Showboat thanks WCUZ for fund raising help

The familiar strains of "Waitin' For The Robert E. Lee" were heard in the Monroe Mall Amphitheatre last Thursday afternoon as the Lowell High School Band played during a Lowell Showboat salute to radio fund raising efforts. station WCUZ. Showboat directors planned the surprise "Thank they stepped forward with an You Rally" to honor WCUZ for offer to help. Plans were drawn its efforts in helping Showboat pay off a nagging $45,000 debt. In early 1982 the Showboat Showboat

Board of Directors made the WCUZ's organizational and painful decision to postpone further productions of the traditional summertime event, and concentrate on paying off the long term debt by staging various promotional assistance, the first benefit netted over $15,000. Foul weather the following year caused many of the weekend events to be cancelled, and resulted in poor crowds. Despite the weather, WCUZ still netted over $3,000 for the Showboat coffers. This year's WCUZ/ Budweiser Showboat Benefit again ran up against inclement weather, but the event managed to net yet another $5,000, plus.

The WCUZ fundraisers, other efforts such as car raffles, one night concerts and outright donations have been enough to pay annual expenses such as insurance, interest and maintenance, while reducing the long term debt to only what the Showboat Corporation owes the city. The city purchased the upper bleachers when the Showboat Amphithetre was built back in the early 70's. The City Council has agreed to forgive the debt in exchange for use of the bleachers at the softball fields at the new west end park. This all adds up to the fact that Showboat is essentially, "out of debt", the goal established by the board in 1982. "The Thank You Rally for WCUZ was a two-fold event", said Showboat President Ray Quada. "First, we wanted to thank WCUZ for their tremendous efforts in helping raise about $23,000 for us over the last three years. Secondly, we are announcing that we are indeed out of debt, and in the process of determining if we are going to produce a "Showboat" in 1986. "WCUZ has been an integral part of our fund raising efforts and we just wanted to show them (WCUZ) how much we appreciate them", Quada added. The rally took place at about 4:30 P.M. The Lowell High School Band under the direction of Robert Rice played three numbers, "Go Red Arrows", "Barbara Ann" and "Waitin' For the Robert E. Lee". Several Red Arrow cheerleading squads put together a special "Thank You WCUZ" cheer that they performed for the WCUZ personnel.

City pursues waste treatment plant without state or federal funding

The City of Lowell appears to be digging in for a fight with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and The Enviromental Protection Agency. Lowell has been ordered to construct a secondary waste water treatment plant, and have it operational by July 1, 1988. The problem with the order is, Lowell is out of the range of funded projects, and would have to foot the bill on its own. The current plans for a secondary treatment plant would cost about $5 million to develop. Lowell City Manager Ray Quada told the City Council at their regular meeting Monday evening. that such a project would result in monthly residential sewer costs of over $50. "That's just sewer, water would be on top of that", he said.

Quada talked at length about the city's position and the op-PRECISION & FASHION HAIRSTYLING - For both tions available. Quada said that he has recently learned that Lowell is the only one, of several municipalities in the state currently in non-compliance with discharge regulations, that has been ordered to meet the July 1. 1988 deadline set forth in the Federal Clean Waters Act. Quada says he has repeatedly asked both the D.N.R. and E.P.A. why Lowell has been singled out. Quada said that he was told that the order was issued because Lowell failed to meet an earlier order calling for an operational plant in 1985. Quada argues that the principle causes for the missed deadline has been D.N.R. and E.P.A. delays. He cited a document that the D.N.R. required the city to prepare. The city prepared the lengthy document, and sent it back to the D.N.R. They in turn sent the NOW TAKING BOOKINGS FOR your wedding photos. Pete & Lori Harwood 897-5880 after 5 P.M. Nov document to an out of state legal firm that took over a year to review it. The city then got the document back for a final review, which took another six months. "D.N.R. accused us of dragging our feet, when they took twice as long to review it as we did". Quada said. "Apparently they (the D.N.R.) think their review is more important than ours, even though we're the ones who will have to live with it", Ouada added.

