Wierenga Wins Some 4,000 Buck Contest

"First Buck" contest winner John Wierenga of Lowell and his 7-point trophy.

At the crack of dawn Monday morning, droves of hunters who had invaded the wooded areas of Michigan sat in anticipation of the moment when a white tailed buck would prance within shooting distance, and the opening day of the 1976 firearm deer season would be a successful one, provided their shot was on target.

Such was the moment for John Wierenga of 14303-28th Street, Lowell, as he sat in a wooded area near Fruitport. His lucky shot was made around 8 a.m., and his trophy was a nice 7-pointer.

Hardware; a flashlight from Lippert's Pharmacy; three boxes of 12 ga. slugs from Lippert's Hardware; hunting hat and thermal socks from Anderson's Shoe Store; Fillet knife from Ski-Way Manufacturing; and a year's subscription to the Ledger.

It was quite a day for Wierenga, as he admitted that this was the first deer he had ever shot, and it was the first time he had been hunting in several years.

Other Winners
The following four hunters to make an appearance at the Ledger Office, with bucks in tow, were the winners of subscriptions to the Ledger. They were: Frank Martin, 406 North Monroe Street, Lowell, 6-point buck, shot around 8 a.m. in the 36th Street area, south of Lowell. William Stauffer, 13835 Covered Bridge Road, Lowell, a 7 point buck shot at 8:05 a.m. on state land, north of Lowell, in the same spot Stauffer got his 8-point buck last year.

A seven-inch spine horn was downed just south of Howard City by Mark Rosenberger.

Wierenga was quick to get his buck back to his truck, and drove back to Lowell, where he became the first entry and winner in the first annual "First Buck" contest sponsored by the Grand Valley Ledger and participating merchants. Being the first hunter to stake claim to the top prize, Wierenga won the free processing of his deer, courtesy of Lowell Cut Rate Market and the Grand Valley Ledger; a $5 gift certificate from Captain's Kory's; hunting gloves from Cary's Gee

Some 4,000 Get Shots

Some 4,000 area residents, about 75 percent of the adult population, were able to get their Swine flu shots at a clinic in Lowell rather than driving elsewhere in the county in the past month.

"This is all due to the willing help of some 40 volunteers here," stated volunteer co-chairman Mrs. Judy Jansma.

Some of those who gave four or more hours of their time at the initial clinic were Mrs. Frances Woodfield, Pat Miller, Gwen Stegehuis, Glenda Emmons, Kathy Jo Cross, Joyce Noordmans, and Marjorie Van-Overbeek.

Also working at the Methodist Church when the elderly population was inoculated were Jeanne Mahar, Dorothy Christ-off, Jane Houseman, Clara Wing-eier, Flo Jefferies, and Barb Doezema.

The general population was offered the shots last Wednesday and Thursday at Bushnell School with help coming from Sandy Dykhuisen, Sharon Rash, Phyllis Lessens, Gloria Hutfitz, Jean Huver, Karen Zylstra, and Sharon Ranburger.

Assisting them were Katherine Collet, Shirley Cornell, Marg Zoppa, Mrs. White, Connie LaBine, Noreen Loper, Glenda Geldersma, Martha Kwant and Jennie Blough.

Elaine Condon, Sherry Kelly, Jennie Stevenson, Mrs. Joseph Hines, Mayoma Dawson, Rita Conlisk, Laurie Weeks, Jan Lippert, Donna Osborn, Nancy Nordhof, Wanda McQueen and Peggy Shade also helped move people through the clinic without panic.

Marilyn Hendricks volunteered herself and Lena Phelps, Marg DeHaan, Zelfa Ketcham, Faith Marshall, Mabel Scott, Theda Herblet, Lucille Adri-ansse, Polly Souser, Vi Miller, and Beryl Hayward. These women are all members of the VFW Auxiliary.

Lucy Jacquemine, Lois Wittenbach, Sarah Erler, Jean ackson, Jeanne Wise, Ellen Moore, and Carol Reagan were enlisted by Jean McKay for eight hours of service as part of the necessary nursing staff.

Other professionals helping to make the project such a success were Rachael Kauffman, Marilyn Mellema, Margaret Afton, Gay Nauta, Lois Deering, Mary O'Hara, Connie Fellows, and Dorothy Leasure.

Genevieve DeVries, Nancy O'Neal, Shirley Tap, Gwen Eskes, Jean Bewell, and June Dilly rounded out the nursing staff.

