WHO KNOWS DEPARTMENT

The Lowell High School is trying to find out exactly when and why the school adopted the nickname of "Red Arrows". School officials have been told that the name change came about near the end of, or following World War II, and that the Red Arrows were named after the U.S. Army's Red Arrow Division. In trying to research the matter in old bound copies of the Ledger we found that in 1945 the Lowell football team was called the "Red Devils", "Red Birds" and "Red Demons", but no "Red Arrows". In fact they were called the "Red Devils" early in one article and the "Red Birds" further on down in the same story. By the way, they beat East Grand Rapids in that game. So, if you were around in those days, and have a sharp memory call High School Principal Richard Korb at 897-9202 or mail your information to him at the Lowell High School, 750 Foreman Road Lowell, MI 49331.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING A SUCCESS

Nearly 100 merchants, industrialists and professionals gathered at the Lowell Showboat Amphitheatre last Thursday evening for the Chamber of Commerce's membership drive kick-off meeting. Several members from the Chamber Board of Directors gave short speeches concerning their respective assignments on the board. The evening's featured speaker Nancy Skinner, a reknowned communications advisory from Grand Rapids, spoke on the subject, "The Best Is Yet To Come". Her talk zeroed in on the newly re-organized Chamber of Commerce here, and how if everyone works together the best is truly yet to come for the City of Lowell. Several businesses paid their annual $50 dues at the meeting. A billing for unpaid annual dues to all area businesses, industries and professionals is slated to be mailed soon. Chamber President, Jerry Patton urges everyone to pay their dues, jump in and get involved in making Lowell's an active and effective Chamber of Commerce.

RETURNABLE BOTTLE DRIVE

The Lowell YMCA Boys Leaders Club will be conducting a returnable bottle drive this Saturday - September 29th. Members will be going door-to-door. Please save and donate your returnable bottles for their fund raiser.

L.H.S. FIVE YEAR REUNION A "TOTAL SUCCESS"

The L.H.S. Class of 1979 Reunion Committee would like to thank all those who helped make our five year reunion a total success. It was held last Saturday and saw class members journey home from as far as West Virginia, Texas, And West Point, New York. An attempt is being made to keep track of all class members. If you were one of those who were unable to attend the reunion, we ask you to send your name, address and phone number to: CLASS of 1979, 11024 Bennett Lowell, MI 49331.

FFA HOG ROAST, OCTOBER 5

The Lowell Chapter of Future Farmers of America will sponsor a hog roast on Friday, October 5, at the Lowell High School cafeteria from 4 to 7:30 P.M. Tickets are $4.00 for adults and students and under 5 free. Tickets are available from any FFA member or at the door. The menu will be pork, potato salad, baked beans, desserts, and milk and coffee will be available.

Everyone's invited to begin their Homecoming activities by eating at the Hog Roast then going to watch the Lowell Red Arrows play Kenowa Hills.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Involved in an accident Friday morning, September 21 was Russell Dunham Jr., 28 of Grand Rapids when he struck a parked car in the 200 Block of East Main Street. The parked car was registered to Sandra Johnson of Lowell. Dunham was cited later that day for leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

A 16 year old Juvenile from Lowell backed into the side of a car owned by William Lee on South Broadway near Ottawa Street, Friday evening, September 14.

Fallasburg Fest this weekend

Eleven non-profit groups from the Lowell-Alto-Saranac area are busy preparing food to serve the crowd expected at the 16th Annual Fallasburg Fall Festival, this coming weekend.

Four groups will offer a meal. The Lowell Lions Club will be selling a Barbequed Chicken Dinner. Their cot terparts in Saranac will be offering a Beef Barbeque sandwich, as well as a peanut butter and jelly sandwich for the young set. The Lowell Rotary will be selling Polish dogs. The fourth meal will be a tossed salad bar prepared by the Lowell Nature Pantry.

Five groups will offer dessert items. The Alto Lions Club will be selling the popular fried Lion's paws with cinnamon. The Lowell Women's Club will prepare old-fashioned apple dumplings with lemon sauce. At the Women of the Moose booth various flavors of homemade pie will be for sale, while the West Central Michigan Historical Society goes with fall favorites, caramel apples and doughnuts. The Grand Rapids Amateur Astronomical Association, which supports Veen Observatory near Lowell, will sell hand-dipped ice cream cones. Snacks will include hot pretzels from the First Congregational Church booth, where you can also get a sweet roll, and popcorn and root beer from the LAAC Kids.

