C. of C. met this Thursday

The Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the second meeting in a series of presentations on various programs available to industry and commerce in Michigan to be this Thursday April 26 at 7:30 P.M. The meeting will be at the City hall and will feature representatives from the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce discussing their successful use of many state programs and the impact on individual businesses.

The turn out was very good and the response was very positive at the first meeting. Support for a revitalized and active business organization in Lowell seems strong and many good ideas toward that goal were presented.

This meeting will be another step toward getting business and industry organized so that all can work together for the improvement of the business and social climate in Lowell. Jim Maatman, organizer of these meetings, encourages all business and professional people to attend this meeting, and keep in mind the final presentation which will be Thursday May 24, at 7:30 in City Hall.

Driver flees crash scene

Kent County Sheriff's Deputies had a bit of a mystery on their hands following this one car crash on Alden Nash near Seqwum Monday afternoon. The Sheriff's Department received a call about the accident at 3:59 P.M., but when they arrived on the scene no driver was to be found. An investigation was begun, but the driver finally surrendered himself to Sheriff's Deputies Tuesday morning. The driver's name is being withheld pending further investigation. The driver has a bump to the head and some injuries to his shoulder and side according to deputies. The car clipped a Lowell Light and Power pole, that had to be repaired before a wrecker could haul the vehicle.

Deputies say that the driver claims he was northbound, dropped a cigarette and lost control of his vehicle.

D.A.R.E. Prom Hotline set for Saturday

Project DARE (Drug and Alcohol Reachout Effort), in an innovative approach to keeping Lowell juniors and seniors alive on prom night, has established a temporary hotline for prommers to call should they choose to drink or are riding with someone who has. Any student in need of being taken home because of an inability to drive or are fearful of riding with a drinking driver may call 897-8429. Upon receipt of the call, an adult parent will be dispatched to the caller who will then be transported to the student's home.

Project DARE recognizes that some prom participants will be drinking and others will be with someone who may be using alcohol or drugs. This joint student-parent project is designed to provide a ride home for those who are incapable of driving or the student in a position of not wanting to ride with a friend whose faculties are impaired.

All a student need do is call the special temporary 897-8429 number, state their name, location, the phone number from where he or she is calling and home address. An adult driver will be sent to that location and the student driven home. It is to be emphasized that the student will only be taken to a parent or guardian.

Project DARE people recognize that some students may not feel comfortable in calling their parents when confronted with this type of a drinking/driving situation. It is hoped that they will have less hesitation in using this special service since students will be answering the phones and adults will be making the pick-up. Students calling in will be taken to their home only and the automobile of the drinking driver locked for later acquisition by the student or his or her parent.

Two Lowell High School Seniors, Jill Johnson and Cari Cridler, have been active in establishing this project. Both will be among the several students answering phones prom night from 6:00 P.M. to 6:00 A.M. Saturday and Sunday, April 28 & 29. The purpose of the hotline project is best summed up by the two seniors who stated, "We want to keep our friends alive."

IT'S A FACT!

Only one percent of U.S. firms now account for 80 percent of all America's exports. That's a picture that many business leaders would like to change for the benefit of all Americans.

One company that's making a major contribution to expanding our world trade has just introduced a new line of radial tires in Japan. Armstrong Tires says "the quality mystique of foreign competitors is over. You can't buy a better radial or bias tire than those from the U.S."

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good... (Psalm 107:1).

There was one thing I disliked about having company for dinner when I was a youngster. If there wasn't room at the dining room table, we youngsters had to wait in the kitchen until the guests and old members of the family had eaten.

It was a trying experience. Would all the food be eaten, we wondered. Would there be anything left for us? Oh, how good the table looked loaded down with the Sunday best spread! Hearing the exclamations of delight and approval from the guests didn't help our empty stomachs, either.

