THE VILLAGE ELECTION.

The Candidates and the Issues Thought to be Involved.

THE LEDGER has been urged to take sides in the impending Village election. We simply cannot do it. To some who have urged us to assume the responsibility of telling the people of Lowell what they should do, we have offered space free of charge in which they might over their own signatures advise the people. The offer was refused. Why? "Oh, because," etc. It is so easy to shift the burden onto the shoulders of the editor; but to write an article themselves over their own names—that would hurt their business, bread and butter, you know. Of course, the editor has no business to speak of, and as for bread and butter, fried snow-balls and rushes of wind are good enough for him.

Now, as to the candidates. Almost without exception, we have been treated with kindness and liberality and fairness by all.

If we remember that Mr. Reuben Quick when on the Council voted to give the Journal the printing of the proceedings when the Ledger's bid was 6 cents per folio less, we also remember that he was a father before he was a Councilman; and we can forgive, if we cannot forget. Otherwise we have no criticism of Mr. Quick. He is an old resident, a good citizen and enjoys the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens.

Mr. Weekes is one of our most enterprising business men. Has served his district in the Legislature two terms with honor to himself and credit to his constituents, and ought to be sent to the Senate to succeed Graham who has misrepresented us long enough. His business judgment has been valuable in steering the Village craft through the financial shoals of the past few years.

Mr. Hicks we have ever found "a friend in need." Now and then some one says he does not like Hicks, and we have wondered if we have not learned to know him better in seven years than others have in twenty? "Sharp tongue?" Yes; but if the heart is right, "what ice does cut?" He has rendered the District much valuable service on the school board and his sound business judgment and clear head would be very serviceable on the village council.

Mr. Watts, in the two years of our acquaintance has proven a gentleman and "a friend to tie to." A sagacious business man, his judgment is not obscured by a dollar next to his eye hiding all else. He can look beyond the dollar to the character. If ever a man endorsed Burns' sentiment "The man's the gowd for a' that," Mr. Watts is the man. Liberal in religion, tolerant in politics, cordial in society. We feel as if we had known him twenty years instead of two.

Mr. Hunt is another man who has served this district in the Legislature and though that was previous to our acquaintance we have never heard a word against his record and we don't believe he ever voted to make Lowell pay for bridges in Ada and Plainfield or any other nonsense. We remember him as postmaster and he was a careful and painstaking official.

Mr. Look has been wheel horse on the council ever since the Light and power plant was established and has been secretary of the light and power committee. People unacquainted with the situation can have but little idea of the amount of work involved and the unrequited time and energy he has put into this work. The council has now under way the task of getting control of our burdensome water system and the "hold over" members are loth to do without Mr. Look's experience and energy.

PEOPLES' CAUCUS.

Another Village Ticket Nominated Monday.

The Peoples' caucus held in the Hunter building on the East side, Monday afternoon, was well attended.

F. T. King was elected chairman, Harmon Nwab, secretary and David Mangle and Alex Covert tellers.

For village president, 60 votes were cast, all for Reuben Quick.

For trustees, S. P. Hicks, L. H. Hunt and R. J. Flanagan were nominated by acclamation.

The balance of the Citizens' ticket was endorsed.

As village committee, A. E. Campbell, E. R. A. Hunt and C. D. Blakelee were appointed.

SUGAR BEET MEETING.

The Holland Sugar Co.'s Manager Talked to the Farmers.

The sugar beet meeting at Train's hall last Saturday afternoon was fairly well attended, but not as well as the importance of the subject considered deserved.

C. M. McLean manager of the Holland Sugar company addressed the meeting and answered such questions as were asked.

The company is desirous of placing contracts with Lowell farmers whose soil is suited to the raising of sugar beets. They propose to pay $4.00 per ton for 12 per cent beets on delivery on cars in Holland, less half the freight charges, which will be 60c per ton. In addition the company will pay 75c extra when the sugar bounty is received from the state. Or the company will pay $4.50 per ton on delivery less half freight charges.

Seed will be furnished at 12c per pound, payable when beets are paid for.

There seems to be an opinion that any one can raise beets and sell them to the company whether they make a contract or not. We are informed, however, that they must take their chances on that.

Should the season prove very favorable for beets and the company find itself overstocked, those with contracts will be taken care of first.

Blank contracts have been left with H. Nash, who will show them and discuss the matter with interested parties.

LOWELL MAN PARALYZED.

Charles D. Blakelee Was Stricken Monday Afternoon.

