MEETING PLACE CHANGED

The Sesquicentennial meeting place has been changed to the "old City garage" at 113 N. Lafayette. Those attending should park in the city parking lot behind Anderson's Shoes and use the back entrance to the City garage meeting room. Committee chairmen and anyone interested in being a part of planning the celebration should attend this March 5, meeting at 8 p.m. Help is needed from individuals (this means YOU) and from organizations. Consider yourself invited!

IT'S SPRING AT THE YMCA

According to YMCA Director Mike Connel, it's just like spring at the Lowell Y with several programs already accepting registrations. The YMCA would especially like to hear from anyone interested in Adult Men's or Women's slow-pitch, or Men's fast-pitch teams in the Y-Sportsmanship League. Call the office at 897-8445.

Girls and boys interested in playing Soccer this spring can register by stopping at the office or by calling the number above.

READ-A-THON IS ON

Students at all three elementary schools are busy reading for money. The money will be earned when the students collect "pledges" for each book they read. The money will be given to the fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

Youngsters will have an official MD READ-a-thon pledge sheet with them when they ask for sponsors in neighborhoods and businesses. It's a good cause and a good feeling for the children to be of help while adding to their reading skills.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Lowell to observe "Day of Prayer"

This Friday area churches will be observing their annual "World Day of Prayer". This call to prayer is celebrated in over 150 countries on the first Friday in March each year.

In Lowell, this tradition has grown to include participation by nine area churches. These include: Alton Bible, Calvary Christian Reformed Church of Lowell, Church of the Nazarene of Lowell, First Congregational Church of Lowell, First United Methodist Church of Lowell, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Lowell Assembly of God, Lowell Wesleyan Church, and St. Mary's Church. Representatives from the above churches help in the planning, publicity, and actual prayer readings at the service.

This year Lowell's Prayer Service will be held at Calvary Reformed, 1151 W. Main Street. If you haven't seen their new addition completed last year, this is an excellent time to drop in for a peek. The sanctuary has been enlarged to double its original size. On the lower level there is a new kitchen, large fellowship room, and new Sunday School rooms.

The guest speaker for the 1 p.m. service is Kathy Baar-man from Bethany Bible Church of Grand Rapids. She was born and raised in Hungary, but fled the country during the rebellion. After coming to this country she became a Christian. Her program will focus on world peace.

A nursery will be provided, with refreshments served after the service.

Next year, the Lowell Prayer Service will be held at the Assembly of God. They have a totally new building that adds a bonus to attending the service.

Showboat a bit waterlogged

Water and ice which settled in the pontoons which support the Lowell Showboat and have caused the structure to list pretty badly. As soon as warm weather melts the remaining ice, the water will be pumped out. According to Ivan Blough, builder of the Robert E. Lee, the boat will recover nicely.

Throw away your razor

Have you noticed the beards, side-burns, and mustaches cropping up on the men-folk of the Lowell area?

They are (or will be) certified members of the Brothers of the Brush.

Certificates are available for a nominal cost of $5 from the following area businesses: The Grand Valley Ledger, Speerstra Insurance Agency, That Special Place and the Lowell City office. They are also available from Charlie Doyle who is chairman of this event.

Newest members with their certificates are John Stinson, Dick Roth, Don Souser, John Erickson, John Free, Bob Pfaller and Jerry Bates.

Plans are to have a beard judging contest on the morning of July 18, 1981 at the Lowell Showboat Arena. So, throw away your razor and pick up your certificate. You may be one of the winners.

Get in on the Big Parade

Fifty years ago, when Lowell celebrated its 100th birthday, the Centennial parade was three miles long! Bands, floats, drum and bugle corps, oxen, old-time vehicles, airplanes and "every kind of modern transportation" were included.

Every facet of community life was represented in that parade of 1931, from businesses and churches, youth groups and service organizations to local politicians. Floats and marching bands came from every surrounding hamlet from Parnell to Saranac, Sparta to Ionia, Greenville to Alto.

