Lowell City Council

4-H Fair Contract Is Finalized By City

It was decided at Lowell's City Council Meeting Monday, May 3, that the city would wait for the new City Manager before finalizing plans to inspect the City's sewers. City Manager, Tony Siciliano stated that plans to inspect Lowell's sewer system must be submitted prior to July 1, 1976.

Mayor Christiansen said that he would like to let the new City Manager work on the plan. Ray Quada, the new City Manager will be on the job May 17, 1976.

Clair McCombs represented the Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music. The school operates a missionary aviation school, currently stationed at the Newway airport. McCombs is the director of the aviation program.

The aviation program must be relocated to within 25 miles of the main campus to comply with federal regulations.

Because of this, McCombs requested the use of Lowell's airport. He stated that the sod field and wide runway, were ideal for the school's type of instruction.

The council tentatively approved the request.

Chief of Police, Barry Emmons was present with a request to move the garage on Monroe Street which houses the Lowell rescue unit. The property is scheduled to be made into a parking lot this fall.

Emmons said that the moving of the garage and preparation of the new site would be handled with volunteer labor for the most part.

Two City owned properties are under consideration, one on Sibley and another on Bowes Road.

The Council told Emmons to check ordinances and get approval from the neighbors at the proposed sites.

Bill Doyle, chairman of Lowell's Planning Commission stated that he would be showing a piece of City property to a New Jersey based firm interested in building a plant in this area.

Doyle requested that the Council set an approximate price on the property so that he could inform the firm.

The property is an 18 acre parcel located next to the high school. The Council indicated a preliminary price of $4,000 per acre.

Calvin Owen of Owen, Ames and Kimball was present and asked the Council why they had turned down O.A.K.'s low bid on the City's new water treatment plant.

Owens was informed that because of the initial withdrawal, his bid could not be accepted when it was resubmitted after the bid opening.

Frank McMahon was present to inform the Council that Aero Liquid Transit's trucks would be refueling at a new site near the Cities Service underground storage by mid-June. McMahon stated that this would alleviate about 95% of the truck traffic to their Main Street terminal. McMahon thanked the Council for their cooperation in the past few months.

Jim Hall asked the Council if they had come up with a solution to the problem of loose cats in the City. The Council said that they had not, but would give the matter serious consideration prior to the next meeting.

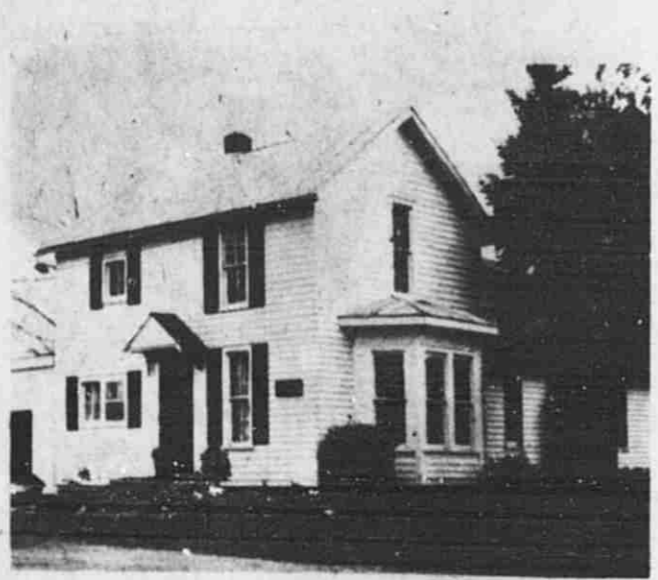

A motion was made and passed that the 10 year contract with the Kent County 4-H for the lease of Lowell's Fairgrounds be finalized and signed.

Councilman Collins announced that the lights for the ball diamond will arrive soon and should be installed in time for the softball season.

Bill Gardener again asked the Council to review the requirements for liquor by the glass in Lowell. Gardener feels that the current ordinance makes it nearly impossible for any bar in the City to comply with the regulations.

Prevost.

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, whose Department administers the Centennial Farm program, said the program was inaugurated in 1948. Since then, more than 3,000 Michigan farms have been certified as Centennial Farms.

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History. Large metal markers are provided by the Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

Explains Austin, "A Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more."

