OFF THE BLOTTER

Lowell Officers investigated 15 accidents in the month of October, two of which involved injuries. The Lowell Medical Unit was dispatched on 22 occasions during the same period.

Lowell Officers referred 3 juveniles to Probate Court this past week. One was apprehended for the theft of a bicycle, and 2 for larcenies of purses in the month of September.

Cited into 63rd District Court Monday, October 31 on charges of minor in possession of alcohol were Andrew Stormzand, 18; Joel Anderson, 20; and David Rypina, 19, all of Lowell.

Involved in a property damage accident Thursday morning on M-21 at Water Street was Anthony Cunningham, 19, of Ionia, when he struck the rear of a car driven by Ed Miller, 45, also of Ionia.

Holloween was relatively quiet this year with vandalism reported to be quite light. The worst incident occurred to a used pick-up truck and camper at the Wittback Sales Lot on West Main Street. Several hundred dollars damage was done when vandals broke out five windows and dented the side with stones and walnuts. A new car also had a rear window shattered by a stone.

Arrested by Lowell Officers Wednesday was Jack Bechstein, 57, of Lowell on a warrant issued by 63rd District Court for Larceny by conversion.

Arrested on a warrant Thursday, November 3, by the Grand Rapids Police Department was Harold Martin, formerly of Lowell. He was arraigned in 63rd District Court later the same day on charges of embezzlement from the Shell Service Station in Lowell several months ago.

Taken from Wittenbach's Sales and Service Thursday, November 3 was a 1984 Pontiac Trans AM. The culprits took the vehicle from inside the building by breaking into it, then drove the car some distance until abandoning it on Bailey Drive. Lowell Officers are investigating the incident.

Some interest in 1984 Showboat

Seven Lowell Showboat supporters interested in producing an all amateur Showboat for 1984 showed up at a meeting called by Lowell Showboat President Ray Quada last Thursday. It has been about a year since the Lowell Showboat Board of Directors announced that they were ceasing production of the summertime event, at least until such a time as the corporation's long term debt could be paid by fund raising efforts other than Showboat itself. In that year Quada and board members have been approached by a number of people contending that the Showboat should be re-instituted as a low budget, all amateur production, much as it was in its early years. Quada said he called the meeting to, "give these people a chance to present their ideas to the board."

Besides the seven Showboat supporters and Quada, five Showboat Board Members were present. The group interested in producing a 1984 show said that they were considering a three night show using all amateur talent and keeping the budget pared to the bone.

Quada tried to give the group an idea of what they could expect in the way of costs. Minimum sound and lights would cost about $2,500 ticket printing about $500, brochure printing and mailing $2,500 and advertising to be as much as they were willing to spend, possibly $15,000. Quada reiterated the board's position "The Lowell Showboat Corporation is not willing to risk going any further in debt to stage a Showboat". "At least an old-fashioned Showboat organization would be starting at zero" Quada said. "Showboat Corporation would be starting at minus $23,000."

Quada stated that "any organization or individual can have full use of the boat, amphitheatre and other facilities for a simple 10% of the gate. "But", said Quada, "if this becomes a reality, the expenses will be paid by the sponsoring group, not the Showboat Corporation".

Quada said that several of the board members felt that an old-fashioned boat format will work and many of them will be involved if the organization continues.

"The position of the board is very clear", said Quada, "if an old fashioned show generates $250 in ticket sales showboat gets $25 if it generates $25,000 showboat gets $2,500".

Last year the Showboat Board was successful in reducing its long term debt from $47,000 to $23,500 and also paid such on-going expenses as interest, insurance and maintenance. The board intends to continue raising funds through raffles, hopefully another Memorial Day weekend with WCUZ and increased use of the amphitheatre for one night shows at a 10% charge to the producers.

There is another meeting scheduled for 8:00 P.M. Thursday at City Hall, and all those interested in producing a 1984 Showboat should PLEASE attend. Quada noted that, "seven people sure aren't going to get the job done by themselves, but if everyone who has expressed concern to him over the past year about cancelling Showboat showed up at one of these meetings, we'd be on the way to a 1984 show."

