennedy, Stanley Gardner and Hook, who will become past president director when the new slate assumes office in July.

The club also reports a record turnout of 134 members, wives and guests for the annual Rotary Ann dinner held last week at Cascade Country Club. Doris Jarrall of WOOD-TV's new staff was the main speaker.

Local Lions "Mop Up" on Litter

A crew of nine members of the Lowell Lions Club, armed with bags, cartons and buckets, staged a "mop up" operation of litter on the north side of town this past week.

Splitting up into two crews the Lions cleaned up a mile-long stretch of both Lincoln Lake Rd. and M-91, beginning at the Lowell city limits and finishing up at Vergennes St.

By the time they got through with the clean-up chore, the men had gathered up three barrels and eight big cartons of debris, and also about 500 discarded bottles.

It took the men an hour to complete the pick-up detail.

Two weeks ago a group of Cub Scouts also staged a clean-up project in the area.

city, the county and the property owners... much more. The longer we wait, the more costly it will be," he said.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach noted that a split traffic pattern in the area would be ideal.

Council agreed to accept the petitions, but tabled any further action until it has had time to discuss the matter further with county road officials.

CITY CLERK LAURA SHEPARD HANDS OUT BALLOT

Zoning Hearing is Set

A proposed amendment to Lowell's zoning ordinance will be the subject of a special hearing scheduled for early May.

Council considered a recommendation from the Planning Commission at Monday night's meeting that the ordinance be revised that would reduce minimum lot sizes and, in effect, establish a formula for application to the so-called "transitional areas."

The recommended formula, as outlined by the Planning Commission, would be to set up a ratio of varying lot sizes between 75 and 85 feet in width that would average to the minimum standard of 80 feet.

Under this proposal, 25 percent of lots under considera-

Council Pays Tribute to Elmer Schaefer

Lowell's city council today had passed a resolution recognizing the long-time service to his community by Elmer Schaefer, who died earlier this week.

Mr. Schaefer had been prominent in civic affairs, most recently serving as one of Lowell's two members on the Kent County Board of Supervisors.

The council also forwarded condolences to Mr. Schaefer's family.

The Winners

CARLEN ANDERSON

MRS. VIRGINIA MYERS

HAROLD F. JEFFERIES

Jefferies Joins Two Veterans on City Council

Two candidates with prior experience today had been returned to the City Council, joined there by a political newcomer who won a seat in his first try at public offices.

Named to fill the three available seats at the council table in Monday's election were incumbent Carlen Anderson, former council member Mrs. Virginia Myers and Harold F. Jefferies.

Defeated in his second try for a council post was Richard Curtis, who was a close fourth to Jefferies in balloting that drew 392 residents to the polls from a list of slightly more than 1,200 registered voters.

Anderson was returned to office by a hefty 298 votes. As a result of this win, he steps from a one-year term on the council to a full two-year term.

Placing second, which enabled her to recapture the council seat she lost last year, was Mrs. Myers, who came in with 235 votes.

Mrs. Myers also will occupy a seat on the council for the next two years.

Running third in the race was Jefferies, who came through with 215 votes. The third place spot puts him in the one-term class.

This was Jefferies' first try for a city council spot, although as a newspaperman he has attended council meetings for some 25 years.

Although he placed fourth in the balloting, Curtis captured 192 votes, which was only 24 votes away from victory.

All three of the winners will gather at City Hall at 4:30 p. m. Friday for the swearing-in ceremonies.

On the Board of Canvassers are: Mrs. John Fahrni, Mrs.

George DeGraw, Mrs. Gerald Staal, and Carl Wood.

In charge of the polls in the Monday balloting were: Prec. 1. Mrs. Orlo Gwatkin, chairman; Mrs. Clara Callier and Mrs. Victor Todd, Prec. 2. Mrs. Bert Hansen, chairman; Mrs. Carl Snores and Mrs. Lee Keech.

Assessments in Lowell Pass $9-Million

Total assessment for the 1968 tax year for the city of Lowell rose $821,350, it was reported by City Manager Bernard C. Olson today.

Olson reported to City Council Monday night that real property values rose from $5,912,700 in 1967 to a present mark of $6,343,700 while personal property assessments went up from $2,737,100 to $3,127,450.

Total valuation now stands at $9,471,150 compared to the '67 figure of $8,649,800.

On subjects financial, the council also heard a report from out-going Councilman Phil Schneider that the Schneider Fund, a special trust designed to better the health and welfare of Lowell and Lowell Township residents, now stands at $1,100,000, not counting accumulated earnings of $117,000.

