VERY BAD BREAK!

HOLE IN DAM 96 FEET LONG AND 20 FEET DEEP.

Repairs Will Cost $4,000 to $5,000 for First Class Job.

T. W. Orbison, engineer and expert dam builder, of Appleton, Wis., met with the Council at the Village dam, Monday. They found 16 feet of the dam and 80 feet of the embankment gone and a hole some 20 feet deep in their stead. Mr. Orbison recommends the putting in of two stone cribs, each 80 feet long, 8 feet wide and 30 feet deep, and the use of the umbrella flood gate now used and approved by the U. S. government. The rebuilding is expected to cost $4,000 or $5,000.

Mr. Orbison went home to prepare plans and specifications. Last Thursday Superintendent English and Trustee Lee visited the dam at Newaygo which was built by Mr. Orbison, as was that at Allegan; and they and the Council are assured that if the dam is rebuilt as now planned it will be a permanent job.

DEATH IN FLAT RIVER.

Body of Mrs. R. Bliss Found at Smyrna.

Belding, Mich., April 10. About 6 o'clock last night a woman's body was found floating in Flat river near the Smyrna bridge. The body was later identified as that of Mrs. R. Bliss, the wife of a well-to-do farmer who lives three miles south of Belding.

The indications are that the woman committed suicide while temporarily insane. She has recently inherited about $3,000 from a deceased relative, and it is said that she worried continually as to what should be done with it.

She was seen at home yesterday at 1 o'clock and probably went to the river immediately after, as her home is four miles from the stream and the body had been in the water a number of hours when found. She was about 50 years of age.

IMAGINES HIMSELF RICH.

Tom Herbert Wants 100 Men at Once.

This morning, Tom Herbert who arrived in town from Chicago, via Grand Rapids last evening, attracted much attention on the streets by insane words and actions. He raced up and down the walks, talking to himself and to those he met about building big brick blocks in Lowell. He proposes to employ 100 men at once in the construction of his "Castles in the air."

As it was not known what phase his craze might take with a possibility of it being unsafe to permit him to roam at large in his present condition, the authorities at Grand Rapids were communicated with by phone.

Tom was a former Lowell boy. Coming in on the Pere Marquette train last evening his antics made him quite conspicuous.

The Basket Factory Meeting.

The basket factory meeting, Saturday evening, was not well attended; and not half the required amount of stock was taken.

It would seem that our large basket users should have been interested, but if they were they did not show it by attendance. Mr. McConnell, who had been to a considerable trouble and expense to get things in line, is justly indignant at the indifference shown. He is still ready to take some stock, if others will do likewise. It is to be hoped that the scheme will not fail for lack of enterprise, but that seems to be the prospect now.

A True Dog-Fish Story.

Here is a dog-gone good fish story and a true one, too. One day last week when repairs were making at the Lowell Water & Light dam and the water was very low, Mrs. Will Tredenick who lives near Bisby's bridge, observed the flapping of fish in a shoal. She pointed and said to her shepherd dog, "Go, get them." The intelligent animal pounced in and captured a pickerel and being praised kept it up until he had brought out eight pickerel and a number of bull heads. He seemed fairly crazed with the sport and was a very muddy but happy dog when he captured the last fish.

OUR BICYCLE GIFT

TO SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL GETTING MOST VOTES.

Voting Coupons in Each Ledger. Everybody Vote.

The Ledger will now proceed to give away a high grade 1901 bicycle to some school student, boy or girl, on the plan followed in our spoon contest. Description of wheel will be given later. Any school boy or girl in any district or township may enter the contest. A coupon good for one vote will be printed in each copy of The Ledger during the contest and those paying a dollar on subscription will be given a 52 vote coupon, with 50c, 26 votes and with 25c, 13 votes.

In addition to the above and in connection therewith, we will pay a liberal commission to all candidates or others securing subscriptions to The Ledger. A house to house canvas has never been made for this paper in the townships and good wages can be made.

