Better ambulance service coming for Lowell

Residents of the Lowell area will be provided with a limited ambulance service which may be available within three weeks, City Manager Ray Quada said Monday.

Acting in concert, the Vergennes Township, Lowell Township, and the City of Lowell will provide the initial funds for start-up expenses and maintenance costs for a service which will treat victims at the scene, but will not transport them.

Since Bud's Ambulance pulled out of the Lowell area, residents here have been without an area ambulance system. As a result, ambulances called to treat area residents may not arrive until 15-30 minutes after being called.

The system planned for the Lowell area will provide emergency care until a transporting ambulance could arrive.

According to Quada, the slow response time provided the impetus for the planned ambulance service. Officials discovered that the average response time for emergencies in the Lowell Area was 20-30 minutes.

The planned ambulance service, which will be staffed by local emergency medical technicians, will take the preliminary steps that all ambulance services must take. These steps include:

-- Determining whether a patient has an airway, is breathing adequately, and has circulation.

-- Asking about the patient's primary complaint and relieving it as much as possible.

-- Conducting a head-to-toe examination for injuries unnoticed by the patient.

When a transporting ambulance arrives at the scene, a member of the Lowell ambulance service can give paramedics preliminary information, thereby speeding the patient on his way to a hospital.

Quada stressed that Lowell area residents in need of police assistance or emergency medical care need only call 897-7123. This number will ring in at the Lowell Police Station during week days, and at all other times will automatically call the Kent County Sheriff's Office.

In either case, the dispatcher receiving the call will ask if ambulance service is needed, and if so, will contact the Lowell Rescue Unit and a transporting ambulance service.

The townships and the city are planning to purchase a used ambulance from Bud's, plus some additional equipment.

Costs for this ambulance service will be paid according to the population of the areas served - 39 percent for Lowell, 41 percent for Lowell Township, and 20 percent for Vergennes Township. The service is expected to cost the governments an initial $14,050.

Volunteers will staff this service among them reserve and regular police officers, and persons who took an Emergency Medical training class. Volunteers will be paid $8 per call, through funds provided by the local government units.

The present Lowell Reserve Squad will not be dismantled, but will act as a back-up for pulling traffic accident victims from mangled vehicles.

City, county & D.N.R. eye land swap

At their Monday, September 20 meeting, the Lowell City Council discussed at some length the article in Sunday's Grand Rapids Press regarding a possible land swap between the county and D.N.R. The proposed land deal would leave the county with an 80 acre parcel on the northeast edge of Lowell that is currently owned by the state. In exchange, the county would give the state a 40 acre parcel that is also on the northeast edge of Lowell, but more advantageous to the D.N.R. because it is adjacent to the state game area there. The current proposal also calls for the county to give up a parcel of undetermined size in the Fallsburg Park area.

Lowell Mayor Dean Collins attended a county meeting where the subject was discussed, and expressed his feelings Monday night that many of the ideas mentioned in the Press article are very premature. The article mentioned Lowell annexing the land, the land becoming a new home for the Gus Macker Tournament and the City of Lowell doing the developing. Collins pointed out that the city is bound by charter not to spend any money outside the city, which precludes any city financed development of the 80 acres unless the city first holds deed to it. Collins envisions the city getting involved if the area is to be developed as a passive park for hiking, cross-country skiing and other such uses, but can see many problems if plans call for covered picnic areas, ball fields, toilets and other items that would make it expensive to develop and maintain.

City manager Ray Quada felt that the Press article dwelt too heavily on the prospects of the land becoming a home for the Gus Macker Tournament. Quada said "we've provided a site for the Macker Tournament on Lowell's streets for the past nine years, and now that they have thoughts of moving it, they go straight to the county without asking us (the city) if we have anything available".

Councilman Jack Fonger pointed out that a park out on the edge of the city would be a difficult area to police should it ever be developed into a park such as Fallsburg.

