William S. Doyle passes at 69

William S. Doyle

William S. Doyle, 69, a lifelong resident of Lowell, died Monday following a brief illness. Doyle was very active in Lowell community affairs throughout his life. He also became involved with various Grand Rapids area clubs, committees and organizations while a Vice President of Union Bank and Trust for 14 years prior to his retirement.

Doyle graduated from Lowell High School in 1935. He graduated from Duke University in Durham, North Carolina in 1939 with a B.A. in Economics. After college he took a position as a Vice President with the King Milling Co. in Lowell. In 1945 Doyle became Vice President and General Manager of the C.H. Runciman Co., also based in Lowell. While with C.H. Runciman he served as a Director of the Michigan Elevator and Grain Dealers Association and as a Director of the Michigan Bean Dealers Association. In 1966, Doyle moved on to become a Vice President of Union Bank in Grand Rapids. He retired from Union Bank in 1980. Doyle was successful in a bid for the 12th District Kent County Commissioners seat in 1984. He did not run for re-election in 1986. His decision not to re-run was based largely on the fact he was elected to the District Governorship of Rotary District 629, a post he held at the time of his death.

Doyle married Eunice Jane Gulde from Chelsea, MI in 1942. The couple met in Lowell when she accepted a teaching position here.

Doyle's involvement in numerous civic activities, both in Lowell and in Grand Rapids, made him known to many in the area. A member of the Lowell Rotary Club for about forty years, Doyle was the club's unofficial ambassador. Lowell Rotary Club banners grace the meeting place of hundreds of Rotary Clubs around the world. In his extensive travels with his wife, Doyle always made it a point to attend the Local club's meeting and exchange banners. His involvement in Rotary took him to the District Governorship for the 1986-87 term. Rotary District 629 is comprised of 54 Rotary Clubs in Western Michigan as well as the Sault St. Marie and Wawa clubs in Ontario, Canada. Doyle's term would have ended at the District Conference on Mackinac Island at the end of June. He was the first member of the Lowell Rotary Club to achieve a district office.

Doyle was also a member of the Lowell Masonic Lodge and the Saladin Shrine of Grand Rapids. He was also a Shrine Jester, an honorary level of the Masonic organization. Doyle was also a Past-President of the Irish Heritage Society of Grand Rapids. He was also a member of the Peninsular Club for many years.

Doyle served as Chairman of the Lowell Planning Commission for 16 years. He also served as President of the Lowell Showboat from 1966 through 1972. The new amphitheater was built during his term in office.

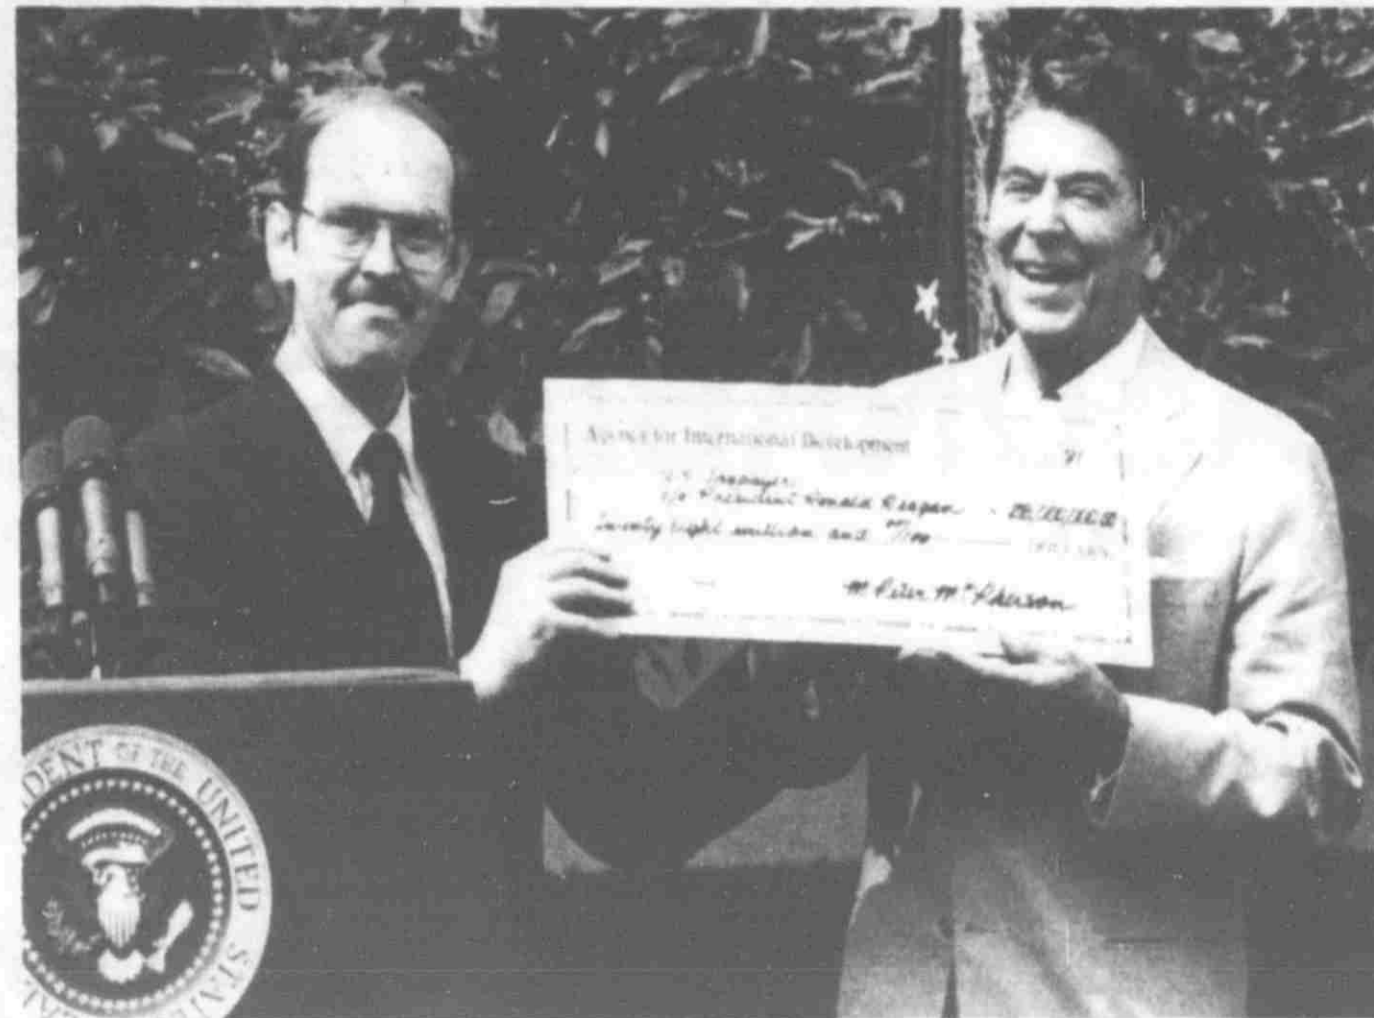

While working for Union Bank, Doyle became active in Grand Rapids numerous organizations. He was a director and officer of the Greater Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce for many years, and served as Chairman of the Board in 1980 and 1981.

Besides his wife, Doyle is survived by a son, William Stowell Doyle, Jr. and his wife Permele of New York City; two daughters, Mrs. J. Anderson (Christine) Thompson of Charlottesville, VA, Mrs. Jeffery (Nancy) Molitor of Chagrin Falls, OH; a brother Charles and Dee Doyle of Lowell; three sisters, Mrs. Jack (Virginia) Tomga of Plymouth; Mrs. Lyle (Gloria) Powell of Lowell, Mrs. Roland (Anita) Hansen of Dearborn; and six grandchildren.

Funeral Services will be Wednesday, April 15 at the Rothgerst Chapel at 2:00 p.m. Interment will be at Oakwood Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the Juvenile Diabetes Association or the Shriners Children's Hospital.

