Two new businesses open during the past week

Two new businesses have opened their doors in recent days here. Modern Mini-Lab and Camera and Front Row Video are now both eager to have you stop by and see what they have to offer.

Front Row Video opened last Wednesday in the Crystal Flash Mall with 225 video cassettes, and 5 video cassette recorders for rent. Owner Tony Ellison says that he already has 50 more tapes on order, and plans to add to his inventory by buying all new tapes as they hit the market and filling his selection of older movies steadily as the business grows. Movies rent for $3.00 per night to members ($20.00 membership fee) and $4.00 to non-members. VCR's rent for $10.00 overnight. Members are not required to leave a deposit. Members also enjoy a free movie rental when they join, a free movie on their birthday and a free movie for every 10 rentals.

Opening specials include a VCR and 2 tape overnight rental for $15.00 and a rent 2 and get 1 free offer. Front Row Video is open Monday thru Thursday from 11 - 7, Friday and Saturday from 11 - 8 and Sunday from 12 - 6.

Modern Mini-Lab and Camera is the newest venture of Jim Maatman & Co. Maatman and his partner Roger VanVleck first opened Modern Photographics at 104 West Main some eight years ago. Since then they have opened a similar photo studio in Lake Odessa and started Modern Printing when Jim's dad Donald Maatman joined the business.

Modern Mini-Lab and Camera features a nearly $40,000 processing unit that is capable of cranking out rolls of color prints in one hour or less. The new lab will offer same day color processing of 110, 126, 35mm and disc films if brought in before noon, and overnite processing if brought in after noon at prices competitive with other area labs. The new lab will also offer one hour photo processing at slightly higher rates.

Maatman spent most of last week at a seminar in Chicago learning the new machine, and he says that the quality of the prints produced by this French built processor are "excellent".

Besides the lab, Modern Mini-Lab and Camera will also carry a wide selection of photography equipment for both the amateur and experienced photographer.

Camp Fire Group Wins National Campaign

The Ma-Kah-Wee Camp Fire group members are girls from the 6th grade attending St. Patrick's School in Parnell. The group has been named national winner for its community service program in the 1984 Help Young America Campaign.

The Ma-Kah-Wee group was one of the 330 winning entries from youth units throughout the nation who created special projects to meet the needs of their communities and entered them in this 12th annual program.

This Camp Fire group held a bake sale with bake goods donated by parents, relatives, and friends; as well as goods they baked themselves. All the money they earned went to a cancer victim and his family during the Christmas season to make their holiday a little easier.

Colgate-Palmolive Company, which launched Help Young America in 1972, annually awards cash grants to the troops and clubs of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys Clubs, Girls Clubs, Camp Fire and 4-H for the outstanding community-service projects entered in the campaign. It is the only program that annually unites these six major youth organizations in one national program.

Help Young America's youth-aid format is part of Colgate's program of community activities in some 50 countries around the globe. Colgate contributions to U.S. youth through the annual Help Young America campaign have now passed the $3-1/2 million mark.

The 13th annual Colgate Help Young America campaign will be officially announced this fall.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another (1 John 3:11).

It makes a difference what kind of flour we use when making delicate cakes. We don't pick up the first sack of flour we see on the grocery shelf. We search until we find the brand we feel confident will give us the best results when baking that special cake for Steve or Roxie's birthday party.

If choosing material for Debbie's Sunday dress, we are careful to select a good grade of material - one that will wear well and look its best after oodles of washings. Too often we have tried to "cut corners" and spent hours working on inferior material only to find, after a wearing or two, the seams, frayed, or after the first washing, the garment, shrunken and misshapen.

The Christian cannot expect to receive the best results spiritually if he tries to "cut corners" while building a character that counts. The kind of character that counts for God is the one into which the best results, we must "use the finest cake flour."

Prayer: Heavenly Father, Thou are the author of love. If I am like Thee, I shall be loving, also. Increase my concern for others. Increase my faith. Help me to live in hope. Amen.