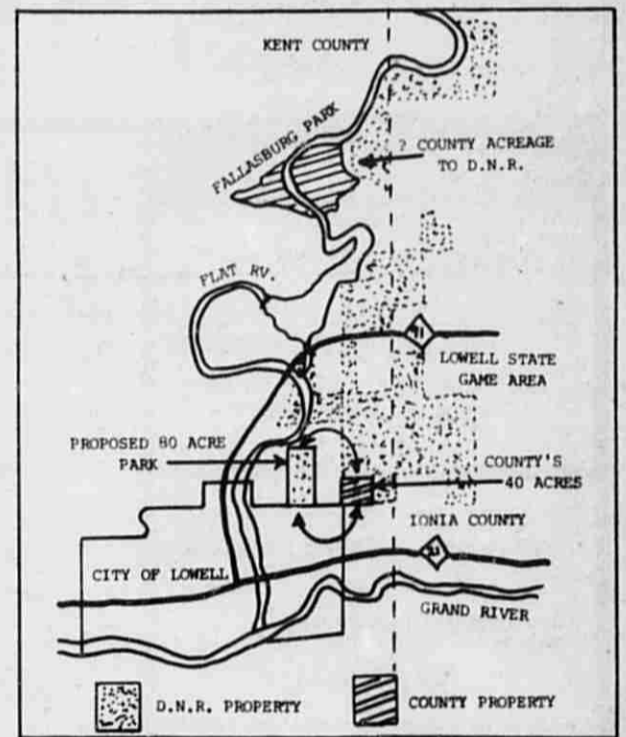

It's apparent that Lowell officials will take a "wait and see" posture in the matter while the Kent County Road Commission and D.N.R. continue their negotiations.

LOWELL BOY SHOT IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

Brian Ferguson, of 1016 Alden Nash Road in Lowell, was admitted to Butterworth Hospital Saturday night after a hunting accident.

Brian was hunting squirrels with his father when he apparently shot himself in the head. Kent County Sheriff's Deputies suspect that Brian's gun accidentally fired when he fell.

A spokesman for Butterworth Hospital said that Brian was still in critical condition and in the intensive care unit on Tuesday morning.

Lowell Cable TV Department to begin stringing wire Oct. 4

Superintendent of Lowell Light and Power Herb Haines reports that a crew will begin stringing cable for Lowell Cable T.V. service on October 4.

According to Haines, the cable strands must be hung on power poles between the electric and telephone lines with a certain amount of clearance between the separate lines. Consequently, crews from Lowell Light and Mullen Construction Company has been contracted to do the job of stringing.

Haines expects that this job will be completed by the end of November for residents of the City of Lowell. Area residents outside the city limits will be provided with cable service sometime after the service is operating for the city.

by Pauline E. Spray

Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad ... (Psalm 70:4).

Cecil was Buddy's senior by two years. He made the big decisions and exercised authority over his younger brother.

Although it seemed Buddy had to play second fiddle most of the time, yet he frequently was the recipient of Cecil's admiration. Wherever they went, Buddy was always finding something of value. And "finding things" is of great importance to little boys. Why was it Buddy who always found things — the gold thimble on the trash pile, the quarters and half dollar, a pearl handled knife? It was because he was always looking for lost treasure.

Some people never notice the beauty of the sky, the trees, the landscape. They never hear the song of the birds nor the rustling of the wind as it rushes through the leaves of the trees. They do not enjoy the fragrance of the flowers nor feel the warmth of the sun. Instead, they seek for gloom — and find it. They search for pain, and it is theirs.

We find what we are searching for. If we are seeking joy, we can have it. Jesus Christ, the author of joy, is waiting to bestow abundant blessings upon those who seek after Him with rejoicing and gladness. "What are you looking for?"

Prayer: Dear Jesus, Thou hast provided everything I need to be happy. Cause me to seek to be joyful and glad in Thee, to look for those things which will cause me to rejoice. Amen.

