Four S.S.B. Directors removed by proxy vote

You may have thought the struggle for power on the State Savings Bank Board of Directors was over last fall when an Old Kent Financial Corporation offer to purchase the institution was withdrawn. If so, the outcome of Tuesday's shareholders' meeting will be a surprise to you.

Two distinct sides were drawn on the S.S.B. Board last September when Chairman Harold Englehardt along with directors King Doyle and Leonard

Jackson were staunchly in favor of presenting the Old Kent offer to the shareholders. They also highly recommended the affiliation. Directors Keith Caldwell, Robert Elzinga and Roger Kropf lined up on the other side of the issue. Director Dan Vos broke the stalemate, and voted to present the proposal to the shareholders, even though he was against the sale of the bank. So, by a narrow margin, the hotly debated issue was passed. But, the decision to send the offer to the shareholders came to naught, as Old Kent withdrew their offer before a presentation could be made. Most of those close to the issue speculate that the approximately $100 per share offer was withdrawn because of the dissension on the board.

While the issue seemed to have waned over these past months, a group in favor of selling the bank was working to organize a proxy fight for control of the board of directors. The bank sent out proxy ballots to all shareholders in December, as it normally does prior to the annual shareholders' meeting held the third Tuesday in January. The proxy called for the re-election of all the incumbents. Shortly after the banks' proxy letter was sent, those seeking to gain control, sent out their own proxy letter and ballot. The proposed board on this ballot consisted of Englehardt, Jackson, Doyle, Dr. Orval McKay, James Cook, Sr. and Everett Wittenbach. When the votes were counted at Tuesday's meeting, the second proxy won by an overwhelming 82.4% margin.

The new board took control of the meeting, and rescinded the bank by-law that calls for mandatory retirement of board members at age 70. Wittenbach recently left the board because of that rule. Englehardt, was already 70 when the rule went into effect, and has remained on the board under a sort of "grandfather clause".

When the Old Kent offer was being debated, several points were cited by both sides of the issue. Those in favor of affiliation were quick to point out that S.S.B. stock has a book value of about $80.00, but had historically been traded very infrequently, and at prices well below the book value. The conversion of the stock to that of a holding company would make the stock more fluid, and would assure fair market pricing. Those in favor of the sale also cited bank de-regulation, and the national trend toward larger banks as threats to independent banks. Electronic banking machines, access to more sophisticated financing and the security in belonging to a larger corporation were other reasons listed by those in favor of affiliation with a larger bank or holding company.

On the other side of the coin, those opposed to the sale pointed to the bank's 50 year history of steady growth, and the fact that it's one of the strongest independent banks in the state. "The fact that we are doing a lot of things right, is what makes us so attractive to those wishing to buy us", stated one bank employee. Those against the sale of the bank fear a loss of community involvement, less personal service and the loss of identity. Those against affiliation cited the bank's past support of such organizations as the Showboat, YMCA, Little League, Arts Council, etc. and asked if "Big City" bankers would continue that type of community involvement and support.

It is clear that State Savings Bank is a sound, profitable institution, ripe for affiliation with a large bank or holding company.

It is also clear that there is now a board seated, that is in favor of affiliation. It would appear that State Savings Bank's days as an independent institution are probably numbered.

In a meeting of the new Board of Directors held Tuesday afternoon, Englehardt was elected as Chairman of the Board.

L.H.S. GRAPPLERS ARE #2 IN THE STATE

Lowell wrestling coach Gary Rivers called us Tuesday morning to report that his wrestlers are now rated #2 in the state by the Detroit News. The Red Arrows' 15-0 dual meet record is blemished only by a 1 point tournament loss to number one rated Eaton Rapids. The remainder of the top ten class B teams are Stevensville Lakeshore, Dexter, Montrose, Monroe Catholic Central, Grand Rapids Northview, Fenton, Birch Run and Mt. Morris. A re-cap of last week's Sparta/Canadian Tournament held here, appears in this issue.

STRIKE UP THE BAND!

Help! The Lowell Community Band needs more members. Trombone and trumpet players are especially needed. The band practices on a regular basis, and plays at various events. Anyone interested should contact Lowell High School Band Director Robert Rice at 897-9202.

RECYCLE THOSE OLD PHONE BOOKS

As Steve Martin so aptly put it, "The new phone books are here, the new phone books are here!". This means that you have to dump your old phone books. You can try tearing it in two, you can make a paper-mâché mountain for your electric train set, or you can recycle it. We're told that the paper in the phone books is very desirable for recycling, and you can leave yours at the recycling center in the Eberhard's parking lot. Remove cover first, please.

ATTENTION SENIORS!

Seniors who need help in meeting their high winter heating bills can get help by calling Lowell Senior Neighbors at 897-5949. Ask about "Targeted Fuel Assistance".

DID YOU KNOW ???

Did you know that Bushnell has an "Olympics of the Mind" team. This team is under the direction of two teachers who present the team with a problem and stimulate them to develop creative solutions. The team is eligible to compete in State Competition in Lansing.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Harold Rittenger, 79, of Lowell was not injured in an accident Monday, January 13 when a semi tractor and trailer turned off Main St. onto Riverside Dr. The wheels of the semi struck Rittenger's vehicle as it made its turn. The semi was driven by Thomas Gutherie, 30, of Westland, MI.

A vehicle driven by Douglas Ford, 31, of Lowell, was struck in the rear by another vehicle driven by Jo Ann DuBridge, 32, also of Lowell. The accident occurred at the corner of Main and Hudson Sts. on Monday, January 13. No one was injured.

A car driven by Kim Rasmussen of Lowell was struck and damaged by a hit and run driver while parked in the parking lot at the rear of Lowell's 200 block of East Main. Lowell Police are investigating the incident.

A juvenile from Lowell was referred to Probate Court on charges of malicious destruction of property stemming from an incident which took place in the Valley Vista Trailer court last week.

A 16-year-old juvenile Lowell High School student will appear in probate court at a later date to answer charges of violation of the controlled substance act (possession of illegal drugs).

Many remember Lowell in wills

Editor's Note:
The following is a continuance of Betty Coons' extensive article regarding bequests left to the City of Lowell . . .

Solomon S. Lee Fund

Included in the will of Dr. Solomon S. Lee, a Lowell physician who died March 21, 1940, was this paragraph: "I will, devise and bequeath to the Village of Lowell, Kent County, Michigan, the residue of my estate, both real and personal, wherever situated, to be used in any way the Village Council may see fit for the general benefit of the said Village of Lowell, and I would suggest that a part of the same, or said residue, be used for the gradual improvement of Recreation Park located in the said Village of Lowell."

