Council okays some improvements of city parks

At their meeting of Monday, June 18 the Lowell City Council voted to expend $2,000 with O.E. Bieri & Sons Construction to "farm grade" the property not yet developed at the Gee Drive Park. After surveying the site with City Manager Ray Quada, Rich Bieri of the construction firm concluded that the park should first be graded to a reasonably level condition before attempting to establish grades and do the final leveling. The completed park will have four softball fields and a large playing field that can be used for pickup soccer or football games. Quada told the council that the company had always done quality work at very reasonable prices, and asked that the bid process be waived on this project. The council concurred with Quada.

The council also approved the expenditure of up to $2,500 for the city's engineers to survey and establish grades on the East Side Park which is located south of the C & O Railroad Tracks, north of Grand River and east of the Flat River. The property was acquired last year from William Rogers, of 13681 Oberly Drive, and is the proposed location for three soccer fields and adequate parking for them.

In his report to the council about the city's parks, Quada said the softball field already under construction at the Gee Drive Park is coming along nicely. The grass is taking root as it should, and the field seems to be very level. Quada said that the city's maintenance crews have not been mowing the field or working the infield so as to discourage people from playing on it while the grass is getting a good start. He said that the city will begin a program of mowing, watering and fertilizing there within the next few weeks.

Quada asked permission to seek bids for replacing the removable head sprinklers at Richards Park with permanent ones and install automation that would turn the system on during the evening. While seeking that bid, Quada also said he would ask the bidder to supply a quote for a sprinkling system in the Main Street pocket park and extending water lines into the third addition of Oakwood Cemetery.

Following the meeting the council went with Quada to tour the new fencing between school and city property in Recreation Park and also inspect the new 4-H horse arena there.

OFF THE BLOTTERS

Involved in a property damage accident Friday, June 8, on Main near Pleasant St. was Peter Beneker, 21, of Lowell. The car he was driving was struck by a moped vehicle driven by a 15 year old Juvenile also of Lowell.

Issued an appearance ticket to 63rd District Court was John Wesley Brown, 43, of 11826 East Fulton Lowell, for larceny under $100, in connection with the alleged theft of a package of cigarettes from Eberhard's market Tuesday, June 5.

The Lowell Medical unit responded to 9 calls in the month of May bringing the yearly total to 50.

Involved in a minor property damage accident Friday, June 8, was Garrit Rizema, 87, of Lowell when he struck a parked car owned by Gina Wittington of Jackson just North of Main Street.

Gould Rivette, 66, struck the rear of a car driven by William Funk, 30, Saturday evening on Hudson Street near Main. Mr. Funk sustained minor injuries. Both men are of Lowell.

Arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and also cited for open container of alcohol in a motor vehicle early Sunday morning was Darwin Jackson, 27, of Grand Rapids.

Arrested and arraigned Friday, June 15 for driving while license suspended second offense, was Michael Millerling, 18, of Lowell. He plead guilty in 63rd District Court and was returned to the Kent County Jail pending Bond.

Arrested Monday, June 11 on a Probation Detainer issued by the County Probation Department was Vince Yurkinas, 18, of Lowell. He was taken to the Kent County Jail Pending issuance of a warrant for destruction of property over $100 in an incident of a window being broken on Main Street the week before.

Involved in a property damage accident Wednesday, June 13 were Karen DeBold, 35, and Donald Colon, 40, both of Lowell. DeBold backed into the Colon vehicle on Lafayette Street just north of Main Street.

Grattan motorcyclist killed in head-on

A Grattan Township man, Joseph Spendow, 32, of 4896 Abrahams Dr., N.E. was killed last Thursday evening when the motorcycle he was driving collided head-on with a car driven by Shawn Randall Duckett, 21, of 4091 Caseway Dr. also in Grattan Township. Witnesses said that Duckett was driving through the dark with no headlights in the wrong lane on Murray Lake Ave., N.E. at about 10:00 P.M.

Kent County Medical Examiner Ramon Lang said Spendow probably died instantly from massive injuries which included a broken neck. A Grattan Township firefighter Daniel Malone was one of the first on the scene and said he could find no pulse when he got to Spendow. Another firefighter recognized Spendow from his church, St. Patrick's in Parnell, and called Rev. Ernest Bernott, the Parish priest to the scene to issue last rites to the victim.

Duckett was transported to Butterworth Hospital where he was treated for facial bruises and glass fragments in an eye. The Kent County Sheriff's Department is still investigating the case and is considering whether to bring criminal charges against Duckett.

Witnesses at the intersection said they could see the car approaching with its flashers on, and the motorcycle coming from the other way at what seemed to be a high rate of speed. "But the speed limit is 55 M.P.H. there, so maybe he wasn't speeding", said Deputy Marc Faasse.

Obituary appears in this issue.

Fonger recognized by Postal Service

Lowell Postal Carrier Pat Fonger was honored by the U.S. Postal Service for her actions in aiding an apparent victim of a stroke on May 2, 1984. The letter of appreciation and accompanying certificate was issued by Postmaster Charlie Doyle on behalf of the Postal Service. The commendation recognized Fonger's action which reflected favorably on the Postal Service.

Fonger was making her normal deliveries on May 2 when she noticed Ed Steffens of 691 Birchwood Ct. at the corner of his garage. Fonger shouted to Steffens that he did not have any mail, but he did not respond. She then noticed that he seemed to be in some sort of trouble, and went to his aid.

It was subsequently learned that Steffens had suffered a stroke, and had injured himself in a fall. Fonger administered first aid to lacerations on his head and arm and immediately called the Lowell E-Unit and Steffens' wife.

Fonger's quick action assured that Steffens promptly received medical attention, and her response earned her the commendation from the Postal Service.

PART TWO: OUTER EAR INFECTIONS

Last week we discussed the signs, symptoms, and therapies of inner ear infections. This week we'll briefly outline for you how to distinguish between inner and outer ear infections, and how outer ear infections are best treated.

With summertime upon us, the topic of outer ear infection (external otitis) is a timely one indeed. Commonly known as "Swimmer's Ear", bacterial infection of the outer ear canal is frequently seen in our office during the summer months. In fact, it is estimated that swimmer's ear accounts for about 10% of all patient visits to the family doctor at the beginning of each swimming season. Although outer ear infection can be viral or fungal in origin, by far the most common cause is bacterial. In the susceptible individual, these opportunistic bacteria tend to invade the ear canal, and are aided in their growth by the continuously wet environment that swimming supplies. When the bacteria multiply sufficiently, actual infection of the ear canal ensues. Symptoms of this infection usually begin with itching and a sensation of fullness in the ear. As the infection progresses, the itching gives way to pain of moderate to severe intensity. One quick and easy way for you to reliably distinguish inner from outer ear infection is this: simply gently tug in a downward or backward direction on the earlobe of the affected ear. If this tugging causes notable pain, you can generally assume that the person has an infection of the outer ear canal. If no pain is reported, and symptoms include those noted in last week's article (fever, pain, irritability), infection of the middle ear is probably present.

