Nothing Salvageable Of Ada Bridge

Rebuilding the 112-year-old, fire-ravaged, covered bridge over the Thornapple River at Ada will cost an estimated $125,000.

So Milton Graton of New Hampshire, a covered bridge specialist, told James C. Porritt, manager of the Kent County Road Commission, in a meeting at the site last week.

The bridge, which was repaired for $17,000 after having been badly damaged by heavy snows last winter, burned Sept. 9. The fire is still under investigation by state fire marshals and Kent County deputies.

Graton is in Frankenmuth, Mich., counseling officials there on the construction of a covered bridge. Porritt heard, quite by chance, about him when the Fallasburg Dam was named a national landmark in a ceremony earlier this month.

Porritt contacted him and Graton drove from Frankenmuth for the meeting.

Graton, told that the bridge was 125 feet long, said it would cost about $125,000, at the present time, to rebuild it, using his method.

He added there is no salvageable material in what's left of the span. He also told Porritt it was his philosophy to build covered bridges in the precise manner in which they were constructed in the 19th century.

"This means," said Porritt, "that Graton is opposed to using cranes, bulldozers and other machinery to build a covered bridge."

Graton also told Porritt he has enough work for the next three years.

The manager will give a detailed report of his conference with Graton at the KCRC meeting Oct. 9.

The other dimensions of the Ada bridge are 14 feet in width and 15 feet in height. Cleanup of the span is slated to take place this week. —Dave Barnes.

20,000 Invade Lowell For Fallasburg Fall Festival

Whatever yardstick is used to measure the success of an event just wouldn't be long enough to report the complete and unprecedented triumph of this year's 11th Annual Fallasburg Fall Festival.

Some use numbers to evaluate. A conservative estimate is that nearly 20,000 people visited the Festival on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 29-30. Last year's crowd was the largest in its history, 7,000 people. With the most perfect autumn weather ever, the attendance more than doubled this year!

Some use profit to evaluate. Local organizations served the hungry hordes scrumptious homemade food with lines forming everywhere. Lowell Lions served 1,000 dinners, all they had. Alto Lions sold out of their beef barbeques both days. Vergennes UMW had a few ears of corn left and Natures Pantry was down to their last pan of meatless lasagna.

The ladies of the Moose sold 235 pies by the slice and the teenagers in Lowell's Close-Up program were cleaned out of chocolate chip cookies. West Central Michigan Historical Society thought the lines for doughnuts and cider would never end!

Forty artists and craftsmen were ecstatic with sales of their original creations and gave the festival high marks for organization, publicity and setting. Lowell Area Arts Council can take the bows on that score. The three-year-old organization devoted months of preparation to the event. Co-chairmen of the event were Chris Van Antwerp and John Harper. Van Antwerp and Harper are president and vice-president of the LAAC. They have already set the dates for the 12th FFF for Sept. 27 and 28, 1980.

Last year, there were 28 exhibiting artists and nearly all of them returned this year. The newcomers agreed that the FFF is one of the best shows they participated in and said that they will definitely plan to return next fall!

Some use ticket sales to evaluate. The LAAC raffled two beautiful items in their annual Heirloom Raffle this year, a Fallasburg Quilt and a lovely lace tablecloth.

Both were handmade by LAAC members. Winner of the quilt was Kim Nowak, 3308 Devon, Grand Rapids. Contacted by phone on Sunday evening, she said she was stunned and elated. Equally as happy is Jan Lippert, 724 Riverside Dr., Lowell who won the lace tablecloth. "It's perfectly lovely," said Mrs. Lippert. "I never dreamed I would win." Over 2,000 tickets were sold on the items!

Some use the width of the smiles as a measure of success. Children visiting the Festival wore grins a mile wide after painting pumpkins and gourds and tracing their body shapes to color. They thoroughly enjoyed the story tellers and let their folks wander through the exhibits while they made their own arts and crafts. Kids shouted with glee as one of the Festival entertainers pulled a real rabbit from his hat and clapped along with one of the folk singer's sea chantees.

Entertainment was continuous from noon to 5 p.m. each day and all of those appearing

As the Grand Finale to a fabulous Fallasburg Fall Festival weekend, a hot air balloon ascension was featured late Sunday afternoon. Doug Mills piloted the WZZM (TV 13) balloon and is shown here with his ground crew as they prepare for departure. Passengers were Richard Heath, Tony Scelliano and Trent Scelliano.