There is a place where Jesus sheds The oil of gladness on our heads, A place of all on earth most sweet; It is the blood-bought mercy-seat.

Jaycee Auxiliary sponsors Bike-a-thon

The Lowell Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring their annual St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-thon on October 2, 1982 with a rain date of October 9, 1982. The funds raised in this year's event will go to support the hospital's programs of research, patient care, and education.

St. Jude's Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. It's goals are to combat catastrophic diseases of childhood such as Leukemia, Hodgkins Disease, and Sickle Cell Anemia. Not only do they treat these terrible child killing diseases but they also seek the cause, cure, and prevention of them.

Last year, with the aid of only 15 dedicated children, we were proud to present St. Jude's Hospital with a check for $1,000.00. These 15 children and their sponsors should be proud to know that that contribution was one of the largest made by a Jaycee Auxiliary event in Michigan.

This year our goal is to at least double that amount so

The Bike-a-thon course will be the same as last year. It will consist of 1/2 mile laps chartered between the High School and Middle School parking lots. Registration will begin at noon with the event scheduled for 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. The sponsor sheets can be obtained at any of Lowell's schools, various churches in the area, or call Elsie Warner at 897-7117.

The ring was awarded by Al Foster, area representative for the American Bowling Congress, at Lowell Lanes during league bowling.

Shepard, who lives at 328 N. Jefferson, bowled his perfect game April 2, 1982.

Emergency Preparation, Citizenship, Webelos.

The main purpose for this is to let the public see scouting in action and just what they do and learn. This will also be a great time to sign boys up that would like to join in on the fun.

The agenda for the day is: 12:00-5:30 - view the many stations of scouting. 5:30-7:00 - a chili supper for all, prepared by the Boy Scouts. (FREE). 7:00 - ? - campfire, songs, skits, and award ceremonies.

Autumn Years

The laws regarding inheritance vary widely and change rapidly. Each individual should know how those in his (or her) area will affect him (or her) personally. In many instances, wives may be destined to come out on the short end.

All important papers should be kept in a bank safety deposit box or an insulated strong box so it can be easily removed in case of fire.

Your next of kin, or authorized agent, should know where you keep your strong box, safe deposit box key, or combination of safe in case of your illness or death.

Purchasing cemetery lots in advance affords a savings, not only in money, but in relief for loved ones at the time of bereavement. Markers, too, can be arranged for for future need.

An attorney can also assist one in putting into writing such requests as cremation or the bequeathing of one's body (or parts of one's body) to medical science.

Making funeral arrangements in advance may seem a bit gruesome, but it relieves many people of much stress.

We spend our years as a tale that is told ... The days of our years are three-score and ten ... So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom" (Ps. 90:9-12).

Having applied our "hearts unto wisdom," having made needful preparations, we are ready for the great transition -- whenever that time may come.

The Autumn Years, published by Beacon Hill Press of Kansas City. Price: $2.95. Pauline E. Spray's books may be purchased at Baker Book House, Paris and 28th, Grand Rapids. Also ask for them at The Bookworm, Zondervan's and Kregel's.

Varsity football loses in rain

In dreary weather Friday evening, the Lowell Varsity Football Team hosted conference for Coopersville, losing 0-8.

Coach Phil Christensen reports that the team played very well defensively, "much more aggressively than against Ionia."

Leading the Arrows in tackles was team captain Paul Whaley, who had 9 solo tackles with 5 assists. He was closely followed by teammates John Kloosterman, who had 8 tackles, and Jason Barber and Mike Fizer, with 6 tackles each.

According to Christensen, Lowell's lone defensive play was partially responsible for four Coopersville fumbles.

Offensively, Lowell's Don Videan caught one pass for a 55-yard gain. The team nearly scored just before half-time.

The only score of the game came early in the 4th quarter when Coopersville crossed the goal line with 10:45 remaining in the quarter.

