of selling his store when first contacted by Rite-Aid representatives in July of this year, and declined their request for a meeting. After further contacts from Rite-Aid, Lippert finally consented to a meeting in late July. After reviewing the offer made to him at their third meeting just a week ago, Lippert said that the timing and the offer was just too attractive to turn down .

Lippert will keep his office at 202 W. Main Street, Lowell which houses a new computerized billing system linked to all thirteen of the old Lippert stores. He has contracted with Rite-Aid to continue to perform the billing for the thirteen stores, and may well expand on this service. He has retained a small portion of his staff for this operation, but most main office personnel were released.

Lippert said that he is no way retiring, stating, "I have too many ideas, and too much energy to think about retiring now". He said he is looking forward to entering a new chapter in his life.

Lippert said that all employees in all thirteen stores will be retained by Rite-Aid, but many changes will take place in the stores themselves. Rite-Aid has a much simpler approach to the

Canoe race for handicapped

For the second year in a row, at 11:00 A.M. physically handicapped athletes and able-bodied canoeists are gearing up to compete in the Grand Rapids Pacers Canoe Race on the Grand River.

Race organizer, Tom Kelderhouse, 311 Forest Hill S.E., says this year's event is expected to raise a quarter of the 1985 operating budget for the top ranked wheelchair basketball team.

Kelderhouse says the race date has been set for September 22, 1984 and will run a 12-mile course on the Grand River from Misty Valley Canoe LIvery, Lowell to the M-21 bridge at Ada. The canoe livery is cosponsoring the event.

Kelderhouse says area businesses are being asked to contribute $200 in exchange for spnosorship of a canoeing team in the unique racing event. Winning sponsors and competitiors will be awarded trophies at the end of the race, which will begin

This special event is coordianted by LAAC Special Events Chairman Laura Garcia and Lowell Postmaster Charlie Doyle. Special permission must be obtained to open such temporary branches. Postmaster Doyle has received word that permission has been granted for the two day branch opening.

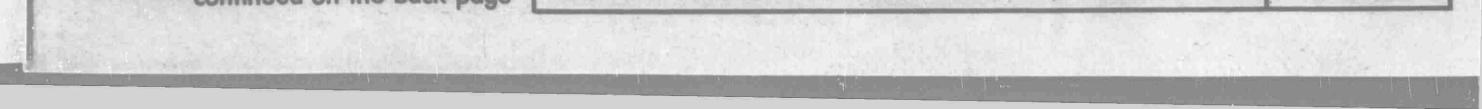

The Fallasburg cachet design and matching postmark are a collector's item because of their limited use. Last year, according to Doyle, quite a few unstamped P.M. to 7 P.M. Adults $3.75, envelopes were received prior to Lowell artist Jan Johnson, who designed the 1983 set, has also designed this year's combination. Envelopes will be printed with the cachet and will be for sale at the post office window at the information booth at the festival. These can be postmarked with the matching cancellation. Also for sale will be stamps and postcards of both the 1983 and the 1984 handmade Fallasburg Covered Bridge Quilts.

The window will be open during the duration of the two-day festival, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. Saturday and Sunday, September 29 and 30.

The boys, less enthusiastic, trudge along behind. kicking the toes out of their newly acquired shoes. After the summer rest period, the teachers are eager to begin helping their pupils develop intellectually once again.

There are many lessons to be learned to God's schoolroom, too. If we are eager to learn, we can profit from the experiences and advice of others, but htere are some things only god himself can teach us. However, we do not grasp all His precepts in a moment of time. We learn them as we sit in His classroom day after day, year after year. The Great Schoolmaster demands strict obedience and attention, but He teaches with compassion and graciousness. He speaks His truths with clarity and wisdom. He deals with understanding. All who sit "in His schoolroom" are instructed with infinite patience. Prayer: O Lord, I seek to know more of Thy ways, to be taught by Thee. I sit at Thy feet. I accept Thy discipline. I submit to Thy instruction. Amen.