NO MAIL MONDAY

A holiday mail schedule will be in effect on Monday, Oct. 8 for Columbus Day, according to Postmaster Charlie Doyle. While there will be no regular residential or business mail delivery or lobby window service, there will be special delivery and lockbox service after 8 a.m., he said.

Mail will be picked up from area collection boxes at the normal time and mail deposited in the "out of town box" located in front of the post office will be dispatched at 6 p.m. Normal mail service will resume on Tuesday, Oct. 9.

GEARING UP FOR WINTER

The City of Lowell has announced that Thursday, October 4 will be the last special Trash Pick-up for the year. This "First Thursday" service will be discontinued until spring. To make sure items get picked up, call 897-8457.

Also being discontinued as of the end of October will be the service of parking a city truck overnight for self-loading. Oakwood Cemetery fall clean-up is scheduled for November 5-9 and all artificial flowers will then be disposed of. See the Ledger legal page for details.

OPEN HOUSE

Parents are invited to attend Quad Night on Monday, Oct. 8. Tours of the building will be conducted from 7:30 p.m. Parents will meet with their students' teachers in the quad from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m.

LONGER SHOPPING HOURS

West's Apparel, 219 W. Main, will now be open until 8 p.m. on Fridays. The gals' clothing store joins Ben Franklin Store, Riverside Fireplace, Pfalters Riverfront Clothing and Lipperts in providing longer shopping hours on Friday nights.

REORGANIZED

Riverside Fireplace Shoppe has been reorganized to a sole proprietorship with Stanlee Johnson as proprietor, operator and manager. Business is heating up, fireplaces are going like hotcakes and Stan is glowing (puns intended).

FALL TRAVEL

If you've lived in Michigan for any length of time you know there is only a month or so left of good travel weather in the state. Cedar Springs is holding its annual Red Flannel Festival on October 6. There is an Oktoberfest at Big Rapids through Oct. 7. There are Fall Color Cruises this month each weekend out of Charlevoix, and Harvest Festival each weekend in October at the Squires Street Square in Rockford. Pearl Bailey and Louis Bellson will appear at WMU's Miller Auditorium in Kalamazoo on Oct. 6. Take your pick. They all sound like fun.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Three juveniles were injured in a one car accident on Vincent last Monday afternoon, September 24. The teenager driving lost control of his vehicle when the steering broke. The car veered across the road, struck a tree, became airborne and struck another tree. It came to rest on its side. The driver sustained facial lacerations and head injuries, was transported by Bud's Ambulance to Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital, was treated and released. Two juvenile passengers also received facial lacerations and abrasions and were transported for treatment. They also were released.

Involved in a minor property damage accident on West Main near Smith St. on Sunday morning, Sept. 30, was Francine Reed of Harrison when she changed lanes and scrapped a vehicle driven by Tracy Hage of Grand Rapids.

Arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Friday, Sept. 28 was Rosemarie Miller. She was arraigned in 63rd District Court on Monday.

Dennis Finkler plead guilty to driving under the influence of liquor and was fined $185 and given six months probation.

Approximately $3,000 damage was done to the Fallasburg Bridge on Saturday, Sept. 22 after a car slid into the south entrance to the bridge, according to the Sheriff's Deputies that he was eastbound on Covered Bridge Road about 3 a.m. when he spotted another car coming across the bridge. He braked but was unable to avoid hitting the bridge. There were no injuries. Temporary repairs were made to the bridge by last Thursday with final repairs to be completed in the spring.

Lowell officers investigated 14 accidents in September compared to 18 in this month last year. Four were injury accidents and two were rescue calls.

Amway Selects Michigan Over Texas As Site For Expansion

Western Michigan—not Texas—will house Amway Corporation's future expansion. Chairman of the Board Jay VanAndel and President Richard DeVos disclosed Amway's decision Friday during an "Appreciation Day" luncheon for West Michigan political, educational, business, civic and media leaders at Amway's world headquarters in Ada.

In that announcement, DeVos and VanAndel said Amway has purchased 487 acres along 52nd Street SE in Kent County's Cascade Township. That site, south of 52nd Street and east of Patterson Avenue, will be used for expansion as needed according to the demands posed by Amway's dramatic and dynamic growth.

