GREAT GUNS HOW THE WIND BLEW

ALTO FARMERS' BARN BLOWN TO PIECES, ORCHARDS RUINED.

Last Thursday's Gale Stirred Things up in South Boston and East Lowell Too.

The windstorm that visited Lowell with a few gentle caresses last Thursday evening, bore down upon our neighbors a few miles south with all the fury of a tornado.

In the vicinity of Alto, the barns of John Braman, John Chatterdon, Abe Cudney and Will Hagan were blown to pieces and scattered over a wide territory, and a great amount of lesser damage done to many others. Albert Scott's barn was torn down and his barn badly wrecked.

Lincoln Dygert's, John Chatterdon's, Will Hagan's, Andrew Watson's and Geo. Yeiter's windmills were blown down and their apple orchards badly damaged. All of Albert Scott's apple orchard excepting two trees was destroyed; and almost every orchard in the vicinity lost some trees.

Alto village fortunately escaped lightly, four chimneys blown down being the principal items.

South Boston Report.

Our Pratt Lake scribe reports that the big storm was about all the "doins" in that neighborhood during the past week, most everybody being busy picking up stray belongings and checking up damages.

E. W. English's house was considerably damaged by lightning, roof, siding and cornice, the electric current running down an eave-trough. The insurance adjusters had just settled with Mr. English for damage suffered by him some time ago.

The wind blew roof boards, shingles and cornice off of P. C. Freeman's barn; and about 150 trees were uprooted in Chris Farhani's woods.

Ward B. Miller's 100-foot basement barn was carried off from the basement. This was built new about seven years ago.

The roof was taken off from barn on the old "Lusk" farm, now owned by a Mr. Johnson.

Two large pine trees near the house and a number of apple trees were blown over in the Clarence Farnham place. In the cemetery two large pine trees went down breaking the Jordan monument and tipping over the Dickey monument.

"And many other articles too numerous to mention."

East Lowell Too.

Our East Lowell scribe wants it understood that Alto and Pratt Lake aren't the whole works; there was high jinks there too. This is her report.

This vicinity was pretty well shaken up by the cyclone that passed through here last Thursday evening about 9:30. Windows were blown out for John Carey and an out building blown down. H. Coles had a large window blown in, Milford Lovely had a window blown in and a windmill blown down. Outbuildings were blown over for Chan. Hardy and Carl Story. A large pine tree on Ora Godfrey's place was taken up by the roots and the west side of his wood house was blown in. J. N. Hubbel's barn was entirely demolished, but the stock being in the basement were not hurt. We do not care to witness another such a storm.

Quite a Contrast.

Remember the kind of weather we were having last week and then read this written by Ola M. Johnson from Sapulpa, Okla., Thursday, April 29:

"The heat is awful today. I don't believe I could stand it here all summer. We had an electric fan going this afternoon trying to keep cool the last of April—think of it!"

Dancing Party.

The girls of the High school Basket Ball team numbering about sixteen entertained with an informal dancing party to their gentlemen friends Friday evening.

The hall was decorated in cut flowers, palms and pennants. Two attractive little girls Misses Hazel Stocking and Blanche Perry dispensed refreshing punch and wafers. Mrs. Bagdley furnished music for the dancers.

The Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette railroads had a large gang of men at work on their tracks near Jonia, building sand-bag embankments in an effort to keep the high water from washing out the roadbed.

TWO NEW FACES.

Members of Hardware Firm of Stowell & Ford, Lowell.

This introduction to LEDGER readers of recent additions to the ranks of Lowell business men should have been made some time ago; but as an act of courtesy and good will it may be accepted now as "better late than never."

WILLIAM L. STOWELL.

The senior partner was born in Jackson county in 1863. After completing his education he followed farming until 26 years of age. He was fifteen years in the retail business in Jackson and Livingston counties, four years in elevator at Amuth and Mason, Mich., and again engaged in the retail trade as agent for the Page Fence company at Mason, in which he continued until coming to Lowell last October.

ROWLAND T. FORD.

The junior partner was born in Jackson county in 1879. He went to school and worked on the home farm until 16; then after teaching district school for three years took a college course at Ypsilanti. He began his business career in the office of a Detroit wholesale house, working there for two years, when he changed to the wholesale manufacturing department. The company moving from Detroit to Rochester, N. Y., took Mr. Ford with them, where he worked for five years until coming to Lowell last October.

Stowell and Ford bought the hardware business of the late Chas. M. Edelmann in the new Negonce block, and on the site of the old Boylan hardware store.