"Envelope of Life" program underway

Envelope of Life project chairman Connie Hansen and Lowell City Manager, Ray Quada, install an envelope of life information packet in the refrigerator of a Lowell resident.

The Envelope of Life program is being sponsored by the Junior League of Grand Rapids in conjunction with the LOOK MEMORIAL FUND. This pilot program is being mass distributed, at no charge to all households in the Lowell area, on Tuesday, November 15, 1983.

The Envelope of Life program is an emergency medical information system that provides efficient, up-to-date medical history to emergency personnel. The participants in this program can receive faster, more accurate and effective treatment during situations. It also aids when persons living alone may be found unconscious and are in need of immediate medical attention. This program is for everyone regardless of age or medical history.

The Envelope of Life consists of a clear polyurethane envelope with one adhesive side, a medical information/instruction form for two people, and two Envelope of Life stickers. After two family members complete the medical information side of the form, it is folded and inserted in the envelope, and the envelope is attached to a specified location in the refrigerator. One sticker is placed on the front of the refrigerator door, and the other on the front door of the home. These stickers will alert emergency medical personnel to the fact that the occupants of the home are Envelope of Life participants. The paramedic can then locate the medical information form and proceed with immediate accurate treatment.

The benefits of this Envelope of Life program are possible only if the pertinent medical facts are regularly kept up to date. The medical information form must be regularly reviewed and updated. Paramedics may be reluctant to use the medical information unless they know it is current. The Envelope of Life medical form was developed so it would be easy to update.

One Envelope of Life set will be inserted in the Lowell Buyers Guide on Tuesday, November 15, 1983. Additional envelopes, medical forms, and stickers will be available free through the Lowell Senior Neighbors Center located at 214 E. Main. Anyone having questions about how the system works or needing assistance filling out the medical form can go to the Senior Neighbors Center or call the Center at 897-5949.

cozy corner

By Roger Brown

My daughter Angie is a perfect "10" today. Ten years old that is. She's cute, witty, a good student, a great first baseman, but best of all she's my little girl, and I wouldn't trade her for anything. I'll never forget the day she was born. I know childbirth is tough on the mother, and Terese can vouch for that, but it almost killed me.

We were getting ready for bed on a Thursday night ten years ago when Terese decided it was time to go to the hospital. We lived in Saranac then, and the delivery was to take place in Grand Rapids, so I had been reminded over and over again to keep gas in the car. I got dressed, ran outside to find the old V.W. Bug on "walk" and the Dodge Dart on "fumes". I called my dad asking to borrow his car. He lived less than a mile away, and was at our house almost before I had hung up the phone. He came to the door for keys, so my car tip-toeing through two inches of snow in his stocking feet. This was his first grandchild, and he was at least as nervous as I was.

I finally got loaded into the car, and took off for Grand Rapids. I checked the fuel gauge and it read "almost walking". Great, nothing open in Saranac, so we chanced making Lowell. That open Zephyr station was like finding a desert oasis. Now Terese could quit yelling at me, and go back to having labor.

We got checked in at the hospital, and since we had been through the breathing exercise classes, I went to the labor room with Terese. I was supposed to help, but I don't remember ever feeling more helpless.

As it turned out, we needn't have hurried because Angie certainly wasn't in any big rip. At about 10:00 the next evening, after nearly 24 hours of exhausting labor for Terese, we finally had our little girl. Terese was taken to the recovery room, and I took off to spread the news. It was probably midnight by the time I got back to Saranac, and not too many of the relatives were still awake, but they were when I got through with them. Was I ever excited!

I went to bed at about 3:00 A.M. when the last of the revelers pooped out on me. It was my first sleep in two days, and I was up again by 6:00. I showered, went out for breakfast, bought flowers, cigars and candy, and took off for the hospital. Terese and I spent the day holding and feeding Angie when she was in the room, and showing her off to relatives during visiting hours.

That night I played in a Saranac Alumni football game. A full pads, tackle affair that pitted the even years against the odd. Our team won, and there was a big party and dance after the game. I stayed at the party until the wee hours, passing out cigars and celebrating the victory.

The next morning, Sunday, I was at the hospital by 8:00 or 9:00, but the ordeal had finally caught up with me. Terese was the one who had the baby, and she looked like a million bucks. I was just an innocent bystander, and looked like I had been run over by a truck. One of the nurses said she would try to find an empty bed for me in geriatrics.