The steering committee for this year's Sesquicentennial celebration is hoping to have a parade at least as long. Organizations, businesses, and industries are asked to let the committee know if they will be entering a unit of some type so that plans for this portion of the celebration can go forward. Individual units will be welcome, too, of course.

Everyone interested in being a part of the Sesquicen-ennial Parade should get in touch with event chairman Dolores Dey at That Special Place, Dave Clark at Clark Plumbing and Heating or Postmaster Charlie Doyle.

Cook vies for MMPA seat

James Cook Jr. of Lowell is one of four persons nominated for a director-at-large seat on the Michigan Milk Producers Association board of directors. Delegates will select a new at-large director at the annual meeting March 21 in East Lansing.

The term of at-large board member Glenn Lake will expire at the meeting and he announced earlier that he would not seek re-election.

Cook is a member of the MMPA, District 6. He has been a member of Southern Michigan market committee four years and serves as a delegate from the Saranac Local. The Cook family farms about 1,000 acres and milks about 80 cows.

He is president of the Michigan Holstein Association and has been a delegate to the national Holstein convention for the past three years.

Cook is also on the Ver-gennes Township zoning board of appeals and on the Kent County Agricultural Speakers' Bureau. He and his wife Berdie were MMPA's Outstanding Young Dairy Couple in 1979.

Kent County maintains several parks that remain in their natural state and contain only hiking trails for the public. The purpose is twofold. First, some of these areas are fragile and any development would destroy the ecological beauty of the area and second, the Kent County Parks Commission likes to offer alternative forms of passive recreation to county residents.

Job outlook dismal for students

The summer job outlook for college and high school students can be described in one word: dismal. That's the opinion of Ken Fridsma, director of financial aid at Grand Valley State Colleges.

Students who need jobs should start looking early, Fridsma says, and they should also realize that they may have to settle for jobs paying the minimum wage.

Fridsma says business and industry will be employing fewer summer workers than usual, reflecting the overall economic situation in Michigan. In addition, government and public service jobs will be more scarce this summer than in previous years.

Resorts in areas such as the Upper Peninsula will probably also cut back on summer workers, Fridsma says, but resorts and recreation facilities closer to metropolitan areas may offer good job prospects, since they will be catering to vacationers who wish to stay close to home to save gas costs.

College students and high school seniors who want to get a head start in the search for summer jobs can do so at a Summer Employment Extravaganza to be held at Grand Valley on Tuesday, March 10. The event is expected to attract more than thirty employers from resorts, retail and wholesale companies, summer camps, and business and manufacturing firms offering several hundred jobs.

The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in Grand Valley's Campus Center. The job fair is open to all area college students and graduating high school seniors.

Weather key to steelhead runs

With peak steelhead runs keyed to rising water and higher temperatures, recent warm weather and heavy runoff from melting snow should mean an excellent spring season for state anglers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Most of the 35 rivers listed on Auto Club's 1981 Steelhead Fishing Guide already are swollen from the rapid melting of this winter's snow.

That runoff, plus above normal precipitation and temperatures predicted for Michigan through mid-March, should help warm rivers to the optimum 40-degree range needed to send the survivors of more than three million fish planted in 1978 and 1979 into spawning streams. Planted as six- to 10-inch fish, surviving steelhead have grown into six- to 15-pound fish.

Because of the warmer weather and heavy plantings, many southwest Michigan streams are receiving

Appliance Energy Sense

Attention to home appliances can help you save energy and dollars. Repair or replace faulty appliances that waste energy. Use small kitchen appliances, rather than your stove, to prepare small meals. Fondue cookers, popcorn poppers, bean pots, electric grills and skillets, etc. usually require less energy than your stove when you use them correctly. Keep these portable appliances out of drafts which can reduce their efficiency. Be sure to turn off your appliances as soon as you stop using them. Buy solid state TV's, radios and stereos whenever possible; They require less energy than conventional sets. These few simple measures can help you cut down on your energy consumption considerably.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

All scripture is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness (II Timothy 3:16).