Solomon Lee was born in Lowell on October 27, 1871, the son of J. Edwin and Helen Boyce Lee, pioneer residents who were greatly interested in civic affairs. He attended the Lowell schools, but graduated from Central High School in Grand Rapids because of his need to study German, which was no longer taught here in 1916 due to the public's distaste at that particular period for all things pertaining to Germany. He began his higher education at Olivet College, then spent two years at Oberlin College, Ohio, and graduated from the University of Michigan medical school in 1898. He began his practice in Calumet, where he met and married Irene Childs. As a doctor to the miners of the Upper Peninsula, he took an interest in the thriving development of the copper and other metal mines and invested in these stocks. In 1912 he returned to Lowell, where he continued in general practice until his retirement in 1934. In that day of home calls, Dr. Lee was well-known and trusted by his patients, in whom he seemed always to take a personal interest. Characterized as "precise, accurate, sociable, and pleasant," he became a real community supporter. He built the downtown Lee Block and also owned a white frame building which had been a farmers' hotel on the land behind it. He was active in the Masonic Lodge and served on the Village Council for several years prior to 1921. The Lees' home, which they had built, was the red brick dwelling at 718 Riverside Drive.

Upon Dr. Lee's death, the portion of the estate bequeathed to Lowell came to $68,000 in New York stocks; when they were sold in 1982, to comply with the prohibition of the municipality's holding stocks, the resulting amount of $213,000 was invested with the Government National Mortgage Association. Prior to 1976, the interest from the investment was used for general maintenance of the Lowell park system. Also, in 1951, some of the earnings were allocated along with the revenues from Showboat for the construction of a building at Recreation Park to be used for 4-H exhibitions, stock sales, and indoor ice skating. This building was later named for and dedicated to the memory of Ernest C. Foreman, 1894-1970, "North America's foremost poultryman", Chairman of the project.

In more recent years, the earnings were basically left untouched and were saved toward major purchases for park activities. Since the approval of the Recreation and Parks Plan, Lee money has been spent for the restoration of the King Swimming Pool and on the renovation of Richards Park.

A new west end park, on Gee Drive near Foreman Road, is currently under development. It is now the site of three softball diamonds; fencing is in place; a sprinkling system and picnic tables will soon be installed, and eventually restrooms and a concession/maintenance building will be built. About $125,000 from the Lee Fund has been expended on this project, along with $20,000 from federal revenue sharing. In December, 1985, this recreational unit was formally named Creekside Park by the City Council; a historical marker will commemorate the contribution of Solomon Lee.

Florence Lee King Bequest

Lowell has the unusual distinction and good fortune of being a relatively small town which has its own branch of the YMCA. This came about through a bequest made in the will of Florence Lee King in

10 lb. bag ice, 96¢ plus tax at Heritage Meat Market, Lowell 897-7049

1959 in memory of her father, Frank Twining King.

In the late 1800s, the King Milling Company was formed by F. T. King, Francis King, Charles McCarty, and Reuben Quick, who acquired the Lowell and Forest Mills operating on the west and east sides of the Flat River. In 1900, F. T. King became the company's president and held this office until his death as the last surviving founder in 1934. He and his wife, Flora Lee King, who preceded him in death, and their daughter, Florence, had lived in a gracious white frame house in the 400 block on Avery Street, razed in recent years.

In 1914, Miss King moved to Grand Rapids, where she lived on Madison Avenue, became active on the Senior Board of Blodgett Memorial Hospital and in the Mary Free Bed Guild, helped to organize the first west state orthopedic clinic, and was a charter member of Mayflower Congregational Church. Friends recall her as a gracious, dignified woman, interested in the arts, and traveling extensively. She obviously kept the interests of her town of origin in her heart for, upon her death in 1959, it was learned that her will included a generous gift to the Lowell Congregational Church and that the bulk of the estate was to be administered by the Grand Rapids YMCA as the Frank Twining King Memorial Fund, the income to be used exclusively for the establishment of the YMCA branch in Lowell.

Late that year a citizens' meeting was held, chaired by William Jones, to hear Grand Rapids Y board members explain how this might be done. Signing up in support of this new program, designed to meet the needs of many community groups, were 120 charter members, and a local Board of Managers was soon elected. Early in 1960, it was announced that the amount given by Miss King for YMCA purposes in Lowell had reached $575,000. This would be administered by the Grand Rapids Y, and with the Lowell Board having freedom to develop its own budget and program within the standards of the YMCA. In

Wedding vows spoken

Carol Van Weelden and William Marculis

Saint Mary's Church of Lowell was the setting for the December 28 wedding of Carol Van Weelden and William Marculis. The bride is the daughter of Gil and Sandra Van Weelden. The groom is the son of Dr. William and Nancy Marculis of Grand Rapids.

Kimberly Van Weelden was maid of honor. Karen Farmer, Andria Feldt and Helen Thompson were bridesmaids. Best man was Jim Kohane. Groomsmen were Charles Feldt, Tim Slavens and Jeff Stekete.

Serving as ushers were Jim Farmer and Mark Van Weelden. A dinner-dance reception was held at Meijer's Cosmopolitan Room in Walker. Al and Roberta Towne and Sid and Pat Pierson acted as Masters and Mistresses of Ceremony. Janet Thompson cut the cake.

After a week-end honeymoon, William and Carol returned to Kirksville, Missouri, where Carol teaches special education and William is completing his medical degree.

Bequests, continued . . .

May, the headquarters were set up in the east half of the historical Robert W. Graham house, provided rent free by the City of Lowell, with utilities paid for by the Y. Robert Forst was selected by the Lowell Board and approved by the Grand Rapids Board to be the first Executive Director of the Lowell YMCA. Others to hold this post have been Terry Bambrich Rommie Moore, Mike Connell, and the current director, Jim Hodges.

A varied program of activities was instituted by the summer of 1960, including craft classes, day camps, sports, and trips for youngsters and youth, and soon classes and special events were offered for adults. A series of "coffees" was well attended by the senior citizens; this provided a wealth of historical reminiscences which were recorded in Ledger articles. As needs are evident, the offerings of the Y vary from year to year, but they continue to serve a wide segment of the people of Lowell.

It was determined quite early by the Lowell Y Board that a community swimming pool, to be owned by the City and operated by the Y, would be of high priority among uses for the King Fund. Upon approval by the Future Plans Committee of the Grand Rapids Y Board, arrangements for this project were made by the directors of the newly-formed Lowell Swimming Pool, Inc., with the Lowell Public Schools and the Kent County and State 4-H organizations as to cooperative use of the locker and rest rooms. Part of the funding for the pool was to come from the City's Lee Fund, and the largest portion from the King Fund; as stipulated in Miss King's will, the building and pool were given Mr. King's name. Construction was begun in April, 1960, and in July, 1961, on a 90 degree day, over 300 persons delighted in its use for the first time. The crowd had to be divided in order to give everyone a chance to plunge into the outdoor public pool in eastern Kent County.

Today the Lowell Y's annual budget is close to $150,000 of which about one-third comes from the King Fund. The remaining revenue is raised by memberships, program fees, United Way contributions, special projects, and a pool subsidy from the City of Lowell. The King Fund's diverse investments are handled by the Old Kent Trust; its market value as of March, 1985, was $648,839.69.