In the Service

Marine Pfc. Randy W. Wright, son of Richard H. and Rosalyn M. Wright of 6569 McKendry Road, Saranac, Michigan, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of Military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

However, we survived each ordeal of waiting in the kitchen for the second table. And, we never went hungry. Mom saw to that. There was plenty to satisfy our hunger, and then too, she sometimes laid aside something special for us, to compensate for our waiting.

It seems that many times throughout our lifetime we have to wait. When a prayer is finally answered, when the trial of waiting for some dream to come true is over, we may be surprised to find a special reward in store for those of us who have had to "wait in the kitchen."

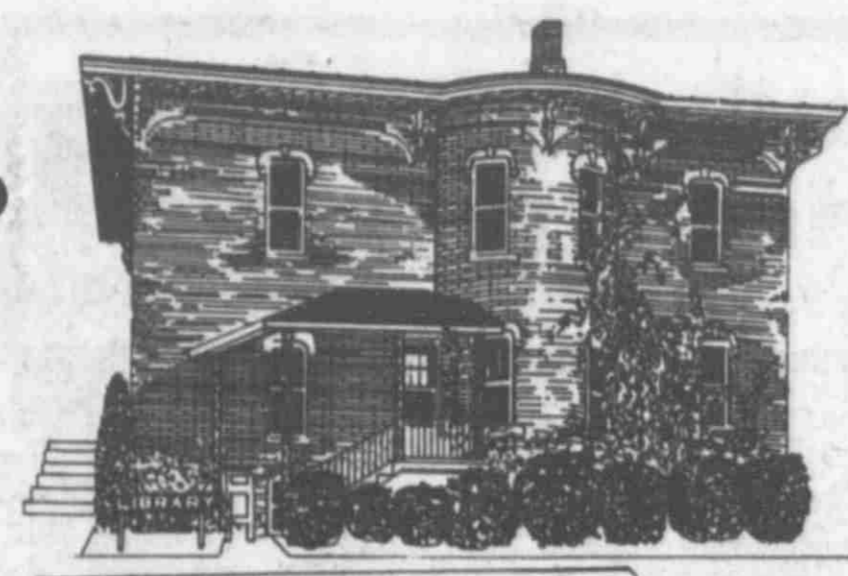

Prayer: O Lord, Thou art very good. Thou knowest always what is best for me. Help me to "wait in the kitchen" patiently and trust Thee to answer when and how Thou chooseth. Amen.

What'er my God ordains is right; His will is ever just; Howe'er He order now my cause, I will be still and trust.

Girls lose to Ionia

The weather played havoc with the Red Arrow's softball team last week, and so did the Ionia Bulldogs. The weather forced the postponement of a doubleheader until the last week of the season. On Thursday however, after two shower delays, and a 5 run seventh inning by the Bulldogs, the Arrows suffered their second set back of the young season 6-3. It marked the first time in 6 years Lowell lost to Ionia.

Ionia drew first blood as they scored an unearned run in the second inning. Two Lowell errors gave the Bulldogs a run, and that run held up until the bottom of the sixth.

Lowell's Chris Ellison and Ionia's Jean Heimar hooked up in a pitchers duel until the 6th inning. In Lowell's half of the sixth eight batters went to the plate scoring 3 runs. Trisha Stencel singled, Angie Hyzer

Capitol Column

by Senator Dick Posthumus

In a flurry of pre-Easter activity, the State Senate tackled three major, controversial issues. A brief overview of those three items should give you a closer look into the politics behind such weighty legislative matters.

TAX ROLLBACK
The Republican-controlled Senate and the Democrat-controlled House cannot agree on the amount or effective date for an income tax rollback. Republicans insist that more can be given sooner, and the Democrats are balking. The final outcome now rests with a joint House-Senate Conference Committee.

Twice, the Senate, with bipartisan support, sponsored an accelerated tax cut that would roll back the tax from its current 6.1 percent to 5.35 percent on July 1 of this year; to 4.6 percent by January 1, 1986; and to 3.9 percent if the unemployment rate hits 3.9 percent.

