"Vacation Time Is Kodak Time"

Nothing will give quite so much pleasure, when in the years to come you are recounting the incidents of your various summer outings, as to be able to show pictures of the different localities where those incidents occurred. If you take a Kodak with you on your outing you may make of your vacation an "illustrated story" and a joy forever

SAVED FROM DEATH

Remarkable Occurrence. Prevents Auto Taking Plunge.

E. L. Thurston of Cleveland, an automobile resorter at Spring Lake, with a friend, had a narrow escape from death at the upper Grand river bridge Saturday; but luckily escaped "by the skin of their teeth" with a badly wrecked machine.

They were coming into Lowell on the south side from the east and approached the bridge at such speed that the car swerved from the road and plunged over the bank at the west side of the bridge where it was wedged between the bridge and a tree and hung, the rear wheels on the bank and the fore wheels suspended. The riders pitched over the machine, one landing on the concrete pier and the other on his back, the latter holding the former from a tumbling to the rocks in the river bed.

Workmen toiled for five hours with block and tackle to release the machine from the vise into which it had driven and it is now laid up for repairs at the garage.

BROKE EVEN WITH OIL

Lost One and Won One From Chicago Fast Team.

Lowell won one and lost one to the Oak Leas fast professional team from Chicago Friday and Saturday. Friday's game was a six to four affair with the visitors on the winning end. McMahon pitched for Lowell and VanderBush for the Chicago bunch, Lowell getting five hits and the O. L.'s, seven. Shuter was the batting hero of the day with a three bagger and a single out of three times at bat. McQueen was out of the game with a bad finger.

In Saturday's game it was Lowell's from the start. McQueen and Oliver were safe on errors by Vain. Gazella and Halliday followed with singles and Henningway with a home run over the right field fence. Five runs were thus scored before a man was out. Speaker then reached second on the first baseman's error and scored on McMahon's hit. Two more were scored in the second on the short stop error on Gazella's effort a stolen base, a two bagger by Halliday and a hit by Shivel.

Two were added in the sixth by two errors and hits by McMahon and Oliver. The visitors runs were all in one inning and the result of two errors and two hits.

The Oak Leas played Ionia Sunday with Gazella catching and put one over the Ionia bunch 8 to 5.

Lowell with substitutes in the place of Shivel, Halliday and Shuter went to Hastings and lost ten to nothing Tuesday. Collar pitched good ball for Lowell but had the poorest kind of support. Each team made seven hits and Lowell's errors were too numerous to count. Hastings will play here in the near future and the full team will be put in the field against them.

Home Coming at Fallsburg.

Mrs. Ella Colvin Joseph of Grand Rapids entertained Thursday at her parents' old home in Fallsburg with a most delightful reunion of old time Fallsburg friends and their families. There were present some who had not met for nearly thirty years, so the day was spent in reminiscing and visiting the old familiar places about the "Burg." The school house was the scene of a session of "ye old school" with three of its former teachers present, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moon and Mrs. Mary Woodard Crawford of Ovid and several of its former pupils, Dr. Cora Moon, Frank Moon, Mrs. Ella Colvin Joseph and Mrs. Carrie Creator Beier all of Grand Rapids. The same old bell which called them as young people was rung again, reminding the little gathering of the absent ones. Others present were Miss Luella Deier of Grand Rapids, Miss Mabel Moon of Fallsburg and Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and family of Lowell.

LOWELL COUPLE WED

Well Known Young People Married. Gehrher-Rhodes.

Miss Eva Regina Gehrher, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Gehrher of this village and John M. Rhodes, son of F. B. Rhodes, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Tuesday afternoon at 1.30, Rev. J. R. Wooton officiating. They were unattended. The bride was becomingly gowned in white embroidered batiste.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

After the ceremony they were taken in Will Worden's auto to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Fred Kilgus, near Elmdale where the bride assumed her traveling suit. From there they were taken to the station. At Elmdale they took the train for Detroit.

