Tuesday, Nov. 4 is Election Day

Voters will have a variety of decisions to make while in the polling booth next Tuesday, November 4. Several state offices, including the governorship, will be decided along with three proposals to amend the state constitution and several non-partisan judgeships.

For the governorship, the Democrats are fielding a ticket of incumbents, James J. Blanchard for Governor and Martha W. Griffiths as Lieutenant Governor. The Republicans ticket consists of William Lucas and running mate Colleen Engler. The Worker's League (Socialist Party) lists Martin McLaughlin and Alva A. Crivens as candidates for the state's top post.

Democratic incumbent Richard Austin and Republican Weldon O. Yeager are the choices for Secretary of State. Democratic incumbent Frank Kelley opposes Republican Robert H. Cleland for the Attorney General's office.

In the 5th Congressional District Paul Henry, the Republican incumbent is opposed by Democrat Teresa S. Decker. In the 31st District of the State Senate, Dick Posthumus, the Republican incumbent from Lowell, is faced by Democrat Diane Siciliano, also of Lowell. The 90th District which represents Lowell in the State House of Representatives is also contested. The Republican incumbent Vic Krause is faced by Democrat Bernie Hale.

Voters can vote for, and will select, two members to the State Board of Education. Democratic candidates are Annetta Miller and Gumecindo Salas. The Republicans are fielding Barbara Dumouchelle and Patricia Hartnagle. Robert E. Tisch is also running for the post representing the Tisch Independent Citizens Party.

Voters will also cast two votes for the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan. Democratic contenders are Paul Brown and James Waters. Republicans on the ticket are Gary Frink and Cynthia Haidostian Hudgins. Two votes should also be cast for members of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees. Democrats in this race are Joel I. Ferguson and Barbara J. Sawyer. The Republicans are Dolores M. Cook and Cyril Gregoricka. Two members of the Wayne State Board of Governors will also be selected. Republicans are Mary Dahn and Elizabeth Hardy. The Democrats are Max Pincus and Leon H. Atchison.

Voters of the City of Lowell, and Lowell, Bowne and Caledonia Townships will elect a Kent County Commissioner from the 12th District. The seat was vacated by William Doyle of Lowell, so both contenders are newcomers. The Democrat in the race is Judy D. Crandall and the Republican is Judy Harrison. In District Three, which includes Vergennes, Ada, Grattan, Oakfield and Cannon Townships, Republican Marsha Wilcox is opposing Democrat Sue Konyndyk.

Proposal A asks for the establishment of The Library of Michigan within the State Legislature. The proposed amendment would provide for clear authority under the state Constitution for the establishment of the Library of Michigan within the legislative branch and require that the library be administered by laws enacted by the State Legislature. The library was transferred by statute to the Department of Education in 1983.

Proposal B, if approved, authorizes the State legislature to enact laws which would permit the Legislature to approve or reject administrative rules proposed by state agencies. These administrative rules implement state law.

Proposal C seeks to expand

Three juveniles injured in crash

Rescue personnel prepare an accident victim for transport while others work at freeing another victim from the wreckage. All three occupants of the vehicle were juveniles, and the driver was only 14-years-old. They were transported to Blodgett Memorial Medical Center where they were admitted and treated for various injuries.

Three Lowell juveniles were injured in a roll-over accident last Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. The auto was southbound on Cumberland Ave. when the 14-year-old female driver lost control of the vehicle in loose gravel on a hill just north of Foreman Rd. The white Chevrolet Chevette left the west side of the roadway, rolled across a lawn, crashed into some large trees and came to rest on the passenger side with the top of the vehicle crushed against a tree.

One of the juvenile males was thrown clear. The driver and another juvenile male were pinned in the wreckage. Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons and personnel from the Lowell Rescue Squad were the first on the scene. They administered to the victim thrown from the car, and did what they could for the others until Lowell Fire Department personnel arrived to cut away the wreckage.

