OFF THE BLOTTER

Chester Lewis of Lowell reported to Lowell Police his car had been struck by another vehicle on Amity near Main Street Saturday morning, December 22. The driver of the other vehicle left the location without identifying himself.

Lois Wittenbach, 54, of Lowell backed her car from a private drive on S. West Street near Main Street, Monday, December 17 into the path of a car driven by Steven Weber, 24 also of Lowell. There were no injuries.

Lloyd Miller, 47, of Alto was involved in a property damage accident at Main and Hudson Monday, December 17. A semi-truck struck his car while it was attempting to make a right turn at the intersection. The truck was driven by Richard Biggs, 40, of Lowell.

Involved in a property damage accident early Saturday morning, December 22, was Ramona Hayes, 20, of Lowell. Hayes drove left of center and struck a car driven by Ruth Fahrni, 45, of Ada on S. Hudson near Bowes Road. Hayes was arrested by Lowell officers for driving under the influence of alcohol and transported to the Kent County Jail.

Deborah Smith, 19, of Lowell was involved in a property damage accident Saturday, December 29, when she backed into a steel post in the Amoco Service Station at Main and Hudson Streets.

Herbert Haines, 48, struck a car driven by Angelo Zengri, 70, on Main Street near Valley Vista Drive, Monday evening, December 31. Zengri made a left turn off Main Street into the path of Haines vehicle. No injuries were reported. Both drivers are Lowell resi-

Deborah Maynard, 27, of Lowell Backed into a parked car on Main Near Broadway Street Monday morning, December 31. No injuries were reported.

Lowell Officers investigated 30 accident complaints in the month of December, including 2 in which drivers sustained injuries. The total number of accidents investigated for 1984 was 240, 42 of which were injury accidents. This compares to 197 accidents in Lowell Medical Unit was summoned 11 times in the month of December to various medical runs, which brought the 1984 total to 142. This compares with 146 in 1983.

Lowell officers assisted by the Ionia County Sheriffs Dept. apprehended two walk-a-ways from the reformitory in Ionia early Monday morning, December 24. Both subjects were apprehended inside a vacant house in the 700 block of East Main. Officers tracked the subjects in the light snow from the East city Limits. Both Charles Wagner, 24 and Rodney Force, 23, were returned to the reformitary by Ionia County Sheriffs Dept.

Many city walks need clearing

With several inches of hard packed snow and ice already on the ground and more in the forecast for Thursday, city officials and police are urging residents to clear their sidewalks of snow and ice. Lowell City Manager Ray Quada says the New Year's storm created particularly difficult snow removal problems because of the initial layer of freezing rain, then several inches of snow topped with more freezing rain. This combintation coupled with temperatures too low to allow road salt from thawing the ice on the roads has created some especially treacherous driving conditions. "when residents don't shovel their walks they force pedestrians, especially school children, to walk in the already dangerous streets", Quada

Besides the obvious problems created by snow covered sidewalks, Quada noted the serious delays that they can cause in emergency situations. Quada cited a recent case in which Mercy Ambulance personnel had much difficulty to removing a heart attack victim from his

The issue came up at Monday evening's Lowell City Council meeting, and Mayor James Maatman suggested that the city may be forced to introduce a program of using Department of Public Works personnel to clear sidewalks then billing homeowner or business. Quada said, "The problem with such enforcement of snow removal ordiances is that the city has to be just as tough on the little old lady on Social Security as it is on the businessman who doesn't clear his walk". Quada added, "A plea in the newspaper has generally been successful in the past, hopefully homeowners and businesses will take it upon themselves to get the job done".

As the snow accumulates at the end of driveways the piles begin to create hazards for motorists. Piling snow so high that it obstructs safe vision of motorists at driveways and along the shoulders of the road is a violation of state law (P.A. 82 of

The police Department recommends that residents keep the shoulder in front of their driveway clear and also clear snow for a short distance from the driveway in the direction of approaching traffic. That way the view of a motorist entering the roadway from a driveway is not obstructed.

Violators leave themselves open to fines and lawsuits for public liability and property damage. For a charge to be filed a police officer must witness the violation or a citizen may file a complaint. All property owners and persons hired to remove snow are responsible for maintaining safe traffic conditions.

Snow and ice covered sidewalks create problems for pedestrians like these students on their way to Bushnell Elementary School. They either must trudge through the deep snow with an icy crust or take their chances in the heavily travelled streets that are also slippery. City officials are urging residents to conform with city ordinances and keep their walks clear.

State Savings Bank promotes 3 employees

Lowell State Savings Bank President Keith Cadwell nounced three promotions at the bank recently. Lucille Green was promoted to Assistant Vice President, Terry Conley is now a Vice President - Operations and Charles R. Myers was named as a Vice President.