Happy birthday Angie, I'll always remember your very first one.

The Sounds of Joy in concert at the Missionary Church

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

My help cometh from the Lord... (Psalm 121:2).
A math teacher was explaining how to work carry over addition problems. "Let's take this problem," he said, "thirty-six and twenty-eight. Six and eight are fourteen. Put the four down here and carry the one to the top of the next column."
But one of the youngsters who hailed from the deep Southland just couldn't understand.

"Put down the four and carry the one," the teacher said over and over.
Still the boy did not catch on. Finally, a classmate sitting close by leaned over and whispered, "Tote it over. Tote it over." Immediately, the light dawned.

The song tells us to take our burdens to the Lord and leave them there. Too often we fail to heed the poet's advice. We struggle with our troubles until we are worn out when all the time the Lord is waiting to carry them for us.
Once we have cast our troubles upon the Lord, Christians, and learned the lesson of trusting Him, we find (contrary to the principles of addition) that it is unnecessary to "tote them over" from day to day. In fact, we do not have to "carry them" at all.
Prayer: O Lord, my help cometh from Thee. I do not have to "tote" my problems from day to day. In fact, I do not have to "carry them" at all, for I am trusting Thy care. Amen.

How gentle God's commands!
How kind His precepts are!
Come, cast your burdens on the Lord.
And trust His constant care.
PHILIP DODDRIDGE

Sounds of Joy

This Sunday, November 13th, at 6:00 P.M., the Sounds of Joy will be presenting an hour-long concert at the Lowell Missionary Church. The Sounds of Joy is composed of musicians from around the Grand Rapids area. All of them are dedicated Christians proclaiming the Good News of Jesus Christ through music. The group performs bi-monthly on a free-will offering basis. Some members have made this commitment for as long as twelve years.

The Lowell Missionary Church, located at 10501 Settlewood Drive, is pleased to have the Sounds of Joy performing, and Pastor Glenn Marks cordially invites the public to attend this concert.

Harvest moon showboat shindig, November 12

Make plans now to dance the night away this Saturday, Nov. 12 at the Harvest Moon Showboat Shindig. This fund raising event is being sponsored by the Lowell Area Jaycee's and Jaycee Woman and held at the Deer Run Golf Course. Cost is $10.00 a couple or $5.00 for singles and includes admission, music, dancing, door prizes, munchies, and your first drink free, with a cash bar available. Tickets are available from any Jaycee or Jaycee Women, That Special Place, and at the door Saturday night, or call Nancy Anderson at the YMCA office 897-8445.

Music from the 40's to the 80's will be provided by "Shades of Sound", so there should be something for everyone.
Jaycee Co-Chairmen Mike Martin and Don Anderson with the Help of Jaycee Women Co-Chairmen Tena Mellema and Lynn Green have been planning this party for several months now and guarantee a good time for all. These people with the help of their committee members hope to reach their fund raising goal for Showboat. This shouldn't be difficult in light of the fact Deer Run graciously donated their facilities at no cost and many area merchants donated gift certificates and merchandise for the doors prizes and special raffles, to be held at the dance.
Also above and beyond all of this there is even a 50/50 raffle to be drawn at the dance, with a possible first prize of over $200.00. Raffle tickets are available for a $1.00 donation and you need not be present to win. Pick up your 50/50 tickets at State Savings Bank or from any Jaycee or Jaycee Woman.

Capitol Column

by Senator Dick Posthumus

A Republican-sponsored "workfare" program is now moving through the legislative process after receiving the enthusiastic support of Governor Blanchard and Democratic leaders in the Legislature.

It is a key component in a $63.1 million legislative funding package which will provide employment, education and training opportunities as well as adequate energy assistance to welfare recipients.

Negotiations, which resulted in adoption of the bipartisan package, began after Senate Republicans earlier this year, blocked Governor Blanchard's proposed $43 million 5 percent grant level increase for welfare recipients in the current Social Services budget.

for the establishment of the following pilot program:

--Michigan Community Service Corps: An 18 month program involving 7,000 volunteer GA and AFDC recipients who will receive minimum wage payments rather than welfare grants for working in public service jobs.