As an example of that growth, VanAndel and DeVos also reported today that Amway's sales during its 1978-79 fiscal year soared more than 60 percent to exceed $800 million at estimated retail. In fact, just the sales gain for this past year alone—nearly double the 1,700 persons working there in December 1977.

Such dynamic, continuous growth in every facet of Amway's business is the reason for purchasing an expansion site now. VanAndel and DeVos said it is possible to continue to build our company here, where it all began.

VanAndel noted, "Our purchase of the property at Patterson and 52nd is a further indication of our optimism about the future of Amway and our commitment to the economic future of Western Michigan."

Many factors—the largest sales increase in Amway's 20-year history of continuous growth; adding nearly 1,200 full-time employees in the past year, plus plans to hire at least 800 new workers during the current year that began September 1, 1979; and the rise in the number of Amway distributors—are beginning to crowd the Ada campus.

Recently completed is a new 50,400 square-foot addition to the East Administration Building. Still under construction are a three-story structure providing 94,000 square feet of new Research and Development and office space and an interim office facility, which offers over 62,000 square feet more. That last building can be readily converted into a warehouse when it no longer is needed for offices.

Plans for the immediate future call for a three-story office building providing 100,000 square feet; a raw materials storage facility of more than 350,000 square feet (enough floor space to house at least six football fields), and a waste incinerator system whose heat recovery will be used to warm buildings and provide process steam for manufacturing. Also in Amway's plans is a truck service building for its safety-award winning transportation fleet. Those drivers, incidentally, haul almost 2,400,000 pounds of Amway's products every business day.

During the past two years, the Ada site has added new manufacturing and office space, a water treatment plant capable of processing 1 million gallons daily, and a new Michigan Regional Distribution Center to meet the needs of Amway distributors in the Midwest.

Completing the projects already planned will bring Amway's total complex in Ada to 2.3 million square feet, one-half of the company's worldwide total of 4.5 million square feet.

All this began just 20 years ago with Rich DeVos and Jay VanAndel operating from their own basements. They had only one product. But their bold and innovative dream included a unique marketing concept and limitless vision that allowed all the rest to follow for them and the 500,000 distributors now enjoying "businesses of their own."

Whether you call this "Free Enterprise" or find another label, it still means the Amway dream is working and will continue to work. The future holds no fear for Amway people. They know Amway's growth has continued unchecked for 20 years in every economic climate—through rising inflation, the failure of severe recessions, and times of international tension. Amway people everywhere, along with Jay VanAndel and Rich DeVos, are still positive "the best is yet to come."

I thought of George Raff. He always had great pleats in his pants. I also thought of a slim young man whose favorite pants had belt loops several inches lower than usual. He would tighten his skinny belt and the effect was similar to tying a string around the top of a paper sack of licorice sticks.

At least that's been the fashion for so many years that I'd forgotten all about pleated pants. I can't remember for sure what caused their disappearance. I think it had something to do with the dramatic rise in the price of imported pleats during the 1950s.

Lowell Loses A Heartbreaker 21-18

Even with a fourth quarter rally which saw Lowell score 2 touchdowns in five minutes, the Red Arrows went down to defeat at the hands of the Belding Redskins Friday night at Burch Field in Lowell, by a score of 21-18.
The final capper of the game came with only four seconds left and the Arrows ahead 18-13. Chuck Woodcock connected on a 42-yard pass play to Pat Sower to pull out a 21-18 victory and end their season record to 4-0, tying them with Lakewood for first place. The loss moved Lowell into second place in Tri-River standings.
Three plays into the game quarterback Mike Kaye hit Russ Cain with a pass over the middle and Cain ran for a 72 yard TD.