For this purpose, the Michigan History Division considers a farm to be either 10 or more acres having estimated farm product sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres having estimated sales of at least $250 yearly. A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

Applications for Centennial Farm recognition are obtainable from: Centennial Farm Program, Division of Michigan History, Michigan Department of State, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Ada Girl Shot With .22 Rifle

A four-year-old Ada girl, wounded in the head with a .22 caliber rifle bullet, about 7:15 p.m. last Thursday is still listed in satisfactory condition at Blodgett Medical Center.

Tara Tevree of 6765 Grand River Drive, N.E., according to Kent County Sheriff's Deputies, was apparently shot at close range by her two-year-old sister.

According to a report by Deputy Michael Schuitema, Tara was apparently playing with her sister, Barbara Atchinson, 2; and her 6-year-old half-brother, Jody Niles, in the living room while their mother, Mrs. Martha Atchinson, 23, was outside.

The Grand River Drive residence is occupied by Mrs. Atchinson, her three children, and their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Niles.

The six-year-old boy told deputies that Barbara had found the loaded rifle in her grandfather's bedroom, and dragged it into the living room, where it discharged while she was playing with it. The single shot struck Tara in the forehead.

Deputy Schuitema said the incident remains under investigation and he will turn his preliminary reports over to the Kent County Juvenile Bureau for further attention.

Drive Response Is Overwhelming

Response to a petition drive to ban throwaway beverage containers has been "overwhelming," according to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, sponsor of the campaign.

More than 32,000 petitions already have been sent to individuals who requested them by telephone or mail, said Thomas L. Washington, MUCC executive director.

"This does not include the more than 50,000 petitions distributed to organizations that asked for them," he added.

"Nor does it include the thousands of petitions that will be circulated in three statewide publications."

MUCC is seeking 300,000 petition signatures by June 1 to place the question of banning non-returnable beer and soft drink containers on the ballot next November.

In addition to the Farm Bureau, organizations that have publicly endorsed the MUCC petition include the Michigan League of Women Voters, Mackinac Chapter of the Sierra Club, Michigan Council, on Alcohol Problems, Michigan Parks and Recreation Association, Detroit Audubon Society, Michigan Student Environmental Confederation and West Michigan Environmental Action Council.

Petitions may be obtained by writing MUCC, Box 2235, Lansing, Mich. 48911, or calling (517) 371-1041.

Buth Seeks Re-Election

The ranking Republican member of the House Taxation Committee, State Representative Martin D. Butth (R-Rockford), has announced he will seek re-election to the House from the 9th Legislative District.

Butth, who is serving his 9th consecutive term in the Legislature, will become the ranking Republican in the House if re-elected. He was first elected to the House of Representatives to fill a vacancy in 1959.

He served as Speaker Pro-tem during 1967-68, elected to that position by his colleagues in the House of Representatives. He served as Assistant Minority Leader in 1965-66, 1969-70, and 1973-74.

As Vice Chairman of the House Taxation Committee, Butth is responsible for insuring that minority interests are considered. He also serves as Vice-Chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, and is a member of the Labor Committee and the Legislative Council.

Rep. Butth listed three key issues for the future he considers of prime importance. "Before I leave government service, I sincerely hope that we can find a way to make schools less dependent on the property tax whose teams over the years have been severely disadvantaged by poor facilities, indicated confidence in his players' abilities. "We played good basic tennis to set up the winning shots, but just didn't execute when it counted."

Lowell travels to Cedar Springs on Thursday, May 6, and to Greenville on Thursday, May 13. The Jaycees go to Ionia on Friday, May 7, to face the Bulldogs.

SPARTA SNEAKS PAST RED ARROWS

Lowell's Tennis Team found Sparta's squad depth too much to handle as the visiting Trojans were in the winning end of a 5-0 score last Thursday.

The closest match of the afternoon was at first singles as Gordon Hill struggled to keep his winning record unblemished against Mike Anderson, one of the area's premier players. The first set indicated the intensity of the match as Anderson edged Hill in a 5-4 tie breaker to take the set 7-6.

He then went on to win the second set 6-3 on the basis of steady play. Coach Dick Maycroft, who has six years at the Sparta helm, commended both players on the well played match.

Other scores were: Steve Jantz (5) def. Dion Ritzena (L) 6-3, 6-1 (second singles); Jim Jantz (5) def. Lindsay Fonger (L) 6-0, 6-0 (third singles); Eric Bahre-Tom Kitter (5) def. I believe we will be forced into some move away from reliance on the property tax for education by the voters in the not too distant future and so it is my opinion that we might as well find the answer to this very real problem now."

