Three Girls Visiting Under Exchange Plan

BY JERRY HANES

Sven, Finland and the far Philippines are being represented this school year in the Forest Hills area by three charming young ladies chosen for this experience by the Youth for Understanding Program.

Helping to make them feel more at home in their new environment is Mary Sneden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sneden of 223 Shore Haven Drive SE. Mary was Forest Hill's only exchange student this summer when she became part of the family of Dr. and Mrs. Anders Faarhoff in Denmark.

Anna Tidholm, aged 17, came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoyles of 501 Honeycreek from a suburb of Stockholm. She represents something of a novelty at the Hoyles for they have all boys in their immediate family. Mrs. Hoyles especially is enjoying her feminine company.

While Anna hasn't been in this country long enough to have completely clarified her impressions, she noticed several things immediately. One was the heat, for she arrived in the middle of the August heat wave. Secondly she is impressed with the large American cars for Swedish cars are small and somehow she was surprised to find cotton sheets on the beds. She had expected that all Americans slept on nylon sheets.

Suzette Juico, aged 18, from Quezon, Philippines, could hardly wait for school to begin. Although she has completed her high school education at home, she has always attended a girl's school and the thought of attending a co-educational school was an interesting one to her.

During her stay in Michigan, Suzette will be a member of the Adrian Van Haren family of 8795 Conservation Road.

Suzette, who sings and plays the guitar, is already acquainting her new friends and family with the music of the Philippines.

Paiv Pitkanen, who has been baptized Pam by the Neil Weathers family of Dogwood SE, says the hardest thing for her since she arrived from Finland is speaking English all the time. She expects her aptitude English will improve during her Michigan stay.

Pam has an intense interest in people, activated no doubt by the fact that her father is in the Ministry of Social Affairs in Helsinki. She has been a Cub Scout leader and worked during one summer with mentally retarded children.

Many different and interesting experiences await these three girls during their life in Michigan, and when they return home it will be with a better understanding of the world in which we all live.

Students Up, Cost Down

The Ada Christian School announced this week they they have accomplished something rare in a school in this day and age.

The school, due to a six percent increase in their enrollment has been able to reduce the projected tuition by $14 per pupil.

Scholarships Available in Services

Congressman Gerald R. Ford announced recently that five all-expense college scholarships with a career in the armed services of our country are available to young men of Kent and Ionia Counties.

"The Fifth District in 1969 will be entitled to two appointments to the Military Academy at West Point, one to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and two to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs," Ford said.

In addition, appointments are also available to the Merchant Marine and Coast Guard Academies.

Appointments will be based on the results of an open, competitive Civil Service examination. The examination will be held on Saturday, October 5, and will be given at Grand Rapids, Lansing, and many other cities in the United States and abroad for those residing temporarily away from home.

An examination will also be conducted on Saturday, November 9, for those who cannot report for the October examination.

Ford said that young men who will have graduated from high school by June, 1969, are unmarried, and under 22 years of age at the time classes begin, are eligible for consideration of appointment to one of the Service academies. Those he appoints must have a legal residence in the 15th District.

Applications may be obtained from Ford's Grand Rapids office at 425 Cherry Street, SE, (Telephone GLendale 6-9747), and from his Washington office in the Capitol Building. Applications should be filed by September 20 but may be considered if received as late as October 25.

Near Accord on Ada Dam Purchase; Inspection Scheduled September 18

A contract between the Thornapple River Association and Kent County regarding ownership of the Ada dam was brought to the attention of nearly 100 residents who attended the association's meeting Monday evening.

Plans for draining the Ada Pond to inspect the structure were finalized at a meeting held Friday, August 23, in the office of Drain Commissioner Frank Bouma which included Bouma; David Weaver, District Fish Biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation; and Gordon E. Jenks and Lloyd Harrington of Consumers Power Company.

It is planned to start the Ada draw down on Monday with September 18 being established as the date for inspection.

The pond will be drained approximately 12 feet, to facilitate inspection of the Ada dam, and at the same time will allow the possible blasting of dangerous stumps heretofore concealed by the level of the river water.

Consultants for the Drain Commissioner are Williams & Works Engineering of Grand Rapids, and Fargo Engineering Co. of Ann Arbor.

The water will be down to or below the Tainter gate sills by 7:00 a. m. on the 18th. It was agreed with the Conservation Department that a minimum flow of 150 to 200 cfs would be maintained between the Ada Dam and the Cascade Dam. This can be done by operating one unit at Cascade at approximately 20 percent gate opening. It is hoped that this quantity of water can be passed through the two Ada units.

