Cable TV service slightly behind schedule

The Lowell cable TV service is running perhaps two weeks behind schedule because of detailed investigations of some new technology in the field. The device that was getting all the scrutiny is an addressable converter system that would allow the Lowell Cable Television Department to shut off a customer for non-payment with a mere flick of a switch at the headend station, or put a customer on one of the fee channels for say one night to watch a particular movie or sporting event.

Though this system had a lot of advantages, the additional cost of $200,000 to $300,000 outweighed its merits. One disadvantage to the system learned from cable companies who have it, is that once customer service has been shut off, it's difficult to get the $150 converter box back from the customer. The Lowell system will be installing heavy cable and converters capable of eventually carrying up to 52 channels. The initial system will carry 18 basic channels and two extra fee channels, HBO and CineMax.

The old Lowell D.P.W. garage at the corner of Avery and Lafayette Streets will serve as the system's headend station. After testing it was concluded that this site was more suitable and had less interference than Reservoir Hill. The dish for receiving satellite signals will be mounted on the roof of the building and the tower for receiving over-the-air signals will be erected on the property adjacent to the building. The building will also house other related equipment. The tower has already arrived. The headend station should be operable by mid October.

Though the contract has not yet been let, the construction of the entire system to include the initial "drops" into subscriber's homes will be done by a professional firm. Representatives of the Lowell Cable Television Department traveled to Iowa to inspect a municipally owned system that was installed by the village employees there. King Doyle, chairman of the Lowell Light and Power Board, termed this home-made system as, "lousy".

The group also inspected a system in Wisconsin that was professionally installed and found it to be "extremely well-done and operating beautifully".

On the checklist of major obstacles in the completion of the system; FCC licensing, negotiations with contractors and suppliers, and strand (cable) mapping are all complete, or nearly so. Completion of the headend, distributing the system (stringing cable and hooking up homes) and system alignment are all scheduled to be complete by late fall or early winter.

The Lowell Cable Television Department is currently preparing a packet that will be distributed door-to-door. The packet will contain a list of the 18 basic channels the system will offer, brochures explaining HBO and CineMax extra fee channels and a complete breakdown of pricing to include options such as extra TV hook-ups and lockable converters.

Veen Observatory "Open House" all this week

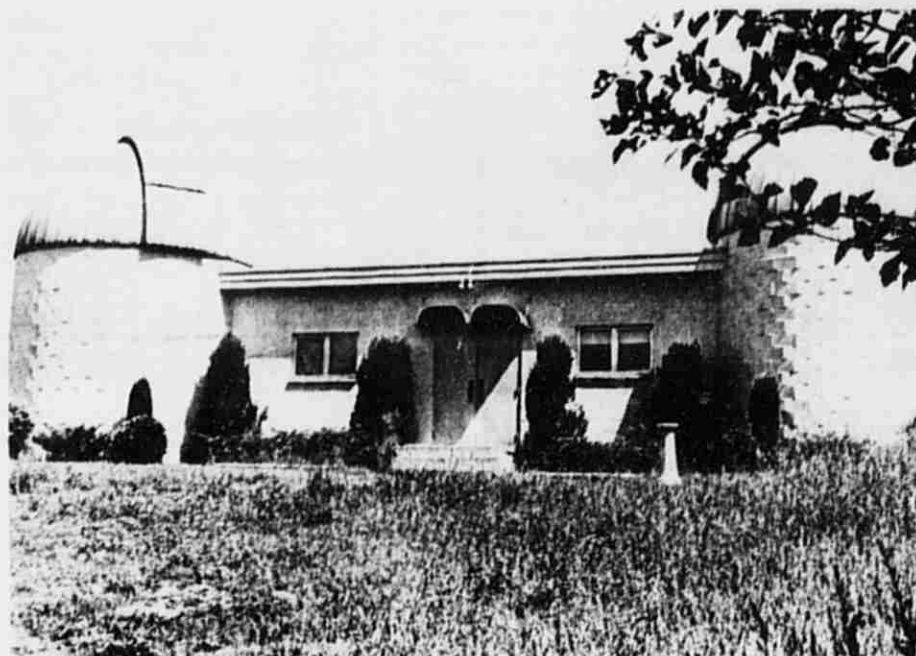

You may not be able to catch a falling star and put it in your pocket, but at the Veen Observatory's Annual Open House you may be able to catch a glimpse of your favorite star ... close up. The week long Open House runs from Monday August 23 through Friday August 27 from 8:30-11:00 p.m. The Veen Observatory is located at 3308 Kissing Rock Road (just off 36th street) in Lowell. The Open House is free.