Lowell Golfers Lose 3 Close Matches

Lady luck was not with the Lowell Red Arrow golf team this past week. The Arrows were knocked out of contention as they were nipped at the wire in three very close matches.
Greenville invaded Deer Run on Monday as the Red Arrows attempted to knock the Yellow Jackets out of their first place tie with Belding.
Andy Rogers took medalist honors with a 38 and Jon Vezino followed closely with a 39. However, Greenville was able to squeak past by one stroke 166-167.
Lowell traveled to Coopersville the following day hoping to rebound. The Broncos, however, disappointed the Arrows again by one stroke. Andy Rogers, Scott Abel and Jeff Kerr shared Lowell's scoring honors with identical scores of 40.
The Arrows then traveled to a very difficult Candlestone course to take on Belding's Redskins, co-leaders of the Tri-River conference.
Once again the Arrows were refused victory by four strokes. Jeff Kerr's fine 38 and Andy Rogers' 40 were not enough to follow the talented Redskins.
The Arrows returned to Deer Run on Friday and attempted to regroup against non-conference foe Godwin Heights. The Arrows, led by Scott Abel's 39, Andy Rogers' 40 and Jon Vezino's 41 defeated Godwin 39 to 116.
This week the Arrows entertain Coopersville and Ionia and then travel to Lakewood as they attempt to strengthen their hold on fourth place in the Tri-River.

Lowell 26 which again gave the Lowell team a chance.
Under the passing direction of Kaye, Lowell marched down the field through the air. Phil Richards' reception put the ball on the 16 and Kaye ran to the one on a broken play with 26 seconds to go.
Kaye kept the ball on the next play and gave the Arrows an 18-13 lead with 23 seconds left in the game.
Then everything went wrong for the Arrows as Pat Sower pulled down an interception on Lowell's conversion attempt setting up the 42 yard pass play to win the game 21-18.

In the statistic department the Arrows rushed for 272 yards and passed for another 126, leading ground gainer was Kloosterman with 170 yards in 22 carries followed by Gliden 36 yds. for 9 carries, Kay 31 yds. in 7 carries and Brandt 29 yds. in 7 carries. Tailback Karl Kloosterman was credited with 10 tackles, Grim & Eley had 6, Christmas 5, and Riet and Phillips each had 4. Quarterback Kaye passed six times for 16 yards.
This week the Arrows entertain Coopersville and Ionia and then travel to Lakewood as they attempt to strengthen their hold on fourth place in the Tri-River.

Lowell Girls Drop Two

The Lowell girls' basketball team lost two games last week. On Tuesday, they dropped a 46-52 decision to Belding. Lowell scored four more field goals than Belding but they were penalized by 29 fouls.
Belding connected on 20 of 31 free throws to account for the win Elaine Blasher paced Lowell with 12 points.
On Thursday Lowell lost to Ionia 44-35. Again, fouls plagued the girls. They had 36 fouls to Ionia's 16.
Shirley Wilcox had 14 points, Sue Sitzer, 12, and Elaine

Blasher, 10. Marcy Fox paced Ionia with 31.
In Junior Varsity action, Lowell beat Belding 35-7. The J.V. squad kept Belding to only three free throws and no field goals for three periods. On Thursday, the J.V. team was again victorious over Ionia. Their season record is 3-2.
The girls return to action Tuesday as they take on a strong Coopersville team. On Thursday they travel to Ionia.

Saranac Loses Squeaker 13-12

The Portland Red Raiders put an end to Saranac's 16 game winning streak last Friday night before a standing room only crowd at the Portland field when they defeated the Redskins 13-12 in an extra point battle.
Saranac drew first blood on the first play of the second quarter, when 6'8" Ben Tower pulled in a 29 yard pass from a slow first half. The two point conversion attempt was unsuccessful when the pass was incomplete to Tower which signaled the beginning of Saranac's extra point problems.
With 4:49 left in the half the Raiders mounted a 69-yard scoring drive. Aided by a 23-yard pass from Troy Click to Ron Adams bringing the ball to the Redskins 43, the Raiders then drove inside the 20 on a seven yard Ernie Rodriguez sweep before Click hit Ben Goodman on a 19 yarder which brought the ball to the Saranac one yard mark.
Fullback Bob Mayhew plunged over to tie the score. Click's extra point kick was wide leaving the score tied 6-6 at the half.
After intermission Ernie Rodriguez again scored from the one with 5:58 left in the quarter. Troy's Click's kick for the extra point was good and was the game's only successful extra point attempt and proved to be all important when time ran out.

Led by the running of Lionel Hastings and Tim Patrick the Redskins drove to the seven yard line of Portland. Patrick got the call and ran through the Raider defense to score a TD. The score was now 13-12 with 5:4 left in the third quarter.
The two point conversion attempt was spotted on a delay of game penalty which moved the ball back to the seven. A Coulson to Tower pass which was intercepted by Ron Adams which preserved the Raider lead.