All of the booths will have something to drink for sale as well. These beverages included coffee, lemonade, hot or cold cider, iced tea, root beer, colonial tea, and milk.

Once all hunger pangs are vanquished, the festival will offer a variety of activities to fill the entire day from 10 A.M. when the festival opens to its closing time of 5 P.M. each day.

Activities include entertainment on the outdoor stage, 65 artists and craftsmen selling wares, demonstrations of turn-of-the-century skills, hands-on craft areas for both children and adults, the Fallasburg Station of the U.S. Post Office, a Sunday visit by the Flat River Antique Auto Club, and a visit to the Fallasburg Covered Bridge and Old Schoolhouse Museum.

One of the last events of the festival will be the drawing, on Sunday afternoon, for the handmade Fallasburg Quilt designed by Dolores Dey. This beautiful quilt will be raffled along with other items donated and purchased from exhibiting artists. To get a chance on these items, simply purchase a raffle ticket at any time from any arts council member or at the information booth in the center of the festival grounds.

Parking will be free and supervised at the festival, so don't hesitate to come out and enjoy one of Michigan's beautiful fall weekends at the Fallasburg Fall Festival, this coming Saturday and Sunday, on the Fallasburg Park Pavillion grounds, four miles north of Lowell.

Police rule out foul play

Last week's Ledger carried a brief notice about the body of Billy Ray Cloud, 47, of Lowell being found in the driveway of a West Main St. business at about 1:00 A.M. on Monday, September 17. The information came into our office near press time, and we were unable to pursue the story for that edition. The following is a more detailed report.

While making routine security checks of West Main St. businesses Lowell Police Officer

Calvin Kamphuis noticed a body in the driveway of T.J.'s Restaurant at 2186 West Main Street. Police later determined that the deceased was Billy Ray Cloud. Cloud had left Mel's Bar at 916 West Main between 10:30 and 11:00 P.M. to walk home to his room at the Lowell Motor Inn at 2550 West Main Street.

Police have ruled out foul play as neither Cloud nor his clothing gave any appearance of violence and his wallet and money were not stolen. Weather conditions that evening were foggy, so a hit-and-run traffic accident was one of the first possible causes considered by the police, but that too was ruled out. A post mortem was conducted, but results have not yet been released. Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons is confident that Cloud simply died of natural causes while returning home.

Cloud was an employee at the Amway Corporation.

Semi rams Grand Trunk freight

Last Friday at about 12:55 P.M. Jeffrey Kill, 23, of Grand Ledge got the surprise of his life when he found himself heading north down the big hill south of Lowell on Alden Nash with a semi trailer load full of wheat and a westbound Grand Funk freight train coming through the crossing. When Kill realized he couldn't stop, he attempted to swerve around the fifteen car train, but struck the engine and the first boxcar behind it. Kill's load of wheat destined for the King Milling Co. in Lowell was spilled as the tractor trailer rolled over on impact. The truck was licensed to the Huhn Farms of Eagle, MI.

Kent County Sherrif's Deputies responded to the scene and issued Kill a citation for "failure to stop in an assured clear distance". There were no injuries reported.

Pacer's canoe race results

Two Grand Rapids area men and a pair of 16 year olds captured top prizes in the Grand Rapids Pacers Grand River Canoe Race held in Lowell on Saturday, September 22, 1984.

The grueling 12 mile race featured handicapped canoeists pairing up with able-bodied athletes to raise money for the Pacers, a nationally ranked wheelchair basketball team headquartered in Grand Rapids.

Dave Frazier, 26, of Grand Rapids and Bill Grummet, 26, of Lowell, finished first in Division I, which is made up of more severely disabled contestants such as paraplegics. The pair posted a time of 1:48:04 on the course which usually takes a recreational canoeist four hours to complete.

In Division II, which includes less handicapped contestants such as amputees, the youthful duo of Doug Stark, Ft. Wayne, IN., and Jim Fortier, Grand Rapids, carried off the winner's trophy with a time of 1:46:27.

A total of 16 area businesses contributed $200 each to sponsor a team in the race. Frazier and Grummet were sponsored by Redco Manufacturing, 419 Hall St. S.W., Grand Rapids. Stark and Fortier raced for Nicholas Plastics, 1134 Freeman S.W., Grand Rapids.