The James C. Veen Observatory is a multi-faceted astronomical observation and educational center designed and built by the Grand Rapids Amateur Astronomical Association with assistance from the Grand Rapids Public Museum. It took five years to complete, and was financed through donations from numerous charitable sources. The facility was dedicated and officially opened on June 21, 1970, and it is named in honor of the co-founder of the Astronomical Association.

In addition to three fully equipped optical telescopes, the observatory houses a lecture room seating 40 people, a library, and photographic darkroom. There is also a radio telescope and special instrument for observing the sun.

The facilities are used almost every clear night for various activities, including individual observation and photographic programs, field trips for school classes, and periodic public inspection.

Veen Observatory

The largest telescope at the Veen Observatory possesses a reflecting mirror, 12½ inches in diameter. Its relatively short focal ratio makes it particularly well suited for observation and photography of very faint and extended celestial subjects, such as nebulas and clusters.

The Veen Observatory is open to the public on the second Saturday and last Friday of each month, 8:30 to 11 p.m., from April through October. When the sky is clear, observations are permitted through the Borr Reflector, with an alternate program and inspection of equipment conducted on cloudy nights.

Tidds, McQueen go before judge

Victor Tidd, 35, and his wife Judith Tidd, 33, of 3285 Alden Nash, S.E., Lowell and Donald R. McQueen, 24, of 130 Montcalm Ave., N.E., Lowell all appeared before 63rd District Court Judge Joseph White Tuesday afternoon for a pre-trial examination on charges stemming from their arrest here on August 20. The Tidds were charged with delivery of marijuana and possession with intent to deliver marijuana. McQueen was charged with delivery of LSD and delivery of LSD and delivery of marijuana.

All three were arrested by Kent County Sheriff's Department officers during a raid on the Tidd residence. Sixty pounds of marijuana and business records were confiscated in the raid.

Victor Tidd and McQueen were bound over to district court for trial on the original charges. Judith Tidd pled guilty to a third charge of possession of marijuana, and the original two charges were dropped. Judith Tidd's sentencing was postponed pending a pre-trial examination by 63rd District Court probation officers.

Lawrence Goodman of Ionia was on the receiving end of a rear end collision Tuesday afternoon on Main near Smith St. with David Harkrader, also of Ionia. No injuries were reported.

Allan Smith failed to see a 14 year old Lowell juvenile riding her bicycle on Avery near Monroe Wednesday afternoon and struck the cycle. The injured party received only minor injuries.

Given a citation to appear in 63rd District Court at a later date were Dale Wolfert of Saranac and Jeffery Wright of Ionia on charges of open containers of alcohol in a motor vehicle and Possession (Use of Marijuana). Both were stopped for a traffic violation by Lowell officers Friday evening.

Failure to yield right-of-way at a stop intersection was the cause of a property damage accident Saturday afternoon at Main and Monroe, when Tena Alderink exited Monroe Street into the path of a car driven by Dolores Laux.

which give a false and misleading impression of our ball programs.
Prior to the beginning of the ball season it was stated and agreed to policy of the YMCA that in our youth leagues there would be no official standings kept, nor would there be trophies presented. Instead, certificates of participation were presented to all the youth who participated in the program.
The trophies pictured were provided by the team coach and without official standings, the title "champs" is self-appointed.
To the members of the other teams in the Baseball and Softball programs, the YMCA offers its sincere apologies and wishes to publicly thank them for their sportsmanship and cooperation.

Sincerely,
Rich Greenwood,
Chairperson,
Lowell Family YMCA

New emergency food depots in county

Lowell city and township are now cooperating fully with churches, governmental organizations and other interested persons in a far-reaching program to care for emergency food and clothing needs, as well as limited assistance with utility bills, medical needs, etc. Other cooperating townships, working in and through A.C.C.E.S.S.-6 are: Ada, Vergennes, Cascade, Bowne and Caledonia.

Three food depots have been established at Lowell United Methodist Church, Cascade Christian Church and the Holy Family Catholic Church in Caledonia. Clothing needs will be cared for at the Second Mile House of Cascade Christian Church. Requests for food are to be made by contacting the aforementioned churches, with requests for those seeking monetary assistance with utility and medical needs.