The young couple were followed to Elmdale by some of their friends who seemed bent on having a good time at the expense of the newly married pair.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes are graduates of the Lowell High school. The latter for several years was a teacher in the grades of our schools. Mr. Rhodes has a position with the Murphy Chair Co. in Detroit, where they will make their home. The best wishes of a host of friends go with this worthy young couple.

The following out of town guests were present at the reception which followed the wedding ceremony: Mrs. Ralph Kinyon of Freeport, Mrs. Frank Gramer, Mrs. Sprague Keene and daughter, Pearl, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Conklin of Grand Rapids.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The pastor will be in his pulpit morning and evening July 30 and at the South Boston church in the afternoon. He expected to be at Niagara Falls today. In his letter of advice he says: "Am having a delightful time. This is a wonderfully beautiful world. God is a great creator and provider."

MONEY MELTED AWAY

$120 Booze Fund Had Vanished Like Smoke.

"Where's that twenty-dollar bill?" said Burt Williams of Stanton—or thereabouts—as he dug around in his pockets for where-withal to pay the $5.00 fine and $3.25 costs assessed by Squire Andrews.

He finally found a bill, but it was a tenner. "Last time I knew it was a twenty."

"Guess those fellows you were with could tell you something about it," remarked His Honor.

It was July 20 when Williams was "pulled" as a drunk, and he had a tale of woe which wasn't for publication.

The supervisor of his town had given him $20 for liquid refreshments to be shipped and Williams had $100 of his own when he came "down to the month."

He had some small change left after he settled with the Judge but the experience might be worth all it cost if Mr. Williams will only let it strike in.

SUN BROS. BIG SHOWS

Greatest Attraction of the Season.

With the elaborate looking and specially designed posters and lithographs of Sun Brothers' Big Shows, seen on the local billboards and dead walls announcing their appearance here on Wednesday, August 2, there are many to revive the old contention that the tented show barns a city in what it takes away from it.

Many others consider that the loss is more than answered in what the show brings, to say nothing of the show dollars left behind in the nature of feed bills, license fees and other forms of paid claims, the volume of fun and delight bequeathed to the amusement loving element of citizenship brings us in debt to the showman.

Still others despise the cynical growling that is provoked by the occasional invasion of folks who earn their living by exercising their talents of making the world happier.

The Sun Brothers' Shows are making their twentieth annual tour, and they are bringing this season the greatest amusement effort of their long managerial career. There is a greater collection of wild beasts, trained animal novelties and many star European and American performers.

The show gives two complete and unabridged performances daily, in fair or rainy weather at 3 and 8 p. m. On the morning of show day and on the exhibition grounds, directly in front of the main entrance, will be presented upon a magnificent scale a series of "thriller" free exhibitions.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Jim Spadafora Severely Burned in Gasoline Explosion.

Jim Spadafora was badly burned on face, hands and arms by the explosion of his gasoline peanut roaster Sunday morning. He succeeded in tearing off his burning clothes and in preventing what easily would have been another fatality. His neighbor Scott rendered some kindly assistance until Dr. Merrill arrived and made the sufferer as comfortable as possible. Jim is around with face and hands swathed in bandages, quite cheerful that things are no worse.

Abbott-Mellen-Wedding.

Miss Mary L. Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Abbott, and John Mellen of Detroit were married at the home of the bride's parents in this place at high noon on Monday, July 24. Miss Dora Geil of Ludington assisted the bride and Ronello Mellen of Detroit performed the same service for the groom. The marriage service was read by the bride's father. The young couple will make their home in Detroit where Mr. Mellen has a position with the American Express Co. Miss Eva Abbott of Birmingham and Miss Blanche Wilkins of Detroit sisters of the bride were also in attendance.

SCREEN YOUR FOOD

The State Board of Health Vs. the Deadly House Fly

Lansing, Mich., July 10.—"Screen your doors and windows and keep your food well screened. Keep the flies out and you will keep disease out." This is the advice given by the state board of health in the current bulletin.

