GOT THE GLAD HAND ALL HAPPILY WEDDED BURNED TO DEATH

Methodist Brotherhood Gave Annual Reception to Lowell Teachers.

A pleasant and profitable social event was that at the City hall Tuesday evening, when the Methodist Brotherhood gave an informal reception to the Lowell teachers.

S. P. Hicks had charge of the program and after an introductory address presented the several numbers of the program. Miss Vesta Smith gave an "Evening Love Song," Mrs. Anderson and Harley Maynard sang "Oh that We Two were Maying," and the quartette "Good Night Beloved" was rendered by Messdames Anderson and Strong and Messrs. Hicks and Maynard. Miss Kemp and R. D. Stocking were accompanists.

Rev. N. F. Jenkins gave a thoughtful address on education, making two especially strong points, the necessity for thoroughness in the rudiments, and the importance of the moral side of education.

Miss Gladys Brown gave a couple of recitations and Superintendent Crampton gave a brief address in behalf of the teachers. The Lowell band responded to an invitation with several selections and after everybody had shaken hands with the teachers the Brotherhood served watermelon and the second annual Brotherhood reception to teachers was ended.

A Kitchen Shower.

Miss Helen Look entertained sixteen young ladies Thursday evening at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Florence Hill. The color scheme in the dining room was red and the decorations were hearts and flowers. The gifts were hung in the dining room with a toast attached to each, which the bride elect read as she took them down. On each place card the future destiny of the possessor was predicted. The bride's cake contained a ring, a thimble and a penny, signifying that the girl securing the ring would marry first, the one getting the penny would become wealthy and the one securing the thimble would remain a spinster. The evening was very pleasantly spent.

Handkerchief Shower

Misses Beatrice Van Dyke, Anna Roth, Marie Perry, Alice Crawford and Ella Perrin, entertained with a handkerchief shower, for Miss Florence Hill at the home of Miss Van Dyke Monday evening. The guest were told to find packages that were concealed in the room, containing towels, and dust cloths, which the girls hemmed for Florence.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room which was prettily decorated with red hearts and flowers. Red ribbons were draped over the table, at the end of each was fastened a handkerchief. After the plates were taken away, Florence drew the ribbons toward her and the guests showered her with rice.

Marriage of Glenn Conklin and Florence Hill Last Evening.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Orton Hill last evening at 6:30 when the marriage of their younger daughter, Florence, and Clayton Glenn Conklin was solemnized in the presence of about ninety guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. D. Ogg, assisted by Rev. N. F. Jenkins and the ring service was used. The bride was unattended by bridesmaids. She was beautifully attired in her commencement gown and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The parlors were tastefully decorated with asters and flowering vines, the prevailing colors being green and white, and the bridal pair stood beneath a canopy of vines and crepe paper with a palm back ground. After the ceremony congratulations were in order and then a dainty wedding lunch was served in the dining room by Misses Ethel White, Ruth Jenkins and Kathryn Drow. Here the decorations were in yellow, green and white, golden rod, and daisies predominating.

Miss Lotta Ruben played the wedding march and furnished music during the serving of refreshments.

It was observed that while the bridal party were busy in the dining room a company of young guests had their heads together and seemed much engaged about something and were seen to pass a bunch of keys from one to another, and when the bride went to her room her coat and hat were missing. After a diligent search the coat was found with a cow bell chained to it with a pad lock and "the key thrown in the well." This did not phase her however as she hurriedly donned her winter coat and her sister's summer hat and amid the consternation of the waiting group made her escape, closely followed by the groom, entered an auto which was in waiting and all dashed out on the Grand Rapids road amid a shower of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Conklin will spend a few days in Flint and then go to their new home which is awaiting them in Grand Rapids.

The young people were recipients of many useful and beautiful gifts.

Parker-Bieri

Married, today (Thursday) at one o'clock, p. m., Claude W. Parker and Freda R. Bieri, at Trinity church, Grand Rapids, Rev. Russell H. Bready, officiating and using the ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen, the bride's sister and brother-in-law, standing with them and Pastor W. D. Ogg performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich will make their home at Delton.

Haysmer-Harris.

Mrs. Maude Haysmer (nee Harris) formerly of this place was united in marriage to William Harris of Flint, Sunday September 4, at the home of the bride in Flint.

P. C. Richmond Lost His Life in Forest Fire.

Philip Charles Richmond was born at Trufant, Mich., August 8, 1882, and perished in the forest fire at Hoover, Oregon, July 19, 1910.

When he was but a small child his father moved onto a farm in the township of Millbrook, Me. Costa Co., and here Philip grew to manhood and by his kindly, pleasant ways endeared himself to the people of the community among whom he leaves many friends who mourn with his relatives his untimely death.

In the spring of 1908 he came to Salem, Oregon, to be near his father, then in feeble health, going in April last to Hoover, Oregon, in the employment of the Hoover Lumber Co.

On the afternoon of July 19th a fire broke out in the timber across the Sanitam river from Hoover and Philip with the other men was sent to fight it. After hope of extinguishing it was abandoned, he with a companion went up a canyon to warn a workman who was a newcomer, and not understanding the signals had remained at his work.

After they entered the canyon the wind suddenly changed and blew the fire in their direction. Their only hope then lay in reaching the top of the mountain before the flames caught them. This they almost succeeded in doing, but were overtaken within five minutes of safety, and their charred bodies with that of the man they had gone to save were brought out of the burning forest twenty-four hours later.

Philip was unmarried. He leaves besides his parents, two brothers, Albert E. Richmond, of Seymour, Texas, and Dean E. Richmond of Lansing, Mich., and a large circle of more distant relatives in Michigan and Oregon.

He was the son of Albert A. Richmond whose early life was spent in the vicinity of Lowell from which place he served in the 13th Michigan Battery during the Civil War, and where he still has many friends who will no doubt sympathize with him in his great bereavement.
