CHRISTMAS BAND CONCERTS

The public is invited to a concert performed by the Lowell Middle School Band on Tuesday, December 18 at 7:30 P.M. The concert will be held in the Middle School Cafetorium.

The public is also invited to the Lowell High School and Choir concert on Wednesday, December 19 at 7:00 P.M. The concert will be held in the High School gymnasium. Both events are free.

LOTS OF CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

The Ledger suggests that residents consider a drive or walk around town some evening in the near future. There seems to be an extra effort from businesses and residents this year to decorate for the holidays. No, Monday morning's power outage was not caused by all these extra lights. Herb Haines, manager of the Lowell Light and Power Co. says that the Lowell system was receiving its power from Wolverine Electric when they lost transmission somewhere between here and Burnips at about 5:30 A.M. Light and Power employees then started up their turbines and restored power. There was another short outage when the switch was made back to Wolverine when transmission was restored.

ADVANCE NOTICE

The Ledger has finalized its schedule for its annual holiday shutdown. We will publish our normal Wednesday, December 26 issue two days early on Monday, December 24 so that Christmas greeting ads from area businesses will reach our readers prior to Christmas. Our deadlines for that issue will all be moved up accordingly as we intend to go to press on Saturday, December 22. Copy deadline for all news and advertising will be Thursday, December 20 at 5:00 P.M. As in past years we will skip one issue. This year we will not print a Ledger for Wednesday, January 2. We will resume publishing on Wednesday, January 9. Our offices will be closed from 5:00 Friday, December 21 until 8:00 P.M. Wednesday, January 2. Try as we might, we were unable to arrange for an early print out of our TV listings from our source in Atlanta. Consequently we will not be able to provide our readers with TV listings covering the week of Friday, January 4 thru Thursday, January 10. The Ledger apologizes for any inconveniece that our holiday closing might cause. This year is particularly difficult because both Christmas and New Years Day fall on our normal Tuesday press day. We thank you in advance for your understanding. Season's Greetings to all of

OPEN HOUSE AT NEW VETERINARY CLINIC

Drs. Mark Teachman and Bruce Langlois invite the public to stop by the all new Lowell Veterinary Clinic during their open house on Friday, December 14 from 2:00 until 10:00 P.M. The new facility is located at 11650 E. Fulton, on the west edge of Lowell next to Lowell Lanes Bowling Center.

LOWELL UNITED METHODIST PRESCHOOL

Lowell United Methodist Preschool's second semester will begin soon. There are currently afternoon openings (12 noon to 2:15 P.M.) in the following classes: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, prekindergarten; and Tuesday, Thursday, three-year-olds. Call the First United Methodist Church at 897-5936 to register.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Lowell Officers are investigating the breaking and entering of the Bushnell school on Saturday, December 8. Police are expecting to make arrest of two or three Juveniles later this week

Lowell Officers are also investigating the breaking and entering of an unoccupied house on the East side of the City. The B&E occurred early Monday morning, December 10. Nothing was taken from the home.

Thomas Seif, 20, of Ada, was involved in a property damage accident of a car driven by Harriett Breejen, 54, of Lowell. The accident happened on Main Street near West Street, Saturday afternoon.

Clark Fletcher, 72, made an improper right turn into a residential drive off N. Hudson Street Friday morning, December 7 and collided with a car driven by Ruth Smith, 42, both are Lowell residents. Property damage resulted.

Jaycees give Chamber a hand

The Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce got a little help from the Lowell Jaycees Tuesday morning. Jaycee Treasuer Don Anderson presented Chamber President Jerry Patton with a check in the amount of $350.00 to be used to help pay for the Chamber's debt for the 1984 Fourth of July fireworks display. This check from the Jaycees along with a recent donation from the city of $600.00, clears up the deficit left from the Fourth of July celebration. Patton says that in the future the Chamber will not go into debt for fireworks and only the amount that can be raised in advance will be used to fund the display. "If we raise $2,000 we'll shoot off $2,000 worth of fireworks, if we only raise $500 then we'll only shoot off $500 worth, it's as simple as that," Patton explained. Patton says he is approaching such civic groups as the Lowell Lions Club, Rotary and the Jaycees for help with funding next year's display.