The Varsity Football Team will play Lakewood Friday in an away game.

Girls Varsity wins two

Coach Kathy Talus reports that the girls' Varsity basketball team defeated their Coopersville opponents Tuesday, September 14 by a score of 39-36 in the first conference game of the 1982 season.

High scorer for Lowell was Junior Kathleen Beachler, who racked up 15 points for the Red Arrows. Beachler also pulled down 12 rebounds. Kerry Cosgrove contributed 12 points to the Lowell score.

In action Thursday, September 16, the varsity team earned their fourth victory in a row by defeating the Forest Hills Northern team, 44-34.

The Red Arrows jumped to an 8 point lead late in the second quarter, and maintained that lead for the rest of the game.

Chris Hildenbrand and Phyllis Beachler were high scorers for the game, with 18 and 10 points, respectively.

Coach Talus was pleased with the team effort. She said that the girls were "playing together as a team" and consequently, the team has no "star". There were 14 assists in the game, one indication that the girls are playing unselfishly. Talus said that the team is using the press effectively, and forcing a lot of turnovers.

Talus expects that the varsity team will make a "respectable" showing in conference play this year. Returning to the team from last year are team members Kerry Cosgrove, Phyllis Beachler, Lynn Dowling, and Kathleen Beachler.

Red Arrows wallop Cedar Springs

A formerly strong Cedar Springs tennis team was walloped by the Red Arrows, 7-0, in conference action Monday, September 20. In singles play, Tawnie Knott-nerus, Amy Hill, Diane Ritterger, and Kim McFall each defeated their opponents, giving up only 5 games in the 8 sets played.

The first doubles team of Pam Westcott and Dana Bock won 6-3, 6-2. Sue Westcott and Ruth Blakeley won in 3 sets, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3. And the third doubles team of Grace Peters and Keiko Tanaka also won 6-2, 6-4.

Coach Mark Weber said that the team faces some tougher competition in the weeks ahead.

The measuring worm — the caterpillar of a moth — can hold itself so stiff it looks amazingly like a twig.

Cross country breathless with victory

The Lowell High School Cross Country team has picked up its pace this past week with one conference win and a respectable showing at the Forest Hills Northern Invitational.

The conference meet with Lakewood was held at their course, and the runners from Lowell won by a score of 25-31.

The first five finishers for Lowell were George Schoolmaster, second overall; Matt Peters, third; Robert Shelby, fifth; Joe Grooge, seventh; and Chad Blasher, eighth.

At the Forest Hills Northern Invitational, out of a field of 14 teams, the girls Cross Country team finished sixth, with Kathleen Schoenborn top finisher.

The men's team gained a competitive fourth place, with George Schoolmaster once again setting the pace for the Red Arrows. He finished second overall.

Coach Tom Stahr cautiously says that the team is making progress. He looks forward to the conference meet Thursday against Fremont.

It's Bright to Conserve!

There are little things you can do around the house to make your lighting system more efficient.

In lamps with two or more sockets for incandescent light bulbs, consider using one large watt bulb rather than several small watt bulbs. Large watt bulbs are usually more efficient and produce more lumens than smaller watt bulbs. Turn lights off when you leave a room, even if you know you'll be returning in a few seconds; it is more energy efficient to turn a light on and off several times than to leave it burning. Install fluorescent lights wherever possible — you get five times as much light for the same amount of energy. Replace light switches with solid state dimmer switches that are energy efficient.

You may not know it, but you have a machine that will keep running as long as you live. And that can be a long time, if you take good care of it. The machine? Your body.

The human body is a wonderful machine when it's in good working order. But things can happen to it that throw it out of balance. Poor posture. Muscle strains. A spinal column out of alignment putting unwanted pressure on nerve centers. A general fatigue caused by poor nutrition.