Although it has been nicknamed "swimmer's ear", bacterial infection of the outer ear is by no means limited to swimmers. It can affect the old and the young, the active and the sedentary, the swimmers and the nonswimmers. In fact, even just a vigorous cleaning or "swabbing" of the ear canal can scrape the sensitive skin of the outer ear and may become a source of potential bacterial infection. Regardless of the age or activity level of the affected individual, a persistent infection of the outer ear should be evaluated by your doctor. A detailed history of recent activities will usually aid your doctor in determining why you or your child became susceptible to this infection.

In treating outer ear infections, two things are of utmost importance. First, the existing infection must be adequately treated and eliminated. Secondly, the patient must be educated and instructed in the prevention of further infection. The key word here is Prevention. For example, if your history includes an infection following a recent swimming episode, then in addition to antibiotic ear drops to clear the infection, your doctor may instruct you to wear earplugs in the future to prevent recurrence of the infection. If your history reveals an infection following a particularly vigorous "cleaning and swabbing" of the ear canal, then in addition to antibiotic ear drops, your doctor may instruct you to strictly avoid using any instruments or swabs to directly clean the ear canal. A good rule of thumb for everyone is "never put anything smaller than your elbow into your ear". Finally, anyone who has had repeated episodes of outer ear infections (regardless of age or activity), should make a habit of wearing well-fitted earplugs whenever there is a possibility of wetting the ear canal. This includes bathing, showering, and of course, swimming.

Zoo News

John Ball Zoo's 1984 Summer volunteer training class will begin Thursday, July 26. Classes will meet every Thursday afternoon for seven weeks. Topics covered will range from animal behavior, adaptations, and classifications to touring techniques, special program training and orientation to the zoo collection and exhibits.

Upon successful completion of the training class, volunteers are qualified to guide tours, present slide programs and work in Zoo Lab and Herp Lab. After an intern period, volunteers may choose to participate in further training sessions to become qualified as animal handlers. Animal handlers are volunteers who take small, live animals to West Michigan Schools.

Class size is limited to 20 volunteers per session. Trainees must be at least 18, and must be willing to commit one morning or afternoon per week during the school year to the zoo upon completion of the training program.

For further information and application procedures, call the zoo at 456-3809, Monday through Friday between 9 A.M. and 4 P.M.

Bread will retain its original quality for two to three months if left in the wrapper and stored in the home freezer.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

... the Lord shall guide thee continually... (Isaiah 58:11).

After we got a new car, Sue said, "Maybe he'll let me steer." We laughed, for she was just a "little" girl then.

"No, you won't," her father assured her. "I'll be sitting right here beside you."

It would have been folly to allow our child to drive the new automobile by herself. But, it was all right for her to "steer" if her father was sitting close by where he could come to her assistance the moment she needed him.

Too often humans are inclined to rely upon their own resources instead of leaning upon God for divine assistance.

God is waiting to come to our aid in time of need. We can avert making wrecks of our lives by turning to Him at the slightest sign of trouble. He is ready to take hold of the wheel of our lives and guide us back into the straight path.

I need not fear life - if He is "close beside me."

Prayer: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee. Show me thy ways, O Lord, teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou are the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day." Amen.
Anywhere! anywhere!
Fear I cannot know.
Anywhere with Jesus
I can safely go.

Great Lakes Federal stockholders approve charter amendments

After an Annual Meeting adjournment period of 28 days, Great Lakes Federal Savings (NASDAQ - GLFS) gained stockholder support for a series of charter amendments that will protect against attempts to acquire or change control of the association.

Roy E. Weber, president and chief executive officer, commented that "although some institutional shareholders may have been hesitant to commit to protective measures, the vast majority of individual shareholders voted in favor."

The charter amendment issue was one of four proposals addressed at Great Lakes Federal's first Annual Meeting in April. Stockholders had passed the other issues, approving the proposed board of directors, auditors and stock options plan.

Weber stated the association management team has been "diligent in gaining stockholder confidence by building a strong financial base" for the new corporation.

The association converted to a publicly held savings & loan last December and by first quarter 1984 had reported earnings of $.68 per share. While dividend payments are not in the plans for 1984, Weber "would not take issue" with analysts' projections that the financial base strategy would lead to dramatic per share increases.

Telecommunicating in 1984

NOW YOUR TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES COME FROM A NEW FAMILY OF COMPANIES.

As a Michigan Bell customer, you have been affected by recent changes in the telecommunications industry.

However—with few exceptions—the services previously available directly from Michigan Bell are still available to you... either from Michigan Bell or from one of our new Ameritech companies.

When federal action led to the reorganization of AT&T, Michigan Bell separated from AT&T and joined Ameritech, a new holding company headquartered in Chicago. Besides Michigan Bell, Ameritech's large family of companies includes a host of subsidiaries you may not have heard about, as well as the former Bell telephone companies in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin.

How we and these other Ameritech companies may be of service in meeting your telecommunications needs is described in the following.

Basic Telecommunications Services: Residence and Business.

MICHIGAN BELL provides basic telecommunications services including dial tone, flat rate, or measured service, white pages telephone listings, line repair services, and disabled customer services. You can also get optional network services like Touch-Tone and Custom Calling services from Michigan Bell, and business network services such as Centrex and network transmission services for voice, data, and image. And we provide public telephone service as well as long distance service within Michigan Bell's service areas, including optional long distance calling plans.

Equipment: Business.

MICHIGAN BELL COMMUNICATIONS, INC., serves as Michigan Bell's sales arm for business network services, including Centrex. It provides complete business communications systems, offering products and equipment from a wide variety of telecommunications suppliers, including terminal equipment for The Centrex Universe.

Equipment: Residence and Small Business.

The new CONSUMER PRODUCTS DIVISION of MICHIGAN BELL COMMUNICATIONS, INC., provides telephone equipment for residence and small business customers, with ordering by phone and delivery to your home or business.

Directory Advertising.

Michigan Bell Yellow Pages advertising is now handled by AMERITECH PUBLISHING, INC., the publisher and provider of Michigan Bell Yellow Pages directory advertising, including Neighborhood, Specialty, Business-to-Business, and Travelers' Directories.

Mobile Communications Services.

MICHIGAN BELL offers tone and digital display radio paging in metro Detroit, Lansing, and Grand Rapids through our Bellboy Service™ agent... A Beeper Company.

