JOHN PATTON.

Ex-Senator Dies of Heart Disease at Grand Rapids.

Hon John Patton, former U. S. senator, died Friday in his residence, Grand Rapids, from organic heart disease, with which he had long suffered. Mr. Patton left the city about a month ago for Acorn, N. C., where he seemed to be improving, and as the season advanced it was thought safe for him toreturn home. On the return trip, however, he took a severe cold, which settled at the seat of the disease, and was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Patton was born in Curwenshaving allowed a minor in his place. ville, Pa., October 30, 1850. He was graduated from Yale in 1875 and from the Columbia law college in 1877. He first engaged in the law practice in Grand Rapids, where he had since been a continuous resident. In 1894, upon the death of Senator Stockbridge, he was appointed United States: senator by Gov, Rich.

From Our Point of View

Those manufacturers who declared themselves as favoring the presidential candidacy of Speaker Cannon rather than that of Secretary Taft, good index to the next national campaign. If the selfish interests of the protected corporations are always to control our conventions and elections there never will be a downward revision of the tariff. The greed of the once "infant" industries, now grown t) grasping giants, will never be sati fied; the generosity of the people is 1 - be repaid in extortion, oppression and fraud. The tariff question ought t , be settled outside of partisan polities, as the welfare of all the people is of greater importance than the fortune of any party. The present situation is hopeful in that a powerful faction of the dominant party. including the President and his followers, is in favor of a moderate revision of the tariff law to meet changed conditions.

REV A. W. WISHART, the new pastor of the Fountain Stree, Baptist church in a strong plea for church unity, expressed the belief that Christians and church members should be allowed to think for themselves and that heresy trials should stop. He inquires: "Is Dr. Crapsey a Christian? Is President Briggs a Christian? If so, why are they put out of the church? Let them remain in the church and think. The church must stop this credal conformity." There's a man who dares to tell the plain truth. No other thing, in our humble judgment, has so handicapped the Christian church as the heresy-hunting spirit, which from time immemorial has served notice upon seekers of the higher life, that in accepting church membership one must surrender his right to reason. Thank God, a betterday is dawning Liberty is enlightening the world.

A WRITER in the Detroit News throws some light on the "harmony" that exists between President Roosevelt and Vice President Fairbanks. He avers that after the beef trust row, when the resulting bill was before the Senate, the Vice President in opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's plan to have the beef trust pay the $3,000,-000 a year for government inspection succeeded in having the burden placed upon the United States treasury. It is plain to be seen that the next Republican national convention will be a hot one.

In the world of music we find many instances of boys giving an early indication of a remarkable career. Handel and Mozart each showed a liking for music when young in years, and soon made their mark. Handel began composing a church service for voices and instruments when only nine years old, and before he was 15 he had composed three operas. Mozart began the piano at three, and at seven he taught himself the violin. At nine years of age he visited Engtand, and on his departure he gave a farewell concert, of which all the symphonies were composed by him-

SQUAW A NEAT HOUSEKEEPER.

Outside the bedsteads and springs will be used as chicken roosts. But the squaw doesn't let her housekeeping shortcomings worry her. When she puts on an elk-tooth robe, valued at anything from $1,000 to $3,000, and rides to the fair or to the agency on a Sunday astride a beaded saddle, she is a picture of contentment that any of her white sisters might envy.

Birthplace Unappreciative.

Having made $5,000,000 in 40 years in the United States, Abraham Reb many returned to his native village of Spiez, Switzerland, intending to stay there the remainder of his days. But when a stained glass window, in which he took pride, was stolen one night, he sold his houses and contents and returned to America.

A Chance for a Bargain. An Irishman who had begun to practice photography went into a shop to purchase a small bottle in which to mix some of his solutions. Seeing one he wanted, he asked the chemist how much it would be. "Well," said the chemist, "it will be twopence as it is, but if you want anything in it, I won't charge you for the bottle." "Then," said Pat, "put a cork in it."

A Strong Appeal.

Almost modern is the Persian story of the man whose disagreeable voice in reciting his prayers in the mosque was annoying to everyone. One day some one asked him how much he was pa'd for reciting. "Paid!" he replied. "I am not paid. I recite for the sake of Allah!" "Then," replied the other, "for Allah's sake don't!"

Devices of Defense.

What could be more perfect do fense than the device of the moorhen? She sinks herself in the water beneath an overhanging root or bank, leaving only her bill in sight. And that looks like a fallen leaf. You may stand within six feet of her and she will not move, so sure is she that her ruse will succeed.-London Evening Standard.

Color Blindness Among Girls. An intelligent physician has discovered that color blindness is very rare among girls, though it is common among boys. From this fact he draws color blindness is due to a want of early education in discriminating colors. Girls are taught to become familiar with every shade of colors, while boys receive no instruction whatever on the subject. Hence, boys rarely show.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, sepalike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs disthe whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerv-ine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

CAN BE CURED

Both internal and external piles quickly yield to our "special method" of treat-ment which is known to but a few Physicians of wide research and experience in the treatment of Piles or Hemorrhoids. Internal Piles consist of a tuft of capillaries, which bleed profusely when the patient is constipated.

