Long-Time Civic Leader's Death Shocks Community

Messages of Grief Pour In

The death of prominent Lowell businessman and community leader C. H. Runciman, Sr. in Lowell Tuesday brought an immediate outpouring of grief from government officials as well as close friends and business associates in the community.

From his Washington office, Congressman Gerald Ford of Grand Rapids issued this statement to the Ledger:

"The death of Mr. Runciman came as a blow to me, as I am sure it did to the entire community. He was a close personal friend of mine. I even presumed to call him 'Runci.' He was a fine person, a truly good human being. The people of Lowell are poorer for having lost him and so am I."

"Mr. Runciman lived a full and a good life. He knew what it meant to give of himself, and this must have brought him happiness, for a person is happy only in giving. His was a generous spirit or he would not have spent nearly four decades in service on the Lowell Board of Education or would not have performed so gladly as founder, captain and interlocutor of the Lowell Showboat I was privileged to attend.

"Whatever he was of leaving this way of life, let us remember that Mr. Runciman gave his life to Lowell during the living of it."

Walter Gumsier, who served as superintendent of schools for many years while Mr. Runciman served as board president, said:

"In the death of our best known and most loved citizen, we acknowledge a gratitude for all that he has done... not only for the local community, but for the entire state."

Harold Englehart, president of the State Savings Bank of Lowell, declared:

"Runci was a great fellow, a really fine personal friend of mine. He did so many things for the community. I am deeply shocked at the loss of one of the finest men I ever knew."

Norm Borgerson, president of Lowell Rotary Club and a co-founder of Lowell Showboat with Mr. Runciman, stated:

"Carl Runciman lived in Lowell a little more than 50 years. He was a man who truly loved our home town. He gave without limit of his time and energy to Lowell and its people. He will be missed by all but the most by the unnumbered scores whom he had helped in one way or another. He was a man with a big heart."

William Doyle, president of Showboat, Inc., said:

"For many years, it was my privilege to be associated with Mr. Runciman in both business and civic relationships. He was an outstanding leader in all his endeavors and certainly deserved the title of Lowell's outstanding citizen.

Most people in our area know something of his many activities such as the welfare commission, Showboat leadership, 4-H affairs and countless (Continued on Page 3)

Seek Solution to Attempted Murder, Suicide in Twin Ada Tragedy

Tenant Turns on Owner

Teams of Kent County Sheriff's detectives were working around the clock in an attempt to solve the mystery surrounding a double shooting which occurred near Ada Tuesday afternoon.

It was a cold, gray day when the friendship of two elderly men culminated in a tragedy which left one man dead the other severely wounded.

According to Kent County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Tanner, he was returning from a call to Lowell when he was ordered to investigate a shooting in the 600 block of Pettis Avenue NE. He arrived at the address to find officer Bill Dice standing by the unconscious body of Glen Pettis, age 72, of Perkins Avenue in Grand Rapids.

When Dice arrived on the scene, finding Pettis lying in the ditch, the victim had told the officer that he had been shot by Arthur Hamlet, age 68, of 421 Pettis Avenue, Ada.

Detective Tanner proceeded to that address and upon entering the house found the body of Hamlet slumped over a chair.

Bertha Hagen, age 88, reportedly of the same address, told Tanner that she had been present when Hamlet shot himself.

Following their preliminary investigation officers at present think that Pettis, who rented the house to Hamlet, was confronted by Hamlet. After he was shot, he apparently continued to drive south on Pettis Avenue toward Ada until he flagged down a car.

They assume the driver of the car continued to the nearest residence to phone for help. A Grand Rapids ambulance service was also called by an unknown person.

Pettis, suffering critical gunshot wounds in the abdomen, underwent surgery at Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids Tuesday evening.

Dark Clothing Dangerous

November marks the end of long, sunny days and the advent of winter's added hours of darkness.

This means increased danger for pedestrians, points out Automobile Club of Michigan, especially when dark clothing is worn at night.

OK Liquor-by-glass, But Ordinance Strict

Sale of liquor by the glass in Cascade Township may have been approved in last week's election, but chances are that awarding of two available licenses could be a long, drawn-out affair.

Township residents endorsed the referendum by a vote of 1141 to 912, thus giving the township board and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission the right to award the licenses.

A township ordinance, adopted in December, 1962, gives the township board wide discretionary powers in approving the site or sites of prospective licensees.

It is expected that several applicants may appear next Monday afternoon when the board convenes at 1 p. m. for its regular semi-monthly meeting in the Administration Bldg.

Two local groups took vigorous stands on the matter with Concerned Citizens of Cascade in opposition and the Cascade Economic Development Committee urging an affirmative vote.

One section of the ordinance stipulates that licenses may only be granted to bonafide restaurant operations with a minimum seating for 100, off-street parking for not less than 50 automobiles and strict traffic control from the parking lot to public highways.

The 1960 census, used as a guide by the MLCC for license consideration, allows for only two permits in the township. By 1970, it is estimated that as many as four or five licenses could be granted.

NEXT STOP: LOWELL - Construction crews phase of the project is scheduled for completion this fall with early spring set for the final leg from 36th Street to the city limits link Lowell with the I-96 Freeway. The initial at M-91.

Father Doing Nicely After Rugged Night

It will probably be a long time before Norton Brower forgets the birth date of his first son.

Brower, who managed the D&W Super Market at Cascade East, was at home with his wife, Jane, early Saturday morning and preparations were made for a trip to the hospital for the blessed event.

Suddenly, at 2 a. m., Brower received a call from the Kent County Sheriff's Department informing him that a burglar alarm had been triggered in the store on 28th St.