Lou Green has been with State Savings Bank since 1958. She started in banking in 1954 at a Grand Rapids bank and left her head teller position in 1957 for maternity leave. When she reentered the work force in September 1958, she was a bookkeeper at State Savings. Since then, Green has worked as a teller and before the computer age, handposted general ledger entries, notes, installment loans and mortgage payments. She has also worked in bank operations, handled new accounts and customer account reconciliations.

Green was promoted to Assistant Cashier in 1975. Her responsibilities now include data processing, supply purchaser, personnel record keeping, and expense accounting in addition to various other operational duties.

Green is a 30 year resident of Lowell and has worked 26 of those years at State Savings

Our Notes from a Recent Seminar on Colon Cancer by the American Cancer Society

This week we will discuss a devastating disease; colon and rectal cancer. Approximately 120,000 new cases of colon cancer will be diagnosed this year and 55,000 will die as a direct result of colon cancer. The real tradgedy is that, once colon cancer is diagnosed it is usually too late, and only 40% of those patients will still be alive in five years. The good news is that if colon cancer is diagnosed early enough over 90% of those patient's can expect long term survival!

How do we go about diagnosing colon cancer when something can be done? Before we answer this, let's look at some causes of colon cancer. It is felt that heredity plays a definite role. A person with a first degree relative (mother, father, children or siblings) that has cancer will have a three fold increased risk of developing the disease himself. Diet also seems to play a role. The typical American diet of high fat and low fiber may increase the incidence of colon

Colon and rectal cancer ususally starts in the 40 - 80 year old patient and there is always a period during the cancer growth where there are no symptoms. Common symptoms that develop later on are bloody stools, weight loss, decreased appetite, constipation or

So we are faced with a dilemma. We know that if we could diagnose colon cancer early enough, we could cure it; but by the time that symptoms develop it may already be too late to effect the outcome. To overcome this dilemma the American Cancer Society has recommended a fairly aggressive approach. In order to diagnose the problem early enough a screening program is recommended as fol-

Let's review a few of the above screening tests. A rectal exam is a very simple procedure that should always be performed during a routine physical. The prostate gland and rectum can be checked easily with this method. Cancers higher in the colon will be missed.

Stool testing for blood is easily done by having a patient take home a slide and smearing a piece of stool in the appropriate place then returnig the specimen for testing. Probably the most distateful recommendation (for patients) is the sigmoidoscopic examination. The examination is performed by direct visualization of the sigmoid colon through a long tube. For some patients, this can be a very uncomfortable test, however, today we can perform this essential diagnostic procedure with modern flexible instruments that are well tolerated by most. The procedure usually takes 10 to 20 minutes and is performed in your doctor's office. An enema that the patient administers himself at home approximately 1 or 2 hours prior to the exam is all that is needed. This is done so that the physician can see the whole sigmoid colon (the site most likely to develop cancer)

The experts that presented this seminar stressed that this procedure should be perfromed in all patients after age 50 and some want

Here we are, nine days into the new year, and the Ledger is just getting around to publishing its first edition. I realize that most of you have already made, and broke, your New Year's resolutions, but please bear with me while I list mine now. I can assure you that I will feel eternally guilty about skipping an edition of the Ledger, missing the big snow and ice storm and not having to write this column while soaking up some sun in the Florida Keys last week. And, if you believe that, I'd like to sell you some oceanfront lots southeast of Key West.

Resolution number 1: I intend to get ahold of the powers that be at the Michigan Press Association, and straighten out a litle problem. The Ledger has been a member of this organization for eons, and I have been listed as publisher for nearly ten years now. Just before the holidays I received my new Press Association membership card. If I wore a felt hat, this is the "Press Card" that I would stick in the hat band, and along with fifty cents it could probably get me a cup of coffee somewhere. All the information on the card was filled out properly, except my name. According the the Michigan Press Association I am now Roger K. Moon, and even though I've never been particularly tickled with the plain old last name of Brown, I guess I'm even less fond of Moon. My mind may be in the gutter, but the first thing that comes into it when I think of the word "moon" is a picture of a portion of the human anatomy pressed against or sticking out of a passing car window. So getting my press card corrected is resolution number 1.

Resolution number 2: My accountant tells me that there is a new provision in the federal tax code that demands that a detailed log be kept on all company vehicles. The little red station wagon that I drive is a company vehicle, and the biggest share of its use is company business. But my accountant says that I am now responsible for providing information about every little trip that I make with it; where to, how far, what for, etc. Can you believe this? He says that if I jump in the car to go six blocks to the bank to make a deposit i should be logged. It will take longer to log some of these trips than it will to drive them. My resolution is to come up fighting on this one. My plan is to do about half of my driving in reverse thereby registering zero miles on the odometer. If the I.R.S. asks me for a log I'll just tell them I've been walking a lot. So, if you see some guy backing his way around town in a little red station wagon you'll know what's up. I just hope my neck holds out.