The Look Memorial Fund

Following the death of Helen Look Newell Daley on November 23, 1981, in Tucson, Arizona, it was announced that Lowell, Michigan, and the First Congregational Church of Lowell were to be equal beneficiaries of her estate. As the bequest was known to be sizable, the community was stirred with appreciation and excitement, and those who had long known this lady before her move west began to think back on the events of her life.

Helen Look was the daughter of Dexter G. Look, who at the age of fourteen came to Lowell with his family from a Lapeer County farm. He became a druggist and opened his own store. In 1885, he married Evelyn Rickert; their home was the towered house at 314 South Hudson. Mr. Look took a keen interest in public affairs, serving on the Village Council (six years as president) and the Board of Education dur-

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

Then shall the earth yield her increase; and God...shall bless us (Psalm 67:6).

What a change a few months makes! Not long ago the yards and orchards were abundant with fruit. Now the grape vines are bare. The trees are no longer beautiful and spotted with color. The once green foliage has gone with the gusts of wind. Now is the time for quiet. Throughout the winter months nature slips into slumberland to rest and wait for the call of spring. New life and vitality will once again flow through the vitals of these now seemingly lifeless producers of leaves, blossoms, and fruit.

The Christian, too, finds that there are dormant cycles in his life - times when it seems he is accomplishing little or nothing for his Master. During these periods he feels defeated and wonders if ever again he will bear fruit.

But we must not despair, fellow Christians, when these times come. All of us pass through seasons of dormancy. This is the time to exercise quietness and confidence, to rest in faith, knowing that spring will reappear and with it the manifestations of inward life and productivity. "This is the time to trust."

Prayer: "Unto thee lift I up mine eyes, O Thou that dwellest in the heavens." Give me grace for this season of dormancy. Increase my confidence in Thy promise that if I sow I shall also reap. Cause me to rest quietly and wait for Thee. Amen.

O praying soul, be still; He cannot break His pledged Word. Sink down into His blessed will, And wait in patience on the Lord.

Krause at the House

Legislation dealing with an employee's right-to-know regarding hazardous chemicals in the workplace has been passed by the Michigan House and the bills will help protect workers without burdening employ-

The three-bill package passed because of bipartisan support and lengthy talks by business, labor and lawmakers. The legislation was supported by the State Chamber of Commerce, the AFL-CIO, the Right-to-Know

Task Force and many other groups.

It took months of hard negotiations, but the House has passed a group of bills that makes Michigan an even safer place to work. The package has been sent to the Senate for further consideration.

The bills create one statewide right-to-know standard and include strong language pre-empting local units of government from making any special regulations.

Another business worry was the issue of work stoppage if an employee refused to handle an unlabeled container. The new bill allows a worker to call the Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Administration (MOSHHA) which must inspect within 24 hours. If the container fails the inspection it can be re-tagged.

Under the legislation, local fire chiefs would be required to provide firefighters with information about chemicals located at local plant sites. Employers would be required to provide chemical lists and other information to the area fire chief which would assist firefighting efforts in emergencies.

These bills promote worker safety without penalizing Michigan business. And the bills deal with the four major issues—scope of coverage, work stoppage, pre-emption of local regulations and labelling. It's a comprehensive package that deals with one of the most important issues facing employees in our state.

Grapplers still undefeated

By Tom Nugent

An unidentified Lowell wrestler has the advantage over his opponent in this past weekend's competition.

The Lowell Red Arrow wrestling team remained undefeated beating the Sparta Spartans 61-6 last Thursday in league action. The Arrows are now in sole possession of first place in the O-K White conference.

Wrestling for Lowell at 98 pounds was Trevor Tyler who pinned Sparta's Rick Mickham. At 105 pounds, Carl Pratt of Lowell pinned Jim Rees of Sparta. At 112 pounds, Brett Nagy of Lowell pinned Sparta's Chad Kerr. At 119, Lowell's Mike Rivers won by a major decision, 12-3, over John VanOefflen of Sparta. At 126 Chad Blasher of Lowell lost 4-2, to Pete Kane of Sparta. At 132, Lowell's Kyle Gildea beat Dan Scheidel of Sparta 11 to 6. At 138, Tony Huver captured his 100th career victory by pinning Sparta's Doug Johnston. At 145, Matt Nauta of Lowell lost to Charlie Allaben of Sparta 10-8. At 155, Lowell's Brett Kirby won by forfeit. At 167, Mike Nugent of Lowell pinned Sparta's Paul Goodin in a very exciting match. At 185, Lowell's Tom Nugent pinned Rick Imkamp of Sparta. At 198, Brian Fox of Lowell pinned Cliff Griffes of Sparta in only 13 seconds. And in the heavyweight division, Jim Johnson of Lowell pinned Jim Kozal of Sparta, raising the final score to 61-6.

Also on Thursday night, the Grapplers hosted the Canadian All-Stars from Kitchener-Waterloo. At 98 pounds, Trevor Tyler pinned Chester Young of Canada. At 105 pounds, Carl Pratt pinned Canada's Sean Kruuv. At 112, Brett Nagy beat Darryl North of Canada 15 to 5. At 119, Mike Rivers pinned Canada's Ron Elliot. At 126, Chad Blasher lost by injury default to Rob Elka of Canada. At 132, Kyle Gildea lost to Eusebio Viveros of Canada 6 to 4. At 133, Tony Huver won 9 to 2 over Canada's Winston Lewis. At 145, Matt Nauta won 16 to 5 over Birrol Ossmansay of Canada. At 155, Brett Kirby pinned Canada's Doug McCarrel. At 167, Canada's Dan Cormier won by a forfeit. At 185, Tom Nugent pinned Canada's Jeff Seibert. At 198, Brian Fox pinned Canada's Doug Pflug. And finally at Heavyweight, Jim Johnson pinned Ray Ward of Canada, putting the final score at 54 to 15. The win put Lowell's dual all record at 15-0.

The Grapplers also broke a state record on the number of pins on Thursday. The Arrows now have 215 pins breaking the record of 210 set by Novi.

Last Saturday, The Red Arrows held the Lowell Invitational in which 10 teams participated. The Grapplers won the tournament with 210 1/2 points. Taking second was Caledonia with 125 points. In third place was the Canadian All-Stars with 115 points. Taking firsts for Lowell was Carl Pratt at 105 pounds, Tony Huver at 138, Brett Kirby at 155, Brian Fox at 198, and Jim Johnson in the heavyweight division. Taking second was Tom Nugent at 167 pounds. Taking third for Lowell was Kyle Gildea at 132 pounds. Taking fourths for Lowell was Bart Olin at 126 pounds and Matt Nauta at 145 pounds.

Next Thursday, The Red Arrows will host Wyoming Rogers in another conference match. Match time is 6:15 for J.V. Varsity begins 20 minutes after the completion of the J.V.

Icers win in O.T.

The High School Hockey Team defeated Grand Rapids Central 3-2 in a sudden death overtime. Matt Vredenburg scored just 12 seconds into the overtime to give the Arrows the victory. Eric Schwamberger and Scott Fosburg assisted on the winning goal.