Michigan Bell also provides Improved Mobile Telephone Service (IMTS) in most major Michigan cities.

Facts down the line.

We suggest that you watch for further informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company. 1 800 555-5000.

Immigration searches create problems for farmers

Agricultural employers have been alerted by the Michigan Farm Bureau to protect the constitutional rights of their workers and themselves against warrantless "farm checks" by federal agents searching for undocumented aliens.

Immigration searches, conducted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) on private farm property, are creating problems for farmers and for their workers, according to Ron Gaskill, Michigan Farm Bureau's labor specialist.

"These checks have occurred during work hours in growers' fields and in farm worker housing during off-work hours. These searches disrupt the work schedule and affect worker morale," Gaskill said. "They can also violate the constitutional rights of both the property owner and the farmworker."

Gaskill said that Farm Bureau has received complaints from members throughout the state regarding the farm checks. In an alert to farm employer members, he stressed the right of property owners to demand to see a warrant before allowing an INS search.

"Unless INS has the consent of the property owner or housing occupant, agents cannot search outbuildings and farm labor housing without a warrant. If there is none, the owner or occupant has the right to refuse to Increase your readiness for farm related accidents

No one in a farm family likes to think about the possibility of an accident occurring on their farm. Unfortunately, accidents can and do happen, and safety on the farm is something that farm families should be concerned about year-round, says Roger Garner, instructor in agricultural rescue classes for the Michigan Farm Bureau and a research assistant in agricultural safety at MSU.

Garner, who presents agricultural rescue programs around the state, says that families' awareness of the potential for accidents to happen on the farm has increased, but that more farm families need to realize that accidents can happen and that they can do something to prepare for such emergencies.

One suggestion that Garner often makes is for the farm family members to take a multi-media first aid class offered by the American Red Cross.

"In farm accidents, it's usually a family member than comes upon an accident victim first", Garner notes.

While landowners' rights to be free of warrantless "field raids" are not as clear, growers should still demand to see a warrant before allowing the agents entry onto their land, Gaskill advised.

Jenny Dine is Region 5 Pres.

Jenny Dine of the Lowell FFA was elected Region 5 President for 1984-85 at the annual Officers Leadership Seminar held June 14 and 15 at the Lansing Environmental Educational Center in Wayland, Michigan.

Jenny was elected President from the 80 chapter officers, representing 11 FFA chapters in West Michigan.

Other Lowell FFA Officers attending the Seminar were: Paul Wilcox, Roxanne Brown, Chad Blasher, Tony Huver, Mike Nugent and their advisor Mr. Peter Siler.

The officers attended many classes during the two day seminar to help them attain a better understanding of their leadership roles in their chapter.

In addition Chris Klahn and Jami Johnson of the Lowell FFA received recognition for their outstanding chapter accomplishments by being granted the Regional Awards.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

When consumers read the recent headline, "1983 Food Price Rose the Least in 16 Years," some probably said, "Who are they kidding?"

But according to a report from the National Economics Division of the Economic Research Service, it was the fifth consecutive year that food prices rose less than other prices.

Compared to the 2.1% rise in food prices, other major items in the Consumer Price Index increased more. Clothing rose 2.5%; housing, 2.7%; transportation, 2.4%, and medical care topped the list at 8.7%.

When we go back to the base year of 1967 and make a 16 year comparison, the trend is the same. While a half-gallon of milk increased 122%, the cost of a hospital room went up 485%!

While you're thinking about those health cost increases, add these facts about the other major item that is eroding your budget - taxes. Since 1973, federal taxes increased 158%, state taxes went up 152% and local taxes rose 108%.