Lowell Fire Department personnel used their hydraulic cutting equipment to make it possible to extract the trapped victims. They were strapped to backboards and loaded into two Life ambulances that had responded to the scene. Kent County Sheriff's Department E-Unit personnel also assisted at the scene.

All three occupants of the vehicle were transported to Blodgett Memorial Medical Center. They were all admitted and treated for head and neck injuries. All have since been released according to a Blodgett official on Tuesday.

The 14-year-old driver was issued citations for driving without an operator's permit and driving too fast for conditions. One of the male juveniles was cited for permitting a minor to operate a motor vehicle.

HEART DISEASE: THE RISK FACTORS PART II

Last week we discussed the risk factors of developing heart disease: Age, Family history of heart attack, Male, Diabetes, Smoking & High Blood Pressure. This week we'll complete our discussion by reviewing the following risk factors: Elevated Blood Cholesterol, Obesity, Type A personality and sedentary lifestyle.

We have discussed elevated cholesterol in this column on several occasions. It is one of the principal factors increasing our chances of developing heart disease. The typical American diet is high in saturated fats. Saturated fats are found in meats, eggs, and dairy products. A multitude of studies have shown that groups whose diets are rich in saturated fats and cholesterol have more heart attacks. By modifying our diet we can reduce our blood cholesterol. Diets low in cholesterol and saturated fat include fish, poultry, fruits, vegetables and grains. You should try to cut your intake of red meat, dairy products, eggs and butter. Pre-printed diet sheets listing diet do's and don'ts are available through the American Heart Association, 950 28th St. S.E., Grand Rapids, Michigan or your doctor's office.

Regular exercise can decrease your risk of developing heart disease. Exercise helps improve coronary blood flow and increases the efficiency of the heart. Aerobic exercise also has been shown to increase the ratio of HDL cholesterol in the blood. It is currently felt that the higher the ratio of HDL cholesterol to LDL cholesterol the lower the risk of heart attack.

"Type A personality" is often considered as a risk factor in development of coronary artery disease. Type A personality is a term used to describe an individual who is impatient, anxious, stressful or seeks perfection. This person may be a highly successful business man - the so called highly motivated individual. Recent studies appearing in the Journal of the American Medical Association have questioned this theory.

Obesity is associated with a higher incidence of heart attacks. Because obesity is often related to lower levels of HDL, hypertension, diabetes and a sedentary lifestyle, it is difficult to determine if obesity alone increases the risk of heart attack. Sound medical judgment dictates reduction of excessive weight to reduce the likelihood of heart attacks.

In summary, if we can alter those risk factors favorably, we have a better chance of avoiding serious cardiovascular disease. Because of these efforts there has been a decline in mortality from heart disease.

The first president of the U.S. to be born outside the boundaries of the original 13 Colonies was Abraham Lincoln, born in Hodgenville, KY, in 1809.

"The Children's Station," which is located on the corner of Alden Nash and Segwun, will take donations of any Scout uniforms including Girl Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts, or Boy Scouts. These uniforms are given to those children in need of a uniform after joining one of these excellent branches of Scouts. On occasion, a child is unable to join Scouts because he or she cannot afford the necessary uniform. If you have one, or any part of one, that is not being used, we would sincerely appreciate its donation to our organization. This is an exchange program. Therefore, there is no charge for any uniform received from us, only the request to return the uniform after its purpose is served.

It is not too late to join Cub Scouts! Any boys between the ages of 8 and 10 years old interested should contact Dave Rogers at 868-7570 or Kay Estes at 897-6864.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

... before honour is humility (Proverbs 15:33).

It fell my lot to help care for my younger brothers and sister while I was growing up. Before they could be relied upon to do a thorough job, it was my task to wash John Jr., and Paul each evening before bedtime. As far as they were concerned, clean faces, hands, necks, and ears were unimportant.

Paul was usually cooperative and submitted without complaint. But with John Jr., lively and mischievous, it was a different story. He wiggled, twisted, pulled back out of reach, and kicked up a fuss in general. "Dad," I'd call in desperation, "make him behave." After that, my younger brother knew better than to try to evade the washcloth and soapsuds any longer.

