Rotary will sponsor Community Blood Drive August 28

Volunteer donors are still needed for the August 28 Community Blood Drive sponsored by the Lowell Rotary Club and the Grand Valley Blood Program. Drive Chairman Charlie Doyle says he has 110 volunteers enlisted and needs at least 30 more to reach this year's goal. Walk-in donors are welcome at the Blood Drive to be held at the Lowell Middle School from 3 until 8 p.m., but Doyle urges prospective donors to sign-up for a specific time in advance. "This will help ensure a smooth drive, with as little waiting as possible," Doyle said. Those wishing to sign-up should call Doyle at the Post Office, 897-9949 or at his home, 897-7532. The Grand Valley Blood Program is a non-profit organization established in 1975 as a joint program of the Kent County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Michigan Community Blood Center. It is the sole provider of blood and blood components for patient care in Kent County. All blood needs are supplied solely by it. Each day, almost 100 units (pints) of blood are needed to maintain a constant and safe supply of blood.

In order to draw these necessary donors, the Grand Valley Blood Program relies upon a combined effort of volunteers and paid professionals. Volunteers help staff blood mobiles, coordinate blood mobiles, contact prospective donors, maintain records and many other tasks necessary to keep operations going. A total of over 300 volunteers donate in excess of 2,000 hours per month to the blood program. Professional staffs consisting of administration, nursing and laboratory, help coordinate and put into action, the systems needed to supplying blood to Kent County.

Blood collections are done at a fixed site, the blood center, or at over 300 "on-site" mobile drives involving over 160 groups throughout Kent County. Balance between the groups is necessary and relies upon many organizations, clubs, businesses, churches and educational facilities dedicated to the project.

Blood comes in many "types", but the most common "8 types" were not identified until the 1940's. Originally blood transfusions were direct from donor to patient, but today's modern plastics allow separation of up to four (4) different components from each donation. Professional laboratory staff at the Grand Valley Blood Program, types, tests and separates each unit of donated blood in preparation for distribution to Kent County area hospitals. Blood components, each with a different "shelf-life", are inventoried and distributed 365 days per year upon request.

Currently, blood usage is about 30,000 units per year. This reflects an increase of 225% since 1975. New surgery techniques, and the increased medical uses for blood, has caused the need to rise yearly with little end in sight. The blood means life or death to many patients, or sometimes a more "normal" life to many other patients.

They are Charlie Doyle, this year's Rotary Blood Drive Chairman, and a 32 pint donor; Bob Ellis, a 106 pint donor; Marian Schneider, a 20 pint donor; Bob Pfaller, a 40 pint donor and Bill Kirby, a 42 pint donor. Repeat donors like these urge you to also become a blood donor. Remember, Blood Centers don't need blood... People Do!

Lowell man wins Lotto Jackpot

A Lowell man was one of four lucky people to share in the $5.5 million Lotto jackpot drawn on Saturday, August 10. Fred Shortle, 33, of 1833 Woodpine Ct. in the Eastgate-In-The-Woods Subdivision, is now $1,378,430 wealthier than he was on August 9. His first of twenty checks, to be issued annually was written for about $55,000 after federal taxes were withheld.

State Lottery officials say that the winning ticket was a subscription number that Shortle's wife and two children helped him pick out. Shortle reportedly told Lottery officials that he plans to invest his winnings, and save toward an early retirement.

The Ledger tried to contact Shortle, but he is apparently trying to keep a low profile following his recent good fortune. His home phone number has been changed to an unlisted number and he did not respond to a message we left for him at Thornapple Valley of Grand Rapids, where he is employed as a maintenance worker.

Storm sewer assessments retired

Several past and present Lowell City Council members and their spouses enjoyed an outdoor dinner at the home of former Lowell Mayor Carlen Anderson. The occasion marked the retirement of the assessments that paid for the city's storm sewer system. Anderson was in office at the time the project came to fruition, and remembers a council meeting regarding the new sewer system, at which approximately 300 residents showed up. "I'm just an average guy, not used to working with large sums of money, and this $1 million-plus project was one of the highlights of my life," Anderson said as he addressed the group prior to dinner. Anderson explained that the property assessments were originally scheduled to run for a 15 year period, but because the project was completed under the bid price and because of favorable

Skin Cancer

Today, we will review skin cancer because we've been getting more questions regarding this topic the last couple of weeks. This is probably related to recent news items regarding the President's diagnosis and treatment for a small skin cancer that was discovered while he was hospitalized. He's seen more doctors the last couple of weeks than any of us will see in a lifetime!

Skin cancer is the most common cancer of all! The good news, is that, more than 90% of all skin cancers are curable! There are three basic types of skin cancer: Basal cell, Squamous cell, and Melanoma. We'll discuss these in a little more detail in a few minutes. Some skin conditions have a tendency to become cancerous because of exposure to the sun's radiation. These growths are called precancerous. A very common example is actinic (senile) keratosis -- a thickened plaque of scaly skin that develops in older persons after exposure to the sun. Skin cancer, rarely metastasize, (spread to other parts of the body) but, they can invade the normal surrounding tissue causing a fair amount of damage.

Basal cell cancer is the most common malignant tumor and is seen most frequently in fair-skinned individuals that are exposed to the sun. It usually develops on the face, neck, upperchest, arms or hands, areas with the most sun exposure. Basal cell cancers appear as a raised red translucent nodule. This is a very slow growing tumor.

Squamous cell carcinoma is the second most frequent malignant skin tumor. It also appears most commonly in fair skinned individuals and in similar locations. These lesions look like small crusty nodules that my ulcerate if left untreated.

Malignant melanoma is a feared and fortunately small skin tumor that grows rapidly and can metastasize to lymph nodes and distant sites. Melanomas are usually a dark brown to black/blue. They start as small mole like growths which can change color and bleed easily.

Skin cancer is usually treated by four different methods depending on the type, size and location. Surgical excision consists of removing the tumor. Cryosurgery destroys the tumor by freezing it. Fulguration destroys the tumor by burning the tissue, and Radiation destroys cancer cells with only minimal damage to surrounding normal tissue.

As you have probably surmised, repeated over-exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays is a major cause of skin cancer. Fair-skinned individuals are at a greater risk because of a lower level of melanin in the skin which absorbs the sun's ultraviolet light. We can decrease the incidence and risk of skin cancer by avoiding the sun's ultraviolet rays with sun blocks, wearing protective clothing and early detection. Examine your skin and look for changes in the size, shape or color of any skin lesions present. Suspicious lesions should be examined by your doctor and treated appropriately.

Most people guess my age somewhere well past my actual 35 years. Gray hair and extra pounds around the middle can add a few years to anybody's appearance. Despite how I look, I don't feel old. At least I don't feel old most of the time. I felt very old one morning last week.

The events leading up to this particular morning started about two years ago when I injured my back. I was rinsing out a coffee cup here at the Ledger, and as I was wiping it with a towel when it slipped out of my grasp. I lurched down and forward to catch it, and threw my back out. Several months later, after numerous visits with a Chiropractor and an exercise program, I was pretty well recovered, except that my back is still very stiff when I get up in the morning. It takes me a few minutes to get fully straightened up, and limber. That's no big problem, and I've learned to live with it.

A few weeks ago, I used this space to tell about a sprained ankle that I suffered while running in about a foot of water, and stepped in a hole. Eight weeks later, my right ankle is still slightly swollen, and if I make any sudden twists, or jump from a height of more than a foot or so, a few thousand nerve endings in that area let me know immediately that my ankle is not fully recovered. Like my back, the ankle stiffens up while I sleep. I can barely put any weight on it for the first few minutes in the morning, but after hobbling around for awhile, it loosens up. I've pretty well learned to live with that too.

Last Tuesday evening, Terese and I were watching the Tigers on TV, and I watched as our pup lay on the floor in front of us scratching his nose with a hind foot. Jokingly, I asked Terese if she could do that, and with no hesitation she grabbed her foot and scratched her nose with her big toe. It's not one of her most lady like habits, but I was impressed just the same.