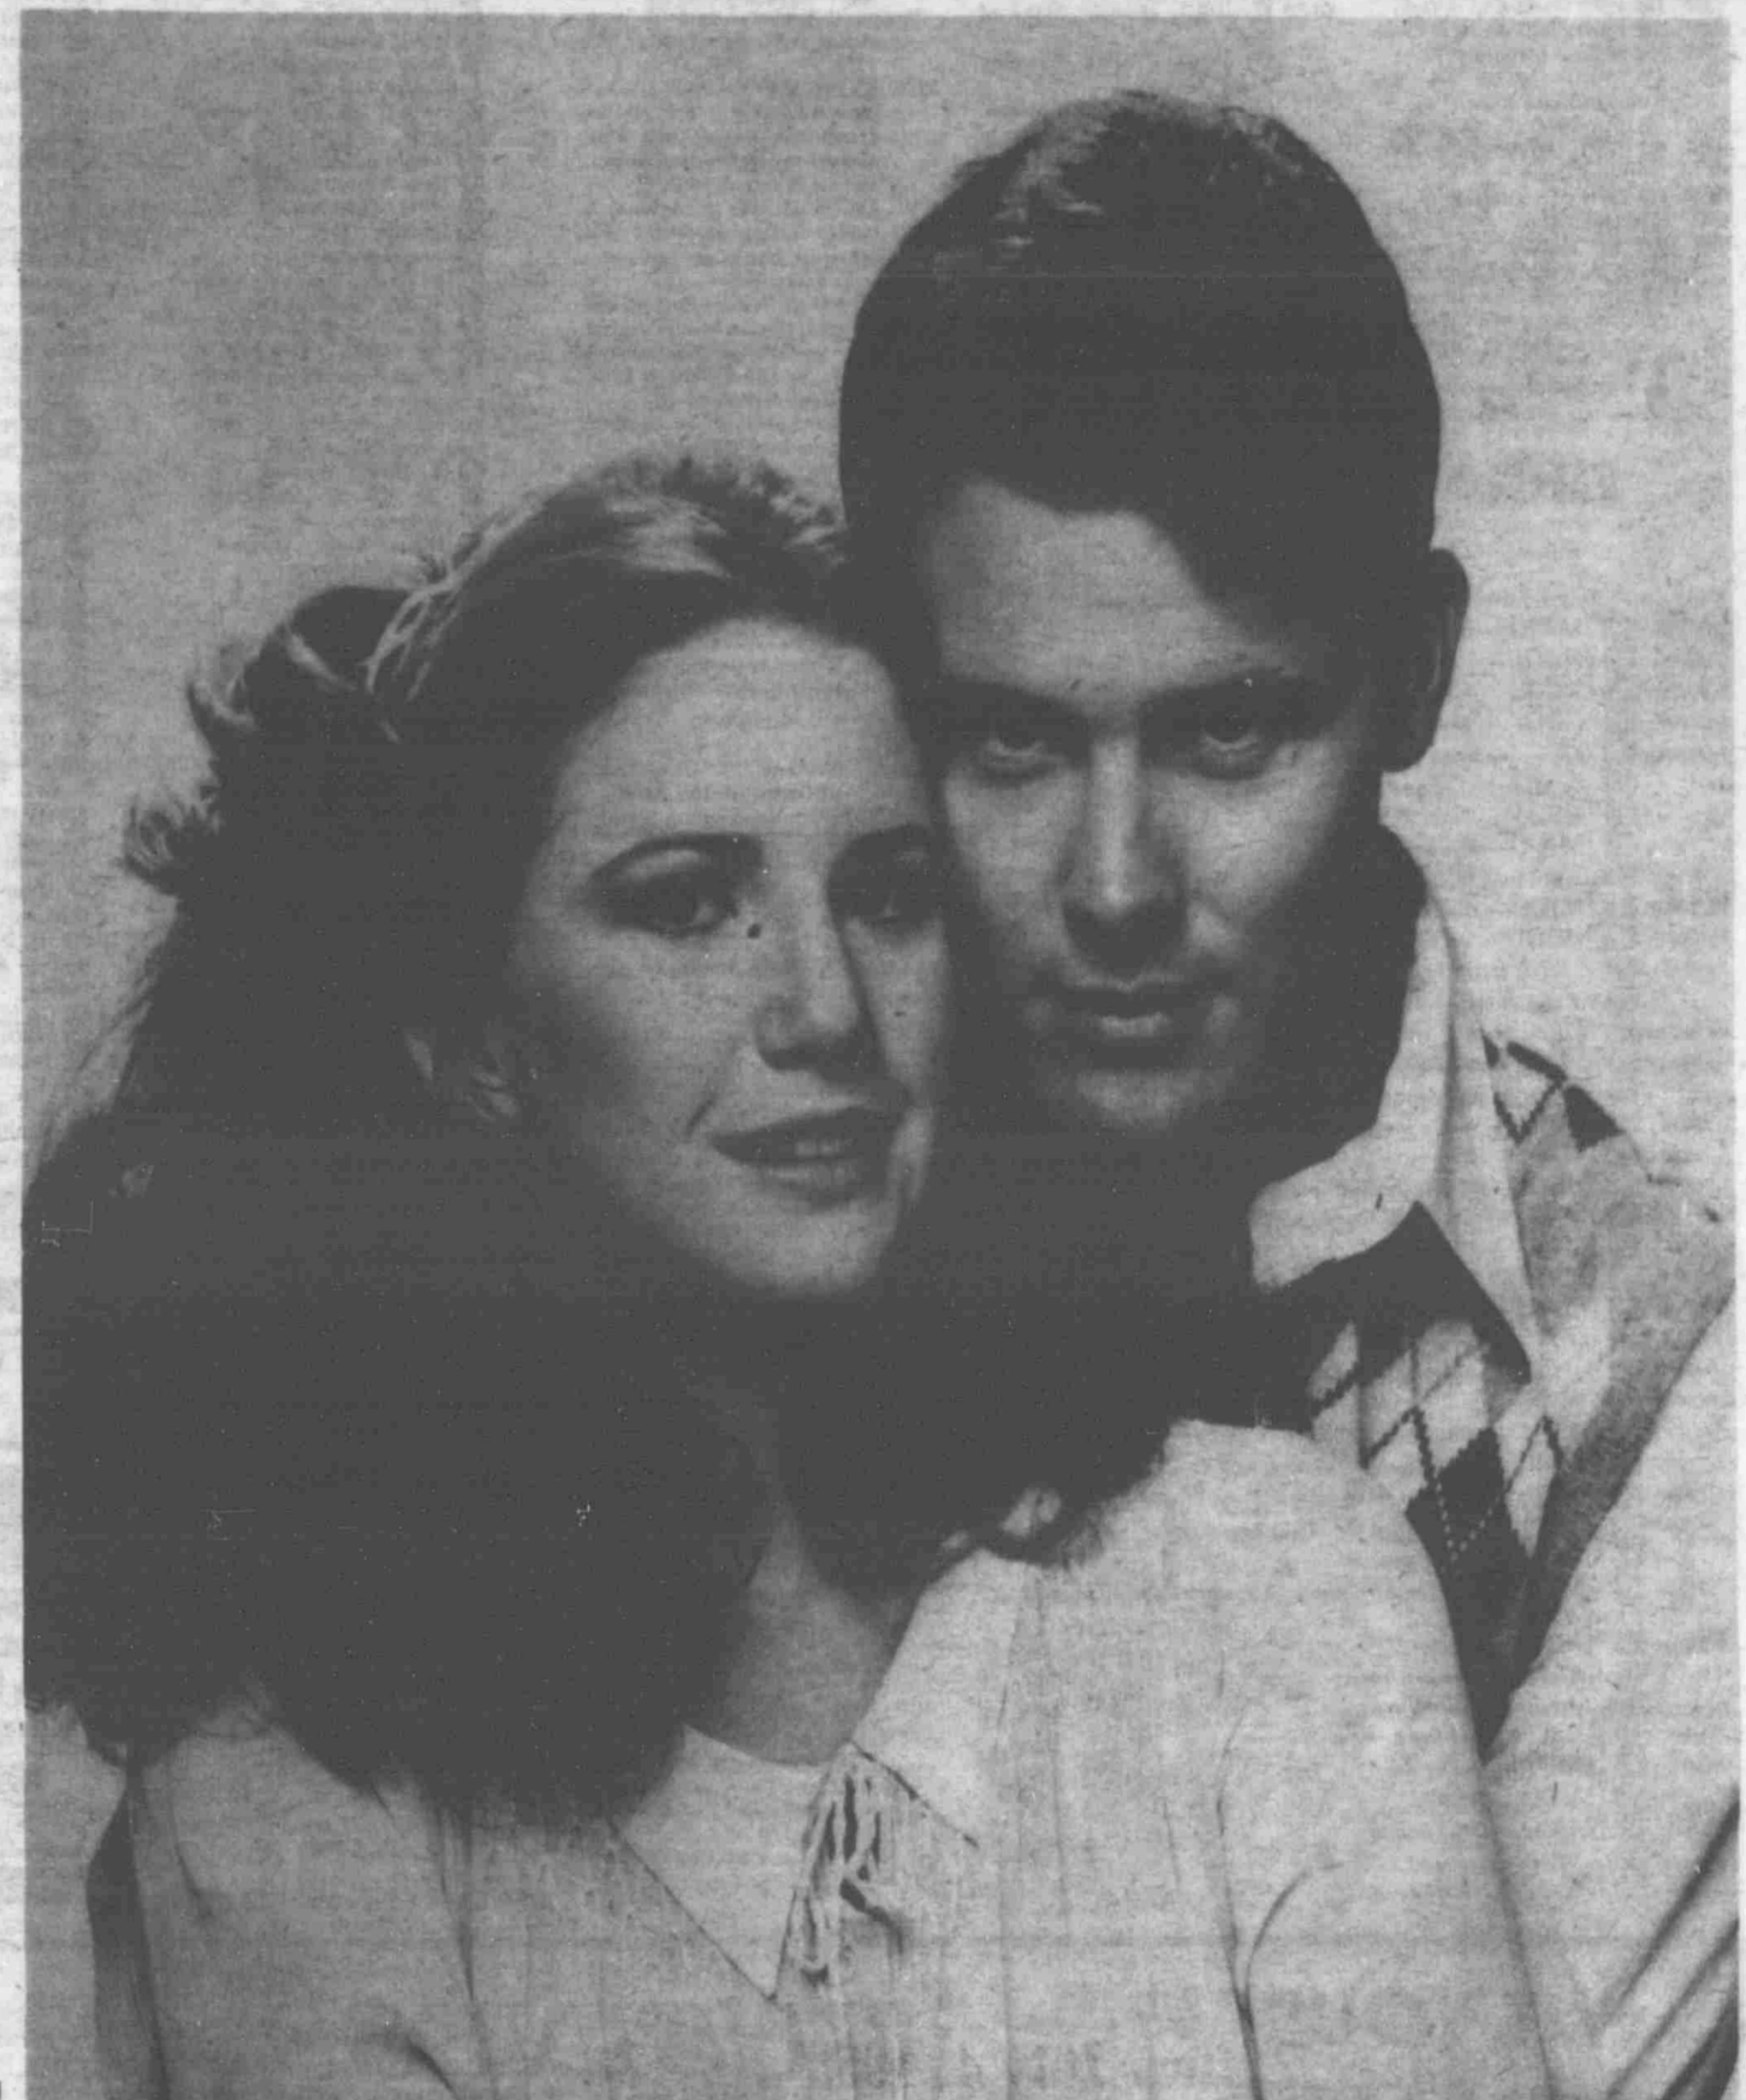

When we look at these budget item increases, where's food? At the bottom of the list.

Boerema announces his candidacy for County Treasurer

John K. Boerema, county government leader nearly 20 years and active Republican the last 25 years, announced Friday, he is a candidate for nomination to the office of County Treasurer in the August 7 Primary election.

A life resident of the Grand Rapids area, Boerema said he has decided not to seek re-election to the Kent County Board of Commissioners, a position he has held for the last 19-1/2 years.

"Because of my background as an administrator for Grand Rapids Junior College and my many years of involvement in county finances, I have decided to seek the office of County Treasurer," Boerema said. That position is being vacated by John Damsira at the end of the year.

The 54-year-old college administrator received a bachelor degree from Michigan State University in 1951, and a masters degree from the University of Michigan in 1957.

As Director of Placement for Junior College, Boerema supervises more than 400 student employees and has supervision of a $500,000 budget.

Boerema said his decision to seek election as County Treasurer was a difficult one.

"I have enjoyed my years of service with the County Board, first as a member of the Board of Supervisors and since 1969 as a member of the Board of Commissioners," Boerema said.

He has held or currently holds important county positions. He has served as Vice chairman of the County Board; was Chairman of the Social Services Committee, and currently is Chairman of the Kent County Aeronautics Board and Vice Chairman of the County's Finance Committee.

In addition, Boerema has been Chairman of three of the Board's Standing Committees. Recognized for his leadership skills by state and National County Officials, Boerema has served as Vice Chairman and Director of the Michigan Association of Counties and was chosen by the President of the National Association of Counties to serve as Chairman of that group's Airport Subcommittee.

In addition to his familiarity with county finances, Boerema has been active in Construction as a private contractor and has been personally involved in the Investment field. He also had experience in his father's retail shoe business, which elder Boerema operated more than 50 years.

"My service as County Commissioner will give me a special relationship with the Board of Commissioners and County Administrative Officials," Boerema declared. "This liaison will be beneficial to employees in the operation of the Treasurer's Office," he added.

