Shopkeepers began moving their merchandise to high ground, or out of the store completely. Fearing the worst, G&G Reproductions and the Lowell Sport Shoppe hauled their merchandise away. Gary Timinkas, whose business, "The Gift Gallery" is perched precariously over the Flat River at 106 W. Main St., said "I had a truck parked right out front, and was ready to start loading as soon as word came down that the Belding Dam had broken."

Management personnel at Attwood Corporation rushed to the plant to begin emergency measures. Important records were moved to high ground, trucks were moved to the cemetery and the second shift was sent home. The King Milling Co. moved their fleet of trucks from their parking lot below the Lowell Dam to high ground at the Lowell High School parking lot

Huge logs have been washed up at the Main Street bridge near the Showboat ticket office. Record rainfalls last week caused rivers like the flat to swell over their banks and threaten dams. Lowell was on alert over most of the weekend for fear of the dam at Belding breaking.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Involved in a three car accident on Wednesday afternoon, September 10 were Edward Irby, 71, of Lowell when he changed lanes suddenly on Main St. and was struck from behind by a car driven by Harold Barnes II, 26, of Ionia. The impact sent Irby's car into the side of a car driven by Jamie Smith, 28, of Lowell, who was stopped at the intersection of Center and Main. There were no injuries reported.

There were no injuries reported in an accident that occurred on Thursday, September 11 when Timothy Moore, 18, of Lowell struck the rear of a car driven by Jeffrey Childs, 18, also of Lowell. The accident occurred on Main St. near Lafayette.

David Bonn, 20, of Lowell was arrested and taken to the Kent County Jail on Saturday evening, September 13, on charges of fleeing and eluding police officers. Bonn was chased by Lowell officers for 13 miles before being apprehended.

Cited into 63rd District Court on charges of consumption of alcohol in a public place was Joseph Yurkinas, 26, of Lowell, by Lowell officers on September 9.

Cited into Court Monday evening, September 8 for minor in possession of alcohol was Brent Jousma, 20, of Ada.

A boat trailer owned by John Losinger of Lowell was slightly damaged when Douglas Wisner, 25, of Saranac backed into the trailer in the Eberhard's parking lot on September 5.

Seriously injured on Thursday evening September 11 was Wade Thompson, 19, of Ada when he drove the motorcycle he was riding off the West end of Hunt St. and over the railroad tracks. Thompson was attempting to flee police officers at the time of the accident. He was also driving on a suspended license.

Salad bars aren't the only bars Richard Spangler knows about. Spangler is currently serving several sentences at Riverside Correctional Facility in Ionia while operating MarLee's Village Inn and Pizza Express from behind the prison's walls. Spangler was incarcerated on May 26, 1983. Spangler, 33, was sentenced by a Livingston County Court for 15 to 22 years on an armed robbery conviction. On May 28, 1983 an Oakland County Court sentenced him to conduct in the second degree, 60 to 200 years for criminal sexual conduct in the first degree, life imprisonment for criminal sexual conduct in the first degree and life imprisonment for armed robbery.

Prison officials were not at liberty to elaborate on the situation. We were told that the Department of Corrections can not prevent an inmate from owning a business outside the prison confines, but it is against department policy to operate a business from within a prison. Wayne LaCross, an administrative assistant to the warden, said that prison officials have issued Spangler with a cease and desist order. LaCross said that if Spangler continues to operate the restaurant from within the prison, he will be subject to disciplinary action.

Spangler has two partners in the business; Irene Spangler, his grandmother, and Marian Selleck. They perform the duties of operating the restaurant at 2186

West Main St., Lowell, while Spangler does most of the decision making via collect phone calls from the prison. He orders supplies, talks to vendors, places advertising, hires employees and even does day-to-day menu planning by placing collect calls. Prison officials say that there are several phones available for the use of inmates during their free time, but only collect calls can be placed. Employees and vendors are always told that Spang-

Canoeist drowns near Burroughs Dam

Tragedy struck at about 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the base of the Burroughs Dam (sometimes referred to as the Fallasburg Dam). Brian Keith Scheltema, 22, of 6912 84th St., Caledonia, apparently drowned when he was pulled under by the raging water below the dam. Scheltema and a friend, Allen James Thompson, 21, of 4367 Montcalm, Lowell, had canoed down the Flat from White's Bridge. A Sheriff's Deputy said that he was told by witnesses the duo made the trip in just an hour and a half on the flood swollen river. The trip normally takes about four hours.