Resolution number 3: The city council recently decided to appoint a committee to determine if the $100 per year paid to councilmembers should be raised, lowered or left the same. My resolution is to wrangle myself a spot on that committee and fight for a council salary of about $35,000 a year, a new car each year (luxury model of course), an expense account and a few other perks like a big hot tub to hold the council meetings in. Once the committee gets all these items in place, I'll announce my candidacy for a city council seat. Should I be elected, the Ledger would of course be sold, cheap, providing the new publisher would agree to always see things my way when reporting on city council activities. Not a bad plan for '85 if kett, Doug Arnold.

"So what happened to the traditional resolutions like losing fer. weight, getting in shape, working harder, etc., etc., etc., etc., ou ask. JANUARY 15: Rick Well. I've decided that they are about as realistic as some those Meisner, William Bower, Don listed above, so what the heck, I'm having fun in '85. Hicks.

Chairperson Buth thanked the Commissioners for the Wahlfield, Chairperson Buth - 18. honor and privilege of serving as Board Chairperson for 1985. He asked the Commissioners to work together for the citizens of Kent County because that is the Commission's duty and obligation. It is one of the Chairperson's duties to keep decorum and order and we can serve the County better if everyone can hear and people in a meeting that is non-partisan on issues to the greatest degree possible. The Board Members do not have to get partisan. The Commissioners can serve the people better by doing what comes naturally -- voting the way they see fit. Again, he thanked the Commissioners for the privilege of being Chairperson in 1985.

Chairperson Buth opened nominations for Board Vice-Chairperson. Commissioner Bandstra placed in nomination the name of Margaret E. Byington for Vice-Chairperson in 1985.

Chairperson Buth declared Commissioner Margaret E. Byington elected as Vice-Chairperson for 1985. Vice-Chairperson Byington thanked the Commissioners and stated 1985 is going to be a very exciting year for those serving on the Commission. We have an opportunity and an obligation to serve the people of Kent County that is truly wonderful and unique. This year we will look at the problem of a Mass Burn Incinerator, Consolidation questions, and questions that have a tremendous impact on the lives of the people in Kent

County. She stated she is looking forward to working with all the Commissioners. Judge Hoffius congratulated Chairperson Buth, Vice-Chairperson Byington, and all present on the new Board of Commissioners. He introduced Mr. William D. Camden, a resident of Calhoun County, where he served as Friend of the Court for seven years until 1979. Prior to that he had been with Juvenile Court for about eight years. He served in the United States Army in Germany for two years and has been practicing law in Calhoun County for the past five years. Judge Hoffius stated Mr. Camden comes to Kent County with high recommendations and the Judges feel he will do a very capable job as Friend of

as follows: At some time at least one month pric to the first County Commission meeting of each new year, a list of vacant Board and Commission seats shall be prepared by the County Controller and forwarded to the Chairperson of each Caucus represented on the County Board of Commissioners. Said Caucuses shall be composed of all County Commissioners elect from the respective political parties. The vacant Board and Commission seats shall be filled on a proportional basis; based on the number of County Commissioners elect from each political party (e.g. - if Party A has 7 County Commissioners elect, they shall be entitled to fill 33% of the Board and Commission seats open for the coming year and Party B, with 14 Commissioners elect shall be entitled to fill 66% of the open seats).

All nominees, including Commissioners, for any appointment to Boards or Commissions which appointments are to be made by the Board of Commissioners shall file with the respective caucuses a brief personal resume on forms to be prepared by the Controller. Said resume shall be signed and dated. At least 10 days prior to any appointment all available resumes of nominees shall be mailed to the Board of Commissioners. The Controller shall maintain in his or her office a resume file which, with respect to Commissioners, shall contain a list of all the appointments to any Board or Commission which such Commissioner may hold. The caucuses of the respective political parties represented on the Board of Commissioners may request that any nominee may appear before them for an interview prior to the time the nomination is submitted to the Board of Commissioners. Nothing herein contained shall prevent nominations from the floor, but the person making such nomination should be prepared to give a resume of the person nominated. Each nominee shall indicate whether there is any conflict of interest, as defined in MCLA 15.321, arising out of the appointment."