Charles D. Blakelee, the popular janitor of the Central school building, suffered a paralytic stroke just at the close of the Peoples' caucus, Monday afternoon, his left side being affected.

He claimed to be able to walk, but friends procured a conveyance and helped him home, where he received medical aid.

Tuesday morning, he had regained partial use of his limbs and was much better. His many friends hope that his recovery may be complete and permanent.

ODESSA WEDDING.

Bailey--McArthur.

Odessa, Feb. 28.—A pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday evening, Feb. 22, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. McArthur of west Odessa, when their daughter Lillian was united in marriage to Mr. Vernon Bailey of Lowell.

They were attended by Mr. Ransom Vaughn of Lowell and Mrs. Alma Button of Saranac. The bride was becomingly dressed in blue serge trimmed with white satin. The bridesmaid wore brown with trimmings of white ribbon.

Promptly at six o'clock the ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Baumgardner of Lake Odessa, the bridal party standing in front of a bank of potted plants.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The young couple have many friends who wish them a long and happy life. There were many useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will reside in Lowell, where they will be at home to their friends after March 1st.

An automobile operator, according to the rules laid down, must be able to use both hands and both feet. What the matter with his making some use of his head occasionally, also?

An indication of some of the important industrial effects which may be expected to follow the opening up of China is given in recent reports concerning the Chinese tree called the "ta ching." Both French and English botanists assert that this tree contains a valuable substance resembling rubber or gutta-percha.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times, remarking that "it will not do to place overmuch reliance upon Russia's official assurances that nothing will be done to embarrass England in the present situation of affairs," gives additional details showing that the delays in the ordinary traffic on the Central Asian railway are not unexpected.

The United States civil service commission declare in their annual report that the carrier service and the railway mail service have almost reached the maximum point in stability and efficiency.

Religious bodies, great and small, seem to be experiencing a spirit of sacred enterprise. They are mobilizing their forces, as if making ready to enter the coming century under that inviolable leadership which rides forth conquering and to conquer.

The recent appointment of a stenographer at $5,000 a year, as authorized by the house committee on accounts, recalls the fact that there are now three stenographers employed by the lower branch of congress who draw as much money for salary as members of the house or senate.

There is no forthcoming public document whose appearance is awaited at Washington with greater interest than the report of the industrial commission, and that part of the report relating to trusts will be read far and wide.

Congressman Limerick has spent a great deal of time lately with his colleagues of the industrial commission upon the forthcoming report on trusts to congress.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

Within two hours after a special message from the President, recommending the immediate passage of a bill to place in his hands all the moneys collected upon Puerto Rican goods since the Spanish evacuation of the island, to be used for the relief of the Puerto Ricans, had been read to the house on the 2d that body had passed and sent to the senate a bill to carry out the recommendations. The bill as passed is as follows: Be it enacted, etc., that in the sum of $1,000,000, being the amount of customs revenue received on importations by the United States from Puerto Rico since the evacuation of Puerto Rico by the Spanish forces on Oct. 18, 1898, to Jan. 1, 1900, together with any further customs revenue collected on importations from Puerto Rico since that date, there shall hereafter be collected under existing law, shall be placed at the disposal of the President, to be used for the government and benefit of Puerto Rico until otherwise provided by law; and the revenues herein referred to are to be collected under and to be applied to the existing law, are hereby appropriated for the purposes herein specified out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Mr. Quay will not be seated," was the force prophecy of Senator Burrows on the 24th. "I am confident that there will be more than enough votes to keep him out of the senate. The vote is 34 to 28 on taking up the case means nothing. I know of several senators that voted to take up the case who will vote in the negative when it comes to the main issue."

The battle over the Puerto Rican tariff bill ended in the house on the 28th in a sweeping victory for the Republicans. The bill, amended as agreed upon at the conference of Republicans on the 28th, so to reduce the tariff from 25 to 15 per cent of the American tariff, and limiting its life to two years, was passed by a vote of 172 yeas to 104 nays.

The bill providing a form of government for the territory of Hawaii was passed by the senate on the 1st without a dissenting vote.

The Thousand-Dollar Bill. A MYSTERY OF THE UNITED STATES TREASURY—A SHORT STORY. BY LEONARD DUBIN. (Conclusion.) An hour later Edmond Hackett sat at his desk in the department of the Secretary of the Treasury, counting and recounting a packet of 1,000-dollar bills that he had just passed and counted and recounted, and belonged to the issues of long ago. They were only half notes, moreover—the lower half notes, and each fragment of paper had two big holes punched in it by a blunt instrument, totally destroying the signatures which had made it money, and at the same time reducing the half-note to the most worthless.

