Jeanne Alexander, 27, of Lowell, backed her car from a private drive on Foreman Street near Hudson and into the path of an oncoming car driven by Susan Serne, 23, also of Lowell. The accident happened Monday morning, July 22. No injuries were reported.

Arrested on two criminal bench warrants issued by 63rd District Court, Saturday morning, July 27 was Patrick Robinson, 21, of Belding. Robinson spent the weekend in the Kent County Jail awaiting arraignment on Monday.

Scott Rollins, 27, of Lowell was involved in a property damage accident early Sunday morning, July 28 when he lost control of his car and struck a tree at Jackson and Grindle.

struck by another driven by Larridan Abel, 23, of Ada. Abel was southbound on Washington and was unable to stop for the Daverman vechicle. The impact of the crash sent the Daverman vehicle into a car driven by Jill Simon, 34, of Orleans. Simon was eastbound on Avery and was stopped at the Washington Street sign. Daverman said that she was watching the Simon vehicle, and didn't see Abel approaching the ntersection. No citations were ssued.

Lowell Area Rescue responded to the scene, and treated Daverman for her lacerations. She later sought treatment locally. Lowell Police investigated and Roth Wrecker towed the damaged vehicles.

Bow Shooters

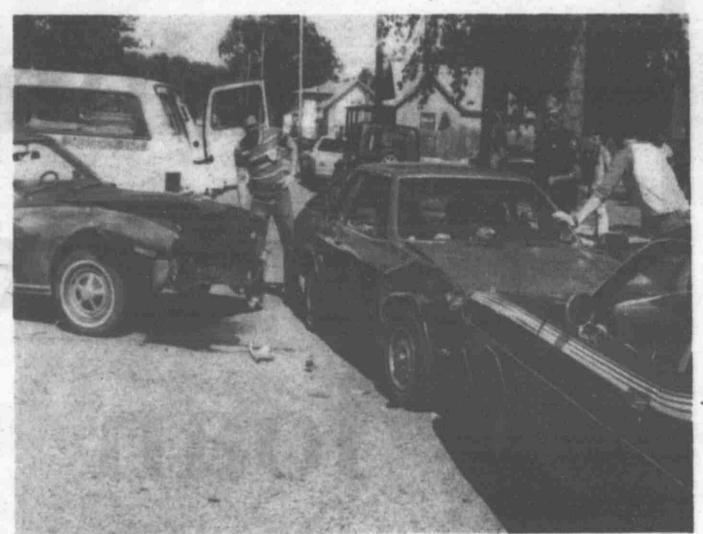

Men, women, and children it's time to think ahead to when the cool winds and fall colors bring rise to thoughts of bucks and bows.

The Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsman's Club is inviting you and your family or friends to join them on their club grounds to participate in a broadhead league. You will wander the woods on well marked trails shooting at deer and bear silhouetts with hunting type equipment. However, you don't have to be a hunter to enjoy this sport and you can shoot with your own friends throughout the course. Experienced hunters and professional type bowmen are close at hand with professional advice given freely if requested. We have members knowledgeable enough to assist you in tunning your compound bows and advise you on arrows to match your bow weight. This is an excellent opportunity to sharpen your shooting skills and have a fun time in the woods with your friends.

Registration and shooting commence on August 8th at 6 p.m. and continues for eight (8) weeks.

Fees are $1.00 per night-for Qua-Ke-Zik members and $1.50 per night plus a $5.00 registration fee for non-members. This is a handicap league and acknowlegements will be given at the end of the season to the top shooters.

If you have an interest and would like to know more about this type of league - call Steve Hartley at 897-7841. Come on out and enjoy our facilites, friendship, and improve your bowhunting skills.

Lowell Area Rescue personnel and a Kent County Sheriff's Department E-Unit officer were among those responding to a three car accident at Avery and Washington Streets on Monday, July

Kent 4-H Fair is in full swing

Waiting their turn, these girls watch as another competitor is judged in a horsemanship contest Tuesday morning at the Kent County 4-H Youth Fair at the Lowell Fairgrounds. There is still plenty to see and do at the fair. It runs through Friday, and many of the most popular events, such as the livestock sale, youth rodeo, parade of horse clubs and a lightweight draft horse pull are all yet to come. See last week's Ledger for a complete schedule. Of course there are lots of food booths, exhibits and carnival rides going on non-stop. Plan now to enjoy the fair.

Current Questions and Answers on A.I.D.S. Tuesday at the Funeral Chapel, Since the acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) Rev. George Coon officiating.

epidemic has attracted national attention, some people have refused to donate or receive blood, to receive the new hepatitis vaccine, or to come in contact with AIDS victims for fear of acquiring the disease. In today's article we will present many common questions which arise regarding AIDS, and will supply answers based on research done by Dr. Arthur J. Ammann, Director of the Pediatric clinical research center at the University of California at San Fran-

1) Can AIDS occur in an exclusively heterosexual individual? There have been a few cases in which heterosexuals have developed AIDS, but careful examination shows that in almost every case, the victim has had other predisposing risk factors such as the use of intravenous drugs or a bisexual male partner.