The newly re-organized Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce now boasts 39 members. A dues billing went out recently and the response to the $50.00 per year flate rate dues has been good. Patton and other Chamber directors urge area business and professional people to consider joining the Chamber. Dues are $50.00 for all members and are payable to Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce, 215 W. Main, Lowell, Michigan 49331.

Patton said that several recent improvements around town deserve a pat on the back. He cited the new Cousins Card and Gift Hallmark Shop as beautiful example of what can be done with the old buildings in the central business district. The Christmas decorations on most businesses and especially the efforts made by the city have gone a long way to brighten up the downtown area. The opening of several new businesses in the near future such as Hinkley Drugs and Carole's Critters also bolster Patton's enthusiasm about the central business district. One of Patton's immediate goals is to see to it that there is always a current message on the Chamber of Commerce billboard in the municipal parking lot on Main St. The Chamber recently had a "Seasons Greetings" mat put on the billboard. Patton has the Jaycees and the Post Office scheduled to place messages there over the next two months. Anyone representing a civic group wishing to put a message on the board schould contact Patton at Patton-JRB Insurance.

After the first of the year Patton says the Chamber is going to dive into the issue of downtown parking. Several ideas have been brought up over the past few months, and Patton and the Chamber Board of Directors plan to wade through them looking for possible solutions to the parking problem here. Patton says that his approach will be positive in every respect. "If you go around telling people where to park and expect to get results you're going to fail," Patton said, "but you can give them some ideas, offer your help and get positive results" he added.

Patton also hopes to get an industrial branch of the Chamber organized and meeting regularly. "The manufactuers in Lowell are very important to the community's economy, and we want them to know that the Chamber wants their imput"; Patton said.

"This Chamber of Commerce is active, we're here to help, we need the support of the business and professional people of the community to help us serve the community to our full potential", Patton said.

Two months ago "Cousins Card & Gift" Hallmark Shop was just an "idea" for Joanne and Karen Hale. When Lippert's Pharmacy was sold to Rite-Aid and the Hallmark line dropped, the prospect of a Hallmark Shop intrigued the pair of would-bemerchants. They began by scouring Grand Rapids gift shops for names of suppliers on tags. One contact led to another

ANOREXIA NERVOSA: Part II

In last week's column we began discussing the syndrome of anorexia nervosa, a potentially fatal eating disorder. We noted that three of the cardinal characteristics of this syndrome include:

1) Irrational "fear" of becoming fat. 2) A striking misperception of body image - even though they are wasting away from self imposed fasting, these people still believe themselves to be overweight. 3) A "hyperactive" personality profile. These individuals have enormous amounts of energy and show high initiative, alertness and

Today we'll discuss some of the other typical signs and symptoms of anorexia nervosa. We will also touch on some of the current theories regarding therapy.

As noted last week, anorexics don't actually lose their appetite as the word "anorexia" implies. In fact, they devise ingenious ways to hide and deny their hunger to those around them. Many will also exhibit peculiar or idiosynchratic food preferences. One patient's meals, for example, consisted of a slice of white bread and a quart of pickle juice! Many anorexics will frequently dream of food or spend much of their time preparing meals for others while obstaining from Another classic sign of anorexia nervosa in women is the cessation of the menstrual cycle, which usually occurs surprisingly early in the syndrome, before the physiological starvation becomes severe enough to be an adequate cause. The loss of periods may occur in the first month of dieting and rarely later than the third month of weight loss in the majority of cases.

Other symptoms of anorexia nervosa may include low heart rate, low blood pressure, low body temperature, sensitivity to cold, sleep disturbances and dehydration.

Until the late 1960's, the treatment for anorexia nervosa consisted solely of intensive individual psychotherapy. However, psychotherapy failed to produce any change in the actual behavior of self-starvation. Treatment and outcome have improved dramatically over the last decade by adding to individual psychotherapy: 1(behavior modification, with access to positive feedback on weight gain, and 2) conjoint family therapy. The addition of behavior modification has had its main effect in initiating improvement, whereas conjoint family therapy has helped to maintain the improvement and prevent relapses, which frequently occur among anorexics who show initial improvement.