An educator, commissioner and businessman, Boerema is married and has three children. His wife, Betty, is a Registered Nurse at Blodgett Memorial Hospital. A daughter, Glens Jean, also is a Registered Nurse. A son, John Kenneth, is a college sophomore, and another son, Norman Arthur, is a high school senior. Boerema lives at 2219 Ontonagon Dr. S.E. in Grand Rapids.

"Owned By The People of Lowell"

A strong advocate of responsible partisan politics, Boerema said he feels that the County's statutory officers "are the backbone of the local Republican Party." His involvement in the Republican Party includes helping to organize all of former President Gerald R. Ford's "Scatterblitzes" in Florida, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan in the 1976 Presidential Campaign.

Boerema said he values his relationship with County Administrators, Department Heads and Board of Commissioners, adding that this relationship would make the transition from Commissioner to County Treasurer an easy one.

Lori Payne brings wealth of experience to Y's competitive swim class

Lori Payne, the Lowell YMCA's competitive swim instructor shows one of her pupils the proper technique to achieve a powerful kick.

This year the Lowell YMCA is offering competitive swim lessons during each session of regular lessons. The class meets from 6 - 7 P.M., Monday through Thursday, for two weeks.

The instructor, Lori Payne, has an outstanding competitive background. She held several National Titles in the 500 yard freestyle, was an All American swimmer, and made the Olympic Trails in 1976 and 1980.

Lori is from Miami, Florida. She began swimming at age 1-1/2 and competitive at age 6. She swam the 400 meter freestyle, 500 yard freestyle, and 1 mile freestyle with the Jack Nelson swim team in Ft. Lauderdale. As well as her interest in competitive swimming, Lori maintains an extensive background in classical piano.

During high school, her routine was to get up at 4:45 A.M. swim for 2 hours, go to school, practice piano for 3 hours, then swim 2-3 hours in the evening. (we don't expect that dedication from the class!) Lori and her brother, Ed, received numerous awards and citations for their swimming. She said, "We had a lot of fun, but we worked for it." She continued her swimming while attending the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she was a communications major. After college she became a flight attendant with Air Florida. Her mother, a former competitive swimmer, helped start her on her swimming career; while her father, a retired Delta pilot, has guided her flying career. Lori moved to our area recently when she married Tom Payne.

We'd like to; welcome Lori to our YMCA swimming staff.

You'll recognize the members of her competitive class at our open swim meets on July 7th and August 4th.

Those interested in building swimming for triathalons are also welcome. The next two week session begins on June 25. Call the YMCA office at 897-8445 for registration.