Commissioner DeVriendt pointed out the resumes are in the Controller's Office for everyone's review. After considerable discussion, Clerk DeJonge administered the Oath of Office to Commissioner Fritz W. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Charles R. Ritter who passed away Jan. 12, 1980. When the face that was dear no longer is here,

And a voice that was loved is hushed,

It seems as if time went too quickly, It seems as if things were too rushed.

But then one by one we remember. And one by one clearly re-

Many quiet wonderful And the love that was shared by them all. And there's a great feeling of comfort,

When a heart that is grieving and sad, Can remember again and be thankful, For all the sweet hours we've had.

The many things you did for us, Dad, Live within our hearts each

And keep you near and dear to us. Though you have gone

Tips offered for trouble free winter driving

winter driving requires common sense approaches by all drivers -proper planning and vehicle maintenance today to head off cautions. tomorrow's dangers.

A national authority who knows how true this is, is Douglas M. Fergusson, whose credentials are many: vice president for traffic, National Safety Council; former chairman of NSC's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards; a director of Chicago's Safe Winter Driving League; and full time director of safety for Nationwide Insurance Com-

Based on his many years of personal commitment to traffic accident prevention, Fergusson has compiled a series of guidelines for more trouble free local weather bureau, motor winter highway travel.

Taking the nightmares out of expecting the worst" is Fergusson's operative concept that includes trip planning, advance preparations and emergency pre-

TRIP PLANNING

Study your route in advance. Mentally, list road and highway conditons you're apt to encounter.

Set up a reasonable driving schedule -- with ample provisions to get off the road and wait if winter throws deadly tricks your way, such as poor traction and reduced visibility.

Plan for periodic rest stops don't try to cover too much territory in one sitting. Frequent driver changes also combat fatigue if the trip is long.

Check weather reports. The club, highway patrol office and "Knowing what to expect and your car radio are good sources.

Think twice before starting out in the face of a threatening storm.

On the road, a CB radio can be especially helpful in getting reports from other drivers in the area.

ADVANCE PREPARA-TIONS

For the driver -- start each day refreshed after a good night's sleep.

For your vehicle -- a tune-up and thorough mechanical check including the complete electrical system, exhaust, brakes, heater, defroster and hoses.

Make sure defrosters and windshield wiper blades can clean ice, slush and wet snow off your windshield. Replenish antifreeze fluid in windshield washers.

Make sure your tires have good treads.

EMERGENCY TIONS

Safety check your trunk. Emergency gear should include a glass scraper-brush; booster cables; flares or emergency lights; a shovel; sand, rock salt or traction mats; a tow chain or strap; extra windshield washer fluid; blankets; and tire chains.

Keep your gas tank reasonably full at all times.

Anticipate situations that call for reduced speeds -- intersections, bridges and overpasses, for example.

Increase following distance when surfaces are slick. Use extra care in signaling other drivers following too closely who may be unable to stop in time.

Sudden changes in speed or abrupt turns will throw your vehicle into a skid. If you do go into a kid, stay off the brakes, ease

PRECAU- off the accelerator and steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go. If you want it to go right, turn right, If you want it to go left, turn left.

> To slow or stop on slippery pavements, squeeze your brakes with a slow, steady pressure until just before they lock. When you feel them start to lock, ease off until all wheels are rolling easily again; then squeeze again. Squeeze braking is the best technique for cars with either disc or drum brakes -- or a combination of both.

If your winter sport preference

-- such as snowmobiling -- re quires towing a trailer, eve greater emergency precautions are needed. Anticipate all movements even further in advance: then accelerate, brake and steer smoothly and gradually. Increase following distances.

Fergusson concluded with this reminder: "Before starting out on. a trip this month, bear in mind that tire chains provide the ultimate stop and go traction for self vere snow and ice conditions. Have them available for the worst that winter may have to offer."

State traffic fatalities are up from 1983

Traffic fatalities on Michigan's highways increased nearly 13% from 1983 totals according to provisional figures released by the State Police.

One thousand five hundred and four people were killed in traffic accidents in 1984 as compared to 1,331 in 1983. This count will increase slightly due to delayed reporting. State Year's four day holiday.

Police stressed the fact that of the victims with seats belts availa) able, 93.2% did not use them.

The holiday weekend tolls were higher in 1984 as well. There were 13 fatal accidents claiming 15 victims over the Christmas holiday while 18 people involved in 18 accidents lost their lives over the New

"Main Street", cont'd.

Arrested by Lowell officers Thursday night, December 27 was Joseph Leson, 23, of Caledonia. He was arrested for assault on a Police Officer, and was later taken to the Kent County Jail.

James Carey, 17, of Lowell was involved in a property damage accident on Hunt and Hudson Street, Monday afternoon when he struck a U.S. Mail box.