Twice the Democrats in the House rejected the Senate version, adopting instead a bill that would drop the income tax rate to 5.35 percent October 1 -- period. The Senate-passed version would save the taxpayers more than one-half billion dollars over the next three years, while the House version would result in a tax savings of only $130 million. House and Senate conference committee members are: Senators Norm Shinkle, Dick Posthumus and John Kelly; and Representatives Lynn Jondahl, Virgil Smith and Bill Bryant.

UNEMPLOYMENT "WAITING WEEK"

The Senate, on a straight 20-17 party line vote, with only Republican support, has passed "waiting week" legislation that would require unemployment recipients to wait one week before becoming eligible for benefits. However, for the long-term unemployed, the full complement of benefits would be paid. Business interest contend that reinstating the "waiting week" requirement, which was removed in 1975, would save them up to $170 million over the next three years. Labor unions, oppose the legislation, saying it will hurt labor relations in the state. Today, 39 states have "waiting week" requirements.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION ON BALANCED BUDGET
The senate passed, after long debate, a joint resolution urging Congress to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the U.S. Constitution to require a balanced federal budget. Thirty-four states are needed before Congress is forced to convene a convention - Michigan would be thirty-third if the state Souse passes the resolution. However, Democrat control of that chamber makes the prospect more unlikely.

There is a sharp division in the Legislature over this issue. Opponents argue that a constitutional convention will result in opening up discussion on issues far beyond the realm of a balanced budget. Those supporting the measure believe there are plenty of safeguards against that happening.

The federal budget has been balanced only once in the last 22 years. Efforts to rein spending and reduce the national debt have been unsuccessful. A constitutional convention resolution would mandate that Congress and the U.S. Senate pull out all the stops and head off a major recession with a balanced budget.

How investing in bonds can affect your financial plan

Should you invest in corporate bonds or municipal bonds? Before you decide, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, you should understand how this kind of investment will affect your tax and total financial situation.

A bond is an I.O.U. from a corporation or municipality. Bonds are issued to raise capital to build plants, buy machinery and maintain a business. If you lend your money to a corporation by buying its bonds, the corporation promises to pay you back with interest.

Typically, bonds are sold in $1,000 units. So, if you buy a $1,000 bond, and it pays a 10 percent annual interest, you'll receive $100 a year until the bond matures. Interest is usually paid out twice a year. At maturity, you receive the $1,000 original investment -- also called the face value.

Bonds provide a relatively secure return on your investment. However, inflation and changes in interest rates can make your investment less attractive. Here's how: After investing in a $1,000 bond that pays 10 percent interest, the interest rates on other investments may rise. If new bonds are issued at a 15 percent interest rate -- $150 a year -- your $100 return is no longer as attractive, and the value of your bond decreases if you want to sell it.

Conversely, your bond may become more valuable if interest rates fall below the 10 percent rate of return. The bond you paid $1,000 for will be worth more on this "secondary" market -- where bonds are traded -- when interest rates decline.

The interplay between interest rates and bond prices is measured by the bond's current yield. To find the current yield, divide a bond's annual interest rate by its current price. For example, take a bond issued at $1,000 and paying 15 percent interest. Say interest rates rise, making the bond's 15 percent rate less attractive and forcing down the price of the bond should you want to sell it. Then, if the bond's price slips to $950 on the secondary market, you would compute the current yield by dividing the annual $150 interest payment by the current market value of $950. In this case, the current yield would be 15.8 percent. As you can see, when prevailing interest rates rise, the current yields on existing bonds also rise.

The rate of return on a bond is not the only factor to consider when you are looking for the right bond to buy. Bonds are rated by independent financial services, such as Standard and Poor's and Moody's. The rating indicates the bond issuer's capacity to pay investors interest and repay the principal when the bond matures. Generally, the higher rate bonds pay less in interest because the risk of default is lower. You will find that a bond rated AAA offers a yield two or three percentage points lower than those rated BBB, because AAA is less risky.