The pond is expected to return to normal head water level by Saturday, September 21.

Association president Dan Wallace explained that although the final contract regarding the ownership of the dam could not be presented for approval sale of the dam by Consumers Power to the Association will include all flowage rights, obligations, and land now owned and/or controlled by the company.

The dam will then be owned by the association and will be operated by the office of the drain commissioner. Assessments of property owners between the Ada and Cascade dams will be paid yearly.

Wallace stated that with a few minor changes the contract will be presented to the conservation department. Approval by the department is needed before signatures can be affixed.

In other action, members present unanimously voted a special assessment of $5 each for the blasting of stumps, legal fees, and unforeseen future needs.

Paper Drive to Raise Band Funds

The Forest Hills Music Association will conduct a fundraising paper drive on Saturday, September 28, starting at 9 a. m.

Monies raised from the project will be used for further purchase of band uniforms, scholarships, summer camp fees and several other worthy causes.

Volunteers are urgently needed to assist in driving, packing and telephone answering.

Additional information may be secured by calling 949-0197, 676-9351, 949-3002 or 949-1357.

Ada Scouts to Launch New Season

Boy Scout Troop 290, sponsored by the First Congregational Church of Ada, began its new season this week.

The next meeting will be held Monday, September 16, at 7:30 p. m. in Fellowship Hall. All boys 11 years of age or older are welcome to bring their fathers if possible, and to sign up for a year of fun and training in useful skills.

Last year the troop took several hikes, including overnight trips. This was one of the first troops to camp at the new Boy Scout Camp at Tubbs Lake near Six Lakes, Michigan. This camp will replace the old Camp Shawandosee near Muskegon, which has been phased out.

The boys of this troop also took part in the Scoutarama which was held in May at the National Guard Armory. There they displayed their cooking prowess over outdoor fires.

The 1968-69 season promises to be even more fun, but more boys and more interested fathers are needed to help carry out the expanded plans. For information call Scoutmaster, Don Johnson at 676-1836 or Assistant Scoutmaster, Dave Butts at 676-3821 after 5 p. m.

Liquor for Cascade on November Ballot

Voters in Cascade Township will make a decision on the sale of spirits by the glass in the Township on November 5th following the filing of petitions this week.

Petitions bore 513 signatures of certified registered voters and seek permission of the electorate to make this change in local liquor laws.

Persons who circulated the petitions obtained twenty more signatures than necessary for their purpose. The necessary number, 493, represents thirty-five percent of the vote for the Secretary of State in the 1966 election as prescribed by state law.

According to township officials, at least a dozen petitions were circulated for this purpose, one of which was begun in January.

The issue of spirits by the glass was defeated four years ago by the narrow margin of twenty-two votes.

Will Check Area for Immunized

Families in this area will be asked about immunizations against smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles and mumps by Census Bureau interviewers during the week of Sept. 16.

The interviewers will inquire about immunizations of adults against all these diseases. This is an annual survey sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service.

The survey will cover a scientifically selected sample of households throughout the U. S., and the identity of the households is confidential. Information obtained in the survey will be used only for statistical purposes.

Opposes Setting Own Pay

A candidate for the Kent County Board of Supervisors representing the 3rd District is on record today as seeking legislation that would prohibit members of the county board from establishing their own salaries.

Jack E. Smith, Cascade Democrat, introduced a resolution to this effect before the Fifth District delegation to the State Democratic Convention.

Smith's resolution read as follows:

"In the August 6 primary election, by passing Proposal No. 2, the people of this State have demonstrated their displeasure over the practice of allowing elected officials to establish their own salaries.

"It is equally distasteful for County supervisors to set their own salaries.

"Now, therefore, let us go on record as requesting the legislature to establish a fair compensation for County supervisors on a per diem basis or submit a bill on the ballot to let the people decide."

Proposal No. 2 on the primary ballot called for establishing an independent commission appointed by the Governor which would set the salaries of the Governor, Lt. Governor, legislators and the members of the State's Supreme Court.

The resolution was not submitted in time to be considered by the full State convention.

Set Early Date for Applicants

High school students seeking appointment to one of the U.S. military academies should apply to their senators or congressmen no later than Sunday, Sept. 22. U. S. Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) announced this week.

Reason for the new deadline, Griffin said, was due to the Navy Academy's request that nominations be submitted a month earlier than previous years.

