Boosters plan alumni basketball game

The Lowell Athletic Boosters is sponsoring a big night of basketball featuring teams of all ages in an attempt to earn a little more of the $40,000 they have pledged for maintaining extra-curricular athletics at Lowell.

The games, which will be held March 4 in the High School gymnasium, will begin with competition between co-ed teams of fifth and sixth graders from the Youth Basketball Association.

The first game, beginning at 5:30 P.M., will pit the Red team, coached by Chris Briggs and Chris Benjamin, against the Yellow team, coached by Linda Decater and John Stencil. At 6:15 P.M. the Green team, coached by Dale Hanson and Jerry Gurney, will face the blue team, coached by Gary Goff.

Youth Basketball Association rules will be observed during these games.

At approximately 7:15 P.M. members of the faculty will square off against one another in what promises to be a life or breath struggle.

And crowning the evening will be an Alumni vs Alumni game, which will feature the talents of such former standouts for Lowell as Steve Wittenbach, Mark Johnson, Mark Kimball, Willie Harden, Bernie Harden, Leo Harden, Tom Caldwell, Duke Burdette, Phil Beachler, Jim Herblet, Jack Thomet, Dennis Kissinger, Craig Wittenbach, John Ellison, Chris Collins, Dale Hanson, David Rittersdorf, and Charlie Rittersdorf.

Lowell Athletic Director Robert Perry expected that the roster would expand to include still others by the time Friday rolls around.

Price for an evening of entertainment will be 50¢ for students, $1.00 for adults. Proceeds from the evening will go the Boosters.

TV magazine in this issue of Ledger

As proclaimed above our bannerline, the Grand Valley Ledger is now the home of a weekly TV magazine that is custom designed for the Lowell Cable Television Department. That's right, you'll no longer need a college degree to figure out what's on TV. Up to now, Lowell Cable customers needed a TV Guide, HBO/Cinemax Guide, ESPN Guide and a conversion chart to decipher what's on at any given time, and there were still one or two channels that weren't listed at all.

With our new magazine you can tell at a glance what's on TV, and the first number shown in the black TV screen is the number that is on your cable converter. So, you can throw away that piece of paper that tells you channel 41 is 4 on your tuner, HBO is 16 etc. For you non-cable customers, our new magazine is very workable for you too. The network channels such as 3 for WKZO, 8 for WOTV etc. appear in a white TV screen immediately following to Lowell Cable tuner number.

The listings are complete, to include descriptions of the movies, so that you won't have to thumb through your HBO/Cinemax guide to get a idea of what a movie is about. Besides the rolling log listing of movies, you will also find a daily list of movies with time, channel and title only, enabling you to see "at a glance" what movies are on that day. Space permitting, there will be daily features about top-rated programs on network TV.

Our listings will begin weekly with Friday's programming, and run through Thursday. One aspect about our magazine that may be a bit confusing at first, concerns our listings for network daytime programming. Since programs like soaps, game show, news, re-runs, etc. are on at the same time and channels Monday thru Friday, our magazine conserves space by publishing them just once in a listing entitled, "Daytime". This Daytime list can be found just prior to their other listings for Monday. All channels that have programming that changes daily will be listed appropriately in their daily time slots.

Of course we can't publish this TV magazine for nothing, so as you may have noticed, our newsstand rate has gone up to twenty-five cents. Our subscription rates have been raised to $7.50 annually for Kent County residents, and $10.00 for out-county subscribers. We also expect to increase our advertising lineage, as we feel that this magazine is an excellent vehicle for local merchants to get their message across. Our magazine will be in Lowell homes for an entire week, with customers referring to it constantly, giving an ad in it an extremely high amount of visibility. If you have a message that you'd like people to know about, call the Ledger at 897-9261 to make an appointment for an advertising sales person to call on you.

Schreur arrested for shooting dog

William Schreur, 20, of 12209 Bailey Drive, Lowell, was arrested last week for the alleged shooting of a hunting dog which had strayed on his property, according to Kent County Sheriff's Detective gerald Miedema.

Miedema said that the incident came to his attention when Schreur reported a trespassing which occurred at the time of the shooting. Patrick Bigelow, of 4 Mile Road, Ada, later pressed charges against Schreur for allegedly shooting the dog.

A pre-trial conference has been set between the Kent County Prosecutor and Schreur's attorney. Following the conference, a date will be set for an appearance in 63rd District Court, if necessary.