Other sponsors included Rosptach Corporation, Herman Miller Inc., Universal Companies, Grand Rapids Kiwanis, Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Active Re-employment, Neal's Auto Parts, Cascade Engineering, D and W Food Stores, IDS-American Express, White and White Pharmacy, Clark Associates, Old Kent Bank and Trust Co., and Clary, Nance, Wood Hof-fius, Rankin and Cooper, attorneys.

The event raised $3000 which is about a third of the Pacers operating budget for the year. The team is ranked third in the nation among wheelchair basketball athletes.

The canoe race was organized by the Pacers staff and Misty Valley Canoe Livery, Lowell, which supplied the canoes and facilities for the event.

Janeland at National exhibit

Janeland Farms of Lowell, Michigan will be an exhibitor at the 1984 North American International Livestock Exposition. Officials of the expo said that Janeland Farms has entered 11 head of dairy for competition at the North American International, an event which will take place during November 3-16 in Louisville, Kentucky. The NAILE will be held at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center.

The North American International Livestock Exposition is entering its eleventh year, and those who compete will vie for over $300,000 in total premiums and awards. Beef cattle, Dairy cattle, Swine, Quarter Horses, Draft Horses and Sheep will be shown during the two-week Exposition, and entries this year promise to break the show record at 13,000 or more.

Krause to serve on special House committee

The Speaker of the Michigan House has asked State Representative Victor Krause (R-Rockford) to serve on a special House committee to study the operation of the Michigan Public Service Commission, it was recently announced.

The 11-member bipartisan committee will begin to review the scope and limits of the authority of the PSC and its responsibilities in the regulation of utilities.

"The special committee will be examining such areas as how the PSC forecasts future energy needs, how power plant construction is authorized and how utility rates are set, as well as PSC policy and staff functions," Krause said.

The 90th District lawmaker, who is vice chair of the House Public Utilities Committee, explained that the committee was established in response to the decision to close down construction of the Consumers Power Midland plant and the role of the PSC in that decision.

Lowell toddler drowns in pool

A 22-month-old boy died of accidental drowning Thursday night after falling into his parents' pool at their Lowell area home. Ionia County Sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies said resuscitation efforts were begun on the child after he was pulled from the water, and continued by at least one deputy and later ambulance personnel who arrived on the scene.

Capitol Column by Senator Dick Posthumus

What do you get when you cross the highest worker's compensation rates in the nation with an average wait of four to six years before a workers' comp case is finally settled? You get a need for change -- which has prompted the Senate Republican Workers' Compensation reform package.

This package, designed to relieve the huge backlog of cases that has built up over the years as well as decreased insurance rates, is composed of 10 bills. Seven of them make structural and administrative changes, including a clearer definition of disability and a provision clarifying legislative intent. Other parts of the plan include the removal of workers' comp costs from the Single Business Tax base and, pending before a House committee, legislative changes to the State Accident Fund.

The package changes the referee/appeals board process, setting up an arbitration system similar to the medical malpractice arbitration and circuit court mediation procedures working in the state today. Under the plan, there would be three arbitrators for each case: one chosen by the claimant; another by the employer; and the third by the first two arbitrators, or from the impartial arbitrators listed by the Workers' Compensation Bureau.

Some gains were made in the reforms instituted two years ago; but since that time, things have not improved significantly enough. Two years should be long enough to judge, at least initially, whether reforms are having the desired effect -- and the past two years have just now shown enough improvement in Michigan's workers' comp system. We need more definitive results than we have seen thus far. This package will provide the means leading to reduced workers' comp rates and a speedier, fairer resolution of disputed claims.

Since the law placing the Workers' Disability Compensation Act into effect lapses after December 31 of this year, some legislative action has to take place to ensure continued processing of claims. Now is the best time to propose the implementation changes in the system.

Public hearings will be held in October and November on the package, providing several months of good, close scrutiny of these bills. With cooperation and hard work, we cannot only improve the workers' comp system, but we can do so before the December 31 deadline.

Rural carrier honored at retirement picnic

Over thirty employees and former employees of the Lowell post office were present at the retirement picnic honoring William (Bill) Condon who recently retired from his position as regular rural carrier. Bill started with the Lowell Post Office on May 25, 1953 as a substitute rural carrier and worked in this position until he became a regular carrier in January, 1978. Postmaster Charlie Doyle presented his retirement certificate which read in part, "This certificate is awarded to William Condon in grateful appreciation for dedicated service during an honorable career of 33 years service to the Government of the United States given by the United States Postal Service on this occasion of your retirement August 3, 1984."