"We have not only been complying with every request they make, we have been doing several things on our own to reduce our discharge and improve our current operation". Quada said. He cited $12,000 spent this year to repair sewer lines that were seeping into ground water, and the addition of a 24 hour testing device at the sewage treatment plant. Quada also cited the city's efforts to explore the possibility of a privately owned and oper-

AIDS is spread by sexual contact, needle sharing, or less commonly, through blood or it's components. The risk of getting AIDS is increased by having multiple sexual partners, either homosexual or heterosexual, and sharing of needles among those using illiicit drugs. The occurrence of the syndrome in hemophilia patients and persons receiving transfusions provides evidence for transmission through blood. It may be transmitted from infected mother to infant before, during, or shortly after birth. HOW LONG AFTER EXPOSURE TO HTLV-III DOES A PERSON DEVELOP AIDS?

The time between infection with the HTLV-II virus and onset of symptoms (the incubation period) seems to range from about 6 months to 5 years and possibly longer. Not everyone exposed to the virus develops AIDS.

There are no clear cut symptoms that indicate the loss of immunity. The diagnosis of AIDS depends on the presence of opportunistic diseases. Certain tests which demonstrat damage to various parts of the immune system, such as specific types of white blood cells, support the diagnosis. The presence of opportunistic diseases plus a positive test for antibodies to HTLV-III can also make possible a diagnosis of AIDS. This test for antibodies to HTLV-III is currently being used to screen donated blood and plasma, preventing cases of AIDS resulting from blood transfusions. Next week: Part III --- Prevention.

CURRENT FACTS ABOUT A.I.D.S. PART 2 In today's column we will continue our discussion on AIDS, a very serious public health concern.

HOW CONTAGIOUS IS AIDS?

Casual contact with AIDS patients or persons who might be at risk for the illness does NOT place others at risk for getting the illness. No case has been found where AIDS has been transmitted by casual household contacts with AIDS patients or persons at high risk for getting the illness. Although the AIDS virus has been found in saliva and tears, there have been no cases in which exposure to either was shown to result in transmission. Ambulance drivers police, and firefighters who have assisted AIDS patients have not become ill. Nurses, doctors, and health care personnel have not developed AIDS from caring for AIDS patients. However, health care and laboratory workers should follow safety procedures carefully when handling any blood and tissue samples from patients with potentially transmissible diseases, including AIDS.

If you watch the Pro Bowlers Tour, or you're an avid bowler. you've probably heard some talk about soft versus hard in the bowling ball. Today in The Bowling Corner we'll take a look at what is meant by "soft" and "hard", and what each can do for your game.

When you hear someone discuss these two terms while talking at 8 p.m. about a bowling ball, they're talking about the surface density of the shell of the ball. There is a guage that measures this density called a Durometer. If you've ever bowled in the ABC or WIBC Tournament, you'll know what I'm talking about. This guage is spring loaded and has a needle point that is pushed down onto the surface of the ball, which in turn gives you a reading of surface density on a guage face. Presently, a ready of 72 is the minimum softness a balls surface can be for league and tournament play.

Now, just what does a "soft" ball do on the lanes? The softer the ball, the more the ball will grip the lane, while on the other side of the coin, the harder the surface and the more the ball will slide. Most lane finishes are urethane presently, or a mix of urethane and a water base, and urethane is nothing more than a very hard and durable plastic. Because of this hard lane finish, you need a ball that will give you maximum gripping power to keep the ball from slidding too far. Hence, the softer the ball, the more the hook ... ususally. say usually because your proprietor has to protect his hard surface with coat of conditioner, or oil as it is more commonly referred to. And since the American Bowling Congress (ABC) doesn't specify how much or how little of this conditioner is to be used, you have a variety of playing conditions, which require a variety of bowling balls. House "A" may condition the lane down 22' from the foul line, while House "B" may go down 36'. One House may use a heavier conditioner than another, or the lanes may be conditioned by hand rather than by machine. All of these factors, plus a few more that I won't go into this week, all have an effect on your bowling ball as it travels down the lane.

I usually use this guide when I bowl in several different houses. If the ball is beginning to hook too early, I need to use a harder surface ball, or if it's not hooking at all, I need a softer surface ball. What does all this mean to you the bowler? Just this, if you bowl more than once a week, you need at least two bowling balls with you at all along. times. Let's face it, you never know just what kind of condition you might run into.