Lowell Police fingerprint St. Mary's Students

On June 1st, 115 students at St. Mary's School in Lowell were fingerprinted by members of the Lowell Police Department. This program of fingerprinting children has gained national prominence and is being conducted throughout the state of Michigan by various police agencies. Tragically, over 150,000 children are reported missing every year, thousands are found each year, unidentified. Some are runaways while others, "just seem to vanish". Out of concern for young people, Barb Vezino (St. Mary's School Home and Safety President) asked the Lowell Police Department if they would be willing to "print" their students. The program was voluntary and required the approval and signature of either a parent or guardian before their son or daughter could be fingerprinted. Once the fingerprints were taken, the only copy was returned by the student to the parent for safe keeping.

Officer Mike Martin was one of three Lowell Police officers working at the St. Mary's School taking fingerprints that might later prove invaluable if a child should turn up missing.

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS of the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

Regular Meeting of Monday, June 4, 1984.

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Mayor Maatman. The Pledge of Allegiance was given and the Roll called.

Present: Councilmen Collins, Fonger, Schneider, Thompson and Maatman.
Absent: None.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the Minutes of the May 21 Meeting be approved as written, supported by Councilman Fonger.

Carried.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Collins that the Bills and Accounts Payable be allowed and warrants issued, with three corrections to be reflected in the totals, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Yes: Councilman Collins, Fonger, Schneider, Thompson and Maatman.

No: None.
Absent: None.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS PAYABLE TOTALS

General Fund	$29,772.94
Sewer Fund	274.41
Water Fund	409.96
Equipment Fund	1,080.86
Federal Revenue Sharing Fund	46.17
Lee Fund	2,856.56
Rehab Fund	6.00

The first order of business was a request by Superior Furniture Company for a Certificate of Exemption under the regulations of Public Act 198, and Mayor Maatman opened the Public Hearing.

Manager Quada explained that an Industrial Development District had been established at the May 7, 1984 meeting for the entire block 11 of Avery's Plat which includes both the Superior Furniture Company and Lowell Granite Company properties.

Mr. Bill Lee of Superior Furniture was present and thanked Mr. Wendell Christoff of C.J. Christoff and Sons, Inc. and Mr. Don Rocheleau of Attwood Corp. for attending the meeting in support of the P.A. 198 tax abatement.

He stated that the request for the tax abatement was for the full 12 years as is allowed, explaining that the total cost for the expansion project would be $391,000 for a 96,000 square foot increase in production area, to include warehousing, an employee lunchroom and executive offices on the main floor, with a mezzanine for storage now, which could be made into a second story floor should production again increase. In the present facility they employ 33 people. Two or three more, possibly four will be added. Another ten could be added if they could again go to full production in the new addition. Another four, should they create a second floor for the mezzanine. They have had very few layoffs since buying the firm in 1936, and no layoffs in the last ten years. With production timetables of up to six months for orders, more space and employees are necessary to reduce that time. They are at maximum production now and must have the addition if their business is to grow.

Mr. Wendell Christoff spoke on the tax abatement program in general, stating that Lowell industries feel that they have been given unfairly. Council previously viewed the tax abatement as hurting Lowell, which seems rather short-sighted. Competition for our industries is not in Michigan. It is in other states, with lower taxes, workmans compensation, wages, etc., making them more desirable locations for lower production costs in general. With their own expansion and addition of 35 new employees, more of that money is being spent in Lowell, and half the new taxes is better than none at all for those industries who cannot afford to expand without the abatement. The city still gains.

Mr. Don Rocheleau stated that he concurred with Mr. Christoff. The message from Council has been that they really are not concerned with business in Lowell. Other communities encourage business expansion. He would like to see an expansion on Attwood's 400 plus acres, but with Steelcase (the parent corp.) owning another 400 acres in the City of Kentwood, and Kentwood's encouragement of expansion through P.A. 198, could sway a decision on where to expand.

There were no other comments, and Mayor Maatman closed the Public Hearing at 8:20 P.M.

A general discussion by Council followed. Manager Quada stated that the City's total State Equalized Valuation is $34,445,300. Of that, $1,758,400 of Real and Personal Property is covered by the P.A. 198 tax abatement which amounts to 5.1% of the total. Under P.A. 255, which is the same tax abatement principle for small businesses, Real and Personal Property covered amounts to $72,000, which makes the total tax abatement in the City of 5.3%.

When the program first started, a limit of 5% of the total S.E.V. could not be exceeded. That has since been lifted, and there are no longer any percentage restrictions. Council has always tried to stay within those guidelines. But, in the favor of the local industries already covered under P.A. 198, he stated that the City has not had to hire any additional personnel, either D.P.W. or police, no additional fire protection or any additional equipment to keep up with the business expansions. It has not cost the City anything more and he could foresee none at this time.

Mr. Conrad Bradshaw, representing Superior Furniture also stated that their request will not impede the soundness of the City, as is one of the requirements of P.A. 198.

Councilman Collins stated that P.A. 198 is a good benefit for industry in Michigan, and a gain for businesses in Lowell and a gain for the City. The amount of taxes not collected is less than $1,000.

The following resolution was then offered for adoption by Councilman Schneider, supported by Councilman Collins.

WHEREAS, Superior Furniture Company, in conformity with Act 198 of the Public Acts of 1974, as amended, (Act 198) has submitted an application providing all information and requirement necessary for granting of an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate by the City of Lowell, County of Kent, State of Michigan, to Superior Furniture Company, and

WHEREAS, on May 7, 1984 the City Council of the City of Lowell established the "Superior Furniture Company-Lowell Granite Company industrial Development District" for the industrial property of Superior Furniture Company and Lowell Granite Company; and

WHEREAS, the Lowell City Assessor, and representatives of all affected taxing units were notified by certified mail of the time and place of the hearing on the application; and

WHEREAS, a hearing was held by the Lowell City Council providing the Assessor, and representatives of all affected taxing

Y-Day Campers are really enjoying their summer

Lowell YMCA Day Campers take time out for lunch during last Friday's field trip to Camp Mani-To-Lin.

Y-Day Campers spent last Friday at Camp Mani-To-Lin canoeing and learning about water safety.

Thanks to the financial support of the Lowell First Congregational Church and its Helen Look Daley Fund, the Lowell YMCA is offering a Day Camp for children entering grades 1-6 this fall. The camp is now in the second week of its seven weekly sessions. The camp is located at the Lowell Scout Cabin where the campers in groups of 7 or 8 enjoy such activities as archery, hiking, crafts, songs and more.