External Piles are nothing more or less than tags of protruding skin, easily inflamed, very painful, and itch intensely at times. Piles are the result of an inactive liver, or constipation, sometimes both.

W. D. S. Pills remove the primary cause by regulating the liver and bowels and thereby assist Wonderful Dream Salve in reducing the congestion and soreness. Wonderful Dream Salve draws out all the inflammation,

She was pretty, so far as a country girl of her station could be pretty, and, judging from an ambrotype in the possession of my grandchildren taken at that time, I was a fine looking young man. I resolved to work my way into her good graces and kept up a perpetual look of admiration for the purpose. I told her that, though a Yankee, I had no reason to do her any harm and if she would give me a snack I would consider myself eternally obliged.

She gradually gained confidence and set something to eat before me. We got on together so well that when I proposed to depart she contrived excuses to detain me. It did not occur to me that there was any purpose in this except to enjoy my compony. I have seen country girls fall in love with a likely young fellow in a few hours, and the girl seemed to be doing the same

There was no one in the house except the girl and an old woman who kept herself in one of the rooms. The girl held me till just before dark. Then I was about to pull away from her, but she said if I would wait till she could find the cow she would fill my canteen with fresh milk. She took a pail and went away. I waited nearly half an hour and was about to leave without a goodby or the milk when I heard a man's voice order me to throw up my hands. The girl was standing by, different expressions flitting across her face. At times she seemed proud of what she had done, then very sorry for it. She asked the officer how a spy was treated, and when he said "Hanged!" she turned white as a sheet. The Confederates put a lariat around my neck and, mounting their horses, started me off at a run on foot before them. Men who have gone unscathed through scores of engagements have felt the sudden premonition on the eve of a battle and made ready for death, never doubting that the day was to be their last on earth. Comrades to whom these premonitions are acknowledged sometimes try to convince the man so warned that he is mistaken, but in their hearts they believe that the warning

"I would like you to dlg my grave beside Bishop's, but please dig it with more regularity than his crooked lines indicate. I am the son of a sexton and have helped to dig many."

Love dropped the spade and sat down, whereupon Private Peter G. Ploof, a boy of twenty, picked up the spade, saying:

"If I fall, dig my grave here beside Love's, and do it as we dig graves at home Please follow the lines I make for you."

The young soldier drew on the ground an outline of the coffin in use at that time, widening at the shoulders and tapering to the head and feet. He then sat down, the soldiers resumed their upon soldiers and bravery in actual fighting. In all the world there is but one other medal conferred for just the same sort of gallantry and for no other kind of service. That is the Victoria Cross of Great Britain. France's Cross of the Legion of Honor, Germany's Iron Cross and Russia's Cross of St. George are usually conferred for medal of honor can be earned in no other way.

In this country, as a rule, we do not make much ado over the medal of honor. When the Victoria Cross is conferred, there is much glitter and gold lace, ceremony and so forth. Now and then the president of the United States personally pins the medal upon the breast of a hero, but more often the cherished little bronze badge is sent through the mails, and the recipient gets a ten line notice in his local newspaper. Nevertheless, this is the very highest honor that can be bestowed by the government of the United States upon one of its defenders by land or

In the conferring of this medal there is no distinction of rank. The humblest private soldier and the epauleted major general may receive medals struck from the same die. Thus in the aristocracy of military courage all men are equal. It is an aristocracy, for the medal of honor "set" is very exclusive, Approximately 2,500,000 men fought for the United States during the civil war, and less than 2,000 of them received the medal of honor. Congress voted nearly half of this number to the members of an entire regiment at one sitting. Right on the eve of Gettysburg, that pivotal battle of the war, the term of service of the Twenty-seventh Maine volunteer infantry expired. To a man the brave fellows volunteered to stay in the army and go into that fight. Every survivor received the medal. Less than twenty medals have been conferred upon soldiers and sailors who fought in the Spanish-American war and perhaps not so many upon heroes of the Philippine service.

Many a medal of honor man has held this official tribute to his bravery for years and years, all unknown to his townspeople. Some of our heroes are too modest to wear their medals even when they march with their army post on Memorial day. But until three years ago the wearing of the medal of honor would not have disclosed to the general public the fact that the veteran possessed it, for unfortunately the original form of the medal was so nearly like that of the Grand Army badge that only by the closest inspection could the two be distinguished. General John A. Logan, founder of the G. A. R., recommended for the emblem of that body a design which, though at the time he was unaware of it, was almost a duplicate of the medal of honor. This design was adopted

The original medal of honor was created by act of congress in 1862, the idea being suggested by General E. D. Townsend, adjutant general of the army during the war. General George L. Gillespie, assistant to the chief of staff of the army, was the designer of the new medal. It is of bronze, suspended from a hidden bar of the same metal by a blue silk ribbon stamped with thirteen white stars. The pendent medal includes a five pointed star, above which are a bar containing the distinguished gallantry in actual bat- word "Valor" and an eagle with wings tle, but not always. The American outspread. A wreath of laurel is around the five points of the star. The star is suspended from the bar. The ribbon is two inches wide, the eagle's wings from tip to tip covering its width. The o'd medal has a bronze star of the same mold, but the ribbon is, a small American flag, beneath which is an eagle, with outspread wings, sitting upon two crossed cannon, with an inverted pyramid of cannon balls beneath. This is the army medal. The navy medal is suspended from the ribbon by an anchor instead of an eagle. On the back of the medal are inscribed the name of the hero and a few words regarding the deed of bravery for which the token is conferred.

