GET READY FOR HALLOWEEN!!!

The Ledger is again sponsoring a Halloween Costume Contest for employees of area businesses. We are in need of prizes, so any merchants out there who would like to kick in a gift certificate or other prize, please give us a call at 897-9261. The judges will visit only those businesses that call the Ledger to tell us they have employees in costume. This contest was a tremendous amount of fun last year, let's make it bigger and better this year!

COUNT WEEK FOR PUPILS OCTOBER 20-24

The Department of Education for the State of Michigan has put into effect a new funding formula for transportation of school children. One of the large factors in this new funding formula will be pupils transported. Count week for pupils transported will be October 20-24. Help your school by having your child ride the bus each morning. We can only count in the a.m. and count actual students that depart at each school.

Along Main Street Residents ask for traffic light on Lowell's West Main Street

Anyone who drives in Lowell knows West Main Street can be an adventure that rivals 28th Street in Grand Rapids. Heavy traffic with numerous drivers exiting and entering side streets and commercial drives make for a fast paced environment that can raise the hair of even the most experienced driver. Three residents of Lowell One Apartments located just north of Main and west of Valley Vista Dr. decided to do something about the situation.Vera Sherman, Margaret Gardener and Dorothy Haney presented a petition with over 350 signatures at the Monday, October 6, Lowell City Council meeting. The petition asked that a traffic light be located at Main St. and Valley Vista Dr.

Sherman said, "It takes

CLASS OF '88 TO HOLD FUND RAISER FOR SIGN

The Junior class of '88 is having a fund raiser to purchase a lighted sign for the front of Lowell High School. The sign has changeable letters to put up the latest events in Lowell. The Great Class of '88 is having a candy sale, starting October 13, to raise the $5,800 needed to purchase the sign. Any person who would like to donate money for the sign can contact Curt Kaeb or Marsha LaHaye at the Lowell High School (897-9202).

OFF THE BLOTTER

Involved in a property damage accident Tuesday, October 7 at Hudson and Foreman Streets, were Cheryl Blodgett, 40, of Lowell, and Donald Fickert, 50, of Celina, Ohio. The semi truck and trailer driven by Fickert struck Blodgett's vehicle at the corner.

A car owned by Doris Rhines, of Lowell, was struck by a hit and run driver on Broadway near Chatham St. Friday, October 3.

Apprehended in Johnson's market on Friday, October 10, for shoplifting was a 13 year-old juvenile from Lowell.

Cited into 63rd District Court Friday evening, October 10, were: Scott Roth, 24, of Lowell, for contributing to the delinquency of a minor by furnishing alcohol, Brian Hurley, 19, of Lowell for transporting an open container of alcohol in a motor vehicle and Dennis Eckman, 17, of Lowell, for minor in possession of alcohol.

Apprehended in Eberhards food store by store employees for shoplifting was Gloria Shenoskey, 44, of Lowell. She was also cited into 63rd District Court for "use of marajuana." She will appear at a later date.

Edward Rash, 65, collided with a moped cycle driven by a 16-year-old juvenile Saturday afternoon, October 11 at Avery and Monroe St. when Rash failed to yield right of way at the intersection. There were no injuries. Both parties reside in Lowell.

Jeffery Ostrander, 28, of Grand Rapids, failed to yield the right of way as he pulled from a private drive onto Amity St. north of Main St. Friday morning, October 10. Ostrander collided with a car driven by 17-year old Monica Johnson of Lowell. No one was injured.

Arrested and lodged in the Kent County jail Friday evening, October 10, on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol was Clifford DesJarden, 54, of Lowell. DesJarden was involved in an accident on Main St. near Valley Vista Drive when he made a left turn into the path of a car driven by Margaret Wood, 35, of Belding. No injuries were reported.

Janice Bradley, 30, of Lowell collided with a vehicle on W Main and Center St. Friday, October 10. The other vehicle was driven by Connie Ouendag, 29, of Ada. No injuries were reported.

Nancy Bailey, 33, of Akron, Ohio, failed to yield the right of way while exiting an alley north of Main St. onto Riverside Dr. and struck a car driven by Michael Harding, 17, of Lowell. No one was injured

Darryl Kelley, 37, of Ada, was injured Saturday evening, October 11, when, as a pedestrian, he was struck by a car driven by Cara Stark, 21, of Lowell. Stark's car also struck two parked vehicles, one belonging to Kelley the other belonging to a Susie Bishop. The accident occurred on Main St. just east of Broadway.

forever to get out on to Main St., and if you want to make a left turn, you might as well forget it. You're better off to make a right and turn around down the street somewhere". Gardener said, "I could get signatures from the whole town, everyone wants to see something done".