Long listening to Thy words, My voice shall catch Thy tone,

And, locked in Thine, my hand shall grow
All loving like Thy own.

Lowell Beats Forest Hills Central 18-6

By scoring their first points ever in the O-K White Conference at Forest Hills Central Friday night, the Lowell Red Arrows spoiled the Rangers' homecoming and perfect record at the same time.

Capitalizing on turnovers, the Red Arrows claimed an 18-6 win over the previously unbeaten Rangers. Forest Hills Central entered the game with a 3-0 overall record and a 2-0 slate in the O-K White, while Lowell, which was shut out on consecutive weekends by East Grand Rapids and Northview, went into the contest with a 1-2 overall slate and an 0-2 record in the league standings.

The decision leaves Wyoming Park alone atop the league with a 3-0 record. "It was a darned good game and a great win," said Lowell Coach Phil Christensen. "We had a couple tough games against East Grand Rapids and Northview, and I think people were overlooking us."

"Both Northview and Forest Hills Central scheduled us for their homecoming games, but the kids in Lowell don't quit, and we came out feeling like we want to start a rivalry right here in our own back yard."

Lowell quarterback Robb King, getting his first varsity start, along with running back Brian Gessler keyed the Red Arrow attack. King scored the Red Arrows' first touchdown on a four-yard scamper, while Gessler passed for one touchdown on a halfback option and ran 40 yards for another score.

Despite being shut out in its first two O-K White encounters, Lowell didn't take long to get onto the scoreboard against the Rangers Friday. In Lowell's first possession of the night, a fine diving catch by receiver Dave Kryger netted 34 yards to set up King's four-yard touchdown scamper. The PAT was blocked, but Lowell held a 6-0 lead.

Early in the second quarter "Touchdown" Todd Richards broke through the line, slipped a tackle, and scooted 27 yards for the game-tying score. The touchdown, Richards' eighth this season, was keyed by several long gainers by Ranger Craig Brown.

Lowell scored the go-ahead touchdown after Kryger recovered a Ranger fumble at midfield. With only 21 seconds remaining in the half and the Red Arrows at the Ranger five-yard line, Gessler took a handoff and threw it to a wide-open Kryger in the endzone to give Lowell a 12-0 halftime lead.

"We knew Lowell would be ready and they played a good game against us," said Forest Hills Central Coach Dave VanDyke. "The bottom line was that we made way too many turnovers."

The Rangers mounted a drive at the onset of the second half, but a fourth-down-and-six pass from the Lowell 14 fell incomplete. Just minutes later, Lowell hit paydirt again.

With 9:13 remaining in the third stanza, Gessler broke loose from the Ranger 40 and sprinted for Lowell's third touchdown.

The conversion attempt failed, but the Red Arrows had momentum they did not relinquish.

Twice in the fourth quarter, Lowell moved the ball inside the Ranger 10-yard line, but to the credit of the defense, Lowell was kept out of the endzone. John Mason and Bill Meyers spearheaded the Ranger defense with 16 tackles apiece, while linebacker Brown accounted for 10 stops and a fumble recovery.

For Lowell, Gessler rushed for 109 yards, and Christensen had praise for an offensive line that opened holes for his backs all night.

"Our offensive linemen controlled the trenches which helped our backs run well," Christensen acknowledged. "Once we got the momentum it really helped and we kept it going."

"We're excited to get this victory and score some points in the new league."

G.R. Christian Downs Lowell Soccer Club

Lowell Soccer Club got exposure to a superb soccer offense last Friday evening, Sept. 28, suffering defeat by Grand Rapids Christian's varsity squad 11-0.

The game started with even play but Christian quickly took charge with many attacks on goal during the first half. Outstanding defense by Lowell in the first half kept the score respectable.