Chug-A-Chug-A-Chug-A-Chug Michigan Artrain Is Coming

The all new edition of Michigan Artrain, six-car traveling art show, will be in Lowell November 24-28, signalling the start of an "Arts Festival" in Lowell.

The four day art festival star will be the newly renovated and enlarged rail cars of art; but, local artists and entertainers will be in the spotlight as well.

The Artrain will be located on side tracks at the south end of Monroe Street, one block south of City Hall.

Mrs. Helen Milliken, wife of Michigan's Governor, will open the train for visitors at a 5 p.m. ribbon cutting on November 24. The train will then be open until 8 p.m. on Wednesday, closed Thanksgiving Day, and open 12 noon to 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Artrain was formed to stimulate the arts and to encourage civic pride. By doing this, Artrain organizers hope to spur each community to celebrate its own art talent and to carry on the Artrain's theme, "A Celebration of the Creative American Spirit."

On September 9 a local Artrain Committee attended an Artrain training workshop in Lansing. Since that time they have been busy securing a site for the train, raising money for expenses, and locating artists and entertainers for the Artrain festival.

The Lowell Artrain Committee has put in hundreds of hours, planning, securing facilities, arranging for tour guides through the train and publicizing the Artrain visit. However, they feel that such an outstanding opportunity is worth the work—and admission is free to all visitors.

Studio Car
The art studio car will be of special interest to area visitors. Besides the three artists who travel with the train, 17 area artists have volunteered to demonstrate their art in the studio car.

Lowell school children will be able to view weaving demonstrations on Wednesday, November 24th, done by Nancy Dausman from Saranac, and Joyce Noordmans of Ada. The or; Noreen Balaam, Flute; Paul Balaam, piano; Ronald Krebs, organ; Robert Estrine, trumpet; and David Coons, organ.

The performing arts work hand in hand with the visual arts, depending on each other and often drawing from each other for creative ideas; as a result it is appropriate that during the display of the Artrain and local artists, a musical endeavor also be presented.

We invite the public to attend this concert and enjoy an evening of fine music with talented musicians from this area.

Ronald C. Krebs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Krebs of Lowell, in his second year at the University of Michigan, is studying the organ under Dr. Robert Glasgow, where he is pursuing a Bachelor of Music degree.

Prevue Party
As a prelude to the opening of the Lowell Artrain a wine and cheese party is planned at Deer Run Golf Club on Tuesday, November 23, at 7:30 p.m.

This fund raiser is planned to provide funds not only for the Artrain, but for future events sponsored by The Lowell Arts Council.

Showing at the party will be works of Joe E. Kinnebrew, famous for his Fish Ladder in Grand Rapids.

A donation of $7.50 or more will admit a guest to the wine and cheese party. Each guest will be given the title of Honorary Artrain Engineer and presented with an official engineer's cap.

Seven Area Churches Form FISH

Representatives of seven Lowell area churches completed preliminary arrangements to assist needy families and persons through the personal contact of the FISH program.

Cooperating with the Cascade-Ada program, the Lowell group will actually be an adjunct and expansion force, dealing with Lowell area residents.

Churches represented at last week's meeting at the First United Methodist Church of Lowell were St. Mary's Catholic, Snow United Methodist, First Congregational, Vergennes United Methodist, Alto United Methodist, Bowne Center United Methodist, and the host church.

With the community action committee caring for the dinner and details, there will be a punch bowl and social hour in the East Parlor of the church at 12 noon, followed by the dinner in the Centennial Hall at 12:30.

In addition to turkey with all the trimmings, there will be a short Thanksgiving meditation to be presented by Mr. and Mrs. John Frye.

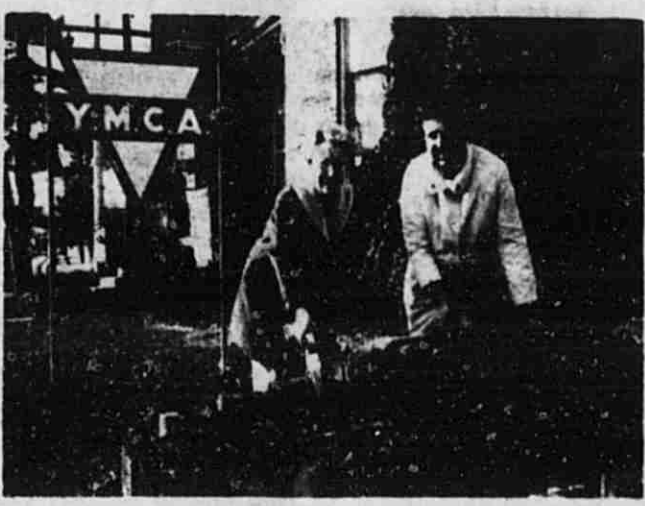

Persons needing assistance may call the FISH numbers during business hours, 949-1360 or 949-1567.

