Cumberland opens new extended care facility

On Thursday, October 18, Arlin Maas, owner of Cumberland Manor Retirement Home cut a ceremonial ribbon marking the official opening of a new 20 bed extended care facility at Cumberland's E. Fulton location. This is the first of two such units, the next scheduled for construction in the spring of 1985. Later next year Maas plans to construct a medical building to be staffed with a doctor offering both geriatric and family medical care.

Maas' long range plans include a college campus style complex with a store, restaurant, recreation facilities, medical buildings and housing for people in their early retirement phase through extended care, if needed. The "village" concept allows retired people several options in housing, ranging from luxurious apartment and condo living to more complete care facilities.

Local township, city and county officials along with friends and business associates attended the ribbon cutting ceremony and reception that followed. The new extended care facility is intended to provide just that, "extended care". The current 148 room Cumberland Manor was designed to house those persons incapable of, or unwilling to maintain their own housing, but do not require the extensive care provided by a nursing home like Cumberland's new addition. It features a modern kitchen, dining room, laundry facilities, reception area and nursing station.

Prior to cutting the ribbon, Maas said, "I hope this is the first of many groundbreaking and ribbon cuttings at Cumberland Manor". Then, with the help of Lowell Township Supervisor Harry Yeiter, Maas cut the ceremonial ribbon.

Ledger errs . . .

The Grand Valley Ledger wishes to apologize to Victor C. Krause, our State Representative from the 90th District. As a strong supporter of Krause, Ledger publisher Roger Brown recently received a letter sent to all of Krause's campaign volunteers. In the pre-press bustle at the Ledger this letter was mistaken as copy for Krause's newspaper column titled, "Krause at the House", and was published in the October 17 issue of the Grand Valley Ledger. The Ledger regrets any embarrassment that the publication of this letter may have created for Krause and his re-election campaign, and we assume full responsibility for the error.

Arlin Maas (with scissors) makes a few last comments to the audience while Lowell Township Supervisor Harry Yeiter helps hold the ceremonial ribbon at last Thursday's opening of Cumberland Manor's new 20 bed extended care facility.

HAYBARKERS CLOSES

Kraig and Leo Haybarker have announced that they have closed their business, Haybarker's Floor Covering, at 101 N. Lafayette. After trying several alternatives, including a recent move to a lower rent location and the sale of one of the company vans, the Haybarkers decided that their business was just "not making it" financially. After a meeting with a lawyer, it was determined that the best move was to close the business. The Haybarkers wish to thank all past customers for their support.

HAUNTED HOUSE OPENS TONIGHT!

The Lowell YMCA is opening their Haunted House for the brave souls in the area beginning tonight, October 24 thru Wednesday, October 31 (Halloween). Hours are 6:30 until 9:00 each evening. Admission is $1.00 per head, and as Y Director Jim Hodges puts it, "bodies are free". All proceeds from the Haunted House will be used to fund YMCA projects.

Two pharmacies coming

It looks like Lowell will soon be the home of three pharmacies. Bud Discount Pharmacies is constructing a 500 sq. ft. prescription service in Eberhard's Super Market and Mike Hinkley says he is definitely looking for a suitable location to establish a full service pharmacy here. The Ledger jumped the gun when we reported that Hinkley was locating in the old St. Mary's church. We received that report from the Chamber of Commerce, but failed to confirm it with Hinkley, Hinkley says that he is pursuing several possibilities, and has not signed any lease as of Tuesday. The old church is one of those possibilities.

and Sparta got its start as a discount pharmacy in the Grandville Eberhard Store in 1969. It quickly gained a reputation as a discount pharmacy attracting customers from as far as 20 miles. The pharmacy will offer discount prescriptions including all the latest drugs and a variety of vitamins and related items. Bud's policy is that they will not be undersold or they will refund the difference on prescriptions. The pharmacy should be operational in about three weeks.

Hinkley's concept is quite different. He plans to operate a store like his present pharmacies in Saranac and Portland featuring maximum customer service to include free delivery, at competitive prices. Hinkley feels that there is room for a good old fashioned drugstore in Lowell that will provide a full time professional pharmacist offering help and advice on the health requirements of the entire family. Besides prescriptions, the Hinkley store will offer a complete variety of health and beauty aids, cards and other items typically found in a drugstore.

When asked when he might be opening here, Hinkley said, "I wish I could say yesterday", and added, "we hope to have at least a prescription service open very soon."

Capitol Column

by Senator Dick Posthumus

The old maxim "share and share alike" never seemed to hold much sway in the event of a divorce. What used to be considered "ours" suddenly became "his" and "hers". Death of a spouse, too, often involved complex legal questions regarding property ownership.

Legislation that was recently introduced would change this system. The Uniform Marital Property Act provides that property resulting from the personal effort of either spouse would be owned by both spouses in equal, undivided shares.

There is no mystery as to why this proposal is receiving attention. By 1980, 42.6 of the civilian labor force were women, and that percentage is growing yearly. And they are not all in traditional women-dominated fields, such as the secretarial and teaching professions. In 1970, 1.1 million women held executive, administrative or managerial positions. By 1980, that number had almost tripled to 3.2 million. Most women today make a sizable contribution to the household coffers, and many are demanding legislation that would legally entitle them to half of the property that is accumulated during the partnership.

This plan also protects the rights of the spouse who dies first. Those dying first may dispose of their one-half portion of the property any way they see fit, without interference of the surviving spouse.

Property owned by either spouse before the marriage would remain the individual property of that person, while any proceeds would become marital property. For example, if a woman brings to a marriage a stock portfolio, ownership would remain with her, while any dividends would be owned equally by both partners.

Another important provision is the question of life insurance and retirement benefits. These would be owned equally by the husband and wife for the number of years they were married and the programs were in effect. For example, if a couple was married ten years and the husband was covered by a pension plan for eight of those ten years, the wife would automatically be due one-half of eight years of retirement benefits.

The primary concept behind UMPA is sharing—expanding it to an actual legal principle. We don't currently deal with property ownership until death or divorce, which are times of great emotional upheaval and not the best time to come to rational and fair decisions. UMPA provides an alternative to the present system, and would have a major impact on proceedings in the event of divorce or death.

This is a very complex issue and needs to be weighed very carefully before any action is taken on it.

15th Annual Indian Summer Campout

The last weekend of September the National Campers and Hikers held their 15th annual Indian Summer Campout on the fair grounds in Lowell. This is the 3rd year it has been held in Lowell and the response to that area has been good. The campers enjoy the facilities provided by the fair grounds and the warm response received from the area merchants.