Rosie sells "Rosie's"

Rosie Fonger spent her last day as owner of Rosie's February 28.

After 15 years in the business, Rosie Fonger, owner of Rosie's Drive Inn, has decided to call it quits. As of March 1 the restaurant belongs to Freeport resident Richard Finkel, who already operates a restaurant in that town.

Fonger, remarking that there were getting to be too many restaurants in Lowell, said that she's "getting out while the getting's good."

"I'm not going to leave my money to my kids," she added. "I'm going to spend it."

To that end, Fonger plans to spend her first month of retirement in Florida, and upon returning to Lowell, plans to fix up her house, a task she says she has put off for five years.

Only slightly more seriously, she said that she plans to spend all her time "golfing and playing."

"I worked hard to earn my money," she said. "and I'm going to enjoy it."

She wanted to express her appreciation to the customers of Rosie's for their patronage over the years. And on a lighter note, she added, "I'll be around."

Former Lowell Mayor dies

Peter Speerstra.

Funeral services were held Saturday for Peter Speerstra, a prominent Lowell businessman and former mayor of Lowell. Speerstra died Thursday in Dania, Fla., following a lengthy illness.

Speerstra is perhaps best known to Lowell residents for his business enterprises in the area. He operated the Plymouth-Dodge dealership, originally on the east end of town across from Superior Furniture, and later, after building on the west end of town, moved to where Vennen Dodge is now located.

Speerstra also owned the Speerstra Insurance Agency, which he operated concurrently with the auto dealership. Later, when Jackson Motors bought the car business, Speerstra moved the agency in town near the present location of Speerstra Insurance.

Speerstra was a former long-time president of the Lowell Savings and Loan Association, which profited from his business

Jaycees purchase E-Unit monitors

The Lowell Area Jaycees recently presented a $660.00 check to the Lowell Police Dept. to purchase Radio "Beep-er Type" Monitors for E-Unit personnel.

The funds were raised through a Blue Grass music show that the Jaycees sponsored in December. Many area residents responded with donations when called as part of that campaign. The Jaycees would like to thank them for their contributions and offer these examples of where the money is being used.

First of all, over 800 handicapped, disadvantaged, Senior Citizens and their sponsors were treated to an evening of Blue Grass music. Secondly, the proceeds will be used to establish a West Michigan Ronald McDonald House fund, a donation made to Little Mary's Hospitality House, a donation to the National Institute for Burns Medicine, and the before mentioned E-Unit Equipment for Lowell.

The Jaycees will be holding a special recruitment meeting this Thursday March 3rd at 7:00 P.M. in their new meeting rooms at the American Legion Building on E. Main St. Any area young man between the ages of 18-35 interested in working on Community improvement projects, or desiring more information on Jaycee involvement are urged to attend. Telephone inquiries can be made by calling 897-6374 or 897-8250.

If milk or cream spills on furniture, wipe it up quickly. Dairy foods act as mild paint and varnish remover. If spots show, clean with white liquid wax.

News from Community Ed. . . .

This week we would like to introduce you to a new Community Ed Logo that will be used in place of the little red schoolhouse that usually accompanies Community Ed Articles and Class Schedules. Our Community Ed Advisory Council, made up of people from the Communities of Lowell, Caledonia, and Middleville, helped us in the decision to replace the old logo with this one.

Looking at the two friendly and caring characters, and the motto, "Everyone learns, everyone teaches", you get some idea of what we feel Community Ed is all about. You, the students, come to school from all walks of life. You each have your own unique learning experiences, job experiences, and life experiences. Therefore, even though you are enrolled in Community Ed as a student, you are also able to share with each other those things that you have experienced over the years.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

All scripture is . . . profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness (II Timothy 3:16).

I was disappointed because I wasn't having much success cleaning my silverware with a product which had proved highly successful for others. Then I remembered something I had read a few days before. One housewife wrote that after many years she had begun reading the instructions accompanying the products she purchased. Much to her satisfaction, she found the cleaners and bleaches worked fine if used as directed. So I followed her advice, read the directions, carried out the instructions, and my silverware came beautifully clean.

It was when I began seeking to be informed that I found what I was looking for. New spiritual light is waiting for each of us, fellow Christians. If we read God's Word with an open mind, ask God for His guidance, and seek to know His will, we can be the recipients of divine help. When we realize our need of instruction and are willing to accept reproof and correction, and if we are submissive of God's leadings, we can have spiritual illumination. Within the Word of God "the directions are clearly given."