Lowell defenders Todd Lyon, Ted Probst, Joe Driedger, Lino Svarez, Mark Eldridge and goalie Chris Jasinski did an outstanding job. Driedger, Lyon and Eldridge individually intercepted Christian passes in front of Lowell's goal time after time and returned the ball upfield for Lowell. Probst and Svarez stole the ball on two different drives by Christian and returned the play to Lowell.

Left fullback Joe Driedger blocked innumerable shots on goal by Christian, and halfbacks Tim Thompson and Sam Miller intercepted passes to break up drives by Christian's offense.

The first score of the game came at 12 minutes into the first half for G.R. Christian. After the kickoff by Lowell, Christian mounted attack after attack with Jasinski repelling with sensational goal catches.

On one of the several corner kicks awarded Christian during the first half of play, Thompson sent the ball upfield for Lowell with a strong header, generating one of the two shots on goal by Lowell in the first half. The other Lowell attack came when Thompson intercepted a Christian pass, got the ball to right wing Matt Quada who centered it for Enrique Delviesca. Christian's goalie made the saves to maintain the shutout. Christian made 23 shots on goal in the first half scoring five times.

Christian continued their strong offense, scoring at 2 minutes into the half. After Christian's 7th goal, Lowell matched Christian's attacks with Ian Haight taking a shot on goal assisted by Thompson and Delviesca.

Girls Basketball Opening Conference Game

Lowell Girl's basketball team lost to Delton last week but won their opening Conference game with a win over East Grand Rapids.

On Monday, Delton overpowered Lowell 72-36. Meg Bromley of Delton scored 40 points. Lowell's scoring came from Phyllis Beachler 10, Maria Ritzema 9, Cindy Dumas 8, Nancy Baerwalde 4, Jenny Hoffman 3 and Tonya Phillips 1.

In the game, Lowell committed 17 turnovers to East's 37. Beachler had 11 steals and 8 rebounds to guide Lowell to victory.

Others scoring for Lowell were Cindy Dumas 11, Maria Ritzema 2, Jenny Hoffman 4, Michele Lindhout 4, Cathy Kazemier 2, Nancy Baerwalde 2, Tonya Phillips 2, Nancy Stencil 6 and Val Phillips 1.

Cross Country Wins 4

Monday, September 24, the Lowell cross-country team traveled to Cedar Springs and came away with a double victory: 24-31 over Cedar and 23-33 over Greenville.

Brett Kirby and Mike Harding finished 1 and 2 for Lowell. Also running a strong race were Mark Rose and Paul Wilcox.

On Wednesday the team traveled to Johnson Park for a conference matchup with Kenowa Hills and came away with stellar performances by everyone on the team to clinch a 25-31 win. Big improvements were made by Chris Kloosterman, Brian Carlless, Dale and Dan Fegal.

The girls cross-country team made their best showing of the year losing a close contest to the Kenowa girls. Running good races were Jill Borton, Shawn Barton, Kathleen Schoenborn, and Linda Watkins.

On Friday the team made it 4-0 for the week with a 27-28 win over Lakewood High School. Running second for Lowell with his best race of the year was Chad Blasher. Also running in this week's races were Jenny Dine, Molly Spillane, Ron Pawloski, Mike Groeters, Ollie Saab, Brent Kauffman, and Matt Newhouse.

Christian dominated the remainder of the game with Lowell generating one more solid drive when Driedger blocked a pass by Christian, returned the ball upfield to Lippert to Quada who took the shot on goal.

Brian Hayward replaced Jasinski as goalie during the second half and did a superb job repelling the many attacks by Christian. Defender Todd Lyon played an excellent game, blocking many shots on goal by Christian. One shot was worked past Lowell's goalie but Lyon blocked two attempts for the season.

Last Tuesday's match against Rockford was rained out and will be rescheduled. Lowell Soccer Club met West Catholic on Tuesday as the Ledger went to press.