Inasmuch as governmental welfare sources have dwindled to nothingness, area churches first sounded the need for an organized effort to assist those in need. Most of the churches in the larger six-township area have registered a real interest in this united effort. Already hundreds of dollars, clothing and foodstuffs have been donated to undergird A.C.C.E.S.S.-6.

All requests for assistance are held in strictest confidence, and it is not necessary to belong to a church to seek assistance. A committee of five persons, chaired by Jane Wood of Cascade, screens all requests for monetary assistance. Operating under a not-for-profit charter, gifts are sought from those wishing to share. Food for the distribution centers should be taken directly to the three designated churches, with clothing to be taken to Cascade's Second Mile House. Financial contributions should be made to A.C.C.E.S.S.-6, in care of 2829 Thornapple River Drive SE, Grand Rapids, Michigan 49506. Mrs. Evelyn Schurtz is the treasurer, handling the receipt and dispensation of monies.

Member churches, organizational groups and governmental units will be meeting twice-a-year in open meeting to review the work being done. For more information call: Raymond Gaylord, Cascade Christian Church; 949-1360.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

"And he that taketh not his cross...is not worthy of me (Matthew 10:38).

No doubt the most appealing part of a cake is the icing. Sometimes children want to eat the icing only. All too frequently they must be forced to "eat it all." If a child could get away with eating all the icing he wanted, he might find it produced disappointing results. Too much of a good thing does bad things to the tummy.

Strange as it may seem, some adult Christians also have tried to get by with "eating only the icing on the cake." And with dire results.

God has given us many blessings to enjoy, material as well as spiritual. But one cannot live on blessings alone. Christian discipleship also involves taking up and bearing our cross and following Christ. This may call for patient endurance. "Bearing the cross" means different things for different people. With all, however, there is a common denominator - that of making Christ supreme in our life, of loving Him with all our heart, soul, mind, and strength, of submitting to His will, and being obedient to His biddings.

Blessings and crosses. Crosses and blessings. Without either, the Christian life is incomplete. No one in God's Kingdom can get by successfully by eating only "the icing on the cake."

Prayer: Dear Jesus, Thy cross Thou didst willingly bear for me. Help me to take up my cross and bear it willingly for Thee. Amen.

Must Jesus bear the cross alone,

And all the world go free? No, there's a cross for ev'ry one,

And there's a cross for me.

Thornapple music festival goes country

The Thornapple Music Festival at Charlton Park near Hastings is going country for its third show of 1982 on Sunday, August 29. Everything from the original country music of Ernest Tubbs and the Texas swing of Bob Wills to the modern music of Charlie Daniels, with some bluegrass thrown in for good measure, can be expected from the four bands performing.

On stage will be the Dirk Rivers Band, Horsefeather, Four Wheel Drive and Stone Oak. The music at the fund-raising festival for the county owned park begins at 11:30 a.m.

The Dirk Rivers Band has attracted a large following in the Grand Rapids area performing the newest in country and progressive country-rock music at the top night spots. The band is well-known for its high-energy shows punctuated by dual-guitar work.

Four Wheel Drive, on the other hand, has gained its reputation at Bowers in Kalamazoo and other area clubs from its versions of traditional country music. The band highlights its shows with pedal steel guitar and fiddle.

Horsefeather also built its reputation in the Grand Rapids area. The band re-formed with some new members two years ago to widen its repertoire to include bluegrass, traditional and progressive country music.

Stone Oak is the only out-of-state band to appear at the third Thornapple Music Festival. Based in Madison, Wisconsin, a city noted for its musical talent, Stone Oak bills itself as a band that performs bluegrass, newgrass and western swing.

The Thornapple Music Festivals, begun in 1975, are set apart from other music shows because they take place in the center of a restored Historical Village of a hundred years ago. The stage is set at the focal point of the Park's natural amphitheater, nestled on the banks of the Thornapple River.

Charlton Park is located five miles east of Hastings off M-79.

Admission to the festival is $5.00 for adults, 50c for children under 12 and free for preschoolers. No pets allowed in the festival area. For more information, call (616) 945-3775.