Swimming at the Y-Pool is also featured each day, and campers with working parents can stay at the pool for the open swim to be picked up there. Special activities include a weekly visit from members of the Lowell Area Arts Council who present a program with an international theme. On Fridays the campers will go on a field trip to a new destination each week. Last Friday the campers went to Camp Mani-To-Lin for a day of canoeing. The YMCA provides all transportation, including picking up and dropping off campers at four convenient locations around town. The pick-up spots are Cumberland and Woodbushe at 8:15 and 4:15, Calvary Church at 8:25 and 4:25, Bushnell School at 8:30 and 4:30 and Runciman School at 8:35 and 4:35. Cost for the sessions is $20.00 for Y members and $25.00 for non-members. Campers can help pay their way to camp by selling Y-Camp Peanuts. The nuts come packaged 15 $2.00 cans per box, and the campers selling the nuts get 75¢ toward their camp fees for each can sold. There is still time to sign your children up for any or all of the five remaining sessions. Stop by the YMCA office at Hudson and Main or phone 897-8445 for further information about this great summer activity for your kids.

units the opportunity to be heard as required by the statute; and

WHEREAS, comments on granting of the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate have been heard and considered; and

WHEREAS, it is hereby found and determined by the Lowell City Council that the granting of this Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate, considered together with the aggregate amount of the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificates previously granted and currently in force, shall not have the effect of substantially impeding the operation of the City of Lowell, or of impairing the financial soundness of a taxing unit which levies an ad valorem property tax in the City of Lowell; and

WHEREAS, the Lowell City Council under Section 16 (1) of Act 198, of the P.A. of 1974, as amended, has determined that the length of the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate shall remain in force and effect for a period of 12 years,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Lowell City Council does hereby approve the application of Superior Furniture Company for an "Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate".

Yes: Councilmen Collins, Fonger, Schneider, Thompson and Maatman.
No: None.
Absent: None.

Manager Quada stated that there has perhaps been a misunderstanding of how Council has felt about P.A. 198 tax abatement in the past. With a city the size of Kentwood, the S.E.V. is much greater than the City of Lowell, and even at 5% their tax dollar amount is much greater also and can be spread out over more industries.

Mrs. Robert Strouse, new owner of the home at 318 Riverside Dr. was present and stated that she had applied to the State for a license to operate an Adult Foster Care Home, but was turned down because of notification by the City that her home is less than the required 1500 feet from another A.F.C. home. She has spent $700 to meet State requirements, before the distance regulations was discovered. She asked for special permission to open the home, or that the distance be measured by driving the streets between her home and the other home, making it more than the required 1500 foot distance.

Manager Quada read a section from the State law dealing with foster care homes which clearly states "within a 1500 foot radius". He stated that the State has the right to superimpose their rules and regulations over any local ones except the distance, which is a State law to begin with, but which Mrs. Alpha Flagg from the State A.F.C. Department had told her could be measured by streets to get around.

He continued that by measuring a route by streets, traveling south then turning west for two blocks, the distance could be as much as 200 feet laterally, rather than in a straight line, and could then be easily made to be more than the 1500 feet. He stated also that it would not be fair to the other home owners who have also applied for A.F.C. licenses and have been turned down for the same 1500 foot reason. If a precedent is set by waiving the 1500 foot state requirement, it is conceivable that there could be an A.F.C. home in every block. As it stands, it is the only law that local municipalities have any say over.

Mrs. Strouse countered that if she was not allowed to have the A.F.C. home, she would get four minor children, she had already contacted the Department of Social Services and it would cost the City a lot of money. She will enroll them in the Lowell School System and it will cost them money, rather than two old people who wouldn't cost anything. The Department of Social Services already told her that she could have them, that zoning or distance from another foster home would not make any difference.

Mr. Quada replied that that was her prerogative, and suggested that perhaps Mrs. Flagg should pay the $700 in repairs and changes in her house.

Mrs. Strouse then asked for a special permit to open an A.F.C. home because it is next to a funeral home, an undesirable business in a residential neighborhood.

Manager Quada replied that the funeral home had been in operation many years before the City had become a City, and that funeral homes in general are allowed in residential areas by City ordinance, and that it really had nothing to do with her request.

There was no action taken, and the distance law remained at a 1500 foot radius.

Under remarks from the audience, Mr. Wendell Christoff stated that in regard to his earlier statements about P.A. 198, that his company wished to say thanks for the quality of good service received from the City, from the D.P.W. Department to the Water Department and everything in between, they always get good cooperation, and are glad to be here.

Mr. Don Rocheleau gave a hearty second to Mr. Christoff's statement.

Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada suggested that the proposed Parks Plans be made a formal part of the City's Master Plan in the near future. He also suggested that Mr. Gerald Kellogg from the Parks and Recreation Commission attend the next Planning Commission meeting to discuss at least the plans for the West End Park, Richards Park and the soccer fields at East Recreation Park.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Fonger that the proposed Parks Plans as submitted by the Parks and Recreation Commission be presented to the Planning Commission for inclusion in the City's Master Plan, supported by Councilman Thompson.

Carried.

Under Council Remarks, Councilman Fonger asked if everything was set for the Macker Tournament. Manager Quada replied yes, a copy of the non-profit report has been filed with the City, a $1,000,000 insurance policy to cover the City, and insurance to cover neighbors has been provided. The City will provide additional snow fencing to protect neighborhood properties, lighted barricades and tripod no-parking signs.

Mayor Maatman publicly thanked the Parks and Recreation Commission for their time, work and drawings, etc. in putting together their plans.

IT WAS THEN MOVED to Adjourn at 8:50 P.M. by Councilman Schneider.

U. of M. admissions reaches an all-time high

The number of freshman admissions applications to The University of Michigan has reached an all-time high.

Applications for the fall term totalled 14,635, a 17 percent increase over figures of a year ago, according to Clifford F. Sjogren, director of the U-M Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

The current total surpasses the previous high of 13,378 applications in 1969, during the time the "baby boom" generation reached college age, said Sjogren. Of more than 50 large publicly supported universities participating in a survey of the Associated Chief Admissions Officers of Public Universities, the U-M had "the most significant increase in applications during this admissions year," said Sjogren. U-M applicants will be selected to a freshman class of 4,200. Among various schools and colleges at U-M which admit freshmen, the College of Engineering drew an unusually high number of applications. In that school there were 3,400 applicants to fill 750 freshman places this fall.

Among explanations for the increase, Sjogren noted that "students today are seeking colleges and universities that offer high quality academic programs in an educational setting characterized by diversity among students, educational offerings, and activities outside the classroom."

He said the U-M fits that description well because of the geographic, ethnic, political and religious diversity of its student body, and the variety of educational, cultural and recreational opportunities on campus. "Expanded recruiting activities and an improving economy have also contributed to the increased interest in the U-M," said Sjogren.

