Showboat steadily steaming out of debt

Though the Lowell Showboat Board of Directors unanimously agreed that there will be no Showboat Production in 1984, there were several bright spots in last Thursday's meeting of the board. A report from Showboat Treasurer Virgil Biggs showed that the 1983 had been a good year for Showboat financially, even if there was no production.

Over a year ago the board decided to curtail the annual summertime event until some $45,000 in long term debt could be paid. With highly successful fund raising events like the WCUZ/Budweiser Showboat Softball Classic and a car raffle, Showboat managed to pay such annual expenses as insurance, interest, phone bills, etc., and still reduce the debt by more than $20,000. The Showboat closed out the year owing $11,000 in notes at the State Savings Bank and about $13,000 to the City of Lowell, a debt incurred when the city purchased the upper bleachers when the amphitheatre was built some 12 years ago.

Showboat President Ray

Quada made the board members grin even wider when he announced that he has recently secured pledges and donations that will cover the $11,000 still owed at State Savings Bank. Though the details aren't firmed up, Quada said that he has managed to get several large donations from area businesses that total $5,500, and that he has an anonymous donor willing to match that amount.

This leaves Showboat owing only the debt to the city, which the board members resolved to pay as money became available.

Even more good news came as Quada announced that WCUZ is again ready to help promote a Memorial Day weekend fund raiser. If the event could be as big as last year, Showboat could find itself completely out of debt with a little seed money to look toward a gala "Re-birth of the Showboat" in 1986.

The possibility of another car raffle was discussed, but last year's raffle chairman Roger Brown pointed out several factors that discouraged the idea. Brown noted that several of the businesses that just donated to Showboat purchased large blocks of raffle tickets last year, and might not be willing to do so this year. Other negatives included similar raffles in progress in Belding, Ionia and Grand Rapids, perhaps a little less local sentiment for a raffle this year and last but not least was the negative connotation stemming from the fact that an Ohioian happened to win last year's car. The board members agreed with Brown and decided that it would be best to concentrate on the Memorial Day weekend fund raiser. Brown offered to pursue running a smaller scale raffle in conjunction with the weekend, perhaps a 50/50 drawing.

Looking down the road, several views and ideas were thrown out by the board members. Quada suggested pursuing an all-kids Showboat performance. He said that several teachers he had talked to about the ideas were very much in favor of it. The kids' show wouldn't replace Showboat, but would offer an avenue for the youth of the community to get involved, and possibly work into the Showboat organization as they grow older. Quada also suggested that if, and when Showboat resumes, there should be auditions for chorus, endmen and interlocutor every year to avoid letting the program get stale, and to allow new talent to break in.

The Showboat charter allows for a fourteen member board of directors. It is currently operating with eight members plus honorary member Forrest Buck. The board seemed in agreement to fill the vacancies soon, rebuilding the organization from those who get involved with the upcoming Memorial Day Weekend festivities. Currently seated on the board are Virgil Biggs, Roger Brown, Ivan Blough, Ray Quada, Dan Reed, Bob Pfaller, Tony Siciliano, and Gordon Gould. Should you be willing to get involved with the Showboat organization at some level, please contact any of the above board members.

With some hard work, enthusiasm and luck, there just may be a re-birth of the Lowell Showboat in 1986. Maybe bigger and better than ever.

Box Office is now open for LAAC's, "Life With Father"

The box office opens this week for the Lowell Area Arts Council's production of "Life With Father", Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse's adaptation of Clarence Day's popular novel, set in New York City in the late 1880's. The three-act comedy will be presented on the Lowell Middle School stage February 16-18 and February 23-25, at 8 P.M. each evening.

The large cast for this family entertainment has been in rehearsals since January 2 under the direction of Jim Marron.

The title role, Clarence Day, the stubborn head of his active household, is played by Don Silvis. Cast as his long-suffering but very capable wife, Vinnie, is Cheryl Blodgett. Their four sons are played by six young men, all students in the Lowell School system. As Clarence Jr. is Ian Haight while his brother, John, is played by Chris Jansinski. Double-cast as the two younger sons are Paul Dreher, Jr., and Jay VanAntwerp sharing the part of Whitney, and Aaron Stebner and Owen Smith sharing the role of Harlan.