Then Terese went to work on me. "Come on, you do it," she chided over and over. Finally, I gave in, and gave it a half-hearted shot. I didn't even come close. "Come on, bend more at the waist, you can do it," she said. She finally got my competitive juices running, and I gave it the good old college try. I bent more at the waist and gave my left foot a good jerk in the direction of my nose. Just as my big toe touched the tip of my nose, something in my knee went off like a Fourth of July firecracker. Terese said, "What the heck was that?" as I fell back into the couch, grimacing in pain.

I soon hobbled off to bed, downing a couple of aspirin on the way. The next morning, I was awakened not by the alarm, but by my throbbing left knee. I climbed out of bed in my usual bent condition caused by my stiff back, and put all my weight on my right ankle. When the pain messages from my ankle reached my still drowsy brain, I instinctively shifted my weight to my left leg. When the pain messages from my left knee reached my brain, it didn't know what to do, and I simply fell down. Let me tell you, I felt more like 85 than 35 as I lay there on the floor.

I finally hoisted myself up using a nightstand as a crutch, and hobbled off to the shower using the walls and furniture to prop myself as I went. By the time I was out of the shower and shaved, I was loosened up, and getting around pretty well. That day I went on to work on my feet most of the day, shoot some baskets in the driveway, wrestle with the pup and play in a softball scrimmage.

If you could have seen me that morning, you would have thought I was ready for a body cast, rather than a full day of activity. I know I did.

Klein Rodeo coming in August

Professional rodeo, featuring more than 220 cowboys and cowgirls from all sections of the country, will be displaying their talents in the 41st annual Klein Rodeo to be held over the Labor Day weekend.

The Klein Rodeo, oldest in Michigan, will be staged at Rodeo Grounds, located on M-37 & 13-Mile Road near Sparta starting Saturday, August 31 and ending September 2. Daily competition in seven events commences at 2 P.M.

Daily competition centers in bare-back bronco riding, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, girls' barrel racing, rugged bull riding and the exciting Klein Special, the Wild Horse race. The contestants will be riding for the total prize purse of $14,000.

For the first time in its long history, the Klein Rodeo will feature top riders from the International Professional Rodeo Association and the Mid-States Rodeo circuit. The two professional rodeo associations agreed to open their respective sanctioned rodeos to contestants from both circuits.

Majority of the IPRA contestants come from Oklahoma and Texas while the MSRA covers contestants from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and eastern states. The combining of the two circuits for the West Michigan event should provide plenty of spirited rivalry in all events for the three-day event.

As in the past, it's expected five or six World and National Champions from the IPRA circuit will be at the Sparta-based Labor Day weekend event. Dan Dailey, Tulsa, Okla., 12-time All Around Cowboy and long a local favorite, will be back in bull riding and the two horse bucking events. Justin Rowe, also from Tulsa, the 1984 National saddle bronc king, indicated he will be back along with National steer wrestling champ Clarence LeBlanc of Okmulgee, Okla.

A number of top cowboys from the MSR circuit such as Chuck VanKeuren of Kentwood; Mike Hoartsma, Ada, both saddle bronc riders and Scooter Vaughn of Ottawa Lake, along with Jerry Mostoller of Copley, Ohio, will be gunning for a piece of the prize money.

The big holiday weekend kickoff with the annual Rodeo Parade Saturday (Aug. 31) at 10 A.M. Entries for the parade will be taken until one hour before start by contacting Shirley Klein, (616) 887-9945.

Adult tickets are $6 and $3 for children (8-12) for all performances.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

For over thirty years I have witnessed many efforts to help the parking situation for the businesses on Main Street. Several parking areas have been added which have become real assets and help to the public and the merchants.

The latest attempt to ease parking by changing Riverside into a North one-way Street and the diagonal parking on both sides, seems to be two of the best efforts of all. It is going to take time to work out all the mechanical angles, but the basic concept along with very little capital outlay, appears to be a great idea.

Since the changing of Riverside to the one-way Street several weeks ago, during my office hours there seems to be adequate number of available spaces for parking, future study might provide additional spaces available for employees of various adjacent businesses. However, if more people enjoyed walking or bicycling to work, parking would be even less of a problem.

HOMESPUN DEVOTIONS

by Pauline E. Spray

Trust in the Lord . . . (Psalm 37:3)

When I was a child, I thought my father was a combination of Superman and a miracle worker. I believed he could do anything. If Dad was around when a stranger came to our house, as tramps often did in those days, we had no need to fear, for we felt certain he was strong enough to protect us all. When a bad windstorm came up, we children didn't worry if our father was close by. We were confident nothing could harm us while he was near. We were carefree. Why shouldn't we be? With Dad around there was no need to entertain an anxious thought.

Our children had the same implicit faith in their father when they were small. They did not worry from one meal to the next, lest there by nothing to eat. And when we traveled, they slept confidently and securely in the back seat because Daddy was at the wheel.

Children trust their earthly parents without hesitation. So ought Christians to trust their Heavenly Father. Childlike trust brings His smile of approval. Implicit faith in Him also brings rest, peace, and happiness.

We have every reason to put our utmost confidence in our Heavenly Father - "He can do anything!"

Prayer: Heavenly Father, there are no impossibilities with Thee. Thou art able to do all things. I am safe in Thy care. My confidence is in Thee. I trust Thee implicitly. Amen.

Yes, 'tis sweet to trust in Jesus,

Just from sin and self to cease;

Just from Jesus simply taking Life and rest, and joy and peace.

Cub Reunion

The Fallasburg Park Cub Baseball Team Reunion was held at Fallasburg Park, Sunday, August 18, 1985. It was a great success, the weather turned out beautiful after a night of thunder storms.

Mr. and Mrs. Topp did another outstanding job on making the hamburger fry and reunion a big success. Jim did the hamburgers the best, as usual. Jim Topp's wife, Elva, baked and brought some homemade cookies, tomatoes and pickles. The Topp's also brought several bouquets of Dahlias, from their beautiful garden. The Dahlias made our tables look beautiful. Each of the ladies took a bouquet home with them.

Mrs. Karen Mason, wife of Cubs star first baseman, asked several questions about dates, games, etc., as she hopes to write a book on the Cubs baseball team soon.

Former Lowell graduates begin football season at GVS

Coach Tom Beck of Grand Valley State will greet 108 football candidates Sunday, August 18, when the Lakers open the drills for the 1985 season. Among them are Lowell graduates Terry Bellak, a defensive end and Paul Rozich at tackle.

Beck, who will be starting his first season at G.V.S.C., will welcome a group of 35 lettermen back from last year's squad which failed to win a game.

The Lakers will hold two-day drills in preparation for its regular season opener, September 7, University of Wisconsin-Stout, in Menominee, Wisc.

Beck, replaces Bob Giesey, who resigned in November. In the Spring of 1984 Beck worked under Mark Levy as offensive backfield coach of the Chicago

Blitz. The 44-year old Chicago native has coached at Illinois Benedictine College and at Elmhurst College. Beck turned both of those programs around and in 13 years at the collegiate level, he has an 87-34-1 (71.4) record which ranks fifth among winningest active coaches in Division II.

Assisting Beck will be Frank Pergolozzi, Defensive Coordinator; Dale Carlson, Offensive Line; Thaddeus Buggs, Linebacker; Tim Johnson, Receivers; Brian Houser, Defensive Line and Dave Winham, Running Backs.

Grand Valley has only 13 seniors on the squad. Forty-one freshmen have been invited to try out for varsity along with 30 sophomores and 24 juniors.

It's not too late for students to get Federal Financial Aid

The best solutions for meeting the rising cost of college require long-term financial planning. But for someone who is about to begin the fall semester, a more immediate solution is needed. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, anyone facing the financial crunch of college costs should be familiar with federal government financial aid programs.

Federal financial aid offers students loans, grants and jobs to help defray rising college costs. If you think you may qualify for federal financial aid and have not already applied for the coming semester, you should do so immediately. Some schools will defer all or part of your payments while your application is being processed, the CPAs say.