As a result, the Civil Service examination, usually held in November, will be held Saturday, Oct. 5.

To qualify for appointment to one of the service academies, an applicant must be a resident of the State of Michigan, unmarried and a U. S. citizen. He must be at least 17 years old but not yet 22 on July 1, 1969.

More Woes! Junior High Needs Check

The possibility of a serious structural flaw in the 52-year-old Lowell Junior High School building today confronted a board of education that finds itself trapped between rising costs and reluctant taxpayers.

Superintendent of Schools James C. Pace, during Monday night's lengthy meeting, recommended that the board hire a structural engineer to check the building thoroughly.

"There has been a definite movement of the bricks on the southeast corner of the building," Pace told the board. "It appears that termites may have undermined the wooden support beams."

The board has under consideration a plan to construct a new middle school to replace the ancient structure. During the July meeting, board members decided not to place a bond issue proposal before the public until sometime in 1969.

CITIZEN RESPONSE to problems confronting the Lowell Area School District Board of Education brought out 160 residents Monday night at the monthly meeting. A number of parents, like Mrs. David Alley (shown at right), objected to the present bus transportation policies while still others like former board president Ty Wessell (below) rose to defend the board during its fiscal difficulties. Staff photos by Scot Jefferies.

Ambulance Problems Reviewed

The Lowell City Council met in a special session Monday evening to discuss with several representatives of the Kent County Board of Supervisors Safety Committee and other interested parties the need and-or feasibility of initiating an ambulance service in the Lowell-Vergennes area.

Representing the safety committee were chairman William Wurst and Walter Gumser, supervisor from the city of Lowell.

The meeting was more an advisory session than a decision-making one, and many possible solutions were explored.

It was pointed out that the Lowell police force is equipped with first aid equipment consisting of two resuscitators and bandages, and that many medical experts maintain that the most important phase of post-accident treatment are those measures taken on the scene.

City Manager Bernard Olsen asked the committee members if they would consider that the equipping of a station wagon as a police cruiser and ambulance would satisfy the requirements of the committee.

It was pointed out that such a vehicle would not, however, meet all the standards set up for ambulances.

In the event that Lowell did provide and maintain an ambulance service, it would mean maintaining at least a six-man police force, and preferably more, according to Police Chief Avery Block, plus a ready corps of volunteers with basic first aid training who would be on call night and day.

Another problem that was raised is the present communications system.

Council members brought up the many drawbacks of the present system, and it was suggested that steps would have to be taken to provide an answering service for those hours when the police office is closed.

The safety committee is set up to subsidize ambulance service with $6,000 yearly for area's wishing to participate.

It was suggested that the city contact a private ambulance firm in Grand Rapids to set up an ambulance corps at a salary of $6,000.

The committee suggested that the council study the proposals and suggestions put before them and submit a new proposal to them.

If the council decides that this area is adequately covered in case of an emergency, the matter would be considered closed, according to the committee.

Burroughs Announces Acquisition

Arthur Goff, president of J. P. Burroughs & Son, Inc., announced the addition of Economy Mills to its Agricultural Division through acquisition.

Economy Mills, located at Elwell, Michigan, has been in operation since 1911, and under the leadership of Evert Himebaugh, president, has experienced substantial growth in the handling and marketing of navy and colored beans and other agricultural commodities.

The Agricultural Division of J. P. Burroughs & Sons, Inc. is comprised of the Wallace & Morley Company with elevators in the Thumb Area of Michigan and C. H. Runciman Company at Lowell, Michigan.

J. Stanley Sherman, president of J. P. Burroughs' Agricultural Division said, "This addition of Economy Mills to our Division will significantly enhance our ability to provide improved service in marketing beans and other agricultural products for both the grower and the buyer."

Sherman also announced that Evert Himebaugh is joining his staff, heading all sales activities as Director of Marketing and Sales.

New Hours, Procedures at Landfill

New procedures will be instituted at the Lowell sanitary landfill, better known as the city dump, for residents and non-residents alike commencing next Monday (September 16).

This change in operating procedure has been installed by the City Council in an effort to update local dump operation in accordance with Act No. 87 passed by the State Legislature in 1965.

As a result of the new regulations, the landfill operation should be self-supporting. There will be an attendant on duty during hours when the landfill is open and refuse will be unloaded as per his instructions.

Further objectives of the change will be preservation of public health, elimination of unsightly conditions, pest control and fire prevention.