Prayer: O Lord, I turn to Thee with simple, trusting faith. As a child seeks counsel from his earthly parent, so I seek Thy help. Illuminate my mind. Impart to me Thy wisdom. Amen. Lord, grant us all aright to learn.

The wisdom it imparts, And to its heavenly teaching turn With simple, childlike hearts.

Educational alternatives available through Kent Skills

With national unemployment figures at their present height, and with economic troubles particularly afflicting Michigan, many parents are undoubtedly wondering how and where their children will fit into the work force.

For such parents, the Kent Skills Centers can be an answer to anxiety.

The one- and two-year programs at Kent Skills Centers can provide students now in the tenth and eleventh grades with the entry-level job skills that will ease them into meaningful employment upon graduation.

Howard Napp, director of placement at Kent Skills, said in an interview that 357 students graduating last year from Kent Skills were directly placed in a job, and that over 800 students were referred to employers for job interviews.

Because Kent Skills centers have built up a reputation among area businesses, many employers inquire at Kent for people to fill job vacancies. Last year alone the Center received 452 job orders.

The job placement figures alone do not fully reveal the possible value of training at Kent. Napp said that many students develop such an interest in their course of study that they choose to get further education in that field.

The course work completed at Kent gives such students a head-start on their class mates. Some secondary schools will grant advanced credit for course work successfully completed at Kent. Others will give credit by examination.

In either case, a student is given an educational advantage at no cost to himself or his parents.

Napp also said that although enrollment in Kent Intermediate School District is down, enrollment at the Centers is up 5 percent over last year. Every school in the KISD is allowed to send a certain number of students to the Centers based on school enrollment. Most schools have had no difficulty of late in more than filling their allowance.

Employers are apt to look favorably on Kent grads because the Centers work to keep their programs abreast of trends in the workplace. An Advisory Committee, consisting of tradesmen and employers, meets each year to examine every program offered at Kent. Their suggestions keep Kent Skills in tune with the needs of today's employers.

Sophomores and Juniors interested in Kent Skills are urged to attend, along with their parents, an information night to be held Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 P.M. in the K-Quad of the high school.

Skills Centers Administrative Assistant Jim Garzelloni will be on hand to give a slide presentation and discuss the various one- and two-year programs available. In addition, a panel of LHS students presently attending the Centers will discuss their experience at Kent, and high school counselor Barb Pierce will explain the application procedures.

For further information, parents can call either the Skills Centers or Barb Pierce (897-9202). A booklet explaining the 36 programs available through Kent Skills can be obtained at the Student Services Center.

Parents who would like to examine the Kent Skills facilities are invited to take advantage of the Fourth Annual Open House on March 8 from 6:30 P.M. to 9 P.M.

Instructors and students will be on hand in the classrooms to answer questions at the two building sites at 1655 East Beltline NE (just north of Grand Rapids Baptist College) and at 111 College Ave., N.E.

Courses offered at the College Avenue Facility include: Computerized Accounting, Banking, Data Processing, Electronics, Engineering Drafting, Industrial Electricity, Legal Stenographer, Medical Secretary, Nurse Aide, Office Occupations and Word Processing.

Courses offered at the East Beltline Center include: Advertising Art, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Auto Body Repair, Auto Mechanics, Auto Parts Aide, Baking, Building Maintenance, Child Care, Commercial Sewing, Cosmetology, Diesel & Equipment Mechanics, Floral Design, Foods, Furniture Manufacturing, Graphic Arts & Offset Printing, Greenhouse Management, Heating & Cooling, Landscape Construction & Design, Lawn, Cycle, Marine Mechanics, Machine Metals, Residential Construction, Retailing & Marketing, Sheet Metal, Upholstery and Welding.

Two Lowell area residents have been named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan University for maintaining at least a 3.5 grade point average for the fall semester of studies. Glenna Blanding, of 3028 Snow Avenue, and Dawn Bock, of 1033 Lincoln Lake Road, were among 1,000 students to receive these academic honors. Students must be enrolled in at least 14 hours of graded course work to be considered for the Dean's List.