2) If I get a blood transfusion will I get AIDS? It is unlikely that most individuals with an intact immune system, who inadvertently might receive blood from an individual with AIDS, would get AIDS. However, because of the estimated long incubation period, this is not certain. Therefore, this is a major public health concern, and efforts are underway to determine whether or not effective screening procedures can be utilized. Currently, a short simple test is being performed on all potential blood donors in the Grand Rapids area prior to blood actually being donated.

3) Are hospital personnel such as doctors, nurses and lab technicians at risk for developing AIDS?

Since AIDS is probably a result of an infectious agent the answer is yes. However, in the two years that overall surveillance has been performed, there have been no known cases of hospital personnel acquiring AIDS as a result of taking care of patients who have the condition or handling their specimens.

4) Is AIDS new or is it just a newly recognized disorder? Because of the primary symptoms of AIDS were never recognized in its peculiar pattern or in certain groups of patients before 1979, AIDS would appear to be a new disease.

5) Is the homosexual life-style of a patient with AIDS a factor in the development of the disease?

At this point, no reassurances or guarantees can be given to those who engage in one of the predisposing factors for AIDS, such as homosexuality or intravenous drug use. 6) Is AIDS reversible?

At this point, there is no indication that AIDS is reversible 7) If the hepatitis vaccine is made from the blood of homosexual nales, some of whom might have AIDS, should I receive it?

As yet, there have been no known cases of AIDS as a result of hepatitis immunization. But, until the agent that causes AIDS is isolated, there can be no guarantee that the vaccine is safe.

By rights I shouldn't be writing a column this week because I'm on vacation. Well... sort of. This was supposed to be our week off for the summer, but several commitments soon shot the week full of holes, so we decided to work things out this way. I ran around like crazy on Friday to cover the bases usually covered on Monday. We spent the weekend plus Monday at Silver Lake, leaving for home at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday. Terese and I are both working Tuesday. Tuesday night is a birthday party for my mother. Wednesday Terese and I and the kids are going to an afternoon Tigers game. On Thursday we work again, and Thursday night the kids and I have a softball game (I coach their team). After the softball game we leave for the lake again for a three day weekend. Whew!

For those of you whose idea of a vacation is lounging in a hammock and sipping lemonade, this vacation is definately not for you. I'm not sure it's for me either, but that's the way it goes. To paraphrase an old movie title, "If This Is Tuesday, I Must Be Working". So, as long as I'm working, I figured I ought to bat out a quick column. This description of my vacation is definately not the best stuff I've ever banged out, but at least it's something. Usually when I go on vacation this space is void, which may be a better alternative to what is being submitted here.

Wait a minute... I do have some hot news! We finally settled on a name for the puppy. He is now known as "Duffy"... no relation to Duffy Daugherty. My plea in last week's column for names did generate several great suggestions, but Duffy wasn't one of them. In fact, I'm not sure where "Duffy" came from. It was just one of several that has been been in the running over the past two weeks, and we finally got everyone to agree on it. I still like "Au", but what do I

So, if you see a big guy running around town like a chicken with its head chopped off, you'll know it's just me enjoying my vacation.

Home Run Fence at Rec. Park

A new 8 foot home run fence is nearing completion at the Recreation Park ball field. Three homers have already been hit out over the newly constructed left field portion. It takes about a 300 foot poke to clear the fence in most places. The fence will also take away many home runs that previously bounded past the outfielders. Bob Ford is selling advertising space on the fence to help pay the cost of erecting it. Thirty of the expensive 4x8" duraboard plywood sheets used to construct the fence were stolen over the weekend. Anyone with information about the missing plywood should contact the Lowell Police Department.

Senator Dick Posthumus

In the state's legislative quest for Saturn and other companies of the future, the major proposal--in fact, to date, the only proposal on the table--is a two-bill package introduced by State Senator Dick Posthumus (R-

The Senator explained the plan in a news conference preceding planned action on the proposal on the Senate floor today.

The proposal, which has strong bipartisan support will create an Automotive Research and Technology Enterprise Community (ARTEC), or "bubble" for automotive manufacturing plants that will employ at least 3,000 people. For businesses which meet the criteria and locate within the bubble, the following incentives would be offered: Research and development

deductions against the Single Business Tax;

Reforms of the Single Business Tax which remove from the base items which do not add value to the product, like taxes on worker's compensation and unemployment insurance rates;

Credits for job training programs that would upgrade workers' skills toward high technology production.

So far, representatives of the following groups have provided Senator Posthumus with letters of support for the ARTEC concept: Chrysler, the state Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Manufacturers As sociation.