Parents Protest Cut in District Service

Irate residents of the Lowell Area School District turned out in full force Monday night to demand a change in bus transportation policies.

An unofficial count pegged attendance at more than 160 persons, some of whom were also on hand to hear the Board of Education discuss future fiscal policies.

The majority, however, were there to seek changes in the district's bus procedures.

The meeting, customarily held in the library, was switched to the high school auditorium to accommodate the large crowd.

The board recently established a transportation policy designed to eliminate several routes and many stops in order to reduce transportation costs.

Board president Dr. Robert Reagan outlined reasons for the change, pointing out that the district, which normally receives about 75 percent of its bus costs from the state, "received only about 85 percent of that 75 percent last year."

"Lack of sufficient state aid last year is partially responsible for our deficit budget," Dr. Reagan stated, "and the board felt it should try to stay within budgetary limits this year."

Superintendent James Pace and transportation director John Vos told parents that a number of changes already have been made and that more are anticipated.

"It is almost impossible for us to know exactly how many students will require transportation from any given area until after school starts," Pace explained.

He said that he was aware of 17 particular cases that needed modification and that Vos "has many times that number to consider."

Most parents were concerned with safety of children who were required to walk long distances on narrow roads to reach bus stops.

Others pointed out that some bus stops are located at busy intersections, none of which are protected by safety guards or shelters.

While most parents were from the rural areas, several from within the city limits also were on hand to protest the lack of transportation for kindergarten pupils and the deficiency of safety patrols.

Pace explained that the state not only prohibits transportation of students residing within the city limits but also imposes penalties against a district which offers bus service to these pupils.

"We will consider any hardship case, however," he told the parents.

One resident said he felt the board was using bus transportation "as a club to get rural residents to approve the millage votes."

"Buses are to rural students what sidewalks are to city students," he said. "I wonder what would happen if the city took away some of the sidewalks."

Dr. Reagan countered by saying that new procedures in bus transportation were considered long before the recent millage vote was even anticipated.

"No one is trying to unduly penalize any student or parent," he declared. "The board is simply trying to do the best job it can with the money it has available."

Ex-Lowell Man Dies in Crash

Keith H. Tapley, 46, formerly of Lowell, was killed Tuesday morning in a two-truck accident in Oakland County near Detroit.

State Police in Detroit, who handled the accident on I-696 in Farmington Township, report that a truck driven by Tapley crashed into the rear end of a steel-laden truck, veered into a ditch and jackknifed, pinning the driver in the cab.

Troopers said that the other truck was driven by William Hooper of Inkster. Both trucks were westbound on the freeway when the collision occurred at 4:37 a. m. It was raining at the time, the report indicates.

Tapley was pronounced dead at the scene by an Oakland County coroner.

Tapley was an employee of Associated Trucking of Ionia and had driven for the company for 18 years.

His father, Henry, is a former supervisor of Boston Township.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Morris-Roetman Funeral Home in Saranac (see Page 8 for details).

Recount Voids Millage; Board Studies Future

BY FRAN SMITH

There is little likelihood that the Lowell Area School District Board of Education will challenge the last week's recount decision of the Kent County Board of Canvassers that declared the August 26 operating millage election as "no vote."

The county board, upon petition of 174 district voters, declared four of the 918 votes cast as invalid, thus forcing a 457-457 tie.

Local election workers had found only three spoiled ballots in what was an apparent one-vote majority decision to approve a 3.3-mil levy for one year.

Immediately following the vote, the board of education approved a budget for 1968-69 calling for $1,305,296.

During a long and tense meeting Monday night, which drew 160 persons to the senior high school auditorium, the board heard Superintendent James C. Pace offer six possible alternatives to resolve the district's financial plight.

Pace noted, as he outlined the choices, that not all might be feasible.

They included:

1 - Take legal action and challenge the recount decision in circuit court at an estimated cost of $2,500 in legal fees; or

2 - Hold another operating millage election on November 25 (the earliest possible date) which, if successful, would permit the district to borrow against tax monies that would be collectable starting in January, 1970; or 3 - Make certain cuts, primarily in the size of the faculty, that would reduce the budget by $85,000; or

4 - Retain the present budget, but seek to incorporate additional savings of $110,000 as of last June to about $75,000 by the end of the fiscal year 1968-69; or

5 - Shut down Alto and Bushnell elementary schools and the junior high school and concentrate all elementary classes at Runciman School and all others in the senior high school on a split-day basis; or

6 - Lock all buildings at 5 p. m. each day, thus excluding any after-school activity; eliminate all athletics except varsity football, basketball and wrestling (all self-sustaining); and eliminate extracurricular bus trips, spectator buses and several lesser activities.