This years campout started with a cold, gloomy, wet Friday but that did not discourage 96 camping families from attending the event. The weather got better as the weekend progressed an allowed for many fun events to take place.

A tally was kept this year and it was learned that the National Campers and Hikers that attended that campout spent over $2,000.00 in the local area in just one weekend.

The hosts for the campout want to thank the City Manager, the men from the public works department and all the area merchants who co-operated with them in making this a successful week-end for everyone.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (II Corinthians 4:17).

We can turn minus signs into pluses by crossing the minus signs off. We can also turn our disadvantages into advantages by the help of the Lord.

"Dr. Watts, from his early infancy to his dying day, scarcely ever knew what health was; but however surprising it may appear, he looked on the affliction as the greatest blessing of his life. The reason he assigned for it was, that being naturally of a warm temper and an ambitious disposition, these visitations of Divine Providence weaned his affections from the world and brought every passion into subjection to Christ."

Our infirmities need not stop us; they can serve to challenge us. Accepting infirmities isn't the easiest thing to do, but it is rewarding. Instead of wallowing in the slough of despond, we can triumph with God's help. Poor health may be God's way of keeping some of us under His control. The only way He can succeed in helping us find the better life is often through enforced restrictions of one sort or another.

Our minus signs can become pluses - if we "cross the minus signs off."

Prayer: Dear Lord, teach me to make the most of my affliction. Enable me to turn this disappointment into Thy appointment. Grant that I turn my minus signs into pluses for Thy sake. Amen.

Best, though my health and strength be gone,
Though weary days be mine,
Shut out from much that others have;
Not my will, Lord, but Thine!

Since the Toxic Substances control Act was passed seven years ago, the Environmental Protection Agency has regulated only four existing chemicals, reports the National Wildlife Federation. Presently, 60,000 chemicals are in commercial use and 1,000 new chemicals are proposed for manufacture every year. This finding was part of a recent U.S. General Accounting office report that concludes the federal government is doing a poor job of enforcing laws designed to protect the public from toxic chemicals.

Booster Club Minutes

The Booster Club Officers for the 1984-85 school year:

President—Denise Dommer
Vice-president—John Stencil
Secretary—Barb Briggs
Treasurer—Sandy Nagye

The current membership roll has grown steadily to 101 members so far this year, and all interested individuals are encouraged to join the Boosters Club. The Boosters welcome active participation of all former members who miss the Booster Club association as well as any prospective new members. The Boosters are not restricted to parents and friends of only high school athletes—last year the Booster Club changed its concept and name from a high school varsity booster club to an all area school booster club to specifically include support for the Middle School athletes. Parents and friends of athletes at all age groups including elementary, middle, and high school levels are warmly welcomed to participate as Boosters. If you join the Boosters Club early in your student's school life, you can help improve our athletic and scholastic programs over the years, so your athlete's Varsity program days are the Best They Can Be!

This year the Boosters have met with the Athletic Departments of the Middle and High schools to determine what the needs are for our athletes and what funds the Boosters could supply to help purchase items which the school athletic budget cannot cover. The Boosters hope to contribute something to benefit each sport as needs were identified by the coaches and staff. Some requests for the early fall programs were too late to act on this year, so those requests will be acted on this year's Boosters are:

—Middle School Programs in general will receive a $6000 allotment to supplement its limited budget and allow a more complete inter-scholastic competitive program. The Boosters feel this is an important investment in promoting a solid foundation for the Varsity programs in future years.

—Boosters Club provided refreshments at the Fall Sports team introductions to welcome the athletes and their families.

—Other sport groups receiving funds for specific items are: girls football and basketball cheerleaders, girl's softball, track and field, girl' and boy's basketball, hockey, wrestling, boy's baseball.

Naturally, to fund these projects, the Boosters work (and sometimes play) hard at fund raising activities such as: Summer of 1984—Gus Macker food concessions. The Boosters thank the Macker organization for a good fund raiser in a first ever opportunity and hope to continue working with the Macker Tournament in future fund raisers. Thanks to all the many Boosters members who worked at this and all of the projects.

—State Savings Bank helped the Booster Club with donations for working at the food tent during their week-long anniversary celebration. Thank you State Savings Bank!

—A small group of Boosters worked the "ice cream bar" wagon throughout the summer in our neighborhoods.

Fall of 1984—Membership drive chairperson Virginia Stencil has signed up 101 Boosters so far at a bargain rate of $2.00 per person. Maybe the Boosters will have a small bonus for every tenth new member signed up beyond 100??

—Football and girl's basketball concessions headed by John Stencil. John is always in need of workers at this project!

—Football game raffles. The first 50-50 cash raffle winner donated her winnings back to the Booster Club, so the Booster doubled their earnings. Big thanks are extended to this classy lady who we won't embarrass by using her name!

—Sports Program committee headed by Dr. & Mrs. Vredenburg & Joe Vezino is again a great success. Thanks to all the sponsors and advertiser for their continued support. If an advertiser has not yet received their copy, please let the Boosters know, so a copy can be supplied.

—Fallsburg Festival—thanks to the Booster who answered a last minute call to direct parking traffic.

—Middle School Walk-a-thon is coming up on Friday, October 26, 1984. Walkers will start at the Middle School at 5:00 P.M. and end at the football game at Burch Field, and will be granted free admission to the game. Please support your Middle School Walk-a-thon with generous pledges. Good luck Middle School Walk-a-thon!

More fund raisers are being planned for this year, and will be announced later. Any good ideas are welcome!

The order for Booster Jackets has been placed through Pfalters Clothing, but a few extras have been ordered if you haven't place your order yet.

The Boosters need more members to participate in the monthly meetings held on the first Monday of each month at 7:00 P.M. in the High School K-quad. Of course, if you prefer to be a worker rather than an organizer, Boosters are always called upon in great numbers to work on the fund raising projects, so there is always room for more good people!

And talk about good times, the Boosters are planning a Winter Dance this year in addition to the Spring Dance, so look for the notices and come have a good time. You don't have to be a Booster member to come, but by the time you leave, we know you will be eager to join us.

Soccer Club Post 2 Wins, 2 Losses

Lowell Soccer Club faced four opponents last week and came away from the intense four days with two wins and two losses for a 7-3-1 season standing.

On Monday, Oct. 8, LSC hosted Fremont's High School Soccer team and emerged with a 6-2 victory. Lowell was very strong during the first half but outstanding defense by Fremont's goalie limited Lowell to three goals. Two goals were scored by Enrique Delviesca unassisted and the other was by Jason Roberts unassisted.