Though requested to rush to the store immediately to assist in possible capture of intruders, Brower was hesitant to leave his wife. He did, however, and upon arriving, discovered a hole had been cut in the roof through which thieves had gained entry.

Investigation disclosed nothing was missing and Brower returned to his home in Jenison... but his wife already had departed for Zeeland Community Hospital, where she gave birth to a nine-pound boy.

Brad Alan, his mother... and his father... all are doing nicely.

Will Aid Needy in Forest Hills

The eleventh annual Operation Santa Claus is now in motion.

The purpose of Operation Santa Claus is to provide a Merry Christmas for children who otherwise would not have one. Last year, 130 children in the Forest Hills area participated due to the contributions of many generous people.

On November 5, an organizational meeting was held in the Foster Bishop home. Many persons from the community were on hand to offer their services.

Persons wishing to contribute to this fund may contact Father John Stanley of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Rev. Raymond Gaylord of Cascade Christian Church or Mrs. Foster Bishop, who is chairman of Operation Santa Claus this year.

Seeks Funds

A paper drive is being launched this Saturday in the hopes of raising enough money to purchase turkeys for Thanksgiving baskets.

The sixty-two members of Club '69, all senior girls at Forest Hills High School, will be out in full force throughout the day Saturday picking up papers from community-minded residents.

Anyone desiring to contribute to the paper drive is asked to call one of the officers: Mary Sneden, president at 949-7776; Wendy Grand, secretary 949-3770; or Janet Sweeney, treasurer 949-6764.

Discuss Reaching Voters

Voter education in regard to the upcoming Lowell District special election was the main topic of discussion at the Board of Education meeting held Monday.

Several means of familiarizing the voting public were discussed.

Included was placing of a sign on the community billboard in the city parking lot. Estimated cost for this project was $75 to $100. Several people attending the meeting asked where funds for the sign would come from, and it was reported that Don Beachum is in charge of raising funds from private citizens.

A second familiarization method will be a special section published in the November 21st edition of the Ledger on a cost-only basis.

In addition to publishing pertinent information in this special section, the Ledger will print copies of those items of particular importance for distribution among the voting public.

The third step in the education program will be a letter to be sent home with each child in school this Friday.

Flush Mains

The Lowell City Water Department will be flushing water mains on Friday morning. Please plan your use of water for washing.

Open House Nov. 21 at Junior High

Lowell Junior High School's annual open house is scheduled for next Thursday, November 21, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Highlights of the program will include a panel discussion of curriculum changes in effect this year at the school and an explanation of the November 25 special millage election by Dr. Robert Reagan, president of the Board of Education.

The discussions will be held in the intermediate gymnasium.

Following this meeting, parents will meet with teachers in their respective classrooms. Coffee and refreshments will be served in the library-study hall from 8 to 9:30 p. m.

'Mr. Lowell' Widely Known

Shocked, dazed and dismayed. These were the words of long-time friends and associates of civic and business leader Carleton H. Runciman, Sr., who died early Tuesday afternoon of self-inflicted pistol wounds.

Word of Mr. Runciman's death caught the city completely by surprise. Within minutes, telephones in the Ledger office were jammed by calls from community leaders seeking to substantiate the story.

Services for Mr. Runciman will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at Roth Funeral Home in Lowell with Reverend Robert Webber of First United Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Lowell police report that the incident occurred at about 12:15 p. m. in Mr. Runciman's office at the plant, located on South Broadway.

They were called to the scene after three employees reported hearing the shot that terminated the life of the man affectionately known as "Mr. Lowell".

The employees... Harold Kelly, Doris Draper and Jacqueline Raison... told Chief Avery Block they rushed to the office and found Mr. Runciman mortally wounded. They called Dr. Donald Gerard at once, then notified police.

Chief Block immediately requested assistance from the Kent County Sheriff's Department. Detective Robert Tanner answered the request as did Kent County Medical Examiner Dr. Ramon Lang, who pronounced Mr. Runciman dead on the scene of self-inflicted chest wounds.

Several friends disclosed that Mr. Runciman was despondent over continued poor health and sale of the C. H. Runciman Co. just hours before by J. P. Burroughs, Inc. of Saginaw, which purchased the concern in 1963 for a figure estimated in excess of $1,000,000.

The latest purchase had been negotiated by King Milling Company of Lowell, whose property abuts the Runciman plant. A milling company spokesman said that Burroughs had offered to sell the Runciman storage facilities and that the transaction had been completed late Monday.

King Milling had announced plans last month to construct a new silo.

C. H. RUNCIMAN

Burroughs on Tuesday released nine-month figures indicating that its total operations through September 30 showed a profit of just 3c per share on profits of $48,000 from gross sales of $21,125,000. Over the same period in 1967, the company returned 31c per share sales of $20,825,000 and profits of $446,000.

At the time of his death, Mr. Runciman was a director of J. P. Burroughs and maintained his office here. He reportedly was not active in actual administration of the plant here.

Several hours before his death, Mr. Runciman had attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of State Savings Bank, of which he served as chairman. Fellow directors indicated he was in good spirits throughout the meeting.

Grief-stricken friends, many of whom had known him since he established the firm bearing his name in 1917, paid solemn tribute to Mr. Runciman.

Speaking on behalf of the city, Mayor Arnold Wittenbach expressed the feeling of its citizens:

"We are all deeply shocked. Lowell will greatly miss Mr. Runciman. He was one of the great civic leaders of this community. We extend heartfelt sympathies to his family and his many friends and associates."