--Michigan Conservation Corps: Establishes a year-round state park service employing 500 youths now receiving General Assistance.

--Private Employer Incentive Plan: A program to create jobs for welfare recipients, particularly within small Michigan businesses, by permitting an employer's wage costs to be subsidized for six months by recipient grants.

The funding package will also protect the most needy citizens from the threat of utility shutoffs during the cold winter months and will implement a home weatherization program to protect against the increasing public costs of soaring utility bills.

The package is an important first step toward getting people who want to work off the state's debilitating welfare system and provides business incentives for employers to hire those people who have become hopelessly caught in the web of poverty.

Committee action has already begun on the substitute measure including the Republican-sponsored workfare proposal and is expected to see quick legislative action and signature by the Governor.

I fully support the intent of the package and hope the programs will be a successful step forward in putting people to work in Michigan.

Rural crime prevention

Rural crime is on the rise and becoming more of a problem as the urban fringe moves to the country. Along with the move of people goes a move in criminal activity. Recent studies have shown substantial increases in criminal activity in rural areas, primarily in burglary, theft, and vandalism.

What can you do to decrease the vulnerability of your farm and home to crime? First, take a few moments to read through this checklist of self-help activities that will help you substantially reduce the chance of having your farm become a victim of criminal activity -- remember, many crimes are acts of opportunity, often unplanned but occurring on the spur of the moment when some careless farmer provides an inviting opportunity to the criminal.

Second, improve the physical security and identification of vehicles, tools, and household property.

Third, get involved in community crime prevention activities. People make the difference, and organized group activity and awareness are far more powerful than one or two individuals acting alone. Get local service clubs, agricultural organizations, and youth groups working together on this community problem. Prevention is the name of the game.

Remove the Opportunity for Crime:

Criminals like Quiet, Dark and Uninterrupted time. What will you do to break up this combination?

Criminals like easily sold merchandise to steal. What will you do to identify your property, making it harder for the criminal to steal and hence less desirable?

Criminals can read!! What will you do to advertise your awareness of criminal activity and the fact that you have taken measure to make your farm less desirable for the criminal?

Criminals like complacency. What will you do to be active in the crime prevention effort, and to support local police agencies in their work?

A complete checklist is available from the Kent County Cooperative Extension Service.

Kent County Cooperative Extension Service is an educational unit of Michigan State University. Kent County Extension offers up-to-date information and educational programs in Agriculture, Horticulture, 4-H, Family Living, Homemakers Clubs, Nutrition, Energy, Natural Resources and Public Policy. ### HEALTH HINTS

Colds are spread by contact—not through the air—according to Ernst Zander, M.D., Vice President, Medical Affairs of Lehn & Fink, a division of Sterling Drug Inc. "It is becoming more accepted that hand to hand contact, or hand to contaminated surface contact, and then rubbing the eyes or probing the nose is one principal mode of cold virus transmission.

Interruption of rhinovirus transmission by contact can be accomplished by frequent hand washing, keeping fingers out of eyes and nose, and disinfection of contaminated surfaces.

Marionette making workshop Evict bats before winter

Kent County Library, as part of its celebration of the 100th anniversary of the publication of The Adventures of Pinocchio has planned marionette making workshops for children ages 7-12.

Since our hero Pinocchio was a marionette before he became a real live boy, the library has scheduled marionette making workshops for youngsters. Children ages 7-12 are invited to come to the library and make a 2 foot tall paper marionette of Pinocchio himself. Patterns, materials and instructions provided. Children attending will receive a special Pinocchio maze game to take home plus have a chance to check out books about Pinocchio, puppets, Italian stories, etc. Each workshop will last about an hour.

This marionette making workshop will be available at the following branches and registration is a must:

Lowell Branch, 325 W. Main St. Monday, November 21 at 4:00 P.M. 897-9596.

Alto Branch, 6059 Linfield. Tuesday, November 22 at 4:00 P.M. 868-6038.

If your house has been home to a colony of bats this summer, late summer and early fall (between Aug. 15 and the onset of regular frosts) is the time to evict them -- or you may have them under your roof all winter, too.