BUS RULES FOR RIDERS

Transportation to and from school is offered to approximately 2,500 students each day. The safety of your children is the chief concern of the home and the school. It must be realized that anything that happens on the bus to divert the driver's attention immediately puts the safety of your children in jeopardy. Therefore, it is absolutely necessary that all students riding the buses conduct themselves in an orderly manner. We would appreciate your taking a few minutes to review with your children the following bus safety rules:

1. What is expected aboard the bus.
2. The reasons for having rules of conduct.
3. If bus rules are not obeyed they may lose the privilege of riding the bus.

REPONSIBILITY OF STUDENTS

1. Be on time - the bus cannot wait for you.
2. No eating, smoking or pop on the bus.
3. Remain seated when bus is in motion.
4. Keep head, arms and hands inside windows.
5. Be courteous - no profane language.
6. Obey drivers requests cheerfully.
7. Driver may assign seats. Individual drivers may add rules for their bus as they feel them to be necessary.
8. Students must go directly into school after leaving bus.
9. All students must be quiet at Railroad crossings.

Kindergarten Information For Parents

If your child has not been previously registered, this should be done as soon as possible. You will need:

1. Birth Certificate
2. A Record of Immunization
3. Proof of Vision and Hearing Test
4. Medical and Dental
5. Completed registration

To comply with state regulations we cannot officially enroll your child in Kindergarten on the first day of school without the above listed items.

By Roger Brown

Somebody asked me the other day, "Is Thor still alive?" The question was prompted because I haven't written about the old fool in some time. Well, the answer is "yes", in fact he just turned nine years old the other day. He's lying here beside me while I'm trying to get something going with this column, but his stomach is growling so loudly that I'm totally distracted. I guess I've got to feed him.

I didn't feel like feeding him, so I locked him in the kids' room. As long as I have started on the subject of Thor, I guess I'll try to keep going and make a column out of it.

We took the big dummy camping with us this past weekend. It was the first time he's gone with us in quite awhile because of an operation he had to remove a tumor from his foot. When he was allowed to get into the van when we were ready to take off Friday afternoon, I thought for a minute that we must have had at least a dozen dogs in there. He was so excited that he was jumping from one seat to another, running from one end of the van to another, and trampling everything in sight; kids, potato chips, Terese, me ... I finally slugged him and got him to settle down a bit. Nine years old, and the only thing he really understands is a good smack.

When we arrived at the campground Thor was out of the first open door like a rocket. He was so excited that no amount of whistling or yelling was going to get him back, so I took off after him. I got him chased down just as he was getting ready to cock his leg on some guy's pup tent. He stayed on his chain until we got camp set up and could keep an eye on him.

The next day we sailed over to the sand dunes and Thor caught his Frisbee for anybody who would throw it for him, swam in the lake, ran up and down the dunes and chased a beagle around all day. That night around the campfire I thought he was dead. The day had just been too much for the poor old guy. He was too tired to even beg at the supper table, and we had his favorite; pork chops. When you are 63 (doggie age), you just can't go jike you can when you are a puppy. That hasn't dawned on Thor yet, but maybe it will someday.

The next morning Terese let the big dummy out on his chain in the rain to relieve himself. When she let him back in he made a flying leap to jump up into bed with me, muddy paws and all. I saw him coming and stiff-armed him in the chest while he was in mid-air. He went down in a heap, but not before he got his front paws on Terese's clean white sheets. Luckily it was her side of the bed.

Some friends came up Sunday and we all decided to stay over and drive back early Monday. As we were going to bed, Thor got it in his head to wander off. I went through the camp at about 11:30 whistling and calling for him; I woke up half the campground but he never came. I gave up and went to bed, leaving the camper door open for him. Sure enough, about ten minutes later he came strolling in. I figure he nailed that guy's pup tent for sure.

So, as you can see, Thor is still very much alive. "Why is he still alive?" is probably a more appropriate question than, "Is he still alive?"

Ask The Governor

QUESTION: On my fixed income I can barely pay my gas bill and I don't know what I'll do when the weather gets cold again. Why does the public service commission allow the gas company to keep raising rates?

GOVERNOR: The current economic climate has created a very real hardship on Michigan. Neither consumers nor the utility companies have escaped this economic hardship.

It is true that these costs have skyrocketed in recent years. As you may know, the increases allowed by the Public Service Commission are based on the costs to the company of generating electricity. The rates must reflect these costs. Generally there is extensive documentation from the Public Service Commission's staff outlining why a certain rate of increase is or is not needed; rarely is the full amount requested by the utility companies granted by the Public Service Commission. While this system is not as desirable as the pricing that results from competition, it is the only method of control devised for regulation of monopolies.