Some one is going to get a present of a first class twentieth century bicycle. Young reader, it may be you. Will you try for it? If so, cut out the coupon on page 4, write the name of the person for whom you desire to vote and place it in the ballot box at the foot of our stairway. Then get your friends to subscribe for The Ledger and give their votes to you.

Contest begins Friday, April 5 and closes Wednesday, June 5. Everybody vote.

Lowell, April 11, 1901.

Next week we expect to announce the name, style and description of our bicycle gift. It will be the pride and joy of the boy or girl that wins it. Every school boy or girl everywhere is invited to enter this contest. Good wages for those who work and a Twentieth Century prize for the winner.

The opening ballot is as follows:
Bertha A. Westbrook 66
Melvin Lake 8
Irene Murphy 1
Charles Peterie 1
I hereby certify that the above count is correct. F. M. Johnson.

OLD RESIDENT GONE.

Death of Mrs. Esther Woods, Resident of Lowell Since 1862.

Mrs. Esther Woods died at the home of Mrs. S. A. Williams in Lowell; April 8. Funeral services were conducted at the home yesterday by Rev. S. T. Morris, to whom we are under obligations for the following statement:
Mrs. Esther Woods was born in Dublin, Ireland. She married there and moved with her husband, Major Doran, to London, England. There Major Doran died of cholera and having a twin brother in America, she came with her young son to this country settling in Canada. There she married Mr. Woods and together they made their home in Lowell in 1862.

Mr. Wood died in August 1876 and in October of the same year she began to make her home in the hospitable family of Mrs. Williams whom she loved so long and so dearly. Her son in California has manifested the kindest filial interest in his mother, taking her at one time to California where he wished and expected her to make her permanent home. But her heart was in Lowell among her old and long-time friends and she soon returned.

Mrs. Woods was a life-long Christian and when she died was a member of the Congregational church of this place. She very seldom and with the greatest reluctance spoke of herself and it is impossible therefore to tell of her exact age. She certainly, however, saw the greater portion of the last century.

Everything was done for her comfort and happiness both in life and during her last sickness that could be done by tender hands and loving hearts and too much cannot be said of the tender and sympathetic attention of Mrs. Williams and her son. She has gone to her well earned rest after a long and useful life.

Clark Hooper of Campbell township is dead.

Mrs. Griswold of South Boston has been very ill.

Mrs. Lewis Kerley of Bowne died very suddenly April 4.

Ionia will have a new national bank in which all the stockholders will be local men.

The Congregational society of South Boston has sold its parsonage to Mr. Osborne. Mr. Fletcher, present occupant, will move to make room for new owner.

Mrs. E. Hoag and daughter of Lowell came to Freeport Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Morgan. Mr. Hoag came Monday and remained until Tuesday evening when his wife and daughter accompanied him home.—[Freeport Herald.]

Ionia people are getting over the scare caused by the rumor that the big Pere Marquette railroad shops were to be moved from the city. Last week $7,000 worth of new machinery installed, which does not look much as if a change in location was contemplated.

The solid republican ranks in Otisco township have been broken into this spring. At Monday's election the democrats succeeded in defeating George Hoppough and Walter Reeves for supervisor and clerk. The rest of the ticket is republican as usual. Leopold Krupp is the new supervisor.—[Belding Star.]

Besides the big silk fabric mill to be erected at Belding this summer, a magnificent business block containing a modern theater is also to be built in that city. The contracts for both buildings will be let as soon as the plans are completed by the architects, who are now at work on them.

At least one Belding industry already feels the good influence of the new factory. Monday night Mr. Prall, proprietor of the brick yard, received an order from the Belding Brothers for an even one million brick to be made at once. This will make things lively over in the brick yard district.—[Belding Star.]

The physicians in a Grand Rapids hospital came pretty near equalling the buzzsaw's best record for quick amputation the other day. They had a man's leg off at the thigh thirty-eight seconds after he was brought into the operating room. This beats the record recently made at the university hospital at Ann Arbor, when a similar operation was made in one minute, which was considered premonentially fast work.