"The youth gets together materials for a bridge to the moon, and at length the middle-aged man decides to make a woodshed with them." Henry David Thoreau

The first adding machine to employ depressible keys was made by a man in New Paltz, N.Y., and was patented in 1850. He called his machine a calculator but it was neither popular or practical.

Vergennes Co-op Club celebrates 70th

A celebration is taking place this October. To some it may seem an insignificant month, but for members of the Vergennes Co-Operative Club it is outstanding. The organization is having their 70th birthday and a birthday party is in order. It will be held at the regular monthly meeting Thursday, October 4 at Schneider Manor.

The party will also culminate an exciting club project. Through the dedicated efforts of club member, Stella Bradshaw, Vergennes Club has compiled a manuscript on Living History of Vergennes Township. With the assistance of Eunice Vanderveen, Irma Richmond and Joan Beke, along with the many writers who contributed, a book will be presented to the Lowell Library. Cathy Clair, Lowell librarian, will accept the manuscript Thursday and file it in the reference collection for the enjoyment and edification of Lowell area residents.

As the manuscript developed over the months it proved to be so interesting and entertaining, both factual and personal, that members agreed it should be preserved in the library for public use. Several copies will remain with club records and for circulation among members. There will be a certain number for sale.

Vergennes club members are very proud of this 70 year celebration. The accomplishments, and above all, the friendships are as dedicated today as they were in the beginning. The following is a brief history of the club taken, in part, from the Living History book.

Seventy years ago, on the afternoon of October 29, six ladies gathered at the home of Nellie McPherson, Parnell Road. The purpose was to form a club. Officers were elected and a meeting day, the first Thursday of the month, was chosen. Dues were set at five cents whether in attendance or not. The ladies were encouraged to expand membership by inviting young married friends and to bring sewing and fancy work. It was also decided that at each meeting refreshments would be served, two articles of food and a drink. If this was violated there would be a fine of twenty five cents. Thus reads the minutes recorded at the first meeting of the Vergennes Co-Operative Farm Women's Club in the year 1914.

Right from the beginning the club was not strictly social. Although it was rumored that it was primarily to give ladies an "afternoon out," as their men always seemed to have their social times. A constitution and by-laws committee was set to work. Plans were made to include a year book and interesting programs were presented. Membership grew among these farm ladies who instilled a deep and sincere love of Vergennes.

On August 3 in the year 1916 a picnic was held at Murray Lake. Perhaps there were years when, for one reason or another, the picnic was passed over, however the picnic has become a tradition and this year was held August 5 at Fallasburg Park. Eleanor Kraft has, for several years, hosted the July meeting at Murray Lake. Good things never change.

The early years of Vergennes Club were also war years. Patriotism was strong. Feelings, thoughts and actions were most often centered around home nursing, gardening and canning and Red Cross work.

The World War II years kept everyone busy. Greetings were

Jafra Cosmetics Awards Local Businesswomen National Honors

Lowell residents LeAnne Gilbert and Caron Stetler recently earned top honors for their sales and recruiting successes with Jafra Cosmetics, Inc. producer of skin care products sold in the home by independent Consultants. The two women were flown by the company to its Westlake Village, Calif. headquarters, then to San Diego to participate in Jafra's California Leadership Adventure, where each received outstanding recognition for her achievements.

"Caron and LeAnne are glowing examples of people who not only set their goals, but achieve them," said Jafra Chairman and Co-Founder Jan Day.

As independent Jafra Skin Care Consultants, Ms. Gilbert and Mrs. Stetler earned the all-expense paid trips through a combination of their personal sales, and sponsorship of others to start their own Jafra businesses.

Having always wanted to visit California, winning the trip was a "dream come true" for Ms. Stetler. "Being a consultant has helped me grow personally, and I love working with people, especially when I see the terrific results."

Mrs. Gilbert's success as a Jafra Consultant allowed her to leave a teaching position eight years ago to become a full-time Consultant. "I'm a professional who decides my own income, meets many wonderful people and has the freedom to choose my activity," she said. "I'm in control of my life."