QUESTION: The recent uproar over the execution of a convicted murderer in Virginia made me realize that very soon we will decide the future of capital punishment in Michigan. I would like to know what your stance on capital punishment is and why.

GOVERNOR: I have given the matter of capital punishment a great deal of thought and find I cannot change my view that it serves little but emotion and revenge. If capital punishment reduced the incidence of murder, I would consider it. If capital punishment lowered the crime rate, I would consider it. But, in state after state where capital punishment has been imposed and used, the chief result has been endless litigation in the courts by individuals seeking to block its use.

Dedication of new 4-H dairy barn

The new Kent County 4-H Dairy Barn, just constructed for the 1982 Kent County 4-H Youth Fair, was dedicated on August 9th, opening day of the Fair. The 4-H animals filled the barn, making a fabulous livestock display which received favorable comments from all who visited that week.

Funding of the Dairy Barn was undertaken by a committee of local dairy leaders. To raise money, they raffled off freezer beef, manded the Little Red Dairy Barn ice cream and milk sales at the Fair, donated livestock for sale, and received community co-operation in the form of generous donations and gifts. A heartfelt thanks goes to the following local donors: State Savings Bank, Ada Beef Co., Terry & Joice Smith, Elmer Smith, Willis & Arlene Hatch, Reg & Diane Cridler, Tom's Meat Processing, Chris Wenger, Metternick Electric Co., Terry & Jean Nugent, Joe Oesch, Ron & Barb Wenger, Steadfast Buildings, Michigan Milk Producers Assn., Independent Milk Producers Co-op., Pickett & Scheurer, O.E. Bieri & Sons, Jerry & Joann Hale, Jim & Berdie Cook, Gordon & Marsha Wilcox, Fuss Farm, Vern & Gay Nauta, Wingeier Dairy Farm, Bill & Carol Wieland, Jerry & Diane Richmond, and Kropf Chemical Co.

Anyone making a $50 contribution or more will be listed on a plaque to be installed in the New 4-H Dairy Barn. Donations are tax deductible and may be sent to the Kent County 4-H Dairy Barn Fund, Kent County 4-H Office, 836 Fuller NE., Grand Rapids, Mich. 49503. With such great community response, over half of the $28,000 cost has already been raised.

CHIROPRACTORS

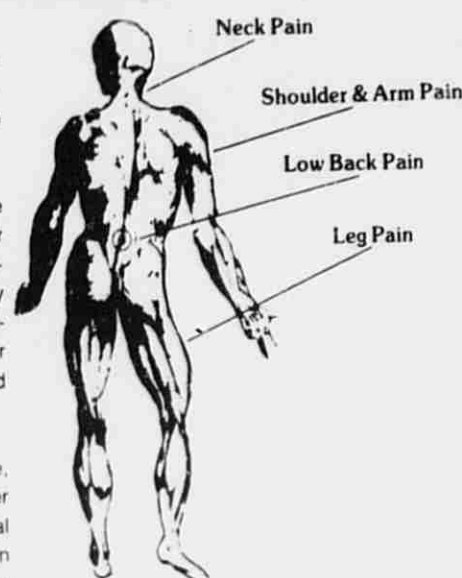

LOWER BACK PROBLEM

If you've been treated for a back problem or lower back problems and the pain and discomfort are still there, you may be able to benefit from chiropractic treatment.

If your spine is out of alignment, this may be causing other problems in addition to lower back pain. Because the body's nervous system is closely integrated with the spine, any misalignment can cause painful irritation. Abnormal nerve function may affect whatever organs, glands, or tissues that are supplied by that nerve.

The nerves of the lower back, for example, are connected to certain organs and other structures in that area. If lower back spinal misalignment is putting undue pressure on the nerves, you may be suffering from more than lower back pain. It may be having a direct effect on other areas of your body.

A thorough examination can disclose exactly where the problem is and how it can be corrected.

AAA urges caution as schools open

Preventing "dart-outs," major factors in more than half of all school-related traffic deaths in 1981, is the aim of the Automobile Club of Michigan's 1982 "School's Open-Drive Carefully" campaign.

Fifteen students, ages 5 through 17, died in accidents before or after school last year. The Auto Club's studies show that eight of the victims were "dart-outs" crossed the street from between parked cars or at mid-block.

