MALTA LODGE HOST

Lowell Masons Finely Entertained by City Brethren.

About two hundred people returned on the Masonic special Pere Marquette train from Grand Rapids at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, many having gone down during the day to take advantage of the late train to visit the city theatres.

Nearly one hundred waited for the 6 o'clock special train from Lowell and delegations were added to the crowd at Elm, Adams and McCords.

Members of the Lowell Lodge were met at the Union depot by a delegation from Malta Lodge and escorted to the Masonic temple, where the Lowell team worked the third degree. The exhibition was said by good judges to have been the finest ever seen on that floor.

After the work a hearty repast was served, in enjoyment of which many of the Masonic ladies were privileged to participate. Speech-making followed the banquet, happily presided over by Master Herman of Malta Lodge and participated in by J. S. Hooker, the oldest initiate of Lowell Lodge and S. Pettit its only surviving charter member, also by Brothers Greene, King, Barry, Bready and Master White of Lowell Lodge, and others.

Brothers Watts, Hinyan, Mitchell, Eaton, Stone, Hakes, Flanagan, Towseley, Hendworth, Spraker and Bready, formerly of Lowell but now of Grand Rapids, were on hand to meet and greet their former fellows of the square and compass.

The brethren of Malta Lodge are royal entertainers; and when next they play host may we be there to see.

Program on Porto Rico and Californian Missions

The Lowell Literary club enjoyed a delightful and instructive afternoon at the home of Mrs. Flora King Wednesday, Nov. 20th. A number responded to roll call with items pertaining to Porto Rico and a few with other items of interest.

After a short business session Mrs. King took charge of the program. Mrs. Della Thomas gave a beautiful worded history and description of the present conditions of the missions of California, teaching us reverence for the wonders the priests accomplished in the early settlement of California. Mrs. Mary Hodges had the undivided attention of the ladies with a reading, "A Chariot of Fire" by Elizabeth Stewart Phelps. Mrs. Dora Winegar read a paper on Porto Rico, for Miss Ethel Thomas, which gave many a desire to enjoy for themselves the wonder of this beautifully tropical island.

AGED WOMAN RESTS

Beautiful Life Closed in Death of Mrs. A. W. Owen.

Mrs. A. W. Owen, many years a Lowell resident, died Thursday night at Albion and on Saturday was brought to the home of her niece, Mrs. Julia Hildreth, who had helped to care for her during the last three months of her illness. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. L. E. Lennox and burial made in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Avis Wheaton Owen was born in Fleming, Cayuga county, N. Y., in 1822. In 1844 she was married to James H. Owen and in 1865 they removed to Lowell, Mich., where they lived until his death in 1897. Since then she has spent a large share of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Cora V. Mount of Albion, at whose home she passed away Nov. 21, at the age of 90 years, 5 months.

She was a life-long member of the Methodist church and of the Women's Foreign Missionary society and a member of the W. C. T. U. She was active in good works. One winter during the Civil war the editor of the Michigan Advocate offered to send the paper to the soldiers at a reduced price. Mrs. Owen walked over a large farming district and collected over $30 for that purpose. Her love for flowers and for giving them to others was remembered during her illness with floral tokens from various Albion church societies and friends and Lowell friends.

Her Albion pastor says of her: "Her earthly pilgrimage has been one of life-long companionship with the Master. Her equable disposition, patient hopefulness, sensitive taste for the beautiful and ceaseless quest after the best gifts, caused her to be an inspiration to everyone who knew her. It was beautiful to see in the closing months of her life, how her persistence in thinking upon the things that are true and honorable and just and pure, had operated to effect her translation from glory into glory in the likeness of her Lord. She seemed to have a fixed habit of taking up, as her own, certain gems of truth in the Scriptures and in other literature. These passages she was ever able to quote, and upon them her soul would feed and be satisfied. The words of Whittier, so often quoted by her, 'I know not where His islands lift their fringed palms in air; I only know I cannot drift beyond His love and care,' perhaps express more truly than any others the creed and confidence of her life. She came to the end of the journey surrounded by every possible attention and comfort, through great feebleness of body, and a gradual decline of all her faculties. Up to the very last she was conscious and rational, and passed from labor to reward in a holy peace which the Master gave in triumph over death. By the passing over of such characters earth is made poorer and heaven richer. But by the memory of such lives the living are challenged to arise to a likeness of faith and hope and love."

Services were held at the daughter's home in Albion Friday afternoon. Rev. Jacob Clancy, himself 82 years old, feelingly sang "My Mother's Bible," and a nephew, Rev. Edward Vail of Homer, paid a beautiful tribute to the influence which his frequent visits with her had made upon his ministry.

She was the devoted mother of three children, Cora V. Mount of Albion, Mary N. Owen, a teacher in Grand Rapids High school, and Herbert C. Owen who died in 1907. Mrs. Owen leaves two granddaughters, Reva Owen, deaconess in a church at Pueblo, Fairy Mount, a teacher at Belding and a grandson, Archie Mount of Albion; also a devoted daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edith Long of Pueblo. Among many other relatives, two nephews are ministers, Lyman Mulhollen of Kansas and Edward Vail of Homer, Mich.—Com.