Discussing the dangerous housefly, the bulletin says: "The hot season of the year is now with us and with it the common housefly. As the hot weather advances this common pest will continue to increase rapidly, unless active measures are taken to prevent it. Flies lay their eggs chiefly in stable manure, and if this is left without screens or other covers to keep the flies away, great numbers will be hatched in and around every stable. Local boards of health should make rules and regulations governing this common pest. Flies frequent filthy places like sewers, garbage cans, cess-pools and privy vaults and then they come into your house bringing filthy germs causing such diseases as typhoid fever, cholera infantum, summer complaint and other intestinal diseases. All refuse such as manure, garbage, decaying vegetables and fruits should be well covered or screened so that flies cannot gain access"

JOB PRINTING
The Ledger has one of the best

Michigan and is ready to do all kinds of job printing.

Newspapers and Community Development
No movement ever attained success without publicity and in the nature of things any movement requiring for its success the support of numerous persons must have the invaluable aid of a common mouthpiece. The kind of publicity which is called for in this development is afforded by the local paper at every stage of its progress. The local editor should be an enthusiastic supporter of every undertaking that is calculated to make his town big,
better and more enterprising.

The first evidence, therefore, of a community's awakening is to be found in its local newspaper,
and the first act of those initiating
a movement for local development is to enlist the services of the editor and work him into hand with that paper.

But this fact must not be misconstrued. The newspaper is a business institution, and as such is a dry goods or a grocery store. It must give a financial return for the money invested in it for the labor expended upon it. The greater part of the exploitation performed by a newspaper is more directly for the benefit of something or some body else than for the benefit of itself. But paper, ink, type and everything necessary to produce a newspaper cost money and for financial support the newspaper publisher must look to those who derive benefit from the publicity it affords.

The benefits arising from the publishing of a newspaper are not limited to subscribers and advertisers. The paper is a constant worker in every movement that tends to improve the conditions in the community. Its subscribers and its advertisers make its existence possible, but they are usually a small part of the community of which it is a beneficiary.

The indirect benefits derived from subscribing to the local paper and from using it for advertising purposes are double and triple the direct benefits. It is through the newspaper that the community speaks on the occasions when it has a message to desires to be—and if its best interests are to be served—must be heard. But the community must not act as a community for the publisher of the paper is at his own expense exploiting the community and benefiting each member of it as much as possible more than himself.

The first-aid, the best aid in any "Keep the Money at Home" campaign is the newspapers. It is through its columns that the largest and best circulation in this section, its press room is open to publication every day and its subscription list can be inspected at any time by any business man who is advertising for business and is doing business on business principles.

Writes from Okla. Home, Where it is 111 Degrees Hot

Friend Johnson; Some time ago I noticed in the LEDGER, a line or two saying that you were about to build a new house. The last time I read a gentle request to send in money so I guess you are building. Enclosed find my dollar.
Every little helps.

We built a new home, last winter
and I know that every dollar counts. It costs real money to build new days.

Everything is love y' out here and the weather now is fine. It has been awful hot and dry all the Spring months and up until about a week ago. Thermometer registered as high as 111° but at that it is not as hot as in Lowell amount to much this year but we are going to have a corn crop that will make folks 'sit up and take notice'.

Newspapers and Community Development
No movement ever attained success without publicity and in the nature of things any movement requiring for its success the support of numerous persons must have the invaluable aid of a common newspaper.

The kind of publicity received in this development is afforded by the local paper at every stage of its progress. The local editor should be and usually is conversant with the community and is usually wholly in sympathy with and is an enthusiastic supporter of every undertaking that is calculated to make life more enjoyable, better and more enterprising.

The first evidence, therefore, of a community's awakening and its being to be found in its local newspaper, and the first act of those initiating a movement for local development is to enlist the services of and work hand in hand with that paper.

But this act must not be mis-constructed. The newspaper is a business institution and its aim is to make for itself a profit. It is a dry goods or a grocery store. It must give a financial return for the money invested in it and for the labor expended upon it. The greater part of this exploitation is performed by the newspaper itself. But paper, ink, type and everything necessary to produce a newspaper cost money and for financial success the newspaper publisher must look to those who derive benefit from the publicity it affords.