Mr. Benedict of Lowell was the victim of a runaway in Clarksville recently. He was slightly injured.

Conundrum: "Why is a woman like a newspaper?" "Because every man should have one of his own and not be running after his neighbor's."

Work has already begun at Stanton on the Pere Marquette road from Greenville to that point. The road is about 12 miles in length but it saves fully 20 miles between Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

The construction of Greenville's new starch factory has begun, and will be rushed to early completion. The factory will manufacture starch from potatoes and will use up 8,000 bushels of the tubers every working day.

Grand Rapids people are sore because the local assessors have raised the valuation of real and personal property in the city about $17,000,000. Most of the big increase is on the property of big corporations which have heretofore been paying on ridiculously small assessments.

The tenth annual reunion of the South Boston sheep breeders association will be held at the South Boston Grange Hall, Wednesday, April 17th, 1901. The following program will be given: Stock Exhibit and Sheep Shearing, 10 to 12 a. m.; Dinner 12 to 1 p. m.; Election of officers, 1 p. m.; Sheep Shearing, 130 p. m. Everybody invited.

Home From Manila.

Al Newman who went with the thirtieth Volunteer regiment to the Philippines in July 1899, arrived home in Lowell last evening, in fine health and spirits. He has a fine lot of stereopticon views of scenes in the Orient and his descriptions are very entertaining and instructive.

EASTER SUNDAY.

How It was Observed by Lowell Churches.

A large audience witnessed the pleasing and well executed Easter exercises at the Congregational church Sunday evening, the chief features being the singing by the Sunday school and Boys' union. The march song participated in by both was well executed and much enjoyed. A liberal collection for the purchase of singing books was given.

The Easter exercises held at the M. E. church were very largely attended. The church was very prettily decorated with plants and flowers. Back of the pulpit was a white cross draped with smilax. Above the cross were the words, "Christ is risen," made of green letters covered with violets, arranged in the form of an arch. The program was very pleasing, consisting mostly of recitations, exercises and songs, and the children of the primary department did great credit to their teachers. Mrs. Charles Quick read a paper describing the customs and observances of Easter in different countries; and Rev. McAllister made a short address.

"Mrs. Mr. Magnus! Do you pretend to be wiser than the whole country side?"

"By no means, my love."

"Well, every one says the place is full of ghosts!"

"Yes, my dear."

"What every one says must be true."

Mr. Magnus did not dare to say no.

"And so the place is haunted," replied his better half, triumphantly.

"Ugh! I would not live in that old house for the world's sake," said Kitty shrugging her shoulders.

"Does Mr. Cowley like it?" asked Mrs. Magnus.

"No—I think not."

"How do you do so stay?"

Mr. Magnus coughed and looked embarrassed.

"My dear, Mr. Cowley is a very peculiar man—very. I am afraid he generally does what he likes, without consulting his wife."

"And the letting her live," exclaimed Mrs. Magnus, shutting her lips, viciously.

"I am afraid that she had no choice."

"Well, if women will be fools, they must. But only wish I was Mrs. Cowley! Do you feel quite well, Miss Marjorie? You don't look quite well."

"I am rather tired," replied the governess, very quietly.

"Then pray don't sit up longer than you like."

Miss Marjorie took the hint, put away her work, said good-night, and left the room. Two pairs of eyes followed her with anything but loving looks.

"My dear, good thing! I hate her!" said Kitty, in a low tone.

"And so do I!" replied her mother, with emphasis. "But she will be going next month, so we need not trouble ourselves about her."

voice placidly say in the darkness, "Cousin Rose!—Cousin Rose!" It was the voice I had been hungering and thirsting for hear for three long and weary years. Now you know the whole. Were you thinking about Rose?"

"Yes."

"You will like her dearly. She is a good little thing, and will make a sister of you for the moment I tell you a story. Will you go there with me to-morrow?"