Founded in 1956 and a subsidiary of The Gillette Company since 1973, Jafra's product line includes over 120 high quality skin care, body care and "Finishing Touch" (make-up) items. Its direct sales force today exceeds 60,000 trained Consultants in the United States and Canada, with operations in 24 foreign countries as well.

Reflecting on the increasing popularity of Jafra world-wide, Chairman Day said, "When my husband and I originally founded Jafra, we felt there could be more successful selling if they truly loved the product. Also, we wanted a company where the personal efforts of people like LeAnne and Caron would be appreciated and rewarded."

LETTER POLICY

The Ledger invites readers to express their feelings on topics of general interest in letters to the editor.

Letters should be no longer than 600 words and typed double space if possible. They should be addressed to The Editor, Box 128, 105 N. Broadway, Lowell, MI 49331. All letters must be signed by the author.

Remember the old Xerox copy that went around with all of the "You know it's going to be a bad day when..." listings? Some examples were "You know it's going to be a bad day when you come into work and there's a 60 Minutes news team waiting in your office". Or, "You know it's going to be a bad day when you put your bra on backwards... and it fits". And, "You know it's going to be a bad day when your son announces at that breakfast table that he wished Anita Bryant would mind her own business".

Those are few examples from the original list as I recall them. My day has gotten off to a bit of a rocky start, so I guess I'd like to make a few additions to the list.

You know it's going to be a bad day when you discover that you left your towel hanging over the shower curtain bar while you were waiting for the water to warm up.

You know it's going to be a bad day when you've got one shoe in hand while looking for the other, only to discover that you already have it on your foot.

You know it's going to be a bad day when you wake up vaguely recalling the dog scratching at the door to be let out in the night.

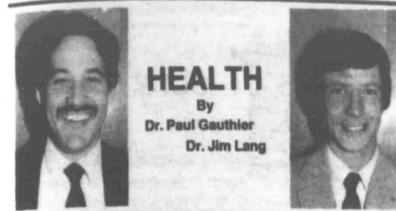

You know it's going to be a bad day when you fire up the Mr. Coffee, jump in the shower and come back to find that you forgot to put the pot under the dispenser.

You know it's going to be a bad day when your kids ask you, "Dad, do you remember that big ladder that hung up in the garage by the car?"

You know it's going to be a bad day when the wife says, "That living room furniture sure is getting tacky looking, do you know how many years we've had that stuff?"

You know it's going to be a bad day when you hear a noise coming from your refrigerator that sounds like the ice maker dumping ice, but you don't have an ice maker.

And finally, you know it's going to be a bad day when you have a column to write, and something like this is the best you can muster.

PART III

Today's column is the final edition in a three part article on athletic eligibility based on prior medical history. In Part I we discussed the different classifications of sports based on the degree of physical demand, i.e. contact, endurance, and leisure sporting activity. We also reviewed the concept of selective participation in sports, emphasizing the importance of rechanneling an athlete into a less strenuous type of sport if his or her medical history so indicated. In Part II, we specifically discussed individual medical conditions and how they affect the qualification/disqualification process as regards athletic participation. Today, in Part III, we will conclude the article with a continued examination of specific medical conditions and their effect on athletic participation.

Enlarged liver or spleen. If an enlarged spleen or liver is noted by the examining physician on a routine sports physical, the cause for such a condition should be sought out. In any event, if either the spleen or the liver is enlarged below the area protected by the rib cage, the prospective athlete should be disqualified from contact or vigorous endurance sports.

Seizure disorders (Epilepsy). Most individuals with idiopathic seizures (seizures of no known cause - the most common type) are usually well controlled with one or two medicines and should not be restricted from athletic activity. Those with poor control of seizures should not participate in contact or endurance sports until their medical dosages can be reevaluated and better control can be achieved. Any athlete with post-traumatic seizures (seizure disorders resulting from previous head trauma) should at least be restricted from contact sports. The particular importance of water safety and the "buddy system" should be impressed on all individuals with seizure disorders.