The pair portaged the dam and put their 17 foot canoe in on the eastern shore below the dam. The force from the open floodgates created huge whirlpools at the base of the dam. Deputies said the canoe capsized just 30 feet from shore. Thompson was able to swim to safety, but Scheltema was pulled under when he was swept toward the white water coming from the floodgates.

A witness said he had canoed lots of white water, but would Appointments not always needed at Vanity Hair Fashions, Open six days Lowell, 897-7506.

This is the spot where the ill-fated canoeists put their craft in after travelling from White's Bridge. They portaged the Burroughs Dam in the background and re-entered the river at about 1:30 p.m. The canoe filled with water and capsized just 30 feet from shore.

Scheltema was termed as presumed "missing and drowned," by the Sheriff's Department on Tuesday. The Kent County Sheriff's Department Dive Unit could only search the river from a boat, as the raging water was determined to be too dangerous for divers.

Units from the Lowell Police Department, Lowell Fire Department. Mercy Ambulance and Sheriff's E-Units responded to the scene on Sunday. The Dive Unit continues its search.

A second issue the Legislature must confront is the controversial budget for the Department of Social Services (DDS). While the Legislature has approved budgets for the state's other agencies and services, the DDS budget has been stalled over the issue of funding for Medicaid abortions.

In early summer, House members approved a Medicaid budget that included language prohibiting the use of state funds for abortions. The Governor vetoed the entire budget, which forced it back to the Legislature where the House failed to override the veto. Later, the House approved a three-month extension on the DSS appropriation that would have carried the department to January at current funding levels

