DID YOU KNOW. . .

The Lowell Senior High athlete maintained a 2.8 (B -) academic average this school year? Athletic teams were rated second out of eight O.K. White Division Schools for their display of Sportsmanship during the 1985-86 school year, as voted by all coaches from opposing schools. Lowell Area Schools have provided an exceptional program to the students of the community. With the passing of our recent millage, they will be able to improve their programs, using the recommendations set forth by the Educational Excellence Committee to attain Excellence in Education at the Lowell Area Schools.

School Board backs down from decision to bus students to Alto

By Matt Berry

Lowell Superintendent Fritz Esch said in a public meeting last Thursday night that students at Bushnell Elementary School will not be bused to Alto Elementary this fall to compensate for overcrowding at Bushnell.

Esch, along with President and Vice-President of Lowell's Board of Education Chris Van Antwerp and Roger Kropf added that, although children won't be bused this fall, it is more than likely they will be bused in the fall of '87. A committee was formed in January to assess the situation and attempt a solution before the fall of '87. The committee will present its first set of solutions in this September's Board of Education meeting.

ironically has no representatives on the committee. Esch said that all parents can get involved in the decision-making by attending PTO meetings and Board of Education meetings. Valley Vista was the most popular busing area because it is located best for a shortest possible busing route to Alto.

Many of the parents at the meeting said that they do not entirely object to the busing but they wanted to see what else could be done first. The parents were also shocked when they received the letter telling of the busing because there was no forewarning.

The population growth will be even more of a problem when the elementary students reach high school, as the students from all four schools will then be in one school. Parents wanted to discuss any possible solutions to yet.

that problem but Kropf said that it would be impossible to set up any type of answers so soon. Kropf cited that Alto was built nearly 18 years ago because of population growth in the area but six years later the population swerved toward downtown Lowell. Kropf then said that because of the unsureness of any longterm decision the board is not acting on this future problem

Attwood addition nearly complete

By Matt Berry

Lowell's largest employer, the Attwood Corporation, is currently expanding its facilities to the tune of $1.3 million. The expansion will create 20-30 new jobs over the next few years.

project will benefit the production of both Attwood's marine products line and furniture parts for Steelcase.

Attwood's quality control division will also be expanding. That division will have 3,000 sq. ft. of laboratories to test products. The existing quality control room will become an environmental lab, in which monitoring processes will be done to insure there is no spillage of toxic wastes. The corporation will also be adding a 2,000 sq. ft. cafeteria. Both the cafeteria and quality control labs are expected to be completed in three to four weeks.

Attwood is making good progress on the addition according to Wolverton.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Freda Godfrey, aged 81, of Lowell sustained minor injuries when she pulled from a driveway on Main near Valley Vista Drive into the path of a car driven by Gerald Kamerschen, 41, of Grand Rapids on Monday, May 19.

Rebecca Sloan, 20, of Lowell was slightly injured Thursday, May 22 when the car she was driving was struck from behind by a semi-tractor and trailer on Main near West Street. The driver of the truck was identified as Donald Burton, 24, of Portland, MI.

Arrested on a warrant for failure to appear in 63rd District Court by Lowell officers on Friday, May 23, was Randall Tulecki, 19, of Lowell.

Frederick Bassett, 21, of Saranac, struck a parked car owned By Thomet Chevrolet of Lowell as he was backing from a private drive on East Main near James Street on Friday, May 23.

The three officials projected that by the fall of '87 Runciman/ Riverside and Bushnell Schools are all going to increase in enrollment, while Alto's enrollment should dip. Currently, Alto has 20 classes with 200 plus students and Bushnell has 23 classes with almost 550 students.

The meeting, consisting of Esch, Kropf, VanAntwerp and a full room of parents with children in Bushnell, began with an opening statement by Esch describing the problem, with the remainder of the meeting for discussion on the problem and any possible solutions.

Since there are students at Bushnell who live outside Bushnell's district, one of the first solutions suggested was to put the children in their proper schools. Esch replied by saying that such a move would cause several split-grade level classrooms because of the large imbalance in each district's population.

Esch sent a letter in May to Bushnell parents, mostly those from the Valley Vista area, telling of the problem and explaining that their children may have to be relocated in September. Esch was swamped with phone calls from the parents and he said Thursday that the magnitude of their concern is what caused the motion for a delay in the busing.