Farming income and expenses bring special tax breaks

If you farm for a living, such risks as sudden market fluctuations or bad weather are part of your life. No two years are likely to generate the same income or expenses. That's true no matter if you operate a dairy, ranch, vineyard, or any type of farm. Nevertheless, you can counter certain hazards of farming by developing tax strategies to help prepare your 1982 tax return on your farming income, says the Michigan Association of CPAs. In three years farm income has fallen 40 percent, down $19 billion, the lowest level since the Great Depression. Because of these economic conditions, tax savings become all the more urgent.

If you operate a farm as an individual you must complete tax Schedule F with your Form 1040.

Income from all sources, including loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), has to be reported on your return. This year a record total of CCC income may be reported on farmers' taxes. For fiscal year 1982 federal outlays through the CCC grew to nearly $12 billion, four times the original government estimate.

Depending on your financial picture, CPAs note, when you first get a CCC loan you can elect to report it in the year received, or in the year the crop is actually sold.

An advantage of treating the loan as income for 1982 is that it tends to match related farming expenses, especially if you are a cash-method taxpayer. Also, if you have a net loss of 1982, reporting a CCC loan now may enable you to utilize your regular exemptions and itemized deductions you might otherwise forfeit because of the loss.

To explain further, if in 1982 you received a CCC loan for a crop of spring wheat, that income may have enabled you to finish the year with a gain instead of a loss. If so, you can use your regular exemptions and deductions to reduce that gain for your taxes.

Then, in 1983 when the spring wheat is sold, you repay the loan. This won't affect your 1983 income because you already reported the loan in 1982. Any loss on the sale would be a deduction; any extra profit you incur would be an extra gain.

Generally, the higher your annual income, the heavier your tax liability. Try to declare extra income in the year your total income is lower.

If you received income from crop insurance or federal disaster payments, it may be advantageous to postpone reporting that income until the insured crop normally might have been sold. Insurance premiums are deductible in the year they are paid.

If you are uncertain whether to report certain income in 1982, or delay until next year, CPAs say it is generally better to defer it. An unexpected deduction may arise in 1983 and reduce your taxes. Remember, too, the final portion of President Reagan's tax reduction plan is scheduled to go into effect in July, and that should lower overall taxes for 1983.

Don't forget other tax savings, such as tax credits for diesel fuel and gasoline, if the price included state and federal taxes for fuel use off the highway for farm machinery. Other deductions include the costs of licenses, advertising, attorney fees, breeding and veterinary fees, interest and repairs and maintenance.

Finally, remember to include the ordinary deductions claimed by most taxpayers. If your spouse works and you file a joint return, you can take a marital deduction of five percent of the lower income. The maximum deduction is $1,500. You may also be eligible for the dependent care credit, if you must pay someone to care for your children or other dependents while you and your spouse work. Appropriate portions of costs of your house, automobile, phone and utilities may also be deducted if used for business. If your 1982 income is substantially higher than that of the previous four years, think about income averaging as a means to reduce your taxes.

FOCUS ON EDUCATION

Students in Mr. Gary Griffin's Middle School 7th and 8th grade social studies classes have been finding out from each other, "What In the World Is Going On?"

That's the title of the assignment for which each student prepares on each even-numbered Friday throughout the school year. Mr. Griffin selects a specific topic or geographical region for each assignment date, and the students are to select an article from the newspaper that fits the topic. Each student makes a one or two minute summary of the article in front of the rest of the class.

Portions of the article from the newspaper may be quoted, but the intent of the project is to have each student make his presentation based on his own interpretation and opinion of the article.

The most difficult part of the assignment in the early part of the school year was for the students to feel comfortable talking in front of the class. Most of them are now at ease, for the most part, but there is still a great sigh of relief from the students when each has finished the presentation.

If one of these social studies students is your own child, why not ask, "What In The World's Going On?"

FFA members earn awards

Junior Tracy Jousma is pictured here with the trophy she earned for her first-place ranking in the public speaking competition at the FFA regional competition in Cedar Springs.

Several members of the Lowell chapter of Future Farmers of America distinguished themselves at the regional leadership contests held in Cedar Springs February 24.

Tracy Jousma, a Junior at LHS, earned a first place gold award for public speaking. Her fine showing last week qualifies her for state competition at the state FFA convention in March.

A demonstration team from the FFA, consisting of Erin Johnson, Cathy Wenger, and Kathy Feasal (alternate), earned the second place gold award for their demonstration of chain saw safety.

The Lowell FFA is sponsored by LHS faculty member Pete Siler.

