RED ARROWS DRAW EAST GRAND RAPIDS FOR FIRST DISTRICT BASKETBALL GAME

The Lowell Red Arrows will play the hot East Grand Rapids team in a home game Friday, and turn around to play them in the Arrows' first district game on Monday. Game time for the district match-up is 5:45 p.m. at the Forest Hills Northern gymnasium. All tickets for the game are $2.00 and are available in advance at the High School. Should the arrows win against the Pioneers on Monday, they will play their next game on Wednesday at 7:30 and if they are successful, they will appear in the district championship on Saturday at 1:00 p.m. All games will be played at Forest Hills Northern. Good Luck Arrows!

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know that . . . all fourth and fifth graders in Lowell Scholls go roller skating and bowling to learn and practice two leisure-time skills? These activities are offered through their physical education classes.

OLD PHOTOS WANTED!!!

The Grand Valley Ledger may publish a booklet using the article written by Betty Coons concerning the various bequests left to the City. The Helen Look Daley Memorial Committee has asked us to provide them with costs and a format. We would like to include several photos of projects funded by these bequests, and of the donors themselves. We would be interested in borowing such photos from those of you who may have them in family albums. The photos will not be harmed in any way, and will be returned to the owners. Please call 897-9261, or stop by our office at 105 N. Broadway if you can help us with this project. Thank you.

Grapplers win Regional Title; Rivers is Coach of the Year

The 1985-86 Wrestling team continued their spectacular season winning the Class B Regional held at Hudsonville High School last Saturday. Lead by three individual champions and one runner-up, the Arrows compiled 77 1/2 points to win their first Regional Championship since the 1964 season. Taking a close second was OK White rival, Northview, with 60 1/2 points, followed by Big Rapids with 54 1/2 points, Catholic Central with 52, and Belding with 48 points.

Lowell's three individual champs were Jim Johnson at heavyweight, Carl Pratt at 105, and Tony Huver at 138. Taking second was Brett Kirby at 155.

Johnson won his final match by a 2 - 1 decision over Caledonia's Matt Burns. Huver won by a 4 - 3 decision to Mark Meidzielec of West Catholic. Kirby was defeated by a score of 10 - 2 to Sparta's Doug Doel-

These four Arrows will go on to the State Championships next Friday and Saturday at Charlotte High School. Wrestling begins at 11:00 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. The admission is $2.00 for each session, $3.00 for the finals on Saturday, and $9.00 for an all session ticket. Good Luck Arrows!!

Congratulations go to Coach Rivers on being selected Michigan Regional Coach of the year. Good Job Coach!!

Lowell Wrestling Coach Gary Rivers displays his team's Regional Tournament trophy and the Regional "Coach of the Year" award which was presented to Rivers at Saturday's tournament. The veteran coach won the same award in 1964.

Last chance for "Creeps!"

The cast of "The Creature Creeps;" this year's LAAC play, worked hard for laughs and were rewarded by an appreciative audience last weekend as the threeact comedy by Jack Sharkey was staged at the Lowell Middle School. A very realistic set and pleasing special effects combined to set the eerie mood needed to aid the cast in presenting this horror story farce, set in, of course, Transylvania. Tickets for Thursday night can be purchased at the door for $3 or a special price of $2 for students and Senior Citizens. All tickets for Friday and Saturday nights are $4 and must be reserved before the performance. To reserve tickets call or visit Box Office chairman Dolores Dey, between 1 and 5 p.m. at the Lowell Area Arts Council Center, 149 S. Hudson, 897-8545.

BREAST CANCER AND MAMMOGRAPHY

This week we would like to discuss mammography and it's importance in the early diagnosis of breast cancer.

Approximately 119,000 new cases of breast cancer were diagnosed last year, and one in eleven women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. The risk of developing breast cancer in creases after age 50. There is also an increased risk of developing breast cancer in women who have not had children or had her first child after age 30. A family history of breast cancer also places one at increased risk. Warning signs of breast cancer are: a persistent lump, thickening or dimpling of the skin, nipple discharge. scaliness or retraction of the nipple and pain.

Like other cancers, early detection can save lives. Like other cancers, breast cancer usually produces no early warning signs So, in order to detect the disease early enough to effect a better outcome, screening procedures have been developed. Unfortunately these screening procedures are severely under-utilized. The American Cancer Society recommends breast self examination every month, breast examinations by a physician every 3 years under age 40, then every year thereafter, and mammography

Very few women perform these routine preventative measures. which have been proven to save lives. The first 2 recommendations are easy to follow and for the rest of the column we would like to focus on mammography.

Mammography is an X-ray examination of the breast performed at a hospital. It can find cancers too small to be felt, even by an experienced examiner. Currently, the American Cancer Society recommends a baseline mammogram in all women between ages 35-40. This is important because these X-rays can be returned to later on if a suspicious lesion should develop.