Fosburg recorded the first two goals of the game as Lowell jumped out to a 2-0 first period lead. Following a scoreless second period Central tied the game with two goals in the first two minutes of the third period. Both teams had several scoring opportunities but the goaltenders denied any more goals in the third period.

Chris Kloosterman had an excellent game in goal stopping 22 of the 24 shots he faced. The victory brings the Arrows record to 6-8-1.

Arrows fall to Rogers

Mike Dumas goes up for a shot against the Rogers Golden Hawks in last Friday's home contest. Despite Dumas' 18 point game and a Red Arrows rally in the second half, Lowell lost the game 6-6. The Arrows closed to within two points, 60-58, with just 1:30 left in the game, but two Golden hawk free throws iced the contest. Lowell is now 2-3 in the league and 2-7 overall. The Arrows travel to Wyoming Park as we go to press on Tuesday, and will visit East Grand Rapids on Friday.

HEALTH

By Dr. Paul Gauthier and Dr. Jim Lang

DOOR TANNING: HEATHFUL OR HARMFUL? PART II

In Part II of our article on indoor tanning we will concentrate on the potential health hazards posed by the use of ultraviolet A (AUV) for artificial tanning.

The actual health hazards of UVA tanning include both acute and chronic effects. Chronic exposure to artificial UVA has the potential for causing degenerative changes in the skin. Recent evidence has demonstrated that long term exposure of UVA causes skin damage in the skin of mice. In humans, such changes in the skin would be manifested as wrinkled leathery skin, which might be easily injured or bruised and might heal poorly. This could be a concern for people using UVA tanning booths, although the effect may not be evident until years later.

Artificial UVA exposure may increase the risk of basal cell cancer and squamous cell cancer. These skin cancers develop most frequently on sun-exposed areas of the skin and are more prevalent in the Sunbelt region than in other parts of the country.

An association between malignant melanoma (serious, potentially fatal skin cancer) and the use of UVA sunbeds has been reported in recent case reports. It is possible that the "sun-worshippers" in these cases were well on their way to developing melanoma and the artificial UVA only enhanced tumor development.

Despite evidence pointing to the harmful effects of UVA tanning, people continue to seek a "healthy tan". The Food and Drug Administration has issued guidelines for sunbed manufacturers and operators; these include recommendations of protective eyewear and warnings about the harm of overexposure, as well as the possible risks of premature aging of the skin and skin cancer. The FDA recommends 30 minutes as a maximum duration of a tanning session. Many of the acute hazards of artificial tanning could be prevented if the FDA guidelines were followed. However, time limits are often disregarded if a customer is willing to pay for the extra time. Moisturizers are provided, but the use of sunscreens is rarely encouraged. Protective eyewear is supplied, but usage is not enforced.

In summary, there are many notable risks involved in the routine use of artificial tanning booths. Because the potential hazards caused by UVA sunbeds far outweigh any benefits, the use of these units should be discouraged.

The oldest national anthem is the Kimigayo of Japan, in which the words date from the 9th century.

GRATTAN TOWNSHIP NOTICE

The Grattan Township Board meetings for 1986 are scheduled as follows:

January 13	July 14
February 10	August 11
March 10	September 8
April 14	October 13
May 12	November 10
June 9	December 8

All Township Board Meetings are held at the Grattan Township Hall, 11676 Old Belding Road, in Grattan. Township Board meetings are held the second Monday of each month at 8 P.M.

Bequests, continued

Micro-film reader, table, and storage cabinet for use by the Lowell Library;

Contribution to Lowell and Alto Lions Clubs for Project Quest to help adolescents develop needed skills;

Support for in-service motivational presentations by Bill Sanders to students, school staff, local business people, and parents;

Anti-shock air pants and Jobst-Jet air splints for the Lowell Area Rescue Squad.

The bequest made to the Congregational Church has a committee of church members as overseers for the account. Community projects in Lowell which they have supported include scholarships to area students, Access-6, Lowell Rescue, the Lowell YMCA's summer day camp program, soccer and softball teams, and the Family Service Association's New Dawn program. Their contributions to the area's Domestic Crisis Center and the Salvation Army also provide help when needed by local citizens.

Altogether, many a worthwhile project has been undertaken and new vistas have been opened by the living legacy which Mrs. Dailey left to Lowell.

ken and new vistas have been opened by the living legacy which Mrs. Dailey left to Lowell.

Scholarship Bequests

Another way in which several Lowell citizens have left benefits to their community is by the establishment of scholarships through bequests from their estates. Application for these scholarships is made through the Student Services Center at the Lowell High School; recipients are screened and selected by school staff and must be approved by the governing boards of the scholarship trust.

Carlton H. Runciman was born on a farm near Chelsea in 1889, the son of James H. and Elizabeth Hartigan Runciman. A graduate of Michigan State Normal College (now Eastern Michigan University), he served as a teacher and administrator in several east Michigan schools. He and his wife, Gladys, moved to Lowell in 1917 and purchased the Jakeway Elevator. Over the years, this business was expanded to include others also related to farming, including the innovative electric bean sorting company which made Lowell truly a "bean center" in this hemisphere. "C.H." was a member of the board of the State Savings Bank and was named chairman in 1960; he was well-known as the "Admiral" and Interlocutor of the Lowell Showboat for 32 years following its inception in 1932; he served on the Lowell Board of Education for 38 years, 36 years as president, and the Runciman Elementary School was named in his honor. Following his death in November, 1968, the C. H. Runciman Scholarship Grant was established, to be administered by the State Savings Bank; this provides a stipend toward higher education for one graduate each year.

Following the death of Edwin F. Doyle in 1961, a scholarship was established in his memory by his widow. He was born in 1897, the son of Charles Doyle and his first wife, Frances Lee, a sister of Dr. Solomon S. Lee. He grew up and attended school

Council Proceedings

Manager Quada then opened the floor for nominations for the office of Mayor.

Councilman Thompson nominated Councilman Maatman for Mayor, supported by Councilman Doyle.

Carried unanimously.

Manager Quada turned the meeting over to Mayor Maatman, who opened nominations for Mayor pro tem.

Councilman Thompson nominated Councilman Fonger for the office of Mayor pro tem, supported by Councilman Doyle.

Carried unanimously.

The first item of business was a discussion on the 1986 Macker Tournament. Manager Quada stated that he wished to clear something up for the record. He stated that the news media has consistently erroneously billed a "stand-off" between the City and the Macker Tournament being present, which simply isn't so. The City has unanimously supported the tournament "in the streets" for nine years. He stated that he and Scott meet informally several times a year to discuss details of the event, and once a year on a formal basis with the City Council to establish and approve rules to everyone's satisfaction. This year it was decided to do it early, instead of waiting until tournament time, and hoping nothing has been left out or forgotten. He stated that a questionnaire had been mailed to every address inside the area of from Foreman Street south to Chatham, and Riverside Drive west to Amity Street. Out of 107 mailed, over 60 had been returned, which were included in a print survey sheet available to the public. Several more have since been received. Only one expressed the desire not to allow the tournament to continue. He then introduced Mr. Scott McNeal of the Gus Macker Council.