"Because this admissions year has been particularly competitive, it is expected that the entering class this fall will be somewhat stronger academically than any in recent years," said Sjogren. A report on the "qualitative" features of the entering class will be available from the U-M office of Undergraduate Admissions in July.

Wildlife experts believe Mount Allen, the site picked for the 1988 Winter Olympics downhill ski events in Calgary, Alberta, is a bad choice, says the National Wildlife Federation. Biologists say that the construction of the ski runs in the environmentally fragile area would drive off nearly 300 bighorn sheep, 200 elk and many other wildlife animals, leading to their starvation.

Anyone who ever went through Army basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky knows that there are three very high and very steep hills between the main post and the rifle ranges. Those of us who marched up and down those hills nearly every day for eight weeks will remember until our dying day the nicknames hung on them by the trainees . . . "Misery," "Agony" and "Heartbreak."

My wife recently decided that we needed to tear out all the old wood chips, ground plastic and field stone skirting around the shrubs at the house. It was a bad design from the start. The wood chips over the years have started to decay and now make perfect bedding for new plant life to take root. The plastic ground cloth didn't stand up to the test either, so more new plant life readily sprouts up through it. And the field stone looked nice until plant life decided to shoot up from every nook and cranny between them. By using the term, "new plant life" you do realize that I'm not referring to orchids and chrysanthemums, don't you? My problems is that I hate pulling weeds so much that I have trouble saying the word, or even typing it.

The plan is to remove all the old wood chips, ground plastic and field stone. Then we are going to replace it with new ground plastic covered with washed stone and trimmed out with landscape timber buried to be flush with the ground so we can mow right up next to it to eliminate trimming and weed pulling. I agreed to the plan, and figured I'd institute it sometime this fall. I didn't think it'd hurt anything to have the place look like Ma and Pa Kettle's farm for one more summer.

But Terese, as usual, found a way to avoid my tendency to procrastinate on such projects. She ordered three cubic yards of washed stone, and had it dumped right in the middle of the patio. Though it's not quite as big, this man made hill of washed stone is what prompted me to reflect on Misery, Agony and Heartbreak. If I weren't past the maximum age, I think I'd sooner re-enlist than tackle this project.

The pile of stone has been sitting there for about three weeks now, and I'm really getting the heat to get busy, and do something about it. But, like those hills in Kentucky, I figure this one needs a name too. I've been working on a name, and have come up with a few possibilities. "No Way," "Blisters," "Heat Stroke" and "Exhaustion" were a few that I came up with.

But, after giving it a lot of thought, I've decided to name it "Terese", since this was all her idea in the first place. Now when I'm out there in ninety degree heat with a matching humidity shovelling, hauling, and cursing all that stone I can do the same thing we did in the Army. We'd get some relief from our situation by muttering curses under our breath about those hills. With this hill named "Terese", I'm going to have to be extra careful about how loudly I mutter, but it sure will be appropriate.

Physicians in earlier times advised patients with large ears to eat vegetables and "bulky" foods, while those with smaller ears were advised to eat meat and more "concentrated" foods.

Peter McPherson addresses M.S.U. Graduates at convocation

M. Peter McPherson

M. Peter McPherson, administrator of the Agency for International Development and a graduate of Michigan State University, will address MSU's spring term graduates during the University Convocation ceremonies June 7.

During the convocation, McPherson will receive an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree from MSU. McPherson is a native of Lowell, graduating from high school here in 1958. He is an honorary member of the Lowell Rotary Club, and spoke to that group a few months ago.

This will be the first convocation for graduates, who have been invited to attend the ceremony at 8 P.M. in the University Auditorium. The convocation precedes the official graduation ceremonies for individual colleges, which begin Friday evening, June 8 and continue through Saturday, June 9.

A 1963 graduate of MSU, McPherson has headed up the agency of International Development since March 1981. As administrator, he is responsible for economic development operations in more than 60 Third World countries and he also serves as chairman of the board of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation.

A former Peace Corps volunteer, McPherson served in Peru after graduating from MSU. When he returned to the states in 1966, he went on to receive his master's in business administration from Western Michigan University and his law degree from American University.

Prior to being appointed head of the agency, McPherson served as acting counsel to President Reagan-Bush transition team. During the Ford administration, McPherson served as a special assistant to the President and assisted in the selection of presidential appointees, including ambassadors and judges. He also served as a tax law specialist with the Internal Revenue Service and had been a partner in a Washington law firm.

McPherson has also served on the Board for International Food and Agricultural Development and was a member of the Joint Committee on Agriculture Development, a subdivision of the board, and chairman of its Latin American Work Group.

Ralph Smuckler, dean of International Studies and Programs at MSU, says the university has had close ties with the Agency for International Development for more than 25 years.

"The agency is the major sponsor of much of the university's international development work," says Smuckler. "As a land-grant institution, Michigan State has been and continues to be a leader in international work, with many members of our faculty, particularly in agriculture, engaged in overseas research and technical assistance activities."

John A. Hannah, former president of MSU, also served as head of the agency.

McPherson was at MSU in 1982 to help celebrate MSU's International Year, which marked the 25th anniversary of the university's commitment to have a strong international dimension in MSU's programs and activities.

Lowell & Alto Libraries are in TEAM '84

The Kent County Library System will kick off its TEAM '84 summer reading programs with something old and something new beginning June 25. The World's Oldest Puppet Show and the World's Funniest Stories: The Laugh-A-Lympic will be scheduled at 16 county library branches and children ages 6 - 12 are invited to attend World's Oldest Puppet Show: Lowell - 2 P.M., June 27 and Alto 11 A.M. June 28. WORLD'S FUNNIEST STORIES: THE LAUGH-A-LYMPICS Lowell - 2 P.M., July 11 and Alto 11 A.M. July 12.

The World's Oldest Puppet Show will feature the ever popular Punch and his wife Judy in the traditional hand puppet theater forum. Armed with his infamous whacking stick, Punch is victorious against adversaries and authority figures including a doctor, a policeman, the hangman and even the devil. Children will have the opportunity to witness and delight in the classic antics that have entertained audiences for centuries.

The World's Funniest Stories: the Laugh-A-Lympics, will take a more contemporary approach as Harry Allard's characters from the Stupid Family book series are brought to life. In story-theater adaptations, Buster and Petunia Stupid eat their breakfast in the shower and wonder why their eggs are runny and devour dessert sundaes made of mashed potatoes. Shel Silverstein poems, and luncy-tune-sing along and other group activities will also be included.

Both programs will last about one hour and are a part of the TEAM '84 Summer Reading Program which encourages summer reading for all area youngsters. A variety of other activities are scheduled through August 9 and children can sign up by contacting their local Kent County library branch or the Kent County Library Children's Services Department at 774-3253. All programs are free, of course!