- I. Lodernen cozy corner ----by Roger Brown

With only fifteen years left in the twentieth century, it's amazing to look back on all the wonderful inventions and discoveries that have come to pass in these eighty-five years. The automobile and irplane were two biggies in transportation that came on the scene early in the century. In medicine we've developed effective vacines that immunize us from nearly every infectious disease, to include killers such as polio, small pox and malaria. If we do get sick we have penicillan and other antibiotics to ward off often fatal infections. In surgery the wonders never cease with transplants, bypasses and micro-surgery now almost everyday procedures. N.A.S.A is just 25 years old, but look at the strides we've made in space exploration, with all sorts of new feats on the horizon, such as a manned space station and a astronomical telescope in earth orbit that will look many times further into space than we've ever seen before. In technology the word "computer" kind of sums things up. In almost every aspect of our daily lives computers are playing a bigger and bigger part. Other tecnology includes such popular inventions as television, radio, video games and various forms of recording energy, the laser beam, plastic and a host of others. Yup, it's been a pretty productive 85 years in the old science and tecnology business, and you don't need me to tell you how wnderful all this stuff is. But, you might need a little nudge to recognize the significance of a twentieth century invention that I think is every bit as important as some of the big ones that everybody talks about.

My favorite invention of the century is Duct Tape, where in the world would we be today without this wonderful silvery-gray two inch wide sticky stuff? We'd be falling apart, that's where we'd be! You can repair almost anything with a big roll of duct tape; patch a fender on a rusty car, repair sails, mend a cracked window and with a little toilet tissue it even makes a passable bandage.

A friend of mine had the corner of the cab-over bunk of his motorhome crumpled. With a couple of rolls of duct tape he had the thing patched back together so that it at least didn't leak much. He got a estimate of several hundred dollars to do a proper repair job. I told him to just spray paint the duct tape and call it good.

Every spring I make my wife a tanning box out of reflective foam sheathing. I have a little 2" X 2" base that is nailed together, but guess what the rest of it is held together with? That's right, in fact if ti weren't for duct tape that tanning box invention probably would have never left the drawing table in my head. And my wife thinks her tanning box is the greatest invention of the twentieth century.

One of the guys that works here was a goalie for the high school hockey team. For some reason he had all his goalie equipment in here awhile ago. He told me how expensive it all was, so much for the leg protectors, so much for the gloves, so much for the mask; etc. He must have taken a lot of shots on goal throughout his high school career, as nearly all the pieces of equipment were worn and held together with duct tape. If he had $500 worth of equipment, he had invested another $200 in duct tape.

So, as far as I'm concerned, duct tape ranks right up there with the computer and all the other "big time" inventions of the twentieth century. Oh yeh, another thing I've heard about duct tape, heating and cooling installers even use it to seal the joints in their ductwork systems. I know, I've seen it in my own basement.

Manager Quada reported to Council on the permanent easement requested by King Milling Company. Bieri Bros. have quoted $3,400 to build the retaining wall and fill a 20 foot strip on the south edge of the D.P.W. property, half way from Hudson Street to the east edge of the property on S. Broadway. King Milling has agreed to that cost. The City will then pay the cost of the additional fill needed on the east side of the property to level it even with the D.P.W. Garage. The City and King Milling both would then use the drive at the northeast corner of the D.P.W. property. He recommended approval.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the permanent easement across the City D.P.W. property be granted, contingent upon the final construction of the retaining wall and filling of the property on the south edge of the D.P.W. building, supported by Councilman Thompson.

Carried.

Mayor Maatman then turned the meeting over to Councilman Thompson, Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals who opened the Public Hearing on the request of King Milling Company for variances from two sideline setback and height reguirements in an Industrial Zone to allow construction of a second storage bin the same size as the existing one.

Manager quada stated that the front yard requirement for Industrial Zoned property is 50 feet, however, the bin would be on the same front line as the Sortex building, and should not obstruct traffic view. The height requirement is 45 feet, the bin would be 92 feet in height, with the tower at 105 feet.

There were no comments from the audience.

Chairman Thompson closed the hearing at 8:25 P.M.

IT WAS MOVED by Mayor Maatman that the variances of sideline setback and height requirements be granted to King Milling Company for construction of the storage bin on the corner of South Hudson and Ottawa Street, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Council Proceedings

Carried.

Chairman Thompson then turned the meeting back over to Mayor Maatman who opened the Public Hearing on the request of King Milling Company for a Certificate of Exemption under the regulations of Public Act 198 for the construction of the storage bin.

Mr. Brian Doyle was present and stated that since construct tion of the first bin on the property, they have added 10 parttime employees and 5 full-time employees, in anticipation of the second bin. Construction costs will be about $550,000 to $600.000.

