THE RED CAN LAW.

Of Interest to Buyers and Sellers of Gasoline.

State oil inspector Neal calls the attention to a few changes made by the legislature in the so called "Red Can" gasoline act. The new law, which goes into effect Sept. 1 next, provides that cans, buckets, barrels, etc., which are to be painted a bright red, may be "lettered" with the word gasoline, instead of being "stenciled," as heretofore. It also provides that retail merchants must have barrels or tanks in their stores, from which they sell, painted bright red and lettered thereon with the word gasoline.

The delivery to customers, and dealers as well, must be made in receptacles (cans, buckets, jugs, barrels or whatever the delivery is made in) that are painted bright red and lettered.

The tanks or cans or peddler's wagons must be painted and lettered, and the tank wagons of wholesalers must be labeled if containing gasoline.

The person who purchases gasoline lays himself liable to a fine if he has it in any thing but the proper red can. For cleaning purposes gasoline can only be sold in bottles, properly labeled, and not more than one quart in quantity.

A BUGGY HONEYMOON

Orlo Yeiter and His Bride Do Not Know Where They Are Going.

Monday's Grand Rapids Press has this:
"Our future address? Oh, that is difficult to answer. Just say somewhere out west in a horse and buggy."

Zella Curtiss, a pretty, dark-eyed music teacher of Lowell township, said this to Robert Hill, deputy county clerk, when he asked her the question in connection with the issuance of a license for her to wed Orlo Yeiter. The reply had a very romantic sound to it, but the statement was backed up by Yeiter, a young farmer, also of Lowell township, and who is at the romantic age of nineteen summers. Miss Curtiss, or Mrs. Yeiter as she calls herself now, has only seen twenty-one years of life according to the marriage license.

Yeiter said that they were to start today for the west, somewhere. He did not know just where and they are to make the trip with a horse and buggy. "Have you a map which will show us what roads to take?" asked the young man who had taken Horace Greeley's advice. "We don't know just where we are going, but we are going west together."

It devolved upon Judge Hess to say the words which made the young music teacher the wife of Orlo Yeiter and it did not take him long.

The marriage was performed in the county clerk's office about 8 o'clock this morning. "We are going to start right away," said the benedict as he bowed a salute to those who had attended the wedding of the dark-eyed Lowell music teacher and the young farmer lover.

CONGREGATIONAL

Services at the Congregational church next Sunday with subjects that are of moment to all. Morning—The Preserving God and the Preserved God—being the exposition of Psalm 121. For the Men's class at noon, subject Broad Views, the true basis of cosmopolitanism, Brotherhood and Sympathy. Mr. James Scott is the speaker at the class this week. Come prepared to take part in the discussion. For the evening—Changing one's View-point, or the immense value to the world of thought that has come down to us from the early chapters of the Apostolic days.

Wednesday night—A rare opportunity is given at this class for the understanding of scripture. The theme for the present—The place of the church in prophecy and history, prophecy being a key to history, but never history a key to prophecy. Distinguish the ages and the scriptures will harmonize.

Owing to increased business the salary of the Lowell post office has been raised from $1700 to $1800 per year. The new deal starts July 1. Postmaster Perry has given the public an efficient, courteous and accommodating service and deserves all that is coming to him.

HESSE-ALEXANDER

Owosso Man Takes His Bride From Lowell, Wedding Yesterday.

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the home of C. H. Alexander in this village when their only daughter Rennie A. was united in marriage to Alvin G. Hesse of Owosso, Rev. W. D. Ogg performing the impressive ring ceremony. Promptly at 4:00 to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Hazel Stanhope of Owosso they descended the stairs and took their places in front of an arch decorated in ribbon, similes, ferns and roses. The bride wore a very pretty gown of white embroidery with a white picture hat and carried brides roses. She was attended by Miss Eunice Coats who wore a dainty white dress and carried white carnations. Henry Baulser of Owosso was best man.

After the services about eighty guests gathered about the tables where an elegant supper was served. The bride's six cousins Misses Winifred, Eunice and Mary Alexander and Geo. Alexander of Owosso and Miss Mary Alexander of Lowell waiting on table.

The couple left today for their home in Owosso, where the groom is a highly respected business man. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them.—(Com.)