Often we adults act much like John Jr. did. We squirm, twist, and try every way possible to avoid submitting to the very thing that would make us better and more attractive Christians. We try to escape the unpleasant, when all the time it is exactly what we need if we are to receive divine approval and recognition. Honour is preceded by "humble submission" to many things which we regard as unimportant.

Prayer: Dear Jesus, I bow in humble submission before Thee. I shall not try to escape the unpleasant but accept it as a part of Thy plan for me. Amen.

Perfect submission, all is at rest. I in my Saviour am happy and blest; Watching and waiting, looking above, Filled with His goodness, and lost in his love.

Everyone enjoyed Fire Prevention week

The Lowell Area Fire Department visited the Kindergarten classes of Run-ciman and Bushnell Schools during Fire Prevention Week. The Fire Department would like to thank everyone from the Principals to the students. A good time was had by all. The children were shown around the fire engine and the fire rescue squad. They had lots of questions to give the firefighters. The firefighters showed the children their special marks that they wear at a fire. The children were to know that even though it looks scary, the firefighter is there to help. Everyone received reading material to go over with their parents that was provided by Life EMS, Blodgett Burn Center, Dy-Dee Diaper Service, Roger Chapman, State Farm Insurance and Mercy Ambulance. JRB-Patton provided the films used during the week. The Fire Department has a coloring contest again this year. There will be winners from each room getting a prize. An overall winner from each school will be the guest of the Fire Department for the day of the Christmas Parade. They will get a tour of Station One and a ride in one of the fire engines during the parade.

With the Holiday Season coming up, please be careful in whatever you do.

Thank you

Dear Editor of the Press:

Ada residents have the power in a NO vote on Referendum Number 2 to preserve Thornapple River Drive and send a strong message to the Ada Township Board. Ada is blessed with beautiful river front surroundings, but those same lovely natural surroundings have placed physical barriers and have limited choices for traffic movement. Development from our community as well as from east of Ada is placing tremendous pressure on Thornapple River Drive. Knowing this, the Ada Township Board granted a rezoning of R-4, ten units per acre to a 215 acre parcel of land, of which 152 acres is flood plain and flood way. This is not what I would call visionary thinking when you consider recent flooding, and the additional traffic that will burden Thornapple River Drive.

Growth is part of a thriving community. It is what keeps real estate values up, and schools well funded, but misplaced growth only burdens a community and detracts from its appeal. Since much more growth is possible north and east of Ada, we must provide another traffic link -- specifically, another bridge across the Grand River at Snow Ave., half way between Ada and Lowell. There is now nearly 10 miles between bridges that span the Grand River and Ada and Lowell. This is a major handicap for law enforcement and fire protection that these communities share with Cascade. The realities of a growing community and the potential traffic from development makes it urgent to provide a route at Snow Ave. with access to I-96 and the future South Belt before we approve projects that compound problems on Thornapple River Drive. Ada Residents, voice your concern for the future and vote NO on Referendum # 2.

Barbara J. Kalinka

Dear Editor:

A sneaky subtlety in the developers ad in favor of their proposed housing project in Ada Township warrants a special effort on the part of all registered voters in Ada Township to vote NO on Proposal 2.

The developers in their ad, repeat over and over again, that not voting will give the same result as voting NO.

This is a fraudulent claim and is intended to lull the voters into complacency over the issue and to delude them into thinking that not voting will bring the same result as voting NO against the proposal. This is a false claim, it has the flavor of slick fraudulence and should anger all honest voters in the Township.

The best way to express your anger is to make a special effort to vote NO for their proposal. There has to be some other hooks in their program if they must resort to such a tactic.

By Denny Blough
 The Freshmen Football team tied Northview, 14-14 last Thursday night. Coach Kampfschulte stated, "two mistakes early in the third quarter may have cost us the game." A fumble on a kickoff return and a bad snap on a punt gave the Wildcats good field position on two occasions. Except for these mental errors, the Arrows controlled the game. The entire team played well for their last conference game.

