Kent County 4H Fair gets underway Monday

By Matt Berry

Youth and Liberty will be the theme when over 800 6-19 year old Kent County 4-H fanatics will stampede the Lowell Fairgrounds next Monday for the opening day of the 1986 Kent County Youth Fair.

Activities ranging from carnival rides to livestock and horse judging are on the agenda for the 52nd annual 4-H fair, running all day Monday till Saturday, Aug. 4-9. Entrance to the fair is free.

Monday's events will include arts and crafts judging, horse judging and the opening ceremonies. The ceremonies will include speeches by U.S. Representative Paul Henry and State Senator Richard Posthumus.

Miss Michigan, Barbara Jean Crandall, will also be part of the fair's kick-off. The free of charge opening ceremonies will take place at the grandstand arena at 7:00 p.m.

Major attractions throughout the week include Wednesday's livestock sale, Thursday's Lightweight Draft Horse Pull and the ever popular youth rodeo on Friday and Saturday.

The livestock sale, scheduled for 6:00 p.m. Wednesday at the Reath Show Barn, is expected to sell over $100,000 of youth raised swine, sheep and cattle.

The horse pull, Thursday night at 7:00 at the Grandstand Arena, is much like its industrial counterpart, the tractor pull. Horses competing in this have to pull a weight a certain distance. Admission is $2.

4-H participants from all over the state will be competing in the Pepsi-Cola Youth Rodeo Friday and Saturday evenings at the Grandstand Arena. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for children under 12 for the rodeo on Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

Nearly 100 rodeo rowdies, including 18 local teens, will be the 4-H duplicate of a professional rodeo. Saturday's rodeo will act as a closing ceremony of the week's festivities.

Parking for the fair is $1 per day or $2 for the week.

Lowell teens who are proud of the farm animals they raised and arts and crafts they made will get a chance to show it all off next week in the 52nd annual Kent County 4-H Youth Fair.

Some local youths participating in the August 4-8 fair will be displaying horses, rabbits and arts and crafts. The fair will be held at the Lowell Fairgrounds.