They also recommend mammograms be performed every 1-2 years between ages 40-49 in ALL women, and every year after age 50 in ALL women. It should be noted that these are recommendations for ALL women, not just those with suspicious lumps! amount of radiation needed to perform the mammogram has decreased significantly in the past several years so that the risk of causing cancer by radiation exposure is extremely small cure, and early diagnosis no longer means certain loss of a breast. Newer surgical techniques are available to maintain normal breast tissue if it is diagnosed early enough. The 5 year survival rate has risen from 78% to 96% today and, if it is found in very early stages, the survival rate approaches 100%.

He is apt to grow impatient when he does not bear as much spiritual fruit as he would like. If he does not see results as quickly as he wishes, he must remember that when a farmer plants his corn he does not expect an immediate harvest. He sows the seed and then calmly waits for the sun and rain and time to do their part. Likewise, the Christian must do his best and trust the Lord for the rest.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, teach me to wait patiently. When results are slow in coming, may rest quietly and confidently in Thee. Teach me not to murmur but to trust and live by faith

BIRTHS

John and Shela Schneider are proud to announce the arrival of their baby daughter, Linsey Jenean, February 6, 1986. She was 6 lbs. 6 oz. and 18 1/2" long.

Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Olson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carey. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lind, Evelyn Schneider. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eskes, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Halladay Linsey is also very lucky to have a great great grandmother, Treva Speerstra.

So, you think you're a pretty good shooter, huh? You think that you're pretty darn accurate with your first ball? Okay, ol' Jay has a big challenge for you. From now until someone breaks the pot, I'm going to run a little game I call "PROGRESSO", and if you're really good, or just plain lucky, you could pocket anywhere from $250. and up. All for just a little old $2.00 investment.

"PROGRESSO" works like this: in the first frame you have to knock down just one pin. In the second frame you have to knock down just two pins. In the third frame you must knock down just three pins, etc. The frame you are bowling is the number of pins you must score in that frame. Of course, there's a catch. If you score more or less pins than the corresponding frame number, you get a big, fat zero for that frame. You're allowed two balls in each frame to attain the proper score, except in the tenth frame, when you must strike on your first ball. Sound easy? I can assure you, it's not. The American Bowling Congress (ABC) lists the odds against scoring a perfect score in "PROGRESSO" at 700,000 to , hence the pot begins at $250 and will continue to rise until someone breaks the pot. A few years ago in the Saginaw area, a "PROGRESSO" pot grew to just over $5,000.

$2.00 will allow you a chance to break the pot anytime Legion Lanes has open bowling, and you'll roll your entire "PROGRESSO" game on one lane. There's also cash prizes for a not so perfect score (perfect in "PROGRESSO" is 55), like $100, for a score that's between 50-54, etc. Give me a call at 897-7566, and I'll explain "PROGRESSO" a little more fully, or come on down to Legion Lanes and give it a try, you never know, you just might be able to break the pot and win yourself some BIG bucks.

Lowell Lanes is hosting the Men's In-House tournament the first two weekends in March. This In-House tournament is sort of a Mini Men's City Tournament with team, doubles, singles and allevents taking place. Jack and Tom have plenty of good squad times available, and the more entries they have, the more prize money they'll pay out. Give Jack or Tom a call at 897-8443 to reserve a spot for your team. The Lowell Lanes staff also has a few other special events in the works, and as soon as their plans are solidified, The Bowling Corner will let you know about them.

The 1st Annual Spring Singles Classic also gets under way on March 1st. For a $12 entry fee, you can bowl three games across six lanes for a shot at the $500 first prize. This is a handicap event, with a maximum of 45 pins a game handicap for men and 60 pins a game for the ladies. Special squad prizes will be paid to those who sponsor a squad of at least 12 bowlers. The Spring Singles Classic is being held at Legion's Lanes, and entry blanks are now available at all Greater Grand Rapids area bowling centers

Last week The Bowling Corner reported that local Women's Bowling Association secretary Linda Colburn had won the actual singles title during the recently completed Women's City Tournament. After checking the scores again, Linda found that she had not won the title, Marilyn Nickless had by one pin. Marilyn rolled a 556 actual count in the singles competition to become the City's actual Singles Queen for the year. Nice rolling Marilyn, and we're sorry for the error in reporting

Also last week, I gave directions for the guys to get to the Men's City Tournament team event being held at Chez Ami. Somehow we placed the Chez at 44th Street, instead of 54th Street. The Chez is located at the corner of 54th Street and S. Division. The 54th Street exit is closed during the tournaments' run for repairs, so you'must exit at either 44th Street, or at the Cutlerville exit, then proceed to S. Division. There's ample free parking at the Chez, but you should arrive at least 1/2 hour early. Singles and doubles are being held this year at Grand Valley Lanes on Lake Michigan Drive in Allendale, across from the Grand Valley State Colleges.

Next week in The Bowling Corner we'll look at the 3-6-9 system for making your spares. Until then GO BOWLING AND TAKE A FRIEND!