Mr. Bob Pfaller, representing the Lowell Chamber of Commerce stated that the Chamber is behind the tax abatemen 100% to encourage existing businesses to expand, and to encourage new businesses to come to Lowell.

There were no other comments from the audience.

Mayor Maatman Closed the hearing at 8:30 P.M.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the Certificate of Exemption for the grain storage bin on the corner of S. Hudson and Ottawa Streets be granted for a period of 12 years supported by Councilman Thompson.

Carried.

Mayor Maatman then opened the Public Hearing for a Certificate of Exemption for Metric Mfg. Company also under P.A. 198 regulations for an addition onto their existing building at 1001 Foreman Street, to house a foundry.

Mr. Ron Wells of Metric was present and explained that the original plans to build a separate building had been changed because of a large increase in their business. At that time they had 17 employees, now 29. This 80 x 100 foot addition will increase employees again by 8 to 16 on completion. It will have a separate storm sewer system and sprinkling system, and will make five times as many castings as presently needed to allow for more expansion of their business.

There were no other comments from the audience.

Mayor Maatman closed the hearing at 8:40 P.M.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Thompson that the Certificate of Exemption be granted to Metric Mfg. for a period of 12 years supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

Manager Quada stated that when the Certificate of Exemption was approved for Metric Mfg. on their original building in 1983. a resolution stating that there was no adverse affect on the City's financial operation was overlooked and must now be approved.

IT WAS MOVED that the 1983 resolution approving the Metric Mfg. Company's Certificate of Exemption be amended to include that there is no adverse affect on the City's financial opertion, by Councilman Schneider, supported by Councilman Fonger

Carried.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the Certificate of Exemption issued to King Milling Company on the storeage bin would have no adverse affect on the City's financial operation, supported by Councilman Fonger.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Thompson that the Certificate of Exemption issued to Metric Mfg. Company also would have no adverse affect on the City's financial operation, supported by Councilman Fonger.

Carried.

Manager Quada announced that he would be attending a meeting on Tuesday on the Community Development Block Grant Program at Kent County. He stated that the City of Lowell and other surrounding communities and townships have lay eggs for up to 50 years. Most insects live less than pledged their population totals to the County for any Blog Grants to be given in the entire area. There will be representatives from all the smaller cities and larger ones, as well as the townships who will be present to discuss projects for the next three years.

He then headed a discussion on the City's need for a condemnation ordinance. He stated that demolition of the Curtis Building on West Main Street was begun today. Another house located on the east side of the City is in bad shape, and under earlier direction of the Council, condemnation procedures have been initiated. A draft of such a proposed ordinance was distributed with Council information. Manager Quada asked that Councilmembers read through and study the proposed ordinance for discussion and setting of a public hearing date If Council should decide not to adopt this type of ordinance, no hearing date would need to be set.

Manager Quada also stated that he had received a proposal from the Bekman Company for prime and seal coating of sev eral streets in the City. He stated that the life of a street is about 15 to 20 years, with proper maintenace and periodic prime and seal coating. He also stated that because of the new law that no oil of any kind can be used to coat any dirt or gravel surfaced area, the runway at the Lowell Airport has started to break up. The runway has always been maintained in such a mannner. The Bekman proposal would include prime and seal coating of the main runway, and the following streets:

(double seal) Runway at Lowell Airport $16,355.20 N. Division Street, Avery to Grindle (single seal) Grindle Street, James to City Limits . 5,422.72 Church Street, Main to Sibley

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the proposal of the Bekman Company to prime and seal coat the main runway at the Lowell Airport and portions of N. Divison, fr Avery to Grindle; Grindle, from James to the City Limits; and Church, from Main to Sibley, for a total cost of $21,777.92, supported by Councilman Fonger.

Carried.

Under Remarks from the Audience, Mr. King Doyle thanked the Council for their support of the new grain storage bin project and the Chamber of Commerce also, for their support of the tax abatements for area firms. He stated that he had never really thought about the parking problem associated with their construction projects, because of the nature of their business being different from other types, where parking places must be alloted in plans for office structures, as mentioned by the City Manager. He assured Council that he will take the matter into consideration, stating that King Milling owns a small piece of property near the Sortex building that could possibly be used for his employee parking.

Mr. Leonard Jackson cancelled the need for a P.A. system made at the last Council meeting, stating that he could hear everything that went on at this meeting.

Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada stated that a dump truck used for Cemetery care is 12 years old and on its last legs. Specificiations for a new replacement will be ser

PINK EYE: COMMON AND CONTAGIOUS

Conjunctivitis or "pink eye" is the most common eye disease in the Western Hemisphere. Indeed, in the average family doctor's office pink eye is diagnosed several times each week. In today's column we'll discuss the causes and most appropriate therapies for this beef and pork dinner at the 60th Street, Alto. common ailment.

Conjunctivitis or pink eye is defined as an inflammatory or infectious condition of the conjunctiva (the outer lining of the eyeball), and is classified according to its cause. In general, it is characterized by normal vision, redness and irritation, absence of sensitivity to light, normal pupils, and a discharge that may range from watery to purulent (pus-filled). The three most common causes are bacterial. viral, and allergic.

Patients with bacterial pink eye usually are plagued with pus-like discharge from the eye, with the lids often matted together upon arising. As noted earlier, there is usually no severe pain or blurring Masonic Temple 233 E. Ful- Tuesday, Sept 18th at of vision. Staph and Strep germs are usually the most common ton Street. Ms. Judith Young bacterial culprits isolated. Treatment routinely consists of antibiotic ointments or drops instilled into the eye three to four times a day for about five days. Ususally notable improvement is acheived after the first 48 to 72 hours of treatment.

Viral pink eye characteristically produces tearing, generalized redness of the white of the eye, swelling of the outer layer of the veball and even enlargement of local lymph nodes. This disease oftern affects both eyes, and approximately 25% of these patients will experience fever, malaise, and generalized muscle and joint ache. SEPT 14-16: MISSIONARY The duration of viral pink eye is usually 10 to 14 days and is self lim- CONFERENCE at the West ited. Treatment is basically nonspecific and is limited to relief of Berlin Wesleyan Church at symptoms. It includes hot or cold compresses (whichever seems to the corner of Portland and afford more relief), artificial tears, and often an eye drop to constrict the local blood vessels. In many instances, your doctor will prescribe an antibiotic eye drop even in viral pink eye, to prevent the possibility of a superimposed bacterial infection.

Allergic conjunctivitis is often associated with the common symptons of seasonal allergy: both eyes are red, irritated, tearing, and may exhibit a white, ropy discharge. Itching is a significiant and almost invariable symptom. Allergic pink eye is most often associated with hay fever. Initial treatment consists of eye drops to welcome. A final word of caution especially to parents of a child diagnosed as having either bacterial or viral pink eye: these infections are extremely contagious from one family member to another. Transmission of the infection is usually by direct contact, so remember a few simple rules:

1) Always wash your hands thoroughly after coming into contact with the affected individuals eyes.

2) The patient with pink eye should use his own washcloth, towel etc. 3) Keep close supervision over friends or siblings of the affected can Legion Auxilary will meet 2247 for more information.

person, to avoid potential family epidemics.

4) If the eye infection fails to resolve satisfactorily, have your child re-checked by your doctor, to rule out the possibility of anything more severe than routine "pink eye".

The Annual, fall migration of salmon in the Grand and Tributary Streams is now underway. The recent cool weather and rains has spurred the movement and there are now large numbers at the Sixth Street dam, in Grand Rapids. They are coming over the fish ladder in large numbers and the upper Grand, above Grand Rapids, the Rogue and lower Flat Rivers will soon be full of fish. The run of Chinooks (King) Salmon should be heavy, with lesser numbers of Coho (Silvers), soon to follow. Large numbers of immature Salmon (Jacks) are accompanying this initial run and should provide excel-

The first Salmon, that I know of, was taken in the Flat River at the Lowell dam Saturday morning. This Chinook was taken on spawn, as will be quite a number during the initial run. by the time this is in print there will be large numbers in this area of the Grand.

The died in the wool snaggers seem to refuse to accept the fact that the Salmon will hit lures in the Rivers and persist with their now illegal snagging. Snagging laws are going to be more strictly enforced this season and those who are issued citations will most likely also have their tackle confiscated.

Salmon, especially the early run, hit quite readily on a variety of lures, spoons and spinners.