Those present wished him well in his retirement and presented him with a gift certificate.

Safe driver award presented to Mail carriers

The National Safety Council Award was presented to five employees and two former employees of the Lowell Post Office recently. Former employees Rex Collins, 11 year award; Bill Condon, 6 year award. Present employees honored were James Rittersdorf, 8 year award; Patricia Fonger, 5 year award; Don Dilly, 4 year award; Ron Denman, 2 year award; and Connie Phillips, 1 year award.

The National Safety Council Safe Driver Award is the recognized trademark of professional drivers who have proved their skill in avoiding traffic accidents. The more than two million drivers who have earned the award since 1930 have made it the highest award for professional safe driving performance.

Corvette Club host a Concours D'Elegance at Mall Amphitheater

The Grand Valley Corvette Association will host a Concours D'Elegance at the Mormoe Mall Amphitheater Saturday, October 6th. The concours, a sporting event, originated in Europe and came into its own in America in the late twenties and early thirties. The approximately twenty-five Corvettes will be grouped in predetermined National Council of Corvette Clubs classes which take into consideration the year, model, style, age, and degree of originality, correctness and/or restoration. The average Corvette is by no means excluded, but may compete in a Wash and Show Class apart from the examples approaching perfection. Diligent preparation of any entry requires weeks of detailing if an entrant expects to emerge a winner. The concours is a very rewarding contest for Corvettes that can be proudly shown for their level of beauty and perfection and in most cases, have the "GO" to match the "SHOW."

At 35 minutes into the second half, Calvin's offense went one on one against Lowell goalie Brian Hayward. As Hayward moved out to cut Calvin's angle on the goal, Eldridge moved in to deflect and disallow the goal attempt. Two minutes later, the final goal of the game was scored by Lippert with a power kick over the goalie on the assist from Quada.

On Tuesday, September 18, Lowell traveled to Sparta for an early evening win 5-2.

Lowell's first score resulted from a controlled offensive drive by Joe Driedger to Sam Miller to Ian Haight to center forward Ken Lippert who clinched the goal. At 15 minutes into play, right wing Matt Quada swished Lowell's second goal home with the assist from Enrique Deliviesca.

Sparta rallied for its first goal at the 20 minute mark but less than five minutes later, Lippert scored again. The first half ended Lowell 3, Sparta 1.

Second half play was even by both teams until the 15 minute mark when Quada out-manuevered two Sparta defenders for the unassisted goal. Lippert made another goal but it was disallowed when Lowell was called for offside.

At the 28 minute mark, Deliviesca scored Lowell's 5th goal on a penalty shot awarded after Sparta was called for use of hands. Sparta fired up for an assault on Lowell and scored the last goal of the game at the 33 minute mark. LSC is now 3-0-1.

The Lowell Soccer Club met Rockford Tuesday evening as the Ledger went to press. The community is invited to Lowell's first home game this Friday, September 28 at 4:30 on the Middle School field when they will face Grand Rapids Christian. Admission is free.

"When fung shui speaks, business listens," says International Wildlife magazine. Westerners in Hong Kong have learned to respect the mystic Chinese concept that holds if buildings, furniture, roads and other man-made objects are placed in harmony with nature, they can bring good fortune. If not, they can wreak disaster. For instance, it's not unusual for a businessman to keep a mirror pointing out his office window to reflect bad luck emanating from a poorly situated building across the street. Mirrors can create serious moral problems though during office mirror wars, when employees aim bad fung shui at each other.

DNR Reports

FISHING INFORMATION:
Salmon runs are in full swing on the Grand and Muskegon Rivers.
Low levels and continuing warm water temperatures have restricted movement into many tributaries such as the Rogue River and Prairie Creek on the Grand River system. Fish are abundant, however at 6th Street Dam in Grand Rapids, in the Flat River at Lowell, and in Lyons near the Lyons fish ladder.
Weather permitting, salmon are being taken at the Muskegon and Grand Haven Lake Michigan piers. Pak runs of salmon are expected during the last week of September through the middle of October.
SNAGGING CONTINUES IN 1984, BUT CHANGES DUE NEXT YEAR

The D.N.R. announced that five Michigan rivers will be open to liberalized salmon fishing (snagging) this fall. The same short stretches of the Au Sable, Big Manistee, Pere Marquette, Muskegon and Sable Rivers will be open to the liberalized fishing from September 10, to October 25.
The 1984 will be the last year of legal snagging on the Pere Marquette and Muskegon Rivers. The remaining 3 rivers, Au Sable, Sable and Big Manistee will be closed to the practice after the fall of 1985.

