A BASKET FACTORY PRACTICAL MAKER AND PROBABLE STOCKHOLDER

Will Present Matter at Meeting Here Saturday Evening.

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a stock company to manufacture baskets will be held at G. V. McConnell's store Saturday evening to consider the matter. A practical basket maker and factory superintendent who will take stock will attend to present the project in detail.

We are told that the starting of a basket factory here is practically a sure thing; and as the enterprise promises to be a good thing for investors and for business men and laborers as well, it is hoped that the meeting will be well attended and every encouragement offered.

LOWELL JOURNAL SOLD.

Rev. Davidson of Baptist Church the Purchaser.

A bargain has been made between Rev. D. B. Davidson, pastor of the Baptist church, and Editor Charles Quick of the Lowell Journal, whereby the former will become proprietor of that paper. At noon today the papers are not completed but both parties say they are in the deal to stay and it will probably go through as planned.

Mr. Davidson's engagement with the Baptist church expired Sunday and early action will probably be taken regarding the continuance or otherwise of his services or providing for a successor.

Mr. Quick will now be able to give his undivided service to the Lowell postoffice and an improved service will doubtless result.

The retiring editor has our best wishes for future success and happiness; and to the incoming scribe we extend the right hand of fellowship, expressing the hope that when the forms "pi," the ink pulls and the devil "raises Cain," he may be able to exercise Christian forbearance and charity and practice what he has preached.

Driftwood From the Flood.

S. Brower is rebuilding his sidewalk which was floated across the street. He is making it practically new and putting it higher than before.

Sylvester Brower has circulated a petition asking the council to grade Monroe street above high water mark.

The Ledger enjoyed a large sale of extras last week on account of the flood article.

The street between Chandler Johnson and the Village engine house looks pretty tough. The sidewalks are out and the platform of the engine house is missing. The platform was wrecked in removing the engine to a place of safety.

Power users are now getting electricity from the old plant. The village electrical superintendent very accommodatingly making the connections free of charge. The present combination makes the Ledger's job press dance to the tune of 1900 per hour.

The King Milling Co., is busy repairing its dam.

The Lowell Manufacturing company and Columbian laundry have resumed operations.

The flood seems to have been good for the lumber sellers, creating a brisk demand for new sidewalk material.

The Village Council is communicating with Mr. Beardsley, builder of the city dam. Failing to secure him, some other engineer will be engaged to superintend repairs on dam. Work will commence at earliest possible moment.

Damage done to engine house approach has been repaired.

People from Saranac, Belding and surrounding were interested spectators of the flood. Had any of the bridges gone out, some one would have been drowned.

Collectors of driftwood have now a rich harvest.

Great vigilance and hard work saved the Lowell Water & Light plant and by that means prevented threatened disaster in Lowell.

The manager of the Lowell Water & Light plant made the rounds of our business places Tuesday, accompanied by Superintendent Kallinger and arranged as far as possible to light business places until the city plant is ready for business again.

Certain business men of Lowell have under consideration the establishment of a basket factory in the city. Being located as Lowell is, right in the midst of a fruit growing district, such a venture surely ought to pay. —[Belding Star.

IONIA Elevator Burned.

Ionia, March 31—The large freight elevator used and occupied by W. C. Page & Co. was totally destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock this evening. The building was owned by the Grand Trunk Railway company. Contents and building probably fully insured. The cause is thought to have been incendiary.

Annual Meeting Building & Loan Association.

It is stated that at least seven local citizens will be connected with the Ionia, Grand Haven electric road. Others who are prominently concerned are Justin R. Whiting of St. Clair, S. L. Matters in New York relative to the issuance of $400,000 worth of bonds are reported to be progressing favorably.—[Grand Rapids Herald, March 28.]
