OLD CENTRAL SCHOOL BUILDING IN FINE REPAIR

Built in 1860, Has Been Well Cared For and is Now in Better Condition Than Ever Before.

Lowell Central School.

The accompanying picture of the Lowell Central School is from a photograph taken last August, when both the building and the grounds were looking better than ever before under the care of Janitor Chauncey Townsend, who during the summer, has kept the yard in front like a park, green and velvety, and bright with flowers. The original building was erected in 1860, the little red schoolhouse previously used having become too small for the increasing attendance. Since then several wings have been added at various times, as the growing enrollment required, and at present it has in the first floor three class rooms, and in the second, one large session room and two recitation departments, besides two large halls. During the past two or three years a number of repairs and improvements have been made, such as the building of a new fire-escape, painting, papering and re-seating inside, the fitting-up of a laboratory, re-roofing and repainting outside. The lighting by electricity, the addition of new reference books and several other new conveniences, due in part to the interest taken by Supt. J. F. Thomas, have added much to the comfort of the pupils. A spacious playground behind the schoolhouse has been provided by the recent purchase of the lot running back to Flat river.

GIVE VOLUNTARY AID

To the Building of The Methodist Parsonage.

The new Methodist parsonage is launched; work has commenced. The Pastor, Rev. Russell H. Bready is delighted with the generosity of the Lowell people. $1248 have been subscribed by volunteer pledges, the Pastor not having personally solicited a subscription. This is unusual. The money is being raised on the stock plan. Each share of 12.00, being paid in three annual payments of $4.00, each subscriber carrying his own interest. The Pastor is so well pleased with the way the people are taking the stock, that he has decided not to canvass for subscriptions for another week, so that everybody may have the honor of going on the volunteer list. You can reach him by phone No. 96. Another volunteer list will be published next week. The following persons have taken stock without personal solicitation:

Harvey J. Coons	A. L. Coons
A. L. Coons, Jr.	Frank Coons
J. B. Yeiter	Ladies Aid Society
Russell H. Bready	F. M. Johnson
F. W. Hinyan	Mrs. Sandell
Isaac Joseph	F. B. Oliver
E. F. Denny	Alazada Mason
Mrs. C. Smith	Earl Thomas
Clara Lawrence	Joe Anderson
J. Leahy	Earl McNaughton
E. R. Collar	Mrs. Hardy
Mrs. Clark	S. P. Hicks
D. E. Pratt	F. N. White
W. A. Watts	Dr. Anderson
Epworth League	D. G. Mange
Ethel Thomas	Emma Boston
W. R. Andrews	M. J. Painter
M. S. Cogwell	A. W. Weekes
Miss Ethel Jay	Miss Ellen Babcock

This represents 104 shares. The Pastor desires to sell two hundred, so that the trustees will have sufficient funds to paint the church, and make the whole property a credit to the village. This means to sell 96 more shares.

FORD-POTRUFF WEDDING

Celebrated in Lowell Last Evening at Home of Mrs. Pardee.

Miss Helen Louise Ford and C. Edwin Potruff were married last evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. Pardee, in this village. Rev. J. W. Duffy of Freeport performed the ceremony at seven o'clock, in the presence of twenty-five of the immediate relatives and friends. Miss Ella Ford, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Lester Combs as groomsman. Little Irma Ford, another sister, carried the ring in a rose. The bridal party stood in a bay window heavily draped with white bunting and smilax. The bride was gowned in white pol de sole, and carried bride roses and the bridesmaid wore a dress of blue silk mull, and carried white carnations. The prevailing colors in the dining-room were red and white, the table being beautifully decorated with white roses and carnations, and with red and white ribbons which were draped from the chandelier above to each corner of the table. Immediately after the wedding ceremony a dainty two-course supper was served, Weldon Smith catering. Several hours were spent very pleasantly by the company, the bride and groom being the victims of much enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. Potruff will make their home with Mrs. Pardee, in Lowell. Following were the guests from outside: Mrs. N. Ford and three children and George Needham of Logan; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Ford, Cascade; Mr. and Mrs. Potruff, one daughter and two sons from Vergennes; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Condon, Moseley; Miss Gertrude Potruff and Sprague Keene from Grand Rapids.

EIGHT PERSONS DIE IN TORNADO

Thirty-five Suffer Injury When Storm Strikes Soreto in Bond County, Ill.

BUILDINGS ARE BLOWN AWAY

Forty houses are carried off their foundations and reduced to splinters—Path of the cyclone is marked by Mass of Debris.

Greenville, Ill. dispatch: Eight persons were killed Tuesday night in a tornado which struck Soreto, in the northwestern part of Bond county, thirty-five were injured and of these three will die. The village was practically wrecked, at least forty houses being carried into the air and reduced to stumps. A complete swath was cut through the town, everything in the path of the tornado being either crushed or blown away.

NEEDS MONEY TO GET HOME

Man Who Used Bogus Subscription Came to Grief.

Joseph Lavigne, under the assumed name of G. W. Bush, purporting to be a representative of a fashion magazine, canvassed the town of Baldwin recently for subscriptions, offering an inducement of ladies' tailored shirts as premiums, a skirt to accompany each subscription. He asked 50 cents down, the remaining 50 cents to be paid on delivery of the skirt.

Takes Aimless Trip

Not knowing why the journey was undertaken, having no business there and knowing no one in that locality, a man from Junonia, Ohio, arrived in Saginaw from Detroit recently. The first thing he did was to ask where he was. He left at home for no place in particular and without telling his people of his intention.

Small Tornado in Ramsey

Ramsey, Ill. special: A small tornado here Tuesday night wrought a summer of mischief and did general damage. The storm was followed by the heaviest downpour of rain ever seen here. Nobody was seriously injured.

Train wrecked into creek

St. Louis, Mo. dispatch: The storm that wrecked Soreto struck on the north of a cloudburst and St. Louis suffered the fury of a terrific cloudburst. Several trams are believed to have perished.
