LENA RIVERS DRAMATIZED

PROFESSIONALS TO STAGE IT AT CITY HALL SEPT. 28.

Local Committee Makes Announcement to People as to Policy Regarding Entertainments

We as a committee of management of the City hall wish to say a few words in regard to the entertainments at the City hall for the coming season.

It has been our aim in all our bookings to be sure and get good reliable people and those who will give the citizens of Lowell and vicinity good clean entertainment. We think the people would rather have good attractions and not so many than to have the cheaper class of entertainments and more of them.

Our bookings and Clover Leaf club Lecture course will come well recommended.

This is what the Kalamazoo Gazette says of the opening play, "Lena Rivers," that comes here for one night only, Wednesday, Sept. 28.

H. J. Taylor, chairman.

"One of the most popular priced attractions of the season held the boards at the Fuller theatre for two performances yesterday when Beulah Poynters' splendid dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' novel "Lena Rivers" was presented. For genuine heart interest it is hard to surpass this beautiful story of old Kentucky, "Pure as the Lilies," "Sweet as the Honeysuckle."

Especially are the ladies pleased to follow the curly-haired Lena from the rural districts of Massachusetts to the superb mansions of old Kentucky, dampening their handkerchiefs while sharing her sorrows and benumbing their hands while applauding her joys and triumphs.

Likewise they joyously follow the whole-hearted country boy, Joel Sleum, until sides ache from laughter at his many funny sayings. The numerous manifestations of this character throughout the two performances yesterday gave evident proof that the audiences were heartily in accord with both play and players. To the management of Lena Rivers must be credited that which is usually lacking in popular priced attractions, especially after its initial season has past, a good cast.

The play is beautifully mounted with special scenery and the costuming is far above the average, the ladies especially wearing some beautiful gowns.

The fact that the production packed the Fuller theatre for two performances gives ample tribute to the play and needs no further commendation.

Hastings vs. Lowell Friday.

Base ball at Recreation park Friday, Sept. 23. Hastings vs. Lowell. This will probably be the last game also one of the best. Hastings has been scooping all rivals. See them try it on Lowell.

'NOTHER KNOT TIED

Marriage of Miss Glenna Delk and Clayton J. Beach

A very beautiful wedding took place on Tuesday evening of this week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Delk of this city, when their daughter, Miss Glenna O. Delk was united in marriage to Clayton J. Beach of Grand Rapids in the presence of many friends who gathered to witness the marriage rites.

Miss Maude Andrews presided at the piano and while she played the beautiful Mendelssohn's wedding march the couple preceded by Rev. N. F. Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stegemann entered the parlor which was very tastefully decorated for the occasion and under an overhanging large white wedding bell they were joined as husband and wife with the form of the wedding ring ceremony.

A very fine list of presents was given them by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Beach will make their home in Grand Rapids where he has a position with the Citizen's Telephone company.

An interesting feature of the wedding was that it occurred upon the fortieth anniversary of the wedding of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Beach, being the same hour, same day of the week and month.

Among the out of town guests we mention Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Beach, Misses Amy Madison and Kittie Lessiter of Grattan, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stegemann, Mr. and Mrs. Will Delk and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Willeits, all of Grand Rapids.

Of those of the city we mention Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Delk, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Laugs, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hill, the Misses Maude Andrews and Agnes Perry, and Harold Beach.—(Com.)

Raymond Johnson.

Miss Mattie Johnson of Milwaukee and Vard S. Raymond of this place were married in Chicago Monday, Sept. 12. After a short Eastern trip they came to Lowell. As yet they are undecided as to where they will make their future home.

STABBED A HORSE

Cowardly Revenge Taken on an In-orn Brute.

Monday morning a horse belonging to Alfred Monroe, junk dealer, was found in its stable, near the Lowell Furniture factory bleeding from nose and mouth, having been stabbed in the lung.

The horse had been temporarily placed in a stall regularly occupied by a horse belonging to Henry VanHorn, who had some difficulty with his teamster, Jim Pierce. The latter is alleged to have threatened to "get even" with VanHorn. It is supposed that the knife was intended for VanHorn's horse.