Lowell Girls Tennis loses 6-1

The Lowell Girl's Tennis Team faced a talented Grand Rapids Central team Tuesday, September 14, and suffered a 6-1 defeat. The only Lowell winner in the contest was Tawnie Knottnerus, who defeated her opponent in two sets, 6-1, 6-3.

On the following day Lowell again met Lakewood, and once again defeated them by a team score of 6-1.

In number one singles, Tawnie Knottnerus (who has only given up 4 games this season) downed her opponent, 6-0, 6-0. Number two singles player Amy Hill won by a score of 6-3, 6-1. The third and fourth singles players, Diane Rittenger and Kim McFall, defeated their Lakewood rivals by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-0, and 6-0 respectively.

The doubles teams of Pam Westcott and Dana Bock, Sandy Gruizenga and Janyne Althaus also contributed to the Lowell score.

The only loss came to doubles partners Sue Westcott and Ruth Blakeley, who lost 6-4, 3-6, 2-6.

According to coach Mark Weber, the team did as expected. Weber mentioned that the singles players are all experienced, but that four of the doubles players are new to the varsity this year.

Lowell Granite Co. getting publicity

The Lowell Granite Company has in the past few months received several boosts to its already high standing as a manufacturer of granite memorials.

Most recently, the company completed work on a monument to George Washington commissioned by the Free and Accepted Masons of Michigan. The monument, installed in front of the Lewis Cass Building on state property in Lansing, consists of a nine-foot statue of Washington atop a granite pedestal and base.

The Lowell Granite Company engraved the detail

Memorial Day article in the "Grand Rapids Press" spotlighted several company employees.

"This article in the Press gave Lowell Granite Company a considerable amount of exposure," said Jud Wilterink, owner of the company. According to Wilterink, customers still mention having read the Press article which appeared over three months ago.

Yet to come, Channel 35 will be filming at the company on October 5. WGVC plans a five-minute news feature focusing on the artistic aspects of the business and on some of the unique monuments the company has produced.

Part of the attention showered on the company is probably due to the comparative scarcity of businesses in this line of work. Wilterink said that there are only two granite companies in the entire city of Grand Rapids. Lowell is unusual in having one for itself.

In addition to being a member of an unusual business, the company has set itself apart by specializing in personalized granite memorials. This specialization stands in contrast to the tendency of some companies to emphasize production at the expense of individuality.

The Lowell Granite Company is not a business that Lowell residents have need to visit often, but, given the recent publicity the company has received, at least they are aware of its presence.

The George Washington Monument purchased through the Lowell Granite Company was installed in a park-like area near the State Capitol.

JV Basketball team struggling

The JV Girls' Basketball team suffered two straight losses in the past week. On Tuesday, September 14, facing conference opponent Coopersville, Lowell lost 42-30, and on Thursday lost to Forest Hills Northern, 46-21. Coach Kurt Holzhueter said the game Tuesday was close until the fourth quarter, when the Red Arrows ran into foul trouble. High scores for Lowell were Maria Ritzema with 19 points and Cathy Kazmier with 7.

Lowell played against a tall Forest Hills Northern team Thursday. Holzhueter said that the Lowell team, which tends to be short, had a tough time with the Huskies. Maria Ritzema accounted for 6 of the Lowell points, with Cathy Kazmier, Nancy Baerwalde, and Cindy Dumas each contributing 4 points. According to Holzhueter, 12 of the 15 team members are freshmen.

Golf team looks good

Despite the loss of four top seniors from last year's team, the Red Arrow golfers have opened their 1982 season in a promising way. In competition held September 7, 8, 9, and 10, Lowell defeated Rockford 5-0, beat Coopersville by a score of 5-0, overcame FH Northern 3 1/2-1 1/2, and last of all beat Ionia 4 1/2-1/2. On Monday, September 13, Lowell faced Greenville, Coopersville, and Forest Hills Northern. The Lowell team defeated both Coopersville and Greenville by a score of 5-0, but lost to Forest Hills Northern 0-5. Coach Rick White reported that even though the team has a number of young players, the team is making real progress. He also suggests that the early team successes might be deceptive, because the toughest competition is yet to come. White expected that Lowell had an "outside shot at conference."