Lowell took command of the second half immediately with Tim Thompson scoring at the 1:37 mark on the assist from Roberts. LSC's 5th goal was booted by Ian Haight assisted by Thompson at the 7 min. point. Fremont scored when they returned a goal kick one on one, driving the ball past Lowell's goalie. Goal 6 was scored for Lowell by Ken Lippert on the assist from Sam Miller.

Lowell Soccer Club hosted Calvin Christian at the Middle School field on Tuesday, October 9 and marked another win, Lowell 5, Christian 3.

Calvin Christian mounted a strong offense during the first minutes of the game but two blocked shots on goal by Lippert helped to turn the game around.

Lowell scored at 8 minutes on a power kick by Thompson. Christian returned aggressively but were denied goals by LSC goalie Chris Jasinski. Lowell was stymied as well by excellent defense and Christian slipped in a goal at 16 min. into the half. Calvin Christian dominated the rest of the half scoring at 29 min. and again at 32 min. Strong defense by Lowell's fullbacks Joe Driedger, Lino Svarez, Todd Lyon and Mark Eldridge denied any further scoring by Christian.

Lowell took charge quickly in the second half scoring at 7 min. on a penalty kick by Delviesca. LSC scored again ten minutes later on a header by Lippert into the goal on the assist from Mike Korte. Lowell repulsed several well-executed drives by Christian before scoring again on a strong drive by Matt Quada with the assist from Thompson. Goal 5 from Lowell came on a penalty kick by David Douma who placed it perfectly to clear Christian's goalie.

Lowell traveled to Rockford on Wed., Oct. 10 for a difficult meet. Being outsize significantly, Lowell took a defensive posture most of the first half with only an occasional break into Rockford's end of the field. Rockford scored twice in the first half, once at 29 min. and again at 39 min.

Early in the second half, Lowell's defense denied a goal by Rockford on a direct free kick. LSC's only score of the game came when Sam Miller shuttled a corner kick to Todd Lyon who returned it to Miller who then centered the ball to Delviesca.

Delviesca jammed the ball into goal with a power kick. The game ended Rockford 2, Lowell 1.

On Thursday, Oct. 11, Lowell traveled to Mona Shores near Muskegon to meet Mona's High School Soccer team. Mona dominated the offense during the entire game scoring three times in the first half and twice in the second.

Tenacious defense by Lowell's goalies Chris Jasinski and Brian Hayward coupled with Lowell fullbacks Eldridge, Svarez, Lyon and Driedger kept the game respectable. Mark Eldridge saved one goal after the ball had passed Lowell's goalie with an interception just one foot from the goal. Hayward replaced Jasinski in goal after a slight injury on a collision with Mona forwards. Final score was Mona Shores 5, Lowell 0.

Tuesday, Oct. 23, Lowell hosted Rockford in a 5 P.M. game. Details in next week's Ledger. In their last meet of the season, Lowell will host Grand Rapids Baptist Academy in a 4 P.M. game on Thursday, Oct. 25 at the Middle School field. Public is invited, admission is free.

Lowell 3rd in League Standings

Brian Gessler scored two touchdowns and Lowell's defense broke up a close game in the second half to give the Red Arrows a big win at Rogers.

Gessler broke loose on a 74-yard touchdown run on the first play from scrimmage in the second half to erase a 14-13 Rogers edge. Robb King ran in the two-point conversion for a 21-14 lead the Red Arrows would not surrender.

On Roger's ensuing possession, Lowell's Mike Dumas in-

Lowell girls basketball scores

Lowell girls basketball team beat Sparta last week but lost to Rogers.

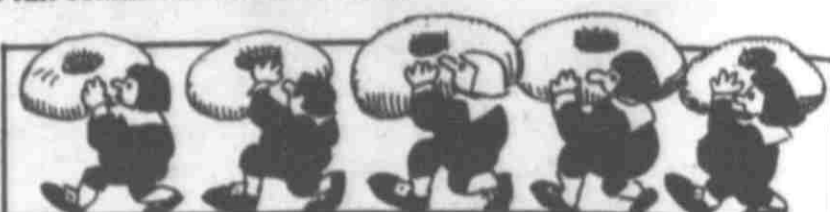

Sparta got off to a quick start and outscored Lowell in the first quarter 13-4. Lowell closed the gap during the second quarter but still trailed 16-19. With 2:30 remaining in the third stanza, Phyllis Beachler scored a set shot to tie the game. Nancy Stencel added six points in this quarter and Lowell led after three periods 32-29.

With 1:30 in the game, Lowell had a three point lead. They took the ball out of bounds and turned the ball over to Sparta. Sparta's Jenny Wever dribbled the length of the court and scored. She was fouled and completed a three point play.

Each team traded baskets in the final minutes. Finally, Lowell adjusted its press and Sparta inbounded the ball to Phyllis Beachler who scored. Cindy Dumas came up with another steal as Lowell won 47-42.

Beachler lead all scorers with 20, Nancy Stencel had 9, Maria Ritzema 6, Cathy Kazemier 2, Val Phillips 4 and Cindy Dumas 6. Vall Phillips had 12 rebounds for Lowell.

On Thursday, Lowell lost to Wyoming Rogers 37-54. The game was much closer than the score indicates. Lowell trailed 30-34 with 30 seconds in the third quarter. They lost their concentration in the remaining half and a minute to fall behind 32-41 in that time.

The doughnut was brought to America by Dutch settlers.

Views On Dental Health

PERIODONTAL DISEASE - EARLY DIAGNOSIS

You have just completed your regular dental check-up. You breathe a deep sigh of relief. "No cavities, but your gums are in poor shape." You are mistakenly relieved. The sad fact is that more teeth are lost because of periodontal disease (gum disease) than from any other factor, including cavities.

Fortunately, it can be treated successfully if it is diagnosed early. Unfortunately, you have no way of knowing of its onset other than by dental examination because there is normally no pain or other symptoms in its early stages.

Once this silent disorder advances, though, the gums and even the jawbone may become inflamed and eventually break down. But this extreme can be avoided if the dentist regularly examines your mouth both visually and with x-rays. He can determine whether there have been any changes in the mouth tissues or the bone around your teeth. He will also look for early tooth decay, impaction, tumors in the jaw area and abscesses in tooth roots. To insure healthy gums and teeth, you must combine regular dental examinations with effective brushing and flossing.

cepted a Golden Hawk pass that effectively shut the door. Gessler eventually scored from the 1 to give Lowell a commanding 28-14 advantage.

