placemat contest was held a few weeks ago, sponsored by our Community Education Department. This was a school-wide event, with two winners chosen from the elementary, one from the Middle School and one from the High School. Their winning designs were made into placemats and distributed to local restaurants. Costs were covered by Community Ed. and on May 21 the winners were treated to lunch out, donated by the Hollow Restaurant of Lowell. Congratulations, winners!

On May 9, the High School had a Scholastic Recognition Night to honor those High School students who maintained a grade point average throughout the year. The special evening began with dessert in the Middle School cafetorium, with awards and recognition following.

A special lunch was given all Middle School students on May 22 who maintained a "B" average throughout the school year. They were treated to pizza during the lunch hour. Thanks, school personnel for caring and congratulations students on your accomplish-

OFF THE BLOTTER

Apprehended Monday, May 20th by Johnson's Market employees was a juvenile shoplifter. The 13 year old boy will be referred to the Probate Court on the matter.

Taken to the Kent County Jail by Lowell officers Saturday night for driving while his license was suspended was Ernest Klatter, 23, of Kentwood. This was his second offense.

Issued appearance violations this past week were; Marc Jacqmain, 25, of Lowell for storage of junk vehicles on his property; Ricky Jay Merklinger, 17, of Lowell, for littering. Both will appear at a later date in 63rd District Court to answer to the violations.

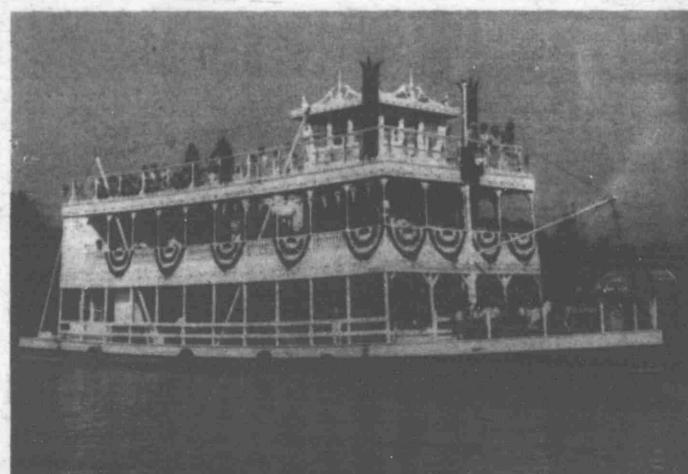

Richard Clark, 40, of Lions, MI, failed to yield right of way at the intersection of Pleasant & Main Street Thursday, May 23, and struck a vehicle driven by Aaron Rolfe, 20, of Eaton Rapids, MI. No injuries were reported.

Two juvenile females and one juvenile male, all from Lowell will be referred to Probate Court this week on charges of larceny, which occurred Monday afternoon, May 27th when they allegedly took 3 American Flags off their posts on Main Street.

WCUZ/Budweiser benefit nets $4,000

"Last weekend's WCUZ/Budweiser Showboat Benefit will net at least $4,000 for the Showboat coffers,," said WCUZ Public Re-Manager Reynolds. A steady crowd at the Friday night Riverboat Gambling netted about $1,400. Softball tournament entry fees, Showboat rides, a Champagne Breakfast Cruise on the Showboat and other fundraisers all added to the pot. Moderate attendance at the Saturday night Steve Wariner concert prevented the weekend festivities from netting much more for the financially plagued Lowell Showboat. Reynolds added "many concessions have yet to report their earnings, so the figures are not complete, but $4,000 is the minimum that we will be turning over to Show-

Since passage of the last operational millage, the Board of Education has continued to search for additional ways to save district dollars. A proposal to return to "double bus runs" was presented at the May 13 Board of Education meeting. Approximately $150,000 could be saved from the district's operating budget with the plan.

"Double bus runs" mean that each bus would run twice. First it would pick up secondary students in grades 6 through 12 and deliver them to school, then make a second run to pick up elementary students in grade K-5. While there are some minor reservations, the advantages appear to outweigh the disadvantages including the point that younger children would ride separately from older students. Also fewer students would be ble run system.

The Lowell School District is one of only four in an eight county area that is using a single run system of busing. The only other Kent Intermediate school using single runs is Kent City.

The double run system means that Lowell would have a smaller fleet of buses and less drivers (11 would be laid off), running the necessary miles to pick up all the students. Maintenance surveys indicate that buses wear better, or run more miles with less maintenance when they are used heavily. In a double run system the buses would operate twice as long and go as far each day. Also, the heavier use would see the buses wearing out more in riding on each bus under the dou- step with the state reimburse-

Churchill found guilty again

A Kent County Circuit jury deliberated less than an hour and a half before finding Larry Carl Churchill of Lowell guilty on a second charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct. Churchill is already serving a 7 to 20 year prison term for his February conviction of assaulting a 5year-old neighbor girl. this seond conviction stemmed from criminal sexual conduct charges involving a 4-year-old neighbor Appointments not always needed at Vanity Hair Fashions, Open six days Lowell, 897-7506.

The verdict came in the second day of the trial. The children, now 5 and 6, testified that Churchill molested them last summer and fall.

Churchill, 45, was arrested last October and charged with molesting four neighborhood children who had come to his Valley Vista home to play with his 5-year-old daughter. Churchill was a private investigator at the time of the arrest, but his license was revoked pending the outcome of the trial.