"Will they welcome me?"

"Of course they will, you guess! Oh, Marjorie! My own Marjorie! They will love you for my sake, even as I love you for your own, you wicked, fascinating, cruel little monster!"

"Hut her! That's prime!" exclaimed a boyish voice in the shrubbery, and Marjorie started from her lover's arms.

"Julius, is that you?" she cried.

"I should rather think it was!" the promising youth replied, standing out upon the gravel path. "I've been watching you for ten minutes at the least, and haven't you been going on kissing and hugging! Oh, my! won't mother go into a tantrum when she hears of it! I shan't have to learn any more Latin lessons!"

But Miss Marjorie, as sure as eggs is eggs! Helga, Jenny, and a rigidum."

"The resulting duce was speedily brought to order. Mr. Magnus, who had held silent so far from abhorrence, now grasped him firmly by the collar.

"You're young scoundrel!" he exclaimed, "how dare you speak in that manner to Miss Marjorie?"

"She's my governess! I'll say what I like to her!" was the impudent reply.

"And she is my wife! And if you dare to say a word about her—to look at her insolently—to insult her in the smallest way—I'll give you such a flogging that you will never want to utter a lady's name as long as you live! Do you hear, sir?" and he shook him in the air as a terror shakes a pet.

"Oh, my! let me go! I'll call my father!" said the frightened boy.

"Hold your tongue, you whelp! Where's the key to the garden gate?"

"Go and get it—and don't let anyone see you! Be quick!"

Julius, thoroughly subdued, ran up the steps, and in a moment reappeared with the key.

"What are you going to do Charles?" inquired Miss Marjorie, wonderingly.

"To open the gate and hold out my hand to my wife."

"I am going to take you away with me."

"Impossible."

"I don't know what that word means!"

"But I have not even got on my bonnet."

"Never mind, your cloak will protect you, and we have not far to go. Into that house you shall never step again until the specimen of your treatment I have just seen."

"You have left, and it you don't feel obliged to me for getting them, you are a very ungrateful young woman. I must say."

"Oh, do, do, but how low in the world you have fallen!"

"I did not. This is the strangest part of the story. I came home to find my dear Miss Magnus's companion. A time when there was one voice that always spoke when it spoke her name; when there were eyes that brightened at her coming—I got that welcomed her as only privileged friends might. She thought of long pleasant evenings, spent with books and work and music, around a cottage fire. Of quiet walks and talks by summer moonlight, where she had been the dearest, the sweetest of the fathered here. From that wealth of love and tenderness that had been cast out into the cold world again and again, she had been cruelly deserted; she had been heartlessly deserted! Over and over again she said to herself, 'I am going to have you staying here now I am home again. You will pick up your traps to-night and be ready to go when I call for you to-morrow, which will be as soon after breakfast as I can get over from Binley. Do you hear?'"

"Yes, but I must give some notice."

"Not a bit of it. Are they kind to you?"

"Not very."

"Do you like them?"

"No, I don't mean to say that they have ill-used you?"

"Oh, no."

"I'll, in fact, you hate them?"

"I do."

"Poor darling! And you have had a year of this drudgery?"

"Never mind; it is all over now."

"But Julius!"

"But Julius! Tell me how you happened to find me here."

"Do you know that my uncle Cowley is here?"

"I have heard of it."

"I went straight to his house in Mecklenburg square, only to find empty. The housekeeper gave me the present address, and on reaching Binley, I found his name in everybody's mouth. If he had seen half the things and heard half the sounds which relate to him, he would be a lunatic or a man in the place of waiting till to-morrow to pay my visit. I thought I would try less than that. If there was any truth in these marvelous tales, and while I was walking along, thinking of ghosts and hobgoblins, I heard a little

IF every one in the world were healthy and happy what a glad day Easter would be. But this sun rises every Easter morning on a multitude of sick and afflicted. The Easter lilies gladden the hearts of the sick and well alike. But to the sick something more than the Easter lily is necessary to bring that hope and cheer which every one expects on Easter day. The well need no physician, but the sick need a remedy.