"It is my recommendation," Pace told the board, "that you give consideration to the fourth alternative, even though we might run the risk of state action."

The latter was in reference to recently-enacted legislation stipulating that any school district showing a deficit for two years of a 10-year period is subject to assignment, by the state, to another district.

"Lowell is not alone in this particular problem," Pace told the board, and I certainly would not wish to see this district used as a test case. But I don't believe we have much other choice."

The greatest immediate cut in costs, Pace said, could be in reduction of teaching personnel.

"Our teachers' salaries comprise about 85 percent of the budget," he said. "However, if we were to release teachers, I believe we would be challenged at once by the state and by the teachers' tenure commission."

Pace told the board that he estimates another millage vote in November would have to be for 3.9 mills to make up interest costs for borrowing against future tax income if approved.

"I am not in favor of eliminating athletics," he said. "The saving would be too small. If we were to eliminate sports, then other programs also would have to be cut out."

Most board members participated in a question-and-answer forum with the crowd, seeking counsel from the voters on a decision that is expected to be reached in a special meeting next Monday evening.

The Lowell Education Association, through spokesman Arthur Bieri, indicated that it might underwrite the cost of soliciting a legal opinion on the possibility of challenging the recount decision.

Several times during the meeting, residents rose to defend the board. Among them was former board president Ty Wessell, who declared:

"These men have labored long and hard. If some of you people who are here tonight had attended meetings, the district might not be faced with the problems it now has. I challenge all of you to show up at the next board meeting."

Wessell's speech drew a solid round of applause as did that of David Alley of 13809 Vergennes Road when he admonished several in the crowd for rude behavior.

"What kind of dopes are you," declared Alley, "that you can't even listen to what these men are saying?"

David Miller was another who defended the board.

"I've heard people here tonight refer to these men as 'they' when, in fact, they represent all of us," said Miller. "I think it should be 'we' who are to blame for not getting out the vote."

What's Important?

Two weeks ago, Lowell Area School District voters went to the polls to determine the fate of an operating millage proposal.

Only 918 registered electors found time to get to the polling places.

Three ballots were declared invalid by local election workers and the Kent County Board of Canvassers threw out another in a recount action.

The result was a 457-457 tie... and no election!

The 918 who voted represent only 32 percent of the registered voter population of the district.

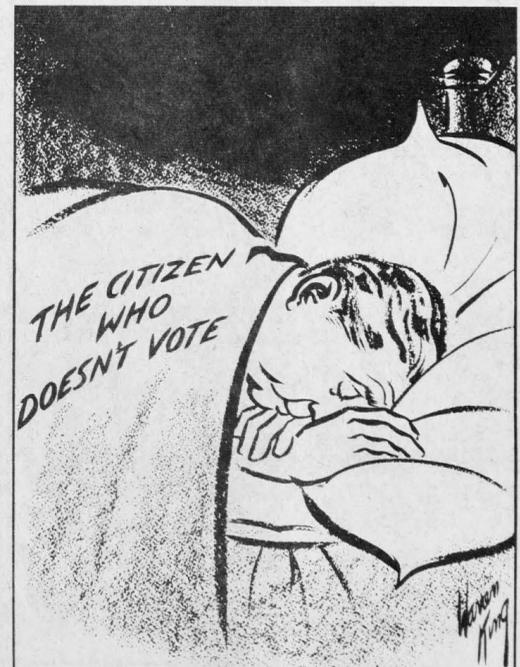

The 457 who voted "no" represent only 16 percent of the registered voter population of the district.

The 68 percent who DID NOT VOTE represented nothing... not themselves, not their children and certainly not the best interests of their community, their state and their nation.

We ask only one question: What was SO IMPORTANT on August 26 that kept them away from the polls?

We doubt there is a ready answer.

Arrows Meet Ionia in '68 Lid-Lifter

Lowell High School's defense has been dealt another blow

... even though the 1968 football season doesn't get underway until Friday night.

Coach Jerry Smith, starting his first year as head skipper after seven seasons in an assistant's capacity, disclosed today that veteran linebacker Bob Van Dyke probably is lost for the season with a broken bone in his foot.

Van Dyke thus joins co-captain Cla Avery, the Arrows' other holdover linebacker, on the sidelines. Avery was lost for the campaign with a re-curing shoulder injury two weeks ago.