Historical Window

Students from Mrs. Sheehan's first grade class at Alto Elementary School view the Bicentennial window display at the Alto Library.

A Bicentennial window now on exhibit in the Alto Library, 659 Linfield, features clothing and artifacts from the early 1800's used by ancestors of persons in the area.

The exhibit, using a manikin loaned to the library by Jacobson's, was arranged by Marie Metzger of 10680 60th Street, using clothing in perfect condition which has been stored in the attic of Flora Hooper, Caledonia. Lucy Smith also helped in making the display.

The black dress, which most likely was worn to church, is from the early 19th Century and belonged to Amanda Glick, mother of Ben Glick of Caledonia. The old rag rug was made by Emma Brannon who lived on 60th Street. The rocker is from the home of Mary Thomas of Cascade Road and is now owned by Ella Watson. The spinning wheel belongs to Marie Metzger.

Vivian Mulder, Alto librarian, would like persons who come into the library to lift up the dress worn by the model so that they may see the long under-wear... the slip and pantaloons are hand sewn. She also suggests that persons keep their eye on the window display because eventually Mrs. Glick will be going to bed. The window will be re-done as a bed chamber and the manikin will be wearing a white night embroidered in white red.

Inside the library is a Bicentennial book display, for borrowing, of novels about the revolutionary period, non-fiction books about the clothing, furnishings, and events of the 1700's, and travel guides telling many of the events taking place in the nation during our 200th birthday.

The Alto Library is open Tuesday, 1 to 8 p.m., Friday, 1 to 5 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Call the library at 868-4031 for further information. The Alto Library is a member of the Kent County Library System.

Thole Speaks To Rotarians

The Lowell Rotary Club met Wednesday, April 23, to induct George Arehart as a new member and to enjoy a fine program.

Guests were Junior Rotarian Bill Mauric and Warren Holcomb, who attended with the Rev. Dean Bailey.

Orville Jackson introduced the speaker, Robert Thole of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Thole presented a film on the disaster that hit downtown New York City in February, 1975, when a fire destroyed the main telephone exchange.

As a result, 100,000 customers were without telephone service. Equipment was totally destroyed that normally would require up to a year to replace.

Thanks to the nationwide network of telephone companies and suppliers, and monumental efforts of over 2,000 company people, service was restored in 23 days.

Cost of the disaster was estimated at over 200 million. As the origin of the fire was never specifically determined,

Bacon Hired By Scottville

How odd is your favorite swimming or fishing lake? Few people realize that lakes are continually aging. The age of a lake depends on how fast nutrients are being accumulated on the bottom causing an increase in plant growth.

Most lakes in Michigan were born as the last glaciers receded many thousands of years ago. When these lakes were young, there were few nutrients on the bottom and little vegetation. The water quality would have been well-suited for many trout species.

As the aging process continues, however, nutrient levels begin to build up as runoff from the surrounding land causes the topsoil to wash into the lakes. An aerial view of a freshly plowed field shows low areas that are dark with light, high areas. The color difference shows where the topsoil runs off with the water during rains.

The nutrients in the lake bottom provide the needed food for many aquatic plants as they begin to establish themselves. As plants die and decompose, they recycle the nutrients so that the nutrient levels are able to build themselves up. Soon the water is suitable for only bass and panfish. Weeds begin to choke the water and decomposition of vegetation robs the water of valuable oxygen. Eventually only catfish and carp will be able to live in the water.

The plants work themselves toward the center of the lake from the shore making the lake shallower little by little. Eventually the lake will become a marsh which perhaps a forest. The entire process takes many years depending upon the condition of the lake. Some lakes go through this process rapidly as there are many nutrients washed into the water.

Homeowners on the shores of lakes and rivers can slow down the aging process of lakes by leaving a strip of vegetation near the shore to collect some of the nutrients that would otherwise be washed into the water. Minimal fertilizing of lawns will also help.

Sewer systems that are inadequate will spew large volumes of nutrients into nearby waters. Homeowners should be sure their septic systems will not cause large amounts of nutrients to flow through the soil and into the water.

