LAI D OFF LAI D UP LAI D AWAY

MR. WAGE EARNER:—

Did you ever think what might happen to you or your family if any of the above should find you with no flour in the bin and no money in the purse? Wouldn't it be wise for you to provide against that day, and to begin now?

Our Savings Department accommodates all who wish to lay aside small sums.

COMPLETE SUCCESS

WAS THE GOOD ROADS MEETING YESTERDAY.

Everything passed off Nicely and Everybody Pleased.

The first annual good roads meeting in Lowell yesterday should be labelled "a complete success." The crowd was big, orderly and good-natured. Every detail of the program previously advertised was carried out and other features were added; and when night came we heard of no visitor who did not feel that the business men of Lowell had played the part of a good host and had done it well.

Speakers Earle and Rogers arrived early and were met at the depot by a reception committee, Senator Weekes chairman.

The Ionia City band arrived on the first train from the east and began a serenade of the business houses which lasted till noon.

The morning game of ball was delayed by the late arrival of the Alto team, but the game was played in full in the presence of an enthusiastic crowd, resulting 9 to 11 in favor of Grattan.

In the morning the committee of arrangements, fearing the meat would not hold out, added a sheep to the roasting that had been going on ever since midnight, under the watchful care of James A. Lyon, Caterer Swetland of Grand Rapids came in the morning to assist in the barbecue. The King Milling company donated 300 loaves of bread made of Pure Gold flour and Messrs. Klump, Weyrick and Andrews carved the ox and sheep and with hard working assistants, passed out the bread and meat to the crowd. It is estimated that 3000 plates were filled.

The Grand Army Post kindly added its supply of tables to those of the village and these were quickly filled by the host of picnicers, while hundreds of people spread their cloths on the grass of Island park.

After dinner a free dance was given on the Island platform, continuing without disturbance of any kind, until dusk, when it was properly closed. This was a feature not advertised, being insisted upon by business men, contributors to the funds, who were determined there should be amusement for everybody all day long.

The Ionia band and the Saranac martial band summoned a crowd to the opera house, where splendid good-roads addresses were made by Dr. Nichols of Greenville, Civil Engineer Rogers of Port Huron and Senator Earle of Detroit, Dr. O. C. McDannell presiding.

We have not time to go into the details of the speech-making; but feel assured by the large and attentive audience, made up largely of highway commissioners, pathmasters, farmers and citizens interested in good roads, that good seed has been sown in fertile ground that shall yet bring forth many fold.

We will stop to insert one of Senator Earle's good stories:

Once upon a time in a community not named, the people determined to vote on the question of good roads. Some one suggested that the horses were as much interested as the people and that they should be allowed to vote. This was done and when the votes were counted it was discovered that "every horse had voted for good roads and every jackass had voted against them."

At Train's track the second ball game had already been started, attended by a crowd that filled the grand-stand and overflowed the field until the ball players had difficulty in keeping elbow room. The game was between Lowell and Saranac; and resulted in favor of the former, 12 to 7. Both games were played under supervision of Dr. Hodges. In each case, the winning team received $15 and the loser $10, balls being paid for by the business men.

This completed the program—everything free; but a merry-go-round under private ownership had contributed greatly to the amusement of the little ones—and some big ones too; and at night a dance was given, under private control, for the benefit of those who wished to pay for the privilege of tripping the light fantastic toe.

The weather all day was perfection; and our business men enjoyed a good day's trade in addition to the pleasure of meeting their customers in a social way. It is proposed to perpetuate the meeting in annual gatherings of a similar kind.

One matter for congratulation, was the freedom from drunkenness and rowdiness noticed by all.

Nearly 1000 souvenir badges were furnished at a considerable expense and given away to our guests, as a memento of a pleasant day in Lowell; as an invitation to be with us next year; and above all as a constant reminder of the important subject of GOOD ROADS.

CUT THIS OUT.

FREDA ECKER RUN OVER

By Street Railway Supply Wagon in Grand Rapids.

Freda, eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ecker, of this village, was run over by the street railway repair wagon in Grand Rapids Monday evening and received dangerous injuries.

She was conveyed to the home of her uncle, R. A. Chain, 378 Straight street, and a physician summoned. Mr. and Mrs. Ecker were notified and took the first train to the bedside of their child. The next day Dr. McDannell was sent for in consultation and the child was removed to a hospital.

It was greatly feared that the injuries would result fatally; but our latest information before going to press is that there is hope for the little girl's recovery.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Was Mrs. Emily Houser this Morning.

Mrs. Emily Houser, of this village, was found dead in her bed this morning, aged 65 years.

Deceased was a sufferer from cancer and had but recently returned from a nine week's treatment at a hospital where she endured surgical operations. Her death was not unexpected but she had been attended at intervals during the night and her son, D. A. Houser, left for his farm at 8 o'clock, without knowing of death, it having been the policy of her attendants not to disturb her in the morning, as that was when she rested best.

Coroner Hicks was called, but decided it was unnecessary to call a jury.

The Picnic is Over and now we want to talk business to you. If we could have a face to face talk with you we could easily convince you that it would be to your interest to trade with us. We figure that our years of experience in the leather business is worth something to you, yet it does not cost you anything. On the contrary saves you money. We have the largest stock of

for you to select from that we ever carried since we have been in the business. We have an extra large stock of Ladies' and Gent's Patent and Enamel Leathers up-to-date in style, finish and wear at prices way below city prices. The reason we know this is because people who live in the city buy them of us every week because they say they buy the same shoe of us cheaper than they can at home. We invite you all to examine the goods, ask the prices, and then we think we can do business with you.