Hard versus soft, the controversy will continue until the day that bowling will become obsolete (which will be the second Friday of next week). If you're serious about your bowling, you simply need both in your arsenal to score well, and that's what this game is all about. If you're considering purchasing a new ball in the near fua ture, listen to what your pro shop operator has to say about the pros and cons of each before making your decision. A word of warning that some pro shops won't take too kindly to right now though, I'd wait until after the PBA and ABC come to a decision on the fate of a urethane bowling ball, especially if you bowl in tournaments. These two rulers of the bowling world are trying to put a ban on the use of any urethane ball that's on the market today. And I'd sure hate to see you spend over $100.00 for a ball that's going to be worthless if this ban is put into effect.

Next week in The Bowling Corner, we'll take a look at some of the upcoming tournaments in the area, and at some of the special events that the whole family can enjoy. Till then, TAKE THE FAMILY BOWLING, it's a great sport.

Who am I talking about? Jay? Jon? The shop cat? No, I am talking about "Big Guy". That's what Melinda tagged our aging typesetter. I say, "aging", he's only five years old, but in today's fast-changing computer age, five years might as well be an eternity. Besides, he really is showing signs of getting old. He sometimes loses his mem- Education and General Motors to ory, along with a job we've typed. He's often cantankerous, and won't set a job for some unexplained reason. He's old, and tired, and needs Medicaid. Unfortunately for "Big Guy" (fortunately for the bank), a service contract costs nearly as much as payments on a new model. So long "Big Guy". Hello "New Guy'

I'm going to miss the old boy, even though he has caused me unbelievable aggravation at times over the past five years. He has broken down on press day. He has broken down when we've had important deadlines to meet. He's broken down when he's been darned lucky I didn't take an eight pound mall to him! On the other hand, he has been a terrific timesaver, money maker, cost cutter and producer. Most of the time.

To be honest, I'll probably miss some of his little ideosyncracies. Last night was a good example. I came back to work after the City Council meeting, intent on getting a job set so the back shop guys could shoot it first thing Tuesday. During my third or fourth attempt to get the insufficiently warm printer to work, a friend came in to invite me next door to watch the game and have a brew. I told him, "If both these red lights come on, and I get a "message 130" on the screen, I'll go with you". The lights came on, the message came up, I shut down and went next door. "Big Guy" came through again.

"New Guy" and his partner, a second input terminal, set in the same room with "Big Guy". Even though they are all made by the same company, and all are in the same basic shell, the two new ones look, "new". They have a different color scheme, and don't have the "well worn" look that "Big Guy" has. We get our training on the new units later this week, and "Big Guy" will be retired. I haven't told these two smug looking new characters that they'll both likely be retired in five years or so. In fact, I haven't talked to them at all. That will come later when they break down for the first time.

I'll wrap 'em up along side the cabinet and scream, "What's the matter with you, you stupid computer? I should a kept "Big Guy". and let you rust in some warehouse somewhere, you stupid ★#@Ø**@☆/★ worthless excuse for a machine!". I'll phone my salesman, service department, district manager, etc., and call them all the same kind of names. Eventually, during this kicking and screaming process, the new machines will begin to take on some character, and we'll come up with appropriate names for them. Until that time, we'll just have to settle for "New Guy" and "His Buddy". "Silly", you say. Maybe so, but over at my dad and brothers' shop, they call their trio of typesetters Huey, Dewey and gian. I'm very proud of these Louie. This silliness of naming computers may be confined to the young men and women and their Brown family, but at least I'm not the only silly one.

Mayor Maatman turned the meeting over to Councilman Thompson, Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, who opened the Public Hearing on a request by Councilman Fonger for a variance from Sideline Set-back requirements in a C-2 Commercial Zone, to allow the construction of a building three feet from the east lot line of the property located at 829 W. Main Street.

Manager Quada stated that the set-back requirements are 10 feet from side yard property lines, which is a request for a 7 foot variance. Also, the size of the building has been reduced to 1,250 square feet, which eliminates the request for a variance from parking requirements. 12.5 parking spaces are re- funds. quired, and with the placement of the building as requested, there will be a total of 14 spaces. Mr. Fonger stated that the building would be used for either office space, or a florist shop.