CHAPTER III. Now this error would mean more than discredit and a consequent check in Bertha's future promotion, for a bill that contained a misprint or overlooked a counterfeit or missing bill should make good the value of it. To make good a thousand dollars would pretty well ruin the Hacketts and old Mrs. Caleb into the bargain. But it was his duty to make his report instantly to the Secretary, and with painful reluctance he filled up the report with slow dragging steps, he proceeded with it to the Secretary's private room, but halted with his hand on the door.

But there was no respite for him and for his wife. The Treasurer himself was closeted with the Secretary. "One moment, Mr. Hackett," he engaged, "was the sharp peremptory dismissal, and he perforce withdrew postponing the declaration. As he returned he was stopped by the report and rushed out of the Treasury. Flying home on a cable car, he found his wife there before him. Bertha sat at the table like one in a dream. No, his duty was clear. He would not allow himself to hesitate, but knocked at the door and entered.

"I counted the Ranchers' packet myself," said she. "I am positive there were exactly a hundred bills." "That is one missing," began Bertha, but the senior lady interrupted her. "Missie! No, nothing is missing at all. There is said to have been one too many. So many miracles had happened that day that poor Bertha could only gaze at her in astonishment. It was an anomaly in arithmetic that one taken from the total should be more than one hundred and one. There came another summons to the Treasurer. Another report had come in of an error from Mrs. Lawson's check. She had not only made up the report, but she carried it off with a show of jocosity.

"Either there must be some comendoso money hanging about the office," said she. "This is another surplus thousand-dollar bill, sir?" "But this was the shortage which Edmond and Mr. Loring had reported, and it was happily met by the excess in the other packet. So, beyond an admonition directed in mercy for the mistake, the Secretary, after a moment's pause, said: "You may go to a theory of the intervention of providence when discussing the matter with your friends. But do not raise your eyes from the food that stood untouched before her. Edmond himself could not swallow a morsel, but furiously watched his wife while the negroes in the room. The moment they were alone he leaned across the table and whispered hoarsely: "You passed a packet today—a packet of thousands."

"It cannot, Edmond. I haven't the bill!" "You did not steal it! Oh, forgive me! Heaven be thanked for that! It's an oversight that had gone, and not beyond repair. Make out your report at once, and send it in. You are a novice, the delay may be overlooked." "It cannot be done, Edmond. It would do to cast suspicion upon the cashier who forwarded the bills to the Treasury."

"That is his affair. If the packet was sent to the cashier, it is his duty to see that it is not in my power." "Edmond, why will you not ignore the shortage? By a miracle it is in your power to prevent the discovery." "How not in your power? The packet will go from your hands to the cashier, who do not count it again; and if it is not in my power, it will be the cashier's to be ground into pulp. It would never be known that forty-nine instead of fifty bills had been destroyed."

A NOTED JUDGE SAVED BY PERUNA. Had Catarrh Nine Years—All Doctors Failed.

Hon. George Kersten, a well-known Justice of the Peace, of Chicago, says: "I was afflicted with Catarrh for nine years. My catarrh was located chiefly in my head. I tried many remedies without avail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me. I learned of the remedy, Peruna, through the daily newspapers. After taking the remedy for 18 weeks I was entirely cured. I consider my cure permanent, as it has been two and a half years since I was cured."

All families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book entitled "Winter Catarrh." This book consists of seven lectures on the catarrh and a gripe delivered at the Hartman Sanatorium. It contains the latest information on the treatment of catarrhal diseases. In a Warm Bath with CUTICURA SOAP. And a single anointing with CUTICURA, purest of emollients and greatest of skin cures. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent, and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted, and pimply skin and scalp humors with loss of hair, of infants and children, and is sure to succeed when all other remedies fail.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap. Exclusively for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crabs, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, in the form of baths for soothing irritations, inflammations, and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sensitive antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. No amount of perspiration can induce those who have once used it to use any other, especially for preserving and purifying the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children. CUTICURA Soap combines delicate emollient properties derived from Cuticura, the purest of emollients, with the power of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower oils. No other medicated or toilet soap compound is so comparable with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is so comparable with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines in One Soap at One Price, with Twenty-Seven Virtues, the best skin and complexion soap, the best toilet soap, and best baby soap in the world.