The Gamble Of Farming

Farmers have a crucial role in the production of food for consumers around the world. They have done much to ease inflation and aid in the recovery from recession according to Don Diehl, State Executive Director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Farming is a high risk business, but supply and demand, supplies of fertilizer and energy, rising costs of farm machinery, land, seeds, herbicides and pesticides, and many other factors, will have to make a profit. That includes not only farmers, but other people in the food chain such as processors, handlers and retailers as well.

Cookbook For Wildlife Chef

You're a housewife whose husband will be hunting deer this year. What are you going to do with all the venison he brings home?

If you're married to one of the 750,000 hunters who will be afield when Michigan's deer season opens Monday, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs can answer your questions about serving venison.

MUCC's popular cookbook "The Wildlife Chef," contains a section devoted exclusively to preparing and serving venison, including 50 venison recipes. They are among the more than 250 recipes for game and fish dishes between the covers of this unusual cookbook. In addition to the recipes, the publication contains tips of field dressing, care of fish and big and small game, freezing and other aspects of the preparation of food from the wild.

Club Plans Snow Dance

A "Snow Dance" at Adrian's Ramona Terrace in Grand Rapids for members and guests of the Forest Hills Sno-mobile Association is being planned for Saturday, December 4.

A cocktail hour will precede the dinner which will be served at seven o'clock. On the menu will be chicken, sirloin of beef, baked ham and the trimmings.

Dancing this year will be to the excellent music of the "Sounds of Friendship," 8 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Mail Early Area 4-Hers Recognized

The U.S. Postal Service has advanced its suggested Christmas mailing deadlines for domestic parcels and letter mail to December 3 and 10, respectively, in anticipation of an exceptionally high mail volume.

Citing the impact of greatly increased mail volumes generated by the 15-state united parcel service strike in the east and south, and its residual effect on other parts of the country, the postal service said it is compelling to ask the public to mail domestic parcels by December 3; greetings by December 10.

The service said that because of the dedication of its employees, many of whom have been working long hours, it has had little trouble handling the increased mail volume since the parcel strike began in mid-September.

Senior Citizens To Meet For Thanksgiving Potluck

It has become traditional for the senior citizens of Lowell to meet for a Thanksgiving potluck dinner at the Lowell Senior Citizens Center, 214 East Main Street. The dinner will be held on Thursday, November 18, at noon.

The program was set up by the 1972 Nutrition Program for the Elderly Act, "designed not only to provide adequate nutrition to older persons, but equally important, combat their loneliness." Throughout Kent County 700 meals are served on each of the five weekdays.

James Kipp, who is heading the Michigan Lung Association's Christmas Seal Campaign in Grand Rapids, has announced that the goal for Kent County is $73,000. The statewide goal is $800,000.

What's The Talk Around Town???

Hey Harvey, where did you get those shiny shoes? Anderson's, huh, I should've guessed.

Say Gert, did you know that Anderson's has a 10% discount policy for senior citizens?

Yeh Joe, you should stop by at Anderson's and have Howard or Evelyn explain their shoe club, it's a great deal.

I see Anderson's have a great selection of slippers for the whole family.

Say Marge, how about picking up a new pair of Wing or B&B work boots for me at Anderson's tomorrow, also 13.00.

I'll bet you got those great looking ladies' shoe boots at Anderson's Shoes.

Hey dad, can I get a pair of insulated boots from Anderson's to wear hunting and fishing?

I just came from Anderson's Shoes, got these great four-buckle arctic to boot white boots.

These fall park snowmobile boots that I picked up at Anderson's are going to be just the ticket this winter.

The whitetail deer is one of the most beautiful of all Michigan's wildlife. Although it is the object of much hunting pressure, the number of deer have increased tremendously over the last few years. There are two main reasons for this increase. Wildlife biologists have learned what types of habitats deer require throughout the year. Large areas throughout the state have been cut off of trees which allows for the growth of new saplings which the deer need for food. Deer also need small meadows which have been created by specially treated soil with farm-like machinery. Another reason why the deer herd in Michigan is so large is the fact that the last two winters have not been severe and have allowed the deer to maintain high numbers over the winter and produce more young in the spring. Unfortunately, a hard winter this year may mean serious trouble for many deer who will starve to death.