JV's open with 2 wins

The Lowell JV Football Team posted identical 20-6 victories in games against Ionia and Coopersville to start the 1982 football season.

The season opening win against Ionia saw the Arrows jump out to a 20-0 half time lead and hold off the Bulldogs for the 20-6 win.

Dennis Jannenga scored in the first quarter on a two yard plunge over the right side of the line. Quarterback Tim Gochenour connected on a 10-yard TD pass to Rob King and Fullback Brian Gessler tallied the final score on an 8-yard run. Gessler also ran in the two point conversion.

The defense was led by Gochenour, Dan MacDonald, and Ron Leverage. Against Coopersville the Arrows relied on big plays for their 20-6 victory. Gochenour found split end John Lipkea for a 70 yard TD pass in the opening quarter. The Arrows increased their lead to 14-0 on a Gochenour to Leverage 23 yard scoring pass.

Following a scoreless 3rd Quarter the Arrows fumbled on the opening play of the 4th quarter and the Broncos wasted little time in closing the margin to 14-6. But on the ensuing kick-off Jannenga made a 65 yard TD run which provided the final margin of 20-6.

King, Gochenour, and Jannenga led the defense against Coopersville.

Coached by Rob McCormick, the J.V. Football team will face conference rival Fremont on Thursday.

'OUTDOORS' with Jack Friesner

It seems that everyone within the area is starting to catch fish and enjoying the present salmon run and I would like to pass onto you my favorite recipe for this culinary delight. Over the years I have experimented with many fish recipes and have found the following by far the best for our great lakes salmon. There is a little additional work involved in preparing the utensil but I believe you'll agree, the additional effort is well worth the bother.

Making the utensil:
Use one 2 x 8" non-rosinous hardwood plank approximately 18" long. Hollow out one side, dish like, in the general size and approximate depth of the filets to be prepared.

Take one small to medium salmon, (8-10#), is ideal, filet the fish and remove the belly fat. Leaving the filets in one piece, salt well and refrigerate for a minimum of eight hours.

When ready to prepare the dish the portion of the plank should be brushed well with melted butter, and sprinkled with salt, pepper, and powdered sage to taste. The filets should now be rinsed well in cold water and placed, head to tail, in this depression. Brush the top filet well with melted butter, slice one medium onion, one lemon and one orange and cover the filets with these slices and add salt and pepper, to taste. Cover the plank and filets completely with aluminum foil and seal well, place in pre-heated (350) oven. Bake for 45 minutes; remove foil and continue baking until golden brown, approximately 15 minutes. Just prior to serving, garnish with sprigs of parsley. Now we discard the fish and serve this deliciously flavored hardwood plank. I have tried our great lakes salmon prepared a variety of ways but find this method by far the most palatable.

Speaking of recipes: The QUA-KE-ZIK Sportsmans Club, located on Foreman Road just north west of Lowell, will very shortly be selling a select wild game and fish cookbook which contains over four hundred excellent recipes. Any club member will be glad to supply your needs and the books will also be for sale at several of our leading businesses throughout the area. The price will be $5.00, just over one cent per recipe, and certainly well worth the price. These books would make excellent, and lasting, Christmas gifts.

Entertainers at Festival

Entertainment on the outdoor stage will be the highlight of the afternoons at the Fallasburg Fall Festival, this Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Fallasburg Park, on the grounds surrounding the pavillion.

Entertainment co-ordinator Doris Rhines is pleased with the talent lined up for this year's festival. The unique aspect of this group of entertainers, according to Rhines, is that they entertain free of charge, for the pleasure of performing.