Mr. McNeal stated that he was not sure how many years the tournament had really been held, counting his parents' driveway, before taking to the streets, or how many years they had come to the City Council for approval to block off City streets. He stated that in every one of the magazine articles published recently about the Macker Tournament, "Lowell" had been mentioned in either the first sentence, or paragraph, because the founders have always been proud of their home town. They have always promoted the tournament as a "clean" activity, and one that parents and neighbors have been proud to have their kids involved in. In 1990, it was realized that this was going into "big business" when a profit of $9.80 was made. Over the years, insurance has been provided for the City, fencing for protection of neighbors' property, policing and first aid added, etc. He has heard that there have been complaints from neighbors that there would be no problems if the profits were put into something good for the City. The Macker Council has no problem with that idea, and has publicly offered to participate in a park area which could be used for the tournament. However, recently it has been suggested that if the tournament were to be removed from the streets totally, something of its uniqueness and desirableness would be lost.

He then presented a diagram of the area to be used in this year's event, stating that a few new courts had been added, but that each team that plays is assigned to one court throughout the tournament to keep time to a minimum, and yards from being too badly trampled. He asked the Council for permission to hold the 1986 Macker Tournament in the City streets, and asked for any questions or discussion from the audience.

Mrs. Phyllis Lessens stated that parking has sometimes become a problem, and asked if the Macker Council advised participants and spectators to park at the school lots.

Mr. McNeal replied that included in a small newspaper mailed to all participants is a recommendation for parking, respecting neighbors' property, etc.

Manager Quada asked if parking attendants could be used to route people to proper parking areas.

Mr. McNeal replied, yes, as well as an offer from a major area business to get involved with a shuttle service.

Mrs. Beverly Anderson stated that there has been talk of some families having a problem with a tournament being in the neighborhood of their home. She asked if it could be moved down (south) one street, stating there was not enough excitement on their corner, and would be glad to "move their cars for two days.

Manager Quada stated that the entire Macker experience has been an "evolutionary process", and from where it started to where it has come, many things have been added from year to year, as they were thought of. He stated that he has talked to representatives from other cities, such as Dallas, who will be able to take advantage of that process, and not have to go through it one year at a time.

Councilman Doyle stated that the Macker had started in 1974 when he heard the Star Spangled Banner coming from the McNeal's back yard and he wandered over to find out what was going on. He never dreamed that it would turn into a "Sports Illustrated" event, and, as a Councilmember, stated for the record that he would just as soon keep it on the streets where it is.

Mayor Maatman asked Councilman Doyle if that was a motion, and Council concurred that it should include a contingency upon the total results of the questionnaire survey study.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Doyle that the 1986 Gus Macker Tournament be allowed on the City Streets, contingent upon the tournament survey, supported by Councilman Fonger.

Carried.

Mayor Maatman asked for Council volunteers to meet with the Macker Council to discuss the survey, and iron out the location of new courts, additional fencing, etc. within 60 days, with a finalization vote by Council to approve or rescind.

Councilman Doyle and Fonger volunteered to serve as City representatives on the committee.

Mayor Maatman then opened the Public Hearing on the Proposed Snow Removal Ordinance at 8:45 p.m. and asked for comments from the audience.

Mr. Gould Rivette was present and stated that he was not against such an ordinance, except that every time he gets his driveway and sidewalk cleared, the snow plow comes by and fills them right back in. He also questioned if the ordinance meant all the sidewalks around your property, stating that the Mayor and Councilman Doyle only shoveled the main sidewalks in front of their homes and not the side streets next to their homes.

Mr. Brian Anderson asked, according to Section I, "occupant or owner", who gets fined if it is not shoveled and "kept clear of ice and snow?" Does it mean that it has to be dug out down to be bare ground or a reasonable level?

Mrs. Phyllis Lessens stated that some people have hired someone to plow driveways, who have piled snow as high as a person's head or corners; there is no way that anyone can shovel that much snow out to create a walkway through it.

Mrs. Louise Ryder stated that she and her husband have a business of shoveling snow for Main Street merchants. If someone should fall in an area they shoveled, would they be liable.

Mrs. Jeanne Shores asked for a definition of a "path" stating that she does not wish to shovel a walk-way on the side of her property that has no cement sidewalk, and have the grass ruined.

Mr. Roger Conner stated that some of the chunks of snow left by the plows are so huge that they can't be moved with

Astronomy classes offered

Again this winter, the Chaffee Planetarium is offering a series of classes for beginning amateur astronomers, similar in format to the highly successful series offered last winter.

"Halley's Comet and Beyond," will not only explore ways to best observe the famous visitor when it re-emerges from the glare of the sun in the spring. It will also introduce students ages 12 through 16 to the many wonders of the heavens that remain for their enjoyment long after Halley's Comet has returned to deep space and become invisible.

Students will receive helpful instructions and tips on the use of binoculars and small telescopes. They will learn techniques for use of star charts and handbooks. There will even be an introduction to celestial photography. Owning a telescope is certainly not a prerequisite, though the series will be particularly helpful to those who have recently acquired one and are uncertain about how to use it most effectively.

Most instructional materials will be provided, and two of the eight classes will be evening sessions at the James C. Veen Observatory. Ample use will be made of the Planetarium's realistically portrayed sky.

Classes meet on alternate Saturdays between 10 a.m. and 12:30, beginning on February 8th and continuing through April 19th. Fee for the entire series of eight classes is $20. For further information, or to request an enrollment form, call 456-3977 weekdays.

The first Christmas tree to be lit with electric light bulbs was installed at the home of Edward H. Johnson of New York in December 1882.

Grand Rapids, later marrying Ruth Layer of Lowell, a graduate of the Normal College of Ypsilanti who then taught physical education in Jefferson School in Detroit. As a resident of the latter city, Edwin became a grain broker and was engaged in union activities. In retirement, the Boyles built a comfortable home in Alden Nash at Lowell, where Mrs. Doyle continued to live until her death in 1974. The Grand Rapids Foundation is custodian of the funds for the E. F. Doyle Scholarship. The available interest is divided each year among applicants from the Lowell graduating class and those continuing their education in institutes of higher learning.

In 1986, the first scholarship grants will probably be made to Lowell students from the earnings of the $200,000 Peter and Evelyn Speerstra Scholarship Trust Fund. This is to be administered by a committee including a trustee from the Old Kent Bank, a representative from the teaching staff or administration of the Lowell Area Schools, and a citizen of the Lowell community, these to be appointed by the Old Kent Bank. Peter Speerstra was born in Cascade in 1905, the son of Peter, Sr. and Ida Speerstra. As a prominent businessman in Lowell, he owned the Dodge dealership and the Speerstra Insurance Agency and was a long-time president of the Lowell Savings and Loan. He served on the Lowell Council for fifteen years, eight as mayor. In 1943, he married Evelyn Yeiter, daughter of Orlo and Rosella Yeiter of Lowell, a young a shovel.