Plans to observe a period of official mourning were incomplete late Tuesday night.

Mr. Runciman came to Lowell in 1917 and quickly became prominent in business and civic affairs.

In 1920, he was elected to the Lowell Board of Education and began a 38-year period of service with that body. For 36 of those years, he acted as president of the board, and almost four decades of high school graduates received their diplomas from Mr. Runciman's hands.

As head of the board during those many years, Mr. Runciman provided the Lowell school system with steady leadership and an outstanding record of educational achievement. The citizens of Lowell felt a great loss when he had to announce his retirement, but he said at the time that, although he felt that it was time for new leaders to take on the responsibilities of education, his interest in the young people of the community would never diminish.

Lowell paid a small tribute to Mr. Runciman's service on the school board by naming one of the units in the school's ever-expanding educational complex "The Carleton H. Runciman Elementary Building."

Adding luster to Mr. Runciman's many years of community service was his long tenure as admiral and interlocutor of the Lowell Showboat. When the Showboat was founded in 1932 to relieve the boredom of the Depression, he was instrumental in guiding it on its successful maiden voyage.

For the following 22 years, Mr. Runciman could be seen in the pilot house of the Robert E. Lee as the boat rounded the bend each night during Showboat week. White uniform always spotless, manner dignified and at the same time jolly, he never missed a performance during the 114 trips the boat made during those years.

Aside from guiding the show at a fast pace and exchanging jokes with the endmen, "Runci" contributed much behind-the-scenes effort to Showboat's success.

Each year he put in long hours of practice with the endmen, he attended Showboat chorus rehearsals to whip up enthusiasm and often climaxed the practice sessions by treating everyone to sodas at Chris's.

He served on many committees connected with the Showboat, including the entertainment committee, which he headed for several years after his retirement as interlocutor.

The son of James H. and Elizabeth (Hartigan) Runciman, Carleton H. Runciman was born on a farm near Chelsea, Michigan, on August 14, 1889. He graduated from Chelsea High School in 1908 and entered Ferris Institute in Big Rapids, withdrawing in 1909 because of the death of his father.

Mr. Runciman then enrolled in Michigan State Normal College (Eastern Michigan University), from which he received a Life Certificate in 1911. During his college years, he participated in both track and football for two seasons.

One "bonus" you derive from making all your prescription purchases at one pharmacy, is the druggist's accumulated record of the drugs you have been taking over the past few years.

You may not see the advantage of this as long as you're being cared for by one doctor who is familiar with your medical history. If he should forget what you've been taking, his records will also show which medicines he has prescribed for your condition, in the past.

But someday you may have to describe your aches and pains to a strange doctor, who may ask you what you've been taking for the condition. Usually the patient says, "a little red and yellow pill about that big," and the doctor has to guess which of several drugs you are describing.

It's much easier—and safer—if he can contact your pharmacist and check the record of your purchases. The druggist can often tell the doctor not only the type of drug, but the dosage and the length of time you have been taking it. Then the doctor knows what has helped you (or failed to help you) in the past, and can decide whether or not to continue in the same direction, or to prescribe another medication.

This is true in chronic or recurring illnesses, and may be all the more important for the person who is seldom sick, and who hasn't paid much attention to the type of drug given him during an illness he has almost forgotten about.

He was football captain in his final year, and his interest in Eastern's football teams remained unflagging.

In recognition of his contributions to Eastern Michigan athletics, "Runci" was, in 1960, presented with the gold-inscribed, homecoming-game football commemorating almost 50 years of attendance at Eastern's homecoming games. The presentation was made by the University's president at Blodgett Memorial Hospital, where Mr. Runciman was at the time recovering from knee surgery which had spoiled his homecoming attendance record.

Always a loyal alumnus, Mr. Runciman served on the board of directors of the Michigan State Normal College Alumni Association, and through his efforts and cooperation with others the Veterans Memorial Chimes were made possible for Ypsilanti. In 1952, the college awarded him an honorary doctorate of laws both for his contributions to his alma mater and for his many years of public service and outstanding achievements.

Following graduation from college, Mr. Runciman went on to become superintendent of schools at Millington for two years and then taught in the Saginaw school system for one year before becoming superintendent of schools in Grosse Ile for 3½ years.

At Millington, he coached the town's boys to a state baseball championship, and at Saginaw Arthur Hill he coached a first-rate football team.

On June 24, 1913, he was united in marriage with Miss Gladys Needham of Saginaw. To this union were born two children, Carlton Jr. and Jane K. (Mrs. Carl A. Mapes). In 1917, the Runciman family moved to Lowell, where Mr. Runciman had purchased the Jakeway Elevator the previous year, following the untimely death of Charles Jakeway in a railroad-crossing accident.

In 1960, Mr. Runciman was named chairman of the board of directors of the State Savings Bank of Lowell. Previous to that appointment he had been the president of the bank for nine years, and before 1951 he had been vice-president since the bank's organization in 1934.

The C. H. Runciman company was consolidated with J. P. Burroughs, Inc. in July, 1963, and the founder continued to serve the new parent corporation as a member of its board of directors.

Because of his efforts in advancing Lowell's widely-known community project, Mr. Runciman became known as "Mr. Showboat," and many were the newspaper stories across the state that pictured the genial interlocutor in his white uniform and gold braid.

The Village Smithy

BY FRAN SMITH

I had a fine column written for last week's offering... but it got pushed aside in the process of gathering and reporting news of the election.

What had been meant for print was to the effect that, like many other voters in the country, I have yet to vote a straight ticket in a general election.