Seven acts are slated for Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 p.m. with the familiar notes of the Lowell Showboat Calliope, played by Dick McNeal. Following him will be the Lowell Middle School Singers, directed by Middle School music teacher Roger MacNaughton. At 2 p.m. Lawrence and Anna Probes will perform. Bob Moy, Flat River balladeer, will be on stage next, followed by Cindy Bruns and Friends. At 4 p.m. Alan Exoo and Daddy Frank will entertain and at 4:30 p.m. Country Pride will take the stage to round out the afternoon's entertainment.

Emcee Kim Hoag will begin Sunday's program at 1 p.m. by introducing the Saranac High School Performing Arts Class directed by Saranac music teacher Tom Hagen. Hagen will continue with the Saranac Vocalists until 2 p.m., when Greg and Kathy Proulx will take the stage. Kim and Thelma Matthews, better known as Cornsilk will perform at 3 p.m., followed by Carol Johnson and Friends, who will end the day's program.

Following Sunday's program, near the 5 p.m. closing hour, the drawing will be held for the beautiful handmade Fallasburg quilt. While the first ticket drawn will name the lucky winner of this priceless quilt, several other tickets will be drawn to raffle off art works purchased from some of the 60 juried artists who will be selling their work at this year's festival.

The Lowell High School art students will be demonstrating some of their techniques near the pavillion, while inside other demonstrations will be found featuring quilting, rug-hooking in the New England method, spinning, and sassafras tea brewing.

Free children's activities and nine food booths take up the remainder of the space around the pavillion to make this year's festival a satisfying day's activity for the whole family. Just follow the crowd north of Lowell, let the Knights of Columbus direct you to a free parking space and be prepared to enjoy yourself and fall at it's best.

Fall Fest quilt required many hours labor

How many hours does it take to make a quilt? "There are at least 9,000 hours spent in the designing and quilting of this year's Fallburg Fall Festival quilt," stated Robyn Burradell, chairperson of the quilt committee. From the idea to the completed article, the work involves many processes. First the dimensions are worked out on paper. From this "blueprint" the templates are made. Each template must be traced on the fabric and cut out. Care must be taken to be sure the correct number of each color gets traced and cut. Next the work is laid out the way it should be pieced. It's pinned and sewn in sections. The sections are sewn together to make the quilt top. After the backing, filler, and top are basted together like a sandwich, the quilting and tying begin. Workers who helped Robyn this year were Helen Kwant, Karen Latva, April Curtiss, Marlene Whitman, Barb Schneider, Dorothy Burns, Diana Fulkerson, Melodie Kirby, Wendy Kapolka, Renee DeGraaf, Judy Greenwood, Bobbie White.

A part that sets new cars apart.

It's a much longer way to empty, thanks to the greatly improved gas mileage you get with a new car. The median 1982 model averages 24 m.p.g., compared to 15.6 m.p.g. just eight years ago. And that can save you hundreds of dollars a year at the pump!

Fuel economy is an important part of a new car, and just one of the ways you get more for your money. Visit a showroom soon and you'll find more good reasons to get into a new car now.

Get into a new car now.

Suzanne Sinke awarded German study grant

Suzanne Sinke, a 1977 graduate of Lowell High School, is spending a memorable summer and fall in Germany. Suzanne was awarded a grant to study German at the University of Konstanz, on Lake Constance. Konstanz is located in southern Germany, on the Swiss and Austrian Borders. The students in the group represent over twenty countries and have one common language, German.

The classes are unique in that they do many unusual things. First, there were welcoming activities, including meeting the mayor. There are many trips to see cathedrals, historic and spectacular towns, castles and other points of interest. Also they attend concerts and sports events. Activities include swimming, wind surfing, Renaissance dancing, and much more.

Daily lessons include such activities as giving a speech about ones own country. Among these were one on medicine in Viet Nam, and one on an introduction to Chinese. Suzanne's was of the Geography of the United States.

Suzanne's flight to Germany took her to Iceland, then flew low over Scotland and western Europe. She has visited many towns, museums, castles, and had some wonderful experiences. She has also learned how accommodating people can be.