Mrs. Ida Litchewski stated that the City plows go by so fast that that they throw snow clear up on her porch and fill in her sidewalk and driveway every time, three times in one day; is she expected to hire someone to clean it out three times in a day, also?

Mr. Gould Rivette asked why the City must plow from curb to curb, why not only plow two lanes down the middle of the street?

Manager Quada replied that if the City only plowed two lanes, we would have more complaints than we have now about where would people park, and keeping the entrances to driveways clear would be a bigger problem.

Mr. Rivette asked if the parking ordinance is enforced.

Manager Quada replied that it is, however the audience disagreed with him. The Manager explained that with only one officer on duty during the night, he might begin writing tickets, ticket three out of five cars in a given area, get a call that there has been an accident, or something else that he must leave to investigate, and never get back to that area again that night. Then those people want to know why they were singled out and ticketed, and the rest let go.

Mr. John Gabrion asked if there are any cost figures available on the City's plowing the sidewalks or hiring it done.

Manager Quada replied that it would be an additional 1-1/2 to 2 mills cost in tax dollars.

Mr. Herb Holcomb stated he felt that everyone was getting the horse behind the cart, that if keeping sidewalks cleared is to be enforced, it seems that we'd ought to have sidewalks first. If people maintain pathways through the snow where there is only grass, it will make a worse mess in the Spring, and people will have to walk out around the muddy area. Then it will have to be seeded and fixed each year.

Mr. Bob Pfaller stated that the issue needed to be brought to a head. Instead of arguing about plowing or not plowing all the City sidewalks, why not concentrate on clearing the necessary walks in the proximity of the schools. There are no kids walking on Bowes Road in his area, and it's ridiculous to worry about plowing sidewalks there. Spread 1/2 or one mill over the tax roll to pay for the necessary area for several blocks around each school.

Mrs. Marguerite Shaler stated that she walks a lot, and that corners are piled high with snow, and she must walk out around them, invariably getting splashed by drivers. How would the ordinance be enforced if passed?

Manager Quada replied that it probably would be enforced on a complaint basis similar to the weed ordinance.

Mr. Carl Miller stated that if it was by neighborhood complaint, it could be a problem, if two neighborhood kids get in an argument, one parent calls and complains about the other in retaliation, then the other parent has it in for that neighbor, whereas 1-1/2 mills would be paid for in just one $50 fine, with no arguments.

Mr. David Harding stated that he came from a small town next to poverty, Cassopolis, and that the City has always kept the sidewalks cleared.

Mrs. Margaret McCalliard stated that that still did not explain why the plows have to go so fast that they throw snow up on the houses.

Manager Quada asked that citizens call him, either at City Hall or at home, each time that it happens, and he will put a stop to it.

Mrs. Marguerite Shaler asked if it was a state law that sloped corners had to be installed when the storm sewer project was done, why isn't there a state law that says that the City must keep them clean?

Mr. Herb Holcomb stated that if the sidewalks are plowed, and corners cleared, then there will be complaints that the snow is being pushed into people's yards, and back out into the streets, it's an impossible job.

Manager Quada explained that there are a total of five D.P.W. employees to do all of the plowing. That's it, and they plow 24 hours a day during periods of heavy snow. He also stated that a Lowell businessman had called him this morning to tell him that he had been to Ada and Grand Rapids, where none of the streets had been plowed by 7:00 a.m. rush hour, whereas in Lowell, every street was done, there was nowhere that a person could not drive in the entire City.

Mrs. Louise Ryder asked why the City doesn't clean off the sidewalks on the bridges; her husband had to when he worked here.

D.P.W. Director Tony Siciliano replied that the Bridge sidewalks are maintained by the City.

Mrs. Jeanne Shores stated that most everyone present has no quarrel that something is needed, but that the proposed ordinance needs working on.

Mrs. Phyllis Lessens asked why fine the property owners if kids still continue to walk in the streets anyway? Why not fine the kids?

Mr. Jim Hodges stated that it still came back to having small children in the streets, which is very dangerous, and he would hate to see a child get hit before something gets done.

Two letters were read into the record, (copies attached) from Mrs. Alice Racine and Mrs. Maryann Siegel, being opposed to the enforcement of such a snow removal ordinance of fine system against senior citizens or handicapped person who cannot find anyone to shovel for them, nor do it themselves.

Mayor Maatman then closed the hearing at 9:30 p.m. and asked for comments from Councilmembers.

Councilman Doyle stated that he agreed that the ordinance needs some work, maybe change the 24 hours (to get the snow cleared after a snowfall), to 36 or 48 hours, and perhaps make the fine only $10 for each offense, instead of $50.

Manager Quada suggested tabling the Public Hearing, instead of closing it altogether, and advertise ahead of time that only the major changes will be discussed, then re-open the hearing at a later meeting, so that the whole process won't have to be started over.

Mr. David Harding stated that he came from a small town next to poverty, Cassopolis, and that the City has always kept needs a lot of work, but wished the audience to know that the City of Grand Rapids snow ordinance states that citizens only have to clean their walks if there is over seven inches of snowfall, and it is enforced on a complaint only basis, which is the same as no ordinance at all.

Mayor Maatman, on the consensus of Council, re-opened the public hearing, for a continuance at another regular meeting.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins that the Public Hearing on the Proposed Snow Removal Ordinance be tabled until the first meeting in February, supported by Councilman Thompson.

Carried.

Manager Quada again urged citizens to call him when snow is thrown on houses, stating that he doesn't hesitate to call Kent County when it's done to him.

Manager Quada then gave an update on the wastewater treatment order, stating that we have now been told we will not receive any grant funds. He read a letter from the E.P.A. stating, however, that we must still build the new plant by 1988. We have, in return, told them that our citizens cannot afford an additional $50 per month on top of their bills.

Under Citizen Input, a question was raised about there being an ordinance regulating storage of junk cars in back yards.

Mr. Bob Pfaller thanked the City for the Chamber of Commerce for the participation in the downtown holiday decorations, stating that he has had many compliments about taking pride in our community.

Mr. Leonard Jackson asked, if the City was going to allow gas to be sold and airplane maintenance allowed at the City Airport by the Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music, that Mr. Clare McCombs felt that they have adequate insurance coverage.

Manager Quada replied that the Council has looked at the Airport Committee's recommendations, and will meet soon, now that the holidays are over.

There were no Council comments.

Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada stated that the City has been advised by our financial advisors that it would be in the City's best interests to sell approximately 1,100 shares of the State Savings Bank stock. He asked Council's permission to advertise for bid for the sale of said shares, but that the City reserve the right to refuse any and all bids, if it is felt that the bid prices are not adequate.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Fonger, supported by Councilman Doyle, that the City advertise for bid the sale of approximately 1,100 shares of Lowell State Savings Bank stock, and reserve the right to refuse any and all bids, if necessary.

Carried.

IT WAS THEN MOVED by Councilman Doyle to adjourn at 9:50 p.m.