M. Peter McPherson is given new post

M. Peter McPherson, a native of Lowell, has been named as Deputy Secretary of the United States Treasury Department. McPherson is a native of Lowell. He has been the Director of the Agency for International Development throughout the Reagan administration. As an aide to Treasury Secretary James Baker, McPherson's knowledge of international economic policies, especially those of underdeveloped countries, will be of great value.

As the head of AID, McPherson administered economic development assistance to 60 third world nations. In his new position he will deal with the increasing demand for the world's creditor nations to eliminate some of the debt of poor nations so that they can become better customers of U.S. goods and services.

McPherson has long been a strong supporter of international aid. He disagrees with those who feel giving money to third world nations is wasteful. He uses Korea as an example of what aid to developing countries can accomplish. "In 1981 Korea purchased more food from the U.S. than has been given to them in 24 years of Food for Peace shipments," McPherson says.

McPherson has been under pressure from Planned Parenthood to change AID's policy on

Roger Wittenbach named top District Manager by Brandt

Roger A. Wittenbach, President of Wittenbach Business Systems Inc., of Hunt Valley, MD, was named by Brandt, Inc. as one of three leading District Managers for 1986 in the company's network of independent representatives. Brandt, the leading domestic manufacturer of currency and coin handling and management systems, also revealed that record company sales were achieved in 1986. Both announcements were made during the company's national sales meeting at Captiva Island, FL.

John Thompson, Brandt Vice President explained that Brandt categorizes its sales districts by size and that Wittenbach was the winner in the group of middle-sized districts. The company also took top honors in its category in 1985. Along with recognition from Brandt and his fellow managers, Wittenbach will receive a complete expense paid vacation for two on a Windjammer Cruise and scenic tour of Canada and a plaque. State Senator
Dick Posthumus

In April, our thoughts turn to taxes, and state government is no exception. Senate Republicans unveiled a plan recently providing a sizable property tax reduction with fairer distribution. Based on the work of the Citizens Property Tax Commission and other serious tax reform plans, the Senate supports reducing property taxes by up to 30 percent and incorporating minimum per-pupil spending across the state. The plan calls for levying a low statewide property tax, and making up revenue shortfalls with an increase in the sales tax or cutting state spending. Whatever we decide on will go before voters before being implemented. Last week, the Governor announced his tax reform plan. Unfortunately, it's a lot like his old plan, which had some serious defects. The governor's proposal raises taxes in one place to reduce them a fraction somewhere else. It increases taxes on your insurance policies, your savings and checking accounts and other types of hidden taxes. The new version of the Governor's plan also adds taxes on men and women in the armed forces, some pension payments and on lottery winnings. The plan would also restrict the number of people who qualify for the Homestead Property Tax Credit. Compared to the Senate plan offering taxpayers up to a 30 percent reduction in property taxes, the governor's plan provides less than a four percent cut. The Legislature was not pleased with the Governor's plan last year and the changes made in it since then don't make it any more attractive. First, it's not a tax reduction -- it's a tax shift that will actually hurt consumers and businesses in our state. Second, it isn't fair, because it creates inequities instead of simply reducing property taxes for everyone in the state. The Senate is always looking for ideas that honestly help the residents of our state -- but this plan doesn't fill the bill.

pendent representative for Brandt since 1974, serves a wide range of customers in Maryland, Delaware, Central Pennsylvania and part of West Virginia. Mr. Wittenbach noted that sales of systems products -- automatic coin wrapping, currency processing and computer systems -- had played a major role in the company's achieving 126% of sales quota for 1986. He also announced that George Lapore, senior account manager, had been named company Salesman of the Year. Wittenbach employs 28 people and has an extensive service operation. Along with its sales success, the company established a new Coin Service Division in 1986. By year's end it was the largest coin wrapping operation in the region. Using Brandt state-of-the-art automatic coin wrappers, Mr. Wittenbach expects the company to wrap more than 20 million rolls of coin in 1987. Mr. Wittenbach, a graduate of Central Michigan University, now resides in Lutherville, MD. He is the son of Arnold and Evelyn Wittenbach of Lowell. Brandt, Inc., in its 97th year of business, is far and away the domestic leader in the design, manufacture, distribution and servicing of currency and coin sorting and handling equipment, complete cash settlement systems and vault systems. The complete product line -- including related banking products -- are sold to the financial, retail and vending industries both nationally and worldwide.

WARTS

Warts are common lesions which are caused by a virus. Warts can appear on any skin surface and are solitary or clustered lesions. Different family members of the Human papillomaviruses cause different clinical manifestations of the common wart. After infection with the virus, a wart will appear 2 to 18 months later. Warts can occur in any age group but usually are seen in children and young adults. Warts vary in size, shape and appearance. Plantar warts (on the sole of the foot) can be quite painful because pressure on the foot causes these warts to grow quite deep rather than becoming elevated. Genital warts are usually caused by sexual contact and can appear on the sexual organs or anus. Before any specific therapy for warts is considered, it should be remembered that many warts will disappear spontaneously, especially in children. Deep plantar warts respond more readily to therapy than multiple flat warts. The discomfort and risks of therapy must be weighed against any disability or pain that the wart is causing. It should also be remembered that any therapy is not 100% successful. Warts can reoccur several months later. We usually do not recommend treatment unless the wart causes discomfort or is cosmetically problematic. The exception to this is that all genital warts should be treated. Multiple non prescription medications and prescription medications are available for topical treatment of warts. This is a logical first step as risk and expense is low, however, success is also low. Most topical preparations contain salicylic acid which is painted on the wart. They will be most effective if the wart has been soaked and then rubbed with a pumice stone prior to application. Use of these agents should be confined to the hands and feet. They should not be used on the face or genital regions. Podophyllin is a topical agent that your physician paints on genital warts. It should be washed off within six hours of application. Podophyllin should only be applied by a physician and it will often take several applications for the genital warts to completely resolve. If topical therapy fails, your physician may destroy the warts with cryosurgery, electrocauterization (burning) or even laser vaporization. All of these therapies can cause some postoperative discomfort so before any treatment is initiated the probability of spontaneous resolution must be considered.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust . . . (Psalm 40:4).

Did you ever think about how trusting we are? We trust our lives into the hands of physicians we know little about. We trust the care of our precious babies to nurses who are total strangers. When we drive on the highways, we trust the lives of our loved ones to the competency of other drivers. If we are fortunate enough to accumulate any savings, we trust our money to the guardianship of strange men and women.

Yes, day by day, every day, we are trusting mortals for the safety of our loved ones and possessions. Why is it people are so eager to trust mortals but reluctant to trust the Lord? Why is it so difficult for many Christians to believe Him implicitly? Why do they hesitate to take Him at His Word? Why do they struggle over accepting His promises?

What glory and light would illuminate all our days if we believed and trusted the Lord as we trust mortals! Thousands down through the ages have learned to do just that. And they have not been disappointed. Christians, let us seek to trust Him more and more!

Prayer: Dear Jesus, it isn't difficult to trust Thee, for over and over again, I have found in Thee all that I need. Help me to trust Thee more and more as the days come and go. Amen.

Jesus, Jesus, how I trust Him! How I've proved Him o'er and o'er!

Jesus, Jesus, precious Jesus! Oh for grace to trust Him more!

Arrows host opening day on new fields

Just two days after opening day at Tiger Stadium, the Lowell Red Arrow Varsity Baseball Team hosted their season opener with the Rockford Rams. Although, there were not 55,000 plus in attendance, the estimated crowd of 92 contributed to the same kind of excitement and enthusiasm that is generated on opening day at any professional baseball game.

It was a great day for a ballgame. The temperature was in the mid 60s, the sky was clear and sunny and the sun seemed to amplify the beauty of the new diamond. Even though the aroma of "Red Hots," and "Freshly Roasted Peanuts" was absent from the premises, there was a definite aura of baseball in the air. Perhaps this smell was that of grass from the infield which is new to Lowell Baseball thanks to an anonymous donor. Could this person be a descendant of Abner Double Day?

Pre-game warm-ups had just been completed. Mothers were admiring their handsome sons in uniform, fathers were wondering which professional teams would draft their son, but girls were powdering their noses, players were dealing with pre-game jitters, and the coach was already irritated because he couldn't find his extra bag of sunflower seeds.