One type of bond, which has been issued with increasing frequency in recent years, is the municipal bond. These bonds are issued by state and local governments or their agencies, not corporations. Interest on municipal bonds is exempt from federal taxes and is usually exempt from state and local income taxes in the areas in which they are issued. Because these bonds are tax-exempt, a municipality can offer an interest rate that is lower than that of a corporate bond. The lower interest rate may be offset by receiving interest income that is tax-free. Your effective yield depends on your tax bracket. If you are in the 44 percent tax bracket, the yield on a 10 percent tax-exempt investment is equivalent to a taxable yield of 17.86 percent. A rule of thumb is that those in the 40 percent or higher tax bracket should be able to benefit by investing in a municipal bond rather than a corporate bond.

Consult your tax advisor before making this sort of tax-advantaged investment.

HBO fare asks why man can't be like woman?

By Andrew J. Edelstein

This flamboyant singer. "I don't promote sexuality, I promote tolerance," says the 22-year-old Boy George, who wears heavy makeup and a broad-brimmed Hasidic hat. "Tootsie" also contained its own plea for tolerance. Not so much for the acceptance of transvestism - but for men to understand what it's like to face the world as a woman and deal with the little insults and degradations men may ordinarily not see such as the leers and the "cute" remarks. The film succeeded admirably on that level.

Hoffman assumed a role in the film, and it was only a role. But Boy George lives with his persona 24 hours a day. He may be trying to raise legitimate questions about masculinity and femininity, but many people view him as little more than the 1980s version of Tiny Tim. When it comes to answering the question of "Why can't a man be more like a woman?", we'll take the lessons of "Tootsie" over Boy George's plucked eyebrows anyday.

White Cane Week April 27 - May 6

The Lowell and Alto Lions clubs will be among the more than 500 Michigan Lions clubs participating in the annual "White Cane Week" drive April 27 thru May 6. The Alto Lions Club members will work high traffic locations in Lowell like Eberhards, Johnson's, State Savings Bank and Lippert's Pharmacy on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28. The Lowell Lions Club will work the same locations the following weekend on Friday and Saturday May 4 and 5.

The massive fund-raising drive is the main source of monies used to help the approximately 16,000 blind and visually impaired persons in Michigan.

"Our goal of $1.5 - million will enable us to purchase White Canes, Braille watches and various other aids for the unsighted," according to Owen Suits, Michigan White Cane Chairman. "We want to help the blind help themselves, and this takes a great deal of funding. The people of Michigan have never forgotten those less fortunate than themselves, even through our recent economic lows. We can't continue our work without their help. It's as simple as that," he continued.

In addition to gaining monetary support for Lions' projects, a prime purpose of White Cane Week is to make the public aware of the Michigan White Cane Law, requiring all motorists to stop at least ten feet from blind persons carrying White Canes. In addition, the Lions hope they will extend the same courtesy to those being led by a Leader Dog in harness. People should also know that all public facilities must permit a blind person with a Leader Dog in harness to enter or use those premises.

"This public awareness is more important than ever with the "right turn on red" law, according to Suits. "blind persons cannot see red traffic lights, so their White Canes must tell motorists to stop, and that is why awareness of the law is so crucial."

To symbolize and create awareness of their efforts, the Lions have chosen pretty 17-year old Cheryl Hyde of Flint, Michigan, as the 1984 White Cane Queen. Cheryl, a freshman at the University of Michigan-Flint, lost her sight three years ago due to uveitis or juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, possibly contracted as a premature infant in the incubator. Cheryl will make personal appearances throughout the state and on numerous radio and television programs during her reign.

Monies collected from the sale of the miniature White Cane pins during White Cane Week are used to support the many worthwhile projects and institutions of the Lions Clubs. Thousands of Michiganers have already benefitted from the Leader Dog School, Rochester, now graduating more than 350 dog-student teams annually; Welcome Home for the Blind, Grand Rapids, built to fill the needs of the sightless elderly; the Michigan Lions Eye Banks, located on the campuses of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, which assist in the restoration of sight to the unsighted; the Lions Care Program; Penrickton Center for the multi-handicapped in Taylor; free sight screening from sightmobiles and numerous local community programs and services.

