Killed By Train.

EARL ZEIGLER LOST HIS LIFE AT LYONS CROSSING.

A Former Lowell Boy but lately a Clerk at Ionia.

The people of this community were shocked Sunday morning by a telephone message from Ionia stating that Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Zeigler, formerly of Lowell, but for the past two years of Ionia, had been killed by the cars near Lyons that morning.

Miss Iva, sister of the unfortunate young man, was visiting friends in Lowell; and soon after the first report came a message to friends here confirming the rumor and requesting that the sad news be broken to the sister. This was done and Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Littlefield accompanied her to the grief-stricken home at Ionia.

Funeral services were held at the home in Ionia yesterday afternoon and the interment took place at the same place.

The family have the sympathy of many Lowell friends in their severe and sudden affliction.

Following is the special dispatch to the Grand Rapids Herald regarding the accident:

Ionia, Mich., Aug. 27.—The fatal "Dead Man's Crossing," a mile west of Lyons, was the scene of another killing to-day, when Earl Zeigler was struck by an excursion train, thrown from his carriage and his skull crushed so that he died in 20 minutes. Zeigler was a popular young man of this city, and was a clerk in J. T. Webber's store, and the accident is a shock to the city. It is said the young man was going to Lyons to see his sweetheart. The remains were brought back to this city by a farmer, and a coroner's inquest will consider the case Tuesday. A farmer nearby, who was first to reach the boy's side, said he heard the train whistle for the crossing, but did not see the accident. This is a bad place, as a house and trees on the side of the track obstruct the view, and this is said to be fourth or fifth accident at the place.

School Matters.

Our school board is having a great time in securing and keeping teachers. No less than five resignations have been resignations have been received since July 10, the latest being Miss Kate Desmond of the seventh grade who has secured a better position at St. Ignace.

The board has decided to engage a third teacher for the high school, and the eighth grade will be moved to the neat apartments in the new East Ward building.

It is proposed to add bookkeeping to the course of study; a much needed feature of high school work.

Miss Helen Hamilton, for the past five years teacher in the High school at Almont, has been engaged as second assistant for the high school work in Lowell.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Desmond, seventh grade teacher, has been filled by the appointment of Miss Mabel Merriman.

Work begins in the Lowell schools next Monday, Sept. 4. Parents should insist that their children attend the first day.

Woolen Mill Machinery Sold.

C. E. Clark has sold all of the machinery of the Lowell woolen mill to H. W. Moore of Alma who will move it to his own town and set it up for operation. Mr. Clark retains his valuable manufacturing stand and water power.

Going to Chicago on the D. G. R. & W. $5.00 excursion, Sept 5th? Tickets good until the 16th. Ask agents about it.

MANILA LETTER.

An Uncensored Message from "A Lowell Boy."

Manila P. I., 7-19-99.

EDITOR LEDGER:

As I have nothing else to do at present I will endeavor to write you a little in regard to the Philippines, especially Luzon island as I haven't been to any of the other islands and cannot say much about them. Luzon is the largest island in the group and is also the richest. It is one of the most fertile islands known—anything will grow here. I have seen some of the finest vegetables growing here that I ever saw. We have all kinds of tropical fruits here and if we can only get this island so that it can be settled it will be one of the finest places known. The climate here is fair, of course there is lots of malaria but that is found in any hot climate. A person can avoid that easily—the principal thing is the water.

Manila is the capital of Luzon and is situated on the east coast of Manila bay. It is built right in a swamp and that is what makes the water so poor. Manila is located on the Pasig river which divides the town into two parts and they are known as old and new Manila. Old Manila is surrounded by a high stone wall about thirty feet thick and twelve feet high and the Spanish had cannon all around on top of the wall. There was a gun about every thirty feet. The buildings are mostly made of a kind of cement and stone. They have to build solid here on account of earthquakes which they have pretty hard sometimes. About two-thirds of Manila was torn down by one a few years ago. They say that this is the first year in a long time that they haven't felt an earthquake. The only earthquake that has been known this year was the one that the natives received on February 5, when they started to enter Manila. When they left Manila on Feb. 4 they told their friends that they would be in town in time to eat dinner with them and all the natives that were killed on the morning of Feb. 5 had his little bundle of white clothes with him; but they soon found out that they did not need any white clothes. There were about 5,000 natives killed during the first day's fight and about 150 Americans. There was a pretty hot time around Manila for about a week but after that we got the natives driven back so they didn't bother us here in the city for about a month, when a lot of them sneaked through the line, Amegos, you know, and tried to burn the city; but they failed and all that was burned was two districts of native huts. There were a large number of the natives killed so they paid dearly for what they had done. There hasn't been any fighting for over a month and it is a good thing for the rainy season is now on. It has rained steadily for three days and is still raining and it looks as if it meant to keep it up.

There are about 1,200 patients in the first reserve hospital, 300 in the second and 100 at the third at present. There is a great deal of dysentery a coming in nowadays. That is about the worst disease we have here now. The boys that were wounded are about all well now.

Well I shall have to close with best regards,
A. LOWELL BOY,
July 20th.

There will be about 50 hospital corps men discharged tomorrow. They are the volunteer regulars. The North Dakota, Wyoming and Idaho volunteers will leave here in about a week and all of the volunteers will be out of here in about two months.

The awards in the trotting race last Thursday were made as follows: Vanderbroeck's "Billy Fairplains" 1, Scott Thomas "Howell Boy" 2 and J. C. Train's "Oklahoma" 3. Time 2:38 1/2.

Four Grand Rapids boys who attempted to steal a ride to Lansing on a D. G. R. & W. freight train were held up by tramps, robbed and roughly treated, one of them being shot in the face with a blank cartridge so that his face was burned and skin filled with powder. One of the boys jumped off and got away from his persecutors at McCords and as he was a long time appearing at his home in Grand Rapids, it was feared some harm had come to him. Deputy Sheriff Morse was called to look the ground over in the neighborhood of McCords; but the boy finally turned up all right and is probably ready for another hoboe trip.

A traveling man came across the country quite late and stopped at his regular hotel, which happened to be full. He made a fuss and finally the clerk told him he had a room with two beds in it, with a curtain across; and although the room was occupied by a woman it was so late and he wanted to leave on the 5 o'clock train, he might occupy the spare bed. This he finally concluded to do. In about an hour the traveling man appeared in the office with collar, cuffs and shoes in hand and hair standing on end, and said to the clerk: "Why, that woman in that room is dead!" "I knew it," said the clerk, "but how did you find it out?"—Exchange.