Cousin Cora, a family visitor, and her traveling companion Mary, are played by Nancy Wood and Pam Westcott.

Kathy Snyder is cast as Maggie, the cook, while four women play the parts of Margaret, Annie, Delia, and Nora, a string of maids, hired and fired in the impossible attempt to please Father's particular standards in servants. These four are played by Wendy DeNolf, Sara Harper, Anne Dykhuizen, and Laura Leasure.

Two doctors attempt to diagnose the illness of Mrs. Day. Gil Wise portrays Dr. Humphrey, while John Harper is cast as Dr. Somers. Another visitor to the tumultuous household, trying to bring a little peace perhaps, or merely solicit a little donation, is Rev. Lloyd, played by George Dey.

Assisting the director is Jim Blodgett, while the duties of producer are shared by Dolores Dey, Gil Wise, and Jeanne Wise.

Norene Martin is box office chairman and has provided the following information. Tickets for reserved seats on Fridays and Saturdays are $4. These seats are arranged at tables for four and six, but can be bought in any combination. Chairs are arranged in rows for Thursday nights, when admission is $3, with a special price of $2 on Thursdays only for Senior Citizens and students.

Place, 215 W. Main, 897-8545. Messages may also be left for Norene evenings at her home, 897-5525. Tickets can be purchased at the door only on Thursday nights.

Will Mother find a satisfactory maid? Will Clarence propose to Mary? Will Mother recover from her mysterious ailment? Will Cora ever go home? Will Father submit to being baptized? The answers to these questions will be provided in three acts of very pleasing family entertainment, "Life With Father".

Strong case for a smoke-free atmosphere as the norm

Michigan nonsmokers have a new partner in their efforts to promote clean indoor air and healthy lungs. (Nonsmokers outnumber smokers in this state by four to one.)

"Nonsmokers' Rights", a comprehensive 12-page tabloid newspaper published by the American Lung Association of Michigan, informs Michigan citizens about the health hazards of secondhand smoke. It further explains the Michigan Clean Indoor Air Act, H.B. 5210, discusses existing Michigan laws restricting smoking, and describes the opposition, the tobacco lobby.

H.B. 5210, introduced on December 21 by Representative Justine Barns (D-Westland), has been referred to the House Public Health Committee. Co-sponsors of the bill are Perry Bullard, Nick Ciaramitaro, David Evans, David Hollister, Lynn Jondahl, Victor Krause, and Jeff Padden.

The bill would prohibit smoking in public places, except in designated smoking areas. A "public place" is defined as any enclosed indoor area used by the general public or serving as a place of work or a meeting place for a public body. This would include retail stores, offices, commercial establishments, educational facilities, health facilities, auditoriums, arenas, meeting rooms, public conveyances.

H.B. 5210 has the full support of the American Lung Association of Michigan, which has endorsed other clean indoor air legislation in the state (S.B. 486 in 1981 and S.B. 22 in 1982. Both died in Committee.)

Violators of the bill would pay a civil fine of not more than $25 when violated.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God (Romans 6:13). No one, not even Mom, could make doughnuts like our longtime neighbor, Mrs. Moses. Mom tried using her recipe but without success. Sometimes the two women did their baking together in the same kitchen, working side by side. Although they made doughnuts at the same time and in the same room, the ones Mrs. Moses made had that certain flavor only she could create. Mom never learned her secret. Many Christians find their lives do not quite measure up to the standard for which they hope. Power is lacking to live victoriously. The possession of joy and contentment has not been attained. They long for a deeper and more satisfactory experience. The answer for these Christians is found in a total, unconditional surrender to the will of God. Only when they discover that nothing else except an "all-out" love for God will do, will they know the fullness of His presence in their lives. That's the way to be filled with His Spirit and experience spiritual success. That's "the secret."

Prayer: O Holy Spirit, I yield my life and all that I have into Thy keeping. Cleanse me. Fill me. Take my hands and may they become instruments of righteousness for Thee. Pour Thy love and Thy Spirit through me this day. Amen. Take my life, and let it be consecrated, Lord, to Thee. Take my hands, and let them move. At the impulse of Thy love. FRANCES R. HAVERGAL

Lowell cagers win two on the road

Craig Potter gets an easy two for the Lowell Red Arrows as they snuck past Lakewood 62-60, last Friday.