The starting line-ups are announced and the umpire dusts off the plate, takes his position be-

GAME ONE

The Rockford Rams captured the inaugural game in a close contest 6-5 in which the victors capitalized on a few Red Arrow miscues. On the other side of the coin, the Arrows squandered several opportunities to take commanding leads in the first three innings.

Starting pitcher, Adam Thaler, suffered the loss giving up three earned runs in the first inning before settling down, pitching well the remainder of his initial outing. Pat Schaefer closed out the game with a strong relief performance, shutting down the Rams for three and one-third innings.

The Red Arrows fought back to tie the game 3-3 in the first inning, and 4-4 in the third inning on singles from W.J. Price and Adam Thaler, respectively. Rockford took the lead for good in the fourth on two unearned runs and held on for the win. Senior third baseman, John Stenquist, made a super play in that inning by stabbing a line drive completing an unassisted double play to keep the Arrows within striking range.

Lowell's final run was scored by John Stenquist who drew a walk, advanced to second base on a fielder's choice, and came home on an RBI single by designated hitter, Jim Goggins.

W.J. Price had a fine performance at the plate by collecting three hits with a double. John Stenquist and Toby Czarnopis also produced a couple of hits with Czarnopis collecting a two-bagger as well.

For the game, Jim Goggins and W.J. Price had 2 RBIs each, while Adam Thaler added one. Lowell collected 10 hits and Rockford tallied 9.

Game 1 - Line Score:
Lowell 3 0 1 0 0
Rockford 3 0 1 2 0 0

GAME TWO

In the nightcap, the game ended in an 8-8 tie after five complete innings and was called due to darkness. The Arrows quickly jumped to a 7-2 lead after two complete innings and could not hold on as the Rams scored four runs in their half of the fifth.

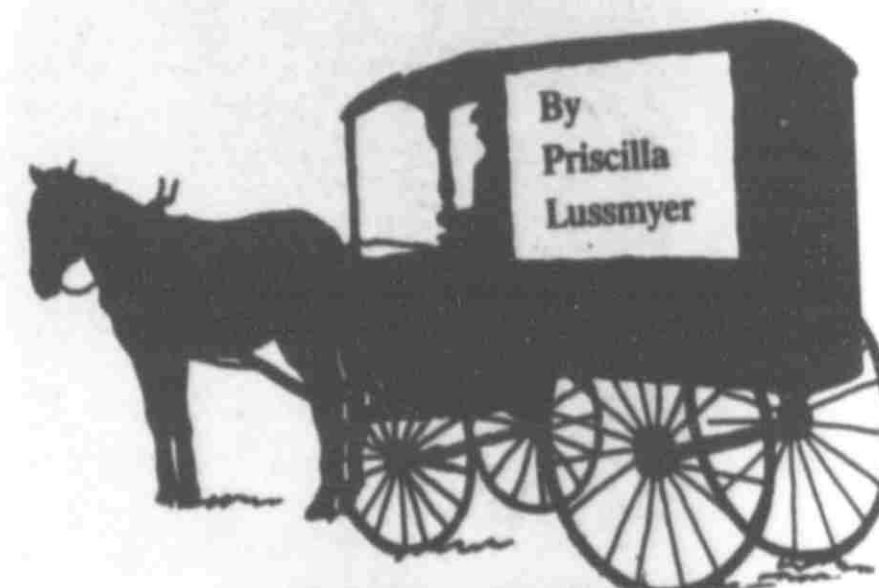

Mike Lillie picked up the twin for Lowell allowing five runs (two earned) on two hits, fanning eight, but hurt his cause by yielding eight base on balls as well. Mike was the hitting leader for the Red Arrows collecting two doubles in two official trips to the plate, scoring two runs and producing 2 RBIs. Senior first baseman, Ron Bancroft, also had 2 RBIs. W.J. Price continued his hot hitting from game one with two hits while adding another RBI and double to his totals.

Game 2 - Line Score:
Rockford 0 2 0 2 4
Lowell 3 4 0 1 0

COACH'S COMMENTS
Fundamentally we've improved tremendously in the mechanics of throwing, fielding, and hitting and can compete with anyone in these areas of baseball. Mentally, we have to be more disciplined and consistent, particularly in terms of base running and pitching with men in scoring position. Some of these problems can be corrected easily and will be resolved soon. Other mental mistakes will take time and patience. At the moment, the majority of the players are ahead of schedule. Hopefully, they are pleased with themselves at this time, but not content.

Coach Kris Kropf.

Juniors From LHS Attend Seminar On Drug Abuse

Mark Eldridge and Lori Esch

The local Moose Lodge was interested in supporting our community's efforts in making students in Lowell schools aware of the effects of drugs.

The Moose Lodge sent Mark Eldridge and Lori Esch, both juniors from Lowell Senior High School, to the second Student Congress "Just say no to drugs" seminar at the Jackson Lodge No. 156 in Jackson, MI on April 5, 1987.

Eldridge and Esch returned to Lowell with insight on ways to help elementary kids, as well as teens, say "no" to drugs and alcohol. Ideas were given on programs to be done for the different age groups to help them become aware of different types of peer pressure and different ways to share with others. Eldridge and Esch feel that the seminar was very successful as they gained new insight and ideas to start new drug awareness programs for the children of our community. They hope that their insight will be passed along and shared with others.

Fraternity to rally America's volunteers

Pulitzer prizewinner George Will, actor Tony Randall, CBS Sports commentator Joe Theismann, and the chairman of Amoco Corporation were among the featured speakers when leaders of 100 volunteer organizations assembled here Feb. 19-20 at the National Symposium on Voluntarism -- sponsored in its entirety by the Loyal Order of Moose.

Also on the agenda was a presentation by four delegates of the International Student Congress on Drug Abuse -- a program sponsored by the Moose in which nearly 100 high school students representing 49 states and three Canadian provinces assembled February 7 to develop their own plan on how to fight drug abuse.

The two-day event -- whose theme was "Voluntarism in America: Keeping the Commitment" -- was held at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington.

"The symposium generated a renewal of energy among key leaders of America's volunteer community, and at the same time explored the issues we face in the near future," said Paul J. O'Hollaren, Director General of the Loyal Order of Moose.

House Calls For Action To Lower Income Tax Rate

Republican leaders in the Michigan House have called for passage of legislation to lower the state income tax rate and possibly increase the personal exemption before April 15.

House Republican Leader Paul Hillegonds (R-Holland) said a workable plan could include a 4.5 percent income tax rate and an increase in the personal exemption to $1,750.

We're still insisting on a dollar for dollar return of the windfall generated by federal tax reform. That means the amount equal to the 0.2 percent income tax cut plus other changes agreed to by the Senate. By tax day, April 15, Michigan residents should know that their money is going to be returned to them.

A higher personal exemption rate would help many of those individuals who need it most. The present exemption is $1,500 per dependent. The federal tax changes will bring a windfall, estimated in excess of $170 million, if the Legislature fails to act. The Senate passed a bill in early March that lowered the tax rate from the current 4.6 percent to 4.4 percent. Like them, House Republicans are opposed to a hidden tax increase. By failing to act, taxes will go up and I'd like to prevent that from happening.

House Democrats are hesitant about returning the windfall, preferring to use the money for state programs or to save for a rainy day. That would be fine if we had a disciplined budget process. Unfortunately, we don't. There are dozens of different ideas on how the money should be spent, but I believe it should be directly returned to the taxpayers. It's time to act--now.

LHS April Students-of-the-Month named

The LHS faculty and administration have announced the April Students-of-the-Month. They are senior Christy Mellon; junior Ami Craycraft; sophomore Michael K. Geisert; and freshman Brad Briggs.

Christy, daughter of Tom and Pat Mellon of Alto, is a coeditorian of this year's graduating class and a National Merit finalist. Academic clubs are of interest to Christy. She is a member of Close-Up, National Honor Society, International Club, the Science Olympiad Team, and the Citizen Bee team. Christy took first in the regionals and eighth in the 1986 Citizen Bee. Her coach and teacher nominator Jerry Biernacki was impressed with this "outstanding extracurricular effort!" In 1986 she also represented Lowell High School in the NCTE Writing Competition. Christy participates in band and Women's Club.