A few years ago an order called the Medal of Houor Legion was organized, which meets annually. Members of this legion are of two classes, actual holders of the medal and descendants of holders. The legion has about 500 members of the first class.

Volumes would be required to tell the story of each daring deed for which congress has voted a medal. For the present purpose mention may be made of a few medal of honor men who have reached high rank. One of these is Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles. As colonel of the Sixty-first New York volunteers Miles commanded a line of skirmishers against a strong force at Chancellorsville. To encourage his men Miles several times leaped upon an eminence, calling to his followers to hold their ground. In this exposed position the young colonel was finally wounded seriously. He received the medal for that particular deed.

The late General William R. Shafter, who commanded the United States army in Cuba at the Santiago battles, climbed a tree during the civil war and won his medal. General Shafter was much leaner and more active then than he was at the time of the Spanish trouble, when he could not have climbed a tree to save his life. Shafter was wounded in one leg at the battle of Fair Oaks. Seeing a surgeon approaching, he knew that he would be picked up and sent to the rear. He managed to climb a tree, concealing himself in the foliage until the surgeon passed by. Then he climbed down and fought all day on his wounded leg.

Arthur MacArthur, who, like Miles, had been lieutenant general of the army, earned his medal at Gettysburg. He was a company officer in a Wisconsin regiment. On the fierce charge up Missionary Ridge the regimental color bearers were picked off one by one. MacArthur took the colors from the men. Three years ago, in order to hands of a wounded sergeant and bore rules the new medal was to be given General J. Franklin Bell, the present to any holder of the old medal upon chief of staff of the army, won his his turning in the old one. The Only Hope to Rheumatic Sufferers is Uric-O Treatment.

If rheumatism continues to spread as it has in the past few years, it would seem as though we would before long become a nation of cripples. The terrible destructiveness of this disease is apparent on every side of us. Almost nine out of ten of the cripples one meets had their affliction brought of by Rheumatism. How many thousands more there are that are hopelessly bed-ridden and whom we never see. Rheumatism, from the very nature of the disease, can never cure itself and if neglected is bound to grow worse rather than better. If you ever have any twinges of Rheumatism go to your druggist and get a bottle of Uric-O, the wonderful new Rheumatic Specific. It will cure you and it is the only treatment in the world that will cure you permanently and thoroughly. Uric-O cures by its direct action on the muscles, blood and kidneys. It seeks out the polsono us Uric and Rheumatic Acid and drives it from the system Wm. Bovee was in Fallasburg and it is only a treatment of such a nature that will ever cure Rheumatism. All Misfortune.

"Pop." said Farmer Korntop's little boy, "what does it mean when you say 'misfortunes never come singly?' " "Wal," replied Farmer Korntop, "thet's just about the truth. First comes a wet spell that'll spile the tomatoes an' then comes a dry spell that epiles everything else."

"But why don't you care to take children?" asked the lady who was hunting for a flat. "Because they take up too much room in the elevator," grumbled the despotical janitor. "Well, my little boy won't use the elevator. Will that satisfy you?" "No; if he don't use the elevator he will scratch up the steps every time he comes down." "But he won't come down the steps." "What? He won't come down the steps?" "No; he will slide down the banisters."

MADE STRONG AND ENERGETIC BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

General Breakdown Caused by Deficient Blood Quickly Corrected by This Tonic Remedy.

A feeling of general weakness, poor appetite, loss of breath after the slightest exercise and broken sleep are some of the symptoms of general debility. You may think that they have no relation to each other and that you will worry along, hoping all the time to feel better soon. This is a mistake, for every one of the symptoms is caused by bad blood, which must be made pure and new before health will be restored again. A tonic treatment is necessary and for this

POINTS ON IRONING LACE.

Well to Remember If You Desire the Best Results.

One of the points to remember when ironing lace is to iron it well to the width, so that the whole design of the lace will show clear and distinct and look as near like the new material as

To do this the lace must be carefully pulled to the width and then placed on the table wrong side up and ironed along the straight edge, holding the lace up in front of the iron so that the toe of the iron may press the lace to the width and also keep the sel-

There was so much ceremony connected with a church cornerstone laying in New York city a few weeks ago that the moving picture machine man felt warranted to take a couple of miles of photographs.

These pictures proved to be very good, and large crowds were delighted with the exact reproduction of the dedicatory exercises.

"I like the moving pictures better than I did the original service," confessed a prominent member of the congregation.

"You do," gasped a devout elder. I'm surely pained to hear you say so. Why should you prefer the pictures?" "Because the picture man," answered the prominent member, pleasantly, "cut out all the sermons."

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance. How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? The cause may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills. Miss J. F. Walsh, of 328 W. 36th St., New York City, writes:-"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well." Lydia E.