The benefits arising from the publishing of a newspaper are not limited to subscribers and advertisers. The paper is a constant worker in many ways that tends to improve conditions in the community. Its subscribers and its advertisers make its existence possible, but they are usually a small part of the community of which it is a benefactor.

The financial benefits derived from subscribing to the newspaper and from using it for advertising purposes are double and triple the benefits. It is through the newspaper that the community speaks on all occasions to which the community desires to be and if its best interests are to be served by the community and benefiting the community and its member of it as much as—perhaps more than—himself.

The first step, the best and in any "Keep the Money at Home" campaign is the newspapers. It is through its columns that are made known the advantages possessed by the community and serves. Its pages chronicle every movement of interest and importance to that community and it is the one factor in the development that can not profitably or safely be omitted or disregarded.—American Lumberman.

FORMER LOWELLITE

Writes from Oklahoma, Where it is 111 Degrees Hot July 27, 1911.

Friend Johnson—
Some time ago I noticed in the Ledger, a line or two saying that you were about to build a new house. In the past I read a gentle request to send in money so I guess you are building. Enclosed find my dollar. Every little helps.

We built a new home last winter and I know that every dollar counts. It costs real money to build new days.

Everything is lovely up here and the weather now is fine. It has been awful hot and dry all the Spring months and up until about a week ago. Thermometer registered as high as 111° but at 90°.

Wheat and oats did not amount to much this year but we are going to have a corn crop that will make folks "sit up and take notice."

Weeks months of his time at this place now, and is "making good" as county attorney would look like to do a little fishing up in your part of the world. We have no sport of that kind down here.

Week has an interest in some oil and gas property down here and I expect will be a second John D. one of these days.

Give my best regards to the old friends in Lowell.

Yours,
E. A. Houlges.

Excellent Addresses Made at Closing Session.
1912 MEETING TO PORT HURON

W. Glenn Cowell of Coldwater, Conn. does to a life blindness through the accused carelessness or ignorance of these physicians or midwives," said Dr. W. R. Parker, of Detroit, in a lecture on the summer program of the U. of M. at Ann Arbor.

Lansing—Port Huron will be the 1912 meeting place of the Michigan Association of Practising Attorneys, Sheriffs and Clerks of Peace, the institution that city having been accepted at the closing session of the convention at Kalamazoo.

Several excellent addresses were made on the final day. W. Glenn Cowell, prosecuting attorney of Coldwater, delivered "Confessions of a Lawyer," in which he excoriated the swarting process sometimes used to extract confessions. He declared that improper means should never be used to secure confessions, and that promises should never be made in the endeavor to get them, as instances have been known where innocent men have been made to confess to crimes for the purpose of expediting their release from custody.

"The prescribed treatment so delicate and delicate that the skill of a specialist could alone cope with it, the matter would be different, but to get them, as instances have been known where innocent men have been made to confess to crimes for the purpose of expediting their release from custody.

"Officers Fenwick, who were present and have every utterance taken when a prisoner is being examined," said the speaker. "Before questioning an accused person, the officer has his rights and allow him to confer with counsel should be so desired."

Favors Free Cure for Babes' Eyes.
The state of Michigan ought to maintain a free dispensary for the two per cent solution of nitrate of silver for the prevention of blindness in children from the disease of "chlamydia neonatorum," was argued by Dr. W. R. Parker, of Detroit, in a lecture on the summer program of the U. of M. at Ann Arbor.

"One-fourth of the cases of blindness in the state are due to institutions which have been prevented by a little attention at birth, the washing of the mother's eyes by the physician or midwife."

"There is absolutely no excuse for the deplorable number of children, doomed to a life of blindness through the accused carelessness or ignorance of these physicians or midwives," said Dr. W. R. Parker, of Detroit, in a lecture on the summer program of the U. of M. at Ann Arbor.

"Ophthalmia neonatorum is an infectious disease apparent at birth. Two per cent solution of nitrate of silver, dropped into each eye of a newborn infant would destroy the germs of ophthalmia and would not injure the sight of healthy eyes. This simple thing was discovered 25 years ago by Prof. W. R. Parker, of Detroit, in a lecture on the summer program of the U. of M. at Ann Arbor.