Of the six federally subsidized financial aid programs, five have some sort of needs test for eligibility. The key factor in qualifying is whether a student is dependent or independent. Dependent students are those who receive more than $750 a year from their parents, are claimed as a dependent by their parents or live with their parents for more than six months of the year. Dependent students are eligible for federal financial aid based upon their family income. Independent students, however, qualify for aid based upon their personal income level.

One new eligibility requirement has been added to the federal financial program: registration for the draft. All students must check one of several reasons offered in the financial aid application for failing to register. Here is a rundown of the six federally funded financial aid programs:

GUARANTEED STUDENT LOANS (GSLs) allow you to borrow money from a bank and have part of the interest paid by the federal government. You need not begin repaying a GSL until six months after you graduate or leave school. Currently, someone who borrows under the GSL program will pay an eight percent interest rate on the loan. That's about half the rate of consumer installment loans that is being offered by most lenders. GSL repayment is stretched out over 10 years, which makes any long-term inflationary pressures work to the advantage of a borrower, CPAs say.

You can borrow up to $2,500 a year in five undergraduate years under the GSL program. The actual loan amount is reduced to about $2,300, however, by loan origination fees you must pay the lender. To qualify for a GSL you must meet a "needs test" if your family's adjusted gross income is over $30,000. But families well beyond the $30,000 income level could receive GSLs, depending on their net worth and the number of children attending college.

PELL GRANTS are awards given to students who demonstrate a financial need. Unlike a loan, an award under the Pell program does not have to be repaid. However, strict qualifications demonstrating financial need must be met in order to be eligible for this grant. As a rule of thumb, a student whose family income is greater than $30,000 probably will not qualify for a Pell Grant. The amount you receive if you qualify varies from $200 to $2,100, based on your financial need and the cost of the college you attend.

PARENT LOANS FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS (PLUS) offer families a "quick fix" for cash flow problems. PLUS loans should be used by parents to make up for any temporary shortfalls in cash. You can borrow up to $3,000 a year at a 12 percent finance rate, but you must begin repayment within 60 days after the loan is granted. You won't have to demonstrate financial need for PLUS. The CPAs say a family may use this loan if a lump sum of cash is expected in the near future.

Three other financial aid programs are doled out by individual colleges based upon need. You may qualify for this aid at one college but not another. Much of this money may have already been allotted to students who applied for aid last spring. These three programs are not available on every campus.

NATIONAL DIRECT STUDENT LOANS allow students to borrow up to $6,000 over the period of their undergraduate training at a five percent finance rate. Repayment begins six months after you graduate, leave school or drop below half-time status. Repayment extends over 10 years.

SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS are also awarded on campus based upon financial need. Awards range from $200 to $2,000.

COLLEGE WORK-STUDY PROGRAMS provide students with part-time jobs, usually on campus. About nine percent of all first-year college students held these jobs in the 1984-85 school year.

FFA Team Honored

Members of the Lowell High School FFA team were recently recognized by MABC-Select Sires from being one of the top 22 dairy teams in the state. From L. To R. are: Mike Hale and Paul Wilcox. The team earned a gold award in the 1985 state FFA judging contest.

The Lowell High School FFA team was honored by MABC-Select Sires at their 30th annual Dairy Recognition Day held in mid-June in Elsie, Michigan. The team finished as one of the top 22 teams in dairy judging in the state of Michigan.

Representing Lowell FFA at the event were: Mike Hale and Paul Wilcox.

Over 100 youth attended the day-long program which featured a discussion on careers in agriculture by Dr. Russ Erickson, Michigan State University Animal Science Department.

An explanation of linear trait evaluation of cattle was given by Jim Day, MABC-Select Sires Dairy Coordinator. This involves ranking individual traits on a cow from 1 to 9. These skills were used by the group in a judging contest in the afternoon.

A linear contest was held at Green Meadow Farms, Elsie. The Green's milk about 1,500 registered Holsteins and have recently built a new 32 stall polygon milking parlor, the largest in the state. The group also viewed the Green's new methane digester which converts animal waste to electricity.

MACB-Select Sires is a farmer-owned and controlled artificial insemination (A.I.) cooperative, serving the genetic improvement needs of dairy and beef breeders throughout Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin. Headquartered in Lansing, the cooperative is one of 11 members of the nationally recognized Select Sires federation.

News from Congressman PAUL HENRY

An official U.S. military sugar cookie contains exactly 0.5 percent sodium aluminum phosphate. No more. No less. If you don't believe it, check the military specifications for sugar cookie mix—all 16 pages of it.

Cookie mix is only the beginning. Coffee requires 25 pages of specifications, whipped cream 20 pages, and so on down the list. In all, a square meal for the average soldier involves more pages of specifications than the 400 pages used to build a commercial 707 jet airplane.

In all, there are more than 26,000 similar military documents for common items procured by the Army, Navy and Air Force. The problem is that the detailed and cumbersome specifications the military uses to ensure it gets what it wants also can interfere with getting the best products at the cheapest price.

Many companies do not find it economical to alter their commercial products to meet military specifications and, as a result, do not compete for Pentagon contracts. The contracts are left to a few -- often only one -- contractor, who in fact often writes the regulations to eliminate any competition.

The specifications problem is not limited to simple or inexpensive items such as sugar cookies. It affects large defense projects as well. Take, for example, the AWACs airplane now being used by the U.S. military and some of our allies. The AWACs is roughly similar to the commercial 707. But the AWACs specifications add up to 16,000 pages, the 707's only 400.

One of the objectives of Congress is to reform the Pentagon's procurement system to reduce unnecessary paperwork. To address the problem, the Pentagon is being urged to describe only in general terms the everyday items it desires -- opening up competition to a number of companies and reducing the bureaucratic overload which now exists.

The problem is much of Pentagon spending is not lack of caution, rather lack of common sense. If only Grandma could send them some of that, too.

Mayor Maatman turned the meeting over to Councilman Thompson Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, who opened the Public Hearing on the request of Mr. Blair Cahoon for a variance from the 1,600 square footage requirements in an R-1 Single Family Residential Zone, to allow the placement of a modular home unit on property at the corner of Gee Dr. and Alden Nash Ave. of 1,248 square feet.

Manager Quada explained the Planning Commission's review and subsequent raising of square footage requirements in the Zoning Code Revision adopted in 1981, to protect the area in keeping with the larger new homes being built there. They have since agonized over the decision in several areas, because of the increasing number of variance requests. However, they have recommended that the Zoning Code requirements stand as they are, until such time as a decision to lower the entire area is made, rather than allow reductions on a piecemeal basis by variances.

Mr. Cahoon made his presentation with photographs of the intended home, explaining that it is a "pre-constructed" unit just like any other house, with a full basement, and an attached garage. The garage, while not included in the square footage of living space requirements, makes the home look larger, and is in keeping with the size of the other homes in the immediate area. Homes visible on Alden Nash and Gee Dr. range from 900 to 1,300 square feet. The 1,600 square feet homes are located off Gee Dr. on a private drive that cannot be seen from Mr. Cahoon's property.

Mr. Stuessy, who owns neighboring property on Alden Nash stated that he has no problem with the size of the home, stating that he feels the requirements are too high for young people to start out today, that his home will be in line with others in the area, and certainly will not detract from the neighborhood.

Manager Quada stated that he had received two letters and several phone calls against the variance, but explained that many people think of "modular" as a "mobile home" rather than a "pre-constructed" unit. After an explanation, most are satisfied.

Chairman Thompson closed the hearing at 8:14 p.m.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins that the variance be granted supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

The next item of discussion was a right of ingress and egress through the Senior Citizen Park on Main Street, located next to the building purchased by Mr. Mike Tummino and Mr. Gerald Patton.

Manager Quada explained that the Planning Commission has reviewed the request for placement of the emergency door and windows on the east wall of the building, and placement of a sidewalk the length of the building for access to the parking area behind the building, and recommended approval. They have offered to maintain the park through all seasons, grass mowing, snow removal, etc. in exchange for their request. The Planning Commission added a stipulation that the walkway be allowed for one year, and if, within that time there is any adverse affect to the park, it would be made into a covered walkway.

Mr. Patton was present and briefly explained again their division and use of the building.