Northview's JVs undefeated

By Denny Blough
 The Lowell Red Arrow J.V. football squad took on the Northview Wildcats last Thursday, and almost pulled an upset. The Wildcat J.V. football team has not been beat this season and were not beaten as freshmen. The loss kept Northview's winning streak alive at 17 games over two years.

The Wildcats struck first with a long run for a T.D. The two point conversion was good, and the Wildcats led 8-0.

The Arrows came back with a touchdown of their own when Tony Nauta connected with Tim Westrate for 6 points. The two point was no good.

The Arrows could not manage to score any more, and as time ran out the Wildcats had won 8-6.

Lowell travels to Portland Thursday for its final game of the season. Kickoff is at 7:00 p.m.

By Denny Blough
 White season with a close 21-19 loss to Northview Friday night. The loss dropped Lowell to 3-4 in league play with a 4-4 overall record.

Northview dominated the first quarter scoring two of their three touchdowns. They scored their third touchdown before the gun early in the second quarter while the Arrows sat stunned.

Lowell then came back late in the second quarter on a Mike Dumas run for a 75 yard touchdown. The two point conversion was foiled, and at half Northview led 21-6.

The Arrows came back in the second half with Mike Lillie throwing for 102 yards on five receptions. Lowell scored again late in the third quarter when Lillie threw a 30 yard T.D. pass to Jim Goggins. The two point conversion was no good and Northview still led 21-12.

Lowell scored again halfway through the fourth quarter when Lillie connected with Jeff Gessler for the T.D. The extra point kick was good, and Lowell closed the score 21-19, but time was running out for Lowell, and as the fourth quarter ended, the Arrows had lost 21-19.

Lowell was led by Mike Dumas with 184 yards of rushing. Jim Goggins and Jeff Gessler each caught two passes for a combined yardage of 102 yards. These yards would not have been gained without the excellent job the offensive line did blowing holes. The line consisted of Jim Johnson and Ron Bancroft at the tackle positions, Walt Price and Joel Schrenk at guards, Tony Beachler at center and Jim Goggins at tight end. The Defense was led by Mike Dumas who had eleven tackles. Kyle Gildea had seven, Dave VanderMeulen and Fred Heeringa each had six. Lowell's final game of the season is Friday against Portland. Kickoff is at 7:30 at Burch field.

Jeff Gessler gathers in a pass from Arrow quarterback Mike Lillie in last Friday's action against Northview. Lowell lost the 21-19 decision.

My eleven-year-old son Casey has been popping up in this column with a good degree of regularity. Each time he is the subject of my column, more gray hair pops up on old dad. Just this year Casey has made my column with a broken arm and a near loss of his facial features in a mishap with a rocket engine. In the past he has provided material by slashing his arm in a fall through a storm door and breaking his foot. There have been others, but I seem to have succeeded in blocking them out of my memory.

Two Sundays ago we were visiting some friends whose parents have a cottage on a small lake. The weather was beautiful, and we spent our time playing cards outdoors, roasting hot dogs and cutting some firewood. Hardly a situation for sprouting more gray hair... right? Wrong!

These friends have twin boys just a little younger than Casey, and when the three of them are together they become a whirling dervish. If you could figure a way to harness all their youthful energy, especially after a few bowls of Captain Crunch, you could run Consumers Power out of business.

The cottage is situated about a mile from the nearest road, and a network of two-track trails through the woods services the cottages on that side of the lake. The boys had the use of their grandpa's 125 cc Honda three-wheeler to ride the trails with. After appraising the situation, I decided they probably couldn't get into too much trouble just riding around in the woods, and gave permission for my kids to ride. Someday I'm going to learn to listen to all the warning bells in the back of my head when I'm pondering these decisions. I did insist on helmets, gloves and heavy jackets, and away they went.

We adults settled into a card game as the boys rode double, and took turns cruising the trails. Just a couple of hands into a Rounce game, with me holding five trump with the king, Casey and a strange woman came across the yard. "There's been an accident," she said. Hearts stopped and hair immediately started turning gray on all four parents.