I was disappointed because I wasn't having much success cleaning my silverware with a product which had proved highly successful for others. Then I remembered something I had read a few days before. One housewife wrote that after many years she had begun reading the instructions accompanying the products she purchased. Much to her satisfaction, she found the cleaners and bleaches worked fine if used as directed. So I followed her advice, read the directions, carried out the instructions, and my silverware came beautifully clean.

It was when I began seeking to be informed that I found what I was looking for. New spiritual light is waiting for each of us, fellow Christians. If we read God's Word with an open mind, ask God for His guidance, and seek to know His will, we can be the recipients of divine help. When we realize our need of instruction and are willing to accept reproof and correction, and if we are submissive to God's leadings, we can have spiritual illumination. Within the Word of God the directions are clearly given.

Lenten services begin at St. Mary's

The season of Lent originally developed as a period of preparation for Easter. Lent is a season when the church tries to renew its spirituality, to hear the gospel well, and to experience something of the dying and rising that baptized life is all about.

Prayer: O Lord, I turn to Thee with simple, trusting faith. As a child seeks counsel from his earthly parent, so I seek Thy help. Illuminate my mind. Impart to me Thy wisdom. Amen.

Lord, grant us all might to learn The wisdom it imparts, And to its heav'nly teaching turn With simple, childlike hearts.

Reflections From Outer Space

By Rev. Jerry Bates

Hunger is a phenomenon of our time and of the world. This does not mean that hunger is new to our generation. It simply means that we are more aware of it than ever before. A few years back it was easy to raise money to feed starving people. We thought if we raised enough money hunger would be eradicated from our world. Scientists would discover new sources of fertilizer, new strains of grain and new methods of cultivation and these would feed the world.

Hunger is a problem of our civilization. Amadou-Mahtar M'Bow says, in his article "Hunger: A Challenge to Civilization", "Even if they wished to do so, the rich countries can no longer ignore what only a few decades ago went unnoticed by almost all 'civilized' people—I mean the ignorance, disease, and starvation rampant in what was not yet termed the Third World. Today, thanks to the mass media, particularly television, the world has been brought face to face with itself. It is as though we were present in person wherever starvation and malnutrition show their hideous faces."

When we see hundreds of thousands of people dying of hunger, and tens of millions of others directly threatened; when we see the irreversible havoc wrought by malnutrition, especially in children, and when experts tell us that, if nothing is done to remedy this frightful situation, 500 million children will die of hunger during the next 50 years in Southern Asia alone, we are compelled to recognize that vast areas of the Third World have become, or shortly will become, immense death camps.

Our world is small and we no longer can write off world hunger and say that it isn't our problem. We are part of the problem. Indications of the need to change our life style, so that hungry people can be fed are: our concern for diets and the amount of food thrown away. World wide hunger would be greatly helped if we threw away a little less food and contributed the money saved towards feeding starving people.

Peace will be elusive as long as we live as we do, and until we see that we indeed are our brother's keeper. Jerry cozy corner

By Roger Brown

While making my rounds hawking ads for the Ledger a couple of weeks ago, I came across what I thought was a heckuva good deal on a little mini-bike for my kids. This particular model is made by Suzuki and is designed to look just like their big moto-cross bikes with everything scaled down so that it is perfect for kids like mine who are five and seven years old. They have been bugging me for one of these things ever since they saw one at the Grand Rapids Boat Show two years ago, but I have resisted because the price of a new one was prohibitive for my budget.

The temptation was too great to pass up and I bought the bike knowing full well how it was going to sit with the powers that be, and that Terese might have me in the dog house for a few days. When I sprang it on everybody that night after work, the kids naturally went bonkers and as I had guessed, Terese's response was an icy glare. Her only words were, "They're going to kill themselves!"

We fired it up and, after a brief instructional period, the kids were riding it around the yard like they had been born on it, while I busied myself by supervising them and at the same time trying to sell the idea to Terese.