The Lowell Red Arrows rolled to a convincing 79-48 romp over the Belding Redskins last Tuesday evening. Jason Barber and Craig Potter scored 18 points apiece to give the Arrows their widest margin of victory this year. Lowell jumped off to a 26-9 first quarter advantage and held a 39-21 lead at halftime.

"I was little concerned with that lead at the half," said Lowell Coach Ken Akers. "Sometimes there is a tendency to let down when you're that far ahead." The concern was short-lived as the Arrows outscored the Redskins 29-9 in the third quarter to take a commanding 68-30 lead.

Ten players scored for Lowell. In addition to Barber and Potter the scoring went as follows: Luka Ivanovic 11, Jim Hostler 5, Pat Brown 9, Dave Kryger 5, Dale Feigel 3, Marty Alexander 2, John Lipkea 6, and Charlie Mattson 2.

LOWELL NIPS LAKEWOOD 62-60

A layup by Jason Barber with two seconds left gave Lowell a hard-earned victory over the Vikings. The Red Arrows could connect on only 3 of 16 shots in the first quarter so Lakewood built a 16-8 lead. The Vikings also held a 31-23 halftime advantage. However, the explosive Arrows outscored Lakewood 22-7 in the third quarter to take a 45-

38 lead. With 20 seconds left in the game Ed Wondergem connected on two free throws to tie the game at 60-60. That set the stage for Barber's game winning basket. Barber also led all scorers with 20 points. Craig Potter had 13, Pat Brown 11, and Dave Kryger 10.

The victory was Lowell's fourth in a row to raise their overall record to 9 wins and 4 losses. It also set the stage for a big conference showdown this Friday night with Fremont. Both teams are tied for second place with 5-2 conference records.

FISHING INFORMATION
Fishing activity has been minimal because of extreme cold temperatures during most of January. Warmer temperatures are bringing more anglers outside during the period January 23-January 29.

Steelhead fishing has been nearly at a standstill because of ice cover over many areas of the Grand and Muskegon Rivers. Sixth Street Dam in Grand Rapids and Croton Dam at Croton are the best possible steelhead sites because of open water conditions.

Panfish and northern pike catches in Kent and Montcalm inland lakes are good to excellent. Many lakes are yielding good catches; too numerous to mention. Panfish are biting in Stems and Potawatomi Bayous in Ottawa County.

Perch are being caught in Lake Macatawa west of Big Bay.

Perch are also being caught in Muskegon and White Lakes.

Good catches of northern pike are being taken on tip-ups at Muskegon and White Lakes.

IT'S YOUR CHANCE TO HELP WILDLIFE:

The 1983 Michigan Legislature created a Nongame Wildlife Fund to help support the many species of wildlife which we do not hunt or trap, but enjoy having and seeing in our environment. These nongame species include more than 500 kinds of birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians and fish. Endangered plants will also be helped by this fund. Nongame wildlife is a vital part of our natural diversity and is important to the high quality of life we enjoy in Michigan.

The nongame wildlife refund write-in makes it possible to convert your concern for wildlife into actions. The write-in is not a part of your taxes (like the political tax check-off) but a voluntary donation to share your refund with wildlife.

Conservation Officers serve warrants in Alpena area

Five persons were arrested in the Alpena area as teams of Michigan Conservation Officers served warrants on four meat processing firms. The firms allegedly have been making and selling large quantities of sausage and hamburger made mostly from deer meat, as well as selected cuts of venison.

This morning's crackdown culminated a 12-month investigation by officers of the DNR Report All Poaching (RAP) unit. Investigators are prepared to testify that the meat processing firms obtained deer meat by paying poachers for illegally killed animals, and by skimming off a portion of deer meat processed for legal hunters.

"Such exploitation of Michigan's wildlife resources must be stopped," said DNR law enforcement Division Chief Frank Opolka. "We hope that news of these arrests will deter others from illegal killing of deer and other game for commercial purposes."

Today's operation saw uniformed conservation officers, bearing search and arrest warrants authorized by Alpena County Prosecutor Ted Johnson, carry out simultaneous raids on the suspect establishments. Names of the firms involved and persons arrested were withheld pending arraignment.