In activities outside of school, Christy has been president of her church youth group for two years, is involved with the Plant Hope Hunger Walk, and helped with Congressman Paul Henry's re-election campaign. She plans to attend Hope College.

Ami, daughter of Cecil and Chris Craycraft, a newer resident of Lowell, is finishing her first year at LHS. In this year she has been inducted into the National Honor Society, has been elected Vice-president of the Y Girls' Leader Club, and has joined the International Club and the Forensics team. This is Ami's third year participating in track. Ami's favorite class is Algebra II and her teacher and nominator Scott Vashaw has "been impressed with Ami's hard work." He indicates that Ami has earned all As in Algebra and "is always willing to help others." Ami has enjoyed LHS and thanks her family and friends for their support.

Michael is the son of Tom and Sandy Geisert of Ada. Mike played football this fall and now lifts weights. His coach, Greg Skipper, who is also his biology teacher and nominator, says, "Mike has proven to be a leader both on the field and in the classroom," stating that Mike always gives that "little extra." Last year Michael played baseball and he also enjoys swimming and racketball. He doesn't focus entirely on sports, however. He says, "I like math and science related subjects." His interest in these subjects is reflected by his having attained the Honor Roll.

Brad is the son of Howard and Barb Briggs of Lowell. He is an active member of Teens Involved and the Y Boys' Leader Club. During his freshman year he was on the varsity soccer team and the freshman basketball team. He enjoys mathematics and has been on the Honor Roll this year. His French teacher and nominator, Ingrid Baird, calls Brad an excellent student who is "motivated to be a high achiever." Brad's hobbies, besides most sports, include collecting old coins.

The faculty and administration congratulate these students for representing Lowell High School with pride and respect.

A few simple rules can make your kite-flying days safer:

- Never fly your kite near electric power lines
- Never use metal in your kite's construction, or to weigh down the tail
- Never climb trees with electric lines passing through them to retrieve a snagged kite
- Always use good sense and good judgment when you're flying your kite

Board Briefs

The Lowell Board of Education held its regular meeting on Monday, April 13, 1987.

Following the payment of bills, Barb Fink and Irene Willmarth from the Alto Parent Club reviewed their plans for the Parent Club-funded Alto playground and landscaping project and the Board gave their approval to begin with phase one. A request was then made by the Lowell High School Art Club to take an overnight field trip to Toronto, Canada on May 8 and 9 with the Board giving their permission.

In business relating to personnel, the Board approved maternity leaves for Wendy Kapolka and Nancy DeVroy with the leaves to terminate at the beginning of the 1987-88 school year. Contracts for the 1987-88 certified staff were approved, and the Board accepted the resignation from Marcia Myers to take effect at the end of the school year.

The Board then adopted the resolution calling for the annual school board election to be held on Monday, June 8, 1987. The matters to be voted on besides the three Board seats will be decided upon at a special Board meeting to be held on Monday, April 27, 1987. Candidates running for the three vacancies are: Roger Kropf - 4 year term, Jack Lane - 4 year term, and Norm Byrne - 1 year term (to complete the remaining year of Jo Murphy's term).

The following Board policy revisions were adopted on their second reading: #3545.1 "Transportation", #3545.3 "Discharge of Students From Buses", #5114.1 "Suspension from School", and #5131.3 "Suspension or Expulsion Addendum for the Handicapped." Also a new Board policy #5140 entitled "Communicable Diseases" was adopted on its second reading.

In the last items of business, the Board awarded the lease-purchase bid for a new district-wide telephone system to Executive of Western Michigan, and awarded the high school weight room renovation bid to Graham Builders with half the amount to be paid by the LCTK Consortium.

John Rubinstein celebrates Carnegie Hall

By Evan Levine

The recent revamping of the 96-year-old Carnegie Hall was an occasion for trepidation as well as excitement: No one knew if the makeover would negatively affect the world-renowned acoustics. But music aficionados found they had little cause for worry. When the seven-month renovation was unveiled, it was greeted as not just an architectural triumph, but an acoustical one, too.