This particular bike comes from the factory with a de-tuned fifty cc motor that will only allow the bike to go at a very slow speed, but the previous owner had removed the restrictor that slowed the bike down. I've got one of these restrictors ordered, but I've let the kids ride in the meantime under my close supervision. They quickly discovered that they could go fast as soon as they got out of my sight when going around the house. I caught on to this eventually when I thought I could hear the motor revving faster on the other side of the house, and I ran around the other way in time to catch Casey zipping through the front yard at about twice the speed he was going in the back yard.

Things went pretty well until last Saturday morning. I still didn't have the restrictor, but I let the kids ride it anyway while I worked sorting cans in the garage. The garage door was open and I could hear them if they got going too fast, so I figured I had things pretty well covered and went on with my sorting.

I didn't hear the crash, but I did notice that I couldn't hear the motor running and took off to investigate. Just then Angie came around the corner of the house crying and saying that she would fix the fence. Simultaneously, Terese came flying out of the house, visibly upset.

Angie was unhurt, the bike was unhurt, but the new stockage fence by the patio was really hurt. It seems that Angie drove the bike up onto the patio, decided she was going too fast to make the turn back out onto the lawn, and instead of stopping, she panicked and jumped off. The bike kept going and went through a section of fence at the end of the patio.

All this took place under the watchful eye of you-know-who as she sat at the kitchen table having a cup of coffee. No, the bike is not for sale, and the dogs didn't have a new bed partner that night, but almost. The bike does sit in the garage however, waiting for a restrictor and a little calmer weather, both inside and out.

Two earn WMU degrees

Two Lowell students are included in the official list of those who received degrees from Western Michigan University at its recent commencement to end the first semester of the current school year.

Richard Allen Herweyer, 11197 Keystone, Lowell, earned a Master of Arts degree. Diana Jean Keim, daughter of Mr. Vern Keim of 13597 36th St., earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree.

IN THE SERVICE

Coast Guard Lt. j.g. Gilbert W. Fonger, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Fonger of 611 N. Washington, Lowell, has been awarded the Coast Guard Unit Commendation.

He received the award for service as an officer assigned to Coast Guard cutter Boutwell during the rescue of 520 persons from the stricken Dutch cruise ship Prinsendam in October 1980. The Prinsendam caught fire off the Alaskan coast and the Boutwell, homeported in Seattle, Wash., assisted in the rescue operations in which the total crew and passenger complement was saved.

The Boutwell recently departed on an Alaskan fisheries patrol which will last about two months. During the patrol, the Boutwell will maintain surveillance over the foreign fishing fleets and conduct law enforcement boarding within the 200-mile limit to ensure compliance with the Fisheries Conservation and Management Act.

Fonger is a 1975 graduate of Lowell Senior High School, and a 1979 graduate of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., with a bachelor of science degree. His wife, Paula, is the daughter of Lester M. and Bernice I. Kirby of 947 Sargent, Ada.

Navy Seaman Recruit Brian F. Kosko, son of Richard and Sherry Kosko, 7269 Thorncrest Dr. SE, Ada, graduated with honors from recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

He was commended for his outstanding performance in all phases of training. Kosko reported to the San Diego Naval Training Center in December 1980.

RULES FOR COMPLIANCE WITH FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION ORDER NO. 69 COGENERATION AND SMALL POWER PRODUCTION

1. Introduction

1.1 The Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978 (PURPA), under Section 210, requires the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) to develop rules which encourage Cogeneration and Small Power Production. Pursuant to Section 210, regulations have been prepared by FERC and published in the Federal Register [45 FR 12214, February 25, 1980]. Lowell Light & Power Co. ["Utility"] which is a nonregulated electric utility will implement, to the extent possible, the procedures and requirements of FERC Order No. 69, pursuant to these rules.

1.2 These rules apply to all entities willing and able to enter into an agreement with the Utility. Provisions of these rules shall not supersede existing contracts. Entities who have the status of "qualifying small power production facility" and/or "qualifying cogeneration facility" hereinafter referred to collectively as qualifying facility, pursuant to FERC Order No. 70 [45 FR 17950, March 20, 1980] are eligible to apply for service under these rules.