Diabetes Mellitus. Well controlled diabetes does not warrant disqualification from athletic activity, but special attention must be paid to both diet and insulin dosage immediately prior to competition so that episodes of low blood sugar can be avoided. Probably more than in any other medical problem individualized management (sometimes on a day-to-day basis) is necessary for the sports-minded diabetic.

Large inguinal hernia. An inguinal hernia in males is caused by a weakness in the lower muscles of the abdomen as those muscles converge over the groin. This weakness may allow part of the small bowel to bulge or "herniate" into the inguinal canal. This condition is quite common, and it is vitally important that it be ruled out prior to athletic participation. Any athlete who is found to have a large inguinal hernia or is complaining of the bulging, pressure-like symptoms of same, should be disqualified from all contact or endurance activities pending corrective surgery.

Anemia (low red blood cell count). Any decision about the anemia patient must be based on the cause of the anemia. A woman with anemia due to heavy menstrual flow may require no more than iron supplementation, with no athletic restriction necessary. Any competitor with blood loss from the gastrointestinal tract obviously merits a lengthy evaluation and probably should be disqualified from all sports until a cause can be identified.

Hemophilia/Bleeding tendencies. Hemophiliacs must be restricted to non-contact leisure athletic endeavors. Persons with less dramatic bleeding disorders require an individualized approach depending on the severity of the condition.

Absence of one eye, kidney or testicle. The absence, loss or significant dysfunction (poor function) of an eye, kidney or testicle is almost always considered to rule out contact sports and often vigorous endurance sports. While there have been several cases of parents petitioning the courts to allow their impaired children to participate, that certainly is not justification for jeopardizing all such competitors. If a physician does compromise in this situation, additional protection for the surviving organ is mandatory.

While many medical conditions or disease states were not discussed in this three part article, we tried to touch on the more common entities that may prevent a prospective athlete from competitive participation. Should you have any questions regarding the contents of the articles or if you have concerns about other medical conditions and athletics, please send them to us and we will try to answer them in a future column.

Food Coop Celebrates Five Years

Five years ago a small group of persons concerned about high quality nutritional foods formed a cooperative food buying club. It didn't take long for the good news of this cooperative food buying club to spread and soon we were the Lowell Nature Pantry Cooperative Food Store with a store front on Main Street.

In June of 1983 the Food Coop, as most people call us, moved to its present location at 132 S. Hudson Street. The South Hudson Street location has yielded much more space for foods, storage and parking. Every member is an owner at Lowell Nature Pantry and we are understandably proud of "our store".

Our expanded product line features fresh milk, butter, other dairy products, Brownberry Ovens breads, all-natural soft drinks, sparkling mineral water, health care products, household cleaners, crackers, cereals and a wide assortment of canned foods.

We are also your best source of the wholesome natural foods you like - natural cheeses, flours, nuts, seeds, dried fruits, yogurt and carb candies, fruit juices, pastas, teas, sweeteners, oils, spices and fresh produce. Many of these foods are purchased in bulk and are displayed in easy to use plexiglass dispensing bins.

We invite the public to come look us over during the month of October - National Cooperative Month. During October all inactive and new members may shop at the low working member price. You'll find our shelves and coolers stocked with high quality products at low prices. There will be special food sampling Friday and Saturday, October 5th and 6th. Store hours are: Wednesdays 10-7 P.M., Fridays 9-6 P.M., and Saturdays 9-5 P.M.

Register To Vote

Secretary of State Richard Austin today reminded all individuals that Tuesday, Oct. 9, is the last day to register to vote in the November Presidential election.

Austin said that voter registration in Secretary of State branch offices is running 13 percent ahead of figures reported for the last presidential election in 1980.

Through August, 639,000 individuals had registered this year in Secretary of State branch offices.