Charles R. Lippert of Lowell, president of Ferris' Pharmacy Alumni Association, presented the award. Cross was nominated by FSC faculty members and selected for the Pharmacy Alumni Association's most prestigious honor by the group's Board of Directors, according to Ian Mathison, Ferris dean of pharmacy.

There is also an explanation of the basic motions of the sun, earth and moon, which cause these interesting spectacles. Showtimes are at 8 P.M. Thursday, Friday and Saturday; 10 P.M. Friday; and 2:30 and 3:45 P.M. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $2 for adults, $1.50 for children (5-15) and senior citizens. Planetarium admission includes Museum admission. Watch out for deals that sound too good to be true

You can enjoy the convenience of mail-order shopping without running the risk of being taken by swindlers if you follow these words of advice, Postmaster Charlie Doyle of the Lowell Post office said today. The cardinal rule, he says, is: "If a deal sounds too good to be true, it probably is."

- Beware of exaggerated claims or unusually low prices.
- Don't be rushed. Avoid offers that claim to be your "last chance" to get a bargain.
- Keep a copy of the advertisement from which you ordered.
- Never send cash. Use a check, money order or credit card because, if necessary, these can be traced.
- Keep a record of the date of your order and the number of your check, if you pay by check. Retain the canceled check when it is returned to you.
- If you have doubts about a company, check with the Postal Inspection Service, the Better Business Bureau of a local consumer protection agency to see if there are any complaints on record against the company. It is best to do this before ordering.
- "Mail-order shopping can be a real convenience for busy people and can offer discerning shoppers a chance to get goods only available through the mail, the postmaster said. "The Postal Service wants to help our customers get our best. I urge mail-order shoppers to remember these few words of advice, then sit back, relax and go shopping without leaving the comfort of home."

Most valued possessions are often irreplaceable

If your home were burglarized tomorrow, how much would you lose? Most people would be likely to reply that since their homes and possessions are insured, they wouldn't lose anything. But according to experts at Honeywell Protection Services, some of the items most commonly stolen are either uninsured or underinsured. And regardless of insurance coverage, some property is literally irreplaceable.

The 10 most popular targets of burglars are:

- Jewelry, electronic equipment (stereos, TVs, BCRs, Home computers), bicycles, tools, musical instruments, cameras, guns, furniture, silver and gold, coins (collectible).

Your jewelry, the burglars' favorite target, may have enormous sentimental value. Grandfather's pocket watch or great grandmother's cameo may only be worth $50 or $200 in cash, but you cannot insure the incalculable value of a family heirloom. When that pocket watch is taken, you are also robbed of the chance to pass it along to the next generation.

Antique furniture, Oriental rugs and coin and stamp collections can rarely be replaced even if they are fully insured because they are usually one-of-a-kind items.

Above all, the sense of outrage that your possessions have been ransacked and scattered about, and the lingering uneasiness whenever you enter your home late at night are feelings that remain long after the money matters have been settled and the TV replaced. And peace of mind can be the most valuable possession of all.

White Cane Week April 27 - May 6

The Lowell and Alto Lions clubs will be among the more than 500 Michigan Lions clubs participating in the annual "White Cane Week" drive April 27 thru May 6. The Alto Lions Club members will work high traffic locations in Lowell like Eberhards, Johnson's, State Savings Bank and Lippert's Pharmacy on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28. The Lowell Lions Club will work the same locations the following weekend on Friday and Saturday May 4 and 5.

The massive fund-raising drive is the main source of monies used to help the approximately 16,000 blind and visually impaired persons in Michigan. "Our goal of $1.5 million will enable us to purchase White Canes, Braille watches and various other aids for the unsighted," according to Owen Suits, Michigan White Cane Chairman. "We want to help the blind help themselves, and this takes a great deal of funding. The people of Michigan have never forgotten those less fortunate than themselves, even through our recent economic lows. We can't continue our work without their help. It's as simple as that," he continued.