YOUNG LIFE TAKEN

Miss Ethel Burnett Passed Away Wednesday Sept. 14.

Miss Ethel Burnett, daughter of C. L. and Mary Burnett died at the home of Fred S. Quiggle in Cascade township, Sept. 14, aged 21 years and 6 months. Funeral services were held at the Congregational church in Lowell Sunday, Sept. 18, conducted by Rev. W. D. Ogg, burial at Oakwood cemetery.

Ethel was born in this village March 14, 1889, and attended the Lowell schools for ten years. Her mother passed away, September 1, 1904, and Ethel kept the home for her father for several years. Recently, she was stricken with that dread destroyer—consumption and in spite of all that friends could do for her, gave up her young life.

She is survived by her father, Cassius L. Burnett of Lowell, and a brother L. B. of South Bend, Ind.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Miss Clara Hand and James Collins were in Grand Rapids last Wednesday and attended the fair.

Be sure and see the shirt, collar and tie combination at H. J. Taylor's Saturday, Sept. 24.

Guests at C. Barber's this week are Mrs. R. Quick, Mrs. Alex Barber of Grand Rapids and E. R. Quick of Pontiac.

LOST HIS LIFE IN BURNING HOUSE

FRED LAWYER'S CHARGED REMAINS FOUND IN

Ruins of Willis Burch's House. Fatal Fire Occurred Saturday Evening in Absence of Mr. and Mrs. Burch.

In a fire which totally destroyed the Willis Burch farm home about three miles south-west of Lowell Saturday evening, Fred Lawyer, aged about sixty years, lost his life. He had gone upstairs to his room to save some of his belongings and was not missed until the entire house was a mass of flames. The charred remains of his body were found in the still hot ruins next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch had gone to the village, leaving Mr. Lawyer, who had been employed on the farm for the past two months, to do the chores, and their daughter, Marian, age 14 years, her aged grandmother and a younger daughter.

About 6:20, Marian went upstairs on an errand and heard the cracking of flames overhead. She got her grandmother out of the house, called Mr. Lawyer and hastened to save what household effects she could. Coming from a second trip upstairs she met Mr. Lawyer and told him he must not go up as it was all afire and closing the door resumed her saving work thinking he had turned back. Instead of which he had gone on to his death.

When Mr. and Mrs. Burch arrived about 7 o'clock fire was pouring from all the windows. Neighbors had gathered and done what they could; but the house and most of the goods were consumed. Loss about $2500, insurance $800 or $900 in the Kent, Allegan and Ottawa mutual.

Deputy Sheriff Scott impounded the following jurors: A. Keeler, Frank Eker, C. McIntyre, Willie Burch, C. A. Ball and W. R. Bolter, who with Justice Perry convened at the scene of the fatality Sunday and rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Undertaker Bolter took charge of the body and a funeral service was held in his apartment yesterday, Rev. W. D. Ogg officiating.

Mr. Lawyer had lived in this vicinity most of his life. He was a stepson of John Robinson and was born near Reeds Lake. He has no living near relatives. He worked for N. P. Husted in the Lowell nursery 40 years ago. At one time he was in the restaurant business in Kalamazoo for about five years. Recently he was employed by Noah P. Allen. Mr. Lawyer is well spoken of those who knew him as an honest, cheerful and industrious man.

Miss Marian Burch upon whose young shoulders the quick responsibility fell showed courage and intelligence beyond her years and deserves the credit she receives from appreciative friends.

SEVENTY TWO YEARS

William H. Misner Came to Vergennes That Long Ago.

William H. Misner died at his home in this village September 17, of paralysis of the brain, aged 77 years. Funeral services were held at the Congregational church, Tuesday at 2 o'clock, p. m., conducted by Rev. W. D. Ogg, burial in Krum cemetery.