About Refrigerators

There are so many brands that are sold for refrigerators that you must look out or you will pay good money for something that will be a damage to you. Thousands of so-called refrigerators are sold to unsuspecting persons, and they have no inside box at all. There is nothing to them except the outside case, a piece of paper and some pieces of galvanized iron nailed on to some cleats which are nailed to the outside case. No solder, no insulation, no merit whatever. Sure to leak, sure to swell up and go to pieces, sure to spoil your food and waste your life. We sell without exception the best refrigerator on the market today. It is the best because it lasts longest, from 15 to 25 years being its "span of life." It is the best because its construction prevents the rapid melting of the ice. It is the best because the uniform temperature maintained in the provision chamber retards, to a degree unequalled by any other refrigerator, the process of fermentation in the contents of the chamber. And it is the cheapest in the long run because of all these qualities combined and because it is porcelain lined and all parts are easily accessible. For these reasons we claim that "The Leonard Cleanable" is by far the best and cheapest refrigerator manufactured in the United States today.

The Leonard Cleanable

Getting the Gold Brick

By JOHN IRVING DAY
A Pursue-Fattening Adventure of Members of the High Rollers Club in the Realms of High and Low Finance.

It was a hot day in the city of New York when the High Rollers Club members gathered for their monthly meeting.

They were discussing the latest financial news and the prospects for the future.

The club members were divided into two factions, one for high finance and one for low finance.

The high finance faction was led by a man named Peter Slicer, who was a member of the club for many years.

The low finance faction was led by a man named Col. Powley, who was a newcomer to the club.

The two factions were engaged in a heated argument over the best way to invest money.

The high finance faction argued that the best way to invest money was in stocks and bonds.

The low finance faction argued that the best way to invest money was in real estate and gold.

The argument continued for several hours, with each side presenting its own arguments.

Finally, the club members decided to hold a vote on the matter.

The high finance faction won the vote, but the low finance faction was not satisfied.

The low finance faction decided to leave the club and start their own.

The high finance faction was left with a smaller membership and a smaller reputation.

The low finance faction was now known as the Gold Brick Club.

The Gold Brick Club was dedicated to the pursuit of wealth through low finance.

The club members were now engaged in a new adventure, one of high and low finance.

The Gold Brick Club was now a force to be reckoned with in the financial world.

THAT'S AN EXPENSIVE WATCH

no matter how little it cost you, if it doesn't tell you the right time.

That kind of a watch would be dear if you got it for nothing.

A handsome case is desirable—but an accurate inside mechanism is absolutely INDISPENSABLE.

If you like we may put one of special movements in an Orsler silver case, and you will have an excellent timepiece.

What we wish to point out is that the works are the watch, the case is the adornment.

And another thing we wish to point out is that if there ever was a jewelry store that was prepared to please you in watches, this is the place—and we include our guarantee for your protection.

Call in and hear our arguments.

Yes, you are pretty certain to find things in the paper that don't exactly suit you. It is expected that you will and it makes no difference what paper is referred to. If the paper was gotten out solely and exclusively for you it might be arranged differently, but it is gotten out for hundreds of other subscribers as well. Do with newspapers as you would with the dinner course at the hotel—take what you want and pass up what you don't care for. Part of it was set up for the other fellow, and not for you. —[Belding Banner.

JUNIOR RECEPTION

To Seniors Pleasing Event of Last Days of School.

Another school year passes and again we see the Juniors of our High school taking part in the social affairs of the last days of the present year. These ever ready and wide awake members of the class of 1910 tendered on Tuesday evening to the Seniors and guests, the Junior reception. The evening was spent first, in partaking of a delicious banquet and, then, in listening to an entertaining and delightful program. The toastmaster, Superintendent E. J. Martin, who is always ready with his pleasant and humorous remarks, called upon Misses Ruben, Chappell, Tinkler, Charles, Stone and Mesdames Coons, Hodges, Rutherford and Kingsley for the musical numbers of the program. No words of praise need to be said here concerning the excellence of the selections rendered, for we all know how well these people always take part to cause an evening to pass swiftly and pleasantly. To respond to the various toasts of "Skip" and "Who We Are," were the two members of the Junior class, Allen Behler and Alice Young. Eleanor Porritt, also a Junior, recited in her charming and characteristic manner, "Sally Ann's Experiences." To these the Seniors, Albert Roth and Lucile Watts, replied to extend their thanks for the evening's entertainment, in the words on "Smiles" and "Classes and Masses." The program was completed by a most suitable as well as enjoyable toast, "The Value of an Education," by D. G. Look. But the pleasures did not cease here, for the Junior's announced a dance for the remainder of the evening. So the pleasant and last happy hours of the Seniors were extended. This function given by the class of 1910 will always linger in the minds of their schoolmates, the class of 1909 as the one of all the functions of their school days. L. O. S.