"The opening run by Gessler in the second half and the pass interception on our next drive really hurt," said Rogers Coach Tom Ripmaster.

Lowell sealed the win in the final period when J.J. Wierenga blocked a Rogers punt, forcing the Golden Hawks to fall on the ball in the endzone for a safety.

Rogers took its only lead of the night in dramatic fashion. Trailing 13-6, the Hawks scored on the last play of the first half when Tony Hudson found Steve Miller on a 48-yard touchdown bomb. John Lombardo ran in the two-point conversion for a 14-13 advantage.

Lowell had opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 19-yard TD pass from King to John Lipkea. Rogers pulled to within 7-6 on a 6-yard run by Brian McLeod in the second period, but Lowell answered with a 13-yard scoring run by Dumas.

Gessler finished with 141 yards rushing on 17 carries as Lowell rolled up 251 yards on the ground. Dumas added 45 yards on 8 tries, and King hit 4 of 8 passes for 46 yards.

Rogers totalled 234 yards rushing, led by Lombardo with 150 on 29 carries. Hudson connected on 2 of 8 passes for 43 yards.

Lowell improved to 4-2 in the league and 5-2 overall. Rogers dropped to 2-4 and 3-4.

In our column last week, we discussed the causes and symptoms of degenerative joint disease. As you recall, degenerative joint disease is very common and is responsible for more disability and joint damage than any other form of arthritis. Most frequently it affects the finger joints, hips, knees and back. Treatment will help alleviate the symptoms of arthritis, but there is no known cure. Today we will review the various modalities used to treat osteoarthritis.

GENERAL MEASURES
-If weight bearing joints are affected, overweight patients should adhere to a well balanced reducing diet as obesity will aggravate symptoms.
-Over use of affected joints must be prevented. Avoid activities that are particularly stressful to affected joints. Prolonged rest periods however, or days of inactivity will only increase joint stiffness in the long run. A balanced routine of moderate exercise and rest is the goal.

-Heat applied locally with a moist heating pad helps relax muscles and is especially useful prior to exercise. Set the heating pad at a low setting and apply for 20 to 30 minutes.
-Temporary relief of pain can be achieved with an ice pack made by placing ice cubes in a plastic bag and then wrapping with a towel.
-Improve posture by standing with your shoulders, hips and knees straight and your head held high. This can prevent stiffness, and will keep joints flexible. Sit when possible. A firm, straight back chair with arm rests is ideal. Again, pay attention to posture. Sleep on a firm mattress. A board, made from plywood, cut to the same size as the mattress will help keep the bed from sagging.

EXERCISE
-Exercise will usually be recommended by your physician. It is usually best to exercise for short periods of time, throughout the day rather than one long period. Range of motion exercises can be obtained from your doctor depending on the joints involved.

PHYSICAL THERAPY
-Local heat and a good exercise program are the mainstays of physical therapy, as discussed above. Sometimes ultrasound, whirlpool treatments, and electronic stimulation are also utilized. These are usually performed in a physical therapy department at a hospital or physicians office but they can be adapted for home use. A doctor's prescription is generally required, and treatments can range in frequency from twice daily to semi-weekly. Manipulation is sometimes useful depending on the joint involved.

MEDICATION
-Aspirin is the drug of first choice. 650 to 1000 mg four times daily is the usual dose. Some patients are very sensitive to aspirin so notify your doctor if stomach irritation, dark stools or ringing in the ears occurs.
-A group of medicines called non steroidal anti-inflammatory agents are also used. These seem to cause less gastric irritation although this is still possible. These medicines used to be available by prescription only but recently the FDA has released a few to be sold over the counter (without prescription). Do not take aspirin and non steroidal anti-inflammatory agents at the same time.

-Steroids are sometimes injected into painful joints but should be used sparingly because frequent use can lead to further joint damage.

SURGERY
-Joint replacement surgery is common in the hip and knee and is being performed frequently in the joints of the hands. Surgery is generally utilized as a last resort after conservative methods have failed. Recommendations for surgery are made on an individual basis by an orthopedic surgeon.

The various modalities above are used concurrently depending on the severity of the disease. Although there is no cure, treatment will minimize limitations of your daily activity.

How to budget for vocational education

Americans spend approximately $3.5 billion a year learning trade skills as diverse as refrigeration repair, practical nursing and bartending. Because tuition costs can be high, before registering at one of these schools you should examine the costs involved and plan on how you will meet them, says the Michigan Association of CPAs.

The average cost of a public post-high school vocational program is $815, according to the U.S. Department of Education, while the average cost of a private vocational education is $3,069. "A big difference is that private schools tend to specialize in teaching skills in which jobs are easier to find," says Dr. N.L. McCaslin of the National Center for Research in Vocational Education. "Their programs are more focused."

College Seniors Plan now to Repay Student Loans

Plan now to Repay Student Loans

If you've borrowed money for college expenses, and you're entering your senior year, you should start thinking about how much to budget after graduation to repay those loans, says the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Employment of 1983 college graduates is up 24 percent over last year, according to the College Placement Council, but financial aid administrators believe many heavily-indebted students face problems with loan payments.

The average debt of a college graduate is $5,000, a burden that calls for monthly payments of $64 over a 10-year period under the Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL) program, which accounts for 85 percent of all education loans. Since graduating seniors in 1985 are reported to have an after-tax average income of $13,300, they would have to budget about seven percent of that income toward student loan payments.

"There is a growing concern that students could be borrowing more for their education than they can repay," says Dwight Horch, director of college and university programs for the Educational Testing Service. He says some students borrow without knowing what their monthly payments will be. According to Horch, students in lower-salaried fields, such as education or not-for-profit institutions, might have difficulty making loan payments if they rise above five percent of their after tax income.

"It's not just a question of money management," says Kathleen Brouder of the College Board, a non-profit agency that provides testing and financial aids services to colleges. "A public policy issue is involved." By the time graduates have paid off loans for college, they will be facing bills for their own children's college education. But there are ways to cope with burdensome educational debt.

You can deduct interest paid on student loans on your federal income tax, if you itemize deductions. Remember, in the first year of repaying a loan, much of the payment covers finance charges. If you are single and your itemized deductions total more than $2,300, use the long form and take this deduction. Borrowers should also be familiar with provisions built into their GSLs that make repaying less painful.