"The community has been very supportive," Esch said. "They've taken quite an interest and they first want to know if anything else can be done. Therefore, the busing will not take place this September."

Esch then explained that the problem will be getting worse at the three schools and a solution must be made by the committee by the fall of '87. When the 1985-86 Advisory Committee of Elementary School Organization presents its set of solutions, Esch will establish public hearings to review the committee's report.

Valley Vista, the area in Bushnell's district with the most

The construction of Attwood, owned by Steelcase, Inc., is the result of a higher demand for its plastics products. The addition will give Attwood more room for its plastics production.

Construction began at the plant last fall, and the new room is scheduled to be completed by the end of June, according to Bruce Wolverton, Attwood's manufacturing engineer officer. When the addition is completed the corporation will begin re-arranging its warehouse, assembly-lines and plastics center to compensate for the growth of the plastics center.

The existing assembly area will be moved into the 32,000 sq. ft. addition. A large portion of the warehouse and shipping rooms will then be moved into the vacant assembly room and the plastics center will extend into the open space made available in the warehouse. When workers start moving storage from the warehouse Attwood will be adding two more shipping docks to the area, to boost their total to 10 shipping docks.

Once the new room is finished Attwood is predicting that it will be three months before all moving and re-arranging is done. Oct. 1 is the date Wolverton has said that everything will be fully operational.

Attwood, the world's leading of manufacturer marine hardware, has said that the expansion was necessitated by the fact that the company's current 26 plastic injection presses are operating at full capacity. Attwood plans to add three new machines, a 260, 700 and 1000 ton molding machine since Steelcase created a larger chair-line requiring larger molds. According to Attwood's Vice-President of Operations, Lew Haeck, the verton said. "We're still working on the electrical system, and some painting and floor finshing still has to be done, but the addition will be done in about two weeks."

Haeck said that the city has been very cooperative and City Manager, Ray Quada, supported his claim.

"Obviously we're very pleased," Quada said. "Attwood is a real plus for Lowell."

Brett Kirby awarded Runciman scholarship

Breit Wright Kirby

Brett Kirby, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Kirby, is the 1986 recipient of the C.H. Runciman Scholarship Grant.

Brett has been an outstanding student at Lowell High School. In addition to being named in the top ten of his class academically, this year he was president of both National Honor Society and Student Council. He was the student representative on the Board of Education. Brett was drum major for the LHS marching band, as PRECISION & FASHION HAIRSTYLING - For both men and women. Man's World Hairstyling. Kidnapping suspect is nabbed here

By Matt Berry

Lowell officers and a Kent County Sheriff Department Deputy chased down and apprehended a Grand Rapids man early Sunday morning after receiving a complaint of an abduction from a 16 year old female.

Michael Hogan, 27, allegedly kidnapped and held the Muskegon Heights girl at knife-point in Muskegon Heights before coming to Lowell in a stolen car. Hogan stopped in the 400 block of E. Main and the girl ran to police officers who were nearby in the Rite-Aid parking lot

A Lowell patrol car and a Kent County E-Unit were in the parking lot when the girl pointed to Hogan. Hogan then fled on foot

Our children emulate their sports heroes in many ways, including their use of chewing tobacco. Is there any harm in using smokeless tobacco, or is it just a harmless fad? In today's column we hope to discourage the use of this potentially harmful product.

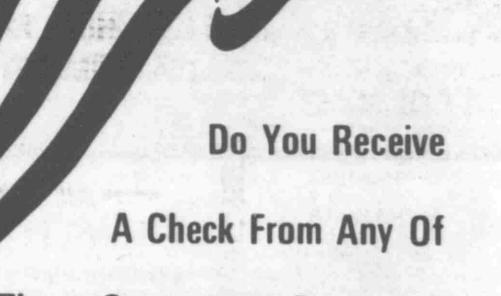

Smokeless tobacco has been associated with various forms of cancer including cancers of the gum, cheek and pharynx. As of this writing a very important court battle is under way to determine if a certain tobacco company can be held liable for oral cancer in a young chewing tobacco user! Smokeless tobacco use seems to be on the upswing. Current estimates are that seven to twenty-two million Americans use the product. Many users feel it is a safe alternative to cigarette smoking. A number of states including Michigan, are contemplating legislation requiring a warning label on smokeless tobacco similar to those on cigarette packages.