Manager Quada asked if they would accept the ownership of the wall, which belongs to the City, since the collapse of the building that did sit on the park site, and is actually the interior wall of that building.

Mr. Patton stated yes, they would accept it if they would be allowed to make proposed changes, otherwise it would be of no use to them.

Councilman Thompson asked that they come back to Council in the future if they should decide to make any other changes that might affect the park.

Manager Quada suggested that perhaps it would be in the best interests of both parties to enter into a written agreement with all the stipulations spelled out so as to avoid any confusion at a later date.

Council concurred and the Mayor and Manager were instructed to execute such an agreement allowing the proposed installation of the door and windows, and a walkway.

Mayor Maatman then introduced Mr. Milton Rohwer of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce who is seeking funding from area municipalities for the Right Place Program, which matches the right people for the right jobs.

Mr. Rohwer began by asking Council if they were wondering why someone from Grand Rapids is in Lowell asking for money. He stated that Lowell is part of the entire area economic community and that the number of job-age people younger than retirement age is growing. The Right Place Program is designed to locate and create jobs for that market. It is a 3.7 million dollar project, with 1/3 of the funds being requested from the public sector, and 2/3 from the private sector. It is handled by direct mail to industries to entice industry to our area, thereby creating new jobs, and existing industry to create more jobs. He stated that this was an initial explanation of the program and that they would be asking for actual funds at a later date.

Mayor Maatman stated that the Council would take the request under advisement and discuss the funding with budget appropriations.

Councilman Collins asked why, if the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce is "pro Michigan" why did they hire an advisory firm from Ohio?

Mr. Rohwer explained that they had interviewed six or seven firms, and that this firm had the best ideas and costs.

Next discussed was a request from Mr. Steve Larkin for a Special Use Permit to allow the construction of an outdoor patio area adjacent to the west side of Larkin's Saloon.

Mr. Larkin was present and explained that the area would be completely fenced in with no access except from the interior of his business. He stated that his intent is simply to create a nice atmosphere for customers to eat outside during the summer months. Two horseshoe game areas will be constructed at the rear of the area now reserved for parking. He stated that the patio area would not be very large. A grassy yard area would be maintained. The parking lot is very seldom used, because of the difficulty in getting a car in and out, because the turning radius is so small.

Council asked about parking for apartment renters who live above the Saloon, and noise from customers bothering them and the neighbors who live above the Strand Theater.

Mr. Larkin explained that none of the renters park there, they park in back or in the City lot; and that as far as noise, the area would only be used during the food serving hours, he would not allow customers to remain out there until the 2:00 a.m. closing time.

A discussion followed in which Manager Quada pointed out that one of the requirements for an establishment such as Larkin's is that they must maintain at least 50% of their trade in food sales, and that Larkin's has always had at least 65% food sales.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the Special Use Permit be granted to Larkin's Saloon for an outdoor patio eating area, supported by Councilman Collins.

Carried.

Manager Quada then announced that the bid for excavating the softball diamonds, ice rink, parking lot and installation of bleachers at the West End Park, has been awarded to Kenneth Shaler. He explained that some of the money saving alternatives in the bid would be picked up, and that funds would come from Federal Revenue Sharing, the Look and Lee Funds in combination for the $93,000 cost.

Councilman Collins stated that portable bleachers and the moving kit are much more expensive than permanently placed ones, and asked why the substitute, citing that he couldn't see why they would ever need to be moved from the site.

Manager Quada stated that he would check on the difference in price and report back to Council.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Thompson, supported by Councilman Fonger that the bid award to Kenneth Shaler for $93,000 for work at the West End Park be approved.

Carried.

Manager Quada asked that the consideration of the Kent County Solid Waste Plan be removed from the agenda, explaining that he would like to invite someone from the County to explain the plan in detail. He stated that it will have no immediate impact on the City for perhaps the next five to ten years, but will eventually affect us. He will arrange to have someone from the County attend the next meeting.

The next item for consideration was a request for transfer of the liquor license at the Hollow Restaurant from Mr. Gary Laux to the new owner, Mr. Robert BeVier. There are no problems with the transfer, it is just a requirement of the State Liquor Commission that it be approved by the local governmental body.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Fonger that the transfer of the liquor license from Gary Laux to Robert BeVier be approved, supported by Councilman Schneider.

Carried.

There were no remarks from the audience.

Under remarks from Council, Councilman Collins asked if there had been any complaints about this year's Macker Tournament.

Manager Quada replied that there were none. There was complete cooperation and the whole tournament had been excellently handled.

Councilman Schneider commented that the Main Street Tree Placement Program was awfully slow in getting done.

Manager Quada replied that it is due to the manufacture of the aggregate planters that is causing delay. As soon as Gross and Associates receives them they place and fill them. It is an added "plus" in the Main Street Beautification Plan.

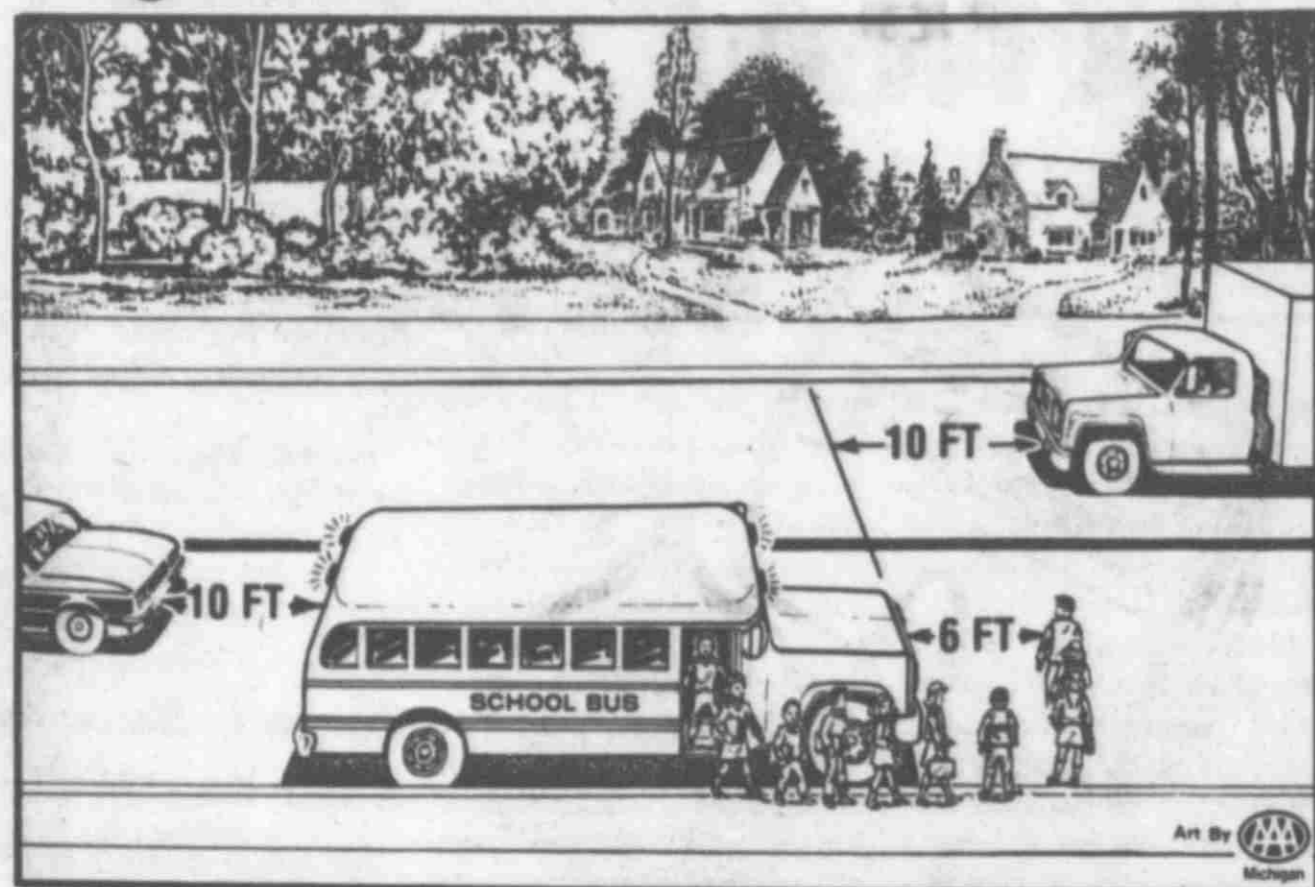

Under the Managers' Report, Manager Quada thanked the Council for their support of him and his sons through a very difficult time in their lives, in the death of his wife, Kathie.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Collins to adjourn at 9:34 p.m.