Schoenborn and Morris enrolled at Aquinas

Two 1982 Lowell H.S. graduates have enrolled at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids as members of the 1982-83 freshman class. Sue Ann Schoenborn, daughter of Lawrence and Karen Schoenborn, 4220 Parnell Ave., Ada, and Linda Morris, daughter of Harry and Patricia Morris, 4081 Giles Ave., Ada, are among the class of 1986.

Aquinas is a career-oriented liberal arts college founded in 1922 by the Dominican Sisters of Grand Rapids. The College now enrolls about 3000 students in its regular and continuing education programs.

Alto Elementary spelling bee

Twenty-seven fifth grade Alto Elementary students participated locally February 1 in the annual Spelling Bee sponsored by The Grand Rapids Press.

Students participating in the Bee received a list of 840 words to study in November. Parents, friends, and families helped the students master work entries which ranged from "jeans" to "incredulous." Teachers also spurred students to study by giving short daily spelling quizzes.

The students were grudging losers -- 183 words had to be given in the Spelling Bee before a winner was determined.

Winners this year were Katie Wills and runner-up Tim Tidd.

These two youngsters will advance to the Regional Spelling Bee to be held March 9 at 4:00 P.M. at Thornapple Elementary.

Winners of the Alto Elementary Spelling Bee were first-place finisher Katie Wills and runner up Tim Tidd

Every week, nine out of 10 adults read at least one newspaper.

'OUTDOORS' with Jack Friesner

Regardless of whether you simply notice mouse tracks and tunnels in the snow, or you observe the squirrel cuttings beneath the tree in the front yard, you are reading sign. All wildlife leave sign during their travels and reading this sign is simply observing and interpreting it so as to provide the trained observer with valuable information as to that individual animal's activities. We discussed tracks and tracking in a previous column; this is, of course, obvious sign.

There are many other equally obvious signs of travel and most of these will provide you with a much broader insight into the habits of the wildlife kingdom. Their feed and feeding habits change with the available food supply and it is very easy to determine what they are feeding upon at a given time. Their inevitable droppings also will depict what they have been eating. Their beds, nests, burrows, and dens are also, usually, very obvious, and of course will indicate to you where they rest.

All animals mark their territory or range areas, and often these are very obvious. If you are observant you will read this sign and it will enable you to determine just where they are located and how numerous they are in a given location. All animals have individual personality traits and characteristics just as mankind does, and it is often possible for the trained observer to recognize an individual animal simply by reading sign. It also is going to enable you to know where that animal is most likely to be, what he is doing, and just how he will react in a given situation.

From the aspect of the hunter and trapper, this knowledge will enable him to harvest the animals. To the photographer and observer, this sign also enables him to locate the quarry. Everyone should be aware and observant when afield. It certainly improves your knowledge and can only give you a better understanding of all wildlife creatures. Understanding and recognizing our surroundings enhances our own personalities and depicts to us the role we play in the overall realm of nature. The next time that you are afield, make it a point to locate this sign. I am certain that it will make your forays more enjoyable and you more aware of your surroundings.

John Ball Zoo Society News. . . .

QUESTION: What has twenty legs fifty toes, ten eyes, and is upside down when it's upside down?

ANSWER: The five new two-toed sloths at the John Ball Zoo. Recently arrived from the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago, the two-toed sloths will be moving into the new herpetarium/night animal exhibit in April. The two-toed sloth is a slow moving arboreal creature from South America. These animals sleep, eat, drink, mate, and give birth upside down. The two-toed sloths also can grow algae on their coats making them appear green. The green cast to their hair helps camouflage the sloths.

Also arriving with the sloths were two douracouils and two naked tail armadillos. All of these animals will co-exist in one exhibit in the nocturnal animal house.

The Zoo has been acquiring animals for the new exhibits throughout the winter. Other animals previously acquired are the Geoffrey's cat, two common marmosets, two red bellied white lipped tamarins, a fennec fox, puff adders, and assorted reptiles and amphibians.

Expected to arrive shortly are: two more fennec foxes, a pair of jungle cats, a pair of ruffed lemurs, a pair of galagos or bush babies, rhinoceros iguana, and blue tongued skinks.

The new exhibit will provide nesting areas to promote breeding and a unique reverse lighting system to enable visitors to watch the animal's nocturnal activities during the daytime. The majority of these animals are considered rare and certainly unique to our Zoo.