Ordinarily, payments start on GSLs six months after graduation. But you may qualify for a forbearance, a temporary or "not so temporary" reduction or even cessation of payments, provided you are unemployed or medically unfit for work, according to David Bayer, head of the Department of Education GSL program. An alternative is to ask for a deferment of your loan. A deferment is better than forbearance because interest is paid by the federal government during a deferment. But, you must pay interest that accumulates during a forbearance.

Legislation now before Congress may come to the rescue of heavily-indebted recent graduates by allowing graduates with different types of federal loans to consolidate their payments. This would reduce multiple payments to a single minimum monthly payment. In addition, the loan consolidation program would double repayment periods to 20 years. For information about the status of this legislation and if you qualify for reduced payments, call the Student Loan Marketing Association, toll-free, at 800-446-4000.

Tax breaks for adult students

A snake charmer who pays $400 for a course that teaches her how to play the flute better can deduct the cost of the course from her federal income tax. A construction worker who takes a $2,500 loan to pay for a course in heavy equipment operation can deduct the interest he pays on the loan as well as the cost of the course.

Millions of people each year are eligible for tax breaks because they are in school. If you're passing up on these deductions, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, you are throwing away money.

Tax laws make allowances for your self-improvement. For instance, a personnel representative who earns a master's degree in business administration may be able to deduct the cost of a two-year degree program. If the course work does not qualify you for another job, you may be able to

to save on your taxes. Similarly, a businessperson who hires a management consultant to tutor him or her in management practices can deduct those costs.

But the law is firm on which education costs are not deductible. A corporate officer who goes to law school to learn how to protect his business interests will not be allowed the deduction. That is because a legal education would probably equip a corporate officer for a different vocation. In many instances, only a fine line separates the deductible courses from those that are not.

Expenses for education are deductible on federal income tax returns if the study improves skills needed for your current job and does not qualify you for a job in a new field. The course work, however, can help you get a promotion in your current job or shift your present responsibilities.

In addition to the cost of courses, you may also deduct the costs of books, supplies and traveling to and from the course. To take these deductions, use Schedule A on Form 1040. Expenses for tuition, books and supplies must be itemized. You must file Form 2106, which requires some explanation about these deductions previously mentioned.

Traveling from job to school may be deductible. If you drive from work to school and then from school to your home, you can calculate the size of your travel deduction by using the actual expense method or the less rigorous standard mileage allowance.

If you travel and stay overnight to take a seminar, you may be entitled to a tax deduction. For instance, an art professor who travels out of state for a seminar may be able to deduct the costs associated with the trip. If part of the trip is for personal pleasure, expenses for that portion may not be deducted. The key to satisfying the IRS is to provide evidence of the educational nature of the travel, such as a course curriculum. You can take this deduction as an adjustment to income on Form 1040 even if you do not itemize deductions.

Adult students should keep in mind the tax savings they can get for student loans. If you borrow money to attend classes, the interest on the loan can be subtracted from your income if you itemize deductions. Lenders send statements at the end of each year telling you how much interest has been paid on your loan. Use Schedule A on Form 1040 to take this deduction.

Though the tax breaks for adult students provide a valuable source for making education costs more affordable, there are countless additional sources of federal and other financial aid. For more information about aid programs for adults, contact the College Board in New York City and check your local library for Paying for Your Education: A Guide for Adult Learners.

China's wild pandas, which weigh as much as 300 pounds, can eat 30 or more pounds of tasty bamboo shoots in a single day, says National Wildlife magazine. But whether there's enough bamboo to go around is a serious question as large forests of bamboo are dying in unison after completing their once-in-a-lifetime act of reproduction. With nowhere else to go, hundreds of China's remaining 1,000 wild pandas are threatened with starvation.

Make it safe for youngsters on Halloween

There is an evening in October when bright lights won't frighten ghosts and goblins. The night is Halloween, and lighting will instead serve as a guidepost for eager youngsters going door to door in search of "tricks or treats."

Consumers Power Company's Alma District Manager, Charles W. Miller, suggests that a well-lit home will help youngsters avoid obstacles like uneven sidewalks and driveways, low-hanging tree limbs, dark steps and passing vehicles.

Miller says there is an additional advantage if residents turn their lights on earlier than usual. "Dusk is perhaps the most difficult time for drivers to see pedestrians. So it's helpful if the lights are on during that 'transition' from daylight to dark."

"The extra illumination is worth the extra few cents that it might cost and it increases the safety factor for children and adults who want to make Halloween an evening of fun and excitement", Miller says.

Okay boys and girls, it's time for a little quiz. Question: What is the above piece of artwork a symbol of? That's a good question isn't it? If you had asked me, I'd have said it was something off from a tarot card or an ouija board, or maybe a favorite tattoo design for 19th century sailors. Some of you real sharpies might know what it is, especially you homemakers who use some of their products. If the rest of you give up, then I'll tell you what it is... it's the trademark of Proctor & Gamble.