Traffic Safety Education Programs Offered

To cut down on traffic mishaps involving school buses, AAA Michigan advises motorists and student pedestrians to follow certain safeguards. Michigan law requires motorists in both directions to halt 10 feet on either side of a stopped school bus displaying flashing red lights. Students should always cross at least six feet in front of the bus in clear view of the bus driver and be alert for all traffic. Seven persons died in accidents involving school buses during the 1984-85 school year. AAA and the Michigan Association for Pupil Transportation are co-sponsoring a series of statewide traffic safety education programs on school bus safety.

MUCC seeking ban on wine cooler containers

Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) has joined with Attorney General Frank Kelley in seeking a ban on throwaway wine cooler containers sold in Michigan.

Liquor Control Commission to seek public comment and approve new rules requiring deposits on wine cooler containers.

In a letter to the Commission, MUCC Executive Director Thomas L. Washington noted that the panel has the authority to require deposits on wine cooler containers under Michigan's "Bottle Bill," approved by voters in 1976.

"Since the initiative took effect in 1978, the total amount of solid waste generated in Michigan has been reduced by 600,000 tons per year," Washington's letter stated. "As the organization that led the fight to enact the 'bottle bill,' we feel that a deposit requirement for wine cooler containers is an important step toward complying with the spirit and intent of the law."

Washington vowed to take the issue directly to the voters if the Liquor Control Commission and the Legislature fail to act on the rule change.

Lowell Industrial Pretreatment Program PUBLIC NOTICE

The City of Lowell in accordance with the requirements of their NPDES permit, has submitted a request to implement an Industrial Waste Pretreatment and Nondomestic User Control Program. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) has reviewed the program documents and determined that the submittal is administratively complete as set forth in the Federal Pretreatment Regulations (40 CFR 403.9(b), January 28, 1981). The Department has notified the permittee that the submittal is complete and has provided comments concerning its adequacy.

The intent of the Industrial Pretreatment Program is to prevent the discharge from industrial and nondomestic sources to municipal treatment facilities of toxic pollutants that may interfere with the municipal wastewater treatment process, that may pass through the municipal facility and pollute the receiving waters, or that may contaminate the municipal sludge and prevent the recycling or the reuse of this sludge. The City of Lowell has identified nondomestic sources that may discharge problem pollutants and has proposed control mechanisms to set local discharge limitations, where necessary, to prevent the discharge of these pollutants at unacceptable levels.

Comments or objections to the proposed pretreatment program received by September 25, 1985 will be considered in the final decision to approve or deny the request to implement. The Department will public notice its final decision. Persons desiring information regarding the proposed pretreatment program or procedures for commenting should contact the Grand Rapids District Office, Surface Water Quality Division, 616-456-6231. Written Comments or request for public hearing should be sent to Bruce Moore, Pretreatment Program, Surface Water Quality Division, MDNR, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, Michigan, 48909. Copies of the proposed pretreatment program may be reviewed at the Grand Rapids District Office, 6th Floor, State Office Building, 350 Ottawa Street, S.W., Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Coast Guard accepting applications for nationwide competition

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1990. Applications are being accepted for both men and women. Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 15, 1985. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the December 14, 1985 administration for the ACT, and the December 7, 1985 administration for the SAT. The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields. To qualify for the competition, and applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1986. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1985. Regulations stipulate that all applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical requirements. Coast Guard Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Science degree with a strong academic emphasis on engineering and science. The selected major studies, when combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensigns in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools, in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting, and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard Officer. The Coast Guard performs essential humanitarian missions vital to the safety and savings of lives at sea. Under the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard establishes and coordinates search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintains advanced electronic and other aids to navigation scattered around the globe, operates the icebreakers which clear the way for all polar expeditions, and enforces marine law and all aspects of merchant marine safety. In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

State Police enforcing 55 m.p.h. speed limit in Michigan

Confirming earlier news reports, Col. Gerald L. Hough, Director of State Police reviewed plans for stepped-up enforcement of the 55 M.P.H. speed limit throughout Michigan.

Hough met recently with Department of Transportation Director, Jim Pitz and both expressed concern that the state motorists are not in compliance with Federal mandates that require at least fifty per cent adherence to the 55 M.P.H. limit. Penalties for non-compliance could cost Michigan millions of dollars in Federal highway funds. Pitz said his department's studies for a nine-month period ending in June, showed 51 per cent of the state's drivers exceed the 55 limit. He also said the studies show nearly 89 per cent of motorists on urban freeways drive faster than 55.

State Police will use aircraft for speed timing, unmarked patrol cars and target areas where speeding has become chronic. Hough identified such areas that would include (but not be limited to) I-75 south of Detroit, I-96 between Lansing and Detroit and I-94 in southwestern Michigan. He also said some patrol units may be equipped with Vascar, a speed timing device not affected by radar detectors.

In long range planning, Hough believes that legislation will be needed to keep speed compliance in check. He listed seeking a ban on radar detectors, increasing the number of penalty points a driver receives for violation of the 55 limit and the authorization for officers in the department's Motor Carrier Division to issue citations to motor vehicle operators across the board. The MCD now regulates commercial carriers only (trucking).

Colonel Hough feels that drivers will heed appeals to comply with the speed law. "First of all it's a matter of safety. The 55 M.P.H. limit has proven to be a life saving law we can live with. Secondly, the loss of highway funds affects all of us. We need to educate the public on this issue and I'm sure the majority will respond," Hough said.

Speaking for the Department of Transportation, Director Pitz said, "If everyone will cooperate and slow down a little, we can save ten million dollars."

LAWN AND GARDEN TIPS

Q. Insects are chewing on the foliage in my yard. The damage is unsightly, but I'm more concerned about whether this will permanently harm my shrubs and trees. What can I do about this problem?

A. Plants depend on their leaves to convert sunlight into plant energy, in a process called photosynthesis. Plants generally have more leaf surface than they need to survive, but too much leaf surface loss can starve plants. In the United States, there are many different insect pests that damage plants and shrubs. The pests vary greatly from region to region. There are, however, broad spectrum insecticides, such as SEVIN® brand carbaryl, which are effective for homeowners across the country.

SEVIN® brand carbaryl insecticide eliminates more than 160 different insect pests. Always read the product label carefully before using any chemical product.

FROM THE COOKFIRES OF THE WORLD

Beans, which were among the first plants ever cultivated, are a great bargain... whether store-bought or homegrown. They're rich in protein, vitamins, and minerals, and when paired with whole grains, nuts and seeds, or dairy products, they provide complete proteins capable of replenishing the body's needs. Today, even greater emphasis is being placed on legumes as part of the solution to a hungry world that cannot always depend on meat as a primary protein source.

Of all legume dishes, one of the simplest to prepare is dhal. This Indian standard may be seasoned to suit your taste and is served over a bed of rice as a nutritious main dish. The following recipe adds cabbage, a "hardware vegetable" that's easy to store for long periods of time.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 cup of lentils or yellow split peas | 1 small tomato, diced (or 1 tablespoon of tomato paste) |
| 1 medium onion, sliced | 1 teaspoon of ground cumin |
| 2 cups (or more) of water or vegetable stock | 1 teaspoon of turmeric |
| 2 cups of shredded cabbage | 1/2 teaspoon of mustard |
| 1/4 cup of olive or vegetable oil | 1/4 teaspoon of cinnamon |
| 1 large onion, chopped | 1/4 teaspoon of ginger |
| 1 clove of garlic (or 1/2 teaspoon of garlic powder) | 1/4 teaspoon of ground coriander |
| | 4 whole cloves |
| | 2 tablespoons of lemon juice |
| | salt to taste |

In a saucepan, boil the lentils or peas and the first onion in the water for about 15 minutes. Next, add the cabbage and continue cooking until the lentils are soft, adding more water if needed. Now, in a skillet, heat the oil and sauté the second onion and garlic until they're golden, then add the tomato and seasonings (except the salt) and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Add the lemon juice, stir the mixture into the lentils, add salt as desired, and serve the dhal over steaming-hot brown rice. Accompany the dish with such condiments as sliced bananas, cucumbers with yogurt, or chopped tomatoes, green peppers, and raw onions. This recipe will provide four portions.