Casey was banged up and sported a fat lip, bloody nose, puffy eye and numerous scrapes from a face-plant in the gravel. The other boy had remained at the accident site with the woman's husband. They said he was ok, but complained of a sore knee. The other dad and his brother-in-law scurried off to the accident site while I tended to Casey. I know they were sprouting gray hairs as they drove.

We parents were never told this, but it turned out that the boys had a regimen of riding one trail out to the county gravel road, travelling about a hundred yards along it, then turning back into the woods on another trail that leads back to the lake. It was on the gravel road that the boys ran into trouble, and wouldn't you know it, Casey was driving.

A small pickup truck topped a hill coming toward the boys on the three-wheeler. The pickup driver said the boys were on the proper side of the road, and not travelling fast, but Casey over reacted and hit the brakes. The front wheel locked up, the ATC went out of control and the boys were thrown off. As it turned out it was fortunate the boys were thrown, because the truck and ATC came together head-on. The ATC was pretty well wrecked and the front of the new truck was caved in.

The ATC is owned by my friend's father and the truck was owned by the driver's brother. The insurance issue is a total mess, but at least no one was hurt seriously. Even if we end up with no coverage, and have to pay for the damages, I still figure we got off cheap.

I told the story to a friend of mine who has three boys, with the oldest in his early twenties. He assured me that my worries are just beginning, and he pointed to his totally gray hair as proof. Pass the Grecian Formula!

The Lowell Equestrian Team traveled to Mason Saturday where they were one of ten District Champions competing for the State Class A Title. The teams competing were seven time champion South Lyon along with Romea, Lakeshore, St. Johns, Midland Dow, Dexter, Big Rapids, Fruitport and Tecumseh.

The Lowell Equestrian Team came very close to taking top honors in the recent State competition. The team captured second place and finished just 16 points behind the first place finishers.

Cross Country teams finish season

By Amie Kanoza
 On Monday, October 20, the Lowell Cross Country teams ran against Belding at Fallasburg Park. The boys put on an outstanding running performance beating Belding by a score of 31-24, led by Mike Harding, taking first place, honors and Chris Kloosterman taking second place honors.

The girls team also performed exceptionally well, tying Belding with a final score of 28-28.

Saturday, October 25, was the day of the Big Regional meet held at South Christian Recreation Center. This meet decides who will qualify for the State meet. Lowell didn't have anyone qualify for state, but Betsy Dommer came within two people from qualifying and Amie Kanoza came within four people from qualifying. The girls ran their best race of the season, finished tenth out of nineteen schools. Betsy Dommer placed 24, Amie Kanoza 26, Stacy Beute, 50; Tricia Wittenbach, 75; Rachel Taber, 88 and Tera Raab finishing at 90, out of between a hundred and twenty and a hundred and forty girls! Great job, girls!

The boys ran slightly off pace, finishing 18 out of nineteen schools. Mike Harding led the boys team, taking 39th place; Chris DeGrote, 101; Mike Grooters, 112; Mike Cichon, 121; Paul Wilcox, 124 and Trevor Tyler finished at 127.

Also running for the boys are: Bob Rice, Ben Peters, Jeff Schmidt, John Pratt and Jon Kinsey.

Congratulations everyone on a fine season, let's work hard and go for it all next year!

JV girls in first place

The Lowell girls JV basketball team moved into first place in the conference with two league wins last week.

In Tuesday night action at Northview the Red Arrows came out on top by a score of 57-18. Leann Iteen had 19 points, 8 rebounds and 5 steals. Michelle Tousignant scored 15 points and had 7 steals. Kim Marvin added 5 points and 4 rebounds off the bench.

On Thursday night the team had a rematch with Forest Hills Central, who had handed the Red Arrows their only league defeat. The girls played their best game of the season in coming away with a 49-27 victory. Julie Tark led the scoring with 16. Tousignant added 12 points and 9 rebounds. Kerry Zytwicki also pulled down 9 rebounds and chipped in with 5 points. The defense was led by Megan Kirby with 5 steals and Becky Pacher with 4.