1.3 These rules represent general guidelines since the nature, size, and character of qualifying facilities can vary widely. The Utility reserves the right to evaluate qualifying facilities on a case by case basis.

2. Definitions: Terms have defined in Order No. 69 [18 CFR Part 292] shall have the same meaning for these rules unless further defined.

2.1 Accredited Capacity: The electrical rating given to generating equipment that meets the Utility's criteria for uniform rating of generation equipment. This criteria includes but is not limited to reliability, availability, type of equipment, and the degree of coordination between the qualifying facility and the Utility.

2.2 Capacity Costs: The costs associated with providing the capability to deliver energy. They consist of the capital costs of facilities used to generate and transmit electricity or the cost to purchase such capacity from other utilities.

2.3 Demand: The average rate in kilowatts at which electric capacity is made available as determined at the point of measurement during any 30 minute period or any other period to be determined by the Utility.

2.4 Energy: Electric energy as measured in kilowatt hours at the point of measurement.

2.5 Energy Costs: The variable costs associated with the production of electric energy. They represent energy related cost only, or the average cost of purchased energy. Identifiable capacity charges included in purchased power agreements shall not be included in the calculation of the cost of purchased energy.

2.6 Point of Measurement: The point or points where energy and/or demand are metered.

2.7 Point of Interconnection: The point or points at which the qualifying facility is to receive and/or deliver energy or capacity and energy under normal operating conditions.

2.8 Prudent Utility Practice: Any of the practices, methods, and acts engaged in or approved by a significant portion of the electrical utility industry consistent with the reliability, safety, and expedition.

3. Conditions of Service: The conditions listed in this paragraph shall apply to all qualifying facilities served under these rules.

3.1 The Utility shall purchase energy or capacity and energy from any qualifying facility who offers to sell energy or capacity and energy.

3.2 The Utility shall sell any capacity and energy that is required by the qualifying facility to the qualifying facility. The qualifying facility shall be billed under the applicable residential, general, industrial, or contractual service schedule.

3.3 The Utility shall offer to provide maintenance, interruptible, supplementary, and back-up power to the qualifying facility if requested by the qualifying facility.

3.4 The qualifying facility shall execute a written agreement with the Utility. The Utility reserves the right to waive this requirement. The waiving of this requirement by the Utility does not relinquish the Utility's right to require the execution of a written agreement in the future.

3.5 The qualifying facility shall comply with all requirements of the National Electrical Safety Code, American National Standards, Institute, Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and any other applicable local, state, or national code and operate its equipment according to prudent utility practices. In case of any conflict in the foregoing codes or standards, the Utility shall decide which shall govern.

3.6 The Utility shall interconnect in parallel with the qualifying facility. The qualifying facility shall, to the point of interconnection; furnish, install, operate, and maintain in good order and repair and without cost to the Utility such relays, locks and seals, breakers, automatic synchronizers, and other control and protective equipment as shall be designated by the Utility as being required as suitable for the operation of the qualifying facility in parallel with the Utility's system. The qualifying facility shall take appropriate steps to insure that operating in parallel will not degrade in any fashion the quality of service that is normally maintained on the Utility's system.

3.7 Switching equipment capable of isolating the qualifying facility from the Utility's system shall be accessible to the Utility or its agent at all times.

3.8 At its option, the Utility or its agent may choose to operate, without notice or liability, the switching equipment described in 3.6 above if, in the opinion of the Utility or its agent, continued operation of the qualifying facility in connection with the Utility's system may create or contribute to a system emergency or safety hazard. The Utility obligation to purchase from the qualifying facility ceases when the Utility or its agent operates the switching equipment described in 3.6 above. The Utility shall endeavor to minimize any adverse effects of such operation on the qualifying facility.

3.9 The qualifying facility shall indemnify and hold harmless the Utility from any and all liability arising from the operation and interconnection of the customer's facilities. The qualifying facility shall bear full responsibility for the installation and safe operation of the equipment required to generate and deliver energy or capacity and energy to the point of interconnection.

