

Paid for His Music

Not long ago two neighbors marketed a load of hogs the same day, and each came to our bank with the drover's check in payment for their live stock. Bill placed his on deposit. Sam drew the cash; saying jokingly, "I like to hear the money jingle." On the road home that night a "hold-up" man stopped both teams and Sam's money jingled in the robber's pocket. The robber didn't care for Bill's bank book.

Moral:—The man who likes to hear money jingle in his pocket, sometimes pays dearly for that sort of music.

A QUICK CAPTURE

Horse Thief Nabbed Within Ninety-Minutes of Get-Away.

Tuesday afternoon Ed Parker's old family driver was taken from its hitching post in Lowell by Ben Sayles a paroled Iowa convict, and driven away. Less than three miles north of town he met a man who recognized the rig and overruled to the village reported accordingly.

Deputy Sheriff Scott telephoned to Mr. Hoppough at Snyrna, who said the fellow had just left there.

"Can you get him?" "You bet I can."

Twenty minutes later, and less than an hour and a half from the get-away, Hoppough announced that he had Mr. Man. He was brought to Lowell and lodged in jail. Next morning Justice Andrews bound Sayles over to the Circuit court and he was lodged in the county jail by Deputy Scott.

Parole papers carried by the prisoner showed him to have been Convict No. 9595 at Ionia, and paroled.

By Flood This Year. Crest of Wave Due Friday

Highly exaggerated reports of flood conditions in Lowell have appeared in the Grand Rapids papers. Business so far from being paralyzed is proceeding as usual. While the King mills and cutter factory closed down, Monday, work and trade elsewhere have proceeded as usual, with no more inconvenience to business places than a foot, more or less, of water in basements and consequent moving of contents. A few families on the flats moved or made ready to move their household goods, but this Thursday morning we have apparently the crest of the flood with no one materially damaged. Unless rains or the breaking of the Portland ice gorge lets down a great body of water, the threatened flood of 1912 will have safely passed.

The scene from Main street looking south to Grand river with the water close under the Pere Marquette bridge and timber and the trees of Island park throwing deep shadows over the lake by which they are surrounded is most interesting and reminds us of former floods when our streets were navigable streams for days.

GOP HAD A HOT TIME

In the Old Town at County Convention Yesterday.

The Republican county convention in Grand Rapids yesterday was a red-hot affair; the county delegates fighting the gun shop methods of the city politicians and beating them to a standstill. The Progressives were in control, Roosevelt was endorsed and delegates to the state convention were instructed for him.

The city fellows had a staid indifference to resolutions drawn up and a lot of straggling delegates picked out, but the country was in the saddle and would have none of it.

M. B. McPherson of Vergennes said that the country was 90 per cent for Roosevelt and they proposed to be properly represented or there would be a change to a fall that the straight voters wouldn't like.

Mayor Ellis is to head the delegation. Among the township delegates are: H. T. Don, Casside S. P. Hicks, Lowell, E. Boag, Caledonia; Fred Thomas, Cannon; Clair Ford, Granton; Ira D. Mull, Ada; M. J. McPherson, Vergennes; and John G. Livingston, Bowne.

Most of the afternoon was spent with business matters and only a short program was given. Reading by Mrs. A. H. Hill, "Laugh It Away" after which Mrs. J. S. Hooker read the biography of Mark Twain. Club adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. Herman Strong April 10.—(Com.)

The Clover Leaf Club

The Clover Leaf club convened at the home of Mrs. E. D. McQueen April 2, Mrs. J. Lally in charge of the "Mother's Day" program.

Mrs. H. L. Weekes and Mrs. C. D. Hodges rendered "Caperaria" a piano duet. This was followed by a reading "The Baby" Mrs. A. M. Andrews. "The Pleasure of Imagination" was read by Mrs. C. G. Lawrence. Mrs. E. A. Anderson sang "Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night" and a paper written by Mrs. M. Easterly was read by Mrs. R. VanDyke "Medical Inspection and Nursing in the Public Schools." Mrs. E. E. White then gave a report on Michigan Birds about 300 species Michigan, 150 common all over the state.

Roll call, questions and answers on club training. Program closed with piano and violin duet by Beatrice VanDyke and Bette McQueen "Sweet Illusions" and meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Edw. Fabis. Election of officers and payment of dues.—(Press reporter.)

First Located in Michigan at Lowell in 1854.

Judson C. West, president of the West Drug stores company and founder of the store that led to the organization of Michigan's greatest retail drug business, died shortly after midnight at the home of his son, Ben E. West, on the Robinson avenue road.

Mr. West was seventy-six years of age and had been prominently identified with local retail business interests since 1858. He was born in 1836 at Palmyra, N. Y., and came to Michigan in 1854, the first year in Lowell and was one of the enterprising pioneer business men who succeeded in making Lowell the important commercial center it was even in its earliest days.

In 1888 Mr. West determined to branch out into larger fields and came to Grand Rapids where he engaged in the coal business. One year later he purchased the establishment now popularly known as West's Canal street store and there provided the nucleus for the West Drug Stores of today. For many years Mr. West continued to divide his attention between the coal and drug business and it is but a few years since, with his son, gave up his entire attention to the drug trade. The result was the building up of the greatest retail business of its kind in the state.

Mr. West had not been actively in the business for several years having relinquished actual management to his son, Ben E. West.

He also is survived by the widow and a daughter, Mrs. A. H. Patreuil of Grand Rapids. The funeral services will be held at the residence, Tuesday at 3 o'clock, and interment will take place Wednesday morning at Lowell, the funeral party leaving for that city on the morning train following the day of the service here.—(Grand Rapids Press, Monday.)

Why Buy a Stencil

Some Sewing Machines that have become about setting repairs for when you get the best, broader makes at the extremely low price, 1.00 machine.

There are many a few sewing machines that are being made, one or two of them, superior to the others, which are made that when you buy one of these you can buy the real thing, a first-class machine, for its cost, and repair on parts through the year, to receive it. Furthermore, I know of several such machines that have been sold in this territory where the dealer, in the name of "cheapness" and in consequence of not having seen the machine, rendered worthless by the breaking of some part which the dealer was not able to see.

You can not always get a first-class machine for 1.00, and you can not get a first-class machine for 1.00, and you know it. Please be careful of the quality and durability. I have some great bargains in second-hand machines also.