The partners are also brothers-in-law and men of family. Mr. Stowell bought the commodious Francis King residence and both families occupy it.

Stowell & Ford are pleasant fellows to meet, square to deal with and are building up a good business. Here's "good luck" to them.

MRS. FRANK E. BROWN.

Died at Her Grand Rapids Home, Well Known in Lowell.

Mrs. Frank E. Brown died of paralysis at her home at Elmwood on the West Leonard street road Friday night. Mrs. Brown is survived by her husband, two sons, Clarence and Wilbur Brown, and one grandchild, Helen Estelle; also two sisters, Mrs. O. C. McDannell of Lowell, and Mrs. J. C. Oliver of this city; and two nieces, Mrs. George Arthur Brown of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Geo. M. Winegar of Grand Rapids.

Funeral services were held at the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Interment in Greenwood cemetery.—[Herald.]

Mrs. Brown has often visited in Lowell and was quite well known here and the family have the sympathy of all Lowell friends.

The auction sale of Mrs. Frank Gott advertised for Saturday, May 1, was postponed on account of the weather to Saturday, May 8. See adv. in this paper.

YEITER-COLBY.

Lowell and Bowne Young People United in Marriage.

On Wednesday April 28th, about thirty of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Colby in West Lowell to witness the marriage of their daughter Miss Pearl Colby to Mr. Floyd Yeiter of West Lowell.

At two o'clock the strains of a wedding march, played by Miss Mae Yeiter sister of the groom, sounded through the rooms. The bridal couple entered and took their places beneath an archway of green decorated with daisies, where with the ring service they took the vows which made them one. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. P. Richtmayer a former pastor.

Following the congratulations was a delightful four-course luncheon under the efficient management of Mrs. Martha Colby, Mrs. Inez Colby and Miss Mae Yeiter.

The bride was tastefully gowned in white and carried roses, and the groom wore a suit of dark material.

Immediately on their return from their bridal trip to Detroit, they will begin housekeeping in West Lowell. The best wishes of a host of friends will accompany them to their new home.

SCHOOL NOTES

Furnished by E. J. Martin, Superintendent of Schools.

Monthly report cards were sent out last Wednesday.

The annual examination of rural pupils from the eighth grade is being held at the central building yesterday and today.

A new opportunity for the boys and girls from the rural schools has been provided by our state legislature. It is in the shape of a new law which provides that when boys and girls complete the eighth grade in any district and wish to attend a high school the parents may so notify the district board and upon such notice being given previous to the fourth Monday in June said district must pay the tuition of said pupils to an amount not exceeding twenty dollars to one of three nearby high schools.

Parents and district officers would do well to become familiar with this new law.

The spelling contests which were held last Friday afternoon in the Grammar department were the occasions of much interest and enthusiasm.

In the contest between grades five and six the pupils of the fifth grade were the victors by a small margin; while in the contest between grades seven and eight the seventh grade won by a good lead.

Carl Johnson of the eighth grade, made an heroic effort to save his class from defeat; but after holding the floor alone for twenty minutes after all members of his grade were down, the word goddess tripped him and left at least a dozen of the seventh grade yet on the floor.

All four grades have been planning and working for this contest for a month and a close study of three hundred words had been made.

The famous Horace K. Turner Art Exhibit from Boston, consisting of two hundred reproductions of the best paintings from the most famous artists, has been secured and will be here on exhibition in connection with the Lowell schools during the week of the 18 to 22 of the present month.

It is reported that a room down town will be secured to make it more convenient for the public.

The object of the exhibit is for the purpose of bringing a large number of pictures, which are copies of masterpieces, within reach of our young people so they may see and study them, also to enable the people of the community to visit the art gallery and see the exhibit.

We also hope to make something above expenses from the exhibit that will enable us to secure some fine pictures for our schoolrooms. We trust the entire population of our village and surrounding country will come to see the collection of pictures.

Remember there will be two hundred, and the hanging space alone will occupy 1400 square feet of space.

Among the names of 850 students who will graduate from the University of Michigan are Joseph E. Kelly of Lowell in the engineering class and George M. Gould of Saranac in the law class.

NEW BROTHERHOOD

Organized by Friends of the Congregational Church.

Pastor W. D. Ogg makes the following report:

A work among men of an educational character has been in contemplation for some time. A few conferences have been held with some of the influential men, and after due consideration, an organization was effected Friday evening April 30, when the following name and object of the organization were adopted.

The purpose of the organization is to be educational along religious, national and civic lines including such other objects as may be of general interest to the members as citizens; and for the further purpose of promoting a concerted effort toward recognizing the Congregational church as a very necessary and important organization that stands for the general good of all; it being understood that this local organization is identified with the national organization of the Congregational Brotherhood.

