DON'T NURSE IT

The best way to avoid misunderstandings is to come out square with your kick to the man in charge and have it over with. Don't knock behind his back. We try to treat all fairly but some times make errors. Who does not? But here's the meat in this little sandwich: If you feel that you have received the worst of it, speak right to the man in charge and tell him about it. See if he doesn't get busy attempting to set matters right. That's the fair way. The other way is to nurse your grievance, and tell every body about it except the man who should know it. Half the trouble in this world could be avoided by having a fair understanding at the start. We stand ready to meet you half way.

JUNIOR RECEPTION

Function Tendered Senior Class Was Great Success.

The reception and hop tendered the Seniors by the Juniors of the Lowell high school Tuesday evening at the city hall was a brilliant success. The hall was prettily decorated with pennants, the platform bore the senior class colors, blue and gold, and the punch-booth was made up with the colors of the Juniors, green and white, and ornamented with pennants. At eight-thirty, the company, numbering about seventy-five, sat down to a dainty luncheon served on four tables, the one for the guests of honor being decorated with blue and gold and the class flowers, yellow roses, and the other three, for the Juniors, the faculty and the guests respectively bearing bouquets of beautiful crimson roses.

Immediately after, the following interesting program was given, Miss Edna Pillsbury proving a very competent and witty toastmistress.

Piano duet, Lena Yeiter and Royden Warner.

A Welcome to the Seniors, Ralph Broadbent.

Reply, Maurice Miller.

Solo, "The Pirate" John Roth.

Recitation, "How He Hunted a Mouse," William Culver.

Toast, "Ideals," Supt. Crampston.

Toast, "The Cultivation of Appreception," Miss Edwards.

Toast, "The End of the Beginning," Miss McIntosh.

Toast, "The Painter of Seville" Ruby Willette.

Toast, Impromptu, Prof. Pitton.

Toast, "The Seniors," Lee Lumpkin.

Toast, "The Juniors" Myron Dawson.

Solo, Mr. Winegar.

After the program the floor was cleared for the hop, in which about thirty couples in addition to the Juniors and their guests participated, including Lowell young people and a large number of guests from out-of-town. An orchestra from Owosso furnished inspiring music, and the occasion proved an enjoyable one for all present.

The bride and groom left on the evening train for a few days' honeymoon, after which they will be at home with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Andrews, in this village.

The bride is a talented and popular musician, and the groom is one of Lowell's most exemplary young men. Here's health, wealth and happiness to both.

COWARD SAYS "BE A MAN"

Anonymous Writer Thus Advises Ledger Editor

Writes a Brave Letter on Slaughter House Conditions and then Neglects Sign It but Drops in Post Office.

The article on slaughter house conditions published elsewhere in this paper, was written Monday the editor assuming all the responsibility thereon.

In this Thursday morning's mail is a "drop" letter calling our attention to the matter already attended to and containing this caustic advice: "Mr. Johnson be a man and publish it in your paper."

After a further exhibition of "heroics" this brave and manly writer neglected to sign his name and remains a person unknown among several thousands. His property, life, liberty and pursuit of happiness are all safe but he has done his duty by a poor spineless shrift of an editor whose interests don't figure much and it would serve him right if he lost the little he has. Serves him right for being an editor any way.

This writer has been trying to "be a man" on moral and public issues in Lowell for nineteen long years and the record is in print and may be seen by all men. We hurl this insult back into the teeth of the coward who wrote it; but we will not ask him to "Be a man." He doubtless prefers an easier task.

F. M. Johnson.

ALTO'S FIELD DAY

Wednesday's Celebration an Enjoyable and Successful Event.

By Ledger Staff Representative.

A large delegation from Lowell went to Alto yesterday to attend the annual Field day exercises, which being the event of the season, there was a great success.

The day was given up to Field sports, a ball game, and music, in all of which Lowell figured prominently. The Lowell City band furnished the music. Prof. Charles and his trick dogs gave several exhibitions and in the boys' foot race Edwin Doyle won off the honors. At 2:30 p. m. Alto and Caledonia crossed bats in a rather exciting game of base ball. Alto winning by a decisive score.

Towards evening a cold rain set in which for a while threatened to put an end to the pleasure of the occasion but it was a false alarm.

A dance at the hall in the evening brought the day to a close.

Field day has become a fixed institution with Alto and our little neighbor never fails to spread herself on these occasions.