Glenn Dudderar, Extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, says it's not always easy to get bats out of an attic or other parts of your home, but it gets impossible in the winter if you allow the bats to go into hibernation there. Once they've entered their winter dormant state, there's no way to rouse them and drive them away.

While the weather's still warm and the bats are active, find out how they're getting into your home, Dudderar advises. This may mean you'll have to station yourself on a different side of the house around sunset on each of several consecutive nights until you spot where the bats are leaving and entering. Going out a little while before sundown so that your eyes gradually get accustomed to the waning light will make it easier to see the small, dark shapes as they emerge, Dudderar says.

Once you've found the bats' entryway, you need to close it while they're out flying. On a warm, still evening, wait an hour or two after sunset -- to make sure all the bats are out -- and then close up openings under eaves, around chimneys or near windows with window screen or hardward cloth, caulk, fiberglass insulation or some other material. Unless the bats have an alternative entrance, this will keep them from returning to find roost and force them to find another.

Most people with bats in their houses want to get rid of them because they think bats are creepy, unpleasant creatures. Bats also make quite a smelly mess with their droppings, and some can carry rabies and the organisms that cause several other diseases. The chances of encountering a rabid bat are quite small, Dudderar points out, but that doesn't mean you want to be overly cautious about having them as houseguests.

Noisemakers, bright lights, mothballs, and other materials and gadgets promoted for expelling bats from attics range in effectiveness from adequate, if used properly, to useless. Mothballs, for instance, must be applied to an enclosed area where bats are roosting at a rate of 5 pounds per 2,000 cubic feet to repel bats. After the bats leave, the bat entryways must still be closed, or more bats are likely to enter after the mothball smell has dissipated.

Killing the bats with poison isn't a very appealing alternative, Dudderar notes. That gives you a house with dying or dead bats that you have to remove to prevent a smelly mess.

What's worse, you won't have solved the problem. In succeeding years, you'll just have new bats moving in.

Kitts are not native to Scotland. They originated in France.

Resolution No. 11-83-160, giving approval in concept of the $5.5 million Welsh Auditorium Renovation Project was presented: (All have received copies.)

RESOLUTION BY COMMISSIONER BOEREMA

WHEREAS, the City of Grand Rapids has proposed a $5.5 million renovation project of the Welsh Auditorium, and

WHEREAS, this project will allow the City of Grand Rapids to completely restore the Welsh Auditorium to its former usefulness and architectural character, and

Resolution No. 11-83-161, approving the use of Hotel/Motel Tax revenues to finance up to $4.1 million for the Welsh Auditorium Renovation Project and the method of financing was presented: (All have received copies.)

RESOLUTION BY COMMISSIONER SIEITEMA

WHEREAS, the City of Grand Rapids has requested the assistance of Kent County in financing the renovation of the Welsh Auditorium, through the use of Hotel/Motel revenues, and

WHEREAS, it is currently estimated that the total cost of the renovation will be $5.5 million, and

WHEREAS, $1.4 million of the project cost would be provided from bond balances of the previous Grand Center bond issue which were planned and designated for the Welsh Auditorium project, and

WHEREAS, the Finance Committee recommends the use of Hotel/Motel tax revenues for this project, and

WHEREAS, the Finance Committee reviewed two options for possible financing, both of which use Hotel/Motel Tax revenues:
1. Financing the project by borrowing the $4.1 million through the sale of bonds, with the principal and interest on the bonds to be paid from Hotel/Motel revenues. This financial arrangement would require approval of the Municipal Finance Commission, ratings by both Moody's and Standard and Poor, a legal opinion prepared by bond counsel, the preparation of a sales brochure, national advertising through the Bond Buyer, sale of the bonds, and delivery of bonds in 1984. The bonds would carry a fixed rate of interest over the life of the bonds.

2. Financing the project by use of a) existing Hotel/Motel tax revenue funds, b) a portion of the unearmarked Public Improvement Fund, and c) a portion of the Kent Industrial Center Fund. All funds would be reimbursed from Hotel/Motel tax revenue with interest. This financing arrangement would avoid the time-consuming and expensive procedure of receiving Municipal Finance Commission approval, bonds ratings, legal opinions, preparation of a bond brochure and advertising for the sale of bonds, and a fixed interest rate over the life of the bonds.