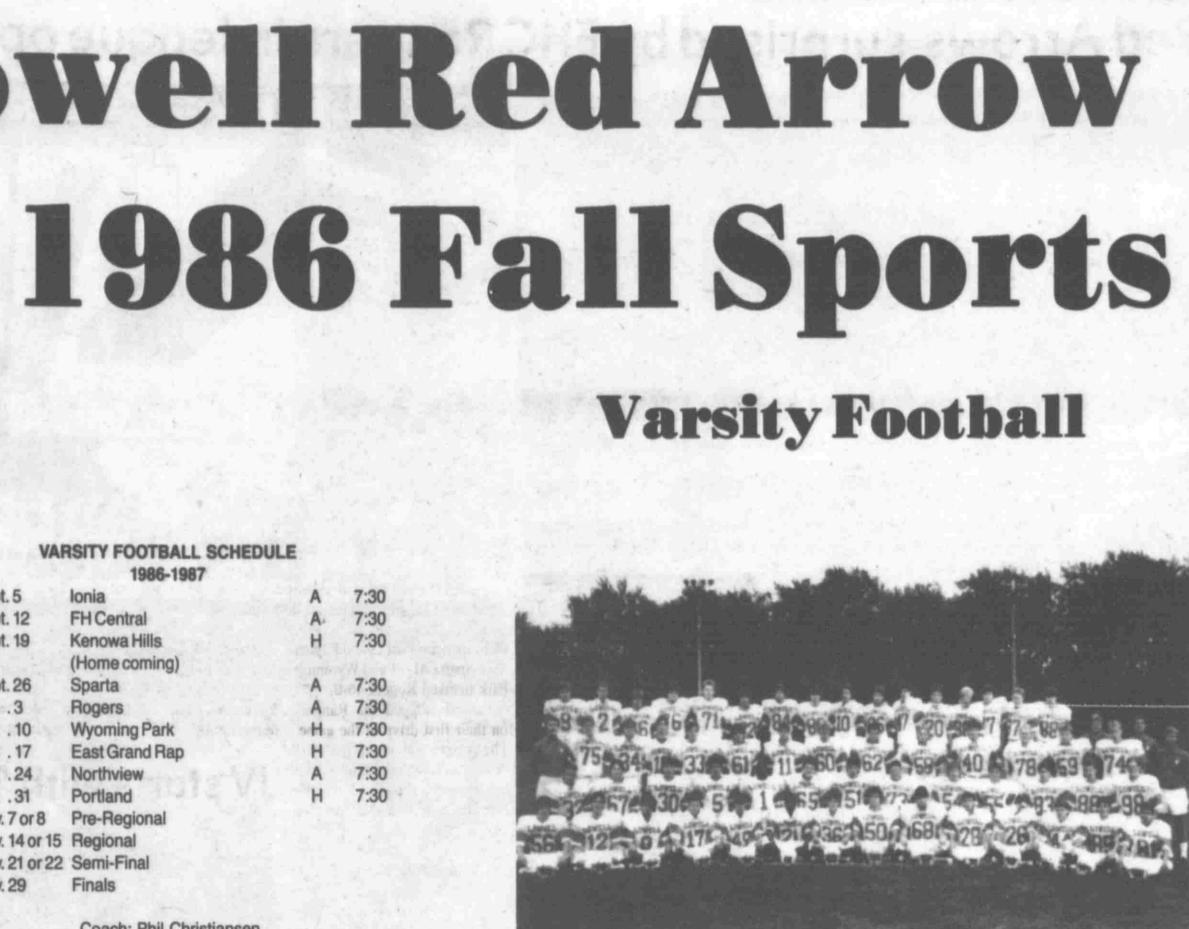

The Senate has yet to act on this extension, and the DSS budget runs out September 30. For now, it is difficult to determine how the medicaid abortion will be resolved. issue Philosophical differences within the Legislature and the executive O THAT IN ON THE ALL AND IN ON METHOD Office keep the Medicard steeped in controversy. office keep the Medicaid budget

N.A.S.A. has sure had its share of problems lately. First the shuttle exploded, then a couple subsequent launchings of conventional rockets blew up, or were aborted in flight. Hopefully things will get back on the right track, and N.A.S.A. be back flying again soon.

I can't say the same for the miniature N.A.S.A. at the Brown residence. Casey, my eleven year old boy, got his own space program going earlier this year when he bought a solid fuel rocket kit. I don't know if he was planning to go into competition with N.A.S.A., or just having fun. I know one thing, he had more successful launches this year than N.A.S.A. He also had more non-successful launches than N.A.S.A., but that's beside the point.

Casey bought the kit with his own allowance money, assembled the rocket, and headed for his launch site the first thing Saturday morning. The rocket even took precedent over his Saturday morning cartoons. I was gone on a weekend fishing trip when these first launches were made. I was glad to find out later that he had chosen a wide open field for his "Cape Kennedy" rather than a crowded grocery store parking lot. When I came home Sunday evening, the rocket was on the back porch with the nose cone popped off, the parachute hanging out and a huge hole burned in the side. I was told by my young rocketeer that the first two launches had been great successes, but the third launch burned through the rocket and it went wild in mid-flight.

During the next week he shortened the rocket to a point ahead of the hole, bought more engines, and returned to his launch site. The shortened rocket didn't fly so good, (all that duct tape probably affected the internal gyros) and after a few crashes, Casey was out of the rocket business.

He couldn't afford a new rocket right away, and summer soon rolled around with a whole new set of interests for an eleven year old boy. Bikes, skateboards, swimming, baseball and a broken arm distracted him from his rocketry.

The day before school started he must have stumbled across a couple of his left over rocket engines. I'm not sure if we'll ever get the story "exactly" straight, but the bottom line is; Casey had to find out what would happen if the engines were lit. He put them in a paper bag, lit the bag, and found out in a big hurry what happens. When I came home from work the area around his right eye was first and second degree burns. His eyebrow, eyelash and a good portion of the hair on the right side of his head were singed off. It really scared me to think what might have happened when found out how he had hurt himself

Needless to say, Casey is out of the model rocketry business for the time being. Surprisingly, he hasn't bugged me to get back into it. But, while at the huge fireworks display at the "Celebration On the Grand," he did mention that he would like to do that for a living. I didn't encourage him. I don't want a pyrotechnician living under my roof, mainly because I'd like to keep my roof right where it's at.

RESOLUTION BY COMMISSIONER DE KRAKER

A RESOLUTION ADOPTING AND APPROVING THE EXECUTION OF THE GRANT AMENDMENT BY THE COUNTY OF KENT, MICHIGAN, AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION, FOR THE PURPOSE OF OBTAINING FEDERAL AID FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE KENT COUNTY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT, UNDER PROJECT NO. 3-26-0039-0586.

Section III. That the Grant Amendment referred to hereinabove shall be as follows:

"As a new and separate obligation, increase the maximum obligation of the United States, as set forth in Standard Condition No. 1 on Page 2 of the Grant Agreement by $80,753 from $963,812 to $1,044,565. This amount is specified for development other than land." Commissioner DeKraker moved adoption of the resolution. Seconded by Commissioner Marsh. Motion carried by the following vote:

Yeas: Bandstra, M. Buth, R. Buth, DeKraker, DeVriendt, Doyle, Kempker, Kuhn, Kuipers, Lamoreaux, Laninga, Lorch, Marsh, Oppewal, Schwab, TerHorst, Thomas, Vaughn, Wahlfield, Chairman Byington - 20.