With a comprehensive therapeutic approach, most treatment programs for anorexia nervosa show good short term results. Unfortunately, this does not guarentee long term improvement. Up to 75 percent of patients will acheive a satisfactory body weight, but only 30 percent actually develop improved eating behavior. In considering the difficulty of treatment and the occasionally devastating outcome of anorexia nervosa, we stress the importance of increased awareness of the symptoms of this disorder so that earlier diagnoses may eventually improve the prognosis for these patients.

We welcome any questions and/or comments you may have regarding our weekly column. Please send them to our office at 147 N. Center Street, Lowell, Michigan 49331.

of LD students enrolled in the high school program, it was necessary to add another instructor. Rich Douglass from the Middle School was assigned to the position leaving a vacancy in the Middle School. The Board approved the employment of Mrs. Judy Drain effective December 3, 1984 to fill the vacancy.

The meeting concluded after Superintendent Fritz Esch gave a report on the recent Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) test results. He commended the teaching staff for their efforts in teaching those objectives that resulted in the higher scores for Lowell students this year.

Don't send your partyers home drunk

With the coming of year-end holidays, Secretary of State Richard Austin today urged all party-givers to be good hosts and help guests arrive home safely after the party.

Austin also urged party-givers to help over-indulgent guests with a ride home or a place to relax before driving home. Austin, chairman of the State

Safety Commission, said alcohol is involved in more than half of the fatal highway crashes in Michigan and nationwide. As of December 2 of this year, 1,372 individuals died in highway crashes in Michigan compared to 1,246 the same time last year.

Austin will ask the State Safety Commission to join in ocusing public attention on the nigh number of unnecessary alcohol-involved highway crashes and the resulting deaths, injuries

Party-givers can be a big help in holiday highway deaths down Austin said.

If you live in an area serviced by Lowell Light and Power, then ou had the same problem Monday morning that the Brown family experienced. Our clock radio went off at about 5:30 as usual, but shortly thereafter if went back off and the smoke alarmed beeped for a second. Both are sure signs that the power has been cut off.

When Terese and I find ourselves in situations such as these our personalities come into sharp contrast. I looked at a power outage at 5:30 on a dismal, rainy Monday morning in December as a blessing, Six foot one-inch Jeff a wonderfully timed act of nature, a clear sign from the Sand Man to roll over and go back to sleep. After all, what am I going to do without electricty? Shaving in the dark takes a little more daring than I can muster on a Monday morning. Besides, without electricity merhorn and managed to gain an there's no coffee, no morning news, no heat and no Pop Tarts.

Terese, on the other hand, was awake immediately and asking me Jeff will be counted on almost all sorts of questions like, "How will I blow my hair dry?", "How exclusively for depth early in the can I put my make-up on?", "How can we make some coffee?", season, but he could earn himself "How will we know if the kids have school?". I covered my head with a pillow.

She then went downstairs, and returned with a bunch of candles... all scented. Pretty soon the bedroom smelled like an Egypdetermine where he best fits into tian spice market, but we had light. I covered my head with another the Southern Utah State College pillow. Just as Terese was getting into the shower a thought occurred to her that I had hoped wouldn't. She remembered that our He demonstrates doggedness camper has a generator, and she said, "Honey, I don't suppose you on defense and determination of would go out and start the generator in the camper?". Now I know it doesn't sound quite the same, but that line and several others in Terese's repetoire get about the same results as my old drill sergean barking, "drop and give me fifty troop!".

I put on some sweat pants and trudged out to the camper. I started being in the middle of things de- the generator, turned on the heat and lights and tuned in the radio for a school report. Do you feel as if you're striking out instead of scoring strikes when you visit a local bowling center? Here are some hints that may help you · Make sure you're using the right ball. Frequently bowlers buy balls with a toolarge thumb hole. · Aim at the "pocket" the space between the head-pin and the number three pin. Don't try to hit the headpin dead center as the ball will often crash through the middle of the pins and leave a particularly tough second shot. · Here's the perfect four-