In addition to gaining monetary support for Lions' projects, a prime purpose of White Cane Week is to make the public aware of the Michigan White Cane Law, requiring all motorists to stop at least ten feet from blind persons carrying White Canes. In addition, the Lions hope they will extend the same courtesy to those being led by a Leader Dog in harness. People should also know that all public facilities must permit a blind person with a Leader Dog in harness to enter or use those premises.

"This public awareness is more important than ever with the 'right turn on red' law, according to Suits. 'Blind persons cannot see red traffic lights, so their White Canes must tell motorists to stop, and that is why awareness of the law is so crucial.'"

To symbolize and create awareness of their efforts, the Lions have chosen pretty 17-year old Cheryl Hyde of Flint, Michigan, as the 1984 White Cane Queen. Cheryl, a freshman at the University of Michigan-Flint, lost her sight three years ago due to uveitis or juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, possibly contracted as a premature infant in the incubator. Cheryl will make personal appearances throughout the state and on numerous radio and television programs during her reign.

Monies collected from the sale of the miniature White Cane pins during White Cane Week are used to support the many worthwhile projects and institutions of the Lions Clubs. Thousands of Michiganders have already benefited from the Leader Dog School, Rochester, now graduating more than 350 dog-student teams annually; Welcome Home for the Blind, Grand Rapids, built to fill the needs of the sightless elderly; the Michigan Lions Eye Banks, located on the campuses of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, which assist in the restoration of sight to the unsighted; the Lions Care Program; Pernickton Center for the multi-handicapped in Taylor; free sight screening from sightmobiles and numerous local community programs and services.

Charles R. Lippert of Lowell, president of Ferris' Pharmacy Alumni Association, presented the award. Cross was nominated by FSC faculty members and selected for the Pharmacy Alumni Association's most prestigious honor by the group's Board of Directors, according to Ian Mathison, Ferris dean of pharmacy.

Planetarium sky show

"When the dragon eats the sun"

The Chaffee Planetarium of the Grand Rapids Public Museum presents "The Great Eclipse of May 30" or "When the Dragon Eats the Sun," beginning May 3 in the sky theater. This program, which continues through June 3, simulates the upcoming partial eclipse of the sun that will occur around noon on Wednesday, May 30.

In addition to highlighting the upcoming event, the show looks at the historical significance of eclipses, which were greatly feared and revered by our ancestors. There is also an explanation of the basic motions of the sun, earth and moon, which cause these interesting spectacles. Showtimes are at 8 P.M. Thursday, Friday and Saturday; 2:30 P.M. Friday; and 2:30 and

3:45 P.M. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $2 for adults, $1.50 for children (5-15) and senior citizens. Planetarium admission includes Museum admission. CHILDREN UNDER 5 CANNOT BE ADMITTED TO THE SKY THEATER. Special rates are available for evening shows when two people can see the show for the price of one adult admission.

Most valued possessions are often irreplaceable

If your home were burglarized tomorrow, how much would you lose?

Most people would be likely to reply that since their homes and possessions are insured, they wouldn't lose anything. But according to experts at Honeywell Protection Services, some of the items most commonly stolen are either uninsured or underinsured. And regardless of insurance coverage, some property is literally irreplaceable.

The 10 most popular targets of burglars are: Jewelry, electronic equipment (stereos, TVs, VCRs, Home computers), bicycles, tools, musical instruments, cameras, guns, furniture, silver and gold, coins (collectible).

Your jewelry, the burglars' favorite target, may have enormous sentimental value. Grandfather's pocket watch or great grandmother's cameo may only be worth $50 or $200 in cash, but you cannot insure the incalculable value of a family heirloom. When that pocket watch is taken, you are also robbed of the chance to pass it along to the next generation.

Antique furniture, Oriental rugs and coin and stamp collections can rarely be replaced even if they are fully insured because they are usually one-of-a-kind items.