Portland ran 269 yards to Saranac's 19 in the game. Click was 6-9 for 115 yards and Coulson was 8-14 for 92 yards. Leading receiver Ben Tower picked up six passes for 81 yards.
Ernie Rodriguez was the top Portland ball carrier with 75 yards in 11 carries. Lionel Hastings was held to 64 yards on 25 carries while Tim Patrick picked up 48 yards in 16 carries for the Redskins.
Saranac's defense was paced by Ted Heilmann's six tackles. Scott Krueger's five, Ed Overbeck's four and Patrick's three.

JV's Blank Belding, 26-0

A blazing second half vaulted the Lowell J.V.'s into a 26-0 victory over Belding Thursday, extending their winning streak to 4-0 for the season.
It was also this team's first road trip which may have accounted for a slow first half where only six points were scored.
Belding received the opening kick-off and drove to the Arrow 15 yard line before the defense stiffened and Lowell went on the offense. A fumble stifled the Lowell drive and Belding took over again in good field position.
Defense pulled it out for Lowell once again and the Belding drive fizzled deep in Lowell territory. Bob Shrenk and Ed Lawry led a long drive which culminated when Shrenk sprinted the last seven yards for the only first half score. The extra point was not good and the Arrows went to half time up 6-0.
The second half opened with Lowell taking charge on offense and Quarterback Ed Lawry found Jeff Quiggle alone in the endzone for a 25 yard touchdown pass. Again, the extra point was incomplete and the score stood at 12-0.
Strong Lowell defense led by Jamie Poll, Scott Grim, Duke Burdette and Scott Benjamin dominated Belding in the second half. Jeff Quiggle continued his record of at least one

Tennis Team Finishes Fourth

The Lowell Varsity Tennis team finished fourth out of eight schools participating in the Belding Redskin Invitational.
It was a two-day tournament, with 1st, 2nd and 3rd doubles being played on Friday and seven rounds of singles played on Saturday.
First doubles players Jilisa Groeters and Tawnee Kloosterman won their first two rounds against Belding and Ionia, but lost to Okemos and finished with runner-up medals in the finals.
The 2nd doubles' team of Kathy Kropf and Sharon Huver lost to Mason in the second round 6-4, 0-4.
The combined team of Lee Ann Hill and Carolyn Merriman fought their way to the 3rd doubles finals, but lost. They

X-Country Notches Two Wins

Roger Rollins led Lowell High School's cross country team to convincing victories last week over Coopersville and Lakewood.
In the 22.9 run over Coopersville, Rollins was second to the Bronco's outstanding runner Bill Hasty. Lowell captured eight of the first ten places as Steve DeNolf and Cliff Mulder finished right behind Rollins in third and fourth. Other Red Arrows took five of the first seven places. DeNolf (17:39), Mulder (17:42), and Doyle er, Scott Noffke, Mark Butterworth and Joe Rathbun.

On Thursday, Lowell played host to Lakewood in another Tri-River encounter and came away with their second victory of the week. 20-36. With Rollins' first place finish, a time of 17:30 over the three-mile Fallsburg Park course, Lowell's depth again provided the winning margin, as the Red Arrows took five of the first seven places. DeNolf (17:39), Mulder (17:42), and Doyle (18:02) finished third, fourth and fifth respectively with Foster close behind in seventh with a time of 18:21.

Action this week focused on Fallsburg Park, as twenty-three teams participated in the 18th annual Red Arrow Invitational on Monday. The only Tri-River activity of the week is Thursday as Lowell travels to Fremont to take on the undefeated and defending conference champion Packers.

also came home with runner-up medals.
The tennis team had a difficult time in the singles rounds. Kloosterman lost in her first round, 0-6, 1-6. Hill, at #2 was defeated also, 1-6, 2-6. Groeters lost her second round 1-6, 3-6 and Huver, #4, lost a close match to Belding 4-6, 4-8. Kropf was defeated 0-6, 3-6. Merriman won her first round over Belding 6-0, 6-4, but lost in the second, 3-6, 3-6. Mary Schreier at 7th singles won her first round, 6-4, 6-4 over Ionia, but also lost in the second round, 3-6, 3-6.
Kropf and Groeters came out as the consolation round champs, in their respective divisions.—JMG.