Approved: James D. Maatman, Mayor Date: January 20, 1986
Ray E. Quada, City Clerk

Breakfast served at new Sunrise Auto Plaza

Patrons at Ada's newest business, Sunrise Auto Plaza are treated to not only car washes, gasoline & quick oil changes. . . they can also order breakfast served by an attendant in top hat and tails.

ADA- It's hardly new for some folks to rush through the drive-in at a fast food restaurant and eat breakfast while traveling to work.

But having breakfast served by a white-gloved waiter in tails and top hat and eating while your car receives a good scrubbing is a new experience available while an Ada car wash celebrates its opening week.

Sunrise Auto Plaza, 7100 E. Fulton, is offering all car wash customers a complimentary continental breakfast January 20-25 as part of opening week festivities. The breakfast is offered from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

top, upholstery and leather cleaning. Armor-all for tires and other rubber accessories and engine cleaning.

The quick oil change service includes filter, lube and fluid level and preventive maintenance checks. Batteries, tires and gasoline also are available.

The auto plaza can handle 100 washes per hour with a 165-car capacity on the property, according to Dave Van Andel, manager director. "There's enough room for about 35 cars waiting in line," Van Andel said adding it takes about three minutes per wash "so there's very little waiting for a car wash."

In addition to the car wash, the 5,442 square-foot building includes three service bays for quick oil changes and auto detailing work, a customer lounge, cashier's office and employee lounge. Erhardt Construction Co., Ada, was the general contractor, and Sherman Industries, Palmyra, NJ provided the car wash equipment.

Sunrise is open 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday and employs 15 people.

by Roger Brown

There is probably no one among us who hasn't at one time or another said, "Why me?" I know I have, and usually for good reason. Incidents that come readily to mind include being slammed into from the rear while stopped at a red light on 28th St. That's a good "Why me?" There are thousands of cars on 28th St. at any given time, why did that guy have to pick on me? More recently was the episode in which a New Year's Eve drunk crawled in bed with Terese and Me. There were hundreds of trailers in that park, why did he have to pick on us? Stuff like this happens to me all the time.

Sometimes I feel like I must be related to the guy in the "Li'l Abner" cartoon strip who has a rain cloud perpetually hanging over his head. Granted, a lot of the stupid things I get involved with are my own fault, but even when I am to blame, it seems like the consequences are a little lopsided. When I was canceled out by my auto insurance company, it was for claims like the glass breaking out of the tailgate of my old station wagon when I closed it one day. Of fourteen claims in my eleven year history with that company, there was only one in which I was at fault. Now tell me I don't have a little rain cloud over my head.

A good example of what I'm talking about happened just last week. I had taken Angie to an eye exam with an ophthalmologist in Grand Rapids. She didn't get into her 10:15 exam until after 11:00. We finally cleared the place shortly after noon, and decided to get some lunch. We chose the Big Boy at Michigan and Fuller, and the place was very busy with lunch traffic.

I settled on the soup and salad bar, and was very cautious not to spill my clam chowder as I negotiated the crowd on my way back to the table. No problem. The chowder gone, I made my move to the salad bar. I very carefully did not drop anything, or do something embarrassing while loading up my plate. Again, I negotiated the crowd with no problem, and ate my salad without spilling any bleu cheese dressing down the front of my sweater.

I really like pickled beets, and since Angie wasn't done with her chicken, I headed back to the salad bar for more of those scrumptious purple slices. Now, I know what you're thinking. The big dummy is going to spill pickled beets all over himself, or somebody else. But, you're wrong. That would be too easy. That would be my fault, and I couldn't say, "Why me?"

I hit the salad bar during a lull. In fact, I was the only one there. I stood all alone, in the middle of the restaurant, surrounded by throngs of diners, when it happened. For no apparent reason, a waitress slipped and fell, not five feet from me. She fell flat on the floor, so that only a handful of people could see her lying there. Her very full tray of glass plates loaded with hamburgers, fries, hot dogs, coleslaw, etc. made a resounding crash as it hit the tile floor at my feet.

There I stood, innocently holding my plate of beets, with everyone in the entire restaurant staring at me. I was the only person standing in the area of the crash, and they must have all figured I knocked over a stack of salad plates or something. Even my own daughter told me that she thought I had caused the crash. The manager and a couple of waitresses soon came to the aid of their fallen comrade. I sheepishly shuffled back to my table, trying to shake somebody's lunch off my shoes and pant legs as I went.

Back at the table, Angie said, "What happened dad, what happened?" I replied . . . you guessed it . . . "Why me!?"

The Bowling Corner

By Jay Michaels

Today, instead of giving tips or voicing my gripes at the American Bowling Congress, I'm going to present the 1st Annual Reader's Poll. In a couple of weeks, after I've had time to tabulate the results, you'll be able to see what you, the reader, has to say about our favorite game. If you would, complete the poll and return it to me at 805 E. Main, Lowell, MI 49331. C'mon gang, here's a chance for you to air your gripes about the ABC, WIBC or even (gulp) me. Pick up your pen or pencil and let the world know how you feel about the state of our sport, bowling.

1st ANNUAL BOWLING CORNER READER'S POLL:

1. Do you feel that the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress have your best interest as a bowler, at heart?  YES  NO
2. Does this column inform you of current happenings in the bowling world?  YES  NO
3. Do you bowl in tournaments in our area?  YES  NO
If yes, name the tournaments you've bowled in in the past 12 months

4. Would you like more technical advice in the bowling corner?  YES  NO
5. What is your highest league average this year?
6. How many leagues do you participate in on a weekly or bi-weekly basis?
7. What programs or special events would you like to see your favorite bowling center offer for you, the bowler?

8. Do you understand the term, "bowling etiquette"?  YES  NO
Do you practice bowling etiquette, even while you are open bowling?  YES  NO
9. The ABC/WIBC has ruled that all bowling pins must be a certain weight. Do you know how heavy a pin must be?  YES  NO
10. When picking a bowling center to either open bowl or league bowl in, do you require the center to have a liquor license?  YES  NO

11. Do you feel that the Lowell area should honor a Men's and Women's All-City team at the end of the bowling season?  YES  NO
12. In your opinion, who is (or was) the greatest male bowler of all time?
13. Who is (or was) the greatest female bowler of all time?

14. Do you feel your favorite bowling center is clean and comfortable at all times?  YES  NO
15. Do you feel your favorite proprietor should "block" the lanes to help you score better?  YES  NO
16. How would you react to the ABC or WIBC denying you an award you'd earned because the proprietor was using an illegal condition on his lanes?  Upset  Indifferent
17. Who is the better commentator on the Pro Bowlers Tour?
 Nelson Burton (ABC)  Earl Anthony (NBC)

18. How often do you bowl?  Once a week  Once a month  Once a year  Other
19. Is bowling becoming over priced?  YES  NO
20. How can your favorite bowling center improve itself and its image to you, the bowler?

John Harper and King Milling Company Receive LAAC's "Arty Awards"

At its Annual Meeting on Wednesday, January 15th, the Lowell Area Arts Council awarded its highest honor, the Annual Arty Award, to one individual and one local business, who have served the arts in Lowell.