Lowell City Manager Ray Quada, agrees that the area is congested at times, but isn't sure a traffic light will solve the problem. Quada feels that a traffic light will create more problems in the area when traffic is backed up at the light. "You normally experience more accidents when starting and stopping traffic, and the staged traffic would block the driveways of busy businesses such as McDonalds and Eberhards". Quada feels that a proposed new street and the education of the driving public might go a long way toward easing some of the problems in the area. A new street, if constructed, from the west end of Sibley to Main, would create a good access and egress to and from the Valley Vista subdivision. Quada noted that nearly all Valley Vista traffic uses Valley Vista Dr. to enter and leave the subdivision. "If we could get more of these people to use Church and Center Streets, we would have less problems at Valley Vista and Main" Quada said.

At the instruction of Quada and the City Council, Lowell Chief of Police Barry Emmons is putting together a report on the traffic situation on West Main. Emmons said, "I know we have a lot of accidents in the area. It's very busy, and people get impatient when trying to leave businesses or exit side streets". Emmons also questioned whether a traffic signal would help the situation. "I'm afraid we'd see a lot more rearend accidents if a light is installed in the area". Emmons says

Appointments not always needed at Vanity Hair Fash-

An eastbound auto owned by Julie Bradbury, 31, of Belding crashed head-on into a utility pole near the corner on Main and Center Streets Sunday evening. The impact nearly severed the pole and sent five occupants of the vehicle to the hospital.

Lowell Police, Fire and Rescue personnel along with a Kent County Sheriff's Department E-Unit and Life Ambulance responded to the scene at about 8:00 p.m. Other occupants included Larry Jeffery, 35, Gary Jeffery, 23, Randy Utter, 36, and a two-year-old juvenile. All are from Belding. All five occupants were transported to Butterworth Hospital suffering from various injuries.

The Lowell Police department is still investigating the crash. No tickets have yet been issued. This was just one of three accidents on West Main St. during the past weekend.

he plans to request assistance from the State department of Transportation in conducting traffic counts and offering suggestions. "It's a busy little community. All the stores are open, there are lots of commuters heading through town on their way to Grand Rapids or Ionia and there is over three miles of M-21 within the city" Emmons pointed out. "The state sets the speed limits on M-21, and its difficult to properly enforce the law with only one car on the road" Emmons said. However, he didn't feel that speeding is a major problem along West Main St. "I'm conducting a study, and when the problems are identified we'll take steps to correct them" Emmons said.

Brian Zimmerman, a District Traffic Techniciasn at the Grand Rapids office of the Department of Transportation says his office does not currently have anything active in their files concerning Lowell's West Main St. "We have no report of trouble, no work scheduled, no proposed work or studies in progress. The last thing in the file concerned pavement some marking changes in 1982." Zimmerman said.

Zimmerman also agreed that a traffic signal is not neccesarily the answer to the problems on West Main. He said that a signal would improve flow on to M-21, but starting and stopping traffic always creates other problems. Zimmerman said that all traffic signal surveys are conducted out of the D.O.T.'s main office in Lansing. "They would survey the situation at peak hours such as morning, noon and late afternoon. The study would not only concern M-21, but also traffic from side streets, from businesses and pedestrian traffic in the area" Zimmerman said.

Emmons could not comment on numbers of accidents in the area. "We're putting that information together now, and will report to the City Council at their next meeting" Emmons said. He did agree that there are a lot of accidents on Main St., but couldn't say whether more occur on West Main than on other portions of the thoroughfare.

FFA Pres. speaks here

Rick Malir, the National President of the Future Farmers of America, spoke to the Lowell Chapter while visiting chapters in the Grand Rapids area on Thursday, October 9, 1986.

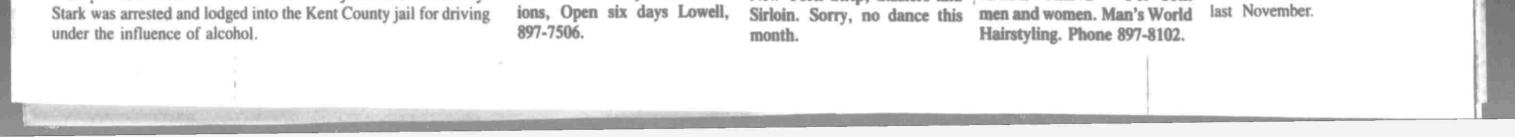

This was only the second time a national president has come to West Michigan. The first time was in October of 1984 when President Ron Wineinger came to the Grand Rapids area. Malir spoke to the Ionia, Caledonia, and Lowell FFA Chapters at their respective high schools. The Re- PRECISION & FASHION HAIRSTYLING - For both

There has been at least one recent fatal accident in the area. On April 3, 1985 James McCaul, 74, was eastbound and struck a pickup truck exiting the McDonalds Restaurant. McCaul later died of his injuries. The Ledger has reported on numerous personal injury accidents in the area, but does not have a complete record.