"With most schools opening Sept. 7, this is the time to begin reminding parents and motorists of their shared responsibility for children's safety," said Robert Cullen, the Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering manager. "Children must be reminded to cross at intersections while motorists must be prepared to stop for forgetful youngsters who cross at unexpected places."

Some 862,500 youngsters will cross streets or wait for buses as they attend elementary school this year. More than 116,000 will be going to school for the first time.

The Auto Club's study of the 1981 school-related accidents shows 60 percent of the victims were aged nine through 13 and nine of the fatal accidents occurred before school began.

Throughout the school year, the Auto Club will remind parents, teachers and children of traffic safety rules through the "School's Open" and Safety Patrol programs. The Auto Club is distributing 10,200 ponchos, 6,000 badges and 11,000 belts for patrollers and 65,000 training booklets and other traffic safety supplies to 4,200 Michigan schools.

"School's Open - Drive Carefully" bumper stickers and placemats are available free to the public at the Auto Club's 56 offices statewide.

The Auto Club recommends these pedestrian safety habits for children: Look in all directions before walking across intersections and watch for turning cars even on a green light.

Obey safety patrollers and crossing guards. Always use the sidewalk. If there isn't one, walk facing traffic. Dress in light-colored clothing for maximum visibility. Follow the safest route to school, which should be planned on streets with low traffic volume and controlled intersections.

Motorists also are reminded that state law requires them to stop at least 10 feet behind a bus when it is loading or unloading and stay stopped until the lights stop flashing.

Law of Reruns: If you have watched a TV series only once, and watch it again, it will be a rerun of the same episode.

THAT'S A GOOD IDEA!

Celebrate Grandparents Day On September 12

The effort of two individuals caused a Congressional act, a Presidential proclamation and a new American holiday. Due to their efforts, Grandparents Day has been celebrated on the Sunday after Labor Day since 1979.

A West Virginia mother of 15, Marian McQuade, and a Georgia grandfather, Mike Goldgar, got the ball rolling. Goldgar recalls that he first got the idea while visiting an elderly aunt in a nursing home. He was struck by the loneliness of many of the residents and resolved to do something to make their lives more pleasant.

Since 1979, Grandparents Day has grown in popularity, and some think it will soon rival Mothers Day and Fathers Day as a national celebration. On September 12, people across the nation will honor grandparents with a festive cake, a family reunion or dinner at a favorite restaurant.

As Goldgar says, "Grandparents remember - shouldn't you?"

Ionia Bank remodeling

First Security Bank has awarded a contract to remodel the exterior of its main office building on Main Street at Depot in downtown Ionia. William Morris and Son Construction Company, an Ionia contractor, will do the work.

In addition the bank has purchased the building now occupied by Phil's Wallpaper and Paint Store located next to the bank on Main Street. Plans are being made to expand the bank's operations into this building and to remodel the exterior.

Harry R. Larkin, President of the bank stated, "Remodeling the exterior of our present building will give it a more traditional look consistent with the objectives of the downtown Ionia Revitalization Program. The bank has always been in strong support of the downtown area and is committed to contribute in every way possible to its success."

"The expansion of our present operation into the adjoining building will allow us to improve the bank's level of service. We appreciate our customer's business and their loyalty to the bank. We feel we have an obligation to provide a high level of service in return."

"We will invest well over $200,000 in both these projects. We hope the community and our customers will view our investment in this remodeling and expansion as tangible evidence of our continued support and confidence in Ionia and the Revitalization effort."

Larkin added, "The work will begin as soon as the necessary custom materials are available. We trust that our customers will bear with us during the remodeling. I'm sure they will agree with us that the temporary inconvenience will be well justified by the results."

First Security Bank is an affiliate of Independent Bank Corporation. In addition to its Ionia main office, First Security Bank operates branches in Belding, Saranac, Lyons-Muir, Carson City and Lowell.

It's a Repurchase Agreement from First Security Bank — the small investment with a large return.

You simply invest $1,500 or more. And the bank will agree to repay your investment with interest on any date from 29 to 89 days in the future. You choose the maturity date that meets your investment needs.

Because a Repurchase Agreement is not a bank deposit, it is not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. However, you will receive a security interest in a bank-owned U.S. government security that helps to protect your investment.

You can find out more about Repurchase Agreements at any of our offices. Or call us and we'll send you a brochure that answers most questions about this exciting new way to earn high interest on the money you've been keeping in a savings account.