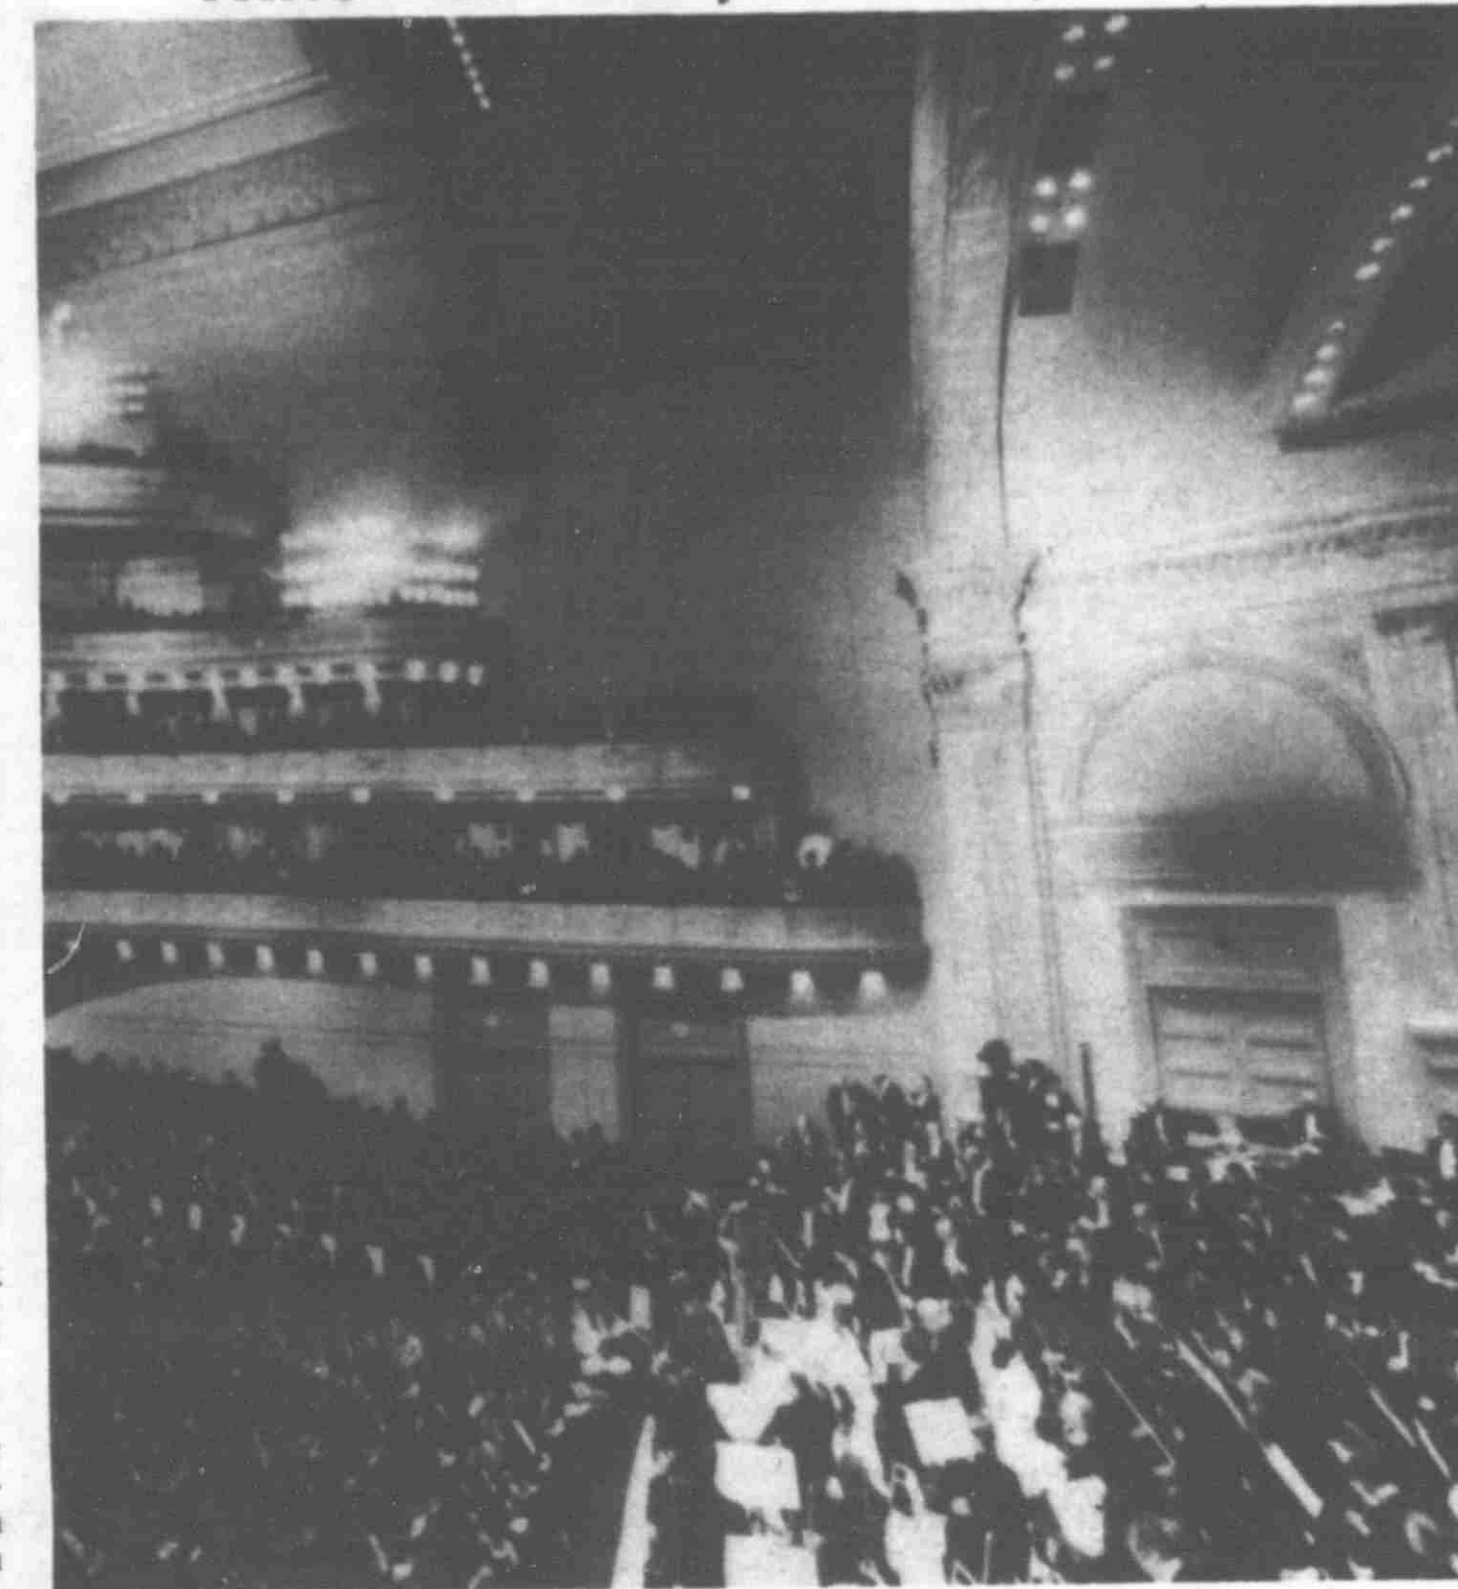

John Rubinstein

On Tuesday, April 21, CBS presents "Carnegie Hall: The Grand Reopening." Taped last December, the special features live performances by luminaries such as mezzo soprano Marilyn Horne and conductor Zubin Mehta. Tying together the segments are personalities such as actor/composer John Rubinstein, son of the late pianist Arthur Rubinstein.

The younger Rubinstein hosts a segment on virtuosos — his father included. He is a natural addition to the gala for another reason — he hosts a weekly radio program from Carnegie Hall, which he used to call "dad's office." "I'm sort of the voice of Carnegie Hall, so it made sense," Rubinstein acknowledges. Known for the CBS series "Crazy Like a Fox" as well as his Tony Award-winning portrayal of the title role in the Broadway musical "Pippin," Rubinstein credits his father with instilling in him an attitude of simplicity when approaching both music and acting. "I approach a role as if it were a piece of music. There's a flow and an inevitability that I look for in a character," Rubinstein explains. "I learned by osmosis, from my father's approach to interpreting music, to look for a deep emotional underscoring." Rubinstein is also a prolific composer. "Producers would come to me when they needed a cheap film score," he says. His scores include the theme for the TV show "Family," in which he also starred, though he usually dislikes scoring music for his own acting. As for the choice between composing and acting, he comments, "If I could only be a composer, I would be terrified. Brahms and Beethoven were composers."

CONTAINS LISTINGS FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 17 THRU THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1987

The remodeled Carnegie Hall is the site of a gala celebration honoring the most extensive renovation in its 96-year history. "Carnegie Hall: The Grand Reopening" airs Tuesday, April 21, on CBS.

Rubinstein has high praise for the remodeled Carnegie Hall. While viewers may see it as a foray into a privileged world, to Rubinstein, it was also the refurbishing of the office which was so much a part of his father's life.

LHS Band State Solo And Ensemble Festival

On Saturday, March 28, Lowell High School Band students attended the State Solo and Ensemble Festival. It was held at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Receiving a second division rating was Jennifer Amundsen, flute solo, and Ken Mulder and Matt Newhouse, Saxophone duet. Receiving a first division rating was Bob Rice, oboe solo. Bob scored 90 out of 100 in proficiency, also.

All students had qualified by receiving first division ratings earlier at the District Festival.

Meet Unit 840

LOWELL POLICE RESCUE (840)

Hi there. Let me introduce myself. I am known as unit 840, but better known as Lowell Police Rescue. I would like to give you a history of how I came to be, and give everyone a monthly report on my activities, as well as some useful information.

It seems, in the mid seventies, a van was put into service carrying extraction equipment and manned by the Lowell Police Department. The extraction unit worked well as long as an ambulance service was based in the City of Lowell and took care of all of the medical calls. Later, however, the ambulance service was moved back to Grand Rapids. When medical help was needed, it took twenty to thirty minutes to get here. In 1982, several concerned citizens took an EMT (Emergency Medical Technician) class. I (unit 840) was purchased and equipped for them to use. The extraction unit and equipment was donated to the Lowell Fire Department by the Police Department. More first-aid trained people were needed. A First-Responders class was taught. At the conclusion of this class, I had enough trained medical personnel to have three teams available, consisting of eight to ten people on each team. Each team has a Captain and Lieutenant. All three teams are under the direction of the Lowell Police Department.

This month, we are asking Lowell area citizens to help us so that we can better help them. Let us know if you have any major medical problems. Please fill out the form below and mail it to:

Lowell Police Rescue
 P.O. Box 159
 Lowell, MI 49331

Until next month - Good health and safe motoring.

First Annual Easter Egg Hunt

Hippity-hop down the bunny trail to the first annual Easter Egg Hunt at Fallsburg park on Saturday, April 18th, at 10 a.m., compliments of Dr. Gillan's office. All children 12 years of age and younger are welcome to participate in seeking hidden treats and surprise-filled Easter eggs.

The children will be divided into two age groups: 0-6 and 7-12 years of age. The grand prize winners of each division will receive a bicycle. Area merchants have made generous donations to support the success of the egg hunt. Other prizes include a $10 gift certificate at Lowell's Sport Shoppe, Carole's Critters and Hinkley's Drug Store; 15-50¢ coupons at Softee Cream; 10 McDonald's certificates; a Mexican dinner for two at Larkin's; stuffed animals and more. Free balloons, cider and donuts will be available for parents and children. The Easter Bunny will also make a special appearance at the hunt.