John Harper was the sixth individual recipient of the annual honor. John was in charge of the recent renovation of the Lowell Area Arts Center, and devoted countless hours to the project. He designed, supervised, and to a large extent, carried out the renovation. John has been involved in numerous LAAC projects of every type over the years, serving as co-chairman of the Fallasburg Fall Festival, acting in an LAAC play, and serving as LAAC President in 1981. John's talents have been put to work in many ways. Besides doing construction work on the Art Center, he has handled the electricity hook-ups for the Fallasburg Fall Festivals and handles the lighting for the annual plays and other productions. He designed several of the FFF covered bridge quilts. It is this dedication of time, talent, and energy to the LAAC that makes John the deserving recipient of the Arty Award.

This is the first year that two Arty Awards have been given. A new award category has been established to include area organizations and businesses. The first recipient in this category is the King Milling Company. The King Milling Company has donated the space which has been renovated into the present Art Center and Gallery. While this support has been widely acclaimed during the renovation work during the previous year, the community may not be as aware of the support and help the King Milling Company has provided the LAAC in years past. They have been instrumental in helping bring the Artrain to Lowell several times, they have provided much assistance with community projects such as the turbine display, and have been very generous and helpful in providing many day to day needs. They do this not for public recognition, but to further the cultural life in the City of Lowell, and it is for this reason that they are most deserving of the Arty Award. The LAAC hopes the communities it serves will join in congratulating these award recipients.

Order seedlings now for spring delivery

Orders for Spring delivery of Tree Seedlings are now being taken according to Randy Pitsch, Tree Program Chairman of the Kent Soil Conservation District. These seedlings are available at reasonable rates for landowners to be used for windbreaks, fight erosion, and wildlife habitat.

Seedlings available include, Red Pine, Austrian Pine, White Pine, White Spruce, Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, walnut, popular, Autumn Olive, Hon-eyuckle and the ever popular wildlife packets. The packets include 75 seedlings of 10 different varieties. The cost is $28.00. The seedlings range in price from $10.00 to $95.00. The smallest quantity available is 50.

Order blanks and more information are available at the District Office at 3321 Plainfield or by calling 361-8511. Deadline for ordering is March 31, 1986. Quantities are limited.

Bequests, continued . .

woman of considerable artistic and musical talent. In retirement, they enjoyed a pleasant summer home on Murray Lake and wintered in Dania, Florida, where they were part-owners of a motel. Peter died in 1983, after a lengthy illness, and Evelyn in 1985, leaving a generous portion of their estate as a scholarship grant to help future graduates of their alma mater, Lowell High School.

The Lowell Congregational Church has also chosen to establish valuable scholarships with part of the funds received by them from the estate of Helen Look Daley. (See the section on Mrs. Daley's bequest to the City of Lowell for biographical material.)

A fund for student scholarship loans has been established through the schools from gifts given in memory of Walter W. Gumsier, Superintendent of Lowell Schools from 1926 to 1960, and of Margaret Elizabeth, daughter of Richard and Holly Court, who graduated as valedictorian and a class leader in 1958 and died the following year as the result of a long illness.

The Lowell Area Arts Council awards one scholarship annually to a student pursuing higher education in the fine arts, the LAAC Board of Directors providing for selection of the recipient. This award is given in memory of Louise Harper who, with her husband, John, was a resident of Lowell and a talented and active charter member of the Arts Council. Her death in 1982 came after a long bout with cancer.

In conclusion, then, it is obvious that quite a few Lowell citizens will long be well-remembered in this small city because of gifts made to the community in their names. What better legacy to leave than benefits to the citizens of the town which has imprinted one's life in pleasant ways?

Flat River Snowmobile Club News

The Flat River Snowmobile Club held their regular monthly meeting on Sunday at the clubhouse on Potters Road. Ed Bolt was a guest and made application for membership.

Jim Puchalski installed an antenna that was donated by Jack Condon so we now can watch the Super Bowl, regular programs, etc. with good reception of at least seven channels. Thank You, Jack and Jim.

The Sno-Cat Trail groomer was parked in the front yard so everyone got a good close-up look at that. Trail Chairman Ed Marshall had planned a demonstration of how it worked but the weatherman went on a binge and melted most of the snow. There are several activities planned for the near future so we are all hoping for more of the white stuff. The groomer made it all the way to 10 Mile Road and Wabasis Lake Road then back to the clubhouse before the snow went. Some of the members rode it after it was groomed and reported it to be "like a tabletop".

We had trail maps ordered from a printer for all those who have requested them but there has been a big snag and it looks as if we will not be getting them. We will have a limited number of them soon that we have copied on copy machines of our end of the trail. Actually if you once get on the trail there is no doubt where it goes because it is so well marked and traveled. In this area you can park and have access at Deer Run Golf Course, by the upper bridge in Lowell, at the Flat River S.C. clubhouse, on McPherson Road in Fallasburg Park, and at Wabasis Lake Park, or anywhere between. Restroom facilities have been placed in the parking area at Fallasburg Park.

Winners of the drawings were Kathy Puchalski and Don Souser. (Twice for Don. He says he never wins.)

Jack Condon and Dave Wert are recovering from recent surgery. Also on the sick list are Gerry Bryant and Judie Canfield. They are recuperating at home. Joe DeHaan surprised us with a short visit with his mother after the meeting. His most recent tests gave him a clean bill of health and he is slowly regaining his strength. He will return to school parttime this coming week. Bob Harvey is also home from the hospital. Get well soon all of you. We need you at meetings.

A 15-year-old juvenile female from Lowell was struck while waiting for a school bus Wednesday morning, January 15. She was standing near the Bowes Rd. entrance to Valley Vista Trailer Court when struck by a pickup truck driven by Jeffrey Rittersdorf, 32, of Lowell. The juvenile was treated and released at a Grand Rapids hospital later that day.

Charmaine Beimers, 30, of Lowell backed into a parked vehicle on East Main St. near Jefferson on Friday, January 17. The parked car was registered to Don Denman of Saranac. No one was injured.

A 16-year-old juvenile from Lowell made a left turn into the path of a car driven by Lori VanDyke, 22, of Wyoming, Mich. on Lowell's West Main Street near West Street. The incident occurred on Saturday, January 18. No one was injured.

Dorothy Shook, 74, of Saranac, drove her car into the rear of a pickup truck driven by William Wieland, 64, of Freeport. The accident occurred on Main St. near Alden Nash. No one was injured.

Amy Boss, 18, of Lowell made an improper right turn into the path of a car driven by Mark Westbrook, 23, of Ionia on Wednesday, January 15. The accident happened on Main St. near Jackson. No injuries were reported.

Arraigned in 63rd District Court on Monday, January 20 was Patrick Murawa, 19, of Ionia. Murawa was charged with larceny from a building in connection with the theft of tools from a Lowell auto body shop.

Also arraigned in 63rd District Court, Monday, on charges of a theft at the Lowell High School was Ronald Watts, 17, of Lowell.