Austin reminded those not yet registered that they may do so in Secretary of State branch offices or the office of city or township clerks or their deputy registers.

sent to Vergennes boys in the service. members became "home volunteers" and pledged to serve only meals that made sound bodies and minds. War stamps were purchased with pennies from their "prize box" and donations were accepted for the nurses fund.

Rural life was not easy, but by coming together, good things were accomplished for the good of the family, community and country.

When asked, most members will recall with fondness two outstanding benefits, friendships and Vergennes history. Thelma Heilman, 45 year member recalls, with great fondness, the many wonderful friends she and the other members have made. The many programs which centered around Vergennes history have always been popular. The early settlements of alton, Moseley, Fallasburg, Fosis Corners and the families who settled there, every fact, every story and all the "hear tell tales" create much enthusiasm.

Euchre parties and holiday festivities, active assistance for the Lowell Y.M.C.A., Red Cross, United Fund all were, and some still are club activities. A flag pole was placed at the Township Hall and "entering Vergennes Township" signs were placed at proper locations. Money was raised by the sale of a cook book some years ago. Most of the monetary support comes from bake sales, auctions, a mini bazaar and other sales held within the group.

For years meetings were held in members homes. The township Hall, Vergennes Methodist Church were also favorite meeting places. Today Schneider Manor comfortably holds the group which numbers 46.

Fifty years ago when the club purchased dishes and silverware it was with every hope the organization would grow, and so it has. Nothing has broken the dreams of a few ladies who felt the need to gather for one afternoon a month, to share, to plant a few seeds, to nourish a kinship that has flourished.

Nellie McPherson was president 70 years ago. Her daughter-in-law, Elura McPherson, will be president in 1985. There is no doubt in the minds of club members young and old, that this organization will line on with success for many years to come.

child's swallowing pattern. Once this happens, the youngster may develop a protrusion of the upper front teeth; a narrowness of the upper dental arch; and an obvious malocclusion (improper bite) problem.

As long as there are infants, there will be thumbsuckers. However, if the habit continues longer than usual, it's best to have the child checked by a dentist before it causes any problems.

Capitol Column

by Senator Dick Posthumus

When the new drunk driving laws of 1982 were passed by the Michigan Legislature, people thought that there would be an immediate and phenomenal impact on the "drinkers and drivers" in Michigan. Unfortunately, this has not turned out to be the case.

While other aspects of highway safety have improved, drunken drivers remain just as deadly as ever. A report put out by the State Police shows that although drunk-driving arrests are up 10 percent, there has been no reduction in the percentage of drunk drivers involved in fatal accidents. In 1983, 53 percent of the fatal accidents in Michigan were alcohol-related, claiming 708 lives and injuring over 30,000 motorists.

Obviously it is going to take more than stiffer laws to cut down on alcohol-related deaths on our highways. Several proposals coming before the Legislature following November's election are specifically targeted to back up Michigan's tougher laws.

Most recently, the Liquor Control Commission unanimously approved a proposed ban on 2-for-1 happy hour specials and drive-through liquor windows. This notion is strongly supported by the Michigan Beverage Association, and now must be passed by the Michigan Legislature. Such specials are banned in Massachusetts and are being considered in several other states.

Another idea before the Legislature is the controversial sobriety checklist proposal. Under this plan, state police would set up specific checkpoints where officers would be authorized to stop all vehicles passing through, which proponents claim would last an average of 11 seconds per car. Drivers showing signs of drinking would be asked to undergo coordination tests and a Breathalyzer test. Opponents believe the checklists don't discourage drinking - they simply force the drunk driver to take an alternate route.

A bill pending in the State House aims to crack down on teen drinking and driving, and would suspend a teen's license for 90 days if alcoholic beverages are found in the car. A second offense would bring a six-month suspension and third offense would suspend license until the person's 21st birthday.