So, tie a string around your finger so you don't forget the fun and festivities scheduled at our first annual Easter Egg Hunt. See you there, rain or shine!

Mulder Wins Bentley Foundation Scholarship

Ken Mulder

Ken Mulder, Lowell High School Junior, will be attending a week long government simulation program, Operation Bentley, held on the campus of Albion College in May. The full scholarship program brings together talented Juniors from all over the state of Michigan into an intensive workshop environment where they will be simulating the democratic process in close interaction with local and state officials. It is hoped that this early exposure in the inner workings of the democracy will bring out greater citizenship involvement in the future.

Varsity softball off to a 4-2 start

Lowell Varsity Softball Team won the first game ever played on the new softball field by defeating Rockford 8-5 on Wednesday. In the second game of the double dip, the Rams took a 6-5 victory. In game one, Michelle McGee tossed a three hitter. She walked twelve and struck out seven. Darcie Rickert was the big stick for Lowell, banging out two hits and driving in three runs. The Red Arrows flew off to a five run lead first inning and never looked back. Rockford rallied for three runs in the seventh to make the final score. In game two, the Rams collected two runs in the first and single runs in the third through the sixth inning, to take a 6-3 lead into the seventh. The Arrows scored twice in the seventh, but left the bases loaded when the last two Red Arrows struck out and popped out. Micky Denman allowed only two hits in the first Red Arrow loss of the year. Debbie Crawford and Michelle Tousignaut went two for four in the game. Crawford collected two RBIs on a double in the fourth inning.

On Thursday, Lowell hosted G.R. Central and crushed the Rams 26-2. The Arrows banged out fourteen hits as three Red Arrow pitchers allowed only one Ram hit. Michelle McGee picked up her second victory of the season while Micky Denman and Kirsten Hawk mopped up in relief. Michelle Tousignaut knocked three-hits while Micky Denman, Darcie Rickert and Chris Bussell had two hits each. Ronnie Watrous smashed an inside-the-park threerun home run.

On Saturday, Lowell traveled to Greenville to play in the Greenville Invitational. The Red Arrows finished the day with a 2-1 record. Lowell lost to Belding 10-7, nipped Fremont 7-6 in eight innings, and beat Lakewood 8-4.

Poor Arrow fielding cost the victory in game one. Lowell committed four errors allowing four unearned runs to cross the plate. Michelle McGee suffered her first defeat of the year. Six different hitters picked up Lowell's hits. Debbie Crawford drove in two runs. Lowell had the bases loaded in the sixth but could only score one run to bring the score to 10-7.

Lowell Close-Up Club send four to D.C.

Four LHS students will participate in the Washington DC-Close Up program in May's culminating a year long fund raising drive that included the Trashathon, book and plant sales, Close-Up dance and Lowell merchant - Close-Up raffle. Through these efforts and the generous support of the Lowell business community the students were able to offset a large portion of the $780 program cost. The week long government student program brings high school students from all over the U.S. in direct contact with public officials in the hopes that this interaction will bring about greater citizen involvement in the democratic process. By seeing democracy in action, the participants learn that the individual can and does make a difference. The Lowell Close-Up Club wishes to thank the Lowell Rotary, Lowell Education Association, the LHS Student Council, Lions Club, Women's Club, Atwood Corporation, King Milling Co., Root-Lowell Manufacturing Co., Kropf Orchard and Storage, FMB/State Savings Bank, the Lowell area merchants, and the many individuals who helped make this trip possible by their continued support.

Coal wasn't used as a fuel until the 12th century, though it had been used for sculpture before then.

I finally broke down and bought a watch the other day. After about a week of wearing it, I now remember why I haven't worn a watch since my stint with Uncle Sam back almost 15 years ago. A watch drives me nuts. I'm constantly aware of it, and I am forever fidgeting with it. I take it off and put it back on for no reason. I snap the clasp open and shut. I spin it around and around my wrist. I do everything except look at it to see what time it is.

The only reason I bought a watch is because I am taking flying lessons, and it's sometimes necessary to do time and distance calculations. It's also nice to know how long you've been up, and the aircraft I'm flying doesn't have dashboard clocks. When you're all alone at 3,000 feet, it's a little difficult to find out what time it is. There just aren't any bank time/temperature signs up there, and busy air traffic controllers don't cotton to student pilots who use the radio for a time check. So, I bought a watch.

Over the years I have found that getting along without a watch is easier than you might think. First of all, my wife wears a watch, so I can simply ask her the time whenever we're together. And yes, I still do, even though I now have my own watch. Over the years she has grown fond of shaking her head and saying, "I just can't understand how you get by without a watch. Why don't you buy one?" She gives me the little sermon, then tells me what time it is. It works out well for both of us. I get the correct time, and she gets yet another opportunity to lecture to me.

If you are a watch wearer, you are probably unaware of the multitude of time telling devices in your day to day life. In our house there are alarm clocks or clock radios in each of the bedrooms. There is a grandfather clock and a mantle clock in the living room. There is a clock on the face of the VCR in the family room. In the kitchen there is a wall clock, an oven clock, a clock on the microwave and even a clock on the coffee pot. And, if you get desperate for the time, you can turn on a TV or pick up a phone. There are so many clocks in the house I have to hide out in the bathroom to not know what time it is.

When I leave the house I get into a car. All the cars have at least one clock. My van has both a dashboard clock and a clock in the face of the radio. And, as if that isn't enough, non-watch-wearers grow accustomed to listening for the radio announcer to report the time. They do it more often than you watch-wearers might think. At least they do on the oldies stations I listen to.

The Ledger is divided into three basic rooms. There is the front office, the composition room and the press room, and there is a big wall clock in each of them. Again, I have to hide out in the bathroom to not know what time it is.

I call on from 30 to 40 businesses each week in search of ads for the Ledger. I can tell you where the clock, or clocks, are located in each one of those businesses. So, whether I'm at home, at work, in the car or out making sales calls, I always know what time it is. In fact, I'm so used to checking the time by these devices, I never look at the watch I'm now wearing.

I have to admit that before I bought this watch I didn't know what time it was when outdoors. Whenever I was sailing, skiing, putzing in the yard, fishing or just out for a walk, I had no way of telling what time it was. But, guess what? Those are all things that I enjoy, and I don't care what time it is.

Anybody want to buy a "like new" Seiko quartz watch? I think I'll buy one of those little round stick-up clocks for the airplane, and return to the ranks of non-watch-wearers.

GVSC Calculator Contest Attracts Hundreds

Lowell High School and Lowell Middle School students will be among the two hundred and thirty-five students from twenty-six area schools to compete in Grand Valley State's ninth annual calculator contest set for Monday, April 13. The contest is open to students in grades 7 through 12.

The annual event, which is being held to coincide with National Mathematics Awareness Week, is sponsored by GVSC's mathematics department. The purpose of the contest, according to Professor Mary Ellen Rivers, of Lowell, chairman of the contest planning committee, is "to create and sustain an interest in mathematics among junior and senior high school students." Rivers also sees the contest as an effective way to give recognition to those students who excel in math.

Participants must use their calculators to solve mathematics problems that require insight into the nature of numbers and computations. They will discover the limitations of calculators in solving some of the problems.

Students will be divided into three grade-level categories, with the high school students using calculators capable of more complex operations. Contestants must supply their own calculators. Prizes will be awarded to students with the highest scores in each of the three categories.

Following is a list of schools entered in this year's contest: Allendale Christian Junior High School, Byron Center Christian School, City High School, Grand Rapids, Creston Mayfield Christian School, Cutlerville Christian School, Fruitport Public Schools, Godwin Heights High School, Grand Rapids Christian High School, Holland Christian High School, Holland Christian Middle School, Jenison Christian Junior High School, Kent City Junior/Senior High School, Lamont Christian Schools, Lowell High School, Lowell Middle School, Mona Shores Junior High School, Montague High School, Muskegon Christian School, Oakdale Christian School, Oakridge Middle School, Ottawa Hills High School, Ravenna Middle School, Unity Christian High School, Western Michigan Christian High School and Whitehall Middle School.