Mr. Gerald Patton, owner of the Patton-J.R.B. Insurance office the location of the concession stand/restroom facility in the on the adjoining property to the west was present and stated that he was opposed to allowing construction only three feet from a property line, citing a residential unit next door being too close for adequate fire protection.

Mr. Fonger stated that the house was about eleven to twelve by City crews. feet from the property line, and with the three foot variance, there would be a total of at least 14 feet between buildings. The ordinance requirement for fire protection is ten feet.

on a 68 foot wide lot.

Mr. Roger Odell, co-owner of the residential unit to the east was present and stated that he was opposed to the variance because he feels the property value of the house will diminsh.

Manager Quada pointed out that in actuality, the house is a non-conforming residential use in a Commercial District. He suggested that perhaps the matter should be directed to the Planning Commission for study and recommendation.

Councilman Thompson stated that it was his understanding that the Planning Commission had earlier established the stand that they would not allow any building closer than eight feet from a property line, to insure fire safety, clean-up, etc., and asked if it would cut down on the amount of parking if moved out.

Manager Quada stated that in reference to the 7-11 Store request, it abutted a residential area, and they felt that special consideration should be given to the home next door. This is strictly a Commercial Zone, however, they may wish to review it and make a recommendation.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Schneider that the matter be submitted to the Planning Commission for review and recommendation, supported by Mayor Maatman.

Chairman Thompson closed the hearing at 8:16 P.M. and turned the meeting back over to Mayor Maatman.

Manager Quada then gave an update on where the City stands on the Finding of Violation and Order from the E.P.A., stating that he will be meeting on November 13 with the M.D.N.R. and E.P.A. He has asked that someone from the Grant Dept. to state for record, that the City either will be, or will not be allowed a grant. The law is clear that we will have to do something by May of 1988. It may have to be a scaled down version of treatment expansion, for say, $1,1/2 million, as opposed to $5 million.

He also stated that he has notified both representatives on the national level, and our senator and representatives on the state level. We must make every effort to get this community Carried. reimbursed by a grant, if at all possible, before committing to spending community dollars.

A discussion followed in which Mayor Maatman guestioned whether the grant list can be "frozen".

Manager Quada replied if we could obtain a freeze, for funding for anyone on the list from number 46 and above, the City would then have a legal right against the state to obtain those

The Manager then reported on the West End Park concession stand plans, stating that the softball diamonds are completed, a 156 car parking lot has been graded, and plans are ready for center. The building will be of an attractive cinder-block design, with a corner room designed for a storage area of mowing and maintenance equipment, in summer, and in winter, small heaters will be installed for use as a warming room for P.M. skaters at the ice rink. Water and sewer lines will be installed

Manager Quada then stated that the next item for discussion was to have been the Community Development Block Grant Program, however, Mr. John Huyge was ill and not able to be Manager Quada read a letter of objection from Dr's. Lang and here. It will be rescheduled. Everyone commented on the Under Citizen Input, Mr. Jim Hodges asked about the sideline set-back requirement for fire protection.

Manager Quada stated that most communities have always required a distance of ten feet between buildings to allow fire trucks and equipment to pass between them, seven feet would be the minimum.

Mr. Roger Odell asked, regarding the sewage treatment plant expansion, what if the State changes the criteria for grants, so that they don't have to give us the funds.

Manager Quada replied that in essence, that's exactly what has been done, they have set the date of May, 1988, by law, that we must have a new plant in operation, whether we have the funds or not.

Under Council Remarks, Councilman Collins reminded everyone not to forget to vote the next day.

Councilman Fonger stated that according to the Grand Rapids Press, consideration is being given to making the Zoo and the Museum, County systems, such as the Library, and with the discussion of a County incenerator system, we ought to start watching for additional funding requests.

Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada distributed copies of the Lowell Light and Power Audit Report to Council for their study.

He also reported that in 1978 the City joined the county-wide investment pool along with many of the smaller communities. Recently the pool has come under close scruting of the State. Submitted legislation was passed, making it legal in Kent county, so that there is no question on its use. We still use local banks, and do not put all our invested moines into the pool. He asked for authorization for th City Treasurer to continue to invest City monies in the investment pool.