WHEREAS, the Finance Committee recommends alternative two for Board of Commissioner approval.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Kent County Board of Commissioners agree to assist in the financing of the Welsh Auditorium Renovation Project under the following terms and conditions:
1. Kent County shall advance to the City-County Building Authority not to exceed $4.1 million dollars for use in the Welsh Auditorium Renovation Project (hereafter "Project").
2. Funds shall be applied and used on an "as needed" basis to meet project costs as follows:
1st: $1,400,000 Joint Building Authority Funds
2nd: $1,500,000 Hotel/Motel Fund
3rd: $1,300,000 Public Improvement Fund
4th: $1,300,000 Kent Industrial Center Fund provided, however, that the transfer of $1,500,000 from the Hotel/Motel Fund shall not be made before December 31, 1983 and provided further, that should the total project cost be less than $5.5 million, Kent County shall transfer only such amounts as are necessary to pay actual project costs;

3. All funds transferred by Kent County to the City-County Building Authority will be reimbursed, with interest as hereinafter provided, from Hotel/Motel revenues in the following order:
1st: Kent Industrial Center Fund
2nd: Public Improvement Fund

In accordance with the following principal repayment schedule:
1985: $250,000
1986: 250,000
1987: 250,000
1988: 400,000
1989: 500,000
1990: 600,000
1991: 200,000

4. The above repayment schedule may be accelerated or extended or payments may be waived or modified, at the sole option of Kent County.
5. Reimbursement of the Kent Industrial Center Fund and the Public Improvement Fund from Hotel/Motel revenues shall bear interest which shall be computed from the date on which funds are advanced to the City-County Building Authority; payable annually with the principal repayment. The interest rate shall be determined on a monthly basis equal to the monthly earned interest yield for the Kent County Pooled Investment Fund, not to exceed the highest lawful rate. In the event the County discontinues the Kent County Pooled Investment Fund, then the interest rate shall be established from time to time by the Kent County Board of Commissioners;

6. Interest payments on any fund may be waived, modified or accrued and paid after 1991 at the sole option of Kent County;
7. This financial commitment is subordinate to prior commitments made by the County with respect to the use of Hotel/Motel Tax revenues;

8. All costs incurred by Kent County in administering this financing program shall be reimbursed from Hotel/Motel revenues;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Civil Council is hereby authorized and directed to prepare the necessary and appropriate documents, if any, to implement this financing plan.

Arrows end season at 6-3

The Lowell Red Arrows finished up their 1983 Football Season with a loss to the Forest Hills Northern Huskies, 29-0, and ended the season with a 6-3 record.

The first score in the game came with 4:11 left in the first quarter, on a one yard plunge by Huskie running back Randy Drake. The two point conversion was good and the Huskies were on top 8-0.

Early in the second quarter, Lowell looked like they were on the move picking up four first downs before fumbling the ball on the Huskie's 14 yard line.

Lowell quarterback Tim Gochenour was hurt on the play and back-up quarterback Jerry Adams played the rest of the game.

With 1:40 left in the half, Forest Hills scored their second touchdown on a 17 yard pass from quarterback Mike Biver to wide receiver Brian Czarnecki. The two point conversion was good and the Huskies led 16-0.

The Red Arrows received the Huskie kick-off, ran a couple plays and then fumbled the ball on the 33 yard line with :08 seconds remaining in the half.

The Huskies took advantage of the Red Arrow error as they threw a 33 yard touchdown pass from Biver to Czarnecki to give them a 22-0 half-time lead.

The final score of the game came just into the fourth quarter on a 10 yard run by running back Shawn Landman. The kick was good and the game ended with the Huskies on top 29-0.

Running back John Kloosterman led the Red Arrow ground attack with 43 yards on 13 carries. Quarterbacks Gochenour and Adams combined for 4 of 7 for 43 yards.

Girls beat Cedar Springs

Lowell's girls basketball team had a big overtime victory over Cedar Springs last week then fell to Conference leader Greenville.

In the game against Cedar Springs, Lowell had an extremely slow start, shooting only 1 for 12 in the first quarter, the Arrows trailed 2-8.

