Don't Forget That "Vacation Time Is Kodak Time"

Nothing will give quite so much pleasure, when in the years to come you are recounting the incidents of your various summer outings, as to be able to show pictures of the different localities where those incidents occurred. If you take a Kodak with you on your outing you may make of your vacation an "illustrated story" and a joy forever. Come in and see us before you start.

How do people acquire property and gain independence?

By saving in a small way to accumulate capital for investing and re-investing. Large profits are often made from timely investments. You cannot tell when an opportunity for making a profitable investment will present itself. A growing savings account in this bank will provide for such an emergency. It will give you a borrowing power equal to the capital which you save. We want you to consider this a personal invitation to call and open an account here. Many of our large deposits began with a dollar.

WHAT home should be without one, or, in fact, several, for they complete the furnishings for every room, be it parlor, bedroom or kitchen. There are two things required of a clock: First, that it be ornamental--that is of small importance if it does not keep time. We guarantee every clock we sell to keep perfect time, for, if it does not, it is no clock.

OH MY, WHAT A ROW THEY'RE AFTER US IN OLD ENGLAND

Lowell-Hastings Ball Game Stirred up a Rumpus.

The Lowell-Hastings game was a mixture of good base ball, kicking and at one time fighting. Hastings started off with three hits in the first inning. These mixed with two errors netted three runs. Collar tightened up after this inning and pitched shut out ball the balance of the game. Until Lowell had the score tied everything was lovely. When the visitors saw they had a ball game on their hands they began to kick on every decision.

In the sixth Michaels was thrown out at first. He never kicked, but Kynett thought it was up to him to clean house on the umpire. In a moment the field was full of spectators. A general mix-up followed. No one was hurt and Kynett was taken up town, afterward released and finished out the game. It was predicted by some that it would hurt the game here but several wanted to pay again when they went out and it is safe to say that another game between the two teams would fill the grounds.

Shivel on short and Heming way on first were the stars of the game.

Shuter, Holliday and Heming-way all got clean three base hits. Score, Hastings 3, Lowell 6. Batteries, Collar & Shivel, Kynett & Robliski.

Mr. Hooker Rises to Remark

Brother Johnson—Are you quite sure as to the weight and date on the tag found on that fish which was spoken of in your last issue. The date on the tag I do not question but the fish was rather light weight considering the age and it is my impression that your scales were a little off or the tags must have got changed.

But we pass to notice that as I was rambling around the town recently I was invited into the new home of Editor Johnson and had the pleasure of being escorted through it from garret to cellar and to fully describe it would require a column, hence I will say that from my standpoint as to construction, finish, convenience and comfort it equals any home in Lowell and is heated and lighted with the most modern appliances.

J. S. HOOKER.

Death of Mrs. Lodeema Shear Flory

Mrs. Lodeema Flory, daughter of D. O. Shear, died Tuesday at her home in Grand Rapids after an illness of 8 months, aged 51 years. Funeral services will be held at the home of the father in Lowell today (Thursday) at 2 p. m. by Rev. W. D. Ogg officiating, burial in Wright cemetery.

Mrs. Flory is survived by her husband and father, one daughter, step-daughter, three sisters, Mrs. Melvina Hogan of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Anna McCall and Mrs. Ora Washburn of Lowell, and a brother, U. B. Shear of Petoskey. The mother, Mrs. D. O. Shear, preceded the daughter to the Better Land only last June.

Davis-Kinyon

A very quiet wedding was solemnized August 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Kinyon when their daughter Katherine A. was united in marriage to Elmer E. Davis of Alto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. M. Scott, pastor of the Berean Baptist church of Grand Rapids. The ring ceremony was used.

The house was prettily decorated with vines and cut flowers. The bride's shower bouquet was presented by her uncle, Willis Kinyon of South Bend.

The bride and groom left for a short trip and will be at home in Alto after September 15.

Delinquent Subscriptions Must be Paid up at Once.

The Post Office Department is prodding up the country publishers to make them clean up their subscription lists. Last week The Ledger had to pay penny postage on twenty-four village papers in order to deliver them. This was a joke—and the joke was on us. All right; but we've been counting up and find there are 160 people who are more than a year in arrears on subscription and you know mighty well we can't pay penny postage for all that crowd every week. No, when Uncle Sam says "Come Down," it's off the fence for us.

Now we're sending statements to all these people and we want them to jolly up and plank down the chunk to keep us out of trouble and themselves in a rattling good local paper—"Don't it?"

And mark you, this don't mean the fellows whose address labels ends with 11 or 12 or more.