Lowell Students Get 'Close Up' Look

More than 600 Kent County High School students, teachers, and administrators, including 11 from the Lowell Senior High School system, spent the week of April 25-May 1 in Washington, D.C. as part of the CLOSE-UP program. The group was on Capitol Hill when the Senate released the CIA oversight report and when Senator Hubert Humphrey announced that he would not actively campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

CLOSE UP is a Washington, D.C.-based political education program.

Kent County participants, representing 45 high schools, made up a delegation so large that the group had to be housed at three metropolitan Washington facilities.

All participants attended a question-and-answer session with Michigan Senator Philip Hart, who will retire at the end of this term. Hart explained the necessity for avoiding simplistic or "black and white" solutions to complex national problems.

Teachers also lunched with Wisconsin Congressman Robert Kasten, a first-term Republican who was named the "outstanding Freshman" of the 94th Congress.

Fifth District Congressman Richard VanderVeem hosted a Capitol Hill breakfast for the students and Representatives John Coyner and James O'Hara participated in spirited domestic policy discussions with the group.

Congressman Don Riegle, a contender for the Michigan Senate seat, keynoted the week.

CLOSE UP is a non-profit, non-partisan educational foundation that uses Washington as an open classroom for teaching government. High school administrators, teachers and students are given first-hand contact with influential members of the federal government during the week-long study program in the Capital City.

No drug is "safe" in the absolute sense. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) continually weighs two factors: benefits versus risks. Every drug, by its nature, can do harm as well as good. The amount of risk that patients, physicians, and the FDA may be willing to accept for a new drug that can halt a form of cancer is much larger than the risk that is acceptable for a new drug for sinus congestion.

Art Students Honored

Norm Denny, Cathy Overbeck and Lori Swiger award winning Saranac art students.

Each year the Michigan Art Education Association sponsors Michigan Youth Art Festival which is an art exhibit for students in grades kindergarten through twelfth.

The festival will be held May 10 through May 22 at the Creative Arts Gallery at Central Michigan University.

Twenty works were chosen from the greater Grand Rapids area. Out of those twenty, the Saranac Community Schools is represented by three.

Two talented tenth grade girls from Saranac High School were chosen to exhibit their works of art—Lori Swiger displayed her macramé wall hanging and Cathy Overbeck her pottery sculpture.

The third exhibitor was Norm Denny, a sixth grader, displaying his paper mosaic.

We would like to thank Mrs. Nancy Dausman and Chris VanAntwerp for sponsoring the students' works.

Beattie Gets Student Life Scholarship

Shari Beattie has received a Student Life Scholarship from Oakland University. The scholarship is for $4,000, with $1,000 per year applied to room and board. She was selected for this scholarship because of her high school activities and scholastic achievement. To keep the scholarship, she must help to promote the student life at Oakland.

In January, Mr. Bagale, the assistant dean of admissions, came to Saranac. He told Shari about the campus and talked to her about applying. When they offered Shari the scholarship, she went down to Rochester to see the college. She really likes the campus and the people who attend the university.

Shari will be majoring in chemistry and will follow a curriculum to qualify her as a medical technologist. It will consist of four years with one being an internship following her classes at the University.

Besides this scholarship, Shari also has received between $100 and $1,000 from BEOC and $564 from the Michigan Department of Education towards her college education.

Shari has worked hard, and with this hard work, her college expenses are cut considerably.

Millage Discussed By Board

Personnel, uniforms, salaries, supplies, etc., these and many more were topics evaluated, examined and discussed at the Saranac Community School Board of Education meeting Thursday, April 22, 1976. The issue in which all these topics relate, is the coming millage election.

Determining the budget for the coming year is an essential aspect when deciding the number of mills needed. The number of students, State Equalized Evaluation, State Aid bill, Federal Aid Bill, millage, and the settlement of teacher contracts, are all determining factors which influence the budget.

Another important factor, is the amount of Federal Aid the school will receive through it's CETA employees. With this aid the budget would be increased by $30,000 to $120,000. However, it is uncertain how much aid, if any, will be received. As a result, the budget has been calculated without these extra funds, leaving a deficit balance of $149,000.

It has been decided upon to ask the voters for two (2) additional mills for one year to eliminate the cutting of $92,000 from the budget in addition to the $57,000 that will be cut. This proposal is actually asking for a renewal of three (3) mills, plus the two (2) additional; a total of five mills.

Superintendent Cady presented the board with a number of possible budget cuts even if the two (2) mills are passed; which include a number of sports, extra-curricular activities and school supplies.