Besides an increased risk of cancer, smokeless tobacco use causes gums to recede from the teeth and encourages damage to the teeth. It can lead to bad breath, decreased taste sensation, an increased heart rate and has been implicated in higher blood pressures. Because smokeless tobacco contains nicotine, it is considered to be addictive. Nicotine levels in the blood stream have been shown to be as high as those in smokers. In summary, smokeless tobacco can be harmful to your health. unit training (OSUT) program at We encourage the avoidance of all tobacco products.

About this time each year I get a chance to sleep in on Tuesday because of Mr. Goff's second graders at Runciman School. He brings his students to the Ledger for a tour of the place, and I get a packet of thank you letters in return. The letters make great material, and have found their way into this void for the past three years. The spelling and penmanship is definitely "second grade," but the content is always a real treat. Space won't allow me to print them all, but here are a few that are typical.

> Under the Manager's Report, Manager Quada informed the Council the State Liquor Commission had received application for S.D.M. license for the new 7-11 store. He stated that local government approval is not necessary for grant of the license, but that we have 15 days to state if the business is not in compliance with local laws and ordinances. Council concurred to let the 15 days expire. Manager Quada stated he would, on behalf of the Council and City, make copies of said application regulations and send to current S.D.M. license holders in town.

Manager Quada asked the Council for the appointment of two persons to serve on the School Liaison Committee for the purpose of conducting a study, incorporating the two townships and the city, of recreational needs and facilities within the city and surrounding community. Councilmen Collins and Doyle were chosen as the representatives from the city. Both accepted the appointment.

The appointment of Ardis Barber to the Planning Commission was made by Mayor Maatman.

He requested the Council, when able, review the land site (intersection of Jackson, Division, and Front) or make other recommendations.

Manager Quada requested an Executive Session of Council for discussion of property acquisition.

Mayor Maatman at that time presented to the city a bronze

Lowell City Council approves budget

The Lowell City Council dealt with the city's 1986-87 budget at their regular meeting of Monday, June 2. The budget calls for for a tax levy of 12.383 mills, a 1.05 mill increase. Water rates are also rising by six cents per 1,000 gallons. The budget calls for total expenditures of $2,334,976.00 over the coming year.

When Lowell City Manager Ray Quada unveiled his proposed budget in April, he cited higher insurance premiums as one of the principle reasons for an increase in taxes. Each mill assessed by the city generates about $38,000 in revenue, and most of the extra mill assessed this year will indeed be gobbled up by higher insurance premiums.

Quada told the councilmembers that copies of the budget have been available to the public at city hall and the library, and he reported that he had received no written comments concerning the document. No one was present at Monday's public hearing to offer any statement regarding the budget. Councilman Jack Fonger made a motion for approval, Councilman Dean Collins seconded and the budget was unanimously approved.

Only $212 separated the three local auto dealers bidding on a new police cruiser for the city. The three dealers varied by $600 on the trade-in value of an old police cruiser. In the end, Zeigler Ford was awarded the bid as they had the lowest price at $11,137 and the highest trade-in offer at $1,700.

Quada asked the council to set a public hearing to approve changes the city's building inspection ordinances. Quada proposes to contract Joe Nowak to conduct electrical and mechanical inspections for the city. Nowak is a licensed inspector, and currently performs these types of inspections for Vergennes Township. The city is currently relying on the services of a state inspector who has four or five counties in his jurisdiction. "I think we can provide faster service and do an adequate job by using our own inspector," Quada told the council. The council agreed to place the issue before a public hearing on Monday, July 7. Quada said he'd get back to the council with a . schedule of recommended rates for various inspections if the ordinance passes. Quada informed the council he had received notification that Rite-Aid Pharmacy has applied for a S.D.M. license (take-out beer and wine) from the State Liquor Control Commission. A public hearing was set for Monday, July 7 to hear a request for re-zoning from Markland Associates. Markland wants to rezone a 135' X 276' parcel on West Main Street to C-2 commercial. They propose building a parking lot on the site. Mayor James Maatman appointed Kevin Smith to a seat on the Lowell Planning Commission.

Kidnapping, continued

and both the Lowell and Kent County officer chased him down at 12:20 a.m. Sunday.

Hogan will be arraigned in Muskegon on charges of abduction, kidnapping from Muskegon Heights, criminal sexual assault of the 1st degree, auto theit from Ottawa County and escape from a Grand Rapids correctional institute a year ago.