The Arrows launch the '68 campaign at Ionia with game time at 8:00 p. m. and will be going against a squad rated as one of the powerhouses in the rugged West-Central League.

"It's not an easy opening game for us," says Smith, "and the loss of key personnel has really hurt us so far. But these kids have the stuff to play some mighty good winning football this season, believe me."

Smith feels that the loss of his two linebackers will put extra pressure on the starting eleven, all of whom are scheduled to see action both on offense and defense.

"We lack depth with Avery and Van Dyke out," he states, "but we should be okay if we don't run into any more serious injuries."

Smith points out that five members of the starting team are returning regulars from the 1967 squad that posted a 1-7 record, but which finished well in its final three appearances.

"We were coming along strong at the end of '67 and I think these boys should pick up where they left off," he says.

Lowell will rely mostly on power plays up the middle.

"We don't play to try much fancy stuff," said the coach. "It will be pretty much straight football."

The holdover regulars scheduled to start include Co-captain and quarterback Jack Thomet, halfback Bill Bennett, center Steve Johnson, guard Steve Foss and tackle Pete Goggins.

Rounding out the starting unit are fullback Ken Roth, halfback Pete Olson, ends Ted Hoseth and Jim Herblet, tackle Craig Schneider and guard Ray Smith.

STEPHENS COLLEGE FROSH
Pamela Jane Runciman, the daughter of Carlton H. Runciman, Jr., of the C. H. Runciman Company, Lowell, will leave later this month for Columbia, Missouri, where she will be a student at Stephens College.

She will be one of more than 1,900 students from all across the United States and a dozen or more foreign countries at the four-year residential college for women.

Registers 7th Win At Berlin

Low-flying John Benson of Grand Rapids survived a three-car wreck and flip on the second lap of the 20-lap feature for super modifieds at the Berlin Raceway Saturday evening.

Benson, who was forced to come from the rear, rang up his seventh consecutive main event.

Art Bennett of Battle Creek was second followed by Eldon Schrader of Jackson.

Entering the victor's circle for 10-lap super mod heat races were Duane Knoll, Bud Steward, and Benson.

The semi-late model fast car dash, Australian pursuit and feature event were won by Grand Rapids' speedster Rich Senneker, who also posted the evening's fastest qualifying lap.

Senneker, in a 1964 Chevelle, warmed up for this Saturday's season championship for semi-late models on the 1/2-mile hi-banked asphalt.

In the 25-lap accident-marred main, Benson crossed the finish line second followed by the track's current point leader, Tom Marks of Kalamazoo.

Heat race winners were Dick Wesler, Bob Senneker, Gene Edding and Johnny Roberts.

CAR CARE TODAY

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT ANTI-KNOCK FUELS?

Increased compression ratio is an important advancement in modern engines. Older engines squeezed the air-fuel mixture into about four times less space. Today's engines use compression ratios of about ten to one. Today's increased power and economy is due almost entirely to that one fact. Cars differ in the octane rating necessary for peak efficiency and smooth running. The motorist should purchase the highest anti-knock fuel necessary for his vehicle. Often regular fuels detonate, or "knock." When this happens, the high octane rating premium fuels should be used. Regular fuel can often be used without detonation. In this case no advantage is gained by using premium fuel. High altitude driving permits the use of regular fuels in most instances. This is because of the lower pressures encountered.

has shown a great deal of improvement in pre-season drills.

"He's come a long way in just a short time," says Rosengren.

The Hills eleven must develop more quickness if it is to give a consistent showing as the season progresses, says the new grid mentor.

"We've got good potential ... even better than I first anticipated," he declared. "But we've got to be just a bit quicker in order to keep the defense off balance throughout the season."

Rosengren scouted non-league rival Rockford in a scrimmage last week and has studied films of the Rams as well.

"They'll be tough," he says. "This is one team you can always figure comes to play the game."

Joining Wingeier in the starting all-senior offensive backfield will be Stan Grochowski and Brad Van Stuyters at the halfback spots and Randy Simon at fullback.

Bob Vandenberg and Tom Teft will hold down the end positions with Paul Jenks and Dan Mosher at the tackles, Tom Dygert and Steve Gra-barek at the guards and Bob Roy at center.

"These are the eleven boys who probably will see most of the action at the outset," says Rosengren. "but we've got a couple of fine replacements in halfback Kevin Gary and defensive guard Rob McCormick who'll be in there, too."