Nearly one-half the people in the United States are suffering from some form or phase of catarrhal ailment. These ailments take different forms at different seasons of the year. In the springtime catarrh assumes a systemic form, producing nervousness, lassitude and general languor.

Systemic catarrh deranges the digestion and through deranged digestion it impoverishes or contaminates the blood. Thus we have blood diseases and nervous derangements through systemic catarrh.

Peruna is a specific for these cases. No other remedy yet devised by the medical profession is able to successfully meet so many phases of spring ailments as Peruna.

Men and women everywhere are praising Peruna as follows:

- A First Class Tonic.
Wm. A. Collier, Assistant Postmaster U. S. N. Y., writes: "I have taken Peruna and recommend it to those needing a first-class tonic."
- A Great Tonic.
Mrs. M. C. Butler, Ex-U. S. Senator and Ex-Governor of South Carolina, writes from Edgefield, S. C.: "I have been using Peruna for a short period and feel very much relieved. It has been a wonderful medicine and besides a great tonic."
- A Good Tonic.
Mrs. D. W. Timbriar, Lynchburg, Va., writes: "There is no better spring tonic than Peruna, and I have used about all of them."
- A Grand Tonic.
Mrs. G. W. Chambers, Chief Justice of Samoa, says: "I have tried one bottle of Peruna and it truthfully says it is one of the best tonics I ever used."
- The Best of Tonics.
Hon. W. C. Chambers, Chief Justice of Samoa, says: "I have tried one bottle of Peruna and it truthfully says it is one of the best tonics I ever used."
- Builds Up the Entire System.
Miss Jennie Johnson, 3114 Lake Park Avenue, Chicago, Ill., is Vice President of Chicago Teachers' Federation. She writes: "Peruna restores the functions of nature, induces sleep and builds up the entire system."
- Makes Steady Nerves.
D. L. Wallace, Charter Member International Brotherhood of Women, Grove Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I often advise Peruna in cases of a worn-out system and a broken down constitution."
- For a Worn-out System.
Mrs. Catherine Telford, President of the Y. W. C. A., writes from Grove Avenue, Chicago, Ill.: "I often advise Peruna in cases of a worn-out system and a broken down constitution."

DEERING AT PARIS IN 1900

The Famous Chicago Harvester Company Received More Honors Than Ever Before at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

America may well feel proud of the Deering Harvester Company, which her citizens took in Paris Exposition of 1900. The Deering Harvester Company's exhibits were prepared with consummate skill and displayed in a manner not excelled by any other country. These exhibits were well merited. The Deering Harvester Company's exhibits were most complete and interesting. The Deering Harvester Company, of Chicago, America's foremost manufacturer of this line of goods, was accorded the position of honor, having contributed more to the advancement of the art of harvesting than any other manufacturer. It is not only the Deering Harvester Company's exhibits that are so well merited, but also the Deering Harvester Company's exhibits that are so well merited.

BY ELIZABETH M. GILMER.

(Copyright, 1901, by Elizabeth M. Gilmer.)

Handsome Jack Orion announced his engagement to Marjorie to his sister, she being a discreet woman, and lifted an eyebrow, and asked him if he was quite sure his choice was a wise one. The girl belonged to a very different world from Orion's, fashionable and aristocratic, and she knew his tastes and his tastes and his tastes. She was a girl of a different world from Orion's, fashionable and aristocratic, and she knew his tastes and his tastes and his tastes.

"You are a blooming angel!" she said to him in the depths of a winter hunting camp.

After he left will days fell on the little household. The old father became ill, and nurses and doctors stepped in. Orion's little bank account, and her check book were all that he had to make one dollar do the work of three. It had always been her custom to go on Sunday afternoons to the hospital to sing to the patients, and it chanced at the time, there was a little lad there in whom she took a great interest. He was a boy who had been injured by a horse, and he was lying in bed, and she was sitting by his side, and she was singing to him, and she was singing to him, and she was singing to him.