Persons interested in fishing these sections of rivers should note that the use of weighted hooks is NOT allowed. Unweighted double or triple point hooks are not to exceed 3/8 inch from point to shank, or unweighted single pointed hooks are not to exceed 1/2 inches from point to shank.
BIG BUCK CONTEST
The Wildlife Division of the DNR has announced that it will join with Commemorative Bucks of Michigan a non-profit organization, to offer a Statewide Big Bucks Contest to Michigan's deer hunters this year. Both organizations have run separate contests for the past several years, by DNR Wildlife Chief Charles Guenther says that Michigan hunters will be served better by a single, unified contest.
The new version will have no entry fees and no cash prizes. Hunters may obtain information about the contest from the Wildlife Division, or may write directly to: Commemorative Bucks of Michigan, 4365 Commerce Road, Union Lake, Michigan 48085.

Flat River Snowmobile Club News

The West Michigan Snowmobile Council will be having their Annual Pig Roast and Picnic at the Flat River Snowmobile Clubhouse on Potters Road this coming Saturday, September 29th at 1:30 P.M. All who are interested in snowmobiling are invited to attend. The dinner will be $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12 years. There are ten member clubs that participate in this annual affair.
West Michigan Snowmobile Council is the group that established the West Michigan Snowmobile Trail that starts near Allegan and extends northward through the Alto and Lowell Areas. They are very active in the Michigan Snowmobile Council which is the representa-

SPORTS MEDICINE: WHO SHOULD AND SHOULD NOT PARTICIPATE IN ATHLETICS PART II

Last week we discussed how important a medical history is in determining an athlete's eligibility for competitive sports. We examined the different classifications of interscholastic sports on the basis of contact, endurance and leisure type of activity. We reviewed the concept of "selective participation" in sports. That is, the process by which, based on history and physical exam, an athlete who may be endangered in say, contact sports, may be rechanneled into an endurance or leisure type sport as a fulfilling alternative. This week we will cite for you specific medical conditions and how they individually may affect the doctor's decision to allow athletic participation.

Initially, all decisions as regards athletic participation should be made in light of the selective participation concept. While there are numerous generally disqualifying medical conditions for each type of activity (contact, endurance, and leisure sports) we will attempt to cover some of the more common medical states and how they relate to an athlete's eligibility.

Detached retina. This condition received much media attention in the cases of Sugar Ray Leonard, the boxing champion, and the late Joe Delaney, a National Football League running back. Even after surgical correction, the risk of reattachment and/or blindness is great. Therefore, participation in contact sports and even the more physical endurance sports is not advised.

Significant hearing loss. The athlete with significant hearing loss has long been the source of much controversy. Many sports physicians believe that hearing helps the athlete anticipate or avoid contact, and that athletes with impaired hearing are more vulnerable to unexpected or excessive trauma. It is a fact, however, that schools for the deaf often field teams for various contact sports without an apparent increase in significant injury. Each case, then, merits individual consideration.

Asthma. The diagnosis of uncomplicated asthma generally should not restrict a prospective competitor in any way. Good control of the asthma is the important factor. Currently there are many excellent drugs, either taken orally or as an inhaler, which can afford excellent control of the asthmatic's pulmonary function. The special "exercise induced" asthma may be somewhat more difficult to manage, but with the use of inhalers or other preparations taken immediately prior to competition, many asthmatic athletes are able to compete without disadvantage.

Irregular heartbeats (Arrhythmias). There is a very wide range of arrhythmias, and each must be evaluated individually in the qualification/disqualification process. If an irregular heartbeat is noted by your doctor on a sports physical, chances are he or she will recommend an electrocardiogram and in all probability a Holter monitor (a small cassette recorder which is worn by the patient for 24 hours and which prints for the physician a continuous 24 hour EKG recording). If the disturbance in rhythm is one which develops or becomes noticeable to the athlete with increased heart rate, or is an arrhythmia associated with sudden death, then contact and endurance events are not advised.

Previous Heart Surgery. Previous heart surgery is not in itself justification for disqualification. The decision to permit contact or endurance competition involves careful individual consideration of both the underlying cardiac condition and also how well the athlete has compensated in terms of his cardiovascular function and fitness.