3.10 The Utility shall provide upon request sufficient data to allow the customer to determine the cost effectiveness of the qualifying facility if it goes into operation pursuant to these rules. The data given will conform to the outline given in §282.303 [Order No. 69 - 18 CFR Part 292].

3.11 Any costs of interconnection incurred by the Utility due to the interconnection of the qualifying facility, which are over and above the interconnection costs that would be incurred due to the connection of a comparable non-generating customer, shall be the responsibility of the qualifying facility. Interconnection cost may be amortized over a period of time not greater than the length of the contract between the Utility and the qualifying facility.

3.12 The Utility may discontinue purchase from the qualifying facility if the Utility determines that purchase from the qualifying facility would result in cost greater than those which the Utility would incur if it did not make such

3.13 The Utility will give sufficient notice to the qualifying facility when it intends to invoke paragraph 3.12.

3.14 The Utility may discontinue sales to the qualifying facility during a system emergency, providing that such discontinuance is on a nondiscriminatory basis.

3.15 By mutual agreement between the Utility and the qualifying facility, the Utility will transmit energy or capacity and energy to another utility for purchase by that utility. The Utility shall be fairly compensated for such transmission.

3.16 The qualifying facility shall provide an advance payment to the Utility if in the opinion of the Utility the costs of interconnection will be excessive and/or the amount of work that must be done by the Utility to provide the interconnection facilities will be excessive.

4. Rates for Sales

4.1 The Utility shall purchase the surplus energy or surplus capacity and energy from qualifying facilities in which construction was commenced on or before November 8, 1978. The rate paid by the Utility to the qualifying facility for such surplus energy or surplus capacity and energy shall be a negotiated rate.

4.2 Qualifying facilities of 100 kW or less shall be paid a standard rate, except as otherwise stated in 4.1, based on avoided cost as outlined in 4.4 and 4.5. The installation of metering equipment shall be according to Utility policy.

4.3 For qualifying facilities of 100 kW or more, the qualifying facility may negotiate a contract with the Utility. For qualifying facilities who choose not to negotiate, or in the event of an impasse in negotiations between the Utility and the qualifying facility, avoided costs will be paid. Such avoided costs shall be determined as outlined in 4.4 and 4.5 except as otherwise stated in 4.1.

4.4 Avoided energy costs shall be the estimated or actual energy costs adjusted for the following items:

A. The costs or savings to the Utility resulting from variations in line losses from those that would have existed in the absence of purchase from the qualifying facility, if the Utility generated or purchased an equivalent amount of energy.

B. Sanctions imposed for noncompliance with these rules and any contract between the Utility and the qualifying facility.

4.5 Capacity payments shall be made in any case in which the qualifying facility enters into a legally enforceable contract to provide accredited capacity. The payment for the capacity purchase from the qualifying facility, shall reflect the cost of the Utility's future alternative source of capacity of similar capability. The payments shall take into account the following items of information:

A. Length of the contract term.
B. Reasonable scheduling of maintenance.
C. Willingness and ability of the customer to allow the Utility to dispatch the customer's generation.
D. The Utility's ability to defer a purchase from another source or to defer construction of a facility or a portion of a facility.
E. Sanctions imposed for noncompliance with these rules and any contract between the Utility and the qualifying facility.
F. Availability and reliability of the qualifying facility.

Save $$: stop feeding garbage can

If you want to cut down on your family food budget, stop wasting food," according to Charles Chandler, executive director of the Michigan Food Dealers Association (MFDA). According to Chandler, a recent study by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture (USDA), found that Americans waste between seven and 35 percent of the food they purchase.

"Consumer waste occurs during any stage of handling once the food leaves the store. Losses are caused during transportation home and when food which should be refrigerated is left on the shelf. Food spoils in pantries and refrigerators. Containers are broken and significant losses occur from spillage and overcooking," said Chandler.

A "garbage can" study conducted by the University of Arizona found that during periods of shortages of such items as beef and sugar, people waste more, not less. The researchers speculated that when beef prices rise, consumers turn to beef products with which they are unfamiliar. Consequently, much beef is wasted due to poor preparation.