And, I was going to continue, my choice of candidates always has been a well-guarded secret lest Good Friend Wife discover ahead of time who would receive the vote and then, perhaps for spite or perhaps to exercise her derision of my political beliefs, go out and vote just the opposite way.

And, still further, the column had intended to point out that my job at home is doubly difficult since eldest son Bruce attained majority. What, I asked in the unpublished treatise, would happen if those two found out whom I favored and then formed a coalition that not only would wipe out my vote, but, indeed, add still a plus to the side of the opposition?

So, in keeping with a long-standing custom that dates back to my very first visit to the polls, I kept my big mouth shut.

Nor will I tell you at this moment for whom I voted. If I said it was Nixon, everyone will think I might be lying to save face. If I said it was HHH, everyone will think I don't know how to pick a winner. If I said it was George Wallace, most likely everyone will think I was nuts.

So let's let it go at that. And I will remain happy in the knowledge that, whether I voted for the winner or loser, I once again thank the good Lord that it is my right to make a decision of some kind.

Speaking of elections, Lowell School District voters will be called upon on November 25 to determine whether the system will continue to operate in the red or, perhaps, get back onto the black side of the column.

Board officials are seeking seven additional mills for one year for operating purposes.

There has been considerable opposition to extra taxation all up and down the line (witness the resounding defeat of the graduated income tax proposal last week), but in this case we can only repeat what has been said here before: The only people hurt by failure of voters to approve good education is the kids themselves.

We say it now so that, perhaps, the idea will have time to sink in before the election.

If you think the Smithy is wrong... if you think the board of education is wrong... if you think the kids are wrong... then go right ahead and vote "no."

At some future date, these youngsters... and this community... will pay dearly for the lack of foresight on the part of its taxpayers!

Our intrepid reporter down Cascade way, Shirley Dygert by name, turned in a gem a week or so ago, starting it out thusly: "Some of the boys were whooping it up in the Malamute Saloon."

She then went on to report of an incident in a local pub in which a patron fell off a bar stool, necessitating a call for an ambulance and a hasty trip to the hospital for repairs.

What really disturbs us is that the boys in the Malamute Saloon probably would have picked the varmint up off the floor, dunked him in the horse trough to wash off the wounds... and continued whooping it up!

Times surely have changed.

Comments

(Continued from 1) others, but few know all the helpful things he did for others, whether they were friends or total strangers. He will be sorely missed."

From Supt. of Schools James C. Pace came this comment:

"He made great contributions to the education scene in Lowell for 32 years. He contributed mightily with his foresight and willingness to work. He will be sorely missed."

City Manager Bernard C. Olson declared:

"I hardly know what to say. He was greatly respected and admired. I'm extremely shocked."

From fellow businessman Steve Wittenbach:

"Mr. Runciman was one of the most wonderful men. He did more for this town... more than we can ever expect anyone else to do."

"I was shocked. We all hope that we can be as great as he was."

Terrance Bambrick, executive director of the Lowell YMCA, stated:

"It's a shame. This town is going to miss him. He was truly interested in Lowell and what happened here."

"He was involved in everything. A man just totally involved in his community."

Many other expressions of grief continued to come in as the paper went to press early Wednesday.

Offer Chance to Enlist Now, Leave Later

Sergeant Jack Millard of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station has recently announced the policy for enlisting during the months of November and December.

Sergeant Millard states that those who are interested in enlisting now may do so but wouldn't have to go to basic training until January 2, 1969.

He also says that this time will be credited to the total six-year military obligation set forth by the Universal Military Service Act of 1955.

Those interested in enlisting and leaving after the holiday season may contact Sergeant Millard and his staff at the Federal Building, Grand Rapids, or by calling 454-6006 ext. 231.

Motorist Fined for Drinking

William R. Sandman, 43, of 131 Pleasant, Lowell, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor on Saturday, pled guilty before Justice Marie DeVries of the Kentwood Municipal Court.

He was fined $100 and costs of $4.90.

Three Lowell girls were injured in a car accident which occurred Friday at Grand River Drive and Division.

Injured were Beverly and Pam Morris, both of 12916 Grand River Ave., and Karen Antrim of the Peck Lake area.

The auto, driven by Beverly Morris, struck the abutment on the corner of the upper bridge in Lowell.

Here Comes Santa Claus

The annual Santa Claus parade heralding the advent of the Christmas season will take place this year on Saturday, November 30.

Plans call for the parade to form in Richards Park at 7 p. m. and proceed to the city parking lot on East Main St. for the annual tree lighting ceremony at 7:30.

Festivities at the site will be presided over by Lowell Mayor Arnold A. Wittenbach.

Santa will arrive in Lowell in a special mule drawn carriage which will turn off Main Street into an especially decorated Candy Cane Lane which leads to Santa's local headquarters.

The jolly old gentleman will be on hand to greet his little admirers and take their Christmas orders until about nine p. m. that evening and at various other times throughout the Christmas shopping season. Santa's office hours will be announced next week.

Santa's arrival marks the start of the Christmas shopping season in Lowell. Local retail businessmen are making plans for longer hours during the month of December with most of them planning to be open for business until nine p. m. each evening.

Free parking, ample stocks and a friendly atmosphere make Lowell the place to do your Christmas shopping.

Ex-Alt Resident Now Poet

S. Paul Curtiss, now a resident of Portland, Oregon, but who was born and raised in the Morse Lake area near Alto, started composing poetry about ten years ago. This literary hobby has become one of the outstanding interests of his retirement years and to date 121 of his poems have been published.