The Grand River is exceptionally low for this time in the season and the should much improve the fishing. Much of this section of the River is not deep enough to hide the activity of the fish which should enable the fisherman to pinpoint individual fish, thus providing much more accuracy for their casting. The fish are easily spooked and should be approached cautiously

In the past very few angelers have been noted fly fishing, however, this is an excellent means of taking them. Any large streamer pattern in fluorescent colors seems to work well, and believe me a thirty pound Chinook on a fly rod will provide all the thrill and arm wrenching power that any fishermen could ask for.

As of Noon Monday 2,300 Salmon have been counted crossing, the fish ladder at the Sixth Street Dam. I do not know, and cannot reason why the average fishermen seem to go wild when confronted with large numbers of big fish. of many during the Salmon runs. These fish seem to generate and promote a certain frenzy among even the seasoned and well mannered fishermen. Profanity is exchanged, fights break out, lines are cut, people are hooked, and in many areas total chaos erupts. This is ridiculous, don't forget the golden rule. We must co-exist as humans long after the Salmon run is over. If you cannot act in good sportsmanship, please refrain from fishing. There is nothing more degrading to the fishermen than, ill mannered, profane, unsportsmanlike and littering, contemporaries.

I have a good supply of Salmon Lures and tackle at The Combination, 526 E. Main. I know the river and can furnish you with the information which will put you in the right place, at the right time. Please call 897-6111, or stop by.

The Board received the annual 1983-84 Audit Report prepared by Helmholdt and Company as prepared and reported by Mr. Ed Timmer. Mr. Timmer explained that the Board had spent approximately $141,000 more than it had received in its planned deficit budget as projected for the 1983-84 school year. He stated that the district is still in the position of having to approve expenditures slightly beyond the anticipated revenues but that the actual predictions of the yearend outcome based upon the proposed budget were within 1% of the entire budget.

Several personnel items were acted upon which included the Board's acceptance of resignagradt teacher at Bushnell; Jim Veldheer, the middle school In-House Supervisor; Mr. Curt Aldridge, and Mrs. Ginny Weber as JV Girls Cheerleading Coach. The Board recalled Kim Lum and rescinded the earlier action which placed her on lay-off status. New teachers were hired to fill available positions which included Mrs. Lyn Snyder who accepted the 2nd grade position; Mr. Phil Walcott, as the middle school In-House Supervisor; and Cathy Stover, Pam Taormina, and Pam Heemstra as Special Education Teachers.

In other Board action the Board passed a resolution adopting the statement entitling the district to receive additional State Aid under this year's State Aid Act. The document indicates compliance with state guidelines offering students six class hours of instructional programs in academic areas. The Board also passed a public statement establishing a commitment to address excellence and energy conservation. The document identifies the students and its commitment in seeking ways to reduce the consumption of energy so that needed operatonal dollars can be transferred to improving instructional programs. The Board adopted a resolution establishing two citizen advisory committees. The advisory committee on instructional improvement and the Technical Assistance Advisory Committee will be composed of 20 members each. A Board committee will meet to recommend a chairman for each committee with advisory committee members to be selected within the next two weeks. The Board also accepted a policy statement involving curriculum development at its first reading. Final consideration for the establishment of Board policies will be considered at the next meeting. The Board also passed a resolution adopting a document entitled "Superintendent/Board Relations" which is annually reviewed by the Board and the Superintendent. Miss Laurie Kuna, spokesperson for the Project DARE Committee, sought approval from the Board to distribute a questionnaire to selected students in the high school and middle school levels.

WHEAT: Intensive Management for 100 BU. Yields

The following wheat production steps are based on work Dr. Dave Reicosky and Dr. Larry Copeland, MSU Crop and Soil Science Specialists have done during the past three years. More research is still needed to fine tune these recommendations.

- 1. Planting Date October 1 15
- 2. Variety Augusta or Frankenmuth are definitely the best two
- 3. Seeding Rate 2-1/2 to 3 bu/acre if drilled (7"). Broadcase is not recommended but if used increase seed rate by 1/2 - 1 bu/acre.
- 4. P, K, and Micro According to soil test apply in fall
- 5. Nitrogen timing and rate (Key to intensive management)
- Planting 25 lbs. Actual N
- March Early April 25-50 lbs. Actual N (depending on tillering needed)
- May 1st/1st Joint 50 lbs. Actual N
- TOTAL 100-125 lbs. N
- 6. Growth Regulator To control lodging; Cerone 1/4 1/3 lb/acre (pending label and registration). Apply between "flag leaf 1st visible and "swollen boot" stages of growth.