Churchill did not take the stand, but his lawyer, Thomas boy and his 5-year-old sister. Parker, argued that the children's testimony was inconsistent and that there wasn't sufficient evidence to convict Churchill. Assistant Kent County Prosecutor Barbara Crozier argued that the children were too young to make up the incidents that they described.

Churchill faces yet another trial involving the alleged sexual assault of a fourth child. Churchill faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment on last Wednesday's convictions. A sentencing date before Circuit Judge Stuart Hoffius has not

Summer may not technically arrive for another three weeks or so, but for most of us the Memorial Day Weekend signals the start of summer. There is a small group of us that have pretty well established a tradition of spending the long Memorial Day Weekend at Silver Lake near Hart and Shelby. Over the years that we've been spending that weekend there, Mother Nature has established her own tradition of raining on us about two out of the three days. This year was obviously no exception.

Saturday was definately a keeper, but Sunday and Monday were the pits. Not wanting to write the weekend off as a total loss, we decided to do some sailing between cloudbursts on Sunday. Hindsight tells me that we would have been smart to bow to Mother Nature and stay in out of the rain.

A friend, my daughter and I ran the sails up my boat and buzzed around the lake a few times in the ample wind. We were having lots of fun with one hull of my catamaran up out of the water most of the time. After a while we stopped at the State Park to visit with some friends that were also braving the elements by having a cookout on the beach. During the visit we were keeping our eye on some very ominous looking clouds that were approaching from the northwest. When we started to see the lightning flashes and hear the thunder we decided it was time to beat it for home.

We had a nice downwind tack to our destination, and were mak ing good time, but the storm seemed to be making better time than we were. When we finally arrived it was getting dark fast, the wind started howling and lightning was flashing over the sand dunes. Some help met us on the beach, and we quickly started to spin the boat into the wind so we could get the sails down. One small problem. A sixty dollar rudder wasn't securely cleated in the up position and we snapped it off in the confusion. Oh well, no time to dwell on it then. We were fast becoming ideal targets for the approaching lightning while working at the base of a thirty foot aluminum mast.

We got the sails down in record time and took off for shelter just as the rain started coming down in torrents, and the wind was flipping over rowboats that had been pulled up on shore. As we watched the storm from the window it was easy to imagine what an ordeal it would have been if we had been caught in the middle of the lake. Thank goodness the lake isn't a couple of hundred yards bigger!

I wonder if that little incident was Mother Nature's way of telling us that when she decides to give us lousy weather, then we had better just stay holed up inside and forget about having any fun? If so, she definitely got her point across to me!

Each year, graduates face the challenge of making choices which will determine the paths their futures will take. It's a critical choice, but only one of hundreds of important choices all of us must make throughout our lives. The right to make such choices is a privilege only we who live in the free world enjoy. Most of humanity is still being told how their lives must be lived. For them, freedom of choice does not exist. We should think about that once in awhile. The right to make choices is the quintessential element of freedom - and freedom makes all the difference.

$300 REWARD

"A $300 reward is being offered for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the most recent vandalism to the Lowell Showboat," said Lowell City Manager Ray Quada. "We caught the last culprits by offering a reward, hopefully it will work again," he adds. Previous vandals were convicted of the charge and ordered to pay the Showboat Fest, with twenty other troops camp project was a monkey There was also a Webelos Cross-Corporation restitution for the damage.

Throughout the day, the Showboat made hourly trips up the river carrying moderate to large numbers of passengers. A group from the Lowell High School organized an "air-band" or lip-synch competition at the Amphitheater in the afternoon on Saturday. The Lowell Jay-Teens also got involved in the weekend festivities by sponsoring a fishing contest on the Grand River on Saturday and Sunday.

About 2,000 people turned out for the Steve Wariner Concert Saturday evening. "It was a pretty good turnout, and the show was excellent," said Lowell Showboat President Ray Quada. "I was very pleased with all the weekend activities, WCUZ really did a great job in helping out with the Showboat again this year," Quada added. The Showboat owes only $1,160.00 in notes at the bank proud," added Quada.

that is still owed on the original purchase of the upper bleachers at the amphitheater," Quada explained. The City Council is currently considering the possibility of using some of those bleachers at the new Gee Drive softball complex. If the city does take the bleachers back, Showboat could be out of debt for the first time since the amphitheater was built back in the early seven-

When the Lowell Showboat Board of Directors decided not to run any further shows until the debt was erased back in early 1983, the Showboat was over $45,000 in debt. "In the past 2 and one half years, we have nearly wiped out the debt and kept up with annual expenses such as insurance and maintenance," said Quada. "All those who have worked hard to make this happen, especially the people at WCUZ, can be very

Advantages to the single run system include the fact that children are picked up and delivered at the same time allowing for uniform school hours. If a double run system is instigated, the elementary grades (1-5) would start classes about one hour behind the junior and senior high schools. Also, the students can be returned home in a one hour time frame in emergency dismis-inefficient use of capital.

The district's again fleet of buses are falling out of state reimbursement formula with 20 of the district's 47 buses being eight years old or older. When the district returned to single runs in 1972, the district was able to purchase as many as 8 buses at one time. With one bus today costing over $30,000, the district is financially unable to buy enough buses to maintain the demand required with the "single run" approach to transportation.