There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels bearing down on all the time, and pain in my groin and thighs; I cannot sleep, walk, or sit, and I believe I am diseased all over; no one ever suffered as I do."

A PRANK TRICK is the latest nut for Frank Hanna worshippers to crack.

It is claimed that "there is work for everyone" but if you will glance at the crowd watching the repairs on the King Milling company dam, you may be led to question the truth of the statement.

It is now believed that lack of a flood gate caused the break at the dam. The council is determined that the job shall be done right this time, even if it does take a little longer and cost a little more.

The "champion hard boiled egg eater," with a record of forty-one eggs, lives in Connecticut; but there are Michigan boys that beat him. Mules can out-kick and swim can out-swim men.

A physician is quoted by an exchange as saying that many and dangerous diseases are communicated by the kissing of children by dogs. The dog is all right in its place; but that place is not in sllobbering the baby's face.

Judge Jewell's fair and non-partisan conduct of the Probate office is a matter of most favorable comment, and that was the reason that Kent county newspapers, Democratic and Independent, do not oppose his re-election.

This village president and council have an arduous and thankless task before them. The work laid out before the breaking of the dam was enough to keep them busy but that calamity adds greatly to their burden.

The annual contest between the literary societies of the Lowell High school, so successfully inaugurated by Prof. J. F. Thomas, promises to be a valuable incentive to good work and the promoter is entitled to full credit.

Several weeks ago we were urging a reduction in the rate of assessment on village property. As things looked then, it was perfect feasible and would have been realized.

Take your bicycle to Stocking for repairs. Thousands have kidney trouble and don't know it. How to find out.

As far back as prior to the year 1000, we find people prophesying "the end of the world."

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is doing its work.

There are no better friends, neighbors or citizens. We know some of them and will swear by them; and while we do not "take much stock in" their peculiar notions, we say if it pleased them to predict calamities, let them prophesize.

THE Philippine islands have sent this government to date, $200,000,000 and 3,028 lives; and this does not take into account the loss of life and money by the Filipinos.

The supply of trunks holds out yet. A Chicago elevator has a machine for pinching the heads of school students to measure the amount of pain they can bear.

The ordinance published last week relative to billiard and pool rooms is all right. Section 6, providing that minors shall not be allowed to play at such games, is particularly commendable.

The Lullian Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. C. McIntire April 11 at 2 P. M.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords.

As a curiosity of the recent German census, it is recorded that the returns showed the village of Reutenburg contained 444 inhabitants, 222 being of the masculine and 222 of the feminine gender.

One of the striking things shown by the last census is the remarkable increase of tenant farming. The percentage of farms operated by an owner showed a considerable increase by the census of 1910.

Linwood has breeding, size, speed, substance and finish. He has served but few mares but he has shown himself a high-class sire. His colts are big, fine and stylish and show much natural speed. He is bred to produce speed and he has done so. Come and look at him and his standard and registered three-year-old son, John S. Wallace. They are square trotters and are the kind that show for themselves. Linwood's book for the season is now open and his service fee is $15.00 with usual return privilege.

GEO. W. PARKER.

There is a wonderful combination of producing blood shown in the tabulation of Linwood's pedigree. Nutwood, his sire, came from the house of Belmont. His dam was Miss Russell by Pilot Jr. and his second dam was Sally Russell by Boston. Nutwood is the leading sire of 2:30 speed as well as the leading sire of producing sons and brood mare sire of 2:15 race horses. La-Gracie, his dam, the dam of three in the list, was a producing daughter of Cuyler, sire of the dams of 57 performers, 3 of whom have records faster than 2:15. Nora Norman, his second dam, is the dam of two in the list—one producing a son and the second dam of 3 with records from 2:11 to 2:29 1/2 was a daughter of Blackwood 74, sire of the dams of 42 performers from 2:09 1/2 to 2:30.