Spread among the defendants are charges on a variety of conservation law violations, including illegal sale of deer, illegal possession of deer, and possession of improperly tagged or untagged deer.

Officers seized hundreds of pounds of deer meat and evidence today. In addition, the DNR has in its possession three large freezers filled with meat obtained during the investigation. Analysis of evidence seized during today's crackdown is expected to lead to additional arrests, Opolka said.

DNR law enforcement officers believe that thousands of deer are illegally killed and sold for profit each year in Michigan. Cooperation of the public is crucial to help the DNR cut these losses.

"If you see or know of a poaching incident, please contact your local conservation officer or report it via our 24-hour, toll-free RAP Hotline (1-800-292-7800)," urged Opolka.

The only time in United States history that the President and Vice President were members of different political parties occurred when Thomas Jefferson, a Republican, became Vice President under John Adams, a Federalist, in 1797.

Increase in gas bills caused by cold temperatures

"A combination of record cold temperatures, higher gas costs and longer meter reading periods is causing an increase in gas bills for Consumers Power Company's 1.1 million natural gas customers," said Alma District Manager Charles W. Miller.

"Midway through the winter of 1983-84, temperatures have been approximately 60 percent colder than the mild 1982-83 season and about 24 percent colder than a typical Michigan winter, based on a 30-year average," Miller said.

The chilling temperatures produced a new gas sendout record for Consumers Power for the 1983-84 heating season on Sunday, January 22, 1984. The company sent out 2.319 billion cubic feet of gas during the 24-hour period ended at 1:00 A.M. that day. The utility's all-time record sendout was 2.558 billion cubic feet on January 11, 1982.

Higher gas costs from Trunkline Gas Company and Panhandle Eastern Company, the two main suppliers for Consumers Power, were expected to cause increases of approximately 25 percent over last year's bills. However, the recent removal of Algerian liquefied natural gas from Trunkline Gas Company's system and new supplies of less expensive U.S. sources have partially offset that expected increase.

"A typical residential customer, using 250 hundred cubic feet (ccf) of gas in January 1984, can expect to pay approximately $125, an 18 percent increase over last year," Miller said. A residential customer using 250 hundred cubic feet in January 1983 was billed $106 for the same period," he said. Another

DID YOU KNOW?

When's the last time you took a good look at your bedding? More and more consumers are coming to realize that there's a strong connection between good bedding and a good night's sleep. Here are a few eye-opening facts about bedding from a recent nationwide survey:

- Older Americans tend to believe that mattresses and foundations last 15 years; 18-34 year olds believe 12 years. Experts say, however, old bedding should be replaced every eight to ten years for ideal quality and comfort.
- Persons over 65 are less likely to buy a queen or king size set, while younger Americans are less likely to purchase top-of-the-line bedding than the older generation. Both are making serious mistakes, say experts at the Better Sleep Council, an educational, non-profit organization that seeks to inform the public about sleep and encourage scientific research in the field. Ample space is important for freedom of motion while you sleep, while quality of the mattress and foundation determine their support characteristics and how long they can be expected to provide comfort and support at their maximum level.

- 68 percent of the respondents indicated that a good quality mattress provides good support—which can prevent backaches.
- A greater percentage of men sleep on king or queen size beds—58 percent—than on a full/double to purchase top-of-the-line bedding than the older generation. Both are making serious mistakes, say experts at the Better Sleep Council, an educational, non-profit organization that seeks to inform the public about sleep and encourage scientific research in the field. HOW TO MAKE DOMINOES

You can easily make large-sized dominoes for your own use, to sell as sets, or to give as presents. You'll need these supplies: one 5" X 16" piece of 3/4" plywood, 16 feet of surfaced four sides (S4S) 9/16" X 2" pine stock, eighteen one-inch finishing nails, white glue, and wood putty.

You'll also need the following tools: a saw (table, radial arm, portable power, or hand), a sander (vibrating or hand), a woodburning tool (with round and straight heads for dots and lines), a hole punch and cardboard (for your template), sandpaper, measuring tape, a pencil, a brown permanent marker, and a one-inch alphabet stencil.

Now, sand the faces and edges of the long stock. Always be sure to work along the lengthwise grain of the wood, and to start by using coarse sandpaper, followed with finer finishing sheets.