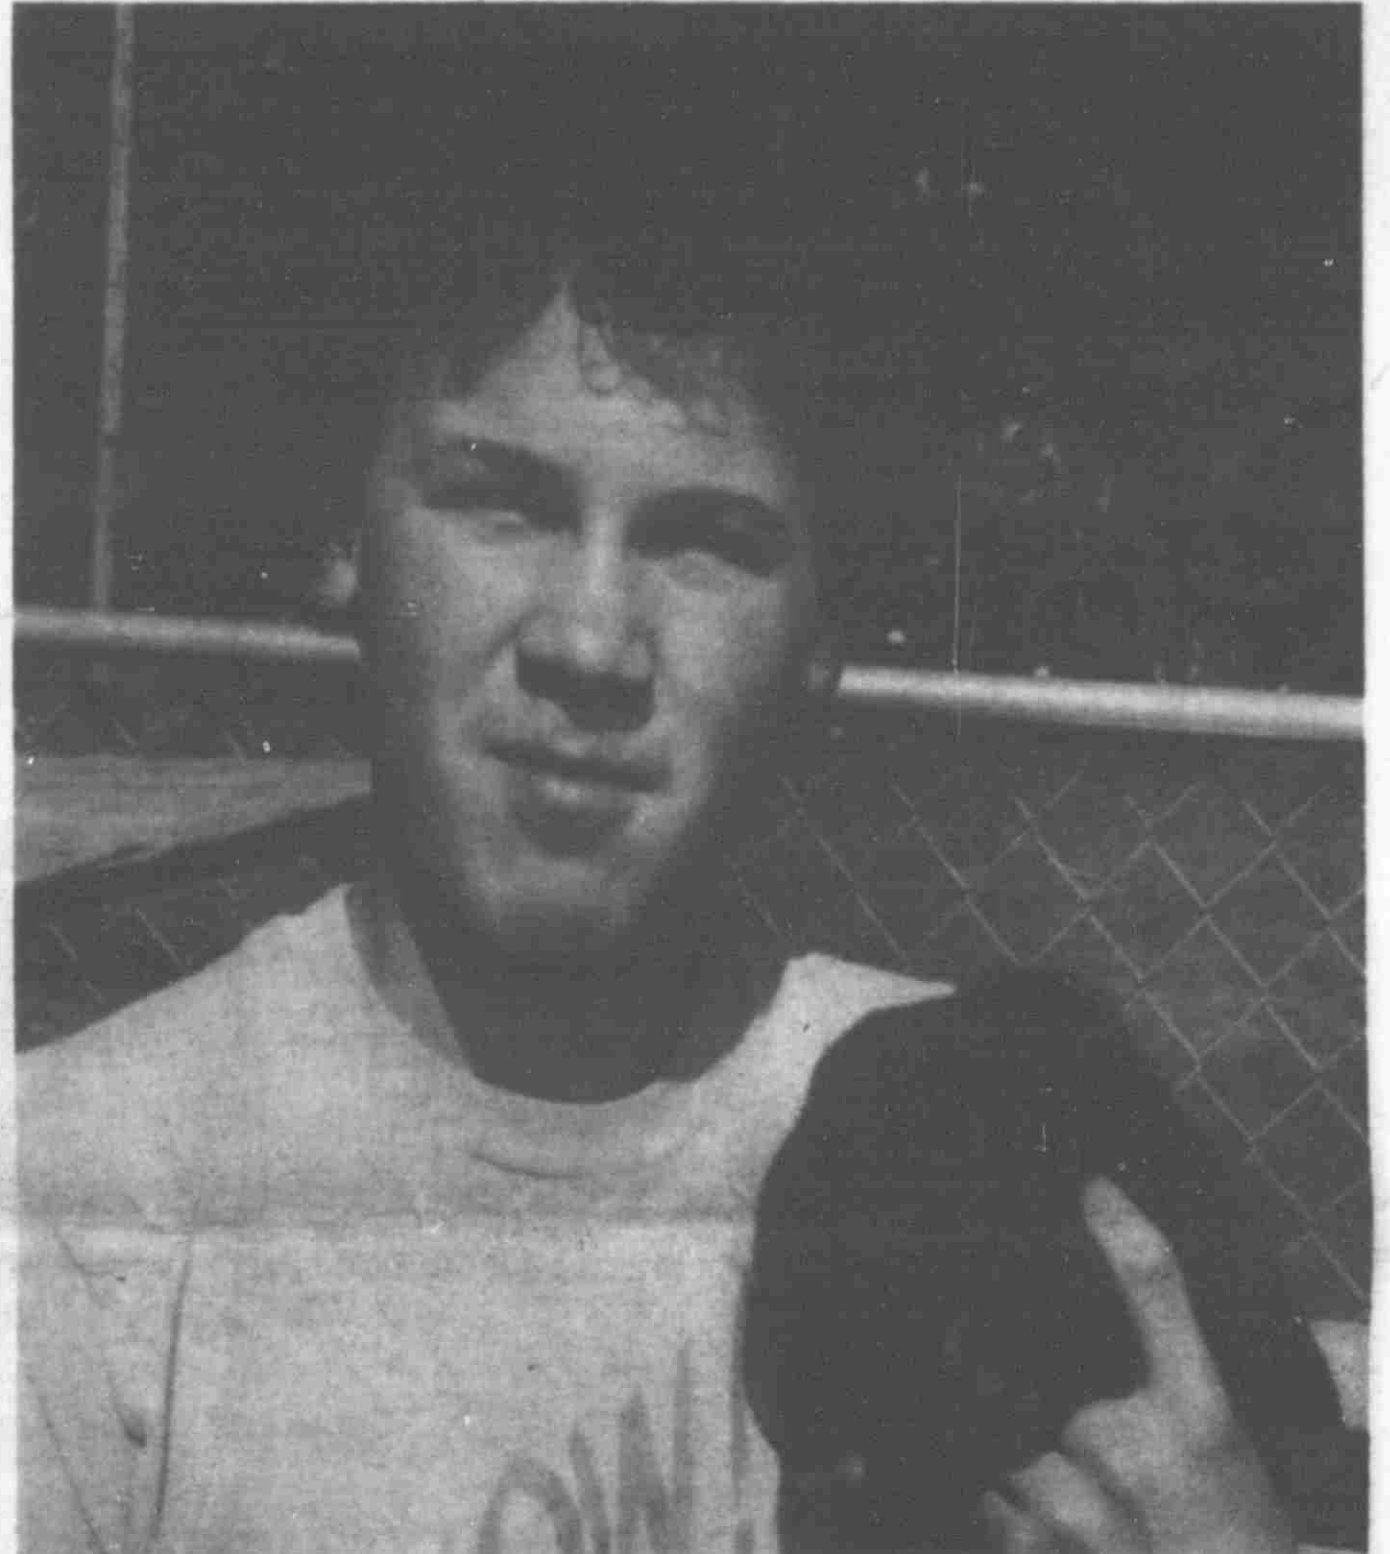

Cindy Luehrs, a 1986 graduate of Lowell High and veteran of eight 4-H fairs, will be one of the many Lowell teens to enter an animal in this year's competition. She will be riding a 20 year old Thoroughbred named Greek Odyssey.

"This will be my second year using Odyssey," said Luehrs, an 18 year old member of the Midnite Ryder 4-H club. "I expect to do good, but you never can tell. But I know I'll have a good time."

Luehrs will be taking Odyssey, one of three horses she owns, into areas of competition such as dressage, equitation, Western and English bareback and general horsemanship.

Luehrs, who has placed in 17 of 18 classes since she began competing in the 4-H fair, said she puts a lot of effort into raising and preparing her horses but she feels it's all worth it.