The competition will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the Kir-Shores Junior High School, announced and prizes awarded at 1 p.m. in the Calder Fine Arts Center.

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
of the
CITY COUNCIL
of the
CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

For the Special Meeting of Wednesday, February 25, 1987.

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by Mayor Maatman.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the clerk called the Roll.

Present: Councilmembers Collins, Thompson, and Mayor Maatman.

Absent: Councilmembers Doyle and Fonger.

Manager Quada stated Councilman Doyle indicated prior commitments and Councilman Fonger was on vacation.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Thompson and supported by Councilman Collins to excuse Councilman Fonger.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Thompson and supported by Mayor Maatman to table the matter of Councilman Doyle's absence until a later portion of the meeting.

The opening statement from Manager Quada was the explanation of a Special Meeting, only the issue advertised should be addressed. At that time, Scott McNeal, Gus Macker Tournament originator, was introduced.

Mr. McNeal began with handouts of newsclips, programs, 1986 budget (non profit) and maps. Next a 4 minute TV clip from the ABC World News was shown which displayed the 3 on 3 game of 4,200 participants.

The tournament which originated in Lowell in 1974 and is run by the Macker Basketball Society Incorporated, non-profit, now has a $70,000 annual budget and who wishes to make a donation to the City of Lowell in the way of an escrow account to be used for basketball interests. McNeal noted the Macker has taken on a national scope with six or seven other tournaments scheduled for this year throughout the midwest which will be run by another corporation, profit making. This year the Macker wishes to move out of the residential area and into the downtown commercial district, blocking off Main Street (M-21) from Hudson to Jackson, rerouting traffic around the bridges to the south. This would require a closure permit from the State Department of Transportation. Scheduling the games for the first weekend in July (3, 4, & 5), instead of the traditional second weekend, which would avoid conflict with the annual King Milling wheat harvest and the influx of trucks into the city.

Manager Quada reported that he had met with the district director of the Dept. of Trans. in Gr. Rapids who said if the request came from the City Council the department will likely approve the closure and detour. Also, the organization would be responsible for the barricades and cost of signage. The state has an absolute requirement that no state trunkline may be closed for a special event sponsored by a profit making organization. The city asked the Lowell Chamber of Commerce to conduct a survey of the business district's position. Thirty-four were sent out, 17 responded in favor, five were opposed.

He entered a written objection from Mr. & Mrs. Michael Jousma, 1672 Stonewood, S.E., Lowell. They stated the streets are for traffic and not for basketball. Also the cost of city crews for clean up. Manager Quada reminded everyone that at no time had our city crews been used for the clean up of the Macker. The meeting was then opened for public comments.

Mr. Art Warning referred to the lawsuit, bad publicity and opposition to the tournament. He continued saying the event would create a hardship on his business because of the crowds. He also questioned what the Macker Tournament has given to the city. Mr. Duane Lambert voiced concern about his business operation, possible losses due to theft or having to close because of the tournament this year and in future years.

Councilman Doyle entered at 8:40 p.m.

Mr. Larry Isenhoff: "Have given the Macker publicity at a very low price." Only against the Macker in the residential area and felt Main St. would be a fine location and the best weekend business will have all year. Bret McManus: In favor, would be beneficial to the whole area. Jim Pfalter: questioned parking behind the businesses and thinks the event would be a good draw for business and promote the City of Lowell. Jim Messner-marketing manager for the Macker: puzzled over the opposition to the publicity. He said the Macker is "Unique, so clean it squeaks." Brian Doyle: appreciate the change of the date and will back the Macker Tournament. Concerns of fire fighting and rescue availability were raised. Manager Quada stated duplicate equipment is located at the S. Hudson fire barn and that we notify other communities for help. Consideration for public safety has been made. City Council members were concerned over A: the separation of profit and non-profit status; B: Parking; C: Liability; D: What the City of Lowell will receive. Manager Quada answered we could use the fairgrounds for parking and a copy of the insurance policy for $1,000,000 would be required. Mr. McNeal again reaffirmed the nonprofit status for the Lowell event and the plans for a gift.

Manager Quada reviewed the special events ordinance draft and the necessity of the procedures which was addressed at the last council meeting.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Collins and supported by Councilman Thompson to seek a permit to close Main Street (M-21) for the weekend of July 3, 4, & 5.

YEA: Collins, Maatman and Thompson.

NAY: Doyle.

MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED to adjourn at 9:40 p.m. by Councilman Collins, supported by Councilman Thompson.

A Filing Extension Can Save A Sinking Ship

It was on April 15, 1912 that the Titanic sank - just hours after colliding with an iceberg off the banks of Newfoundland. If the approaching April 15 deadline for tax filing is making you feel like your ship is about to sink, consider the following advice from the Michigan Association of CPAs.

You can get an automatic, no-questions-asked, four-month filing extension by submitting Form 4868. This will push your filing deadline back to August 15. Form 4868 - Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Tax Return - allows you to postpone filing your return for four months. Take note that the key term here is filing - not paying. While the IRS allows you an extension for filing your completed tax forms at a later date, any tax that is estimated to be due must be paid at the time you file for an extension.

But if your ship is running out of steam, an extension may be just the SOS you need to keep your head above water. Many people tend to rush through their return at the last minute, losing sleep, and often making costly mistakes.

To apply for an extension for your 1986 return, you must file:

Form 4868 by April 15, 1987. (If you file a fiscal Form 1040, Form 4868 must be filed by the regular due date of your return.) The four-month extension is automatic upon filing Form 4868; you will not receive a reply from the Internal Revenue Service. Incidentally, if you request an extension, you may not later ask the IRS to figure your taxes.

It's easy to navigate your way through Form 4868 - a simple, one-page, seven-question form. You need not give the IRS any reason for requesting an extension. Again, what you will have to do is estimate your tax liability for 1986 and pay any tax due when you file the application for extension.

It is most important that you carefully calculate the amount of tax due. If you underestimate your taxes, you will have to pay interest on the unpaid amount. And, if your unpaid taxes exceed 10 percent of your total tax bill, be prepared to pay, in addition to interest, a failure-to-pay penalty. Generally, this penalty amounts to 1/2 of one percent of your unpaid taxes for each month, or part of a month that the tax is not paid. The penalty is limited to 25 percent of your unpaid taxes.

The Internal Revenue Service asks that you clearly describe the reason for your delay. Incomplete reasons such as "illness" or "practitioner too busy" will not be accepted without adequate explanation. Clearly explain reasons and attach supporting information to the form or letter.

In addition to personal sickness or injury, or a death or a serious illness in your immediate family, some acceptable reasons drawn from IRS proceedings and court cases, include the following:

*A taxpayer with a substantial number (approximately 200) of security transactions during the taxable year did not have enough time to gather and analyze all the required information.

*A taxpayer with a complicated deduction problem concerning medical expenses under study by his tax advisors.

*A man who invested in oil properties and received information from the operators too late to complete his tax return by the due date.

*Taxpayers whose records were destroyed by fire or by other casualty.

If your application for and additional extension is approved, you will be notified by the IRS. Attach this notification to your return when you file. If your application is not approved, you just file by the due date of the automatic extension.

IS YOUR SHIP OUT OF PORT?
Planning a cruise around the world? If you are a U.S. citizen or resident and are not in the United States or Puerto Rico on April 15, 1987, you are allowed an automatic extension until June 15, 1987, both to file your return and to pay taxes due for 1986. If you file a joint return, only one spouse need be out of the country on April 15, 1987 for this automatic extension to apply. If two spouses file separate returns, only the spouse out of the country is entitled to the automatic extension.

You do not even have to file a form for this extension. But if you use this automatic extension, you must attach a statement to your return when you file, explaining that you were out of the United States or Puerto Rico on the due date of your return. It's a good idea to have some concrete proof of this fact, should the IRS ask. You do not get an additional two months to file and pay, but when you file, if your return shows that taxes are owed, you will pay interest and possible penalties on the unpaid balance.