Once you've finished rubbing, you're ready to cut 34 blocks (each 4" long) from the pine stock for your dominoes. (Actually, you'll need only 28 pieces to complete a set, but it's a good idea to make extras in case you goof later with the woodburner.) It's important to be accurate in your measurements. If you're using a radial arm saw, you can insure uniformity by nailing a block of scrap in place exactly four inches from your saw blade to serve as a "stop". On the other hand, if you're using a portable power or hand saw, you'll have to mark one four-inch section and cut it off before you mark the next in order to allow space for the width of the saw blade between dominoes.

After you've cut the blocks, you can make the box they'll be stored in. Lay 28 domino pieces on their sides like a big deck of cards turned on its edge. Now, carefully measure the length of this row and add 1-1/8". Then cut two pieces of the remaining pine stock, each of this length, for the sides of the box. And cut two more pieces, each 4-1/16" long, to use as the ends.

At this point you can glue, assemble, and nail the box together, as shown in Fig. 1. Then use the four-sided structure as a guide to draw the exact size of the plywood piece that will fit inside of it to serve as the bottom. Cut this component and lay it, best side up, recessed in the box frame and flush with the bottom of the sides. Glue and nail it in place, then fill the nail holes with wood putty and set the whole thing aside to dry while you "decorate" the dominoes.

To produce the delicate patterns of spots on your domino pieces, you'll need to make a medium-weight cardboard template as shown in Fig. 2. Carefully mark the spots for the 14 holes and use a hole punch to poke them out. Now, with a pencil, mark the 28 blocks with the correct number combinations: 6-6, 6-5, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, 5-5, 5-4, 5-3, 5-2, 5-1, 4-4, 4-3, 4-2, 4-1, 3-3, 3-2, 3-1, 2-2, 2-1, 1-1, 6-0, 5-0, 4-0, 3-0, 2-0, 1-0, 0-0 ("0" means leave that side blank).

You should also cut an extra piece of cardboard that's exactly 2" X 2". This can then be placed on one end of each domino and used to mark the centerlines with a pencil. Now, you're ready to plug in your woodburner and "brand" all 28 centerlines and 168 dots.

Use the fine sandpaper to lightly hand-sand the edges of each domino and the box so that no rough spots or splinters remain. Next, pencil the letters of the word DOMINOES on one long side of your box, using the one-inch stencil. Then go back over the word with a brown marking pen, which will blend into the wood to produce a stained effect.

Singles may have more tax breaks than they realize

If you are single and treat your 1983 federal income tax return like an unwanted houseguest you can't wait to get rid of, you may miss out on some good opportunities to save money.

Most singles file a short form and claim the standard deduction, or the zero bracket amount, of $2,300. That's because they usually don't amass more than $2,300 of deductible expenses and it doesn't pay to itemize their return. If that's your situation, you may still find ways to save on taxes without itemizing, says the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA).

At the bottom of the 1040 long form there's a section called "adjustments to income." This can be the route to enable singles to lower their taxable income without the paperwork of itemizing.

Let's say you moved to a new location in 1983 to start a new job and the distance between your old home and your new job is more than 35 miles. You can subtract up to $1,500 for the cost of house-hunting trips and any temporary housing and meals until you were settled. In addition, you can reduce your taxable income by any fees or commissions paid to real estate brokers. However, there are limits on these indirect expenses associated with moving, so check the IRS rules.

Another way to reduce your taxable income, within the adjustments to income section, is to subtract any unreimbursed business expenses. Include meals, transportation, lodging and any incidental costs incurred while you were on an overnight business trip.

If you hold two jobs, you can include the cost of traveling from your first job to your second job. Do not adjust your income for the cost of commuting from your home to your primary job.

Perhaps the most common method of reducing taxable income is making contributions to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). About a quarter of those eligible maintain IRA accounts. A single person can contribute up to $2,000 a year to an IRA account and reduce taxable income by that amount.

There are differing opinions on whether a young single person should opt for an IRA. If you put $1,000 a year in an IRA, it will be worth $216,565 in 30 years, based on the prevailing 10 percent yield compounded quarterly for a "conservative" IRA. That sounds great, but young single people have other factors to consider. If after five years of $1,000 contributions to an IRA you decide to withdraw the money to take out a home mortgage or to buy a business, you must pay a 10 percent penalty for withdrawing before age 59-1/2. You may want to consult a CPA about your personal situation before opening an IRA.