IT WAS MOVED by councilman Schneider that the City Treasurer be authorized to invest City funds in the Kent County Investment Pool, supported by Councilman Collins.

Manager Quada stated that Mike Peters of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber engineering firm will be at the next meeting to discuss the Water Reliability Study, which is required every five years, and Mr. Walter Sowles will be here in December for further discussion on establishing a Downtown Development Authority.

The Manager also reminded all present to be sure and vote at the Election on Tuesday for Council seats.

The Grand Valley Ledger Editor, Roger Brown was present and appologized for forgetting to publish anything on the four candidates running for office. He stated that it was the first time ten years that he had ever forgotten, and nothing had triggered his memory.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins to adjourn at 8:53

Jim Eickoff wins "First Buck Contest" for second time

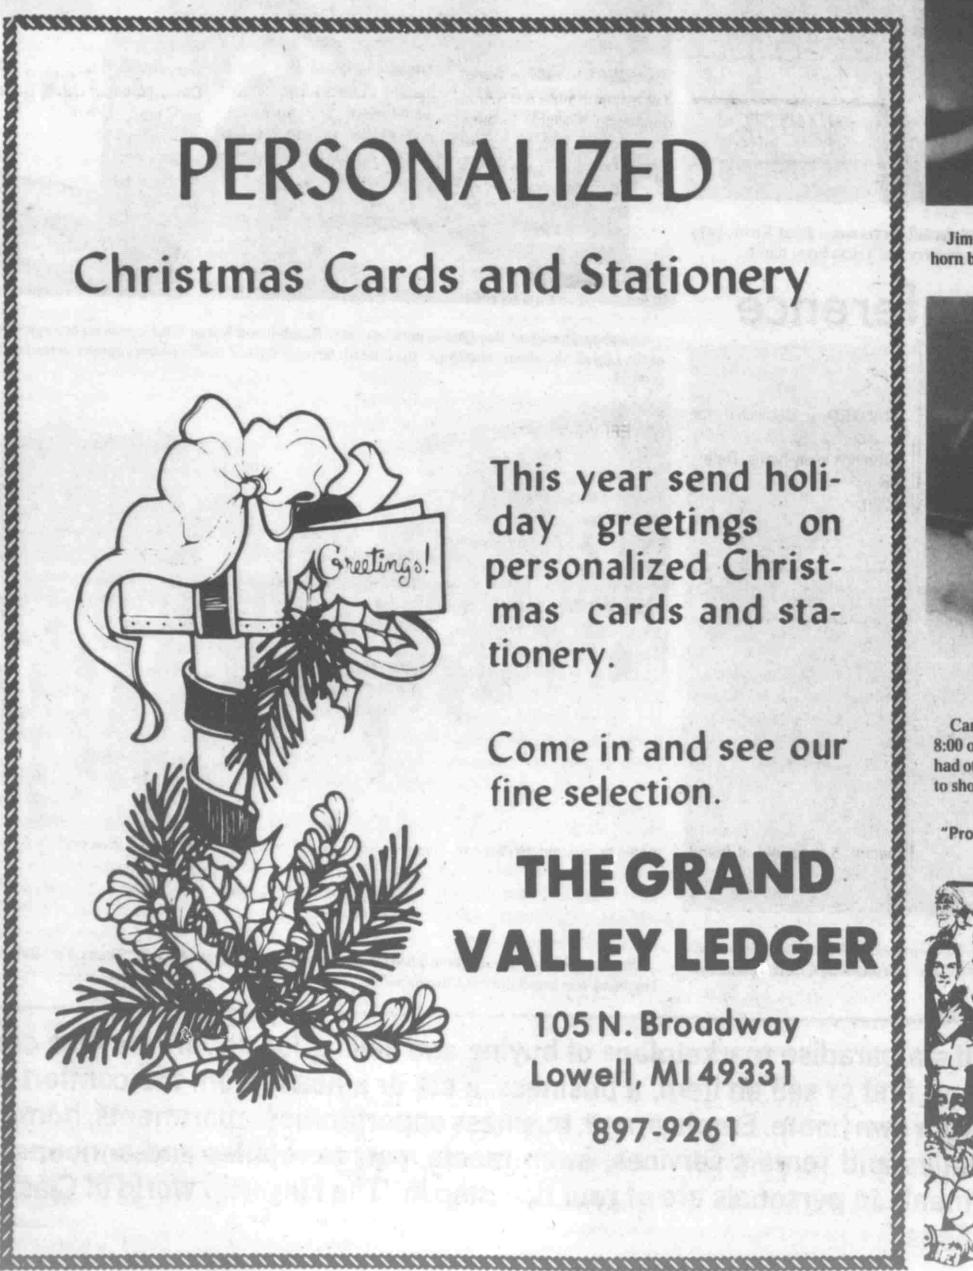

The winner of this year's Grand Valley Ledger "First Buck Contest" was Jim Eickoff, 47, of 6015 W. Peck Lake Rd., Saranac. Eickhoff won our contest two years ago with a huge eleven point buck that he said weighed 182 pounds. This year's deer was a little smaller, but a nice eight point just the same. He got the deer hunting in the same field north of Lowell, that he was hunting in two years ago. Eickoff showed up at our office with his buck just before 8:00. For his efforts he won Custom Processing from Gary's Country Meats, two 5X7 portraits from Modern Photographics, a $20.00 gift certificate from Pfaller's Clothing, two pair of hunting socks from Anderson's Family Shoes, and oil change and lube from Harold Zeigler Ford and a two year subscription to the Grand Valley Ledger. Congratulations Jim.

In these 5 years God has taught us many les sons, one of the greatest lessons is that He is in control of everything, and does give the needed strenght to face what ever He will ask of you God's word is certainly true. and He has meant many needs, and you have been a part of that plan.

To the Benefit Committee who had the vission to see some needs and respond with such love and care, we thank-you so very much.