Even though he has had long love affairs with the beautiful Oregon countryside, nostalgia for his boyhood home and memories of his youth in this area have suggested many ideas for his poems.

The Ledger is pleased to present two of Mr. Curtiss' poems.

THE OLD TOWN PUMP

The Old Town Pump, On the wooden walk,
Stop for a little talk,
And have a little talk,
Up to the watering trough
When you drive into town,
Give the horses a breather
And help the ladies down,
The mud hole
By the Old Town Pump,
Caused many a slip,
To someone's jump.
The old hitch rack,
By the general store,
Horses cribbing 'til
Their teeth were sore.
You remember the smell
Of that old general store,
Kerosene, groceries,
And clothing that you wore,
Dry goods, candy
And a case of meat,
Rubbers, leather,
Just anything for your feet,
Saturday nights
All hitch racks were full
With wagons and buggies,
Good horses to pull,
You did your shopping,
Then attended grange,
At the end of the meeting,
A big feed for a change,
Water fights and mud
Around the Old Town Pump,
Many a lad,
Got quite a thump,
Field day we had,
In our little 'ol town,
Of baseball and races
That was quite renown,
The sack race and three-
legged race,
It was all fun,
You cheered for them all
Whoever won,
You loved these things,
For you were a boy,
Looking back at these events
With the greatest of joy,
There was the blacksmith
shop
And the apple drier.

At what pressure does oil flow through lubrication lanes of the engine? The oil pressure gauge gives you that information.

It does not indicate the amount of oil in the crankcase. The dip stick on the side of the engine block does that.

On some cars, the oil pressure gauge is a dial with pointer. On others, lack of sufficient pressure is indicated by a red light.

Oil pressure may be likened to blood pressure in the human body. Extra high pressure usually indicates that the oil is stiff. This could be caused by cold temperatures. Avoid racing the engine under such conditions.

Cold oil must be given time to circulate properly. A smart driver always starts out at a slow rate of speed.

Watch Next Week for "Oil Pressure Gauge Warnings!"

The fast passenger in the evening,
We called it the flier.
No cement walks
Or paved streets,
But a welcome town
For community meets.
You remember these things
As well as I
And cherish the memory
As the years roll by.
So the Old Town Pump,
I give it three cheers,
For it's been gone,
These many, many years.

HOW GREEN IS MY VALLEY

When we were young,
We dreamed and worked,
We labored hard,
Never thought to shirk,
The objective we worked for
May be far away,
We put our shoulder to the wheel
To gain it some day,
Restless we were
And looking around
For something in the country
Or maybe in town,
We know our fortune
Lay over the hill,
So we must go
At our own free will
Sometimes that hill
Is long and steep,
The ruts are many,
And hard knocks do we reap,
It must be there,
Though I have never seen
For the other side of the hill
The Valley is green,
We are over the top
And on the down hill grade
Things will be better,
We can sit in the shade,
We arrive in that valley
We thought so green,
But the glamor is gone,
Disappointment is keen,
The lessons we have learned
Come hard and are severe,
To recapture that picture
May take many a year,
But we keep striving,
Obstacles must be overcome
If we stop now
We are sunk, we are done,
That valley we are looking for
Is so close at hand
You don't have to go rambling
All over the land
Grasping for something,
Just out of your reach:
Sucking your blood,
Like a hungry leach,
Let's examine ourselves
And our erratic feelings
Which have we gained
In all of our dealings?
We have our pride,
And our conscience too,
Maybe I have been wrong:
How about you?
I have a good home
And a good home life,
A good family,
And a sweet loving wife,
Why should I dream,
Why should I roam?
My beautiful green valley
Is right here at home.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYBERT

You may not want to believe this, but there are only thirty-five more shopping days left until you-know-what!

Rosemary Fosner, Peggy Rae, and Marlene Heemstra spent a day this week picking up pinecones before the ground became too well covered with that white stuff. They will use them for decorating purposes during the annual Christmas Workshop which will be held the first Saturday in December at Cascade Christian Church. Every table presents materials for creative craftsmanship. Even the very young can have fun decorating cookies.

Pat McClellan has been holding classes in furniture refinishing, splinting, and the caning and rushing of seats. Some of the members of the classes are trying to finish projects for gift giving. Doing a whole set of chairs takes time, but her students are coming along very well. From around here are: Helen Stiff, Marjory Logue, Tracy Essner, Shirley Zigmont, Bea Mumford, Ruth TerBeek, and Connie Murley.

Before we bid a fond farewell to autumn, let us mention the huge football dinner held in honor of the players and coaches of all three spectacular, FHHS teams. What fine records! At the speakers table were Coaches Rosengren, Van Ark, Northuis, Shy, Levenworth, and Schaab and their wives and children. Also Drs. Bakeman and Deem and the Mastens, the Dahlmans, the DeYongs, the Boermans, the Prices, and Editor Fran Smith of Suburban Life.

Once again Elayne Van Sluyters came through with well appointed tables and service. Aiding her in serving and decorating for the three hundred guests were Tommy Price, Eunice Simon, Ellie Grabarek, and Nancy Witzel.

When Al Terrell had to drop his responsibilities for creating a Hawaiian hut at the Forest Hills Country Club party in favor of landing in a bed at the Butterworth Hospital, his friend, Clint Storm, took over.

The results were full of atmosphere and the guests joined in the spirit to the extent of eating on pillows on the beach at Wakiki... sometimes spelled f-l-o-o-r.

A party given by Dick and Theresa Mazur last weekend has to be listed as one of the most fabulous of the season.