CPAs say the best way to save on taxes is to plan ahead. Bunching your tax deductions is an effective tax strategy for singles. Think about this for your 1984 and 1985 taxes. If your itemized deductions and the standard deduction are about the same, try to bunch two years of itemized deductions in either 1984 or 1985 and claim the standard deduction the other year.

Let's say you are a single person with itemized deductions of about $2,300 - the same as your standard deduction. But maybe you can defer payment of $1,500 of those deductible items until 1985 and claim the standard deduction for 1984. Then, for the two years, you get deductions totaling $6,100. That's the $2,300 standard deduction in 1984 and $3,800 of itemized deductions in 1985 - your usual $2,300 plus the $15,000 shifted from 1984. Thus, you increase your total 1984-85 deductions by $1,500 - from $4,600 to $6,100 - and you've saved yourself a substantial amount of tax dollars.

King Kong is coming to G.R.

WCUZ and Sharpe Buick BMW are bringing King Kong, one of the world's largest pick-up trucks featured in the 18th annual Autorama at the Grand Center, to town on Thursday, February 9 to "squeeze a couple of lemons." King Kong will demonstrate his awesome power by crushing 2 cars purchased from WCUZ listeners in a contest.

Listeners are being asked to bring or mail a photo of their junker to Sharpe Buick-BMW, 1010 East 28th Street, before noon on Wednesday, February 8.

Two automobiles will be chosen from among the entries, and their owners will receive 3 hundred dollars for their car.

Then, at approximately 5:45 on Thursday the 9th, during a WCUZ LIVE remote broadcast, King Kong will "walk" over the cars, crushing them with 13,000 pounds of pick-up truck.

One of the cars will then be towed to the Grand Center and placed beneath King Kong for the duration of the show. Autorama runs Friday, February 9 through Sunday, February 11.

Q. The local garden store usually has specials on spring-flowering bulbs when I can get bulbs for only pennies apiece. What do I look for to make sure I'm getting a quality bulb?

A. Bulbs should be firm and healthy-looking with no sign of mold or rot. Avoid soft bulbs or dried out ones that seem very lightweight for their size.

Safety check your car for winter driving

Since seven of every 10 motorists pump their own gasoline, there is a greater need than ever for Michiganians to be sure their cars are prepared properly for the cold-weather season, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Because motorists save about 15 to 20 cents per gallon, 72 percent of the gasoline sold in the United States is self serve," said Robert Tellier, Auto Club's Emergency Road Service manager. "Those dollars saved at the gas pump could be going up in smoke in the form of costly auto repairs if proper maintenance steps aren't followed.

"Motorists who pump their own gasoline sometimes neglect preventative maintenance check-ups," Tellier said. "It is important that drivers follow the maintenance schedules in their owners' manuals and do routine checks, such as the engine oil, themselves."

October is Michigan Car Care Month and the Auto Club's 12 do-it-yourself maintenance procedures are designed to help ensure trouble-free starts this winter.

Any motorist -- armed with a screwdriver, tire pressure gauge and anti-freeze hydrometer -- can make the dozen pre-winter checks in less than 30 minutes.

"The 12 checks are easy enough to perform by anyone who can start a car," Tellier said. "The benefit is a vehicle in good running condition all winter long."

An Auto Club survey of more than 7,000 vehicles checked during last year's car care clinics showed that 85 percent had at least one defect. Slightly more than half of the vehicles checked had deficiencies, which if left unattended, could have resulted in breakdowns. The average vehicle checked was 5.6 years old, while the national average is 7.2.