"I spend lots and lots of time with my horses," she said. "All the work doesn't bother me, though. I get a tremendous feeling of accomplishment when I'm at the fair. I love it."

13-year-old Doug Sanford, 1310 Cumberland, will be one of the 800-plus Kent County teens participating in this year's Kent County 4-H Fair, to be held Aug. 4-8 at the Lowell Fairgrounds. Sanford is holding a Mini-Lop, one of two rabbits he will enter in judging contests.

Alto native Tammy Walma, 17, is using the theme of this year's fair to her advantage. With "Youth and Liberty" as the theme, Walma cooked up the notion to place the Statue of Liberty on a cake she will bake.

"Being in the decorative cake category I thought it sounded like a good idea," said Walma, entering her ninth year in the fair's arts and crafts division.

Walma will also have for the fair clothes and drawings. She has been to other 4-H fairs across the state, but the locality of this one is that attracts her.

"I know more people who are in it and who come to see it because it's close to home," she said. "That makes me feel more comfortable. It's a lot of fun."

A Lowell brother and sister team will also be in this year's fair, but in separate divisions. Doug Sanford will boast two rabbits next week, and his sister, Jan, will be showing and riding her Arabian horse.

Doug, 13, will show his younger rabbit in the breeding category, and the elder one in the showmanship area. He has built cages for his pets, along with grooming, feeding and exercising them everyday.

"When you get to the middle of summer vacation you find yourself with not much to do.

Appointments not always needed at Vanity Hair Fashions, Open six days Lowell, 897-7506.

That's why I like the fair. It breaks up the monotony," he said.

Jan, 19, will be participating in her last year of 4-H competition.

The fair's rules allow teens up to the age of 19 to take part in the events. Besides leading her horse through dressage and equitation classes, she has made a few science projects for her ninth year in the fair.

"I wish it wasn't going to be my last year, but I've had a lot of fun," she said.

Shotgun Scare !!!

A 28-year-old Lowell man who was arrested for felonious assault after brandishing a shotgun in a convenience store Sunday night was released Monday on a $500 P.R. bond, pending pre-sentence investigation.

Kenny Whitehead, 803 W. Main, was arrested by Lowell Police after he started an affray at Crystal Flash, 1002 W. Main, at 8:16 p.m. Sunday.

Whitehead entered the store at approximately 7:45 and bought a 40 ounce bottle of beer. According to an employee who was working at the time, he "kept asking us (cashiers) to buy him cigarettes and lend him money." She added that Whitehead kept pestering her and other customers for about 30 minutes.

When a patron at the store asked Whitehead to leave, an argument ensued. The two then went outside, and the quarrel escalated.

"When they went outside it got worse, so I called the police," said one of the two employees on duty at the time.

Whitehead left the scene, and retrieved a shotgun at his home before the police arrived.

"He came back into the store with a shotgun and waved it around, shouting 'Where is he? Where is he?,' referring to the guy he was arguing with earlier," the employee said.

Whitehead then went outside to the back of the building, still looking for the man. A group of men behind the store told Whitehead the man had left. They then jumped Whitehead and took his gun.

Whitehead was originally arrested for felonious assault, but the charge was changed to simple assault, a misdemeanor, when it was discovered the shotgun was inoperable. It had no bolt nor clip for ammunition.

According to the Lowell Police Department's report, Whitehead had been drinking prior to the incident.

MALIGNANT MELANOMA: A SERIOUS SKIN CANCER
Several weeks ago in a column, we discussed the common skin cancers and stated that most are quite simply treated and cured. One exception to this simple cure is a specific type of skin cancer called malignant melanoma. In our next couple of columns we will review some basic information regarding this most serious of all skin cancers.

Malignant melanomas are responsible for 3% of all cancers, with 18,000 new cases each year and over 5,000 deaths per year due to this cancer. It usually occurs in 30-50 year olds and is very rare in children. Unfortunately the incidence of this cancer has risen dramatically in the past 30 years. Sun exposure does seem to be related to this increasing incidence. Most patients with a melanoma state that they had a pre-existing mole at the site of their cancer. This suggests that melanomas may arise from a mole. But, since the average white person has 15-40 moles, the chance that any one of these may become malignant is very rare.

The chance for a cure is very good if the lesion is surgically removed early enough. In patients with small, thin lesions the cure rate is almost 100%! Unfortunately, melanomas can metastasize (spread to distant sites or organs) and once this spread has occurred cure rates are dismal. All in all, approximately 70% of all cases of malignant melanomas can be cured and prognosis of each individual case depends on the depth of penetration into the skin, site of the lesion, sex of the patient and growth pattern of the lesion.