However, if the two (2) additional mills are voted down, more sports, extra-curricular activities, supplies and employees, will be eliminated at SHS.

Is this the kind of education you would want for your children? An education that only teaches with books and doesn't offer a total learning process?

Extra-curricular activities teach children to be competitive, to strive hard, and to be the best they can be. This type of competition prepares them for a similar competition which will confront them in the future; knowledge that cannot be gained from textbooks.

Someday the economy may improve, but until then your children attend school from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. for 13 years, more than half of their childhood. A time in their lives spent learning, growing and gaining new experience and knowledge; some of which can only be taught in an educational institution.

Provide your child with the best that can be offered with total curriculum. For the know fact that our country, the great democracy that it is, in order to survive in today's world must educate the masses of people.

Please vote YES for the three (3) mills renewal and two (2) additional on June 14.

Home Ec Classes

Those luscious smells of bread baking which penetrates the West hall comes from the Home Economics room where bachelor know-how guys learn how to put it all together.

The eighth grade girls meet first hour for one semester to sew, cook, study child care and for interior decorating. This is also the most active class of the day.

Comprehensive Homemaking class covers a wide variety of subjects which will be helpful in any home.

Students that take Home Economics Math seem surprised that homemaking involves so much math. Decimals, fractions, percentages, proportions, interest, area and volume computation keeps students very busy.

Other classes are specialized. They are interior decorating, clothing care and selection, Food Preparation I and II, Child Development and clothing construction.

The Home Economics Department helps the student to learn about what goes on in everyday life. Home Economics classes are one of the more valuable classes offered at SHS, and all students are encouraged to sign up for a few.

Honor Society

New Matching Uniforms

Modeling new uniforms for the girls' track and softball teams are Renee Murphy and Kay Thompson.

Full fall the possibility of badly needed uniforms for the girls' track and softball teams diminished when the Saranac School Board was forced to make money-saving cuts in the budget.

The fund-raising projects included note card sales, a faculty basketball game and a raffie.

The Redskin football team will also be in new uniforms thanks to many hours of hard work by the mom's and dad's clubs.

Lakeview Shuts Out Redskins 2-0

Chris Coulson takes his cut.

The Lakeview baseball team managed to hold Saranac scoreless on Friday, April 30, by defeating the Redskins 2-0. This loss gives the Redskins a 1-5 league record.

Lakeview managed to get one run in the first inning on an error and two wild pitches, and also scored in the second inning on an error and a base hit. Steve Metternick held the Redskins to only two hits for Saranac.

Saranac was held hitless until the last inning when the Redskins got their only two hits but couldn't score.

Montage is a display of students' work and class projects which have been completed this year at the high school, and will take place in the High School Cafeteria May 8, 1976, from 4 to 9 p. m.

The idea for Montage was conceived a year ago when several faculty members felt the need to share with the community many of the educational activities that students participate in daily. Every department will in some way demonstrate to the public a part of the educational process that takes place in the classroom.