The problem could get worse before it gets better. A new supermarket being constructed on West Main will likely add to the traffic in the area. Also, a new prison being constructed in Ionia will add to the commuter traffic through town. Cooperation among state and local authorities may find an answer to the problem, but in the meantime motorists would be wise to drive extra-defensively when traveling along Lowell's West Main St.

gion V Greenhand and Chapter 'Farmer Degree initiation highlighted the visit. The Greenhand Degree is for the first year FFA members. Members who have invested $100 in an agricultural project are entitled to the Chapter Farmer Degree. The initiation was held at Ionia High School at 7:30 p.m. and was hosted by the Ionia FFA Chapter. Several chapters participated in the ceremony.

Malir spoke to the assembly at Ionia. The 21 year of pative of Wilson, Kansas was elected at the 58th annual National Convention in Kansas City, Missouri have played a major role.

1. -- Age.

- 3. -- Male
- 4. -- Diabetes
- 6. -- Cigarette smoking.
- 8. -- Obesity.
- 10. -- Sedentary lifestyle.

In reviewing this list, we can see that the first 3 we have no control over. If I'm a male over the age of 40 with a family history of heart attacks, I'm at a greater risk than someone without those factors. Therefore, we must strive to reduce or influence the factors we do have control over ... the remaining 7 factors.

Let's review these controllable factors one by one. Diabetes increases the risk of coronary artery disease by damaging the arteries throughout the body. It is felt that strict control of blood sugars by diet and medication will reduce the damage and risks. Studies have shown that HDL cholesterol (a protective cholesterol) is increased in individuals who have had excellent control of their diabetes. High blood pressure leads to a marked increase in strokes and heart attacks if it is not adequately treated. Hypertension makes the heart work harder and leads to atherosclerosis (narrowing of the blood vessel opening). Major studies have shown that adequate treatment through weight loss, salt restriction and antihypertensive medication will greatly reduce this risk factor.

Cigarette smoking is a major risk factor for developing heart attacks. The surgeon general has stated that over 200,000 deaths from heart attacks each year are due to smoking! Smoking low-tar nicotine cigarettes will not lower this risk. The only alternative is to quit. A smoker that quits will gradually bring his risk of heart attack down to that of a non smoker.

Next week we will continue our column on risk factors of heart disease and what we can do to alter them

Groundbreaking

A groundbreaking ceremony for Ada Christian School's $1.5 million expansion took place Thursday, October 9 at the

The expansion project will add middle school class space, eliminate portable classrooms and expand the school's athletic facilities to meet its needs through the year 2010, said Arlin Maas, Ada Christian School Board President.

"This expansion is vital to our school's ability to provide Christian education of exceptional quality for our students," said

The school's expansion will include 12 new classrooms, a resource center, two baseball diamonds and a soccer field. The added class space is designed to accommodate 415-475 students, the school's projected enrollment through the year 2010. Currently 380 students are enrolled.

Funds for the expansion were raised through special projects, gifts, pledges and private contributions.

Construction will begin later this month and will be complete June 1987. The original tworoom school was built at its present site, 7192 Bradfield SE, in 1951 with nearly all volunteer

Those participating in the groundbreaking ceremony included Walt Van Meeteren, principal of Ada Christian School; Arlin Maas, school board president; the Reverend Brian Bosscher of the Ada Christian Reformed Church; and Ada Christian School students.

A barbecue for students, parents and friends of Ada Christian School followed the groundbreaking events

Someone once said, "Clothes make the man," or something to take every precaution for safety the trigger guard while drawing that effect. That may be true, but clothes pose a difficult problem this hunting season. "Accidents it. To prevent such accidents, for me. To begin with, I'm a difficult hulk to fit. I've grown to proportions that exclude me from most clothing stores, catalogs and discount marts. My sweaters are 2Xs, my sportcoats are 48 safety rules are observed," says hammer while hunting. regulars, my shirts have a 17 1/2 inch neck and even my shoes are DNR Law Enforcement Chief 12 EEs. I can be fitted with a few things in a regular store, but Herb Burns, more and more of my shopping has to be done at Omar's Shop for the Grotesque.

Even with my difficult proportions (a nice way of saying I'm a intentional discharge. Intenfatso), finding clothes is not my biggest problem. Figuring out a tional discharge accidents usuworkable wardrobe is what kills me. I have a job that has no real description, and therefore has no dress code. I have to go it on my own, and my appearance usually shows it. Just ask my wife.