We stated earlier that the incidence of malignant melanoma is rising. In fact the incidence has risen ten fold in the past 40 years! The reason for this rise is not yet clear but it may be related to our attitudes about sun exposure and tanning. Several factors link sun exposure and melanomas:

- Melanoma occurs more commonly on body parts exposed to the sun; face, trunk and extremities.
 - The closer you are to the equator the higher the incidence of melanoma.
 - Persons with fair skin which sunburns easily but tans poorly are more likely to develop melanoma.
- In summary, evidence points to intense exposure of untanned unprotected skin as possible trigger to developing malignant melanoma. Next week we will discuss the precursors for this cancer and prevention.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

... Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good (Romans 12:9).

In my kitchen there is a drawer in which are stored dozens of recipes. I have collected these recipes over the years with the intention of trying them some day. Out of necessity, there are times when some of these recipes have to be eliminated in order to make room for newly discovered ones.

Every so often I go on a cooking spree. If the recipes I test turn out to be concoctions the members of my family especially enjoy, I put copies of the recipes in my file. If the people for whom I cook wrinkle up their noses, or express disdain for a dish, I throw the recipe away. Many thoughts come to one's mind. Some are good and edifying. Others are evil. One is free to choose which to harbor and nurture. Thoughts of hate, envy, jealousy, and greediness are destructive. The sooner they are eliminated, the better. By rejecting the evil, space is made available in which to store the good.

Fellow Christians, it is a wise practice to frequently examine our minds and hearts. Should we find any undesirable thoughts and attitudes therein, we need to get rid of them quickly and "make room for the good."

Prayer: O God, teach me harbor only those thoughts and attitudes which reflect Thy likeness. In place of hatred, let me store love. In place of despair—hope. Replace doubt with faith. Instead of defeat, let me store positive assertions. Enable me to abhor the evil and "make room for the good." Amen.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor
 Many of us place great balance on our privilege of voting, especially when it involves voting into office someone with whom we can identify.

Such an opportunity is available to voters of the Third District of Kent County when they cast their vote for Commission Candidate Marsha Wilcox.

Marsha has been a life long member of this community and is aware of the needs of its residents. Marsha and her husband, Gordon, operate a dairy farm and are in tune with the concerns of this largely rural district.

A proven leader, Marsha Wilcox has given countless hours to serving her community through service to her church, the school and many organizations on local, county and state levels of leadership.

Be sure to go to the polls for the August 5th Primary Election and vote for a candidate with your best interests in mind, Marsha Wilcox. Marsha does common things uncommonly well.

Thank you,
 Ann Mulder

Dear Editor,
 As a parent, I am outraged, disgusted and embarrassed at the totally incompetent and unprofessional handling of the reinstatement of three teachers and the release of a Principal we cannot afford to lose. The indecisiveness of our Administration weakens their credibility. It is inconceivable that a woman of JoAnn Frey's caliber, integrity and background should even be in question, much less be punished for doing the job she was hired to do. Just a year ago, she was picked from the list of candidates because she could do the job. I agree that she is what the school needed - and in spite of the negative and hostile reception she received from some disgruntled teachers, she has made a tremendous impact in this community. She gave 200 percent and never allowed her emotions to interfere with her professional judgements. She never backed down or away from what she considered best for the school and the students. She overlooked the teachers behavior because it was secondary to getting the job done and suffered abuse. She will not settle for mediocrity, obviously she is what this school needs and has needed for a long time, but she is not what some of the teachers want. It doesn't take much intelligence to figure out why they would have us believe that letting Mrs. Frey go is the best solution. This is an oversimplification of the deep-rooted and serious problem that exists in this school. They continue not only to dictate and intimidate the Superintendent and School Board, they are rewarded. If total dedication in providing the best and most complete opportunities for the education of each individual student is grounds for dismissal - we should all be outraged and our voices heard. We cannot afford to lose her. It is time we start looking things over instead of overlooking them.

Bea Arnold

Dear Editor,
 This letter is in regard to the dismissal of JoAnn Frey as Principal of Bushnell Elementary. The Fifth Commandment says "Thou shalt not kill," this means more than thou shalt not commit murder - such as killing a person's reputation, killing a special gift a person has. JoAnn Frey has a gift that I feel is almost lost today. She is one of those unique persons such as Cora Troy, (a recently retired Lowell teacher) who has wanted to be a teacher since early childhood. JoAnn thinks of a child as a challenge, not just a number.

My mother always said "if you are a happy child, you will be a healthy adult." Psalm 139 says how special we all are and different. JoAnn initiated special programs for the different needs of our children.

I hear it being said that JoAnn tried to do too much too fast. Why not? She has the knowledge, she kept up every year, continually learning, in order to help our children. A teacher can make or break a child, give them confidence, tell them they just need a little more help. The Lord gave JoAnn an extra gift and she did not bury it, she invested it in our children and it multiplied. It says in Scripture, "do not hinder the children" - please help us keep JoAnn in our district. Don't lose sight of the reason she was put here, the children.

Of my 6 children, I have three children who were helped by JoAnn. She taught one and she helped the other two by recommending a special eye doctor and testing. She never has slandered anyone. Sometimes I wonder if Jesus were here today and we were petitioning to save Him, would everyone sign or would they say I sympathize with you, but I can't sign and so the guilty go free with such trumped up accusations against the innocent. Aren't we our brother's keeper? We should not be afraid to stand up for the truth despite the consequences.