Absent: Boelema - 1. Resolution No. 9-86-137 approving the concept of County ownership and operation of John Ball Zoo and Park RESOLUTION BY COMMISSIONER BUTH, R.

WHEREAS, the Kent County Board of Commissioners is in the process of formulating and adopting the 1987 Budget for Kent County government, and WHEREAS, the Kent County Board of Commissioners has held a hearing under the provisions of the Truth and Taxation legislation and may levy up to 4.8 mills as fixed by the vote of the electorate in 1982.

WHEREAS, it is recognized that the John Ball Zoo and Park are facilities serving not only the citizens of the City of Grand Rapids, but the entire citizenry of Kent County, and WHEREAS, it is felt that future growth and expansion of services at the Zoo require County wide financial support, and WHEREAS, it would be in the best interest of all citizens of Kent County that the John Ball Zoo and Park become a County facility. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Kent

County Board of Commissioners conceptually approve the County's ownership and operation of the John Ball Zoo and Park with the stipulation that an agreement can be reached with Grand Rapids City officials which would allow for the County to own and operate the Zoo and the associated Park; with the understanding that the County would maintain and/or expand present services provided at these facilities for the citizens of the entire County of Kent, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if the City of Grand Rapids does not conceptually agree to this offer by the October 1, 1986 meeting of the Kent County Board Commissioners, that the County Board of Commissioners will reduce its operating millage from the present 4.8 mills in 1986 to a 4.65 operating millage in 1987 a millage reduction equivalent to the proposed net operating budget of the John Ball Zoo.

Commissioner R. Buth moved adoption of the resolu-Seconded by Commissioners Kuhn, Bandstra and Marsh.

Commissioner Vaughn moved that the resolution be referred to the City/County Committee. Seconded by Commissioner Kempker. Chairman Byington indicated that a meeting of the City/County Committee has been requested. Commissioner Oppewal did not feel that this represented substantive change from the cultural consolidation package presented to the voters on May 13.

Commissioner R . Buth stated that this is not cultural consolidation, although it has some of the benefits of the plan . It offers the City the opportunity to transfer the financial responsibility and operation of the Zoo to the broader County-wide base. There is a very active Zoological Society, and they must be kept involved. This proposal does not ask for llage

Commissioner Bandstra agreed that this is a concept and will be considered by the City/County Committee. Citizen input will be sought as well.

Commissioner Bandstra moved to call for the guestion on sending the resolution to the City/County Seconded by Commissioner R. Buth. Committee. Motion carried.

Vote on the motion to refer the resolution to the City/County Committee failed by the following vote: Yeas: Kempker, Oppewal, Vaughn - 3.

Nays: Bandstra, M. Buth, R. Buth, DeKraker, DeVriendt, Doyle, Kuhn, Kuipers, Lamoreaux, Laninga, Lorch, Marsh, Schwab, TerHorst, Thomas, Wahlfield, Chairman Byington - 17.

Absent: Boelema - 1. Commissioner Wahlfield asked if Blandford Nature Center was included. Chairman Byington indicated that Blandford Nature Center is part of the Grand Rapids Public Museum.

Commissioner Oppewal stated that this proposal has implications for the City's summer recreation programs in the park, the Zoo Master Plan, the Zoo School, and Circle Theatre. Chairman Byington pointed out that this resolution is conceptual and will require negotiation. In addition, the City will want to hold public hearings. Commissioner Lamoreaux asked if there would be shared authority. Chairman Byington indicated that this resolution provides for County ownership and operation of the Zoo and Park.

Commissioner Kempker stated that the residents of Grand Rapids do not want to relinquish ownership, and he could not support this resolution. It suggests that if agreement cannot be reached with the City the County will reduce its taxes. He has been advocating a reduction for some time.

Controller Platte explained that the budget as submitted has not changed. The Government Facility Tax Act of 1984 increases hotel/motel tax in the Detroit area and increases liquor tax. The liquor tax in out state is shared with the County, and for Kent County is $1.1 million. Half that amount must be used for substance abuse, and the remaining half may be used for the General Fund.

Commissioner Kuhn indicated that every City resident is also a resident of Kent County and will benefit from regional support of the Zoo. Commissioner Marsh moved to call for the question.

