CUT HIS THROAT

LEWIS W. CHATTERTON OF NEAR MCCORDS COMMITS SUICIDE.

Had Been Sick For Some Time With a Fever.

When Alfred Warner of Bowne township came to Grand Rapids yesterday morning for the purpose of petitioning the probate court to appoint a general administrator of the estate of Lewis W. Chatterton, deceased, the first news of Chatterton's tragic death reached this city. He committed suicide last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor.

Chatterton was only 28 years of age, and owned a farm near McCords. He was a married man and leaves, besides his young widow, two little girls, aged, respectively, 3 years and 1 year. A younger brother lived with him and was present when the tragedy resulting in his death took place.

Chatterton had been sick for some time with some kind of malarial fever, and after his partial recovery seemed for several days despondent and far from his natural self. His brother kept close watch of him, fearing he would try to take his own life. Friday afternoon Chatterton got out his shaving materials, as if making preparations to shave. He then suddenly and without warning stepped to a mirror and drew the razor blade swiftly across his throat from ear to ear. The brother sprang forward to prevent him, but Chatterton kept him off by stabbing at him with the open razor. Chatterton also made several other futile efforts to cut himself again, and then throwing the razor aside stepped through the open door and started across the road. About six rods from the house he dropped dead. An inquest was held before a justice of the peace and the funeral was held Sunday.

In behalf of the widow, and also by right of being a creditor of the estate, which is valued at about $1,100, Mr. Warner asked the probate court to appoint the widow's father, William J. Anteliff of Belding, administrator. A hearing on the petition was set for November 7, and in view of the fact that there are some unharvested crops on the farm to be attended to at once, Mr. Anteliff was appointed special administrator in the meantime and bonds were filed and letters issued yesterday. Appraisers' warrants issued to John E. Lynde and Cyrus W. Warner.—[Grand Rapids Herald, Oct. 7.]

A Fine New Bakery Oven.

Increasing business has impelled Weldon Smith to replace his by no means old oven with a brand new one right from the factory at Chicago. It is of the portable variety, with all the latest improvements, with three separate baking apartments, and nearly double the capacity of the oven replaced; and one bushel of coke does for all day.

It is an expensive piece of furniture and Weldon wants all his patrons to see it. Call at the bakery and he will be pleased to exhibit his new pride.

Pigs and brood sow for sale.

Saranac has Merry Church War in Full Swing.

Saranac, Mich., Oct. 7.—Things have been waxing warm in church circles here for the past six months, owing to dissatisfaction of a large portion of the members of the Methodist Episcopal church with their minister, Rev. Charles Ottan. The trouble started over certain actions and sayings of Mr. Ottan, who is an Englishman by birth, and in the course of time it was found found advisable to call in the assistance of Presiding Elder Graham of Grand Rapids, who succeeded in patching up the differences with the understanding that Mr. Ottan be permitted to remain at his charge until the conference convened at Traverse City. Then came the conference and to the surprise of the anti Mr. Ottan was again assigned to the pulpit at Saranac.

The Sunday following his return he went to his church as usual and was not a little surprised to find the door securely fastened and his admittance denied and thus no services were held in the church that day. A similar situation presented itself last Sunday, but Mr. Ottan, not to be outdone, held services in his residence. Of late funeral services have been conducted in the church, but the pulpit has been graced by some other minister. Both factions have taken letters of withdrawal from the church. The anti control the church organization.

A Reception.

The reception Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. J. Maynard, given in honor of Mrs. M. C. Barber of Houston, Texas, was a very happy affair. The music, solos, duets and choruses were enjoyed by all.

Decorations were red and white asters. Refreshments, fruit. Old friends met, clasped hands once more and parted. Such bright spots in life are like oases in the desert.—[Com.]