If you are eligible for this automatic extension and find you're not yet afloat and still need additional time, you may file for an additional two-month extension by submitting Form 4868 on or before June 15. You should indicate that you are filing under the special traveling-abroad status. When you file Form 4868, you will be required to estimate your tax liability and pay the amount due.

CPAs suggest that if it looks like you might have trouble meeting the April 15 deadline, a filing extension can bail you out.

DEADLINE CLOSE AND YOU'RE STILL TREADING WATER?
What happens if your four-month extension deadline is approaching and you're still treading water? Well, if you have a good reason, you may be able to get an additional two-month extension - but only if you have a very good reason. To apply for an additional extension, you may send a letter or file Form 2688 - Application for Additional Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Tax Return.

This extension is not automatically granted, so you should request the extension early enough so that, if refused, you will still be able to file on time. (Except in undue hardship cases, Form 2688 or a request by letter will not be accepted unless you have first used Form 4868 for an automatic extension.) To apply for an additional extension you must give the following information:

*the reason for requesting the extension;

*the tax year to which the extension applies;

*the length of time needed for the extension;

*whether another extension of time to file has already been granted for this tax year.

return when you file. If your application is not approved, you just file by the due date of the automatic extension.

Where To Get Tax Help

The 1986 Federal Income Tax filing deadline is fast approaching and for those who have not completed their tax forms yet, the Michigan Tax Information Council has reviewed seven publications that may help make the task easier. The tax guides range in cost from free to $12.95, though listed prices may vary at area bookstores.

Before you consider purchasing any of the guides, a stop at a local IRS office may save you the expense. One of the "best buys" is IRS Publication 17, YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX (U.S. Government Printing Office; 184 pp.) It is available free at IRS offices, or by calling 1-800-424-1040. The IRS has many other publications and employees available to answer specific tax questions. To take advantage of their free literature and services check the phone book for the local IRS office nearest you.

If you still have questions you may want to consult one of the commercial publications on the market. Their advantages include language that is usually more understandable than what is found in government publications. Secondly, most of the information an average taxpayer needs is assembled into one easily accessible source.

The following is a random sampling of what is available.

THE ARTHUR YOUNG TAX GUIDE, 1987 (Ballentine Books), 645 pp. $10.95. This guide bills itself as the "Complete Guide to the New Tax Law." It also emphasizes the need for year-round tax planning. Tax savings ideas are included for 1986 filers, but it also gives ideas on how to plan for 1987. A set of current IRS forms are also included.

J.K. LASSER'S YOUR INCOME TAX (Simon and Schuster; 322 pp. $8.95). A perennial best seller with very detailed text. The J.K. Lasser Institute will provide a free tax supplement on last minute tax changes if you send in a card when the guide is purchased.

1987 H AND R BLOCK INCOME TAX WORKBOOK (MacMillan; 284 pp., $6.95). This guide tries to keep things simple and gives many examples. If you still need personal assistance after consulting this reference you can apply the book's cost toward Block's tax preparation charges. It also has a special section on planning for divorce.

PAY LESS TAX LEGALLY (New American Library; 252 pp., $5.95) by Barry Steiner CPA and former IRS agent. Steiner includes a chapter on how to avoid an audit. He also emphasizes year-round tax planning as well as supplying directions to filling out the forms.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES AND SAVE (World Almanac Publication; 96 pp., $3.95) by Robert Metz and Sidney Kess. This is a short, basic primer probably not for taxpayers who itemize. It has a special section on women and taxes.

WINNING ON YOUR INCOME TAXES (Winning Publications; 205 pp., $7.95) by Dennis Kamensky "The Tax Pro." Kamensky takes the approach of helping you develop the proper mind set for tackling your taxes. He devotes the first 30 pages to such areas as "the Fear of Taxes and How to Conquer it," "Adopting Winning Tactics." He also has put his home phone number on the cover.

The Michigan Tax Information Council is a non-partisan, non-profit research and information organization that provides understandable information on Michigan's tax and spending policies. Production of this column was funded in part by a grant from the Joyce Foundation of Chicago.

Patton-JRB purchases Saranac agency

The Patton-JRB doubled its offices with the purchase of Business Guidance Services in Saranac. Gerald "Jerry" Patton, owner of the agency, is very excited about the acquisition. "Besides giving us access to a new market area, we will now also be able to sell Auto Owners and Fremont Mutual Insurance at both locations," Patton said. The Patton-JRB Agency now offers six major property and casualty insurance companies to shop from. The others are Citizens, Hastings, Frankenmuth and Lake States. Numerous life, health and specialty insurance companies are also offered by the independent agency.

Patton purchased the Lowell agency in March of 1983 from Norton Johnson. Dale Triplett joined the agency in January of 1986. Triplett will manage the Saranac branch. The business is located on Bridge Street and will be open from 9:00 a.m. through 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Business Guidance Services offered accounting work, as well as insurance, but Patton says the office will now deal strictly with insurance.

Gerald "Jerry" Patton poses with Dale Triplett, Manager of the Saranac Branch of the Patton-JRB Agency and Kathy Peterson Secretary/Receptionist at the new office.

Historical Society to hear restoration expert

Lou Conti, well-known in the Kalamazoo area for his restoration of many buildings, will speak to the West Central Michigan Historical Society on Tuesday evening, April 21, 8:00 p.m., at the Lowell United Methodist Church Education Building. Mr. Conti will show slides of buildings he has restored and discuss the "nuts and bolts" of rebuilding. The meeting is open to any interested persons.

Mr. Conti and his company have restored houses, important buildings such as the Kalamazoo House and the Upjohn House in Kalamazoo, the St. Joseph County Court House, and some old mills. His input will be especially interesting to the local historical group because it has grants in hand and is raising the remainder of the funds necessary to buy and restore an historical house in the village of Fallsburg.

A business meeting and election of officers will be held at 7:00 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

abortion. In step with the Reagan Administration's policies, AID does not promote or fund abortion as a means of population control. The agency does advocate various forms of birth control. McPherson has also been criticized for aid given to Ethiopia and other communist countries.

McPherson is the son of Ellura and the late Donald McPherson of 1276 Parnell Road. He was raised on the family farm and graduated from Lowell High School. McPherson later graduated from Michigan State University, and then earned his Masters Degree in Business Administration from Western Michigan University. He later earned a law degree from American University.

McPherson is one of eight children, and needless to say, the entire family is very proud of his accomplishments.

ORVILLE DOES IT AGAIN

Poor old Orville Jackson can deal 'em out, but he can't get one dealt to him. We're talkin' cribbage, perfect 29 cribbage hands to be specific. Orville says he's dealt out several of the rare 29 hands in the 65 years he's played, but never had one dealt to him. He dealt another one to his Murray Lake neighbor, Iva Pullen, just the other night. Orville says he dealt Iva three fives and the jack of spades. Lo and behold, the five of spades was the turn card! Orville dealt the same exact hand to a cribbage opponent a couple of years ago and reported it to us. We're not just sure how rare a 29 hand is, but in comparison to royal flushes in poker, a 29 hand is more like a four leaf clover and the royal flush a three leaf. Congratulations, Iva.

CORRECTIONS TO PHOTO I.D.

Tom Kehoe stopped by the Ledger last week to tell us there were a few errors in the identification of a group of students taken in front of the McIntyre School. Tom says the picture was taken in 1948 or 1949, not 1945 as stated. The girl identified as Mary Gould is Bonnie Gould. The little guy fourth from the left in the front row was not identified at all. Tom says he is Leo Kelly. Tom was mis-identified as Kenny Witherell and the ????? Kelly on the end is Gordon Kelly. Thanks for clearing that up Tom.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Ida Swanson, 81, was struck in the side by a pickup truck driven by Theodor kazemier, 25, at Main and Hudson Street. The accident occurred Friday, April 10 when he attempted to change lanes. Both parties are from Lowell.

Slightly injured in a chain reaction accident at Main and Broadway Street were Renee Gould, 21, of Saranac, who was the last of four cars involved. Dawn Dykehouse, 17, of Lowell struck the rear of a car driven by David Longway, 19, of Lowell, which caused Longway's car to strike a third car, driven by Gould on Wednesday, April 8. No other injuries were reported.