Keith Avery, cowboy artist & poet, attends festival

Keith Avery, a noted western painter and former Lowell resident was recently featured in the following article from the "Roswell Daily Record", a newspaper published near Avery's current residence in New Mexico.

A Roswell man reacquainted himself with friends from his past recently, while helping the National Endowment for the Arts save a dying art form - the cowboy poem.

Keith Avery of south of Roswell represented New Mexico at the second Cowboy Poetry Gathering last weekend in Elko, Avery, 64, said his trip to the festival was most memorable because "I saw more of the old cowboys that I hadn't seen in years," as well as hearing about some old friends who have died.

He said the gathering was not a contest, then amended himselfto say the only competition was "one eagle against another."

Avery was also one of few people chosen to display his paintings there.

He said he enjoyed meeting cowboys who had seen his paintings in calendars.

Writing and reciting poetry, the real-life cowboy, he said, has been a part of the American West for 100 years or more, evolving much like Civil War songs, with guys sitting around the campfire telling stories.

"My first piece was written during World War II," Avery said, adding that while it was not a cowboy poem, it suited the moment when a good friend was being shipped overseas.

The poem, titled "An Artist's In addition to being the state's Prayer," was written in 1942 in official representative in Elko, a Chicago hotel after painting a picture for the friend to carry with him. Here it is:

An Artist's Prayer

Far beyond that blue horizon Like some beacon in the sky Is the wish for slight achieve-

May I never cease to try. Spare the love of simple

Keep my vision clear and high For if God has granted wishes May mine be to nobly live So some joy to all of mankind From my soul may humbly

While the National Endowment for the Arts spent $75,000 to fly representatives from 17 western states to the gathering, about 1,200 people in all attended, paying their own way for an opportunity to hear others' poetry and read their own.

During the weekend, Avery said, national television coverage was provided by ABC and pre-gathering publicity was generated when two cowboy poets appeared on Johnny Carson's "The Tonight Show."

Some of those attending, he said, went just so they could stand in line at a microphone for an opportunity to read a poem then get back in line.

The poems presented by the delegates will receive more permanent attention, he said, with the official poems saved by the National Endowment for the Art in a permanent record of this unique art form.

Switching from prose to poetry as naturally as breathing, Avery recited some of his favorites, then showed off some others he has written.

One poem, he said, came about in a unique way as a result of a Christmas card he made.

Avery said every year for 23 years he has written a poem and drawn a picture and had them made into Christmas cards.

One year, an old friend of his died after a long battle with cancer.

The man's wife, Avery said, called him for a poem to be used at the memorial service and, after reciting one for her, he wrote the following poem, titled "Yonder," in his friend's mem-

Yonder

A voice which only he could

Whispered "come," close to

He saddled up and rode away To find somewhere a fairer

With meadows green from gentle rain

Away from earthly strife and

His favorite horse, his trusted

Stands with empty saddle in the corral. And though we're sad he's

We know we'll meet again

someday

On some high ridge where things are fair

We know that he'll be waiting

At that last roundup God has planned

We'll meet there in the Promised Land.

With tireless horse of faultless stride

We'll make that last, eternal ride -

Together

The most memorable part of the gathering, Avery said, was "reminiscing with the old buddies I hadn't seen."

With the nation's economy the way it is, Avery said he is afraid the traditional cowboy is a dying breed, with isolated pastures far from plowing and tilling machines becoming the only places left for cowboys to ply their trade astride their horses.

Accompanying that death, he said, is the fact that the older cowboys who have carried on many of these poems are dying, losing forever the work that shaped this nation's history.

Avery wrote the following poem recently about the relationship between a man and his horse:

A Rare Commodity You'll note something sorta

special, of course That's shared by a cowhand and his favorite horse. But if you study you soon will discover

He's not what we call the common horse lover.

He may just be ridin' a ewenecked cayuse

But he'll never deal him unfeeling abuse. If all hell breaks loose while he is astride him He'll let out a yell and ride him and slide him

But there's nothing mean that you'll see him do

He'll grease a sore back, or nail on a shoe.

He'll never give "Dobbin" a kiss on the nose

Or allow him to slobber all over his clothes.

However hidden, it's there for detection -

They really do share a sort of affection. Still what they have may be better by far It should be spelled out with a Capital "R"; For if you study, in time you'll

The thing they have here is still called respect!

Varsity loses to Wyoming

Park in O-T

The Lowell Varsity basketball team dipped to 4-9 in the O-K White Conference and 5-14 overall last Friday in a 59-56 overtime loss to Wyoming Park.

The game went into overtime with the teams knotted at 52 points each. The Vikings outscored the Arrows 7-4 in the overtime period to post the win. Mike Dumas paced the Arrows with 20 points while Jeff Phillips tossed in 10. Wyoming Park led by a healthy 31-24 at halftime, but the Arrows were tenacious and came back in the second half make a close game of it.