Those deer that starve first will be those that are old, weak or sick, by removing these animals from the herd, the hard winter weather will help to strengthen it. In the past extensive feeding programs have been attempted by the Michigan Dept. of Natural Resources but they have found that artificial feeding does much more harm than good. DNR officials feel that the best way to control the deer herd is by managing the habitat and the use of

During the summer months deer are primarily grazing animals, feeding on tender grasses. Cold winter weather force the deer to feed on the twigs and buds of trees. This graze in the summer and browse in the winter habit is one way in which the whitetail deer have adapted to this area.

Deer were not always so common in Michigan. The Indians rarely saw deer and for good reason. The forests in Michigan once covered most of the state and left little food available for the deer. The deer population hit one of their highest peaks when Michigan was in its peak as a lumbering center. The clear-cutting of many areas allowed for the re-growth of many trees that were well within the reach of the deer.

Other characteristics that separate the whitetail deer from other animals is the presence of antlers. Antlers are unlike horns in that they are grown every year and are made of solid bony material.

As part of the evening's program, Jim Doyle and Mitch McEvel related some very interesting and educational talks involving around their experiences as Boy's State delegates at the State Capitol in Lansing. District Delegates to the American Legion convention, Vernon Yetter of Lowell gave a report of activities, where over 10,000 delegates were present at the National Convention in the state of Washington.

Harold Willard, District Service Officer, gave a speech on aid and assistance to veterans and their wives or widows and children.

Distribute State Highway Funds

Increased tax revenues, plus interest accumulated in the state's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, produced more money for road purposes in the three-month period that ended Sept. 30, the State Highway Commission has reported.

Third quarter distribution amounts to counties in this area, compared to the same period of 1975, are as follows:

County	1976	1975
Barry	270,501	236,655
Ionia	296,448	260,979
Kent	1,587,980	1,413,139
Montcalm	328,008	290,403

Amounts to cities and villages compared to the same period of 1975 are:

City/Village	1976	1975
Belding	22,647	19,982
Caledonia	3,294	3,224
Clarksville	2,125	1,888
Ionia	22,508	19,960
Lowell	14,352	12,736
Saranac	5,726	5,084

After deductions for grants and administrative costs, $111,572,496 is being distributed among the Department of State Highways and Transportation, the 83 county road commissions and the 531 incorporated cities and villages. The sum is 11.1 percent higher than the distribution for the July-September quarter of 1975.

About half of the increase resulted for higher motor fuel tax and weight tax (license plate fee) collections. The rest is 15 months' interest accumulated in the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, which is the depository for state motor fuel and weight taxes.

In previous years, the interest was distributed annually in the quarter ending with the fiscal year June 30. This year, because the Legislature extended the fiscal year to Sept. 30, the interest is being paid three months later.

'One Mad Night' On Stage Nov. 19 and 20

Two of the main characters in the Lowell Senior High All-School play "One Mad Night," November 19 and 20, will be portrayed by Kent Grossenboom and Kathie Irwin.

The auditorium stage at Lowell Senior High School will come alive this Friday and Saturday nights, November 19, and 20, when the Drama Department will present their all-school play "One Mad Night."

Here is a play in the best tradition of such famous thrillers as "The Bat," "The Cat and the Canary." The curtain will go up at 8 p.m. on this three-act play by James Beach.

The play, directed by Ivan Hanev, includes talking ghosts, screaming women, disappearing guests and, for a climax, the appearance on the scene of an escaped murderer fleeing for his life.

By the time the final curtain falls, the audience will be weak from laughter and ready to admit that "One Mad Night" is the last word in rapid-fire comedy.

The play is about a man named Don Cutter, a playwright, accompanied by Wing, his proverb-quoting Chinese valet, goes to the Cutter mansion to complete his latest play in peace and quiet. The mansion has been deserted for years and it has the reputation of being haunted.

Imagine Don's astonishment when he finds the house tenanted by a number of very strange people including John Alden, Priscilla, Mr. Hyde and Lady McBeth. From this point on, the intensity of the play will keep the audience on the edge of their seats and filled with laughter.

Tickets for either the Friday or Saturday night performance can be purchased at the door. Remember, curtain time for "One Mad Night," is 8 p.m.
