FELL FROM TRAIN

Pere Marquette Passenger Train Nearly Scalped a Traveling Man.

Friday evening a traveling man who gave the name of G. E. McDougal, fell from the rear platform of the Pere Marquette passenger train which is due here from Grand Rapids at 6 o'clock, and received bad scalp wounds and severe bruises. His cries were heard by the section men and he was conveyed to Hotel Waverly where Dr. Greene attended him. It is fortunate that he was discovered as he might have bled to death during the night. Mr. McDougal gives his home as Providence, R. I., and was on his way from Grand Rapids to Saginaw. He states that his wife had sailed for Europe the day before and he was suffering from loneliness and did not realize when he walked off the train. He is making good recovery, evidently receiving no severe internal injuries and will soon be able to proceed on his way.

A FAMILY REUNION

Large Number of Stones Gathered in Lowell.

A reunion of the Levi Stone family was held at the residence of J. B. Yeiter Thursday, Oct. 20. Greetings were extended to forty guests, the only regret being that of the absence of the few who were detained. The day without was somewhat in contrast to the beauty of the previous Autumn days, yet within was music and the sunshine of good cheer; and while many of those present looked into each other's faces for the first time there seemed to be a cordial recognition of the "I-know-you-kind" that put all at ease from the oldest to the youngest. Then again there were those who had been separated for a half a score of years who were led somehow to live over again many of the events of the intervening years. The program at the dinner hour was carried out in all its fullness after which the entire group was photographed by F. B. Rhodes.

Those from out of town were George P. Stone and wife, Ashley Stone, wife and three children, Della, Frank and Adah all of Ithica, Bradley Stone and wife of St. Louis, Oliver Stone, wife and son, George of Seattle, Elias Stone, wife and Mrs. Ethel Salisbury, Miss Erid and Harmon Salisbury, Mrs. Addie Hartley, all of Walker, Fred Hinman, wife, Master Forest and Miss Alice of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Mary Stone and Miss Marie Stone of Bozette, Mrs. Philela Skidmore, Levi Skidmore, George Skidmore and wife of Alto, Frank White and wife of Caledonia, Chas. D. Campbell and wife and John Campbell of McCords, also Will Clark of Alto whose wife with their little daughter of a day found it impossible to respond to roll call. It was decided to hold the next reunion at Alto, July 4, 1911.—[Com.]

METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. J. A. Wooten, will speak on "The New Birth, Its Meaning and Necessity Made Clear." In the evening Dr. J. R. T. Lathrop, district superintendent will conduct the first quarterly meeting service.

As a prelude to the morning sermon the pastor will "speak a piece" to the children. He offers a prize to each child of 12 or under who will write and hand to him a report of the piece. Services at the Bailey church at three o'clock Sunday afternoon.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Regular services next Sunday. Prayer meetings Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Teachers meeting Friday evening.

The Spartan Ladies report a very enjoyable meeting last week with Mrs. Raimier. Next meeting to be held with Mrs. Ed Stinton. Preaching at Alto Sunday afternoon.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Next Sunday, the following subjects will be considered: 10:30, a. m., "The Secret of a Church's Vitality." 12 noon, the Men's Bible class, "Do we do what we can or do we reserve our power, and influence, whether of time, means or speech?"

7, p. m., "The Character of Jesus. Was he Original?" This phase of the character of Jesus is very interesting.

A Suffragette Social.

The Suffragettes have lofty minds. And are as smart as all creation. They can give the men some pointers. On how to run the nation. Don't miss the celebrated meeting. At Keene-Grange Hall Nov. 5th For there's a bunch of orators. And a mighty handsome sight. After the program the gentlemen serve a Bohemian supper.—[Com.]

A NEW WAREHOUSE

Being Built by King Milling Company 35 x 80 Feet.

The King Milling company has a gang of men working on the erection of a warehouse 35 x 80 feet in dimensions, south of the west side mill to accommodate the demands of its growing business. This company is one of Lowell's oldest and best industries, not only furnishing a splendid market for grain for the large territory of which Lowell is the commercial center, but with its two mills and barrel factory employing a considerable number of men most of whom own their homes here. The gentlemen interested in the King Milling company are public spirited men and are found promoting and assisting every enterprise for the public benefit. Their star product Pure Gold flour is helping to make the name of Lowell famous throughout Michigan.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Woman's Relief Corps in Lowell had Large Attendance.

The Woman's Relief Corps of the Sixth district has been holding a two days convention in Lowell with about seventy-five ladies in attendance. Several sessions were held in G. A. R. hall and last evening a camp fire was held in the City hall.

Commander James H. Godfrey called the meeting to order and introduced President Look who gave a brief address of welcome and was responded to by Mrs. Nellie Whitbeck of Monticome corps. High Private S. P. Hicks then took charge of the meeting and called upon Mrs. Florence Dickerson, Mrs. Elvira Wood Mrs. Mary E. Tibbetts of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Louise Elliott of Stanton and Mrs. Minnie E. Lewis of Muskegon, who in turn made a few remarks. Rev. J. R. Wooten was called upon "as filling" and gave an interesting talk. The program was interspersed with war songs in which Mr. Hicks and Harley Maynard led, with R. D. Stocking at the piano.

A flag drill participated in by about twenty school girls dressed in white, conducted by Misses Kemp and Lally with Miss Andrews as accompanist was a pleasing feature. Mrs. W. O. Merrill in her delightful and impressive manner captivated the audience with her rendering of "John Burns at Gettysburg," "The Blending of the Colors," "The Echo of the Battle."

GOT WRONG LICENSE

Friends Perpetrated Absurdous Joke on Lowell Young Man.