By Roger Brown

The other day, I got curious about a folded up piece of paper in my wallet. I nearly died when I discovered that it was copy for a job that we are supposed to print. The customer had given me the copy on the golf course and I completely forgot about it. Instead of being printed, it was sitting in my wallet for better than a month. Now we're rushing to get it printed, trying to save face.
Shame on me. Especially since this wasn't the first time that this has happened. I've found little scraps of paper bearing scribbled-out classified ads that I never took months prior to the car for sale or whatever, it probably long since sold. I found a business card that was given to me to print duplicates of. It was so worn that I couldn't possibly reprint it because it was illegible. The card had probably been in there for at least six months.
A quick inventory of my wallet might help explain how things can get lost in there for such long periods of time. In the compartment where the money is kept, there are three one dollar bills, and that's more than usual. Consequently, this is the best organized part of my wallet.
It's quite a different story in the other side where all the credit cards, membership cards, driver's license, etc., go.
I have membership cards to the Travelers Protective Association, American Legion, Military Order of Coaches, Michigan Press Association, Veterans' of Foreign Wars, YMCA, Blue Cross and Blue Shield, and the Local Order of Moose. I've never dared add up the annual dues for all those organizations. And because I don't know where else to put them, I'll bunch my social security card and voter registration card in with my membership cards. I guess they show that I'm a member of the taxpayer's organization.
There is a raffle ticket for a chance on a gas grill. The drawing date was April 2, 1979. Guess I didn't win.
There is a scrap of paper with a name and phone number for a guy I was bounding to pay an old debt and have since given up on.
There is a humorous card that I want to print copies of. But it's a little off-color to describe here.
There are Sears and Sikeetes charge cards. Both are plastic and both are broken. There is a Texaco charge card that I borrowed from my father three years ago before we went to Florida. The only other credit card is from Michigan Bell and is expired.
In the way of legal kinds of things, there is a driver's license, fishing license, motorcycle registration and a 1960 Saranac High School hall pass.
There, I've done my every-six-months-or-so-whether-it-needs-it-or-not-wallet cleaning, and written my column, too. Now to get this junk back in there.

DNR Report

One of the driest Septembers on record has kept salmon and trout patiently awaiting the signal for their mass fall run. Anxious fishermen aren't nearly as patient. Cool rains are still needed to produce fish in numbers upstream.
Most salmon and trout are still schooled together in the mouths of the Grand, Muskegon and White Rivers. Some salmon and trout are finding their way upstream.
On the Grand River, some coho and chinook are being taken off channel walls, from boats, and upstream at the 6th Street Dam in Grand Rapids. Spawn and spinners remain the best bait. An occasional steelhead, "brown" or "lake trout" is also being taken. Fish have been spotted as far upstream as Lyons-Muir, but in no number. On Grand Haven pier, success is spotty and only in early morning hours. Catches from boats are good, but spotty. Kings average 15 pounds.
At Muskegon officers report fishing and success good to excellent in the lower river area up to the causeway. At Croton, water levels are down 2' or so. Fish are in the deeper holes. Fishing has been poor and limited to night and early morning hours.
At White Lake and White River, success has been poor with not many fish moving. A few coho salmon being taken. All areas lack the traditional heavy fall run. The best is yet to come.
The number of squirrels is down and they are finding security in their leafy cover. Many ruffed grouse are being reported. The October 1 deadline for Hunter's Choice is near, bow and arrow deer hunting awaits October 1 as their opener.