Mr. Misner was a familiar figure about town, having run the sprinkling wagon for several seasons. He was born at Mt. Pleasant Canada, April 8, 1833, and came to Michigan with his parents in 1838, settling in Vergennes. He was married to Laurette Smith March 29, 1860. Two children were born to them, F. H. Misner of Grand Rapids and Lillie who passed away four years ago. He is survived by his wife, son and one brother P. P. Misner of Muskegon. The latter was attending the G. A. R. encampment at Atlantic City and could not be summoned to the funeral.

Friends and relatives from abroad attending the funeral were: Mrs. A. E. Maloney of Chicago, Mrs. Helen M. Bell of Grand Haven, Mrs. G. N. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Waters, and Mrs. R. P. Waters of Grand Rapids, and Mr. Smith of Muskegon.

CONGREGATIONAL

Next Sunday morning you are invited to hear a subject that many a human heart is hungry for, namely: "A Word of Approval." This was always a strong point in Paul's writings. A large audience is desired. For the evening service, The Life of Christ. This subject is by request and certainly none can be of greater interest. Everybody welcome.

Sincerity Clothes

These delightful early fall days ought to bring you up to the suit question, and if you appreciate the value of quality as well as style, we feel pretty sure that you will pay us a visit before you make your selection.

The average suit gives a man good service for a year; some give poor service. That's where you should discriminate and get the right kind of clothes. If you are at all uncertain yourself, you will come to the right place if you come here. We will give you the benefit of what we know about clothes and what we know about Sincerity Clothes

We have two lots of Boys' Clothes that we are making very low prices on. They are:
LOT 1--Some odds and ends in Boys' Suits, all good patterns but only one of a kind left, that we are selling at ONE-HALF price.
LOT 2--Consists of a few very good suits for boys that we are selling at ONE-THIRD off.

EXTRA SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY ONLY
 The greatest Shirt, Collar and Tie combination ever offered. One 50c or 75c Shirt, one 25c Four-in-Hand Tie, and a 15c Collar, we are selling for this one day only for 65c. SOME OF THEM IN THE WINDOW, OTHERS INSIDE

VERGENNES PIONEER

Munson Fero Came Here in 1840. Died Sept. 14.

Interwoven in the history of Vergennes is the above name borne by a man who came here in 1840. At that time this part of Kent county or I might say Western Michigan was not dotted with beautiful homes, rich farms and cultivated fields. Indian trails and blazed trees were their only guide through the forest and the old Owash-to-nong, the Grand, the only highway from the eastern part of the state. This pioneer went through the vicissitudes and stern realities of pioneer life. In the woods and swamps were the bears, lynx, wild cats, panthers, deer and other wild animals, but being a great hunter and well skilled with the rifle he soon thinned the forest. He claimed that you did not have to go to a zoo or a park to see them, the woods were full of them.

When this sturdy pioneer reached his land in Vergennes 70 years ago, he found nothing but a wilderness. He felled the trees and by persistent will and determination made a home where he died Wednesday, September 14, 1910. He was born in Cayuga county, N. Y., Feb. 28, 1825, and was married to Ann Montague in 1853. This union was blessed by ten children, six boys and four girls. The widow and six children survive him and mourn the loss of a kind husband and indulgent father; George B. married and lives on the old homestead, Stella married Fred Smith of Ada, Helen married Hiram Tuttle in Vergennes, Mary married Stephen D. Foster and lives in Grand Rapids, Fred married and lives in Grand Rapids and Emerson lives in the Upper Peninsula.

Munson Fero was of that type of manhood that always weirs and retains the respect and good will of his fellow men. Truly it can be said he was one of nature's noblemen. He instilled those principles into his children of his home life and words of love and kindness are ever expressed for him. He won the confidence and respect of all who knew him. Gone, but not forgotten, he's the man who honored manhood.

The funeral services were held at Bailey church, Saturday, September 16, conducted by Rev. N. F. Jenkins of Lowell, interment at same place.

We are reminded and admonished that the pioneers are rapidly passing away and very soon their memory alone will remain with us. It is fitting that we should remember them, lest we forget. --[William Farrell]