Kent Library system sees circulation rise

The Kent County Library System/Lowell Branch is one Michigan "business" with a bright future.

With just seven months of statistics completed, the Lowell Branch has reported a total circulation up nearly 17.5 percent over the first seven months of 1981.

"I have heard a lot of people comment that books are just too expensive to buy, even the paperbacks," said Lowell Branch librarian Ellen Eedy, "so they borrow them from the library."

The Lowell Branch's total circulation went up from 13,391 at the end of July, 1981 to 15,730 at the end of July, 1982. Eedy noted that more children are coming to the library for programs and for reading materials.

Total circulation includes books, magazines, records, films, and audio-visual equipment.

Circulation for books has increased nearly 16 percent over the first seven months of last year, from 11,447 to 13,269.

Other circulation figures at the Lowell Branch for the first seven months of 1982: magazines, up 16 percent; records, up 30 percent; and the circulation for films, filmstrips, audio-visual equipment, and art prints, including records, is up 30 percent.

The total circulation for all 17 branches of the Kent County Library System was up by 12.6 percent over last year's July figures.

About half of registered borrowers at the Lowell

Branch live in the city of Lowell. About one-quarter live in Lowell Township, and another 16 percent are from Vergennes Township.

The rest live in areas such as Kentwood, Grattan Township, and Ada Township.

The Lowell Branch is located at 325 W. Main Street in Lowell.

COZY corner

By Roger Brown

I guess you can tell how long you've been married by the condition of your appliances. Terese and I celebrated our tenth wedding anniversary this year, and most of the major appliances that we purchased when we set up housekeeping are about ready to go to that big appliance graveyard in the sky.

The washer and dryer set that we purchased as a pair, even though one is white and the other gold, have been giving us fits. The fact that the washer leaks during its rinse cycle has become a fact of life, as several service calls could not resolve the problem. The main bearing in the dryer apparently ran itself dry of grease and set up such a squeal that I had to leave the house whenever the wash was being done. One day I finally pulled the thing out from the wall and squirted the main bearing full of WD-40. Their TV ads say, "What have you got that sticks or squeaks?", and I certainly did have a squeak. It worked, but I thought I was going to be stuck forever in an upside down position between the dryer and the wall when trying to reconnect the vent. I finally freed myself just prior to having Terese call the fire department.

Our TV set is in the shop more than it is home lately. It has recently had a new picture tube installed, both the UHF and VHF tuners rebuilt, and countless other parts and adjustments made. At this point, I can tell Suzanne Geha from Warren Reynolds on Channel 8, and on Channel 13 I can distinguish Craig James from Sam Hooks, only because one talks about sports, and the other about the weather. I'm not sure which is which, because I've never seen them.

The dishwasher works fine, but it thinks it's a car, and has seen too many Michigan winters as the front panels are starting to rust out. They tried to sell me a service contract on the thing, but nobody told me to take it to Zeibart!

That leaves the range and the refrigerator, one of which works fine, and it ain't the latter. I won't begin to list its ailments, but the last serviceman to look at it crossed himself, knelt before it in silence for a moment and left without giving us a bill. It was then that Terese was able to talk me into looking at new ones. I love to spend money on toys, like video recorders and sailboats, but when it comes to buying something as practical as a refrigerator, I'm tighter than a fat lady's designer jeans.

Everybody talks about "sticker shock" in reference to new cars. Try refrigerators sometime. They're the kind of items that you only buy every ten years or so, and we all know what prices can do in ten years. The first salesman showed us a top of the line model with a sticker of over $1,200. We worked down from there, but trying to find a model of any size with an ice-maker in the price range I had in mind, proved to be like trying to find a good family car for about $3,000 or a house in the mid-twenties. I revised my price range, and the new refrigerator is to be delivered Friday. I'll just pretend it's a new stereo.