High Blood Pressure (Hypertension). If hypertension has been established without question, the goal is then the same as is that with the asthmatic athlete: good control. If good medical control of the hypertension has been established and the athlete is without symptoms, there is no need for competitive restriction.

Next week - more medical conditions (enlarged liver or spleen, seizures, hernias, diabetes and more) and how they affect athletic eligibility.

Fall colors to paint the state throughout October

One of the nation's most lavish fall color displays will soon begin in Michigan, creating a perfect setting for autumn festivals, cider mill visits, auto tours and other pursuits, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Stars in the state's autumn spectacular are the more than 85 species of trees in 3.7 million acres of state forests and five million acres of national forests. As their leaves turn, the trees display a vivid mix of crimson, golden and purplish hues.

Color watchers who prefer certain hues should look for sugar maples for brilliant golds and red maples for bright reds. While sugar maples outnumber other trees in many parts of the Upper Peninsula, both species are dominant in the Lower Peninsula west of I-75 and US 27.

East of that line, brilliant yellow leaves are worn by aspens, birches and poplars. Leaves of oaks vary from russet to light brown while sumac trees become almost iridescent red and tamaracks turn gold.

Color is expected to be about the same as last year's -- good but not spectacular because of a dry summer.

State forestry experts expect this year's color show to peak from mid-September to early October in the U.P. Best times for color viewing in Lower Michigan north of a line from Ludington to Standish will be late September to mid-October.

In Lower Michigan's midsec-tion, color viewing should be best in early and mid-October. That region is south of a line from Ludington to Standish and north of a line from Muskegon to Port Huron.

Southern Michigan should display a fall color extravaganza during mid- and late October.

Among the most relaxing ways to see fall color are boat cruises offered in every region of the state.

Two are offered on West Michigan's Lake Charlevoix. The Beaver Islander is scheduled for Oct. 6, 7, 13 and 14 and the Star of Charlevoix runs daily through Oct. 14. The Timberlee Belle runs through mid-October on Boardman Lake, near Traverse City.

In East Michigan, Au Sable

River paddleboat tours are slated Sept. 29 - Oct. 21. For Southeast Michigan travelers, a cruise of Kent Lake at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford is set for Oct. 14, 27 and 28.

U.P. boat trips include the Pictured Rocks Cruises at Munising through Oct. 10.

Landlubbers may choose from dozens of other autumn activities.

Southeast Michigan events include Dearborn's Octoberfest, Oct. 1-7; Fall Color Tour, Yates Cider Mill, Rochester, Oct. 1 - Nov. 16; Ypsilanti's Apple Harvest Weekend, Oct. 5-7; Autumn Harvest Festival at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Oct. 5-7; Autumn Festival, Cranbrook Institute, Bloomfield Hills, Oct. 6-7, 13-14; Fall Harvest Day, Ella Sharp Museum, Jackson, Oct. 7 and an Apple Festival, Port Huron, Oct. 21.