Donald D. Evans of Lowell, whose name appears under the heading of "Marriage Licenses," came very near not getting it there yesterday, as he discovered just before taking the return train, that he was the secretly gloating possessor of a deer license instead of one the kind that makes a man somebody's deer for life.

Coming into the city from Lowell he encountered two friends who told him they were on their way to the county clerk's office to procure marriage licenses. Donald is 26 years old and ought to know better but he didn't seem to. All three went to the county clerk's office, the two friends managing to get Donald sandwiched in between them.

The first man quietly secured a deer license while his friend engaged Donald in conversation. His friend completing his business, Donald said to the clerk, "I'm next. Give me the same." Going through the necessary red tape he paid the fee, pocketed his paper and the remaining friend having secured his license, he departed in company with the others. In about a half hour he returned and stated that there had been some mistake, as he had been given a deer license instead of a marriage license. After the laughter had subsided an exchange was effected and Donald departed in search of his deer, but this time without the deer license.

The Clover Leaf Club.

The Clover Leaf club met Thursday, Oct. 18, with Mrs. Edwin Fallas. The afternoon program was as follows: Vocal solo, Mrs. E. A. Anderson. Incidents of Early Days in Michigan, Mrs. D. P. Atwater. Michigan Since 1825, Mrs. A. M. Andrews.

Vocal solo, Mrs. E. A. Anderson in American Indian of Today, Mrs. A. G. Peckham.

Mrs. M. M. Perry read a copy of the deed of land on which Philadelphia now stands.

Mrs. F. M. Johnson had charge of the program for the afternoon.

Mrs. R. J. Taylor acted as president in the absence of Mrs. R. Van Dyke, who was attending the State Federation.

The next meeting will be held November 1 with Mrs. E. R. Collier.

CONG. ASSOCIATION

Twenty-Eight Churches Represented in District Meeting.

The Autumn meeting of the Grand Rapids Association of Congregational churches and ministers was held in the Congregational church Monday evening and Tuesday of this week, Oct. 24 and 25. Twenty eight of the thirty seven churches of the association were represented. There were sixty seven registered delegates of whom thirty were ministers. A large number of visiting members brought the number in attendance between eighty and ninety.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. E. W. Bishop, D. D. of Park church, Grand Rapids, which was an able exposition of the Foreign Missionary movement, its marvelous conception in the heart of Samuel J. Mills, and a glowing tribute to his personality.

This was followed by the Communion service conducted by the two oldest pastors in the association, Rev. T. W. Bush and Rev. W. D. King. The annual offering for ministerial relief closed the evening session; the offering being double the largest offering ever taken in the association for that object. This day was filled with good things, aside from the devotional and business hours three papers were given in the forenoon. Rev. B. H. Burt of Ludington gave an interesting and comprehensive report of the great meeting of the national council in Boston. This was a treat greatly enjoyed by the convention.

Rev. J. T. Husted clearly and convincingly answered the question, "Have we too many churches?" As is characteristic of him, his paper abounded in telling illustrations and was followed by an animated discussion. Rev. E. E. Hagne of Conklin closed the morning session with an excellent paper on the Price of Power. The first half of the afternoon was given to the annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary association. After the usual greetings and reports in the absence of the Field secretary Mrs. Cutler of Grand Rapids gave in a few well chosen words the relationship of the American Board to the W. B. M. I. Mrs. C. J. Phillips read a paper on "What God hath Wrought in India."

Mrs. J. R. M. Shirts of Grand Rapids gave "The Impressions I received at Oberammergau" in a very clear and impressive manner. The large audience transported to the quaint hamlet in the mountains to witness this marvelous Passion Play were grateful indeed to Mrs. Shirts and received impressions that will not soon be forgotten. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. H. A. Peckham, which was beautifully rendered and served to deepen the already deep religious spirit of the meeting.

The association then resumed its work with a devotional half hour conducted by Rev. H. McConnell, Rev. C. E. Fellows, assistant state missionary gave a spirited address on "Our State Work" full of useful information and exhortation. The paper "Why should men study the Bible?" by Rev. M. C. Bullock abounded in convincing reasons. The evening address was by Rev. C. O. Guisler of the South Church, Grand Rapids. His subject was "The Twentieth Century Church—Its Mission." This paper was filled with good thoughts and encouragement to those who mourn the decadence of the church. A consecration service followed which closed one of the best meetings of the Grand Rapids Association. L. S. P.

The Pastor's Acknowledgment of Gratitude.

I wish to express my deep and heartfelt gratitude to the members of the church and friends who so loyally stood by and helped, entertain the very large delegation that were our guests Monday and Tuesday. I feel that with such a people I can undertake anything that will result in advancing the spiritual condition of the Congregational church. W. D. Ogg, Pastor.

Lowell Literary Club.

The L. L. C. held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Art Hill Wednesday, Oct. 26. Meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. W. S. Winegar. After the usual routine of business the program was given, viz:

Biography of John Henry Pestalozzi, Mrs. U. B. Williams.

Educational Doctrine of Pestalozzi, Mrs. E. A. Thomas.

Froebel and the Kindergarten, Mrs. Art Hill.

Reading, "Nancy Hanks," Miss Gladys Brown.

The meeting adjourned to meet November 9 with Mrs. W. S. Winegar—Com.

A Slim Attendance.

Only about one hundred attended the Republican meeting at the City hall Tuesday evening. The band played and Chase Osborne spoke a few minutes and then hustled by auto to Ionia. Geo. P. Codd of Detroit spoke on Osborne and Hennans, after which a large portion of those present left the hall. Congressman Dickema made the closing address. E. E. Springett officiated as chairman.