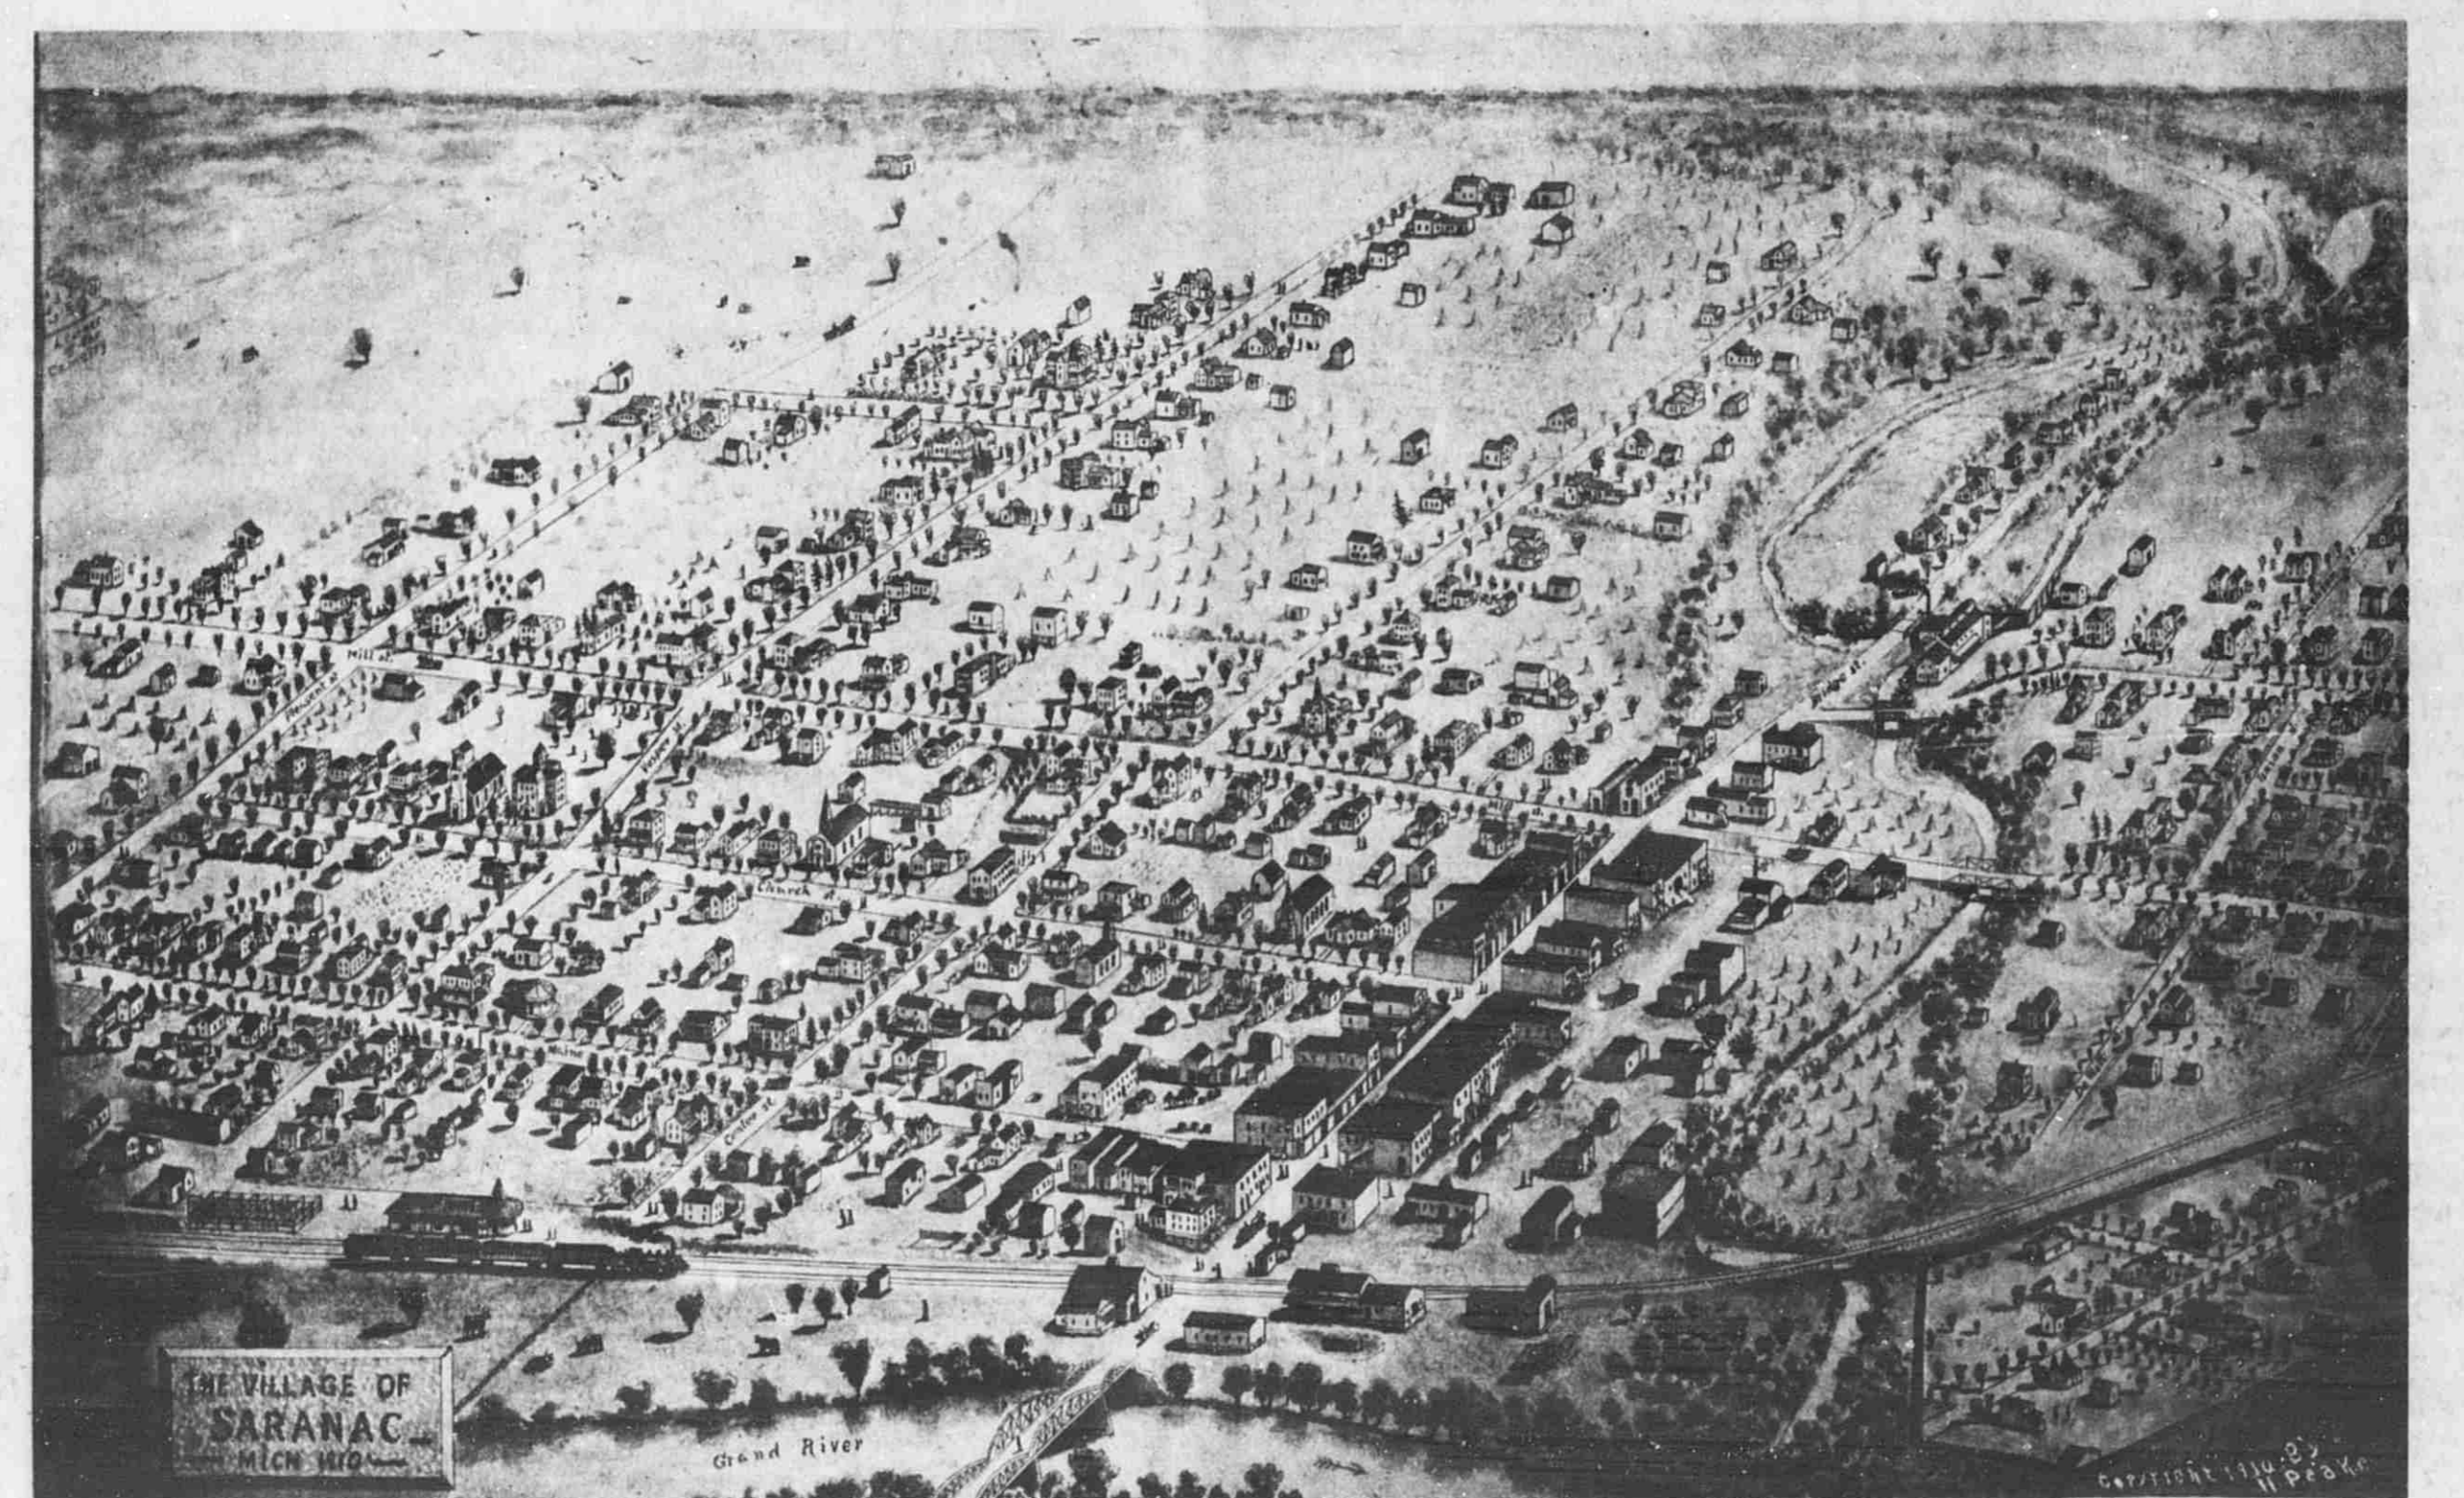

Since this event is free, we hope all students, parents and interested community members will attend.

Trip To Paradise

ALOH! This one was a word we heard often while in Hawaii. My sister Dena, and I joined the Senior Citizens from Saranac and many others March 27 for a tour, to what many people refer to as Paradise.

After just a few hours I realized why so many people call Hawaii "A Land of Paradise." During our stay, we days were filled with sightseeing, shopping at many of Oahu's famous centers; or just laying in the sun.

Once again we were boarding a plane to fly to Hilo, Hawaii for our last day. I couldn't believe it but while flying over Kilauea, we could see snow on the mountain where the Hawaiians ski.

We first landed on the island of Oahu where we were spent four days of our tour in the cities of Honolulu and Waikiki. The first thing I noticed was the beautiful 78 degree temperature and I never saw so many hotels before.