Above all, the sense of outrage that your possessions have been ransacked and scattered about, and the lingering uneasiness whenever you enter your home late at night are feelings that remain long after the money matters have been settled and the TV replaced. And peace of mind can be the most valuable possession of all.

Watch out for deals that sound too good to be true

You can enjoy the convenience of mail-order shopping without running the risk of being taken by swindlers if you follow these words of advice, Postmaster Charlie Doyle of the Lowell Post office said today. The cardinal rule, he says, is: "If a deal sounds too good to be true, it probably is."

Beware of exaggerated claims or unusually low prices. Don't be rushed. Avoid offers that claim to be your "last chance" to get a bargain. - Keep a copy of the advertisement from which you ordered. - Never send cash. Use a check, money order or credit card because, if necessary, these can be traced.

- Keep a record of the date of your order and the number of your check, if you pay by check. Retain the canceled check when it is returned to you.

- If you have doubts about a company, check with the Postal Inspection Service, the Better Business Bureau of a local consumer protection agency to see if there are any complaints on record against the company. It is best to do this before ordering.

"Mail-order shopping can be a real convenience for busy people and can offer discerning shoppers a chance to get goods only available through the mail, the postmaster said. "The Postal Service wants to help our customers get our best. I urge mail-order shoppers to remember these few words of advice, then sit back, relax and go shopping without leaving the comfort of home."

Cumberland Manor begins first phase of expansion

Ground was broken for a new 20 bed extended care facility at Cumberland Manor last Wednesday. The half million dollar project is the first phase in Cumberland's owner, Alin Maas' several year plan for the development of "Cumberland Retirement Village". The "village" concept will include housing for persons in various stages of retirement from duplex and condominiums where those in their early retirement years can take advantage of the village atmosphere, but are capable of maintaining their own apartment, to the extended care facility that is now under construction.

When complete, at least five other buildings will have been

An artist's conception (facing west) shows the completed Cumberland Retirement Village with its various buildings for all phases of retirement living. 1. is the current Cumberland Manor a 74 room facility providing meals, but no extended care. 2. and 3. are a pair of 20 bed extended care facilities. 4. and 5. are professional buildings that will likely house doctor's offices. 6. and 7. are four story 96 room apartment buildings. 8. is a community building which will house a store, restaurant and recreation facilities. Nestled in the hills above are condominiums and/or duplexes, and a small golf course.

During the ceremony Lowell Mayor Jim Maatman spoke of the Cumberland expansion project and what it means to the growth of the city of Lowell. The Reverend Melvin Goble gave a short invocation and Maas and Lowell Township Supervisor Harry Yeiter took the first shovel of dirt together.

McInerney after Fifth District seat

During his declaration for the Michigan Fifth Congressional District seat, Gary J. McInerney, a democrat, stated that there was no place for "Politics as usual" in the future of West Michigan. He emphasized the critical need for a new approach.

"I believe we have to make long-term responsible decisions for the economic well-being of the fifth District and the country, not what is politically expedient."

I will fight to get people back to work - that's my top priority. The District needs an "energizer" who will stimulate economic growth and support a competitive business market.

We must adopt a fair tax system that shifts tax priorities, reduces deficits, and stimulates economic growth.

Nothing is more vital to our future than maintaining a strong, affordable, quality education for our children.

McInerney, a 35 year old attorney and businessman, is president of Murphy, Burns & McInerney, P.C. a local law firm. He is a lifetime resident of Grand Rapids and resides in Grand Rapids Township with his wife Juliet and four sons, Ryan, John Patrick and Kevin. McInerney is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and Notre Dame Law School and has specialized in trial practice in Grand Rapids for eleven years.

Gary J. McInerney

I believe I have the background, energy, independence and commitment to represent the people of the District and to fight for jobs, a balanced budget and fair taxes. I think I can stand up for the people of the District on these issues.