Realizing the influential role bar and restaurant owners play, the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association and the Michigan Restaurant Association are training their members to discourage excessive drinking and are providing seminars to recognize and deal with the effects of drunkenness.

WEDDING INVITATIONS— & Napkins available at the Grand Valley Ledger, 105 N. Broadway, Lowell.

Drunk drivers are never going to go away completely - but armed with stricter, enforced laws and more education and cooperation on the part of those serving the drinks, we are at least heading in the right direction.

THUMB-SUCKING SYNDROME

Does thumb - sucking lead to crooked teeth? Most experts don't think occasional thumb-sucking in infancy causes any problems with teeth. But there is a general agreement among dentists that prolonged the intensive thumb-sucking past the time the first permanent teeth erupt - at 5 to 6 years of age - can lead to misshapen mouths and displaced teeth.

Actually, the position of individual teeth displaced by thumb-sucking is of less concern to orthodontists than the effect on the bony support of the teeth - and the development of abnormal, deforming muscle activity. If, for example, the habit persists past two years, it could alter the cluding the 16 boys who achieved the rank of Eagle under Mr. Bill's guidance. Among those who spoke at Monday's ceremony were Leo Haybarker, a personal friend; George Lesons, Eagle Scout; Gerard Perry, from the Ionia District; Ron Tefft, Iokemo District; Jim Owen, West Michigan Shores Council and Ivan Blough, director on the Troop 102 Board.

Nowak's son Dan read the inscription on the plaque to the crowd after they had moved outside for the unveiling. The inscription reads: "Bill Nowak Activities Center. Take the boys that seem the most lost and work with them the hardest and you will find your reward in their achievements."

Following the unveiling of the plaque, Nowak's widow Grace thanked those in attendance and read a letter sent by her son Dick who lives in Hawaii.

The memorial was a fitting tribute to a man who gave so much of himself to scouting and the community.

Veterinary clinic progressing nicely

Dr. Bruce Langlois told us that he had heard rumors that the new Lowell Veterinary Clinic being built by he and his partner Dr. Mark Teachman was just about anything but a veterinary clinic. The new building is going up at 11650 East Fulton, just east of Lowell Lanes. Langlois wants to assure everyone that it is NOT a new pro shop, but a veterinary clinic that will offer surgery, treatment and hospitalization for both small and large animals.

Teachman and Langlois purchased the practice of Dr. James Main earlier this year and are currently working out of his clinic located in the basement of his home at Lincoln Lake Road and Vergennes Ave. They expect the new clinic to be ready to occupy by December first of this year.

Langlois is the prime contractor on the job, which coupled with his practice keeps him plenty busy. He says he has used local suppliers and sub-contractors whenever possible. First Security Bank is financing the Many rumors have surfaced as to what this building is, but the real answer is that it's the new Lowell Veterinary Clinic located just east of Lowell Lanes.

$100,000 project. The new facility will offer 3,600 sq. ft. of floor space and will feature modern surgical and laboratory equipment. The convenient location will also be a plus for those in the area requiring veterinary care for their animals.

Businesses, cont'd.

Film, batteries and other photo supplies are also offered. The new store is located next door to Modern Photographics at 106 West Main Street. Store hours are 9 - 6 Monday thru Saturday.

Though Curt Albrecht has been in business for some time as a Radio Shack dealer here, but Curt's Sound and Home Arcade Center is almost like a new business since moving into larger quarters at 221 West Main Street (formerly B & M Furniture and Riverside Fireplace Shop). Albrecht has used the increased space to better display his merchandise and add to it. He is adding electronic Radio Shack toys daily for Christmas buying, and of course Radio Shack offers everything from soup to nuts for the electronic hobbyist to the computer fanatic.

Though it's always much nicer to report on businesses that are just opening or are making improvements, we must also make mention of those that are closing. Crystal's Ice Cream Parlour in the Crystal Flash Mall closed it's doors last week citing, "just not enough business" as the reason for closing.