As an Administrator and Curriculum director for our school district, JoAnn has brought her knowledge, compassion, experience and dedication to us in order for our children to achieve the educational excellence they deserve.

I say "THANK YOU" that JoAnn is doing too much too fast. She's a keeper.

Kathleen DeLong

To Whom It May Concern:
 We apologize to any and all Lowell Area School voting taxpayers who might have been offended by petitioners at Eberhards parking lot.

We were told by a reliable source that we had permission to do this outside of the premises per se.

Sincerely,

Art Gallery opens new show: "Neons: Elements of Style"

The opening reception for "Neons: Elements of Style" a one man show by neon artist IAN MACARTNEY was held in the Lowell Area Art Center Gallery Tuesday evening. The show will continue through August 31.

MACARTNEY, born in Venezuela and raised in England, earned a BA in communications from Hope College, planning to enter a visual medium, such as TV. He began in Chicago, assisting Burr Tillstrom with the video for the Kukla and Ollie show. He proceeded to the field of advertising, which brought him to Grand Rapids, and now has found his career in the development of neon lighting.

When he lived in England, MACARTNEY viewed America as a nation with a very distinct culture, an important part of which were the neon lights which dazzled the eye on every busy thoroughfare. "Neon epitomized American culture for me," says MACARTNEY. His fascination became part of his artistic expression as he began collecting and working with old neon in 1981. He soon became the local source for old neon and found that his customers were fascinated by his new pieces, designed by rearranging the old neon signs. Soon, as a demand developed, he learned the process of developing neon tubing himself and began creating his own original designs. Currently 99% of his business is the installation of new neon lighting or

Saskatoon Golf Course is setting for Babe Zaharias tournament

The seventh annual Babe Zaharias Golf Tournament covering Kent County is slated to be held at Saskatoon Golf Club in Alto, on August 4. This special fund raising event is held each year on behalf of the American Cancer Society to raise dollars for research, education and services for cancer patients.

Sponsors of the 1986 Babe Zaharias Tournament are Mazda Distributors Great Lakes and Gantos, Inc.

The Babe Zaharias is open to all women golfers. Entry fee is a $65.00 donation which includes lunch, golf cart, tote bag/ accessories. Registration is open through the day of the event.

He points out that neon almost died in the plastic era of the '60s and as a result a whole generation grew up without neon. He hopes to introduce the magical electric tubing to that generation as well as bring to their nostalgic elders a bit of their youth.

"Neons: Elements of Style" will feature twelve three-dimensional pieces on pedestal, floor, and wall. The pieces range from a height of two feet to eight feet.

The LAAC Gallery is at 149 S. Hudson, and is open from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on weekends.

The Babe Zaharias will be the second of the annual dual fund raising invitational tournaments, the Walter Hagen for men, held earlier this summer and the Babe Zaharias for women.

Winners of the local tournament participate in the State Finals Tournament at Boyne Highlands in September. The winners of the State Finals go on to the National Championships held in Florida.

The tournament was named the Babe Zaharias to honor the memory of the great woman golfer who died of cancer. Babe almost single handedly changed the face of women's golf with her courage and determination.

In 1946-47 she had 15 consecutive victories including the U.S. Amateur Championship. Struck with cancer in 1953, Babe returned to golf just three months after surgery, and won her third U.S. Open title in 1954.

The 1985 Babe Zaharias Tournament at Saskatoon will again feature West Michigan native, Sue Ertl for Ionia, currently in her fifth year on the LPGA tour. She has also been named Honorary Chairwoman of the event. Ertl will play the total 18 holes of the tournament, but with different foursomes on each 9. As an added feature this year, Mark Wilson of Forest Hills Country Club and Carol Farquhar of Meadow Wood Country Club will conduct a golf clinic following play in the afternoon.

The 1986 tournament is expected to raise $25,000, a 13% increase from last year's amount of $22,000.

The Bud-Light
Spirit of America
National Run for Glory will be held in Grand Haven

"The Bud-Light Spirit of America National Offshore Run for Glory" will return to West Michigan, announced race Chairman Marc Vanden Bosch. Vanden Bosch is an employee of Grand Isle Marina in Grand Haven, MI, the event's primary sponsor. The race will run August 9 at 12:00 p.m.

The "Spirit," this year sponsored by Bud-Light beer, will feature five different classes of offshore powerboats from all over the nation on a 150 mile course from Grand Haven to Holland and back. The course has been altered to allow for more spectator boats. Last year a spectator flotilla of 2500-3000 boats in the Grand Haven area alone nearly overwhelmed the Coast Guard and civilian volunteers and contributed to a delay in the race.

"Last year's weather didn't help either," said Vanden Bosch. "We had cold rain and a 3 to 5 foot chop. This year's spectator flotilla could conceivably be twice that of last year's if the weather holds off!"