The following officers were elected:

President, D. G. Look;
Vice President, C. E. Wood;
Secretary, C. Townsend;
Treasurer, Harold Hiler.

Monthly social and educational meetings are to be held, where papers previously prepared will be given, followed by discussion. Anyone desiring membership in this Brotherhood may apply for same to any of the officers or members. Next meeting Friday evening, May 7, at the Maccabee hall, time 7:30.

Out of this organization a class in applied Christianity will be formed to meet at the church for one hour every Sunday, membership in this class being purely voluntary on the part of the members of the brotherhood.

KENT PIONEER RESTS

Mrs. Louisa F. Barcis, a Former Resident of Lowell.

Departed this life May 3, 1909. Mrs. Louisa F. Barcis, aged 84 years. The passing away of Mrs. Barcis leaves a void not easily filled.

She was born in Wurtenburg, Germany, coming to this country in 1855 to the town of Lowell where she and her husband, who preceded her twenty years ago, lived.

Mr. and Mrs. Barcis came here with their family consisting of four girls and two boys in 1872, where she has since remained.

Her ambition after her duty to her family was to make an ideal home, in which she made a complete success. In the busy life she led she found time to cultivate the greatest variety and the loveliest flowers in Cascade. In her charities she was mindful of the injunction "Let not the right hand know what the left hand doeth;" and a kinder neighbor could not be.

She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters and one son: Mrs. Nelson Baird of Cadillac, Mrs. Lizzie Earhardt of Ada, William of Colorado and Mrs. Fred Vrooman, with whom she resided at the time of her death. Devoted mother, Christian friend, it is with sad heart that we say: "Farewell."—[East Paris-West Cascade Scribe.]

ELLIOT MASON GONE

Grattan Township Loses One of Her Oldest Citizens.

Elliot Mason, an old and highly respected citizen of Grattan township, passed out of this life very suddenly last Friday.

He was around the premises and attended to his chores as usual; but came into the house and remarked as he sat down that he did feel not well, and seemed to wilt down like a plant in the hot sun and was dead in a few moments.

The funeral services were held at the home Sunday in charge of the Masonic order. Burial in the Mason cemetery.

Mrs. Mason went before him many years ago.—[Grattan Center Scribe.]

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank the G. A. R., the Rebekah Ladies Aid, and the neighbors for beautiful flowers sent, the choir for their music, and all friends who so kindly remembered us in our time of bereavement; words cannot express our appreciation.

A Declaration

Yes! we claimed that our last years line of

was the "Best ever"—"The greatest line we had ever shown"—and all that sort of thing and we meant it too—but this year we have done even better. When you put your whole heart into a thing, in getting it into shape and find it comes up to the mark, in fact laps over a little—you are bound to get enthusiastic over it. That's the way with our wall paper line this year. We feel through and through that it is better than what has gone before.

From Our Point of View

It is not expected that the local option laws will enforce themselves in the counties now operating under that system. The officers must see that the laws are obeyed and failing in that duty they must account to the people who have made them. The officers out of office and make room for men who have more regard for their obligation to the people who pay their salaries. Any idea that the public is going to stand any trifling misdeed at once, Fred Randall of Lake Okauchee, after being fined $200 and sentenced to 75 days in the Detroit house of correction by Judge Davis of Lonia, thinks a God in Lonia and law breakers of all sorts and sizes might as well realize that their jig is finally nearly up.

DEATH ABROAD

THE WRECK OF THE NESTOR WAS IN SIGHT OF THOSE WHO COULD NOT HELP.

ENTIRE CREW PERISHED

The Storm Was Too Fierce for the Ship in Sight to Render Any Assistance Whatever.

Seven lives completed the human tribulation to the treacherous water.

The craft was bound for Barona, a small cove on Keweenaw bay on the south shore of the lake in the northern Schoedick. All night a fierce storm had been blowing and hours before the craft went to anchor.

The changes in the winds had been decided upon after extensive tests and experiments in which the old boat had been tried by her crew.

The dead man's face showed an agonized law and thick layer of ice.

STORY FALSE

The Warships Which Made the Great Tour Not Wrecks.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer deVisser has been informed that the Atlantic fleet which made the voyage round the world were in excellent condition and the report that they were accompanied by a repair ship had been a good omen throughout the trip.

He referred to an article in an English publication saying the repair ship was wrecked on the coast of the island of the Azores. The story was said to have cost only $100,000 more than if the battleships had been kept at home and assigned to ordinary duty.