A Farewell to Mrs. A. W. Owen

We as members of the church you loved, of the missionary society of which you were a help and inspiration, of the W. C. T. U. whose interests were ever dear to your own heart, together with your many friends of every name in this your old home town, with one accord we bid you a silent adieu. Now that "Love's sweet chariot has swung low" and carried you to "mansions prepared," we would not if we could, recall you from the welcome of the faithful, from the joys of the redeemed, from "the triumphs which through the long years you have so trustfully seen from afar." We who tarry here a little longer, blessed in a good degree with the fruitage of your patient toil and faithful waiting, will ever remember your words of counsel and cheer, thus realizing more and more the power of earnest Christian service, given not only in the bright morning and mid-day but even in life's late afternoon and on into the shadows of the evening time.

PLAN FOR BUILDING A SILO

Illustration Shows How Inside Sheet-Piling and Beveled Lath and Cement Are Used

In response to a query for building a silo in a field 100 feet above ground, Howard H. Johnson, who has been in the business for 25 years, has prepared the following plan:

"The silo to be built will give fully as good, if not better, service than a silo built in the ordinary way. The construction shows how the inside sheet-piling and beveled lath and cement are used in a silo that will stand for 25 years or more. The silo is to be set on the foundation 18 inches from center to center. We like the beveled lath and cement for the lining, for it adds strength to the silo.

THE MONTICELLO

End View.

We know of some instances where there seems to be a better way to do a thing than the way it has been done, but it is not so easy to do it. The Monticello is a fine example of this. ### ROOT CROPS FOR DAIRY COW

Make Valuable Addition to Winter Rations Because They Add to Water Intake

No matter what some people tell you, turnips and other roots make fine milk producing feed. Turnips will not affect the flavor of milk if fed at the right time.

If turnips are fed in large quantities, they will affect the flavor of milk. It is better to feed a small amount of turnips than a large amount. Turnips are a good feed for dairy cows, but they should be fed in moderation.

DAIRY NOTES

Beef in High, but Butter and Cream are Low

Slugs may be fed the drier and the silo is full.

Through the dairyman will keep up the milk flow this fall.

Repacking milk is a poor risk.

Separating cold milk means that cream content will remain in the skim milk.

To get rich milk is possible for the farmer, but it must be done in a certain way.

Get top prices for farm crops by selling them to the dairy cow.

A good way to establish reasonable prices is to have the farmer and the buyer agree on a price.

"Mercy! My Poor Back!"

Backache Means Dying Kidneys
Read the following testimonial from a woman who has been cured of her backache by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

My backache was so bad that I could not get up in the morning. I was unable to do any work and I was in great pain. I had tried many different remedies but nothing seemed to help. I was almost in despair when I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought a box and started taking them. After a few days I began to feel better. In a few weeks my backache was completely gone and I was able to get up in the morning and do my work. I am now in perfect health and I can thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for me.

Montenegrin Youngsters Taught to Fight for the Death-Head
Racial Hatred is Taught in Public Schools.

Unlucky. "Pa, what is the bridge of sighs?" "It's a bridge you mother plays, my son."

A Civil Answer. "Do my answers settle here, landlady?" "They all settle, as them without no more baggage than you get settled in advance."

Hereditarily. "You appear really meanly and someone you are offensive. How do you account for it?" "I'm—It's hereditary. My mother's father was a man and the other half woman—Titi-titi."

Boomerang. "My friend, I'm afraid you won't do. As nearly as I can find out, you have worked in six or seven places during the last year." "My friend, I'm afraid you won't do. As nearly as I can find out, you have worked in six or seven places during the last year."

Marriage. "The couple were being married by an out-of-town justice of the peace. He was so nervous that he asked the question so far as Montenegro is concerned, for from the earliest age children take the strongest interest in their father's collection of weapons and the dozens of no knives, pistols and the blackmarket he wears in his wide belt."

Montenegrin. "A Montenegrin would be just as likely to go for a stroll down the village street without his entire 'personal' as a Philistine dandy would be likely to walk down Chestnut street without his collar."

Child. "I used to watch the children play and when the game was invariably full-blown, but in Montenegro the only game for children to play is the death of the Turk."

Montenegrin. "The Montenegrins are a stern race. They are devoted to their children, do not believe in pampering them. I shall not easily forget the face of Jerina Mirko, the second son of King Nicholas, and the mother of the two children. They caught a cold when in Slavonia and within a few days they were dead."

Children. "Have you any children?" he asked. "None," I replied. "Well, you may think heaven for me, but I have a great many children. I have a great many children. I have a great many children. I have a great many children."

Education and Larger Life. "It seems to me that the woman who cannot out do her husband and her daughter, who cannot speak English, who cannot read and who cannot write, who cannot do a thing for herself, who cannot do a thing for herself, who cannot do a thing for herself, who cannot do a thing for herself."

Turkish Counting of Time. "Through the center of the mosque of St. Sophia rises the minaret. The minaret is the center of the mosque. The minaret is the center of the mosque. The minaret is the center of the mosque."

Last week's debate given by the American Literature class was a success in every way the discussion of the Democratic and Progressive platforms is a subject which learned men have struggled with and have come to no conclusion because it occupies so broad a field. Thus this question has not been decided although the affirmative side in favor of the Progressive platform gained a plurality of six points, 727 points being given to the negative side. Each one of the debaters showed skill in presenting their facts to the judges whose decisions were exceedingly close. The debaters were as follows:—Affirmative side, L. Hutchinson, captain, E. Witlow, L. Lamplin. Negative side A. Schneider captain, M. Curtiss, O. Andrews. Remaining members of Senior class were judges.

S. P. Hicks, one of several citizens who were present, gave us a very interesting talk regarding school work.