"Several days of celebration are planned for the "Spirit," he continued. "Thursday we'll have a parade thru downtown Grand Haven, and a beauty contest at Grand Isle (Marina). Friday will include the drivers' meeting (closed to all but the media) and the sponsor's party that evening.

The public will be able to see the boats and meet the drivers at Grand Isle Marina on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A $3 to $5 pit pass will be sold allowing the fans access to the boats as well as the "Mid-Way"; a conglomeration of attractions adding a festive flair to the proceedings.

Pit-Passes and parking/shuttle/spectator information will be available at all Believe in Music/Ticket Master locations beginning July 7.

In concluding Vanden Bosch said "we learned a lot from our successes and mistakes last year. We've improved the parking situation and scaled down the pit pass price. The Bud-Light Spirit of America will once again be West Michigan's most spectacular spectator event."

For more information call Richard Kelley at 538-8130 or 538-1228.

Boosters

thank volunteers

When the Athletic Boosters can serve a crowd like those attending the Gus Macker, and have it be a successful fund raiser, you know we have exceptional people in our area.

Our volunteer workers numbered over 250 for this weekend. Parents, friends, school administrators, teachers, coaches and students - Elementary, Middle School and High School worked together in the heat and rain.

Hot dogs being the most popular item on our menu sometimes would disappear only minutes after reaching their destination. The Crew working in St. Mary's kitchen prepared these plus other goodies. Our 3 Coke wagon concessions always had a good supply of workers and food.

The time and energy given by volunteers before, during and after this weekend are appreciated. We are also thankful for the support given by stores and other businesses in our community.

Thanks to all of these and any others who supported us.

Youth football
sign-up begins August 9

Mom and Dad, it's time for the aching muscles, exhausted youth, cheering, and lots of wash. This truly reminds us of all our fall fun times.

Lowell Youth Football will be having sign-up Aug. 9 between the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. All interested youth should report at the Lowell High School Cafeteria. The potential players (ages 8 to 14 yrs. and all 7th and 8th graders) should bring $8, signed note by parents, and proof of age.

Final sign up will be held Aug. 27, 28, and 29 at Lowell High School parking lot.

4-H Youth Talent Show slated for
Aug. 7

Approximately 75 Kent County 4-H participants will be "strutting their stuff" at the first Youth Talent Show 7:00 p.m., August 7 at the Kent County Youth Fair. The 20 acts will present two hours of singing, dancing, clowning, and drama to the delight of parents, grandparents, friends and neighbors.

Miss Kathy Burch, 4-H Summer Program Assistant, is working with each of the acts and feels, "It will be a great experience for the participants as well as for the audience. A great deal can be learned by kids working together on a performance and then putting their efforts in front of the audience to see."

Both the Youth Talent Show and the Youth Fair have a free admission. The fairgrounds are just south of the spotlight in Lowell. The Kent County Youth Fair runs from August 4-8.

Old-time crafts to be featured at Schoolhouse Fair on August 9

Take a drive over the Fallsburg Bridge to the Schoolhouse Museum on Saturday, August 9, and you'll drive into a treasure of craft demonstrations and sales. The Vergennes Cooperative Club is sponsoring its second annual "We are the People of Vergennes" Fair, with emphasis on our heritage of country crafts.

At 10 a.m. weaving or rug-making will be demonstrated, followed by information on antiques by Lowell's Antique Mall (with an auction at 11). There will be candlemaking and, at 1 p.m., a demonstration on soap-making.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. craft sales booths will be set up on the lawn of the Schoolhouse, at which you may buy creative hand-sewn items, dried flowers, hand-painted china, bookends with etched-glass inserts, homemade breads, rolls, jellies, jam, and much more. Lunch will also be available.

In addition, you may find crafts and historical displays inside the Schoolhouse Museum, and you may take an old-fashioned carriage drive through the park.

Admission is free, and proceeds from the auction and food sales will go to the operation and continued restoration of the Museum.

Lambert lands prize winning catch

Darwin Lambert, 14, displays a days catch he and nine other members of a church group pulled in during a six-day fishing excursion in Canada last week. The group was at Paquette's Camp in Chapleau, Ontario, fishing for Northern Pike and Walleye.

Darwin, his father Duane, owner of Lambert Variety, and the rest of the group were throwing back fish under 21" because they were hauling in too many. The group came within six fish of having the maximum amount they could bring back to Michigan. Darwin received honors of largest fish captured with his 31" catch.

Thomet expands RV selection

By Matt Berry

From an improving American economy, including low finance rates and plunging gasoline prices, Thomet Chevrolet in Lowell has added a franchise line of recreational vehicles (RVs).