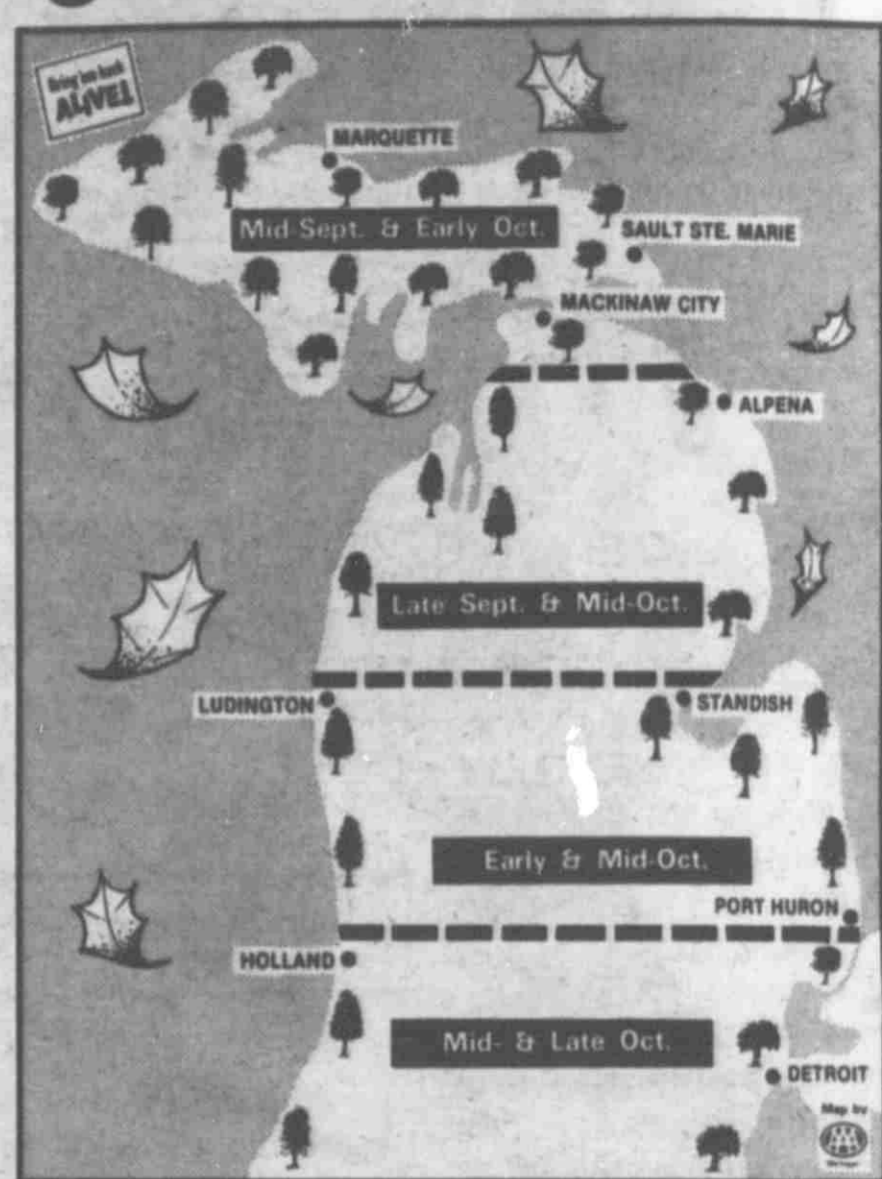

In East Michigan, special attractions with an autumn theme included guided and self-guided color tours, Gladwin County, Sept. 20; Fall Color Tour, Houghton Lake, Oct. 13, and a Fall Color Train Excursion, Bay City to Grayling, Oct. 13.

West Michigan fall events include a Viking Color Festival, Cadillac, Sept. 29 - Oct. 7; Oktoberfest, Kalamazoo College, Oct. 5-6; Red Flannel Festival, Cedar Springs, Oct. 6 Heritage Hill Home Tour, Grand Rapids, Oct. 6-7 Color Tour/Art Festival, Frankfort, Oct. 6-14, and an Apple Festival, Bangor, Oct. 11-15, and Charlevoix, Oct. 14.

Upper Peninsula attractions are a Turkey Shoot, Chassell, Sept. 17-22; Ethnic Food Festival, Escanaba, Oct. 6; Fall Art Fest, Dee Stadium, Houghton, Oct. 6; Annual Home Tour, Iron River, Oct. 7; Pumpkin Fest, Bessemer, Oct. 13, and Arts and Crafts Show, Town Hall, L'Anse, Oct. 8-13.

For a weekly report on where color is peaking, AAA member may call any of the Auto Club's 54 statewide offices. Also, several routes and activities for best color viewing are detailed in the September issue of the Auto Club's Michigan Living magazine.

A number of scenic color routes for motorists in each region are featured in "Autumn in Michigan," a free guide available from the Michigan Travel Bureau. Copies may be requested by calling toll-free 1-800-292-2590 or by writing to the bureau at P.O. Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Livestock activities this year will include: 6 major Dairy shows; 15 major Beef shows; 11 Sheep shows; AWA, NCHA and NSBA approved Quarter Horse events; a Draft Horse show & sale; Market Hog show; Junior Steer show; Feeder Calf show; Junior Market Lamb show; and 25 major sales.

In addition to the extensive number of livestock which will be at the NAILE, officials confirmed that the North American Championship Rodeo Finals, school tours, The Sale of Champions, children's barnyard and an extensive variety of other events will be featured. The large agri-products exhibit section will include western wear, jewelry, livestock grooming supplies and much more.

Since its first appearance in 1974, the NAILE has grown to rank as the largest, indoor livestock exposition held anywhere in the world. Over 100,000 visitors and livestock specialists from around the world are expected to attend.