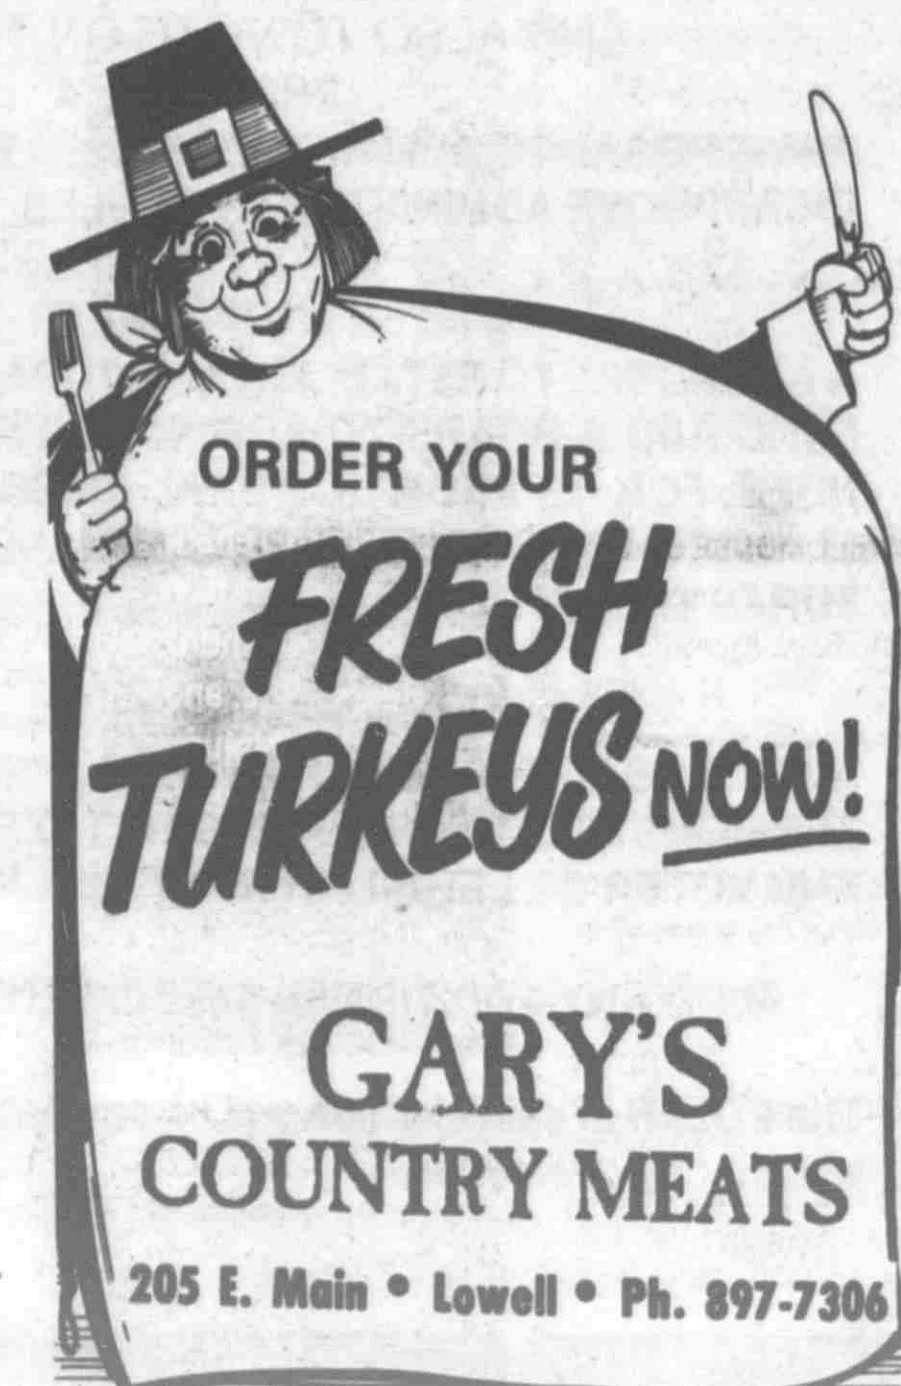

I got a letter from the folks at Proctor & Gamble the other day, and boy are they upset. It seems that about three years ago an ugly rumor got started that said Proctor & Gamble's trademark was a symbol of satanism or devil worship. Typically, the story goes that a Proctor & Gamble executive discussed satanism on a nationally televised talk show. Another story maintains that the trademark is the result of Proctor & Gamble being taken over by "moonies", followers of Reverend Sun Myung Moon and his Unification Church. Proctor & Gamble says that both rumors are totally false, and labels them "vicious" and "ludicrous".

To further make their point the folks at Proctor & Gamble sent me copies of letters from none other than Reverend Jerry Falwell, Evangelist Billy Graham, Reverend Jimmy Draper and Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin. They got just about everybody but the Good Lord himself to vouch for them as not having anything to do with devil worship and satanism. P & G also included letters from the producers of both the Merv Griffin Show and Donahue, saying that no P & G executive had ever appeared on their programs and that satanism had never been discussed in connection with Proctor & Gamble.

Proctor & Gamble really did their homework in putting this rumor to rest as far as I'm concerned. I'd never heard the rumor in the first place, but I guess that's beside the point.

All this brings up the question, "Why did this rumor ever get started?" Well I've got to blame it on the trademark. Like I said before, it looks like something right off a tarot card. According to the P & G people their logo got its start way back in 1851 when they were the makers of Star candles. The dockworkers used a crude "x" to mark their boxes. In time the "x" evolved into a crude star with a circle around it. Eventually the company trademark became a roughly drawn crescent moon with thirteen stars in it to represent the thirteen original colonies. In 1882 the logo had been further refined to show a face on the crescent moon, and it was registered with the U.S. Patent Office. Finally, in 1930, a sculptor was commissioned to design what is now P & G's authorized version of their trademark.

This is a fine explanation of how they got their trademark, but if they are having trouble with people interpreting it as an astrologer's symbol, or worse, then maybe it's time they hired a new designer. But, a word of caution here, don't hire the company that designed AT & T's new logo. Though he wasn't as high up as Jerry Fallwell or Archbishop Bernardin, it was still a minister that told me AT & T's logo looks just like Darth Vader's "Death Star" from the movie "Star Wars". Hey, don't laugh, we live in a state that has for its symbol a deer and an elk on their hind legs pawing at an eagle. Does that make us all animal worshippers?

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
CITY COUNCIL
CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

Regular Meeting of Monday, September 17, 1984.

The Meeting was called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Mayor Maatman. The Pledge of Allegiance was given and the roll called.

Present: Councilmembers, Collins, Fonger, Schneider, Thompson and Maatman.
Absent: None.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins that the Minutes of the September 4 meeting be approved as written, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Thompson that the Bills and Accounts Payable be allowed and warrants issued, supported by Councilman Collins.

Yes: Councilmen Collins, Fonger, Schneider, Thompson and Maatman.
No: None.
Absent: None.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS PAYABLE TOTALS

General Fund	$33,101.45
Major Street Fund	163.04
Local Street Fund	173.84
Sewer Fund	1,817.85
Water Fund	1,481.80

Lee Fund	2,652.45

Manager Quada reported on the bids received for City-wide refuse collectio, stating that a total of twelve invitations to bid had been sent out, with a return of only two actual bids. Those bids are based on 1,036 residential stops; 21 multiple residential; and 130 commercial stops:

Liberal Pickup	$7,849.00 (October 15-84)
D & H Rubbish	$6,129.62 to October 14-85)

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Fonger that the bid of $6,129.62 submitted by D & H Rubbish for a period of one (1) year, from October 15, 1984 to October 14, 1985 be accepted, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

Manager Quada reported that he had attended a meeting in Lansing earlier in the day regarding the use of Federal Revenue-Sharing Funds to improve accessibility to public areas for the handicapped. He stated that Lowell will be doing a survey on the number of handicapped people in the City, and accessibility of public areas.

Council then discussed the setting of a date for a public hearing on the request of Lowell State Savings Bank to establish a District under P.A. 255 for tax exemption on construction in the Central Business District. It is a similar program to the P.A. 198 for industry.