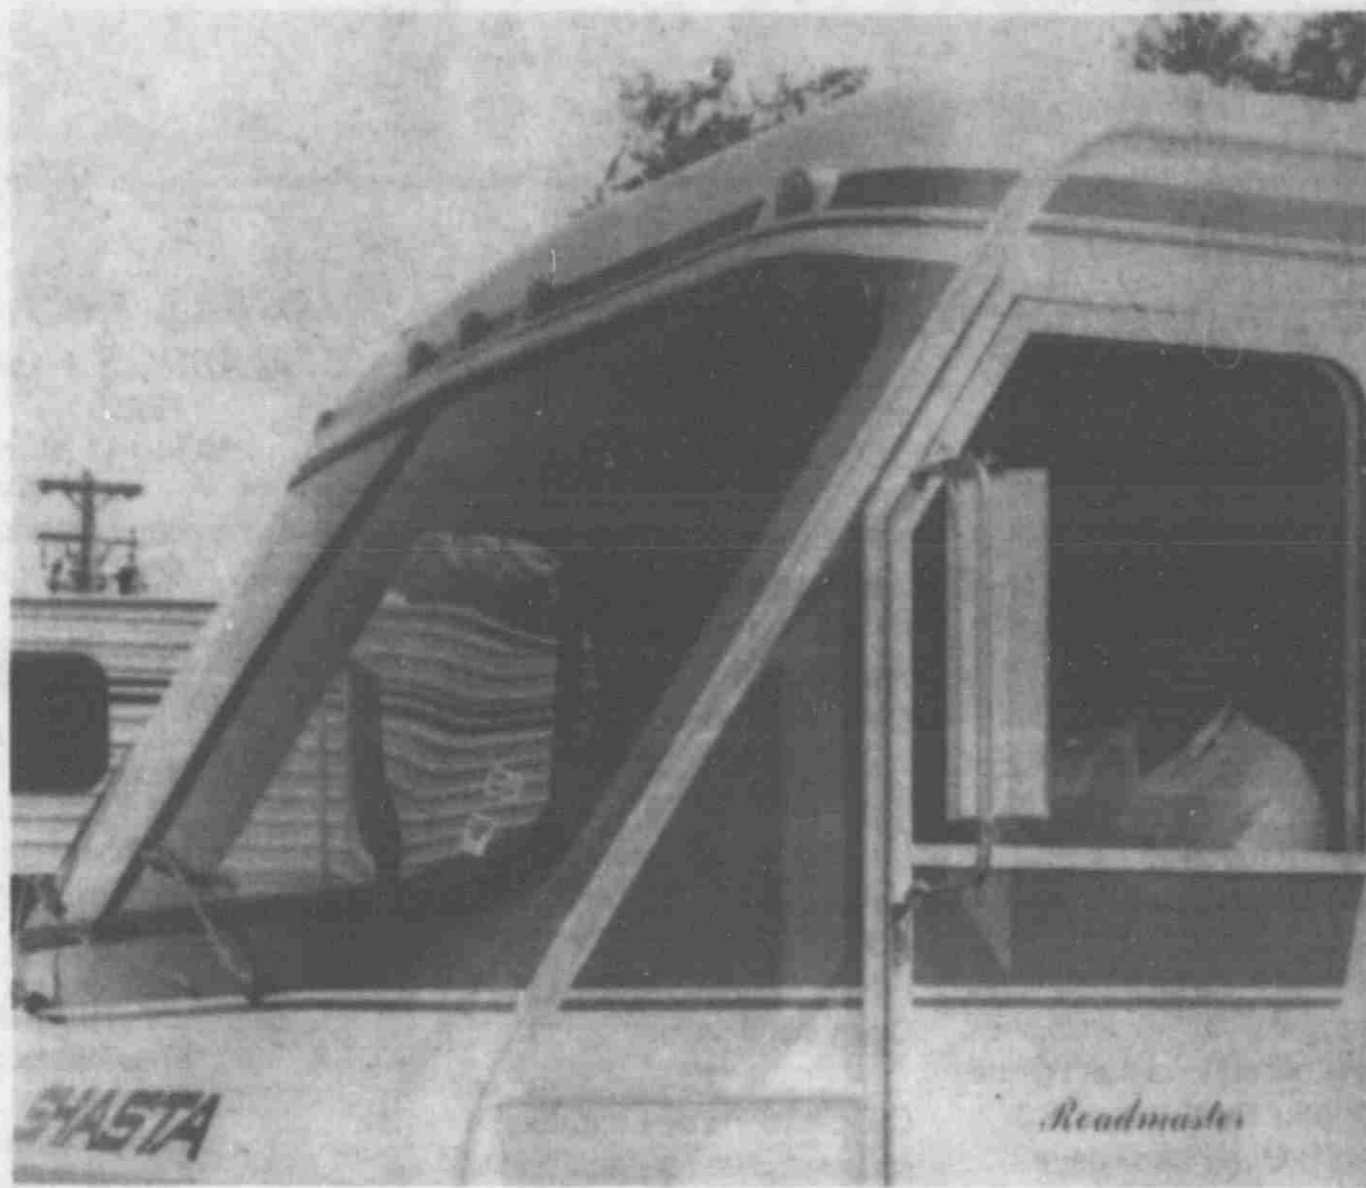

Duke Thomet, owner of Thomet Chevrolet, has "dabbled with a few RVs here and there," according to RV Sales and Service Manager, Bob Cilley, but he decided to "take a gamble" and purchase a new and larger line of RVs.