Here's another easy-to-prepare legume dish, one that's popular in the Caribbean.

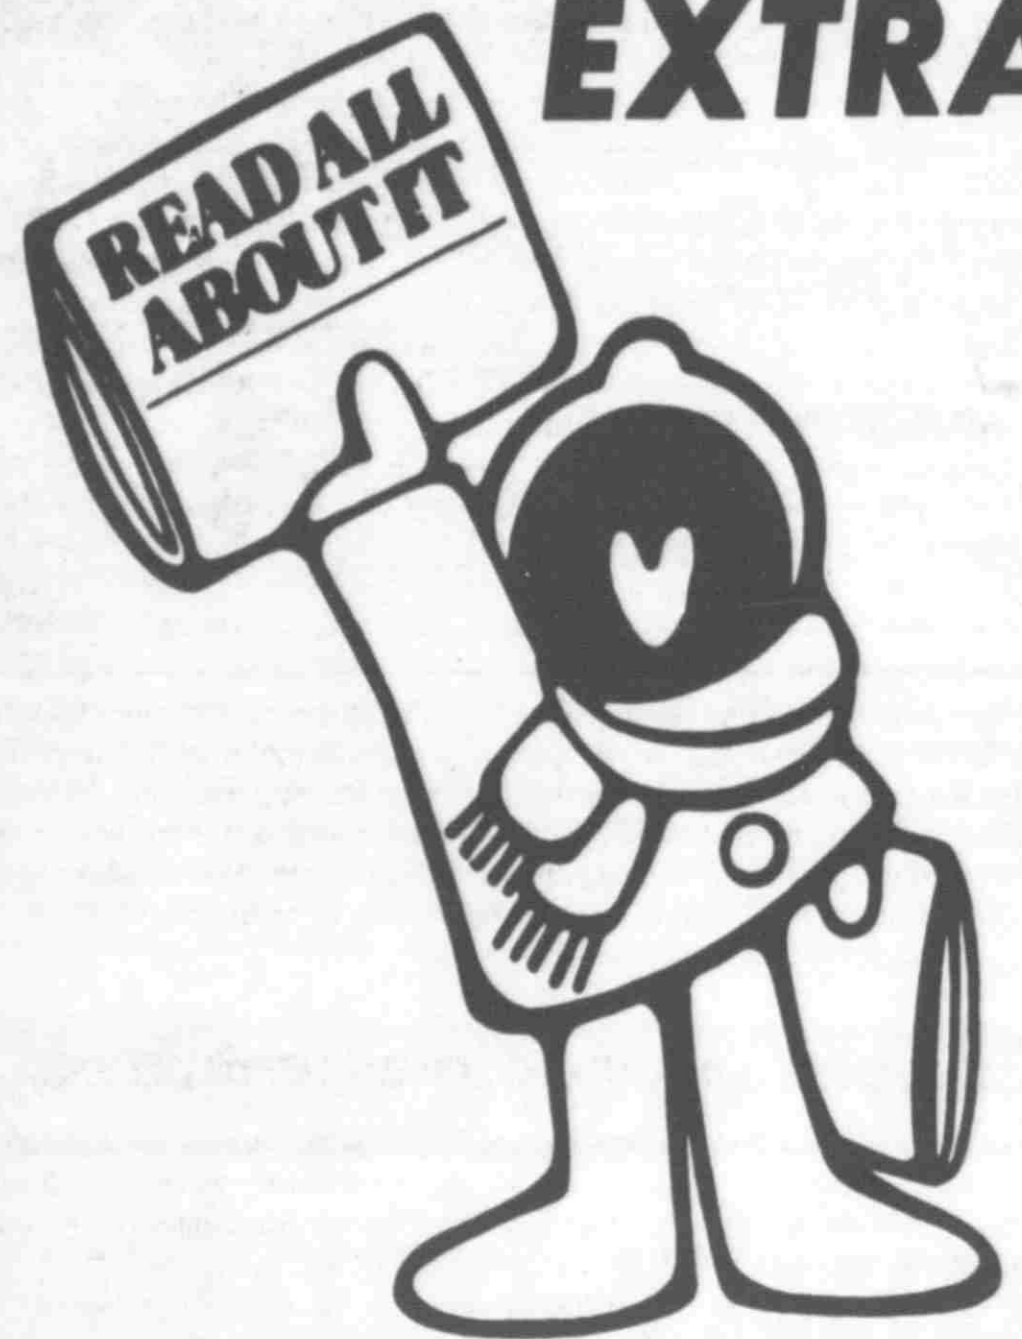

CUBAN BLACK BEANS AND RICE

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--|
| 1 pound of black or turtle beans | 1 green pepper, diced |
| 3 cups of water or vegetable stock | 2 teaspoons of salt |
| 1/2 cup of olive or vegetable oil | 1 teaspoon of ground pepper |
| 1 cup of chopped onion | 1 bay leaf |
| 1 clove of garlic, minced | 2 tablespoons of tamari |
| | 1/4 cup of wine vinegar |
| | hot cooked rice |
| | onion and hard-boiled eggs for garnish |

Rinse the beans and cover them with water to soak overnight. The next day, drain the legumes, add about 3 cups of fresh water, and bring to a boil. While they're cooking, sauté the onion, garlic, and green pepper in oil, and when tender, add them to the beans along with the seasonings, tamari, and wine vinegar. Cover the pot and simmer the mixture until the beans are soft, adding more water if needed. Serve with hot brown rice and a garnish of chopped raw onion and sliced hard-boiled eggs. This recipe provides six generous portions.

Parents beware of long-term planning to fund your child's education

Parents who are interested in making long-term plans to fund a child's education will have to make some careful choices in the next five months, before any tax measures are passed.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, tax rules on trusts and gifts for children are likely to be changed if a tax reform bill is adopted by Congress this fall. The President's tax plan, designed to promote fairness, economic growth and simplicity, may force many families to rethink their long-term strategy for funding a child's education. Right now, nobody knows if Congress will be able to pass a tax reform bill, much less exactly what a final version of the tax bill might say. That's still being decided in Congress. For contingency planning, however, it's important to know about the current rules on gifts and trusts and how they would be changed under the President's proposal.

Trusts and gifts have become a helpful answer to pay for soaring college costs. They can aid a middle-class family whose income is too high for federal financial aid, but strained by rising costs of college.

With a gift, a parent in a high tax bracket could give money or investment assets to a child who is in a much lower tax bracket. The income generated by the gift is taxed at the lower rate of the child. With a trust, the same income shifting occurs. But with certain kinds of trusts, parents can build a fund over a period of years while basically retaining control of the money during the life of the trust. Most importantly, assets contributed to the trust can return to the parent after a set period of time. But a gift is a gift.

Here's how income shifting typically helps a family under the current rules: The Smiths are in the 50 percent tax bracket in 1985, when they give their son a $20,000 certificate of deposit that annually yields 10 percent in investment income. The Smiths would have paid $1,000 in federal income tax on $2,000 of investment income, but their child, who is in the 15 percent tax bracket, pays just $300 in tax on the $2,000. By managing their money right, the Smiths get a $700 tax savings in 1985. Thanks to income shifting, the Smith family over the years will pay less in tax on the investment income generated by their $20,000 gift.

Under current rules, certain trusts provide the same tax savings as a gift. The Big difference between these trusts and a gift is that the amount originally set aside in the trust can be returned to the parents after a set period of time. Trusts that permit this are Clifford Trusts and Spousal Remainder Trusts.