After just a few hours I realized why so many people call Hawaii "A Land of Paradise." During our stay, we days were filled with sightseeing, shopping at many of Oahu's famous centers; or just laying in the sun.

Once again we were boarding a plane to fly to Hilo, Hawaii for our last day. I couldn't believe it but while flying over Kilauea, we could see snow on the mountain where the Hawaiians ski.

While in Hilo, we took a bus tour to its two currently active volcanoes. The area surrounding the volcanoes looked like the moon's surface. I found that the bus drivers on all the islands are so jolly, that they really can make a tour exciting. Also the people everywhere were all very friendly.

After the bus tour, it was time to head towards home. The time passed by so fast. I am really thankful I had the opportunity to see Hawaii and hope someday to return and see all that I missed.

He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as a mortar and recoilless rifle crewman, in addition to specialized weapons instruction.

He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines.

This means that callers will be better off phoning before 9 a.m. or between 1 and 8 p.m. on Sunday," Marcus said.

Across the country the telephone industry rearranges circuits generally used for heavy business day calling to make available a maximum number of transmission paths for Mother's Day calls, he said.

Since so many persons will be using long distance circuits for extended conversations, some calls may not go through on the first attempt. If that happens, he suggested that callers wait a few minutes instead of immediately trying to place the call again.

Call 'Mom' During Less Busy Hours

"Ma Bell" is predicting that Michigan residents will make more than one million long distance calls on Mother's Day.

Because Mother's Day is traditionally one of the busiest holidays of the year for the phone company—second only to Christmas—Michigan Bell is urging customers to call during the less busy hours.

Since so many persons will be using long distance circuits for extended conversations, some calls may not go through on the first attempt. If that happens, he suggested that callers wait a few minutes instead of immediately trying to place the call again.