Seconded by Commissioner Kuhn. Motion carried. Motion to adopt Resolution No. 9-86-137 carried by the following vote: Yeas: Bandstra, R. Buth, DeKraker, DeVriendt, Kuhn, Kuipers, Lamoreaux, Laninga, Lorch, Marsh, TerHorst, Thomas, Wahlfield, Chairman Byington - 14. Nays: M. Buth, Doyle, Kempker, Oppewal, Schwab, Vaughn - 6: Absent: Boelema - 1.

Commissioner Oppewal asked how the Zoo was selected for County operation. Chairman Byington indicated that the Museum and Library both have boards that are functioning and would require a charter amendment, and a charter amendment could not be voted upon for two years. Resolution No. 9-86-138 earmarking $89,400 within the Public Improvement Fund for the Treasurer's Office remodeling was presented: (All have received copies.)

WHEREAS, at the County Treasurer's request the County Architect, Mr. James Leach, has evaluated the physical layout and the functions of the Office of the Treasurer, and

WHEREAS, the proposed office layout, which is attached but need not be printed as part of the minutes, recommends an open office furniture concept, and WHEREAS, the need for this remodeling is based ment funds for this project. NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Kent County Board of Commissioners approves the earmarking of $89,400 within the Public Improvement Fund for the Treasurer's Office Remodeling.

Commissioner Lamoreaux moved adoption of the resolution. Seconded by Commissioners DeKraker and Kempker.

Commissioner Kuhn indicated that this resolution was previously turned down by the Finance Committee by a 3-2 vote. The amended proposal was rejected by the Treasurer. This proposal came back to the Finance mmittee and was approved by a 3-2 vote. Commissioner Kuipers agreed with the need for remodeling in the Treasurer's Office but felt the alternative plan was preferable.

ler is in Ohio, and that is the ross says he has received many reason for the collect calls.

The issue of Spangler's ownership came to light recently when officials at Riverside Correctional Facility sent letters to several MarLee's employees. The letters stated that Spangler is incarcerated there, serving two life sentences, and that he possessed paperwork which included the name, address, telephone number and often a photo of the person to which the letters were sent. The letter asked whether the addressee wanted Spangler to possess this information. If a response was not received at the prison within 15 days, prison officials would assume that the addressee was granting permission for Spangler to possess the information. LaC-letters in response. He said all of them requested that the information be taken away from Spangler, and supported the steps taken by prison officials.

A father of one of the employees furnished a copy of the letter to the Ledger, and told us of an employee meeting regarding the situation. Most employees did not know that Spangler was incarcerated. Some have quit in the interim. Loretta Miller, an employee at MarLee's since before it opened, said she did not know about Spangler's incarceration when she was hired, but did find out well before the bulk of the employees did. She said, "It doesn't make one bit of difference to me whether he is in jail, or not". Miller also told us that Spangler owns another restaurant in Milford, Michigan, and was in the restaurant business well before he got into trouble.

Spangler is buying the business and building from Tom Hazel, of Lake Odessa. Hazel opened the business originally as TJ's Restaurant. It has also been operated under other managements as The Steak Out and Brother's Inn.

In a phone conversation with Spangler on Tuesday, he said that he was being harassed by prison officials, and intends to continue with his phone calls, despite the threat of disciplinary action. Spangler maintains he is innocent of the charges that put him behind bars. He says he has appealed his case, and expects a review soon.

Lowell's family of swans found the going rough on the flood swollen Flat River Saturday, so they took to the road. They are shown in this photo taken by Sue Bauer, crossing M-91 at the Flat River Bridge. Sue said the procession took awhile, and traffic backed up for a considerable distance. The swans re-entered the river on the upstream side of the river, only to be swept back downstream.

City officials were in constant contact with those monitoring the Belding and Greenville dams. Throughout the evening and the following day, all five dams along the Flat from Greenville to Lowell were kept in constant vigil. Later reports said that the Greenville Dam was in danger. Officials in Greenville had been releasing as little water as possible in an effort to relieve pressure on the Belding Dam. At one point the Belding Dam had two feet of water cascading over it and it was estimated that about one million gallons per hour were rushing past. It was said in reports Saturday morning that the water being released from Greenville would surely burst the Belding dam, but still it held.

Officials from Rockford, where floodwaters were subsiding, called Lowell personnel with an offer of 2,000 filled sandbags. Lowell and Rockford D.P.W. trucks hauled the sandbags here on Saturday, just in case.

The longer the Belding dam held, the better the chances be-