Come on now fellows. You've had a good service. Run in with the needful, so we won't have to cut your name off our blooming list.

Yours truly for keeps,
F. M. JOHNSON.

Marks Gets in the Game.

Along with the other business men of Lowell Marks Ruben has been an interested fan during the base ball season. Whether the team was winning or losing Marks has been a booster. It struck him that it was unfair to let the team do all the entertaining so he interested J. H. Payne and M. N. Henry and these three, assisted by several of the other fans around town, supplied the needful for the team and management at Hotel Waverly last night. Nothing was left undone to make the evening enjoyable. The banquet was a credit both to the gentlemen promoting it and to the hotel serving it.

The team and management appreciate fully the pleasant evening afforded them and wish to thank Messrs. Ruben, Payne, Henry and others interested for this expression on their part.

Play ball! Steal a sack or make a home run and take a sack with you, (a sack of Pansy Blossom flour). It's great on the home plate.

Mr. Ford is returning to South America in the interests of the International Harvester company and expects to be gone about eight months.

Lowell Lady Writes of Events in the Mother Country

Norwich, England, July, 1911.

Thinking my visit to the old country might be of interest to some of my neighbors I make this hurried short account of my visit.

I am staying in this old city with much that is old and much that is modern. The stately old cathedral that dates back to 1096, with all the monuments of the great men that are gone, looking down on this old world city.

Coronation day was celebrated here as a general holiday, with a mighty bonfire on one of the surrounding hills. The city was brilliantly illuminated at night. My friends chartered a street car to take us at night to see the illumination—a sight to be remembered. The great show opened June 26 and King George made a stately entry into the city on the 28th. From a window my sister had secured facing the market place I witnessed a sight that will last as long as memory holds her sway. The streets were blocked into the market place and at 11 o'clock 8000 boys and girls marched through pens which had been erected so that there should be no trouble. The boys and girls were arranged separately. The girls wore bonnets made of red, white and blue crinkled paper. The spectacle was grand to look upon. At 12 o'clock out of all the noise and tumult, suddenly up went those 8000 voices singing "Land of Hope and Glory" amid the intense silence of thousands of people who were crowded into every space where one could stand. They sang together as one keeping splendid time. At 12:30 the show went up "The King comes, he comes." The state carriage halts in the center of the children, who sang the national anthem. At the close amid loud hurrahs up went into the air thousands of small flags carried by the youngsters and the king passed on and then that grand old hymn "Oh, God our Help in Ages Past" and they dispersed. Ambulance men and nurses moved among the great crowds and boy scouts rendered splendid service among the children. Altogether it was most wonderfully organized.

On June 29 we left our home at 9:30 for the show ground outside of the city, a splendid position in the valley of the York river. Steam boats, trains, and every cart and trap that could be found were bringing their thousands. The railway company had built a temporary station just outside the show ground for landing passengers and goods. A fine park studded with trees in which was erected the grand stand. Then came miles of shedding for cattle and fowls of every kind. There was also a large working dairy with raised seats for visitors. Here neat, smartly attired young women were making butter and going through the whole process. We then passed on to view the horses a grand lot. It took quite an hour and a half for them to pass. Thousands of folks were now pouring into the grounds. The sheep are a very fine lot. Everything had been thought of for protection of life. A fire station, fully equipped hospital, with nurses and ambulance men were on the ground; but provisions and refreshments were expensive and scarce.

Very fine section of agricultural implements, steam and oil engines, separators and a machine for milking cows, wind and steam pumps, farm carts of every description. A bee section was most interesting, also a forestry section. Then we spent some time among the great seed stands. What splendid oats and wheat! Time didn't permit us to see every section. The ground was over 100 acres in extent. On the day I visited 75,000 folks passed into the ground and during the time it was open close upon 200,000 persons visited the show. This large concourse of people were managed with the greatest of ease and splendid order. I hope to return home early in September. With kind regards to yourself and family, I am yours truly,

Mrs. Abner Richmond,
Norwich, England.

is absolutely the BEST and our price will be reasonable, but the point we wish to impress upon you is, with us QUALITY COMES FIRST

You cannot afford to have a cheap outfit installed, as it would be a constant expense in the way of repairs and extra fuel burned, and a never-ending source of vexation through not enough heat and the liability of smoke, gas and dirt in the rooms.

The difference in the cost of the ROUND OAK and the cheap furnace is but little after all—and just consider—you get it all back in fuel saved, and in time the ROUND OAK pays for itself, and at the end of every year you still have a sound furnace—and it has not cost a cent for repairs.