The new animals have come from as far away as Europe and South America. Most animals purchased by Zoos at this time are not taken from the wild but are obtained by trading with other Zoos or working through recognized animal exchange dealers. The mammals for the nocturnal animal exhibit have been purchased through a donation from Mr. Fables.

Lowell student to tour with Alma College A Cappella Choir

A week-long tour with the Alma College A Cappella Choir is ahead for Meredith Althaus of Lowell during Alma's Winter Term break. From February 26 through March 3, the 61 choir members will present concerts at one church in Michigan and four in Canada. Meredith, a freshman, sings alto in the choir.

The choir's first concert is February 26 at the First Presbyterian Church in Royal Oak, Mich. After that there are four concerts in Canada: Armour Heights Presbyterian Church in Toronto, Ontario; the Beaconsfield United Church in Beaconsfield, Quebec; The United Church of Canada, Quebec City, Quebec; and St. Andrew's Church, Belleville, Ontario. Mid-week, the choir members have a free day in Quebec City and will stay overnight in Le Chateau Frontenac in the heart of Old Quebec.

In addition to concerts on campus during the school year, the choir annually presents concerts in major Michigan cities and sings for Sunday worship services in Presbyterian churches in Michigan. The choir also tours each year during Winter Term break. Every second year, during Alma's four-week Spring Term, the choir undertakes more extensive tours which included, in recent years, tours to the west coast, the Soviet Union and Poland, and in 1981 Scotland.

Meredith, a 1982 graduate of Lowell High School, is the daughter of Frederick and Joy Althaus, 422 N. Jefferson, Lowell. She is taking premedical studies at Alma College.

Hints For Homeowners

This is a good time, before shorter daylight hours and lower temperatures are here, for a house condition survey with emphasis on energy-saving repairs and improvements. And putting first things first, be sure you have the tools you need to make the jobs go smoothly and safely. Here are some tips on tasks and tools:

1. A logical place to start is your heating system. Have you installed an automatic temperature thermostat, is the pilot light clean, or filters replaced, or radiators bled, pipes or ducts fully insulated? Is the furnace area safety-free of clutter? The principal tools to check on are your Crescent adjustable wrenches, pliers and screwdrivers.
2. How about the condition of storm doors and windows, the weather stripping and caulking? You'll need strong, sturdy scissors or snips to cut surface. The important weather stripping. Good thing is to make the steel blades, hardened to
3. Check lamp cords and wiring in general—they get extra use in winter. Experts at Weller, makers of an economical soldering gun you may need, remind you to always remove circuit fuses or turn breaker switches off before working with connected wiring.
4. Are gutters and downspouts free-flowing, the woodbin full, chimneys clean, emergency lighting and fire extinguishers operable? Once you start your checkup, other items will pop up, and not put it off!

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS of the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

Present: Councilmen Christiansen, Fonger, Maatman, Schneider and Collins.
Absent: None.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Maatman that the Minutes of the January 17 Meeting be approved as written, supported by Councilman Schneider.

IT WAS THEN MOVED By Councilman Christiansen that the Bills and Accounts Payable be allowed and warrants issued, supported by Councilman Schneider.

YES: Councilmen Christiansen, Fonger, Maatman, Schneider and Collins.

The first order of business was the consideration of the Pole Attachment Agreement with Consumers Power Electric Company.

Manager Quada stated that the agreement is to rent poles for stringing cable to serve the CATV loop area in Vergennes Township. Cost for the first year would be $4.96 per pole, with an increase of 5% annually each year thereafter.

Councilman Maatman asked about the alternative of burying the cable and the cost, compared to the substantial increase annually, forever, that it might cost more initially, but in the long run might be cheaper.

Councilman Christiansen asked if Vergennes Township would be paying half the cost, stating that by contract, the customer service rate will be the same as inside the City, perhaps the initial installation should cost more. However that would not help in future years with the 5% annual increase. He also asked if there is a commitment from the homes in the area, an actual number that will be hooking up to cable TV, will it be worthwhile. There are only about 40 to 50 homes in the service area, and if only 20 to 30 homes connect, the pole rental will cost more than the customer service revenues collected, and there are at least 100 poles or more in the service area.

Councilmembers concurred that in any case, the City should not subsidize cable TV service to the Township. They directed the City Manager to get more concrete information from Lowell Light and Power before any decision is made. No action was taken by Council on the proposed agreement.