They invited upward of a hundred to The Shack, their rustic lodge on Robinson Lake six miles west of White Cloud. Guests enjoyed cocktails and a midnight buffet interspersed with dancing to the music of Bob Beatty's four piece ensemble.

Invited from the Forest Hills area were the Walt Perschbachers, Tom Marmans, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Cohen, the Maurie Housemans, the Richard Flositz', and the Tom Nesbitts. One of the hits of the evening was an imported (from Chicago) light red strawberry champagne.

Enjoying the festivities were the Ray Elliotts, Bruce Stevensons, Dale Bergers, Lloyd Lindlands, Gil Webers, Don Stra-

Newlyweds Honeymoon in Florida

The wedding of Suzanne Scott and John R. Haveman was solemnized Friday evening in the Ada Christian Reformed Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Scott of Alto and Mr. and Mrs. John Haveman of Walton St. SW, Grand Rapids.

The bride wore a candlelight satin A line gown trimmed with lace. A matching lace crown held her veil.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Roger F. Greenfield, matron of honor, and Mrs. Larry Scott and Kathleen Haveman, bridesmaids.

The best man was John Watts of Lansing.

The couple is presently honeymooning in Florida.

Ada Girl Has Autumn Wedding

Martha Ann Krueer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Krueer of Ada, became the bride of Michael Angus Walters of Lansing Saturday morning at the Holy Name of Jesus Catholic Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a chantilly lace gown with sequins accenting the bodice and bouffant skirt. Her veil was applied with matching lace, pearls and sequins.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Andrew Musselman. Suzanne Krueer was bridesmaid.

Philip Caldwell served as best man, Andrew Musselman and Jeffrey M. Krueer seated the guests.

Students on Teaching Assignments

A total of 688 Western Michigan University students are gaining practical classroom experience as future teachers this semester while completing their directed teaching assignments in schools throughout Michigan.

Kathy Price Becomes Bride of E. Nordhof

Kathy Price walked down the aisle of the Calvary Brethren Church in Alto on the arm of her father last Saturday evening to become the bride of Eugene Nordhof.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Price and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Nordhof, all of Alto.

For her wedding, the bride chose an A-line floor length gown of white organza with long sleeves, a lace bodice decorated with sequins and a matching floor length train. Her shoulder length veil was held by white fabric petals.

Sue Price served as maid of honor. Mrs. Gary Price, Sally Yoder and Carol Wittenbach were bridesmaids. All attendants wore empire floor length gowns of yellow brocade. Their heads were adorned with matching bows with nylon net veils.

The groom was attended by Sp-4 Jim Bush of Fort Bragg, North Carolina, as best man. Groomsmen were Morris Pitch, Ray Bush and Tom Munger. Gary and Rick Price seated the guests.

Katy Bush was flower girl and Arthur Martinez was ring bearer.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church basement, with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allen as master and mistress of ceremonies.

The couple is at home at 9745 60th Street, Alto.

Old Friends Meet for Fun Reunion

With cries of "Remember when..." and "It's been a long time..." filling the air, a group of women met at the home of Mrs. Fred Walma last week. Many years ago all were members of the Mother's Club of Cascade School and the get-together was planned by hostesses Dorothy Walma, Ann Burger and Tye Cara, so that everyone could catch up on the latest with their friends.

Those attending were Dorothy Dykhouse, Annette DeMinck, Barbara MacInness, Grace Parker, Florence Dean, Lib Afton and Lillian Meyer.

Also on hand to enjoy the gab fest were Betty Plank, Mary Clark, Peg Roelmer, Phyllis Hamer, Etta Fase, Florence Swederski, Helen Ellinger and Pat Paine.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for my cards, gifts and party for my birthday, especially Orlie Grindle.

Arrows Gain Five League Spots--Rangers Dominate O-K Team

Fonger Choice on Top '11'

Powerful Rockford High dominated the Tri-River Conference all-league team just as thoroughly as it did the final season standings with five positions on the first team and two additional spots on the second squad.

The all-league team, selected by a vote of conference coaches, included 10 seniors and one junior while the second unit, comprised of 12 players due to a tie in the voting, is made up of 11 seniors and one junior.

Lowell High, despite its last-place finish, captured one first-team berth and a second-team spot as well as three honorable mentions.

Curt Fonger, lanky end for the Red Arrows, gained the nod for a first team position and center Steve Johnson was a close second in balloting for the all-league center.

Quarterback Mitch McMahon, End Ted Hoseth and Guard Ray Smith earned honorable mentions.

Joining Fonger at end on the all-star squad was Rico Reyna of Rockford, the lone junior on the squad.

Bill Hart of Rockford and Coopersville's Dennis Jonio were selected at the tackles; Rockford's Rick Greenland and Len Knauf of Sparta were picked at the guards; and Rick Thompson of Rockford was picked at center.

Greenville's Ed Barnwell, tabbed by many for possible all-state honors in Class B, was a near-unanimous pick for the quarterback spot.

Running backs picked for the No. 1 unit were Mike Andrus of Sparta, Karl Daukss of Rockford and Bob Pahl of Lowell, the latter receiving considerable mention for the spot on the state All-Class C squad.