The Rangers, incidentally, will be seeking to keep their late surge of 1967 going. Forest Hills, winless in 18 straight games over a three-season span, finished the campaign a year ago with back-to-back victories.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Paap, Laraway Lake Drive and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Duthler, Rix Street, Ada.

The bride, wearing a striking crepe sheath, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was accented by a full front panel of lace which was matched by the same lace trim on the edges of her train. The tulle fingertip length veil was held by organza trumpet lilies and lilies-of-the-valley whose petals surrounded tiny pearls. Her bouquet was a long streamer of white pom-poms.

The matron of honor was Carol Postma who wore a gold linen gown. The cowl, sleeves, and neckline were trimmed with lace and her gloves were avocado hued.

The bridesmaids were Kristine Johnson and Mary Eggebeen who wore gowns identical in design to that of the matron of honor, but in avocado tint. All three attendants carried wicker baskets filled with streamers of ivy, dried leaves in gold, bronze, and yellow, and pom-poms and chrysanthemums.

The best man was Carl James Duthler and guests were seated by ushers Jack H. Duthler and Lee F. Hovey.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors where the color theme of yellow and avocado was again evidenced.

The bride and groom left on a northern honeymoon. They will make their home in Lansing where Mr. Duthler will be a student at Michigan State University.

PREVIEW:

Fall and winter fashions to be shown Friday night at a style show in the Ada Masonic Temple will put mothers and daughters in the mood for cooler weather wear.

The showing, which will be open to the public, is sponsored by the Vesta Chapter of Eastern Star. It will feature day and sports clothing by Bee-Line and evening and cocktail dresses by the Bridal House. Members of the chapter will be the models for creations planned for everything from football games to holiday splendor.

The fashions will be presented at 8 p. m. with a light buffet following the program. Co-chairmen for the event are Martha Zudzik, Penny Densmore and Alice Rooker.

COMINGS AND GOINGS:

After eighteen years of neighboring compatibility in Grand Rapids, two families have built new homes next to one another on Cascade Road facing Waldon Lake.

Looking forward to another eighteen years or more as fishing and hunting companions are Bea and Corny Pape and daughter, Marilyn, who is a junior at Michigan University, and their neighbors, Lois and Max Doering and their daughters, Linda, a senior at Western, and Mary, a sophomore at Michigan State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Johnson have returned to Madison, Wisconsin after spending several days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, Hall St. S.E., and Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer of Walton St. S.W. Mr. Johnson is attending graduate school at the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Johnson is a senior at Edgewood College for Women in Madison.

New residents on Thornapple River Drive are Lois and Robert Grice and their children, Rob. Jr., Kathy and Ron.

Bea and Ken Klinestra pleased many old friends by moving back here from Saginaw and into their old home on Thornapple River Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gogulski and children of Aberdeen N.E., Grand Rapids are new residents of the Forest Hills area.

SAFETY AID:

Grover Buttrick took "Resuscitation Annie" to a meeting of the Divers Club at the Marshall Beldings. With Annie, he demonstrated rescue breathing for members and their parents. Each person present then tried the technique until he was able to make Annie breathe properly.

"Annie" is a life-sized replica of a 16-year-old Norwegian girl who was drowned. Her parents gave permission for her death-mask to be used in order that other lives might be saved. She will not breathe unless properly held and controlled.

First-aid classes and demonstrations will be scheduled for this fall. A listing will be published in the future.

PATRICIA SHERWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Sherwood, Sandy Point, S.E. announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia A. to William F. Cutler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cutler, Sr., Boston St. S.E. Grand Rapids.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to ask by what right or reason most news commentators and newspaper editorialists refer to George Wallace as racist or the segregation candidate.

Having read many of his articles and having heard him on television several times I find nothing to indicate that he is racist. Just because he is not able or does not choose to donate several hundred thousand dollars to a Negro College fund as the newspapers stated the Rockefeller did (at a most opportune time when it could pay big dividends in votes at the Republican Convention or the national elections this fall) doesn't mean that he is racist or because he hasn't publicly announced that if he had been born in a ghetto area he probably would have been one of the leaders in rioting as Hubert was quoted as saying, doesn't mean that he is racist.

I see nothing racial about his views on discontinuing Foreign aid to countries that aid and trade with North Vietnam or that he would send no more gold to France until she paid us the millions (perhaps billions) owed us since World War I.