Manager Quada stated that at one time Council had discussed the possibility of making the entire C.B.D. a District, thereby enabling small businesses to make application for the Exemption Certificate easier, rather than having to establish one district at a time for each request. State Savings is ready to expand and it is a good time.

Councilman Collins suggested that the District include all Commercially zoned property, rather than just the C.B.D. Otherwise, any small business owner outside the district would still have to apply separately, and there are a number of small businesses on either end of the City along Main Street.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins that the Council Meeting of October 15 be set as a Public Hearing on the establishment of a Community Development District under the rules and regulations of P.A. 255, supported by Councilman Thompson.

Carried

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Collins that the request of Lowell State Savings Bank for establishment of a Community Development District under P.A. 255 also be set for the October 15 meeting, supported by Councilman Fonger.

Carried.

There were no remarks from the audience.

Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada stated that he and Councilman Fonger had attended the annual Michigan Municipal League Meeting, and reported on the D.N.R.'s notification on adopting a compliance plan of all anti pollution control by January 1, 1988. He explained that the federal government keeps dropping the percentage of funding, from 75% down to 55% now, and there is no way the City can afford to build additions to the sewage treatment system without a large federal grant.

He also stated that the City's ordinance record system needs to be updated, and suggested that they be recodified. Council concurred to start the process.

Under Council Remarks, Councilman Fonger asked about the City's pickup policy on wind damaged trees, stating that some people have done regular trimming of trees and shrubs and expect the City to pick them up at the curb. Manager Quada replied that any time there is storm damage, property owners are given a reasonable length of time to clean up branches and debris, and the City picks it up, however, trimmings and regular maintenance are the property owners responsibility for removal.

Councilman Schneider asked if the City still had the tree planting program for the area between the curb and sidewalk in front of homes. Manager Quada replied that the program had been discontinued, when the price went from $25.00 per tree to about $45.00. He also stated that bids for trees at Richards Park will be taken soon.

Mayor Maatman invited Councilmembers to attend the Chamber of Commerce organizational meeting at the Showboat Amphitheater the following week. Hopefully it will spark the business owners in the Lowell Area for everyone's benefit. A large turnout is expected.

Mayor Maatman also made the appointment of Mr. Gould Rivette to the City's Planning Commission-Citizens Advisory Committee.

Council concurred on the appointment.

IT WAS MOVED to adjourn at 9:01 P.M. by Councilman Schneider.

Approved: October 15, 1984

Hot Stuff (or Cold)

Driving in the heat, you won't need a water-cooled helmet, like Keke Rosberg's in his victory in 1984's Dallas Grand Prix. Though temperatures were said to be 145 on the track, the Formula One drivers had to stuff themselves into skin-hugging fire-resistant suits, then into tight open cockpits.

To protect his engine, Rosberg used a "man-made" oil that retains lubricating flow in extreme temperatures. His special racing synthetic, like its related Mobil 1 available to motorists, is assembled from selected "building blocks." Conventional motor oil, on the other hand, is refined from crude oil into a mixture of thousands of hydrocarbons working together more or less. So tests show a good synthetic (1) resists breakdown up to 580° F, when conventional oils have long started to deteriorate; (2) can help you start down to 35° below—while using less battery power than a conventional oil does.

Make sure your wood stove is properly installed

Woodburning stoves and chimneys are the top causes of home fires related to heating sources and accounted for nearly $12 million in damages in Michigan last year, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Throughout Michigan last year, 5,400 fires at one- or two-family dwellings were caused by wood stoves or chimney fires. The number of such fires has nearly doubled in five years and they have caused 67 deaths and more than 2,500 injuries in the past seven years.

A survey of Auto Club homeowners insurance claims in 1983 shows the average loss related to all home fires was $2,500 and was an estimated $3,200 for those caused by wood burning stoves. Losses from wood heating fires alone represented 11 percent of all fire losses covered by Michigan insurers last year.

"Michiganians are using woodburning stoves and fireplaces for a romantic atmosphere as well as to heat their homes, but they need to take precautions to avoid fire damage," stated Bob Cullen, manager of the Auto Club's home safety and security program.

"Proper installation, operation and maintenance of heating sources is a key to fire prevention," Cullen said.

"Homeowners can do something about fire prevention," he added. "For example, woodburning stoves, fireplaces and chimneys all should be installed and inspected regularly by a technician certified through such organizations as the National Chimney Sweep Guild and Wood Heating Alliance".

"When having a woodburner installed, homeowners should make certain double-walled flues are used to provide adequate heat transfer and to avoid possible ignition of other combustible materials in the heating system," Cullen said. "Improperly installed woodburners will dry out wall studs to the flash point within a year and could cause a fire."

"In addition, only buy a woodburning stove that has been safety tested by an authority, such as the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., or a building code group," said Cullen.

The Auto Club recommends

this safety list for homeowners:

--Check with local fire and building officials to ensure your heating sources meet installation and inspection codes.

--Contact your insurance company for proper homeowners coverage requirements.

--Keep combustibles, such as drapes, clothing and Christmas trees, away from a stove or fire-place.