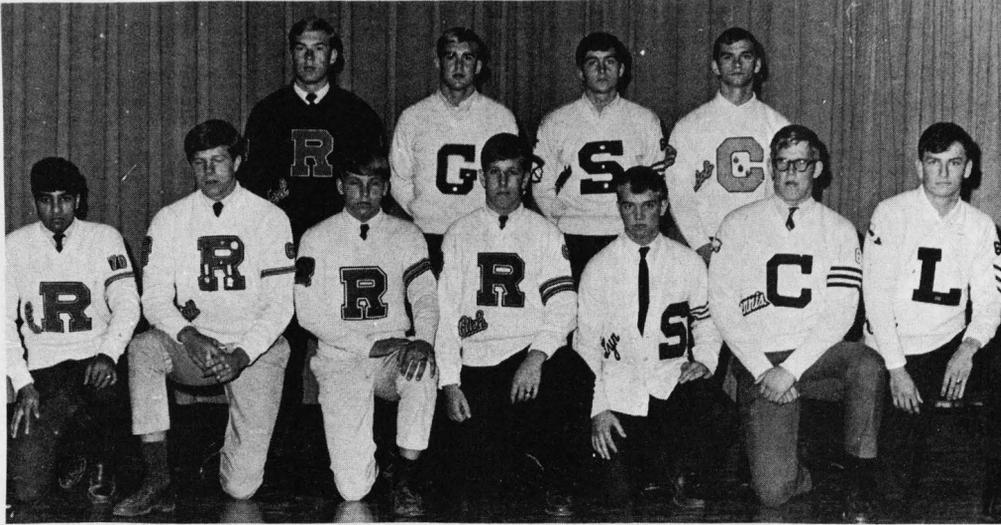

Jonio, a second-team selection in 1967 on the UPI's All-Class B team, and Hart are the heavyweights of a line that averaged 187 pounds. Jonio weighs 220 and stands 6'3" while Hart tips the scales at 210 and stands 6'6".

Fonger rated as one of the area's finest receivers, catching 32 passes good for 447 yards and three touchdowns as well as three extra points. He twice earned offensive lineman of the week honors for the Arrows.

Johnson was barely nudged in balloting for center. The 6'2" senior was Lowell's stand-out offensive lineman 6 times during the season and twice won the award for his defensive work. He was credited with 48 tackles during the season as well as one blocked punt and, in addition, handled the punting chores in the last four games.

Lowell's honorable mention honorees all are juniors.

McMahon blossomed into a fine passer in the late stages of the campaign. Overall, he connected on 66 of 157 pass attempts for 1,029 yards, seven touchdowns and three extra points. He also scored three TDs rushing. McMahon

Award Four Spots to League Champs

Five positions on the first team and another on the second unit was the harvest of awards reaped Monday night by Forest Hills High in balloting of league coaches for Ottawa-Kent Red Division all-star teams.

The champion Rangers dominated the predominantly senior squads, just as they did the league during the 1968 campaign.

One Forest Hills player was selected for each of the positions open with Tackle Dan Mosher, Guard Steve Grabarek, Center Bob Roy, Quarterback Scott Wingeier and Fullback Randy Simon occupying first-team berths and End Tom Teft nailing down a second-team spot.

All are seniors except for Roy, the only junior nominee for the No. 1 squad.

Rounding out the first team are Dana Snoop of Godwin Heights and Norm Byram of Kentwood at the ends; George Zender of Kentwood at tackle;

Russ Kornoelje of Wyoming Park at guard; and Greg Dahlman of West Ottawa and Jim Veendoll of Wyoming Park at the other running back positions.

Nine seniors, including Teft, and two juniors won berths on the second team.

Tom Kruthof of West Ottawa was picked at end; Tom Spelman of Park and Hudsonville's Larry DeYoung were named at tackle; Chuck Gonzales of Godwin and Lyle Breen of Wyoming Rogers were the choices at guard; Bob VanderMolen of Park was selected as No. 2 center; with Jim Visser of West Ottawa at quarterback and Jordan Bosma of Kentwood, Dan Lamers of Hudsonville and Ken Rosek of Godwin at running backs.

In keeping with league policy, no honorable mentions were made. However, several other Ranger players were all-league berths, according to Coach Frank Rosengren.

Trotters Perform at Civic

When it comes to athletics and pure comedy, the Harlem Globetrotters pop into the picture.

The world-famous Trotters will again bring their show into Grand Rapids with a Nov. 26 appearance against the Washington Generals starting at 8 p. m. on the Civic Auditorium floor.

The Trotters are headed by Meadowlark Lemon, "clown prince of basketball." The 6-2 center has dazzled millions with his ball trickery and clowning antics.

Fred Neal, 6-1, 182-pound guard from Greensboro, N.C., ranks along with Meadowlark with his masterful dribbling.

Possessing great agility and deceptive moves, Neal baffles the opposition with his tricky ball-handling, sensational passing and deadly outcourt shooting.

Other standout players on this year's touring Trotter squad include Leon Hillard, player-coach for the last eight years; Bobby Joe Mason, Mel Davis and Frank Stephens, 6-10, 235 pound center, former Virginia State University star.

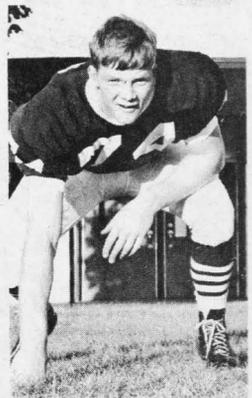

As part of the well-balanced program for the Grand Rapids showing, three professional variety acts will be offered. The extra acts will perform before the game and at half-time.

Sound Medical Advice Offered to Hunters

While thousands of Michiganders live for deer hunting, the Kent County Health Department offers a few tips on living through the hunting season.

Most hunters are aware of the danger of guns. They know that they should never point a gun at anyone and that all guns should be handled as if loaded. But, most hunters do not know the common rules concerning their hearts.