Thomet became a Shasta brand RV dealer early this July. The Chevy dealer previously sold a few Cobra and Freedom RVs, which they currently sell, but Cilley said the time is right for a larger line of RVs.

The finance rates are low and the economy in general is just picking up," Cilley said. "You're never totally positive about when a product will sell, so we did take a gamble. But the time is now if people want to buy an RV."

Cilley was so confident in the "gamble" he left his five year post at Vennen Chrysler Dodge in Lowell to work for Thomet. He has been in car dealership at Vennen and Harold Zeigler Ford for the past six years.

Dennis Thomet said that representatives of Thomet went to Shasta's headquarters in Goshen, IN to draw-up a contract this June. Thomet chose Shasta, according to Dennis, because of "their quality and reputation as the oldest RV manufacturer in the country."

Bob Cilley, RV Sales and Service Manager at Thomet Chevrolet, is sitting behind the wheel of a new Shasta 33 foot Roadmaster Class A Motorhome. Thomet acquired a franchise line of RVs earlier this month after talking with Shasta representatives in late June.

Thomet will hold an RV Open House Sat., Aug. 2, in which factory representatives will be on hand. The RVs will also be open for touring.

Cilley, an RV enthusiast himself, added that Thomet made the right decision.

"It's a little early to say, but I think it will work out fairly well," Cilley said. "The RV business is on a nationwide upswing currently, partly due to more people touring in the states and the booming economy."

The 15-20 RVs in the lot behind Thomet include Class A and C motor homes and pop-up trailers. The motor homes range in price from $16-60,000.

Cilley added that the trailers, especially the 17 ft. trailer costing $77/per month or $6,800, are the most popular among RV buyers.

With the addition of the RV line, Thomet will be servicing RV's and selling RV accessories. They will hold an RV Open house Saturday, August, 2 in which factory representatives will be on hand, and RV tours will be given.

Primary Election is Tuesday, Aug. 5

On the Republican ballot, William Lucas, Dan Murphy, Dick Chrysler and Colleen Engler are running for State Governor, Paul B. Henry for 5th District Representative in Congress, Dick Posthumus for 31st District State Senator, Vic Krause and Norman Visser for 90th District Representative in State Legislature and Judy Harrison for the 12th District County Commissioner. Nominations for Judge of the Court of Appeals and Judge of the Circuit Court will also be on the Aug. 5 primary ballot. Both terms are ending 1-1-93.

Running for the 3rd District Court of Appeals are Gary McDonald, Janet T. Neff, David H. Sawyer, Nathaniel W. Stroup, Randy L. Tahvonen, Elizabeth A. Weaver (formerly Betty A. Weaver), Thomas M. Burns, Jr. and Alan Cropsey. Voters may vote for not more than two candidates.

Running for a position on the 17th Circuit of the Circuit Court are Carol S. Irons, Reginald L. Norris and George S. Buth.

Candidates for the Democratic Party's Delegates to the County Convention are David L. Burdette, Sophia Ann Cadwallader and Diane A. Siciliano. James E. Reagan is the Republican nomination for its party's Delegate to the County Convention.

Saranac bicyclist dies after crash with motorcycle

A Saranac man died Sunday evening after the bicycle he was riding entered the path of a motorcycle late Sunday afternoon in Ionia County.

Ionia County Sheriff's Department report that Gerald C. Adgate, 78, 17 North Bridge St., was eastbound on the shoulder of M-21 in Boston Township when he made a sudden entry onto the road just east of Hawley Road. The eastbound motorcyclist, David Cheek, 39, of Flint, took evasive action but still collided with Adgate.

Adgate was treated at the scene of the 5:30 p.m. accident, and taken to Ionia County Memorial Hospital. He was later taken to Butterworth Hospital, where he passed away at 9:30 p.m. Cheek received minor injuries.

The accident is still under investigation.

Christmas in July

Even though the temperature is over 80 degrees outside, it's Christmas in July in the Grand Rapids Public Museum's Gaslight Village. Beginning July 29 and running through August 15, the Village's shops and offices will be decorated with Christmas trees and antique ornaments. The ornaments, collected by The Golden Glow of Christmas Past, date as far back as the mid-1800's.

Golden Glow of Christmas Past originated in Chicago and has 320 members nationwide. The members collect, trade, and sell ornaments and will be participating in the 6th annual convention, to be held this summer in Grand Rapids.

Gaslight Village is a typical Grand Rapids street from the 1890's which includes 16 shops. Museum hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1-5 p.m.

For more information call the Museum at 456-3977.