The team's league record stands at 7-1 with an overall mark of 12-2.

point lead over South Lyon after 3 events. The meet see-sawed back and forth until South Lyon captured a 21 point lead after 7 events. Lowell kept fighting back and closed the gap but ended up 16 points short at the end of the meet and finished in second place. This is the closest meet in eight years of competition and put a real scare into the South Lyon team.

The teams finished in the following order: South Lyon, 86 points; Lowell, 70; Dexter, 46; St. Johns, 44; Midland Dow, 32; Romeo and Big Rapids, 26; Lakeshore, 13; Tecumseh, 8; and Fruitport, 6.

The Youth Exchange (YES) is presently seeking families interested in having an intercultural experience by hosting a foreign exchange student. Students come from Europe, Asia and Latin America. These students go through a rigid process of selection and, therefore, are bright, mature, and most of all, very enthusiastic to become the best Ambassadors to the United States possible by sharing their culture with their host family and friends. Our next group of students is due to arrive in December 1986/January 1987 and are to stay until the end of the school year. The host family's responsibility is to provide room, board and love. In return, the student is expected to try and assimilate to the U.S. lifestyle and to become a part of the family. Students have excellent medical insurance and bring their own spending money. The host family may also claim a $50.00 deduction for each month that they host. If you are interested in having a rewarding experience and would like more information, please contact: Youth Exchange Service (YES), World Trade Center Building, 350 S. Figueroa St., #257-P, Los Angeles, CA 90071, phone: 1-800-848-2121.

Library program to be held at Lowell and Alto brances

Humor will be the highlight of this year's Children's Book Week program when the Kent County Library System celebrates children's literature from November 12-22. Children in grades K-6 and their parents are invited to attend a free program - "Reach For A Book, Reach For A Smile" - hosted by Amelia Bedelia, the zany character from a favorite series of books, by Peggy Parish.

Amelia and her friends will bring favorite funny stories such as Miss Nelson Is Missing, by Harry Allard, The Judge, by Harve Zemach and the poetry of Shel Silverstein and Jack Prelutsky to life in story theatre style. Amelia, a literal-minded house maid and her employer Mrs. Rogers, will also appear in a short story about a library visit where Amelia makes plenty of crazy "library mistakes!"

"Every year in November we have a chance to promote quality children's literature in our branch libraries. This year, with humor as our Children's Book Week theme, we'll really be showcasing the proven favorites of children," said Children's Services Coordinator Mary Frydrych. Book displays of humorous stories and poetry will be at all of the branch libraries to encourage children to read and enjoy these books at home.

"Reach For A Book, Reach For A Smile" will be presented at 15 branches of the Kent County Library System. For additional information regarding Children's Book Week, contact your local branch or call the Children's Services Department at 774-3253.

This special program will be seen at the Lowell Branch, 325 W. Main St., on Wednesday, November 12 at 4:00 p.m. and at the Alto Branch, 6059 Linfield on Thursday, November 20 at 4:00 p.m.

Amelia Bedelia and Mrs. Rogers, characters from a popular series of books, share a laugh in the library. The pair, portrayed by Children's Services staff member Mary Beth Gregor and Coordinator Mary Frydrych will be visiting local branches of the Kent County Library System in the story theatre presentation, REACH FOR A BOOK, REACH FOR A SMILE in celebration of Children's Book Week, November 12-22.

First aid action for flood damaged books

As a result of the wet weather, there have been many calls to the Grand Rapids Public Library regarding the treatment of water damaged books.

This guide is intended chiefly for the private house-holder who has suffered the misfortune of having books damaged by flood. The treatment of manuscripts and valuable books should be left to the expert bookbinder, but in every case it is essential to start work as soon as possible.

The treatment of a sodden book is dependent upon the type of paper and the materials and methods of binding.