OLYMPIC NEWS & NOTES

Olympic medalists Phil and Steve Mahre saw the finish line more clearly than ever in Sarajevo, thanks in part to team sponsor Barnes-Hind/Hydrocurve. Both gold medalist Phil and silver medalist Steve - winners in the same men's ski slalom event - were fitted prior to the Winter Games with the company's contact lenses.

Like 40 million other Americans, the Mahre brothers suffer from astigmatism, an irregularly shaped eyeball which causes blurry vision. But the brothers have other reasons for wearing contact lenses.

"Eyeglasses and goggles tend to fog up and vibrate on the slopes, which can hamper vision," says Phil. "Contact lenses stay on the eye comfortably and never fog up at all."

Company eye care experts noted that the Mahres' contact lenses made it through more than just months of rigorous training and sub-zero temperatures. On the day of the race, they withstood the tears that came from victory and the birth of Phil's son.

The teddy bear was named for Theodore Roosevelt. C25

Alin Maas and Lowell Township Supervisor Harry Yeiter braved last Wednesday's rain to officially break ground at the new extended care facility at Cumberland Retirement Village.

Lippert named to bank board

Charles E. Lippert, President of Lippert Pharmacies, Inc. has been named to the board of directors of Independent Bank Corporation, a bank holding company headquartered in Ionia. He fills the vacancy on the board created by the retirement of Douglas R. Welch.

Lippert has been a director of First Security Bank in Ionia, and bank holding company's largest affiliate, since 1980. Lippert organized Lippert Pharmacies, Inc., in 1968. Under his management, the firm has grown from one drug store in Lowell to a chain with other stores in Cedar Springs, Carson City, Greenville, Allegan, Caledonia, Lbwell, Grant, White Cloud, Fremont, Grandville and Plainwell. Loren C. Adgate, President and Chief Executive Officer of Independent Bank Corporation, expressed his pleasure at Lippert's election. He said, "Our-entire organization will be strengthened by the addition of Chuck Lippert to our board. He is a highly successful businessman who has an unusually good grasp of both the problems and the opportunities facing community banks today. I know that his advice and counsel will help us deal with them much more effectively. Our management team and our shareholders are fortunate that he has agreed to devote the additional time and energy required of a corporate director to our business."

The University of Michigan's football team draws some of the largest crowds of any college team in the U.S.

Runciman Kindergarten Round-up

The Runciman Elementary School will hold it's Kindergarten Round-Up on May 2nd and May 7th and 8th this year. We have scheduled an evening meeting with our parents and children on May 2nd at 7:00 P.M. in the Runciman All Purpose Room. During this meeting a number of people such as the bus supervisor, speech therapist and the teacher, will talk about kindergarten round-up and kindergarten for next year. The prospective kindergarten students will be visiting the classroom, finding out a little bit about kindergarten including any questions the children may have being answered and a bus ride. At the same time parents will have the opportunity to ask any questions they may have about registration requirements, transportation, testing, etc. Details and scheduling of the round-up testing will also be discussed during this meeting. We feel that the May 2nd meeting is important for both the parents and children, as it should help answer the parent's question, "What do I need to do?" and the children's question, "What is school?"

The testing program will be very similar this year as it has been in the past and will take place during the day on May 7th and May 8th. If you have any questions regarding Kindergarten, please contact the school office at 897-9257.

Pregnancy fitness class

The Lowell YMCA has been offering a Huff and Puff pregnancy fitness class sponsored and endorsed by Blodgett Memorial Medical Center.

The purpose of this program which is approved by obstetricians is to instruct expectant mothers in appropriate exercises, while developing an understanding of body changes and how they relate to exercise.

The program will help mothers maintain a positive self-image during the childbearing months. This total fitness approach concentrates on posture, mild calisthenic and stretching exercises to promote and maintain muscular strength, tone and flexibility as well as cardiovascular conditioning and relaxation techniques. Individual fitness levels will be carefully assessed prior to beginning the program and sessions will be adapted accordingly.

Presently classes are being held twice a week for 4 weeks. Other classes could become available upon request. For more information contact the Lowell YMCA 897-8445, ask for Nancy.