Council then discussed the proposed purchase of Veteran Flag Holders for Oakwood Cemetery.

Manager Quada stated that Municipalities by law must provide flag holders for all veteran's graves. Approximately 150 holders are needed to complete placement at Oakwood Cemetery, at a cost of $5.50 each. He recommended they be purchased and given to the V.F.W. and American Legion, who place the flags each year prior to Memorial Day.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Christiansen that 150 flag holders to mark veteran's graves at Oakwood Cemetery be purchased, at a cost of $6.50 each, a total of $975.00, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

There was no Citizen Input.

There was no Manager's Report.

Under Council Remarks, Councilman Fonger asked if the Cable Board could have a representative attend at least one Council Meeting a month to report on the Board's activities. He stated that minutes are not received by Council for a month to six-weeks after a meeting and are not too explicit on actions taken, and bills are not explained. A discussion followed on getting copies of minutes sooner, and asking a Board member to attend Council Meetings.

He also asked about specifications for refurbishing the Lowell Library. Manager Quada replied that Ivan Blough and Walter Graham will be looking at the building and will make recommendations for specifications. A discussion followed. Manager Quada stated that perhaps the City's engineering firm should look at the building and make the recommendations, rather than ask the two local contractors to have to bid on their own recommendations against other contractors. The Manager was directed to get cost information from Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber.

Manager Quada also stated that it might be better to have a City staff person attend the CATV Board Meetings as a liaison, who could report to Council only when necessary, rather than have a Board Member attend Council Meetings when there really isn't anything to report. Council concurred.

Mayor Collins then adjourned the Meeting at 8:52 P.M.

Sanctioned "Little League" forming in Lowell

Sanctioned Little League Baseball in the Lowell area is being formed for the summer of 1983. The purpose of Little League is to assist youth in developing qualities of citizenship, discipline, teamwork, and physical well-being, with proper guidance and exemplary leadership. Little League was founded in Williamsport, Pennsylvania in 1939 and is the largest youth sports program in the world.

Elected to the board of directors for the Lowell Little League are Gary Rivers, Ron Zimmerman, Jim Vander Meulen, Howard Briggs, and Mike Organek from Lowell. Also serving on the board will be Dick Bancroft and Dennis Stickney from Alto and Burr Bevier from Clarksville. Anyone who is interested in coaching or helping a team is urged to contact one of these directors.

The Lowell Little League will have two divisions. The Major division will be for those who will be 11 or 12 years old as of August 1, 1983 while the Senior division will be for those 13, 14, or 15 years old. Each team will have 12 to 14 players and will play a 15 or more game regular season. There is also the possibility of playing in tournaments throughout the season. The championship team in each division will be eligible to participate in the Little League Tournament leading to the Little League or Senior League World Series.

Each team member will be issued a complete baseball uniform and will be using sanctioned Little League equipment. The uniforms, equipment, and other expenses will be supplied by sponsors from the community and from a not yet determined fun raiser. Donations will be welcomed. Please contact a member of the board of directors.

Sign-up for the Lowell Little League will be March 2 through March 16. The signup fee is $10 each and allows participation in the baseball program as well as accident insurance coverage. Sign up will be held on Saturday, March 5 and March 12 at Discount Enterprises (the old Western Auto) in Lowell from 12 noon until 3 P.M. If this is inconvenient, please send a $10 check with player's name, address, telephone number, and a parent's signed statement of the player's birthdate to Gary Rivers, 936 Beech St., Lowell, MI 49331.

Friday the JVs traveled to Greenville, where they treated their hosts to a 66-63 loss, with Craig Potter dumping in 25 points and Dave Kryger adding 16.

Last week's wins give the JVs a 12 game undefeated streak, and a 16-4 record overall.

Wilcox places third in regionals

Arrow grappler Mark Wilcox, a junior wrestling in the 155 pound weight class, won three of four matches in regional competition Saturday to finish in third place and qualify for the state wrestling meet to be held this weekend.

After losing his opening match to the eventual first-place finisher Scott Boston of Spring Lake, Wilcox came back to narrowly defeat Dave Heintzleman of Belding, to pin Scully of Mt. Pleasant, and clinch an 11-0 decision match over Walt Longcor of Kenowa Hills.

The state meet will be held Friday and Saturday at Ferris State College. Wrestling will begin at 11 A.M. both days.