The Auto Club recommends motorists learn how to do the following 12 items on a cold, non-running engine with the exception of the automatic transmission fluid:

- Check motor oil level.
- Brake fluid level should be within a quarter-inch of the top of the master cylinder. The screwdriver is needed to pry off the clip that holds the cover of the brake fluid chamber.
- Fill the windshield washer reservoir with a good commercial solvent to prevent freezing.
- Check the level and strength of antifreeze in the radiator. Some cars have overflow tanks where the coolant can be checked. Strength of antifreeze can be checked easily with the hydrometer.
- Power steering fluid level can be checked on a dipstick similar to the oil. To avoid overfilling, add the fluid gradually and test the level several times.
- Hold the carburetor air filter up to the sun or next to a light. If you can't see through it, it's time for replacement.
- Check the automatic transmission fluid with a dipstick located on most cars behind the engine on the passenger side of the car. The car should be parked on a level grade with the engine running.
- Test for fan belt tension and look for fraying or cracking. Press your thumb on the middle of each drive belt. If the belt gives more than a half-inch, have it tightened or replaced. Also inspect hoses and connections for

- leaks.
 - Clean battery terminals and dirty cables with a baking soda and water solution, and check the battery fluid level.
 - Turn on all lights and turn signals to make sure they work.
 - Check tire pressure with a gauge and inspect tread wear. Don't forget to check the spare.
 - Check windshield wipers and replace them if worn.
- Tellier advised motorists to make these checks on a monthly basis.

Do-it-yourselfer Christine Huff checks one of the most neglected items under the hood -- antifreeze strength -- as part of a pre-winter maintenance program. The Automobile Club of Michigan recommends a simple 12-point program, which if followed properly, is the key to trouble-free driving this winter. The checklist items are: 1. Motor oil dipstick -- check level. 2. Master cylinder -- check brake fluid level. 3. Windshield washer reservoir -- keep it full. 4. Radiator -- check coolant level and antifreeze strength. 5. Power steering fluid dipstick -- check level. 6. Air filter -- replace if dirty. 7. Automatic transmission fluid dipstick -- check level with motor running. 8. Belts and hoses -- test tension and replace if frayed or cracked. 9. Battery -- clean terminals and check fluid level. 10. Lights and turn signals -- be sure they work. 11. Tires -- check pressure and wear. 12. Windshield wipers -- replace if worn.

Kids' stories at library

The Kent County Library System is now enrolling children for late winter story times. The six-week series is free and designed for children ages 3-5 and provides an introduction to good books, songs, fingerplays, rhymes, dramatic participation and games. Each weekly program lasts approximately 40 minutes.

Class enrollment is limited. Parents are encouraged to register children early by calling the sponsoring branch. Also, children should have reached age 3 by September 1983 to be eligible.

Late winter story time will be conducted by children's librarians in the indicated branches beginning on the following dates:

- Lowell Branch, February 22, 1:00 P.M.
- Alto Branch, February 23, 11:00 A.M.

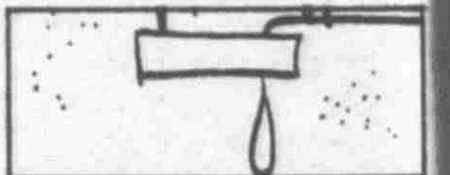

Tax Guide available

The Michigan Taxpayer's Guide, an easy to understand booklet with helpful hints on filling out this year's tax forms, is available to residents of the 90th District, said State Representative Victor C. Krause (R-Rockford).

The booklet contains information on property taxes, the property tax credit, the Michigan income tax, the single business tax and other tax-related subjects.

"I am certain that this year's guide will be an aid to anyone filling out their tax forms," Krause said. "Because tax laws change so often, many people find it difficult to complete their own forms. This publication is one of the few in which citizens can find information on the many Michigan tax laws in understandable language."

The free booklet is available at post offices and banks. Anyone interested in obtaining a tax guide can also write to Representative Victor C. Krause, State Capitol Building, Lansing, Michigan 48909 or by calling (517) 373-0218.

W-2's due Jan. 31

Employers are required by law to make Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement," available to their employees by January 31, 1984, the Internal Revenue Service said.

To avoid delays in receiving the W-2 form, employees should make sure that their correct address is on file with the employer. If employees do not receive the W-2 by January 31, they should contact the employer to see if the form is available. If the W-2 has not been received by February 15, the employee should ask for assistance by calling the IRS Tax Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Taxpayers should have a W-2 form from each employer they worked for during the year, regardless of the length of time worked, according to the IRS. If an employee is unable to get a W-2 before April 16 when the return is due, a timely return must be filed with a statement explaining the computations for the missing wage and tax information.