The first rule, according to Dr. W. B. Prothro, Kent County Health Officer, is to have regular physical check-ups, especially if you are over forty or overweight.

Upon arrival at the hunting site, Dr. Prothro advises learning the location of the nearest doctor or hospital facility. This is not only prudent for the potential heart victim, but important in case of other medical emergencies.

The hunter should try to avoid the danger of too much excitement, suddenly placing too great a load on the heart. The excitement of spotting a deer and squeezing the trigger can be as hard on the heart as running a foot race.

It is suggested that before entering the woods, hunters plan to meet at regular intervals and that no one hunt alone. If someone is hurt or has a heart attack, the other members of the party will be able to help the injured person. If someone should have a heart attack, the following should be remembered. Make him as comfortable as possible. Loosen his clothing and give him air. Don't fuss with him. Don't make him too warm. If he perspires profusely, wipe him with a damp towel. Reassure him—he will be suffering great anxiety and reassurance is important. Get medical attention swiftly, but if it is not immediately available, take him directly to the hospital. Do not use any stimulant or medication.

Some heart attacks subside quickly without medication. This doesn't mean the danger is over. Get the patient to the nearest doctor or hospital immediately. Under no circumstances should he drive the car himself. He needs rest completely.

Most patients recover from heart attacks and live for many years. Dr. Prothro advises, take care of your heart, make it last a lifetime.

Honor 15 Seniors At LHS

Fifteen seniors, including two who sat out the entire 1968 season with severe injuries, were honored with football letters last week during the fall sports banquet at Lowell High School.

Recipient of second-year awards were co-captains Jack Thomet and Cla Avery along with Curt Fonger, Bill Bennett, Steve Johnson, Pat Goggins, Steve Foss, Craig Schneider and Bob VanDyke.

Avery and VanDyke were sidelined in last season practice and saw no action.

Other seniors accorded honors included first-year letter winner Dick Fosenberger and five who participated in football for all four years of their prep careers—Dan Heintzle-man, Joe Vezino, Bruce Bryne, Scott Andrews and Fred Oesch.

Johnson was named as the most valuable player on the team while junior end Ted Hoeseth was picked as the most improved lineman and junior fullback Ken Roth was selected as most improved back.

Hoeseth and Roth were among 16 juniors to receive awards. The others included Mike Blough, Bob Rottier, John Lyons, Robert Bailey, Mitch McMahon, Pat Serne, Rick Andrews, Blair Cahoon, Jim Herbert and Gale Schmidt, all of whom won first-year letters and participation award winners Dale Kropf, Jr., Jim Craig, Jr. and Tom Townsend.

Seniors Ernie Kennedy and Jim Wernet were given participation awards.

Two sophomores who garnered first-year letter awards were Pete Olson and Gordon Kelly.

Coach Jerry Smith said he had urged all returning veterans plus a host of prospects from the junior varsity and freshman teams to initiate individual physical conditioning programs well in advance of the 1969 season.

"It will be up to the players to prepare themselves physically and mentally for next season," he states. "I believe that if they do, we will be far ahead in helping to restore Lowell's football prestige."

School officials also announced that Buell Brinks, who was serving his first season as freshman football coach, will be called into military service at the end of the first semester.

With Our Servicemen

Each week from now until Christmas, the Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life will publish a list of local servicemen's current addresses. If you wish to have the name and address of a serviceman added to this list, please mail the information to us. Sorry, we cannot accept phone calls.

Plan now to send a greeting or a package to a serviceman who must be away from home during the holiday season.

Ex-Champion Tutors 'Holiday' Ice Stars

Nate Walley, director of figure skating for Holiday on Ice, could teach the sport of skating to a "hippo."

That's what one of his best known pupils had to say about him. And, Nate probably could, if he put his mind to it.

The skating par excellence by the chorus of Glamour-Icers and Ice-Squires, in addition to the improvement of many of the featured skaters is a direct result of Walley's tutoring.

The figure skating director has long been known for his talent to teach the art to both tyros and advanced skaters. During the past 35 years he has coached some of the world's best.

Nate Walley was the first person to win the world's professional skating championship. He was one of the first of the great skaters to add showmanship, thrill skating and sensational jumps and spins to his routines. The Walley jump, a swirling twist on one foot, is still one of the most difficult tricks to do.

For many years he has been head professional and chief instructor for the famous Granite Club of Toronto, Ont.

Associated with one or another of the major ice shows for the past 25 years, he is a genius at imparting his knowledge to others. His ability to correct skating faults, his patience in teaching difficult routines, and his wide knowledge of all facets of skating make him an invaluable member of the Holiday on Ice skating team.

The Grand Rapids presentation of Holiday on Ice includes eight performances, Monday through Saturday, Nov. 18-23. Evening performances are scheduled at 8 p. m. and 8:30

First Deer? Bring It to Ledger Office

If you are one of the lucky hunters fortunate enough to get your buck early on Friday... don't forget to stop by the Ledger office. We'd like to have a picture for next week's paper.

To those of you who get a deer later in the season, call in and give us the particulars. We know there are hunters in the field, male and female, 8 to 80, and we'd like to list some of the successful ones.

The phone number at the Ledger is 897-9261.

We discussed our Halloween party and ways to improve it. We then discussed another party over Christmas vacation.

Troop 102 had a meeting on Monday and the beginning started out as a game. Next they had the opening and the scout skill on fire building.

The next thing was the planning for a campout on the second weekend in December. Tuesday night is merit badge night from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Thursday night is the night the patrol leaders meet at the scout cabin at 7 p. m.