His belief that states might have a better knowledge of their own problems and needs than a bunch of bureaucrats in Washington is shared by millions of people. His belief that citizens who own their property should have the right to sell it to a person of their choice is shared by a majority of the people regardless of how the pious politicians in Washington voted on this matter. (If they can pass a law telling you who you can sell to they could certainly pass another telling when and for how much).

I also think his belief that children should have the right to go to their own neighborhood schools rather than be bused half way across a county is shared by a majority of parents and taxpayers even though many politicians, educators, psychologists and clergymen would have us believe children can't possibly get an education in a classroom with people of their own race.

As for segregation many millions of people have chosen to live in a neighborhood with people of their own nationality. Some people prefer to live in an area with people of the same financial status. Where you find people living in a $50,000 home the chances are you will find the same next door. In fact it is my belief that you won't find the Johnsons and Humphreys or the Rockefellers and Romneys living in what you would call a ghetto area.

Why should Mr. Wallace's promise that if he were to become President he would make our city streets safe to walk on even if it meant placing a bayonet on every corner or that law enforcement against rioters, arsonists and looters be regarded as racial?

It has been stated that Mr. Wallace defied Federal authority in the doorway to the University of Alabama but perhaps there was some question as to the legality of their presence in Alabama. After all more than 40 persons were killed and millions of dollars worth of the town burned down before such learned men as President Johnson and Gov. Romney could find a legal way to bring Federal troops into Detroit.

So I hope at Election time this fall people won't be fooled by slanted newscasts and editorials and I think we should all remember their favorite phrase of four years ago (a vote for Goldwater means war in Vietnam).

Howard Gibbs
R. R. No. 3
Lowell, Mich.

To My Friends in Lowell:

My eight weeks in Germany have been very enjoyable and beneficial. The relationships I have had with my family and their friends have been more than rewarding.

I have been blessed with, I am sure, one of the finest and happiest families in Germany. There are nine members in my family, including Kati the maid, and myself. There is my father (Vati), my mother (Mutti), my brother Dietrich (16), my sisters Eva Sophie (13), Maria (10), Bettina (8), and my youngest brother Karl (5).

Dietrich will leave Hamburg by jet the 23rd of August and will spend one year in America as an exchange student.

I live in Stolberg which is a suburb of Aachen. In this area some of the heaviest fighting of World War II took place and evidence is still present with a few damaged buildings still remaining in nearly every city. But the war damage is even more evident in the people with every family having sacrificed at least one member to the grave through the war and many still living minus an arm, a leg or both.

Stolberg is an industrial city located in a valley between two large and very steep hills. My Vati is president of the Rhineland Felt Factory located in Stolberg. The felts which his factory manufactures are used for drying paper and are important in the process of making paper. The industries are located in the valleys and the homes are in the nearby hills.

We live on the hill Hohenstrasse right next to the radio station. Our home is a two story white wooden house with thirteen rooms, five bathrooms, a two car garage and a swimming pool.

While in Germany I have made three major trips with my family. With such a large family it is impossible to take everyone so the trips include only Mutti, Vati, Dietrich and I.

The first trip on June 29th was to Holland and Belgium. Aachen is only ten miles from the Holland and Belgium border and the entire trip was made in an afternoon. In Holland we visited a Memorial to American soldiers who had died in World War II.

In Belgium we visited a Memorial too. These soldiers all died in the area around Aachen. It was a very humbling experience to see the thousands of crosses, each with a name and each representing one man and one life.

My second trip was to Berlin. We spent four days there. The first afternoon in West Berlin we went to the Dalhem Museum of Art where we saw paintings by such artists as Rembrandt, Rubens, and Van Dyke. The next day we went through the Wall and into East Berlin. We spent the afternoon looking at buildings and observing the way of life.

We visited the Pergamon Museum which contained statues and other pieces of art from ancient Turkey. The next day we visited the Charletenburg Palace and the Berlin Zoo.

The third and longest trip was to the Hotel Schloss Elmau located five miles from Garmish in the heart of Bavaria and the Bavarian Alps. Garmish hosted the Winter Olympic Games in 1936. I spent three weeks at Elmau and while there went on many climbing excursions. The highest mountain in Germany is approximately 10,000 feet high and in my climbing I have been as high as 9,500 feet. From that height I could see mountains in Austria, Italy and Switzerland. In my three weeks in Elmau I have made many friends and have tried to accomplish my purpose for being in Germany, that of "Youth For Understanding."

In closing, I would like to thank each and every person, business and organization who has contributed in any way to make my trip to Germany possible, and for making this the best summer of my life.

Sincerely,
Cla Avery