A hot hand by Phyllis Beachler and Lynn Dowling brought Lowell back and the Red Arrows were only down by one at the half. Phyllis scored 9 of Lowell's 11 points of the third quarter but Cedar Springs still led by 5.

Dowling and Beachler controlled the fourth quarter with 8 and 6 points respectively.

Kathleen Beachler rebounded the ball in the closing seconds.

The Lowell Red Arrows Phyllis Beachler puts this shot in for two of her season high 30 points against the Cedar Springs Red Hawks last week.

dribbled the length of the floor. A basket by Amy VanderGalen put the game in overtime.

Lowell held on to win their first over-time game this season.

Phyllis Beachler went on to score 30 points in the contest. Lynn Dowling added 14 and 6 rebounds; Kathleen Beachler 7 and 4 assists; Maria Ritzema and Amy VanderGalen 2 each.

Lowell had a hard time keeping up with Greenville on Thursday.

Greenville jumped out to a quick 12-8 lead after the first period. Lynn Dowling scored the only Lowell field goal of the second quarter. They were behind 13-24 at the half.

Lowell played even with Greenville in the second half but could never catch up.

Phyllis Beachler had 11 points for Lowell followed by Paula Doyle 10, Lynn Dowling 8 Chris Ellison 4, Kathleen Beachler 3 and Vicki Harris 2.

Lynn Dowling ties a school record by grabbing 18 rebounds.

AN AMERICAN SUCCESS STORY

Twenty years ago, Californian Louis Ruiz started a small business, armed with $200, an electric mixer and an understanding and supportive wife.

Today, Ruiz has been honored by the U.S. Small Business Administration for his success. With his son, Fred, he won the title: "Small Business Person of the Year." They received the award personally from President Reagan.

The Ruiz business started with bean and cheese enchiladas. Today, the company manufactures 19 varieties of prepared Mexican foods. Most of them are sold under the Rosita-Sil label, paying homage to that understanding and supportive wife.

"We're proud to be associated with champions like the Ruizes," says Campbell Soup Company's president R. Gordon McGovern. "What they've done is a small business success story by any definition. The fact that they are a minority-owned business makes this a truly American success story."

It was that persistence, patience, eye for quality and attention to customers that, he says, brought the Ruiz family to the top.

"We're proud to be associated with champions like the Ruizes," says Campbell Soup Company's president R. Gordon McGovern. "What they've done is a small business success story by any definition. The fact that they are a minority-owned business makes this a truly American success story."

Baptists to dedicate new addition

Since March 7 of this year the people of Lowell have been driving past the First Baptist Church and have daily seen construction phases progress. The church is thankful to say that the building is now complete and is ready to be dedicated. The day of the dedication service has been set for November 20, 1983 at 3:00 P.M. Special Music will be provided by Mr. Clair Hess and Mr. Jack Huseby. The special speaker for the hour will be Dr. Paul N. Tassell, the National Representative of the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches. An Open House is scheduled from 4:15 P.M. to 6:00 P.M. for those who would like to see all of the church building. The public is cordially invited.

The First Baptist Church was started on September 18, 1854, and met for worship in the Lowell schoolhouse. It experienced good growth during those early years and in 1860 the people erected their first building on the southeast side of town. The church flourished during the early 1900's but beginning in the late 30s and early 40s attendance declined and the church eventually closed her doors.

The late 40s saw the church re-

Dr. Paul N. Tassell

opened as a struggling mission church. Through much effort the church saw steady growth. The building erected during the 1860's became inadequate and outdated, so the people voted to build a new church on property donated by Dr. Donald Gerard on the west side of town. A fine new edifice was erected in 1967 and dedicated at that time.

In 1973 the people of the First Baptist Church found it necessary to construct an educational unit. That unit provided the needed space to allow the church's ministry to increase. It was dedicated on October 14, 1973.

Only a few years had passed before there came the realization that another major building program was imminent. In spite of existing building and parsonage debts, an unstable economy, and increasing construction costs, the need for a larger sanctuary and an adequate multipurpose hall caused definite action. The costs were counted, a plan was instituted, blueprints were drawn, and construction on this 470 seat auditorium, two-level building began on March 6.