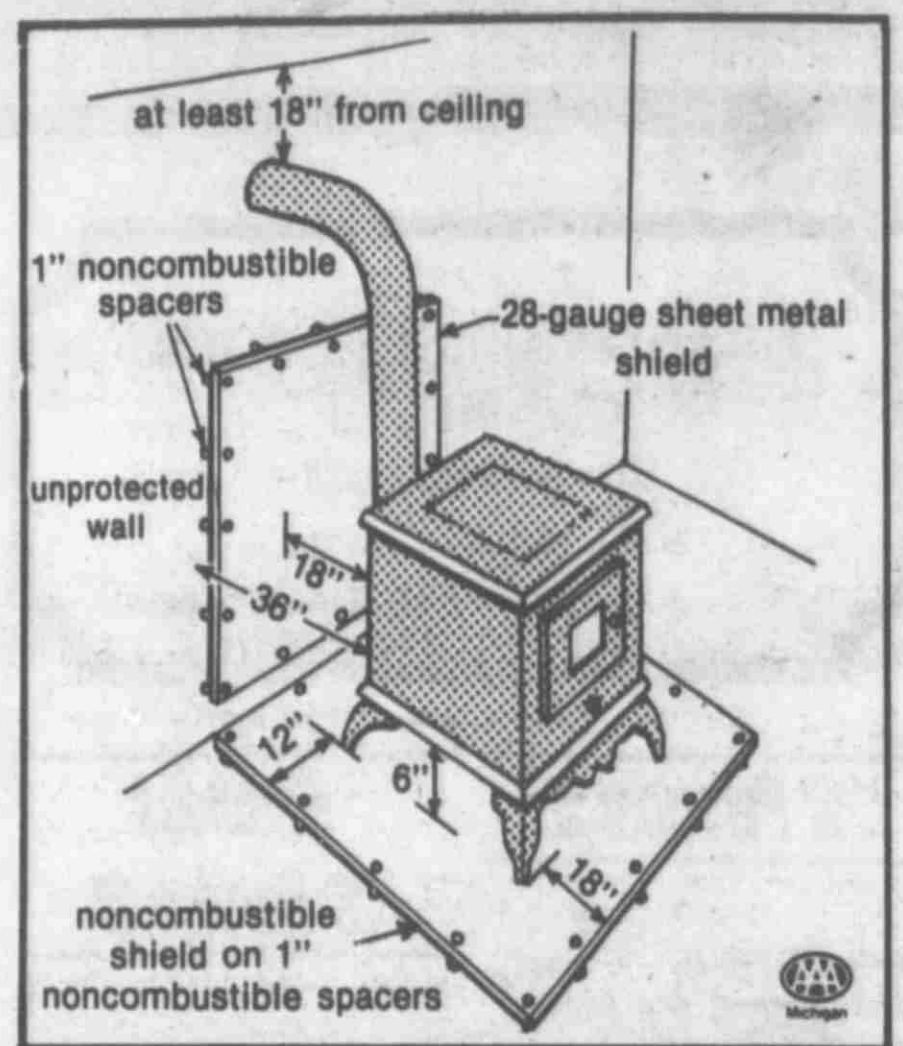

--Protect floor and walls around heating source with non-combustible covering or hearth.

--Following removal, put ashes in a covered metal container in a safe place outside the home.

--Have chimneys regularly swept for creosote buildup and inspected for cracks by a professional.

"It's essential to keep chimneys of all heating sources clean and properly maintained," Cullen advised. "Smoke condenses in the chimney, creating a flammable tar, creosote, which is the primary cause of chimney fires."

From the installation to operation, every step in caring for a heating source is important for fire safety, he said.

Making sure a wood stove is installed with the proper clearance as shown in this sketch is one way to prevent home fires, advises the Automobile Club of Michigan. A survey of Auto Club homeowners insurance claims in 1983 shows the average loss related to wood stoves was $3,200 compared to $2,500 per loss for all causes of home fires. Statewide wood stove fire losses totaled $12 million last year. Another important safety measure is to buy a stove which has been safety tested by the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., a building code group or other authority. It should be installed and regularly inspected by a technician certified by an organization such as the National Chimney Sweep Guild and Wood Heating Alliance. Community fire codes should be followed.

D.N.R. Report

Fishing information

Salmon runs are past the peak of the season this week.

The Muskegon River at Croton is fairly abundant with chinook salmon. The fish are dark and past their prime. Steelheads are showing up in small numbers.

The Grand River is receiving small numbers of chinooks, dark and past their prime. Coho salmon are abundant and many of them bright and fresh from Lake Michigan.

Salmon are abundant at Grand Rapids, Lowell (Flat River), Ionia (Grand River and Prairie Creek), Lyons and Portland. They are in fair abundance at Grand Ledge and Lansing. During mid-day periods 60 salmon per hour have been moving over the Grand Rapids ladder and the Webber Dam ladder.

Steelheads are beginning to run the Grand but numbers are quite small.

Wildlife Information

Native pheasant populations in the District are somewhat improved over last year in Newaygo, Montcalm, and north Ionia Counties but down in Ottawa County and southern portions of the District. Because of low pheasant numbers, we anticipate low hunter turnout on the October 20, opener.

To improve hunting opportunities, 8,500 rooster pheasants are being released on forty state game and recreation areas in Zone 3 for the regular pheasant season October 20 - November 11. Birds will be released twice prior to the October 20, opener and again prior to the weekend of October 27.

State areas in the Grand Rapids District include: Ottawa County mini-areas, Flat River, Lowell, Ionia, Maple River, Sleppy Hollow, and Gratiot-Saginaw. Each area will receive 60 to 90 birds each release.

The opening of the managed waterfowl hunt at the Muskegon county Wastewater System has been delayed due to the recent rains and late harvest of corn. Fields cannot be hunted until the corn is picked. We hope to open on Thursday, October 25. There will be six hunts per week including morning and afternoon hunts on Saturday and Sunday, and morning hunts on Tuesday and Thursdays.

'OUTDOORS' with Jack Friesner

Far too many, well meaning, misinformed people today are jeopardizing our wildlife species by overprotection. Hunting and trapping are not considered as necessary management tools by these groups and individuals. This results in ever increasing pressure upon legislations to impose strict laws and restrict present, proven, management practices.

The ever increasing encroachment of civilization and the restrictions of environment and habitat imposed by mankind requires us to better manage our resources, more commensurate with this restricted habitat. Any given area of habitat will only support a given number of any species. If the excess are not harvested annually, the overpopulation places that entire species in jeopardy and adversely effects the entire chain which depends upon this species for predation or prey. Excess numbers will be destroyed. Either quickly and humanely, by the guns of the hunter and the traps of the trapper, and utilized, or wasted by the cruel and inhumane act of grim reaper, mother nature.

Mankind's, controlled harvest, by the hunter, trapper and fisherman is the most humane system known today. The trapper, with his highly controversial, leg hold trap, shows much more mercy and is acting much more humanely, than is the unknowing anti-trapper who opposes him.

I have spent over forty years hunting, trapping, fishing, observing and studying wildlife. I oppose anyone, or any group, who accuse me and fellow outdoors people of being cruel and inhumane. It angers me and humiliates us all to be depicted, by ignorance, as spoilers and wasters of the very thing which we are protecting and utilizing. We spend billions of dollars annually to protect and provide for the fish and wildlife species and help insure their propagation and welfare, for prosperity.

Those who, so vehemently oppose our methods spend virtually nothing to manage or provide for the species. Their well funded management is all directed at defeating our present, sound, management principles, there has never been one species lost out to the controlled harvest by the continuous hunter, trapper and fishermen. I greatly fear that the overprotection, as advocated by our well meaning adversaries could result in the extinction of several.

I cordially invite any group or individual, to accompany me afield and challenge you to be more knowledgeable of the species, than I.