Schneider told the council that annual earnings in 1967 amounted to $46,000. He also noted that approximately $16,500 has been spent since the fund was placed in trust several years ago.

Memory Aids in Arrest

Lowell police, while on patrol Sunday afternoon, observed a teenage boy wearing ill-fitting glasses and white gloves, and made note of same.

Shortly after seven o'clock Monday morning, a report came to headquarters of a breaking and entering at the King Milling plant.

On arriving at the plant the officers found an office and two shops ransacked.

Papers were strewn about the office, and in the shops, bags were ripped open and contents thrown about in an apparent wanton manner.

The officers were advised that some articles were missing. Included in the stolen property were a pair of glasses and a pair of white gloves.

Remembering the Sunday incident, the police set out to find the boy.

In a few minutes he was in custody, and readily admitted to the break-in. He implicated another teenager, and a 17-year-old identified as Ed Weaver, of 8981 Cascade Rd.

Police charged Weaver with being disorderly by reason of illegal entry and trespassing.

Taken before Justice Howard Rittenger, he was found guilty, and fined $50 and $10 cost.

Library Buys Projector

The purchase of the new 8 m.m. film projector for the Lowell Public Library will greatly widen the scope of the service of the library to the community according to Mrs. Evelyn Briggs, librarian.

"With the aid of this new projector," she said, "we can take advantage of the large film library housed at the Kent County Library in Grand Rapids. We have already used the projector for the entertainment of the tots at our story hour and there is material at the main library acceptable for any age group."

Mrs. Briggs added that the films are available for use by groups in Lowell. Anyone interested should contact her for details.

Those who contributed toward the purchase of the projector were: Lowell Township Board, Garden Lore Club, Lion's Club, Rotary Club and the Civic Affairs Committee of the Loyal Order of Moose.

 "The City Was Moved"

Noting the quotation marks, you might think that these words were copied from a newspaper account of a recent riot in one of our cities in the United States. The quotation, however, is taken from the Bible and refers to the excitement there was in Jerusalem when Jesus entered that city on Palm Sunday.
 on a donkey, people spread their garments in the way, and others spread palm branches in His path. The crowds, who preceded and followed Him, said: "Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the Highest." Coming into Jerusalem, "all the city was MOVED"—stirred, startled, wild with excitement, thrown into commotion. In their excitement they asked: "WHO IS THIS?"
 Why aren't people real excited about Christ today? Why isn't there a greater eagerness to know Christ and His salvation? One of the reasons may well be that Christians are not enthusiastic enough about Jesus to really honor Him as the King of their lives. To do so requires much more than an enthusiastic singing of "HOSANNA"—"Save now," but we may well begin with that as a tribute to our Lord on Palm Sunday—and continue in trust and obedience each Sunday—and each day!

Rangers Prepare for '68 Campaigns

Springs sports activity is beginning to take shape at Forest Hills High School with baseball, track and golf teams ready to swing into action next week.

A total of 56 aspirants answered the call for baseball tryouts. Pitching remains a question mark with the departure of two starters from the 1967 squad.

Scott Wingeier, who was 2-5 last year, along with Carl Justice, Ryan Ashley, and Ron Vanderbaan will head up the hill corps.

Catching seems to be a two-way scramble between Tom Dygert and Randy Simon.

Fighting for infield berths will be Stan Grochowalski, a 302 hitter from last year. Dale Osmolinski, Mark Bransdorfer, Bob Sullivan, Dale Sherwood, Ashley, Vanderbaan and Jim Hoard. Gary Gromer and Justice have an early lead for outfield positions.

The track team has been practicing in earnest since the first of March. The team is very young with 16 Freshmen.

Good Scores Mark Close of Action

A barrage of fine games and series were rolled in last week's season-ending YMCA Youth League bowling competition.

Two high school girls turned in their best games of the season on the last day of pin-spilling. Pam Morris tossed a 185 game with Cherry Wheat bowling 177. Maureen Kennedy was not far behind with a 169 game and 429 series.

Six teams from the "Y" Youth Leagues will compete in the state team tournaments this Sunday at the Northfield Lanes in Grand Rapids.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Lena Gardner.

It's hard to walk the road alone

But to all there comes a longing

When the paths of life divide.

And when we're sad and lonely

And wonder why he's gone,

We ask God to forgive our tears,

And help us to carry on.

Sadly missed by her family.