According to tax experts, however, the proposed trust rules will effectively eliminate these trusts. That's because the rules proposed by the President say that all trusts will have to span the parents' lifetime in order to shift income from a parent to a child.

If you believe the rules proposed by the President will be adopted, you may want to consider establishing a Clifford or Spousal Remainder Trust before the end of this year. Income shifting trusts set up before then will be allowed to survive their term under proposed rules.

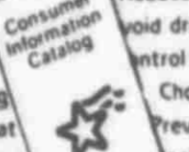

If you plan to set up an income shifting trust before 1986 or if you are thinking about giving your child a gift to start a college fund, there are some other changes proposed that you should know about. The new tax brackets proposed by the tax reform package put every taxpayer in the 15 percent, 25 percent or 35 percent tax bracket. A parent currently in the top bracket of 50 percent would lose 15 percent of the tax saving benefit of shifting income through a trust or gift under proposed rules. That's because the new top tax bracket would be 35 percent. The Smiths, who had saved $700 by income shifting before 1986, would save $400 under the new bracket structure. In other words, income shifting would still be viable, but not as attractive, CPAs say.

The proposed rules will also affect a child under the age of 14 who receives more than $2,000 a year in investment income through parents' gifts or trusts. Those children will have any amounts above the $2,000 level taxed at the parents' higher tax rate. Once the child is 14 years old, the $2,000 passive income cap is eliminated.

For more information about setting up a short-term trust, how your existing trust will be affected or how to cope with the $2,000 income cap, consult your local CPA who can answer specific questions about your personal situation.

Taking Stock Of Your Landscaping

Early fall is probably the best time of the year to evaluate your landscaping: What's been growing successfully through spring and summer? What's been struggling along for 2 or 3 years—in spite of your best efforts? Should some of the trees that dominate your yard be taken down to give more light and make room for more vegetables, shrubs and/or perennials? And (most important) what plantings bring birds and butterflies to your yard? And what does your local wildlife ignore?

My own yard is almost a year old now, and I've been watching it turn from a barren piece of land to a young—though still awkward—landscape. I've been taking notes on what's going on in my 9,000 (more or less) square feet of yard. I can see now that planting more evergreens for wildlife winter cover is a must. I'll probably put in some of the many holly varieties available. On the other hand, the purple leaf plum tree that came with the house probably has to go. Although it's attractive, its fruit fails to attract birds; instead the tree attracts numerous insect pests. I'm thinking of replacing the plum with, perhaps, a Korean mountain ash (Sorbus alnifolia) which produces many berries well into winter and has few pest problems.

Along with my usual fall gardening chores (including the replanting of the tulip bulbs I dug up in June, giving the bulb beds a healthy dose of bone meal, etc.), I'll soon be planting some shrubs I've been nursing along for some time. Last winter I collected a variety of cuttings from shrubs that provide good food or cover for wildlife. I kept the cuttings refrigerated in damp peat moss until April when I put them out in a planting bed. A couple of months ago I transplanted them to individual containers—from which they'll go into the ground soon. I'll group them by threes and fives; each group will eventually occupy about 60 to 100 square feet, replacing much of what is now lawn. These shrubs include:

Buttonbush (Cephalanthus occidentalis), a good, dense wetland shrub that also grows well in yards and provides food and nesting cover for birds. Its fragrant flowers attract butterflies and hummingbirds.

American elderberry (Sambucus canadensis), which has clusters of large white flowers in May and June and black berries in July and August. The berries appeal to birds as well as to those of us who like good pies and elderberry wine. The fall foliage is attractive.

Silky dogwood (Cornus amomum), a good habitat shrub which has dense reddish or purple twigs good for nesting. Its May/June creamy-white flowers often attract the spring azure butterflies, and its blue berries attract birds from September through November. Its lovely foliage is scarlet.

How's your yard doing—as habitat for both you and your wildlife? Right now is a good time to take stock.

For more information about wildlife around your home, contact the National Wildlife Federation, Dept. BN, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036-2266.

Lowell Area Schools Food Service Program

We are again at that time of year when "moms" are eager to send their children off to school and we will be ready to serve lunches to them starting Tuesday, August 27, 1985. Due to the rising cost of food and labor and the uncertainty of Federal Funding, we have found it necessary to raise the price of school lunches. The prices this year will be 85¢ in the Alto, Bushnell and Runciman Schools and 90¢ in the Middle and Sr. High Schools. These prices include milk. Adult lunches will be $1.45 in all schools. Milk alone, for both students and adults, will be 25¢.

We again invite the students from St. Mary's School to join us for lunch in the Bushnell School Cafeteria.

BUSHNELL SCHOOL:
Mrs. Norma Noall, Mrs. Norma Gochenour, Mrs. Sharon Glenn

RUNCIMAN SCHOOL:

MIDDLE SCHOOL:

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL:
Mrs. Ruth Hoag, Mrs. Beatrice Rathbun, Mrs. Christine Osmolinski, Mrs. Pat Condon, Mrs. Gwen Fosburg, Mrs. Judy Dine, Mrs. Julie Kenney

VAN DRIVER:
Mr. Melvin Rogers

Students may purchase lunch tickets every morning in their rooms at the Alto, Bushnell and Runciman/Riverside buildings, and in the Middle School cafeteria, before school starts. St. Marys and Sr. High students may pay when they go through the lunch lines. Students may, if they wish, bring their money for the whole week on Monday morning in all the schools. This is not mandatory but we will provide this service for the parents if they wish to take advantage of it.

Free and reduced price lunches are available upon proper application to families who qualify for the program. Free milk is not available as there is no federal reimbursement for milk. A letter to the parents and an application is included in this publication. Because of strict federal regulations the application is more detailed and must be made out in full before students may receive free or reduced priced lunches. Applications will also be available in all school offices. Parents who think they may be eligible must have their application in by Friday, August 16, 1985, in order to know if their children are eligible for the first day of school.

The cooks of the Lowell Area Schools will still offer good, nutritious meals with many choices every day. The students may choose all five components of the meal (protein, bread, vegetables, fruit and milk) or as few as three of the items and we will still be able to count it for federal reimbursement. We have found this eliminates plate waste. If cost allows, we will continue to bake our own bread, dinner rolls, cookies, casseroles, etc. "from scratch." We offer fresh fruits every day and fresh vegetables at least three times a week. We will offer a minimum of two entrees and a chef's salad, with a choice of cheese or meat, every day in the Middle and Sr. High Schools. In the Sr. High School, students may, if they wish, pick out individually priced items from our ala carte line. This, of course, costs more than the unit priced school lunch which includes milk. We sell ice cream, milk, orange drink and fresh fruits at our snack bar which will be open in the morning and after school. In addition, at noon we sell hot sandwiches, pizzas, and chef's salads.

We do not sell carbonated drinks, candy, gum or potato chips in our schools. It is because of the sincere dedication of our 23 cooks and van driver that we are able to serve good nutritious food, at the low prices to our Lowell Area Schools students.

Parents having any questions about School Food Service should call Mrs. Marilyn Bovee at 897-8415.

Reduced Rate Lunch Information:

August, 1985

Dear Parent or Guardian:

The Lowell Area Schools serves nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for 85¢ in the Alto, Bushnell, and Runciman/Riverside Schools and 90¢ in the Middle and High Schools. Milk is included in the price of lunch. For those who wish to buy just milk, it will cost 25¢.

Children from families whose income is at or below the level shown on the scale listed below may be eligible for either free meals or meals at a reduced price of 40 cents for lunch.

To apply at any time during the year for free or reduced price meals for your children, complete the attached application and return it to the school. Within 10 days of receiving your application, the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible. Please answer all questions on the form. All applications must include the names of household members, total household income by source of income for each household member or your food stamp case number if your household is on food stamps, social security number for each adult, and signature of an adult household member. If you wish to be eligible the first day of school lunches, August 27, 1985, the application must be in my office by Friday, August 16, 1985.

If during the school year, there are changes in your family size or substantial changes in your income, you must report such changes to the school's officials in order that appropriate eligibility adjustments are made. Children of unemployed persons may be eligible.