Let me explain by outlining a typical work week. Monday is my day to make calls around town selling Ledger advertising. I try to leave the house neatly dressed, complete with a tie. Monday morning is also the day we change chemistry in the processor that develops our type. I roll up my sleeves, put on a shop apron and proceed to ruin some clothes with developer, stabilizer, fixer, etc. On Tuesday I usually have a few leftover sales calls, so again I need to dress in something other than jeans and a sweatshirt. However, most of the day is spent in the paste-up department and darkroom. I end up with paste-up wax, dark room chemistry and opaquing paint on my clothes. Wednesday is Rotary, and I feel I should show up in something other than Jams and a T-shirt. But, Wednesday is also the day I peddle newstands, and I end up with news ink ground into my good duds. On Thursday and Friday I lars. "Never point a gun at anyam often conferring with customers about commercial printing thing you don't want to shoot," work. Even though my work in the back shop is more suitable for Burns adds. coveralls. I feel I need to be presentable when called to a customer's office to discuss a printing project. Consequently, I am forever running around in what would normally be decent clothes, except they are always stained, snagged, torn or bleached by darkroom chemistry

I've often thought it would be nice to be in a position where accidental discharges. Again, the working conditions were well-defined, and a person could dress appropriately. A banker or company executive can wear a party are usually victims, or huncoat and tie all day, and never worry about dipping a $30.00 silk ters suffer self-inflicted wounds. tie in a tray of fixer. A construction worker can wear heavy coveralls, and never worry about having to make a sales call in a handle every firearm as if it were fancy office building. The ultimate solution would be to work where uniforms are issued. Every Wednesday you get a clean set of duds for the next week. You never have to worry about what to buy or when to wear it.

All this talk about my wardrobe is prompted by my wife's use. continuing attempt to improve it. Recent shopping trips have resulted in two pair of wool slacks, a new sportcoat, several nice shirts, some ties, etc. Trouble is, I don't dare wear any of it to work for fear of ruining the stuff. I was sick enough when I had to dish out $45.00 a pair for the slacks. I'd probably die if I spilled fixer on them.

So, you'll likely continue to see me dressed in my semi-slobby attire during working hours. I'm easy to spot. I'll be dressed in gray or navy slacks with an ink stain or two and a small tear from catching my pant leg on a piece of machinery. I'll wear a cotton shirt with ink on the sleeve and paste-up wax on the cuff. My sweater vest has a stain from darkroom developer and my tie has bleached out spots from fixer. And, I won't be wearing a sportcoat because I can't afford to replace them as fast as I can ruin them.

The Lowell Freshman gridders suffered a 28-6 defeat Thursday at the hands of Wyoming Park. The Vikings scored a touchdown in each of the four quarters and all four extra point attempts were good. One of Park's scores was a 75 yard return of an interception. The freshmen play East Grand Rapids Thursday at 5:00 in East Grand Rapids.

Jurors for the show were Tom Kayser, Executive Director of the Kalamazoo Institute of the Arts, and Sara Warner, Executive Director of the Greater Flint Arts Council. The jurors selected the pieces for the show and left the Gallery Committee with the names of the winners of 6 established prizes: Best of Show, $300; Best Two-dimensional Work, $150; Best Three-dimensional Work, $150; Creative Use of Materials, $100; Jurors' Selection, $100; and the Kathie Quada Memorial Purchase Prize, $250.

Prize money came from a grant from the Arts Council of Greater Grand Rapids, of which the LAAC is an associate member, and from the Kathie Quada Memorial Fund. As with all LAAC projects, support is also provided by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

The 39 pieces selected by the jurors are the work of 26 artists. Each person who entered could submit up to 3 works, and several artists have two pieces in the show. Included amongst those with two pieces are Dick zayac, watercolorist, and David F. Davis, who works in both watercolors and acrylics. Both Zayac and Davis are from Lowell. Others in the show are from Grand Rapids, Wyoming, Zeeland, Kentwood, Rockford, N.

the Board approved the exchange of the XEROX 9200 duplicating machine for a XEROX 9500 duplicator. The exchange allows the school district to have up-to-date equipment.

In other matters, the Board adopted the Elementary Parent-Teacher Handbook and approved the purchase of a new lawn mower for the main mowing of the middle school, high school, football field, Bushnell and Runciman areas. Board members were assigned to attend the four public hearings regarding the redistricting of elementary boundaries, and a Transportation Committee was formed with John Haggai serving as Chairman along with members Norm Byrne and Wayne Dowling.