When disaster strikes these general rules apply for books of all classes:

1. Keep the book closed until all external mud is removed.
2. Dry the book gently with a good circulation of air.
3. Never open the book in any one place by more than a finger's breadth, as opening it wide at an early stage may break its back.
4. Never try to separate all the leaves whilst the book is sodden.
5. Be PATIENT, and don't try to hurry things.

General Action
First clean the closed wet book with a damp cotton cloth to remove wet dirt, mud, etc. which will always be easier to remove when wet rather than when dry.

It is better to dab the book than to rub it. Soap, detergents etc. will not be needed.

If the book is cloth bound, the covers are usually attached to the book only by the end papers and tape tags. Since immersion in water will damage this type of binding beyond repair, it is permissible, whilst the book is still sodden, to ease away the covers.

Coated Papers
Where a book contains illustrations on coated "Art" paper, it may be possible to save the illustrations if the book is opened very carefully whilst wet and a sheet of thin polythene foil, such as Saran Wrap, is inserted between the sheets. It is generally worth making an attempt to do this whilst the book is still very wet, for once the book has dried, there is virtually no chance at all of separating art paper which has stuck to other art paper or leaves or ordinary paper.

Drying
To dry the books, they should be hung up on a set of three lines of thin white string, so that the spine of the book is supported at three places. Use short lengths as excessive weights will break the strings. To do this, gently open the book enough to allow a finger in at three places evenly spaced through the thickness of the book and slip it gently into the strings. If no clothesline is available, the books can stand on end but this will cause sagging, and books which weigh more than 2 lbs. dry, or 5 lbs. sodden wet should be stood up to dry with a few sheets of thin clean white card interleaved to support them. The books should be allowed to dry naturally and heating is not really necessary, but it is very important that the room should be well ventilated and that there is a steady current of air around all the books. Ordinary electric fans will to serve to provide this, and it can be assumed that the books will take several days to dry.

Although oven drying will do more harm than good, by shrinking and distorting book covers and pages of texts, microwave ovens are a different matter. The high frequency energy in these devices safely takes out the moisture because uniform heat temperatures are created throughout the wet masses by radiant heat.

Mold Growth
Mold does not grow readily in cold conditions, but if anything more than trivial growth occurs, the following treatments can be applied.

Canoeing in Michigan is an exciting recreational sport

Canoeing! Michigan has more miles of waterways, it's not difficult to understand why canoeing is one of the state's favorite recreational activities. In addition, Michigan canoeers can head for the rivers year-round -- including experts who canoe snow framed rivers in winter.

But one of the best times for canoeing is now. In autumn, Michigan's lakes and rivers cool more than 18 million acres of the state's forests, on fire with flaming ambers, saffrons, auburns and brilliant scarlets. As summer cottagers' last laughter echoes through the woods, the quiet stillness of the lakes mirror nature's transformation. Canoeers just barely break the stillness with the rhythmic splash of paddles and watch the mirror images of millions of leaves sparkling in the rippling water.

You don't even need your own canoe. Michigan's numerous canoe livery services every canoeable waterway in the state and most of them will arrange for "put in and pick up." At least on livery, Michigan Canoe Outfitters in Cadillac, even offers, for a fee, to pitch your tent, cook your meals, instruct beginners, transport you to and from your car, and clean up after you.

In the Upper Peninsula, Northland Outfitters of Gernfask offers trout fishing trips on the Manistique and Fox Rivers, excursions through the Seney National Wildlife Preserve, and canoe expeditions to Isle Royale National Park.

Michigan's most famous river, the Au Sable, which flows gently past cedar-lined banks is perfect for longer trips. Annually, canoe racers from all over the world compete here on 240 twisting, non-stop miles from Grayling to Oscoda. Both of its branches are served by several canoe liveries that offer trips ranging from a few hours to two weeks.

Catering to all skill levels, Michigan even has areas of honest-to-goodness "white water" for more skilled canoeers and kayakers. Expert recreational canoeists may want to try the Ojibwe and Sturgeon Rivers at the tip of the Lower Peninsula, or the famous Two-Hearted River in the Upper Peninsula. Tomahawk Trails Canoe Livery in Indian River will send you down the Sturgeon or the easier Pigeon River into Mullet Lake.