Game Cookbook Out

Between now and late May, when the wild turkey season ends in Michigan, this state's hunters will bring home literally millions of pounds of game birds and animals.
How should the wife (or husband) prepare this bountiful harvest?
The Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) has the answer—nearly 400 answers, in fact. That is the number of recipes for cooking wild game (and fish) contained in "The Wildlife Chef," the popular cook book published by MUCC, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the wise use of the state's natural resources.
First issued in 1975, the cook book has enjoyed sales numbering thousands of copies, with proceeds going to MUCC's conservation and education programs. The book, now in its second printing, is designed to help both novice and experienced cooks prepare food from field, forest, and stream.
In addition to the recipes, the publication contains tips on field dressing, care of big and small game and fish, freezing, and other aspects of the preparation of game and fish dishes. Special sections are devoted to breads and desserts, sauces and stuffings, camp cooking, and edible wild plants of Michigan.
Copies of "The Wildlife Chef" may be obtained for $3.95 apiece, postpaid, by sending a check or money order to MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing, MI 48909.
CIDER LOWDOWN
Cider is the natural pure juice of apples with no sugar added and has only 87 calories per six ounce glass. Flavor depends on the blend, different apple varieties and in different areas of the country depending on preference for sweet or tart cider.
Cider has been pasteurized, it is commonly referred to as apple juice.
Cider needs constant refrigeration because of perishability. It will stay sweet and unfermented for one to two weeks, or two to three weeks if a preservative has been added.
Apple cider can be served hot, dressed, care of big and small game and fish, freezing, and other aspects of the preparation

CONSUMER SPENDING MYTHOLOGY Despite popular notion to the contrary, food's share of income has declined in the past 20 years—down to 16.5 percent from 1960 when 20.2 percent of the consumer dollar went to eating.

On another level, USDA reports that Americans spent $107.3 billion on food and non-alcoholic beverages in 1977, but also while "food shopping," spent $40.8 billion on non-foods and alcoholic beverages. That's a sizeable growth in non-food purchasing. In 1957, non-foods accounted for 16.7 percent of grocery sales. Now, they account for 21.6 percent of all sales in the "food" marketplace.

Drivers On 3-Year Pro

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin today served notice on all first-time applicants for drivers licenses that a new, stricter law emphasizing corrective action and affecting more than 300,000 new drivers each year will go into effect October 1 (Monday).

According to Austin, a new three-year probationary driver licensing law, passed in 1978 by the Michigan Legislature, gives the Department of State additional authority to reach drivers before they become unsafe to themselves and others.

Under the law, new drivers can be counseled and re-examined during the three-year probationary period as soon as they begin to evidence "bad" driving habits. In addition, the law provides that the last 10 months of the probationary period must be accident and violation free. The new driver remains on probation until this requirement is satisfied.

The Department of State also gives authority to re-examine new drivers at nine violation points rather than 12 in two years immediately following the original three-year probationary period.

New Faces On Lowell's Main Street

Bob and Gay Pfaller beat the clock. After hours of work, they opened their new establishment on Main Street, Pfaller's Riverfront Clothing Inc., on October 1, 1979, the opening date they had been working toward. Pfaller is the former manager at Lippert Pharmacy and Gay works part time at the Cascade Christian Church Pre-School.

Lowell's newest business, Pfaller's Riverfront Clothing, is owned and operated by Bob and Gay Pfaller. The shop is a complete clothing store for men and boys that has been sorely needed in the community since the closing of Holiday Harbor and Wepman's. The store will offer men and boys clothing from Lee work denims to After Six formal wear rentals.

Many folks around town will recognize Bob as the past manager at Lippert Pharmacy's Lowell store. Gay works part time at the Cascade Christian Pre School and will also work part time at the store.

The Pfallers purchased the building at 103 W. Main St., Lowell, from Molly Wepman in July of this year. Since that time, they have been working feverishly at remodeling the store, buying and building fixtures, and ordering merchandise in order to meet their announced opening date of October 1, 1979. The store opened on October first as predicted and will be open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday thru Saturday and until 8 p.m. on Fridays.

Treatment Plant Is One Step Nearer

In 1971, Lowell became the first city in the state to be court ordered to institute a secondary sewage treatment program. Since that time, the project has been bogged down by various reasons in each of the several phases leading up to actual construction.

The findings of the city's engineering firm were revealed in a public hearing held prior to Monday's council meeting. In a one and one half hour dissertation, Mike Peters of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr & Huber, the city's engineering firm, covered the three types of treatment plants reviewed by them.

Of the three types, the oxidation ditch type, is the one recommended by the engineers. This type of plant is not only the least expensive to build, but is also the least expensive to operate, from a cost-per-gallon-treated standpoint. If this type is the one eventually built, it will be the first one of its kind in the state. There are about 600 oxidation ditch plants in operation in the U.S. and many are located in northern climates according to Peters.