To all the many busines ses, individuals, churches and many, many people who came to share the evening with us, we deeply thank rent plans call for servicing not only the city, but also a good portion of Lowell and Vergennes Townships. This extra capacity could mean a drastic reduction in the cost of the project if struck from the design. Many federal requirements for approved conthus save thousands of dollars. With this in mind, Quada asked the council to approve sending the plans back to the city engineering firm of Fishbeck, Carr. Thompson and Huber for estimates on scaling down the plant. Quada estimated that the engineering work involved could cost as much as $10,000, but feels it will be well worth the expense if Lowell has to fund the project on its own.

The Council unanimously agreed to Quada's request.

In other Council business, it was decided to also allow black, mesh sattelite dishes in the city. Until now, the ordinance allowed for only plain white dishes. The idea behind the ordinance is to discourage advertising or gaudily painted dishes. If a resident wants a dish other than plain white or black mesh, he will have to take his case before the Planning Commission. In his manager's report,

Quada noted that he hopes to Quada also asked for Council approval to pursue the possibility of a monthly or bi-monthly city newsletter to be mailed to all residents. Quada expects to have some costs back to the Council at their December 2 meeting.

Heating bill help for seniors

Most senior citizens in Michigan live on a fixed income. Paying the electric bill can be an important part of their budget each month.

While approximately 55 percent of the senior citizens who receive electricity from Consumers Power Company are on a special discount rate, the utility estimates that there are several thousand others who would benefit by the rate, but who may not be aware of it.

"Currently, approximately 150,000 of our customers are on the special senior rate," says John Alzubaydi, Alma/Greenville district manager. "The number has nearly doubled in the past five years as more senior citizens have become aware of Alzubaydi says all customers 62 or older are eligible for the rate. The typical senior citizen who doesn't heat his home or

Along with the discount electric rate, Consumers Power offers a "Prime Timers" club for seniors, which includes the following services: exemption from late payment charge, free home energy analysis (which origi) nally costs $10), discounted gas appliance service, free emergency fuse replacement, priority scheduling on gas furnace "no heat" calls and a special senior care credit policy.

OOPS! WE FORGOT ONE!

In last week's article about a resurgence of business on Main Street, we failed to mention a bustling little business that occupies what was once a vacant store. Lowell Waterbeds has been operating out of a building at 220 W. Main Street for well over a year. The building was left vacant about two years ago when Video Wizard closed its doors.