It is always wise to know what you're getting into...especially if it's a river. The 1986 Michigan Canoeing Directory, published by the Recreational Canoeing Association (RCA), lists canoe liveries and descriptions of the rivers they service. Copies may be obtained by writing either the Michigan Travel Bureau, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Michigan 48909, or RCA, 5042 Scenic Drive, Honor, Michigan 49640.

Signature Figurine Collection

Jan Hagara. Her art is idealistic. All her children are beautifully realistic. Jan studies and captures history in her watercolors. She accents each portrait with authentic antique clothing and toys. Nostalgic and American. It's clear that the decorative influence of American Country is here to stay.

Compare the integrity of the Jessica figurine to the Jessica print on the far left. It's amazing detail... especially when you consider that every figurine is hand assembled and hand painted. With the variation inherent in hand work, each piece is one of a kind in a very real sense. Limited edition 20,000.

Middle School Art Club Introduces Scarecrow Creations...

Lowell Middle School admitted eleven new personalities to the attendance rolls this fall. Students in Karen Lambert's after-school Art Club created some colorful characters in the form of "scarecrows." Their original purpose was to decorate the grounds of the Fallburg Fall Festival, but they have also welcomed visitors to the Middle School and helped set the stage for a festive Halloween.

The scarecrows were not the traditional tattered mannequins one finds in farm fields. Student artists were asked to create an original scarecrow, and the results included a futuristic robot, a Red Arrow football player, and "Ethel" -- a comfortable looking lady wrapped in bathrobe and hair curlers.

Trophy Buck!

Ron Blain, 50, of 1842 Berrywood, Lowell, must certainly be one of the most successful bow hunters in the area. Blain brought this trophy buck by our office for a photo last Tuesday. He shot the eight point buck about two miles from Lowell on Monday, October 20. Blain says the antler spread measured 21 inches. He says he dropped the deer with one shot at about 20 yards. This is Blain's 25th buck in about 30 years of bow hunting.

"Centennial" honors for Ryder farm

In the autumn of 1836, families that were to survive in the wilds of Michigan were working every day of the week, with a short respite on Sunday, to claim their hard-won crops from the virgin, often rocky, soil. A little more than 200,000 hardy families lived in this territory, which was declared a state in January 1837.

Several of those original families have passed on their farms, from generation to generation, to the present day. To honor the efforts of these pioneers, Consumers Power Company, in cooperation with the State Historical Commission, is distributing 126 Sesquicentennial plaques for display on the lawns of these family farms.

In the Ionia area, the following farms will receive a Sesquicentennial plaque: Elvon & Alice Rasmussen, 1384 N. Johnson Road, Belding; Margo & Stephen McCord, 3375 Kelsey Highway, Ionia; Edwin R & Gerald D Yeomans, 608 Haynor Road, Ionia; Mr. & Mrs. James F. Cahoon, 10580 Grand River Avenue, Lowell and Frank L. Ryder, 11075 Bailey Drive, Lowell.

In its infancy, Michigan proved to be a popular place for pioneers. In the statehood decade, between 1830 and 1840, its population grew more rapidly than any other state or territory. One of the families that arrived shortly before the boom was William and Angela Brown, who settled in Lenawee County near Adrian in 1828. The Brown farm is the oldest family-held farm in Consumers Power's service territory, which covers 67 of the 68 counties in the Lower Peninsula and includes almost six million people.

The Sesquicentennial plaques are being produced by Michigan State Industries, using workers from Southern Michigan Prison near Jackson. The plaques will be distributed throughout 1987 during the state's Sesquicentennial observation.

Consumers Power has been participating in the State Historical Commission's Centennial plaque program since 1948.

the authority of the State Officers Compensation Commission. This proposal would transfer the authority to determine the salaries and expense allowances of the Secretary of State and Attorney General from the State Legislature to the State Officers