When constructed, Lowell's new sewage treatment plant with 1.42 million gallons per day capacity will be about 80% funded by federal and state monies. The remainder will probably come from the sale of bonds and will be paid off by increased water and sewer rates.

The estimated total cost of such a plant would be $3,131,800 with the local shares (20%), coming in at; City of Lowell $488,561; Lowell Twp. $112,745, and Vergennes Twp. $25,054. These costs are based on the anticipated usage of each government body.

To retire the construction debt and to operate the plant, the per month cost to township users is estimated at $5.36. In the city, sewer charges are based on water usage. In a typical home where 10,000 gallons of water per month is used, monthly water and sewer rates will increase from $17.36 to $20.80.

After a decision as to which type of plant to build, a formal application will be made for funding.

Pair Hooks Paddle O' Pike

Two fishermen stopped in at the Ledger Monday hoping for a news item which would make believers of their "fish story" by their family and friends. Seems it only took Jerry Thompson [right] of Lowell and Joe Miller of Ionia an hour and one half to land six—count them—Northern pike from the Flat River. They ranged from 23" to 27" long. They claim they caught six last week, too, but the combined weight of the fish broke the stringer and the fish got away. In the interest of factual journalism, this last claim cannot be corroborated by the Ledger. But they DID bring this catch in for proof positive.

Attwood Celebrates Diamond Jubilee

After 75 years, Attwood continues to create blueprints for better boating ideas and manufacture seaworthy accessories for the marine industry.

Starting at the turn of the century as a small brass foundry, Attwood was brought into the marine industry by the noted boatmaker Chris Craft. Because of Attwood's reputation for fine brass fittings and foundry work, Chris Craft asked the company to supply brass fittings for large pleasure boats. Attwood has been a major competitor in the marine accessories field ever since. This year Attwood is celebrating 75 years of growth in the boating industry.

From modest beginnings 75 years ago, Attwood now markets marine products to every major boat-builder in the country. Through its representative network, over 300 marine distributors sell the Attwood line nationwide and overseas, including significant markets in Europe and Australia.

The Attwood story continues to build momentum after 75 years. Today the company produces over 80% of everything it sells; warehouse operations are at full capacity and its distribution system can fill even the heaviest seasonal demands. Attwood's most recent acquisitions have been the purchase of the Leisure Products Division from Zurn Industries in Pennsylvania in 1975, the Viking Anchor Division from Brunswick Corporation, and Ingenious Devices, the inventor of Water Reins, both over the past four years.

During Attwood's celebration the company salutes the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, also celebrating 75 years in the marine industry.

UNICEF Volunteers Work Here

Literally thousands of children, youth and some adults will be out working in behalf of UNICEF (United Nations' Children's Fund) during the month of October, with "trick and treats" flooding the area on National UNICEF day, October 31.

For many years these volunteers in Western Michigan (primarily in the Grand Rapids area) remit between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars to the United States Committee on UNICEF to assist children in over one hundred underprivileged countries. Funds committed locally are channeled through the West Michigan World Affairs Council.

For many years now, Rev. Raymond Gaylord, pastor of the Cascade Christian Church has coordinated the annual "Trick or Treat" programs, with Mrs. Carl List, 679 Manhattan SE heading up the holiday-Christmas greeting card program. Card sales provide an additional five or six thousand dollars each year in Grand Rapids alone.

It is stressed each year that people give contributions only to those volunteers who carry proper identification tags and use the orange and black UNICEF cartons.

The United Nations in 1959 voted that children have special rights. They listed them in "The Declaration of the Rights of the Child". Twenty years later, the year 1979 was named "The International Year of the Child." The United Nations wanted to remind everyone how important it is to protect children's rights.

UNICEF only works in those countries where it has been invited to work and those nations receiving assistance must provide three dollars in cash or labor for each dollar received.

Volunteers are needed this month to assist with UNICEF collections; however, it must be kept in mind that adults working through bona fide churches, youth organizations must supervise these young persons. UNICEF materials are now available for distribution at both Cascade Christian Church, 2829 Thornapple River Drive SE or the First United Methodist Church, Barclay and Fulton, in Grand Rapids. Raymond Gaylord, UNICEF director will be pleased to answer additional questions on your part. Call 949-1360 or 949-1567. Several UNICEF films are also available by contacting these numbers.