Verification - The information on the application may be verified at any time during the school year. If an applicant refuses to cooperate with efforts to verify the information on the application, eligibility will be denied or terminated.

Foster Children - In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and you wish to apply for such means for them, please report the information regarding foster children on the application.

Nondiscrimination - All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color, national origin, or handicap.

Mid-Year Application - If you do not wish to apply now or if you are not now eligible, you may apply for benefits any time during the school year. Please contact the school at any time during the school year to apply for meal benefits.

Reporting Changes - If you are approved for meal benefits, you must report any changes in household size and increases in income of more than $50 a month or $600 per year. If you are not eligible for benefits now, you may apply for benefits during the school year if your income decreases or household size increases or if you become unemployed. Call the school official listed at the end of this letter to report changes.

Social Security Number - You must provide the social security number of all household members 21 years or older. If the person has no social security number, indicate that application has been made for one; or if the person is ineligible, indicate that none can be acquired. If you do not provide this information, benefits will be denied.

Fair Hearing - If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application, you may wish to discuss it with the school. If you wish to review the decision further, you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing: Fritz Esch, Superintendent of Lowell Area Schools, 12685 Foreman Road, Lowell, Michigan 49331. Phone: 897-8415.

We hope that the changes in the application do not create confusion. If I can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

CONFIDENTIALITY: The information you provide will be treated confidentially and will be used only for eligibility determinations and verification of data.

Marilyn Bovee, School Food Service Supervisor Phone: 897-8415

FOSTER CHILDREN---In certain cases foster children are eligible for free or reduced price meals regardless of your household income. These children are considered to be a household of one. If your child is a foster child as described in category A or B below, place a check in the proper box.

- () A. The welfare agency or court is legally responsible for the child and the foster home is, in fact, an extension of the welfare agency or court.
- () B. The child is a resident of a licensed "Group Foster" home or a residential institution.

Only the foster child's spending money is counted as income on this application. Spending money is: money received in hand for the personal use of the child from a welfare agency, the child's family, a trust account, earnings from regular employment, and so on. Do not include money from occasional or part-time jobs like paper routes and babysitting.

List of his/her spending money per month $ _____

If you have any questions or if you have a foster child who does not fit under category A or B, as described above, please contact the school.

OPTIONAL

RACE: Please check your child's racial or ethnic group. You are not required to answer this question. We need this information to be sure everyone receives benefits on a fair basis.

- White, not of Hispanic Origin
- Black, not of Hispanic Origin
- Hispanic
- Asian or Pacific Islander
- American Indian or Alaskan Native

No child will be discriminated against because of race, color, handicap, national origin, sex or age.

PRIVACY ACT INFORMATION -- SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS

Federal law (P.L. 97-35) requires you to list social security numbers of all adult household members before your child may receive free or reduced price meals. You do not have to give social security numbers, but if you refuse your child cannot receive free or reduced price meals. The social security numbers may be used to identify you for verifying the information you report on this application. Verification may include audits, investigations, contacting the State employment security office, food stamp office, and employers, and checking the written information provided by the household to confirm the information received. If incorrect information is discovered, a loss of benefits or legal action may occur. These facts must be told to all household members whose social security numbers are reported on this form.

In Memory

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Craig Eley who died one year ago, August 18, 1984.

We miss you more than anyone knows,
As each day passes, the emptiness grows,
The tears in our eyes we can wipe away,
But the ache in our hearts will always stay.
No one knows the grief that we bear,
When we look for you, and you're not there.
You left us suddenly, your thoughts unknown,
But you left us memories, that we're proud to own.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
for in our hearts you had a place, that no one else could fill.

For those who still have a son, Cherish him with care, you'll never know how much you will miss him, until he isn't there.

Deeply missed by

Bicycle racers will take to the streets of Lowell this Saturday

This Saturday will have Lowell just rolling along. Lowell will be the host City this weekend for a bicycle race promoted by the Rapid Wheelmen Bicycle Club of Grand Rapids. Over 300 cyclists are expected to attend from all over the Midwest. The Lowell Race is the second part of a three part stage race held also in Rockford on Sunday. Saturday morning will see the racers competing against the clock individually on Grand River Drive.

Saturday afternoon the racers move to the streets of Lowell in a short, fast race called a criterium. The start-finish line is near Jackson and High Streets, and the course itself will encompass a four block area through the East side of town.

Grand Rapids native Jeff Ens-ing, the 1984 National Champion in this event, will be competing along with Rockford's Kirk Ditterich, National Junior (age 16-17) Worlds Camp Qualifier.

Most of the races are events which you must be licensed with the United States Cycling Federation in order to compete. There are races also open to anyone age 14 and up. You must have a helmet and a bike in good working condition. Registration is at 11:30 A.M. in back of the Methodist Church parking lot.

Races start at noon and finish about 6 P.M.

Of course, there is no admission charge for spectators and you should feel free to bring out your lawnchair for an afternoon of thrills and action.

The race is being sponsored by David G. Durkee, O.D. in Lowell and The Little Red Shoehouse, Visser Chevrolet, and The Rockford Chamber of Commerce in Rockford.

Cable rate hike approved

Back in January the Lowell City Council approved a $1.00 rate hike in Lowell Cable Television's basic monthly fee. At that time, LCTV requested another increase of $1.00 that would go into effect on July 1, 1985. The Council balked at the second request and told LCTV representatives to submit their plan for a second increase when the time came. At Monday night's Council meeting, LCTV did just that. A request for an additional $1.00 was unanimously approved. The monthly fee for Lowell's 18 channel basic service will now be $10.00.

The request also called for Council approval of a request by LCTV allowing for automatic increases in rates for extra fee channels as they are boosted by the signal suppliers. The Council also agreed to that request. This means that whenever HBO, Cinemax, The Disney Channel or any of the other extra fee signal suppliers raise their rates to LCTV, they will in turn be reflected in increases to cable customers without being presented to the City Council for approval.

The Council also approved a resolution allowing LCTV to pay back the approximately $900,000 that it borrowed from Lowell Light & Power over a 50 year period with the interest to be adjusted annually. The resolution was reviewed and approved by City Attorney, Dick Wendt; City Auditor, Virgil Biggs and City Manager, Ray Quada. Quada commented that he feels the document meets all legal requirements and is fair to everyone, even those who are electric customers, but not cable TV customers.

In other Council business a transfer of the Class C Liquor License at Mel's Bar was authorized by the Council members. The bar is being sold to Granco, Inc., a corporation listing Erma L. Cheyne of 4593 Springwood Ct., Caledonia, as the only stockholder.

The Council approved a resolution that will allow the Lowell Planning Commission to review and approve or reject requests for signs with changeable letters in front of local businesses. The city banned all such signs in early July. Such signs will be limited to those permanently affixed to the business' existing sign. "Signs on trailers or their own stands, chained to telephone poles will not be considered," Quada said.

Dr. Robert Reagan, whose office is at the corner of Main and Riverside Drive, commended the Council on the new parking mall near his office. Contrary to negative comments from some of the other business owners in the area, Reagan is excited about the project. He says that the only time when there seems to be some congestion and lack of parking in the area is during the noon hour. Quada said many of the problems initially cited by business owners in the area have been ironed out, and the project is gaining popularity as people get used to it.

The Council also approved a zoning variance request from Jerry Schuivens of 420 Jefferson Street. Schuivens wants to build a garage with a peak height of 14'8", well above the zoning requirement of a 12' maximum. No negative comments were received as a result of letters sent to Schuivens' neighbors, so the Council members felt there was no reason to disapprove the request.

interest rates over the years, the assessments have been retired about two years early.

As a sidelight to the occasion, Anderson presented Mayor Jim Maatman with a book of the Lowell Village Council minutes from 1895 through 1906. Anderson found the book in the attic of his home at 504 Lincoln Lake. City Manager Ray Quada said that the volume Anderson found was the only one missing from the city archives. Anderson said that when he found the book, he knew at once were it belonged and decided to turn it over to the city. He said he hopes anyone with such historic documents would consider giving them to the proper authorities so that they can be preserved and shared with the community.
